COMPLETE

GENEALOGY

OF THE

Armstrong Family

1740 = 1920.

Compiled By

GEO. W. ARMSTRONG

Lisbon, Ohio.

NOTE.

The direct descendents are all numbered consecutively from one to the end of the book. The heads of families are all printed in italics, with the proper number enclosed in parenthesis in front of the one that is the direct descendant. As the heads of families belong to the preceding generation, by looking there for the number corresponding with that in parenthesis, you will find the family to which that person belongs.

The first plain figure after a name is the date of birth, the second, the date of death.

Dates of marriages in italic figures.

Recd May 16-1978

REPORT

The first part of the report deals with the general situation of the country. It is found that the economy is in a state of depression, and that the government has failed to take any effective measures to improve it. The second part of the report deals with the financial situation of the country. It is found that the government has incurred a large amount of debt, and that the public accounts are in a state of disarray. The third part of the report deals with the social situation of the country. It is found that the population is suffering from poverty and unemployment, and that the government has failed to take any effective measures to improve their lot.

The report concludes that the government has failed to take any effective measures to improve the country's economic, financial, and social situation. It is recommended that the government should take the following steps: (1) to reduce the public debt, (2) to improve the public accounts, and (3) to take measures to improve the lot of the population.

First Generation.

1 William Armstrong Born 1740. Date of death unknown.

A SHORT HISTORY OF WILLIAM ARMSTRONG.

Little is known of the early history of the Armstrong family other than the fact, as set forth in an early History of Ohio, that William came across the ocean as a stowaway on board some vessel, and after landing, he was sold in order to pay his passage across the water from Ireland. How long he had to work to do this is not known. He must, however, have been free before the Declaration of Independence, as history states that he served in the war of the Revolution. He next settled in Northumberland county Pa. where he married and raised a family of at least four sons and two daughters, some of their names unknown. He next settled in Columbiana county, Ohio, where he cleared ten acres of land, with the view, no doubt, of making it his future home. This he lost when the land was thrown open for entry.

However, he was not discouraged, but entered a quarter of land where the town of Clarkson now stands.

Here he built a comfortable log house, which he supposed, stood upon his own land. But when the survey was made, it proved to be upon the lands of an other person and he lost it also. This short history is given to show the trials and tribulations our forefathers had to undergo in settling up this goodly land, in which we now live to enjoy the many blessings they have bestowed upon us.

Second Generation.

- (1) William Armstrong Date of marriage unknown.
Elizabeth Nouse Date of birth and death unknown.
 2 Andrew Armstrong Mar. 10, 1783. Aug 1, 1855.

A SHORT HISTORY OF ANDREW ARMSTRONG.

He came with his parents from Northumberland county Pa., when they settled in Columbiana county, Ohio. He had three brothers and two sisters as far as now known. Thomas settled near Wooster, Ohio, and Alfred, somewhere in the state of Michigan. One brother was killed in a stone quarry near Pittsburgh. Location of the sisters, unknown.

About 1799, he squatted on Section 26. in Middleton township where he was married and followed farming until about 1815. when he entered the South West quarter of Section 22, in Elkrun township, of the above county. He received a deed for this land from President Monroe, March 7, 1818. This deed is still well preserved. He served in the war of 1812 and helped Gen. Harrison cut a wagon road from the Ohio river to the Maumee * He was with Gen. Croggan in the defense of Upper Sandusky, O.

His first house was a two story log building that stood about five rods from where the brick house now stands. *

In later years, it was used by one Perry Moore, for a store room, but was torn down in 1870. The present brick building was erected in 1830-31. The brick were made by hand in a field near the west line, on the north side of the public road. Both of these buildings were used as tavern stands for the travelling public. It is now owned and used by Frank S. Armstrong (No, 50), Elkton, Ohio:

The first part of the document discusses the importance of maintaining accurate records of all transactions. It emphasizes that proper record-keeping is essential for the integrity of the financial system and for the ability to detect and prevent fraud. The text also mentions the need for regular audits and the role of independent auditors in ensuring the reliability of financial statements.

In addition, the document highlights the significance of transparency and accountability in financial reporting. It states that stakeholders, including investors and the public, have a right to know how their money is being managed. This requires the implementation of robust internal controls and the disclosure of relevant information in a clear and concise manner.

The document also addresses the challenges faced by organizations in the digital age, particularly regarding data security and privacy. It notes that as more financial data is stored and processed electronically, the risk of cyberattacks and data breaches increases. Therefore, organizations must invest in advanced security measures and ensure that they comply with applicable data protection regulations.

Furthermore, the document discusses the impact of global economic trends and market volatility on financial institutions. It suggests that organizations should develop flexible strategies to manage risk and maintain liquidity in uncertain times. This may involve diversifying investments, strengthening capital buffers, and maintaining open lines of communication with regulators and other stakeholders.

Finally, the document concludes by emphasizing the need for continuous improvement and innovation in the financial sector. It encourages organizations to embrace new technologies and business models that can enhance efficiency, reduce costs, and improve the overall quality of financial services. By staying ahead of the curve, organizations can better serve their customers and contribute to the growth and stability of the economy.

In summary, the document provides a comprehensive overview of the key issues and challenges facing the financial industry. It offers practical guidance and recommendations for organizations to address these challenges and ensure the long-term success and sustainability of their operations. The document is intended to serve as a valuable resource for financial professionals and decision-makers alike.

The first part of the document discusses the importance of maintaining accurate records of all transactions. It emphasizes that every entry should be supported by a valid receipt or invoice. This not only helps in tracking expenses but also ensures compliance with tax regulations.

In the second section, the author provides a detailed breakdown of the company's revenue for the quarter. It includes a comparison between actual performance and the budgeted figures. The analysis shows that while sales in the core market exceeded expectations, there was a significant shortfall in the emerging markets segment.

The third section focuses on the operational challenges faced by the organization. It highlights the need for better communication between departments and the implementation of more efficient workflows. The author suggests that regular cross-departmental meetings could help in identifying and resolving issues more quickly.

Finally, the document concludes with a set of recommendations for the upcoming period. It suggests that the company should focus on strengthening its customer relationships and exploring new product lines. Additionally, it recommends a thorough review of the current financial strategy to ensure it remains aligned with the company's long-term goals.

CORRECTIONS.

No 7 in parenthesis, page 9, should be 13.

No 136 in parenthesis, page 40, should be 163.

No 258, in parenthesis, page 37, should be 261.

Emma should be Erma, No 454, page 40.

Blanche Clubenstine, page 44, was given first and after being printed I received the name Kloofinstine.

Henry Walter's first marriage, page 18, should be Feb. 17, 1868.

No 195 died August 26, 1898.

A few names have the wrong letter used or a letter left out, but the name intended is plain enough.

As two full years elapsed from the time the first page was printed until finished, the only wonder is that it is as near perfect as it is. As several to whom I had written failed to answer, a few names will unfortunately be left out. I am sorry for this as I wanted it complete. I thank those who helped to secure the desired information and send the little book forth on its mission to the descendants of Andrew Armstrong who now number over six hundred, five hundred ninety five of whom, are named in this little book.

Yours Truly

G. W. Armstrong.

1st generation Immigration of immigrants

Emigration of 1790 started in the south-western part of the country from Piedmont going to the valley for growing the tobacco & in the lowlands in the mountains. Van Cleybeck, Piedmont immigrants came to the valley at the end of the century. The first of them were the Dutch immigrants to the valley.
