

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

It is not certain whether our Gibsons are of English or Scottish origin; England, however, is generally the ascribed birthplace of John Gibson, the pioneer of 1634 in Cambridge, Massachusetts, an ascription which, if not based upon proof, may be based upon the fact that migration from Scotland to America was not common at that date. Although several families followed James VI of Scotland (James I of England) to England in 1603, and during his long reign others settled on the confiscated lands in Province of Ulster, northern Ireland, and were the ancestors of the Scottish-Irish element, it was not until about the beginning of the 18th century that Scottish immigration into the American colonies fairly set in, either direct from the mother home or by way of Ireland where many families had taken refuge from the religious persecutions in Scotland under Charles II (1660-1685). Another significant fact is that John's children married into English families, hardly the case had he been a Scot cherishing a Scot's love of clan and native heather.

One of the New York Gibson branches maintains that our pioneer came from London and shows arms—azure, chevron argent between three storks rising proper, and bearing as many crescents sable;—crest, a squire's helmet above which, out of a ducal coronet or, a dexter arm embowed in armor garnished or, holding a battle ax sable; and in the happy interpretation of another, "its component parts seem to be suggestive of our ancestors, the crescents indicating growth, the helmet safety, while the storks are observant and watchful, and the battle ax comes in for defensive force and the cutting away of opposition—and our race has fulfilled its mission!" One of the Boston Gibson branches holds, and has held for four generations, arms—quarterly 1st and 4th gules, a stork argent, beaked and membered or, between three crescents of the 2d (argent); 2d and 3d argent, chevron sable between three mullets gules pierced or,—crest, on a wreath of the colors (gules and argent), the top of an embattled tower gules, thereon a stork argent beaked and membered or and with its wings elevated;—motto, "Casis tutissima virtus." If not conclusive that our John belonged to the Gibsons of London, Cumberland, Essex, Northumberland or Lancaster, the last migrating from Scotland to England during the reign of James I (1603–1649), and all five of whose arms bear a close resemblance, or that he belonged to the other Gibsons whose arms were confirmed in Stavely in lower division of the Wapentake of Claro in West Riding of Yorkshire, or that he belonged elsewhere in England, or that he was one of the usual traditional two, three or four brothers coming from Scotland—it is sufficient to know that he was John Gibson and left as legacy the escutcheon of an honest man.

The following pages do not purport to be a full Gibson genealogy, more a record of a part of this numerous family;

it has been impossible to reach all its members, and of those reached several have preferred to withhold information, some unable to furnish much or any, and again, others have given hearty co-operation and valuable assistance; there are also Gibsons whose ancestry is not sufficiently clear to determine if they belong to our Gibson race or to one of the many others in this country, and they are therefore necessarily omitted. Data have been gathered from town, church, court and war records, family Bibles, local histories, printed and manuscript genealogical and other papers, public documents, private letters and personal knowledge; and however incomplete and open to criticism and correction this Record may be, it is written in the spirit of kinship, as such inscribed to every descendant of John of Cambridge, and published

I John Gibson of Cambridge, Mass., "y<sup>e</sup> newe towne" of 1631, Newe Towne or Newtowne of 1632 and name changed to Cambridge May 2, 1638, b. (probably England) about 1601; d. Cambridge, 1694 aged 93 years; m. first, Rebecca—(bur. Dec. 1, 1661 in Roxbury burying ground, the burial recorded by Rev. John Eliot, pastor Roxbury First church: "Moneth 10 day 1—1661—The wife of Goodman Gibson of Cambridge"); m. second, July 24, 1662, Joan, widow of Henry Prentice of Cambridge, "planter," on whose estate in 1663 "his relict widow Joan, and John Gibson, her now husband, administrators."

Mr. Gibson was in Cambridge in 1634 and made free of the corporation (The Governor and Company of the Massachusetts Bay in New England) "17th of the 3<sup>d</sup> mo. @ 1637" by Julian calendar in use till 1752, equivalent to May 17, 1637 by Gregorian or present calendar. Whether he settled first in Cambridge and when he came over are not known as the year and name of ship are lost; it is probable, however, that he came neither with the Braintree company in Cambridge Aug. 14, 1632, nor with Rev. Thomas Hooker who followed his people Sept. 4, 1633; he first appears on Cambridge records of Aug. 4, 1634: "To John Gibfon 6 Ackrs," in the list of lots granted in West-end, that part of the town lying between Sparks, Wyeth and Garden streets, Harvard and Brattle squares and Charles river. His house which stood on the east of Sparks street, not far up the hill from the path (Brattle street) to Watertown, was built before "10th October 1635," the date in The Regestere Booke of the Lands and Howses in the Newtowne 1635 under which is recorded: "John Gibson. Jn Westend one house with Planting Grounde Aboute Six Ackers Watter Towne Pales south west John Arnould North west Nathaniell Elly North east Edward Elmer south east;" in 1639 he bought of Elmer the 3 acres adjoining on the southeast which extended his house-lot to Garden street. Family tradition says that the Gibsons planted linden trees, and if tradition and boundaries can be made to agree perhaps "the old house by the lindens," corner Brattle and Sparks streets, familiar by Longfellow's poem The Open Window, may have stood on land once owned by John Gibson!

Mr. Gibson doubtless belonged to the church formed by Rev. Mr. Hooker on his arrival in 1633; on the removal in 1635 and 1636 of the pastor and most of the families to Hartford (Conn.) he became one of the succeeding society or First church organized Feb. 1, 1636 by Rev. Thomas Shepard and his band of new-comers, and on the earliest list of members (1637) are "John Gibson—Mrs. Rebecca Gibson;" also a church entry of "11th mo. 1658" [Jan. 1659] reads: "John Gibson and Rebecca his wife, both members in f. c. Their children: Rebecca now joyned in full communion with the church at Watertown—Mary—Martha—John —Samuel—baptized in this church.” He continued this membership until his death and during these nearly sixty years worshiped till 1650 in the original building, corner Dunster and Mt. Auburn streets, and afterwards in its successor, southwest corner of the college yard (Harvard); and not only with change of sittings shown by town record of Jan. 19, 1662, “the committee for seating the people in the meetinghouse appoint Jno. Gibson to sit where Mr. Day was wont to sit,” but also under change of pastors, Thomas Shepard 1636–1649, Jonathan Mitchell 1650–1668, Urian Oakes 1671–1681, Nathaniel Gookin 1682–1692.

In addition to his “nyne acr” house-lot in the West-end Mr. Gibson had other real estate in Cambridge, namely: 5 acres in the great swamp or Fresh pond meadows, entered in the Proprietors’ Records “Aprill. 4. 1636,” under “A record of the names of the men who were purchasers & haue proprieties in the freshe pond meadow and their quantitie of Acers Acers”

—John Gibsone 5 which 5 acres he sold in 1643 to Nathaniel Sparhawk;—again, “Septemb 21th: 1639—three Acres of planteing grounde in the New Lotts next Manotomie” [Menotomy or the Second parish in 1732, West Cambridge in 1807, Arlington since 1867];—granted by the town in 1645 “lott 10 John
aks
Gipson—07—0½” this side Metonomy;—in 1646
aks roods”

“John Gipson—07+00 among wood lots, “y<sup>e</sup> land to ly in coimon for y<sup>e</sup> townes use;”—60 acres on “the Rocks” near Metonomy river (Alewife brook) meadow, “layd out” to him in 1648 and which he sold the same year to Edward Danforth;—lot no. 52 of 80 acres granted by vote of the church June 9, 1652, in Shawshine (Shawshin), the large tract awarded 1644/5 to Cambridge and May 29, 1655 set off as the original town of Billerica ;—3 acres in the fifth Division of “lands layd out on the South Side Charles River” in 1662, the territory including both Cambridge Village or New Cambridge set off as Newton in 1691 and Little Cambridge or the Third parish set off as Brighton in 1807 ;— “twenty acc’s & three com̄ons” at the drawing of lots and interests in the cow commons (Cambridge common) under entry of “feb 27th 1664 And march the 27th 1665 ;” — finally, under date of “Novemb<sup>r</sup> 29th 1689,” lot no. 103 of 12 acres in the first Division and lot no. 64 of 12 acres in the second Division, “the land that was formerly Com̄on called by the Name of Cambridge Rocks.”

That he was a husbandman and not an artisan is indicated by the “planteing grounde” and a record that John Gibson agreed with the town May 8, 1637, to summer 100 cows for £20. There is no evidence that he ever held any church office and of town offices only minor ones—appointed Mar. 15, 1676 to view fences and in 1678 to drive West-field, the arable land west of West-end often called West-end-field, bounded north by Garden street, east by Wyeth street, south by Vassall lane and west by Fresh pond meadows. His name occurs only once in lawsuits on Middlesex county court records, the suit in 1660 of “Winifred Holman Plt. against John Gibson Sen<sup>r</sup> and his wife et al.,” brought as the result of the defendants having accused Mary Holman, daughter of widow Winifred, of being a witch ; and at the hearing “3 day of Aprill,” several months after the accusation, the finding for John Gibson was “costs of Court, fifteen shillings and ten pence.”

He led most likely a quiet life in the small community of his friends, the Dana, Hastings and other families whose homes were within sight of his own, such a life of quiet content that he signed “John Gibson” as nineteenth name on the list of one hundred and seven “inhabitants and householders of the towne,” in an address "To the Honoured Generall Court of Massachusetts Colonie," dated "Cambridg the 17th of the 8. 1664" and whose purport is told in the clerk's entry of Oct. 19, 1664, two days later :

"The Court being mett together & informed that seuerall persons inhabitants of Cambridge were at the doore desiring liberty to make knowne their errand were called in & M<sup>r</sup> Edward Jackson M<sup>r</sup> Rich Jackson M<sup>r</sup> Edw Oakes & Deacon Ston : coming before the Court presented a petiçon from the inhabitants of Cambridge w<sup>ch</sup> was subscribed by very many hands in w<sup>ch</sup> they testified & declared their good content & sattisfaction they tooke & had in the present goument in church & com<sup>m</sup>wealth with their resolution to be assisting to & encouraging the same & humbly desiring all meanes might be vsed for the continuance & preservation theirof & at the same time & the next day seuerall petiçons of like nature from Woborne Dorchester Redding Chelmsford Concord Billirrikey Boston Dedham & Meadfield & also one from seuerall inhabitants of Roxbury all which are on file."

The days of peaceful prosperity came to an end under the oppressive rule of the tyrant Governor Sir Edmund Andros, and early in 1688 a petition asking redress was sent to James II, signed by John Gibson and George Willow representing their neighborhood and giving their respective ages "about 87 and 86 yrs." Despite the forcible statement that "our title is now questioned to our lands, by us quietly possessed for near sixty years, and without which we cannot subsist"—the touching plea that "we are a poor people and have no way to procure money to defend our cause in the law, nor know we of friends at Court, and therefore unto your royal Majesty, as the public Father of all your subjects, do we make this our humble address for relief"—the pathetic closing words, "If we perish we perish"—despite these appeals for redress none came from the king, due perhaps to his abdication, and John Gibson died a poor man.

Mr. Stearns was made freeman "6th 3<sup>d</sup> m 1646" [May 6, 1646] and Mar. 15, 1647/8 owned in Watertown "a house and 8 acre lot, 6 acres upland and other lots;" after the death of his wife he moved to Lynn (Mass.) named by order of General court in 1637, "Saugust is called Lin."

Mrs. Stearns prior to Jan. 1659 was a member in "f. c." of the Watertown First church organized June 12, 1630; at one time she partially lost her mind believing herself bewitched by Mary Holman, a delusion which led to the defamation suit "Holman versus Gibson" on Middlesex county court files of 1660.

Oct. 30, 1668, Sarah Pemberton (d. Oct. 10, 1676); m. second, June 14, 1679, Mrs. Elizabeth (Remington) Stedman (d. before Dec. 11, 1680), widow of John Stedman of Cambridge; m. third, Abigail —, executrix of his will dated Mar. 17, 1709/10 and proved Ap. 15, 1710, under which she had “ $\frac{1}{2}$  improvements during widowhood.”

Mr. Gibson was a glover by occupation, and presumably a tanner as in 1679 the town staked out to him 2 rods “in the Corner next to his pit for his trade;” by thrift and perseverance he amassed a comfortable competency, owning considerable property both sides Charles river. He was of a convivial turn of mind evident from the following court entry: “Cambridge Octob. 1. 1672. Sam<sup>l</sup> Gibson being convicted of enterteyneing some of the stud<sup>m</sup> [Harvard] contrary to Law is sentenced to be admonished and to pay a fine of forty shillings in money and he stands committed untill it be p<sup>d</sup>;” also evident from the “Records of the Acts of the hon<sup>ble</sup> Overseers of Harvard Colledge Camb<sup>r</sup> 21: 3: 1678” which read: “Samuel Gibson was called before the Overseers & solemnly cautioned of entertaining any of the students in his house frequenting the Colledge or otherwise drawing them into his Company;” and of same date “Js sentenced to pay a fine of forty shillings & costs.” But, regardless of several admonitions and forty-shilling fines, this love for “company of scholars” did not abate and was even transmitted to more than one of his numerous descendants!

He was a soldier in King Philip's war—private, on list of Capt. Joseph Sill's co. of foot Jan. 25, 1675/6, starting on order of Council, Nov. 2, 1675, reconnoitering near Marlboro, Sudbury and Groton and not reaching the Narragansett country, west side the Pawtucket, till after the deathblow to the war, the Swamp fight of Dec. 10, 1675; private, on list of Capt. - II John Gibson, jr., of Cambridge, Mass., fourth child of John 1 and Rebecca Gibson, b. Cambridge, about 1641 ; "baptized in this [First] church ;" d.
Cambridge, Oct. 15, 1679 ; m. "9. 10. 1668" [Dec. 9, 1668], Rebecca Errington (b. Cambridge, bap. First church, d. Cambridge, Dec. 4, 1713), dau. of Abraham and Rebecca (Cutler) Errington.

<sup>1</sup>Abraham Errington of Cambridge, blacksmith, only son of widow Ann, b. New-Castle-on-Tyne; d. Cambridge, May 9, 1677 aged 55 years; m. Rebecca Cutler (b. England, in "f. c." with Cambridge church prior to Jan. 1659, d. Cambridge, 1697), dau. of Dea. Robert and Rebecca Cutler of Charlestown, Mass. Mr. Errington is first entered in The Regestere Booke under date "23th 12th mo. 1648" [Feb. 23, 1648], at a meeting of the West-field proprietors to decide about fencing: "Abrā Erringtone the gate and fence to y<sup>e</sup> corner;" in 1652 he was voted by the church, lot no. 96 of 70 acres in Shawshine; in 1662 granted by the town, "four acres" in the sixth Division of lands laid out on the south side Charles river, and again, Mar. 27, 1665, "Thirty acc<sup>m</sup> & Three cow Comons." He lived on the east side Brighton street, and was probably prosperous as his name appears (the seventeenth) on the address of "good content and satisfaction" dated Oct. 17, 1664 and sent to the General court; before his death he became impoverished, and his widow as administratrix, petitioned May 11, 1681 "to sell land." In 1683 his heirs were allotted "Twenty acce<sup>m</sup> Three comons" in the fifth Squadron in "the Diuision of lotts beyond the 8 Mile Line betwixt that and Concord line;" also, in 1689 widow Errington had laid out to her on Cambridge rocks (the Common) lot no. 48 of 12 acres in the first Division and lot no. 34 of 12 acres in the second Division. Children b. in Cambridge: <sup>1</sup>Rebecca, wife of John Gibson, jr. <sup>2</sup>Abraham b. Nov. 11, 1652; d. young. <sup>3</sup>Abraham b. Nov. 1, 1654; d. young. <sup>4</sup>Hannah bap. First church; m. Daniel Parker. <sup>5</sup>Sarah bap. First church. <sup>6</sup>Mary bap. Jan. 13, 1660. <sup>7</sup>Abraham bap. Nov. 8, 1663, and at his decease in 1689 the church sent £6 to his widowed mother as "her family were under the afflicting hand of God, her son taken away by death, and her daughter and a grand daughter." <sup>8</sup>Jacob b. and d. 1668.

among gr. sons—the eminent divine Timothy Cutler, D. D., graduate Harvard coll. 1701, president Yale coll. 1719-1722, rector Christ church, Boston (the familiar "Old North" in Paul Revere's Ride), d. 1765, "one of the finest scholars of his age in the colonies." <sup>2</sup> Rebecca, wife of Abraham Errington. <sup>3</sup> Hannah. <sup>4</sup> Nathaniel bap. 1640.

Mr. Gibson always resided in his native town and doubtless on the homestead in the West-end, his father deeding him Nov. 30, 1668, "3 acres and  $\frac{1}{2}$  my house Cambridge;" there is no record that he ever owned any other real estate.

Although a minor at the time of the suit "Holman versus Gibson" in 1660 he was one of the defendants and, boy like, must have been very vehement against the supposed witch, widow Winifred's daughter, as he was sentenced either to openly acknowledge in court that "he hath wronged and scandalously slandered Marye Holman, by speeches irregularly, rashly and sudden spoken," or refusing to do this, to pay the plaintiff five pounds; of the two alternatives he wisely chose the former.

He was a soldier in King Philip's war—private, on list of Capt. Thomas Prentice's troopers Aug. 27, 1675, in the first or Mt. Hope expedition, the company leaving Boston the preceding June 24, fighting at Swansey June 28, skirmishing in July on Mt. Hope neck near Mt. Hope or Pokanoket (Bristol, R. I.), the home of King Philip; private, on list of Lt. Edward Oakes' troopers Mar. 24, 1675/6, scouting near Marlboro; private, on pay list of Capt. Daniel Henchman's co. of foot Sept. 23, 1676, impressed the preceding Ap. 27, starting May 27 and reaching Hadley June 14; possibly the John Gibson on list of Capt. Joshua Scottow's men at Black Point near Saco, Me., Sept. 1677, the garrison being captured the following month by Mogg Megone, the celebrated Indian chief.

His life was the quiet one of a husbandman with no stirring event save the war episode to interrupt the daily routine of labor ; his name appears on Colonial records as "John Gipson" under marginal entry : " 11 Octob. 1670 ffree men to be admitted," an entry showing that he was then a church member ; his name also appears from time to time on town records as holder of some small office, the last and most important, the appointment in 1678 "to view fences in Westfield." At his death of small pox when only thirty-eight years of age, he left little property, and in the First church cash book is recorded Nov. 2, 1679, the contribution of £6 19s. 4 d. to his family, "they being in a low condition, they being visited by the small pox and under many wants." "An Inventory of the estate of John Gibson Jun<sup>r</sup> of Cambridge deceased Octob<sup>r</sup> 15 : 1679," taken "Mar. 25 : 1679 : 80" showed £47 16s. including house and 3 acres, £16 ; his widow was appointed administratrix by order of court : "Cambridge April 6th 1680 Admstraccon is granted unto Rebecca Gibson on y<sup>e</sup> estate whereof her husband dyed seized an inventory whereof she p<sup>r</sup>esented in Court on her oath ;" also the following June the court further decided : "Charlestown 15. 4. 1680 The Selectmen of Cambridge are ordered to dispose of y<sup>e</sup> children of Jn<sup>r</sup> Gibson & of such a p<sup>t</sup> of his estate as shall be necessary for y<sup>e</sup> putting them forth to service," etc. In the proprietors' records of 1683, under division of lots "beyond the 8 Mile Line," is given this allotment in the ninth Squadron : "John Gibsons heirs Twenty acce<sup>m</sup> Three com<sup>ms</sup>."

- III Timothy Gibson (Dea.) of Sudbury and Stow, Mass., fourth child of John 8 and Rebecca (Errington) Gibson, jr., b. Cambridge, Mass., about 1679 ; d. Stow, July 14, 1757, his gravestone in the Lower village cemetery, easterly part of Stow, inscribed: "Here lies Buried—The Body of—Dea<sup>a</sup> Timothy—Gibson Who Died—July y<sup>o</sup> 14—A. D. 1757. In y<sup>o</sup> 79 year of—His Age;" m. first, at Concord, Mass. by Justice Minot, Nov. 17, 1700, Rebecca Gates of Stow (b. Marlboro, Mass., July 23, 1682, d. Stow, Jan. 21, 1754 "in y<sup>o</sup> 73 year of Her age," bur. at the right of her husband), dau. of Stephen and Sarah (Woodward) Gates; m. second (pub. Nov. 30, 1755), Mrs. Submit Taylor of Sudbury (d. Stow, Jan. 29, 1759 "in y<sup>o</sup> 75 year of Her Age," bur. at the left of her husband).

<sup>1</sup> Stephen Gates "of Cambridge," so styling himself, son of Thomas of Hingham, co. Norfolk, Eng., b. England; d. Cambridge, "29. 7. 1662" [Sept. 29, 1662]; m. Ann — (b. England, 1603, d. Stow, Feb. 5, 1683, then widow of Richard Woodward). Mr. Gates came over in the Diligent in 1638 with his wife and two children, and located in Hingham, Mass. (Barecove until Sept. 2, 1635 when the General court ruled that "the name of Barecove is changed and hereafter to be called Hingham"). In 1653 he removed to Cambridge but the next year was in Lancaster, Mass. (Nashwash or Nashaway before its incorporation May 18, 1653), signed the covenant Ap. 3, 1654, "made ffree" May 14, 1656, chosen constable in 1657, and was the third largest taxpayer on the roll; he resided on a farm of several hundred acres in the south-east of the town which after various changes of name became Berlin in 1812; his stay in Lancaster was short and he returned to Cambridge. Children (arranged perhaps not in sequence as each Gates' compiler "gangs his ain gate" with the chronological order of a family whom Lancaster historians describe as "dreadfully tropical in blood"): <sup>1</sup> Elizabeth b. England; m. at Hingham, 1647, John Lasell. <sup>2</sup> Mary b. England; m. Ap. 5, 1658, "the wealthy John Maynard of Sudbury." <sup>3</sup> Stephen. <sup>4</sup> Simon of Cambridge, Lancaster and Muddy River hap. Hingham, May 3, 1646; d. 1650.

<sup>8</sup> Stephen Gates of Cambridge, Marlboro and Stow, most likely first son of Stephen, b. probably Hingham; d. Stow, July 9, 1707 and by his will proved Sept. 15, 1707, left "my farm 300 acres to my six sons;" m. about 1664, Sarah Woodward (b. Watertown, Mass., Feb. 6, 1643), dau. of George and

Dea. Gibson was brought up by selectman Abraham Holman of Cambridge, son of William and Winifred Holman, and after 1689 removed with him to Stow (incorporated May 16, 1683 and previously called both Pomciticut and Shabbukin, the Indian names of its two most notable hills); he continued a member of the Holman household till into 1703 when he moved to the northwest of Sudbury and settled north of Assabet river (Assabeth, Elisabeth, etc.) on a 60 acre farm "bounded westward by bounds of Stow, eastward by highway from Concord to Jewell's Mill, southwesterly by land Joseph Jewell, north by land John and Jonas Burk," and deeded him June 21, 1703 by Mr. Holman, joined by wife Sarah, "for divers good and weighty reasons moving me thereto but in special manner to shew my love unto and care of Timothy Gibson now living with me & hath done from a child." Mr. Holman a second time showed "love and good will" by deeding Nov. 29, 1708 to "Timothy Gibson, husbandman, Sudbury, 20 acres in Sudbury, north side of Assabeth river, meadow, the right of way to the 60 acres;" he again testified the "love and affection I bear unto Timothy Gibson of Sudbury, husbandman," by a last gift Ap. 23, 1711, of 10 acres in Sudbury,

"south east of Assabeth river, bounded east by land Thomas Burk, south east upon the highway, south west upon my own land crossing the river to the 20 acres, and northerly by said 20 acres;" he also appointed Timothy Gibson executor of his will dated Sept. 1711, shortly before his death, and devising "To wife Sarah, 40 acres, house and barn, in Stow, butteth on Elsabeth river; all personal property, one half of which to be at her disposal . . . . . To nephews Abraham and Jeremiah Holman . . . . . To Abraham Gibson, son of the executor," etc. On Mar. 27, 1712 widow Sarah signed an agreement giving her entire interest to Timothy Gibson on condition that he provided for her during life.

Meanwhile Dea. Gibson had identified himself with the interests of his new home, and the name

Sudbury January: 15 17<sup>o</sup> ½”

For ſome reaſon this humble petition was not granted at the time and it was as late as 1723 before the Weſt preſinċt church was built at Rocky Plains (Sudbury Center), up to which date the one church of Sudbury ſince its incorporation Sept. 4, 1639 had ſtood on the other ſide the “great River” [the Sudbury], in that part of the town ſet off Ap. 10, 1780 as Eaſt Sudbury and name changed to Wayland in 1835. It is doubtful if Dea. Gibson was one of this new ſociety as his name is not among thoſe who Mar. 18, 1724, “entered into and renewed a holy church Covenant,” and it may be that he had already left the old church and gone back to the Stow church which he had attended while a member of Mr. Holman’s family. Another public improvement, one of importance to Dea. Gibson, was the firſt bridging of the Aſſabet, the town voting Dec. 14, 1715, that “there ſhall be a horſe bridge built over Aſſabeth river, and that the ſelectmen do order that y<sup>e</sup> bridge be erected and built over aſſabeth river between y<sup>e</sup> land of Timothy Gibson and Thomas Burts [Burk’s] land.”

There is no record that Dea. Gibson ever purchaſed real eſtate in Sudbury; that he owned property in Cambridge is ſeen from his deed of Dec. 24, 1713 conveying to Isaac Watſon for £7, “a ſmall piece of land in Cambridge, part of the lot known as Arringtons lot, containing ½ an acre, bounded N. E. by the highway to Watertown, S. W. by land Rev. Mr. Brattle, S. E. by Holme’s land, N. W. by reſt of lot—alſo half the houſe on it.”

He was a large land-owner in Lunenburg, Mass., the southern of two townships laid out as "y<sup>e</sup> South Town" in the Turkey hills' district in 1720 and incorporated Aug. 1, 1728 as Lunenburg. His name is not among the eighty original proprietors of 1721 and is first mentioned in The Early Records of the Town of Lunenburg under entry: "Concord, June 25th & 26 1723 Ephraim Sautle Desires Leave to Sell his Lott in y<sup>e</sup> South Town to Timothy Gibson for his son Timothy," house-lot no. 33 drawn by Mr. Sautle at the first drawing May 23, 1721; and in The Proprietors' Records of the Town of Lunenburg it is entered that house-lot no. 33 of 44½ acres was "granted unto Timothy Gibson by the Greate and General Courts Committee" and surveyed for him Nov. 7, 1730. The latter book has also the following entries:

"Lunenburg April the 17th 1729 Laid out to Timothy Gibson by the Committee appointed two pieces of third Division Land [about 220 acres] the Rights arising from house Lott Number thirty three and seventy two. Lying near the East side of the pearl hill" [the hill west of the center of Lunenburg and in that part of the town set off Feb. 3, 1764 as Fitchburg].

"Lunenburg June the y<sup>e</sup> 17th 1730. Surveyed for Timothy Gibson 2<sup>d</sup> Division Number 34 the Contents of Which is 53 acres and a halfe" [upland].

"Lunenburg November the 7th 1730 surveyed for Timothy Gibson House Lott Number 38 the Contents of Which is forty four acres and a half." Same date: "Surveyed for Timothy Gibson House Lott Number 72 the Contents of Which is forty six acres and a quarter" [drawn by Benjamin Prescott at the first drawing and granted to Timothy Gibson prior to Ap. 17, 1729].

"Lunenburg March the 18th 1730/1 Surveyed for Timothy Gibson 2<sup>d</sup> Division number 69 the Contents of Which is 60 acres [upland] In the south east part of the township."

"Lunenburg June the 10th 1740 Laid out to M<sup>r</sup>. Timothy Gibson ten acres of Land in said Township for an Equevilent to what is wanting in his House Lott and second Division Lying on the Easterly side of the pearl hill adjoining to his own third Division."

Although Dea. Gibson never lived in Lunenburg, nor did his son Timothy, he sent four younger sons, John, Arrington, Isaac and Reuben, known in local history as "the Gibson brothers" and men of such great size, strength and courage that several anecdotes are related of their personal prowess, and it is said that "the Indians standing on the brow of Pearl hill and carefully watching these brave, athletic brothers, did not dare attack them!"

In addition to Mrs. Sarah Holman's gift of "40 acres, house and barn," Dea. Gibson had other property in Stow—lots in the second, third, fourth and fifth Divisions, about 100 acres in all, the surveys recorded in the proprietors' book between Dec. 24, 1721 and Jan. 27, 1729; — 4 acres and 25 rods on Pomciticut hill "bounded west by my own land, south by John Jewell's, east by Sudbury, and north by land of Jonas Burk," deeded him Dec. 6, 1728 by Rev. John Gardner of Stow; — "2½ acres in Stow bounded north by Burk's land, west on widow's premises, south east on Gibson house on the Sudbury and Stow line," purchased Feb. 24, 1731/2 from the widow of Jonas Burk; as the deed of Dec. 6, 1728 is to "Timothy Gibson of Sudbury" and that of Feb. 24, 1731/2 to "Timothy Gibson of Stow," his removal to Stow was between these dates and perhaps by merely moving to another part of his home farm which lay on both sides the town line. He is entered on Stow records as selectman 1734, 1735, 1736, 1739, and as "dissenting to £60 for Rev. John Gardner, May 17, 1736." Unfortunately First church has no records earlier than 1774, but doubtless it was in this church that he held his office of deacon under the pastorate of Rev. Mr. Gardner, successor in 1717 of Rev. John Eveleth who had been called in 1700 by thirty-two proprietors of Stow, among whom were Abraham Holman and Simon, Isaac and Nathaniel Gates, the foster-father and three brothers-in-law of Timothy Gibson.

Dea. Gibson's homestead in Stow lay on the southern slope of Pomciticut hill (also spelled Pompociticut, Pomseticut, Pompositticut, etc., pronounced Pom-sit-cut and name changed to Summer hill). Ten years before his death he deeded on certain conditions, "my house and 50 acres in Stow" to his son Stephen, and like deedings continued in turn from sire to son until the Gibson home for nearly a century was sold in 1823 to strangers and in 1826 became the property of the Maynard family who call it Summer Hill farm; on April 19, 1871 the northwest of Sudbury including the Assabet, and the northeast of Stow including Pomciticut hill, each comprising land once owned by the Gibsons, were incorporated as Maynard. Today a tall flag staff graces the summit of the old hill where in years gone by juvenile Gibsons must have often climbed "to view the smiling landscape o'er."

- IV Abraham Gibson of Sudbury and Stow, Mass., first child of Dea. Timothy 9 and Rebecca (Gates) Gibson, b. Stow, 1701 (no entry on Stow records as those of births, marriages and deaths prior to 1712 were destroyed by fire many years ago); d. Stow, Nov. 8, 1740, his gravestone in the Lower village cemetery inscribed: "HERE LIES BURIED—y BODY OF MR.—ABRAHAM GIBSON—WHO DEPARTED—THIS LIFE—NOV. y<sup>8</sup>—A. D. 1740—AGE 39 YEARS—I M. & 9 D.;" m. Mary Wheeler (b. Stow, Nov. 5, 1707, d. Stow, Jan. 15, 1793), dau. of Deliverance and Mary (Davis) Wheeler.

<sup>1</sup>Capt. Thomas Wheeler, "the Indian fighter," in Concord, Mass. in 1639, four years after its incorporation Sept. 2, 1635, b. England; d. Concord, Dec. 10, 1676, the original records having entry: "Capt. Tho<sup>s</sup> Wheeler hus. to Reuth his wife dyed 10 decem. 76;" m. Ruth Wood, dau. of William and Margaret Wood of Concord. Capt. Wheeler's name is found on Colonial records as follows: "Made free the 18: 3 Mo. 1642 [May 18, 1642] Thom: Wheller;" — Oct. 12, 1669, "Persons in frontier townes may lyst as troopers under Thomas Wheeler Senio<sup>r</sup> of Concord whom this Ct. app<sup>d</sup> to be their leiften<sup>t</sup>;" — May 31, 1671, "Left. Thomas Wheeler is app<sup>d</sup> Captaine of 2d troop of horse in Middlesex being the Western troope of that County." During King Philip's war he was sent by order of Council of July 27, 1675 with twenty troopers, as escort to Capt. Edward Hutchinson, into the Nipmuck country; he started from Cambridge the next day, was severely wounded Aug. 2 in the Indian ambuscade at Quabaug, "alias Brookfield", and reached home Aug. 27, where the following Oct. 21 was observed as a day of praise for the safe return of Capt. Wheeler and his troopers. In his True Narrative of the Lord's Providence, called "the epic of New England colonial times" and of whose early copies only a few are extant, he gives an account of the expedition — the treachery of the Nipmucks, his own wounds received at Wickabaug pond near Quabaug, his life saved by his son Thomas, the death of Capt. Hutchinson, etc. Children: <sup>1</sup>"Allice the dau of Thomas Wheeler dyed 17. 1. 1640" [Mar. 17, 1641]. <sup>2</sup>"Nathaniell son to Reuth his mother died 16 Janery 1676" [1677]. <sup>3</sup>Joseph of Stow. <sup>4</sup>"Ephraim Wheeler y<sup>e</sup> son of Capt Th. Wh. and Ruth his wife dyed February 19, 1689." <sup>5</sup>"Thomas sou to Reuth Wheeler his mother died 9 Jan 1676" [1677]. <sup>6</sup>Deliverance.

<sup>6</sup>Deliverance Wheeler of Stow, fifth son of Capt. Thomas, b. Concord, 1663; d. Stow, Feb. 4, 1716; m. May 28, 1691, Mary Davis (b. Concord, Oct. 3, 1663, d. Stow, June 27, 1748), dau. of Lt. Simon and Mary (Blood) Davis of Concord. Mr. Wheeler left an estate of almost £600, his widow being administratrix and guardian. Children: <sup>1</sup>Deliverance of Stow, assessor, selectman and town treasurer, b. Concord, June 5, 1691. <sup>2</sup>Thomas of Stow bap. June 27, 1697. <sup>3</sup>Ephraim of Stow b. Stow about 1702. <sup>4</sup>Mary, wife of Abraham Gibson.

<sup>1</sup>Dolor Davis of Cambridge, Barnstable and Concord, "carpenter and master-builder," b. England; d. Barnstable, June, 1673; m. first, in co. Kent, Eng., Mar. 29, 1624, Margery Willard (bap. Horsemonden, co. Kent, Nov. 7, 1602, d. prior to 1667), dau. of Richard Willard of Horsemonden, "yeoman." Whether this marriage was solemnized at Horsemonden near Paddock-bourne or ten miles distant at East Fairleigh near Maidstone, is not definite as two similar records have been found, one in the vicarage at Horsemonden, the other in the parish church at East Fairleigh, the latter entered thus :

“Mar | Dolor Davis and Margerye Wilerd were maryed

Mr. Davis came over in 1634, his wife and three children following early the next year ; he was accompanied by his brother-in-law Simon Willard who was one of the founders of Concord, captain of foot in 1646, major in 1654, and at whose death in 1673, “the colony lost one of its most distinguished members.” The proprietors’ records of Cambridge (The Regestere Booke) under date of June 4, 1635, read as follows : “Dollard Daus one house lot of halfe a rood more or les watter Street norwest John Bridg Southwe Δ Willam Andrews norhest Will Δ Westwood east”—“more Upon the west Syd of Charls Riuer Twenty & five acars Charls Riuer one the east Symon willard south John bridg north the Coffion south waft ;” this second tract allotted him Aug. 4, 1634, he sold Aug. 25, 1635 for £10 “vnto Richard Girling Marin Δ ” [mariner]. The Records of the Colony of New Plymouth in New England place him in Duxbury, Mass., taking the oath of fidelity, proposed as freeman Mar. 5, 1638/9 and granted 50 acres in 1640. In 1643 he was living in the Cape Cod town of Barnstable, propounded as freeman June 4, 1645 and admitted June 2, 1646; on Aug. 27, 1648, “Dolor Davis and his wife being dismissed from the Church att Duxbury was joyned to ours,” and while in Barnstable he was surveyor of highways, constable, etc. In 1655 he left Plymouth colony and returning to the “Massachusetts Bay,” bought some 150 acres including house and lot, in Concord ; he was, however, back again in Barnstable in 1666, remaining there until his death. Children : <sup>1</sup>John of Barnstable b. England, about 1626 ; received under his father’s will dated Sept. 13, 1672, the Concord homestead. <sup>2</sup>Mary b. England, about 1631. <sup>3</sup>Elizabeth b. England. <sup>4</sup>*Lt. Mr. Gibson as namesake of Mr. Abraham Holman received under his will of 1711, on the condition of paying "to the legatees ten (10) pounds after my decease," 25 acres in Stow including 5 acres of meadow. He must have removed from the parental home in Sudbury to Stow about the time of his marriage as his various deeds of lands in Stow are made to "Abraham Gibson of Stow" — July 3, 1724 from Richard Whitney of Stow, 2 acres or more; — Jan. 8, 1725 from his brothers-in-law Deliverance and Thomas Wheeler, 10 acres, "great meadow," £30; — Jan. 14, 1725 from Timothy Gibson of Sudbury and wife Rebecca, "to show fatherly love and affection to my eldest son," two 20 acre lots in Stow, and also for £20 a second conveyance of 8 acres along Concord line; — Jan. 23, 1727 from S. Randall, 5 acres, "great pine Swamp;" — Ap. 10, 1727 from M. Whitney, 6 acres, 78 rods for £35. The proprietors' book of Stow shows that on "Jan 10, 1728/9 Proprietors laid out to Abraham Gibson 4 acres by said Gibson's house" which most likely stood near the Center village, some distance from Pomciticut hill.

His short military service as private reads thus: "Muster Roll of Capt. Nathan Bridgam & comp Troopers from Sept 18 to Oct 9 1725 — Abraham Gibson, Cent — from Sept. 18 to Oct 9 — 3 wks 1 da." He was assessor 1733 and 1734, constable 1735 and 1736 and selectman 1732, 1733, 1739 and 1740 the year of his death. The inventory of his estate returned Jan. 6, 1741, amounted to near £1500, and his widow Mary was appointed administratrix Ap. 20, 1741 with Richard Whitney and "Timothy Gibson Junr" as bondsmen. Mrs. Gibson after July 6, 1745, m. Dea. Daniel Hapgood, selectman of Stow, see note under 14, and by whose will proved June 14, 1791, his homestead (east half of the old paternal plantation of 700 acres) was left to his wife Mary and their three children, and to "my beloved gr. son, Jacob Gibson of Stow, all my lands in Waterford, Cumberland Co. Maine, two lots 300 — 400 acres." Shortly after her second marriage Mrs. Hapgood made the following application :

"To the Hon ble Judge of Probates for y<sup>e</sup> County of Midd. These are to ask y<sup>e</sup> Favour y<sup>t</sup> you would please to appoint Guardians for my Three youngest children who are under y<sup>e</sup> years of choice whose Names I here send according to y<sup>e</sup> Date of their primogeniture Viz Sarah Abraham & Ephraim Gibson y<sup>e</sup> children of my late husband Abraham Gibson late of Stow deca<sup>d</sup> and It would be very agreeable to me If your Hon in Your Wisdom shall think proper to appoint my Hon<sup>d</sup> Father In Law Timo Gibson Guardian for y<sup>e</sup> oldest of them and my Third Brother In Law Stephen Gibson of Stow Guardian for y<sup>e</sup> other two.

Stow Aprill 11 1746."

As Stephen was the fifth brother-in-law in chronological order, "my Third Brother In Law" probably referred to him as youngest of the three brothers-in-law then residing in Stow — Timothy jr., Samuel, Stephen ; for some reason the appointments were not made as requested, and Stephen Gibson gave a bond Ap. 14, 1746, with Daniel Hapgood for surety, as guardian of Sarah and Ephraim ; also the same day Daniel Hapgood gave his bond, with Stephen Gibson surety, as guardian of Rebecca, "in 18th year and at her own election."

- VI Isaac Davis (Capt.) of Acton, Mass., first child of Ezekiel and Mary 11 (Gibson) Davis, b. Acton, Feb. 23, 1744/5; killed at "North Bridge fight" (Concord, Mass.) Ap. 19, 1775; m. Oct. 24, 1764, Hannah Brown of Acton.

Capt. Davis, "the man who headed the first column against the King's troops in the revolutionary war," was early on the ground with his thirty-eight Acton minute-men, and in the hesitancy of the older officers to attack the British regulars, drew his sword, saying "I am not afraid, I haven't a man that's afraid to go;" receiving orders to lead the five companies (his own, two Concord, one Bedford, one Lincoln) he advanced towards the bridge to the tune of the White Cockade and was instantly shot ; his name does not appear upon revolutionary rolls as John Hayward, his 1st lieutenant, immediately took command of the company and the rolls are in his name. In 1851 the state of Massachusetts and town of Acton erected at Acton Center a monument commemorative of the engagement, and the remains of Capt. Davis were removed from Woodland cemetery, the old burying ground in the southeast of the town, and together with those of Abner Hosmer and James Hayward were placed under the monument ; Acton has also proudly cherished the memory of its courageous young minute-man by sending the Davis Blues to the war of 1812 and the Davis Guards to the civil war.

<sup>iv</sup> Thomas Fox of Concord, housewright and yeoman, third son of Samuel, b. Concord, June 8, 1706; d. Concord, July 30, 1759 (this date on town original records conflicting with Aug. 30, 1759 the date of his will on file at East Cambridge); m. after 1740, his third cousin Mrs. Rebecca (French) Carey (d. Concord, Nov. 22, 1746), dau. of Joseph and Elizabeth (Knight) French of Bedford, Mass., and widow of James Carey who died about 1740 and whose estate was administered upon Nov. 18, 1747 by Thomas Fox; children: <sup>1</sup> Hannah b. Concord, Mar. 11, 1741; d. Ap. 20, 1741. <sup>2</sup> Esther, wife of Lt. Abraham Gibson, residuary legatee under her father's will presented Sept. 6, 1759, to a nearly £500 real and personal estate, the will giving "to brother Enos Fox ½ lands and ½ negro boy—to dau Esther residue when 21 years old or on marriage;" the latter occurred so early that Samuel Barrett, the guardian chosen by Esther, had short service; pieces of her bridal dress (white and pink striped silk, the white dotted with small red buds) are still preserved.

Lt. Gibson in early life was a schoolmaster; that he was teaching in Lunenburg (Fitchburg since 1764) at the time of his majority but shortly returned to Stow as master of the parental homestead, is shown by the following deeds dated respectively Oct. 8, 1756 and Jan. 18, 1757:

"Ezekiel and Mary Davis, Ephraim and Rebecca Hapgood, all of Acton, and Peter and Sarah Conant of Stow, to Abraham Gibson of Lunenburg, laborer [teacher], for £128, quit claim of estate of our father Abraham Gibson, being the estate of our mother, Mary Hapgood, from our grandmother Wheeler," etc.

"Daniel Hapgood of Stow, yeoman, and Mary, his wife, quit claim of  $\frac{1}{2}$  estate of Abraham Gibson of Stow, deceased [with other tracts and rights], formerly the estate of our father and mother, Deliverance and Mary Wheeler of Stow, to Abraham Gibson of Stow, yeoman," etc.

A year or two after his marriage Lt. Gibson removed from Stow to Concord and about 1768 to Fitchburg, residing on a farm of 150 acres or more on the eastern slope of Pearl hill; a portion of this farm he deeded Mar. 25, 1786 as follows: "I, Abraham Gibson of Fitchburg, gentleman, in consideration of £265 paid me by Jeremiah Kinsman of Ipswich, county of Essex, husbandman—a certain tract of land—containing 55 acres 117 rods—with a house and barn on the same, consisting of Tillage, mowing, pasturage and wood land;" also July 5, 1794, to the same person then of Fitchburg,  $7\frac{1}{4}$  acres adjoining the first purchase, "said Gibson reserving liberty for the schoolhouse now standing on said land to remain there as long as the town shall support a town school." Besides property in Fitchburg where in 1771 he was one of the largest taxpayers, he owned real estate in the adjacent town of Ashby. He was one of the five Gibsons among the forty-four Fitchburg minute-men in 1775 and selectman 1778 and 1779; as his name disappears from the tax roll after 1791 he may have removed elsewhere that year although in the deed of 1794 to Jeremiah Kinsman he called himself of Fitchburg.

Lt. Gibson was a soldier in the Fr. and Ind. war, his service recorded thus: "Muster Roll—Capt. Abijah Hall Comp. Col. Willard's Reg—in Exp. to Crown Pt. from May 9, 1759 to Jan'y 12, 1760, 2d Lt. Abraham Gibson, Stow—fr. May 9 to Jan'y 13—31 wks 2 da." He was also a revolutionary soldier—private, Capt. Ebenezer Woods' co., Col. Asa Whitcomb's reg. of militia, marched from Fitchburg on Lexington alarm of April 19, 1775, served 7 days.

VI Rebecca Gibson, fourth child of Lt. Abraham <sup>15</sup> and Esther (Fox) Gibson, b. Concord, Mass., Nov. 15, 1765; bap. First Parish church, Nov. 24, 1765; d. Lunenburg, Mass., June 30, 1814; bur. in the South yard; m. as first wife (pub. at Fitchburg, Mass., Aug. 1, 1785), John Priest of Rindge, N. H. and Lunenburg (b. Lancaster, Mass., Oct. 1, 1761, bap. by Rev. T. Harrington, Oct. 30, 1763, d. Lunenburg, Ap. 12, 1830, bur. beside his wife), son of Benjamin and Hannah (Johnson) Priest.

<sup>1</sup>John Priest of Woburn and Lancaster, Mass. d. Lancaster, 1704, between Ap. 20 when he was "holding garrison" and Dec. 21 when the inventory of his estate was taken; m. Rachel Garfield (d. 1737), said to be a descendant of Eilward Garfield of Chester, Eng. It is claimed by some of the Priest line that this John was son of John and Sara of Weymouth, Mass., gr. son of James of Weymouth and gt. gr. son of Degory, the Puritan pioneer in 1620.—Records show that a John Priest of Woburn, joined by wife Sara, sold 20 acres in 1680, and he may have been the John Priest in Weymouth at an earlier date; that a "James Prist" of Weymouth was made freeman May 10, 1640 and granted 3 acres 1642-1644 and 20 acres in 1663; that a Degory, "Digory" or "Diggory" Priest died Plymouth, Mass., Jan. 1, 1621, a few days after landing from the Mayflower Dec. 22, 1620, married at Leyden, Holland, 1611, Mrs. Sarah Allerton-Vincent who came to the Plymouth colony in 1622 accompanied by her third husband Cuthbert Cuthbertson and her Priest daughters Sarah and Mary and, as claimed, "sons Emanuel of Salem, Mass. and James of Weymouth."—In Seven Centuries in the Kneeland Family it is stated that Degory had a son John who married Sara Allerton, settled in Woburn and was father of the John who married Rachel Garfield. However uncertain Mr. Priest's ancestry, he was the soldier John Priest "of Woburn Towne" in King Philip's war, and a comparatively young man when in 1688 he removed from Woburn and located on a 30 acre grant on the eastern side of Bare hill, east part of Lancaster (Harvard since 1732). Children, the first three b. in Woburn, the other four in Lancaster: <sup>1</sup>Elizabeth, b. Sept. 12, 1679. <sup>2</sup>John of Lancaster, b. 1681; d. Bolton, Mass., Sept. 12, 1756; m. Anna Houghton; eight children. <sup>3</sup>Daniel of Lancaster b. July 19, 1686; d. Oct. 9, 1723; m. Elizabeth —; six children. <sup>4</sup>Gabriel of Lancaster m. Abigail —; three children. <sup>5</sup>Joseph. <sup>6</sup>Mary. <sup>7</sup>Hannah.

<sup>1v</sup>Benjamin Priest of Lancaster, first son of Joseph, b. Lancaster, Dec. 12, 1738; d. Lunenburg, Jan. 4, 1817; m. at Lancaster by Joseph Wilder, esq., Jan. 20, 1761, Hannah Johnson of Lancaster. He was a soldier in the Fr. and Ind. war—"Private under Capt. Thomas Beaman—Lancaster—Entered Feb. 29—1760 until Nov. 10—1760, 40 weeks & 60 days"; he was also a revolutionary soldier—private, Capt. John Hartwell's co., Col.

Mr. Priest resided till 1811 in Rindge (Rowley Canada from 1690 until incorporated Feb. 11, 1768) when he removed from the town to Lunenburg and in 1813 and 1814 served as school committee; after the death of his wife Rebecca he married, Nov. 17, 1814, Mrs. Phebe (Atherton) Sherman, and of two daughters by this marriage the elder died young and the other, Abigail, born 1819, married Luke Carter of Leominster, Mass.

He was a revolutionary soldier; in the absence, however, of family confirmatory records it is perplexing to identify him among the Lancaster John Priests whose names appear on official rolls in the Massachusetts archives (Boston)—the private in Capt. Hartwell's co., Col. Dike's reg. July 10, 1776, and if so, marching with his father to Dorchester heights—the trooper in Col. Sheldon's light dragoons—the fifer in Col. Denny's reg.—the private in Col. Marshall's reg. who on the retreat to Fort Ann from Schene (Skeensborough, now White hall on Lake Champlain) was disabled and subsequently pensioned; unfortunately the pension records of 1787, those for disability, were destroyed by fire in 1814 and the earliest extant are those of Mar. 18, 1818 for "9 mos. on Continental establishment."

Within a few years after his arrival in Boston in 1687, Mr. Calef became so exercised over the witchcraft delusion that he wrote his More Wonders of the Invisible World, a work denouncing the delusion and an answer to Rev. Dr. Cotton Mather's Wonders of the Invisible World; in the words of the poet Whittier—

“In the solemn days of old
Two men met in Boston town,
One a tradesman frank and bold,
One a preacher of renown.”

The book, however, was not published till 1700 and then in London as no Boston printer dared print such “a wicked book"; of the few copies extant of this original edition, one now owned by the Massachusetts historical society was once the property of Dr. Mather who inscribed on its cover the utterance of Job—"My desire is that mine adversary had written a book; surely I would take it upon my shoulder and bind it as a crown to me." Watertown, Mass., Oct. 24, 1783, d. Boston, Ap. 16, 1829), dau. of Seth and Jerusha (Learned) Norcross.

Mr. Gibson, one of the "two rival merchant princes of Boston" and a gentleman of great energy and indomitable will, was an extensive iron dealer and real estate owner; he resided prior to 1805 at 105 Orange street (now part of Washington) but that year purchased the large house and garden, 15 Court street (south side near Tremont), remaining there until his death. In the financial crisis of 1815 losing heavily in ships and real estate and by endorsements, he fell ill and died in the prime of active life. His estate was administered upon July 29, 1816 by his brother John Gibson and Ebenezer Farley, the inventory showing the amount of $261,000; on the same date Gideon Snow was appointed guardian of the minor children by the first marriage, and Josiah P. Cooke of the children by the second. His widow at her death in 1829 left by will $127,000 to be equally divided among her seven children including Mrs. Susan (Spurr) Marshall and John W. Spurr, the two by her former marriage.

IV Timothy Gibson (Capt.) of Sudbury, Groton and Stow, Mass. and Henniker, N. H., second child of Dea. Timothy 9 and Rebecca (Gates) Gibson, b. Stow, Jan. 20, 1702/3; d. Henniker, Jan. 18, 1782; m. Dec. 29, 1725, Persis Rice (b. Sudbury, Jan. 10, 1706/7, d. Henniker, Mar. 22, 1781), dau. of Dea. Jonathan and Anne (Darby) Rice, gr. dau. of Joseph Rice, and-gt. gr. dau. of Dea. Edmund Rice, the English pioneer in Sudbury in 1639 the year of its incorporation, and in that part of the town set off in 1780 as East Sudbury and since 1835 named Wayland.

Capt. Gibson was very young when his parents moved from Stow to Sudbury and in some inexplicable way his birth is entered on Sudbury copied records although not on the original; there is, however, no question that he was born in Stow even if there is no confirmatory town record, as the family did not remove from Stow to Sudbury till after June 21, 1703, the date of the deed made by Mr. Abraham Holman of Stow "to show my love unto and care of Timothy Gibson [Dea.] now living with me & hath done from a child." His boyhood and early manhood were spent in Sudbury and he never occupied house-lot 33 in Lunenburg, Mass., bought of Ephraim Sautle in 1723 by "Timothy Gibson for son Timothy," the father retaining it for another son.

About the date of his marriage he removed to Groton, locating most likely on property which he purchased Dec. 11, 1724 from two parties, one tract of 30 acres from S. Scripture for £35, the other of 25 acres from "eleven persons" for £30, both deeds describing him as "Timothy Gibson Jr. of Sudbury, yeoman;" between Dec. 23, 1729 and Oct. 7, 1730 he made three other purchases (12½ acres) in Groton, the deeds naming him "Timothy Gibson of Groton." Whether he remained in the town any length of time after 1730 is not clear, nor do Groton records give the birth of children after that date. It is certain that early in 1733 he was living in Stow shown from the sale made May 7, 1733 by "John Forster to Timothy Gibson Jr. of Stow, yeoman, 134½ acres in Stow including Cornet's pond, the south side of Elisabeth [Assabet] river, southerly of a great brushy hill [a nameless hill southeast of Boon's hill], and bounded east by the highway, north and west by Dea. Nathaniel Hapgood, and southeasterly on Marlboro line to Marlboro Corner, house, barn, &c.—also all my right in the meeting house," and this property in the southeast of Stow was his home for the next forty years; he further increased his Stow acquisitions by Philip Brown selling Ap. 28, 1763 for £40, some 21 acres to "Timothy Gibson of Stow, gentleman." That he owned real estate in Lunenburg is seen by a deed for 20 acres dated Jan. 3, 1774 and given by his son "Abel Gibson and wife Mary of Lunenburg, to Timothy Gibson of Stow," which 20 acres were doubtless a portion of Mary's inheritance from her father Arrington Gibson of Lunenburg. He was a prominent person in Stow—selectman 1734, 1735, 1736 and 1739, constable 1745 and probably holder of some military office as he was always called Capt. Gibson ; he was also an active member of First church, joining his father May 17, 1736, in the negative vote for a £60 appropriation to Rev. John Gardner, and on Jan. 27, 1755 buying the "north east corner of pew ground," another version worded : "January 27th 1755.. Capt. Tim. Gibson bought the north east corner pew in the old church." As eldest of the sons surviving Dea. Gibson in 1757, he was of great help to his step-mother Mrs. Submit Gibson who by her will dated Sept. 24, 1758, gave among other small bequests to connections, "my mother's gold ring to Capt. Timothy Gibson, to wife Persis, Taffety gown, and neck laces to daughters Persis and Lucy," and named him residuary legatee and executor.

Early in 1774 when over seventy-one years old, Capt. Gibson removed to Henniker on Contoocook river, a promising New Hampshire town incorporated Nov. 10, 1768, his farm lying at the foot of Craney hill south side the Contoocook ; his patriotic and beneficial influence was felt in the neighborhood, and until his death he rendered service to the revolutionary struggle especially by pecuniary aid ; he was among the fifty-one signers of the "association test" called for by resolution of Continental congress of Mar. 14, 1776, forwarded to Henniker Ap. 12, 1776 and framed as follows :

"In consequence of the Resolution of the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Congress and to show our determination in joining our American brethren in defending the lives, liberties and properties of the inhabitants of the United Colonies, we the subscribers do hereby solemnly engage and promise that we will to the utmost of our power, at the risque of our lives and fortunes, with arms oppose the hostile proceedings of the british fleets and armies against the United American Colonies."

He must have been buried in one of the two old cemeteries, the earlier laid out Mar. 26, 1770 in the southerly part of the town, and the other about 1775 near the southeast corner ; no stone to his memory, however, is found in either ground though a careful search has been made by Col. L. W. Cogswell, historian of Henniker, and the grave of Capt. Timothy Gibson remains unknown.

Mar. 18, 1813), dau. of John and Elizabeth Forristall of Holliston, but in her publishment to Jonathan Gibson Oct. 1, 1748, the surname is accidentally entered Forrester on Stow records.

Mr. Gibson left no will and his widow Mary was appointed administratrix Feb. 25, 1754, her father-in-law "Timothy Gibson Jr., gentleman," and her brother-in-law "Stephen Gibson, yeoman," as bondsmen; the appraisement of Mar. 1, 1754 by William Rice, Daniel Hapgood and Stephen Gibson, showed "real estate 0 and personal £581 2 s. including £25 for blue coat, black jacket and blush breeches;" in 1761 Mary, then widow of Eli Jones, made application before Justice Danforth for certain privileges for her children by both marriages.

VI Thaddeus Gibson (Sergt.) of Bellingham and Milford, Mass. and Henniker, N. H., second child of Jonathan 51 and Mary (Forristall) Gibson, b. Stow, Mass., 1753 (probably June as by court records he was "seven mos. old" at the time of his father's death Jan. 12, 1754); d. Henniker, Feb. 23, 1834; bur. in Center cemetery, the old Center yard; m. first, at Bellingham by Rev. Noah Alden, pastor Bellingham Baptist church, Feb. 2, 1778 (pub. Dec. 20, 1777), Elizabeth Sumner (b. Mendon, Mass., Aug. 16, 1754, d. Henniker, Mar. 17, 1819), dau. of James and Mary (Bigelow) Sumner of Mendon (the east part which became Milford Ap. 11, 1780), and descendant of William Sumner, the English pioneer in Dorchester, Mass. in 1636; m. second, Mar. 30, 1831, Lydia Kemp of Henniker.

Sergt. Gibson on Ap. 28, 1769, then nearly sixteen years old but by the usual court entry "upwards of 14 years," selected Ebenezer Marshall as guardian, and as early as 1775, if not earlier, was living in Bellingham; in 1779 he moved to the adjoining Milford (then part of Mendon) and for the next four years made it his home at intervals; that he and his family were in Warner, N. H. late in 1781 is seen by an entry in the record book of the Milford Congregational church, the East parish church of old Mendon organized some 70 years after the incorporation of the town May 15, 1667 :

" Thaddeus Gibson, Elizabeth his wife and two children,
Lois [Lewis] and Mary, came from Warner, Hampshire
S<sup>t</sup>. to reside in Milford, Jan'y 10th 1782. Taken in by James Sumner."

In 1783 he settled in Henniker on a 300 acre farm in the west of the town known as Westboro Corner and, with the exception of a two years' stay in Warner after his wife's death in 1819, made Henniker his permanent home, leaving the farm for "the village" on returning from Warner. He always took an active interest in both secular and religious affairs—selectman 1799, one of the thirty-three persons in 1801 voting "no" to the settlement of Rev. Moses Sawyer, and in 1807 on the committee for building schoolhouses. Under the will of his father-in-law he became joint owner with his wife Elizabeth and her sister, of considerable real estate in Milford, and Nov. 7, 1795 sold advantageously several tracts of this land "bequeathed to us by our father, James Sumner, deceased."

He was a revolutionary soldier—private, Capt. Samuel Cobb's co., Col. Joseph Reed's reg. Mass. militia (Worcester county) May 6 to Nov. 6, 1775, served at Roxbury; sergt., Capt. Samuel Warren's co., Col.
Joseph Reed's reg. Jan. 1776 to Feb. 1777, service at White Plains, Trenton, Princeton and elsewhere; private, Capt. Amos Ellis' co., Col. Benjamin Hawse's
reg. Sept. 25 to Oct. 31, 1777, Rhode Island service;
private, Capt. Jacob Haskin's co., Col. John Jacobs' reg. July 2, 1778 to Jan. 1, 1779, "the men raised in Bellingham by Resolve of June 12, 1778, and paid bounty by the selectmen." He became a revolutionary pensioner under the act passed Mar. 18, 1818 "for service in the War for 9 mos. on Continental establishment," his pension beginning Ap. 4, 1818, for some reason discontinued, restored Ap. 1, 1823 and in force at the time of his death; there is nothing to show that he came in under the act of 1786 "for wounds and disabilities" as no public pension documents of that date are in existence. In his own affidavits he stated that "he enlisted in the spring of 1777 at Bellingham for 8 mos. in Mass. line under Capt. Sabin Maun, marched to Rhode Island, chosen sergt., served 8 mos. and then dismissed," but could furnish no documentary evidence; he had, however, the following valuable testimony for service in 1776:

"I certify that Thaddeus Gibson served as Sergt. in my Co. in Col. Joseph Reed's Regt. in the Continental Army in the year 1776— [signed] Samuel Warren, Captain," and dated Milford, Ap. 9, 1787.

- V Timothy Gibson (Capt.) of Stow, Mass., Henniker, N. H. and Brownfield, Me., third child of Capt. Timothy 50 and Persis (Rice) Gibson, b. Stow, Dec. 17, 1738; d. Brownfield, Jan. 16, 1814; bur. in Burnt Meadow Brook cemetery, the old East Brownfield cemetery ; m. (pub. Feb. 20, 1773) Margaret Whitman (b. Stow, Jan. 14, 1755, d. Brownfield, June 29, 1838, bur. beside her husband), dau. of Zechariah and Elizabeth (Gates) Whitman of Stow, and descendant of John Whitman, the English pioneer in Weymouth, Mass. in 1638 (Margaret<sup>r</sup> ; Zechariah<sup>h</sup> ; John<sup>m</sup> of Stow ; Rev. Zechariah<sup>h</sup> of Nantasket, Mass. ; John<sup>l</sup>).

Capt. Gibson before reaching his majority served in the Fr. and Ind. war, his record reading thus : " Muster Roll—Capt. Abijah Hall Comp. Col. Willard's Reg— in Exp. to Crown Pt. from May 9, 1759 to Jan'y 12, 1760, Timothy Gibson, Sergt, Stow—fr. May 2 to Nov. 27—30 wks," and perhaps this service as serjeant may have given rise to his familiar appellation of " Captain Gibson."

Until his marriage, if not afterwards, he remained one of the paternal household ; his first purchase in his native town was not till Feb. 19, 1770 when he bought for £300 from John Gordon and wife Mary " 35 acres in Stow, estate of our father Ebenezer Graves,  $\frac{1}{2}$  house and the mill"—the site of this old mill on the east side the Assabet being only a few rods below the present dam of Rock Bottom woolen mills near Rock Bottom (village) in the south of the town ; another purchase, the deed dated Sept. 1, 1773 and describing him as " Timothy Gibson Jr. of Stow, yeoman," was from Jonas Temple of Marlboro, conveying " 30 acres by White's pond between Stow and Marlboro," the pond retaining its name to this day.

On the removal of his parents from Stow to Henniker, probably in the spring of 1774, he accompanied them and resided in their home at the foot of Craney hill, busied with farm cares and running saw and grist mills on the Contoocook. During his quarter of a century's stay in New Hampshire he filled many offices of trust, both state and town—delegate to the Provincial congress convened at Exeter, May 17, 1775 and to the convention held at Concord, June 13, 1778 "to form state government," the first justice of the peace in Henniker by vote of Mar. 21, 1776, selectman 1776 and 1778, town clerk 1776, 1777 and 1778, representative 1776, 1777, 1794, 1796 and 1797; he further showed his love of country by signing the "association test" in 1776 and procuring men and money throughout the revolutionary war.

In 1798, four years prior to its incorporation Feb. 20, 1802, he settled in the north of Brownfield on a tract of 900 acres of tillage and timber land west side Saco river, which property, deeded Nov. 24, 1777 by Benjamin Epes to Benjamin Jacobs, was in turn, together with 100 acres in the adjoining Fryeburg, sold Aug. 18, 1797 in consideration of $3,500, by "Benjamin Jacobs of Brownfield in the county of York [Oxford since 1805] and commonwealth of Massachusetts [Maine not set off and admitted into the Union till Mar. 15, 1820], to Timothy Gibson of Hannover [Henniker] in the county of Hillsborough and state of New Hampshire." With Capt. Gibson's removal to his new home he carried the reputation as "possessor of sound judgment and excellent executive ability, and as one of the ablest citizens in the state."

- V Abel Gibson of Stow and Lunenburg, Mass., Heniker, N. H. and Solon (Cortland county), N. Y., sixth child of Capt. Timothy 50 and Persis (Rice) Gibson, b. Stow, about 1744; d. Solon, 1829; m. at Lunenburg by Edward Hartwell, esq., May 19, 1768 (pub. Ap. 13, 1768), Mary Gibson (bap. Lunenburg, Jan. 1, 1751, d. Hector, N. Y., July, 1844), dau. of Arrington and Mary Gibson, see 93.

Mr. Gibson remained in Stow some little time after his marriage, but was a resident of Lunenburg as early as Jan. 3, 1774 shown by a deed of that date to his father for 20 acres, and as late as Ap. 14, 1776 when "Abel Gibson of Lunenburg, husbandman," joined by wife Mary, conveyed to her brother "Timothy Gibson of Lunenburg, 19 acres with a dwelling house," doubtless a portion of the Arrington Gibson estate in the south of the town; directly after this sale he moved to Heniker and was there in time to sign the "association test" received from Continental congress after Ap. 12, 1776.

He lived in the southeast of Henniker, served on several committees and was selectman in 1778; his name appears for the last time on town records as follows: "Valuation of Abel Gibson's property for 1798. 1 Poll, 2 cows—1-1 year old. Taxes  $2/8$ " [ $\text{£}2$  8s.]; either in this year or the next he and his family removed to New York and before locating in Solon resided in the Susquehanna valley at Butternuts and Unadilla (Otsego county) and German (Chenango county).

V Joseph Gibson (Capt.) of Stow, Mass. and Henniker, N. H., eighth child of Capt. Timothy 50 and Persis (Rice) Gibson, b. Stow, July 8, 1750; d. Henniker, May 23, 1801; bur. in the old cemetery laid out about 1775 near his home in the southeast of the town, south side Contoocook river; m. (pub. May 28, 1772) Olive Randall of Stow (b. Aug. 26, 1749, d. Henniker, Dec. 30, 1816).

Capt. Gibson was about twenty-four years of age at the time of his removal from Stow to Henniker and until his untimely death, the result of an accident while riding horseback, took an active interest in public affairs both civil and military—selectman 1787, 1790, 1791, 1796, 1797 and 1799, probably captain the Henniker "alarm list" called for by Order of 1776, and later commander of the town company, one of the so-called "slam bang" companies; he was, however, prevented by disability from serving as a soldier in the revolutionary war.

Mrs. Cowdrey was a lady of fine artistic taste, loving to study Gibson lineage, and perpetuating her family name by erecting a monument in the Henniker cemetery to the memory of her parents, sister Dolly and two young brothers, the inscribed verse composed by Chancellor Joseph Gibson Hoyt, gr. son of Capt. Joseph Gibson:

"O think not that the life is lost
Which wanders from your sight afar;
The star though hid behind the cloud
Is still a bright and shining star."

IV John Gibson (Capt.) of Lunenburg, Mass., "ye South Town" of the Turkey Hills' district until Aug. 1, 1728, fourth child of Dea. Timothy <sup>9</sup> and Rebecca (Gates) Gibson, b. Sudbury, Mass., Ap. 28, 1708 (town original records but accidentally omitted from the copied records); d. Lunenburg, June 10, 1761, his gravestone in the South yard inscribed: "Memento mori—Capt. John Gibson—departed this life—June 10, 1761—Aged 54 yrs.;" m. at Lunenburg by the bride's father "Edward Hartwell Esq<sup>r</sup>," Nov. 9, 1737, Elizabeth Hartwell (b. 1715, m. second, May 9, 1764, Jacob Gates of Harvard, Mass., d. Feb. 1, 1792), dau. of Judge Edward and Sarah (Wilder) Hartwell.

<sup>11</sup> Judge Edward Hartwell of Lancaster and Lunenburg, Mass., fifth son of John, b. Concord, Aug. 23, 1689; d. Lunenburg, Feb. 17, 1785; m. Sarah Wilder (d. 1764 aged 80 years). He was among the eighty original proprietors of "ye South Town," and on his removal there in 1724 became one of the leading men of the place if not the leader, both as civilian and soldier—land surveyor, member of many committees, justice of the peace, town clerk, judge Court common pleas, representative several years, lieutenant and captain of militia rising in 1745 to the rank of major. Children: <sup>1</sup> Sarah b. 1712. <sup>2</sup> Asael b. 1714. <sup>3</sup> Elizabeth, wife of Capt. John Gibson. <sup>4</sup> Edward b. 1716. <sup>5</sup> Jonathan b. 1719. <sup>6</sup> James. <sup>7</sup> William. <sup>8</sup> Joseph of Lunenburg b. 1727. <sup>9</sup> Benjamin. <sup>10</sup> Phineas of Lunenburg b. 1732; m. Mary Pierce, see 221.

Capt. Gibson was one of "the Gibson brothers" of local history and the first of the four who settled in Lunenburg; he was there as early as 1734, and if earlier than 1731 leaving the parental homestead while in Sudbury, not when removed to Pomciticut hill in the adjoining Stow; he located in the south of the town on property deeded him May 15, 1734 by his father "in consideration of love, good will and affection for my son John Gibson of Lunenburg"—household lot "no. 72 of 46½ acres;" upland of "60 acres, no. 69 in second Division;" "meadow Lott containing five acres and Lyeth on the Northerly side of Massapooage pond," the record entry reading: "Meadow N<sup>o</sup>. 4: 5 Acres;" he must have increased his real estate as Feb. 7, 1736 he sold to John Fitch of Lunenburg, in whose honor the future Fitchburg was named, 36½ acres, a part of house lot no. 66.

He was a man of gigantic size and strength, and held an important place in public affairs—surveyor of highways 1736, 1742 and 1754, constable 1741, tithing-man 1744, selectman 1747, 1748, 1751, 1752 and 1753, school committee 1748, 1754 and 1756, moderator at town meetings 1753 and 1757, captain of militia, probably chosen prior to "March 4th 1754;" he served also on various temporary committees—in 1740 "to Buld the South End School house," in 1748 "to Repair the old meeting House," the church which he and his wife had joined Aug. 3, 1740, and in 1761 only a few months before his death, one of three "to Enquire into the Bounds of the Buring yard."

IV Arrington Gibson of Stow and Lunenburg, Mass., eighth child of Dea. Timothy 9 and Rebecca (Gates) Gibson, b. Sudbury, Mass., Mar. 22, 1717 and named for his Errington ancestry; d. Lunenburg, Feb. 24, 1756, his gravestone in the South yard inscribed: "Arrington Gibson—departed this life—Feb. 24, 1756—Aged 39 years;" m. Mary — (d. Lunenburg, July 15, 1795 "in 78 year," bur. beside her husband).

Mr. Gibson was one of "the Gibson brothers" of local history and the second of the four who settled in Lunenburg; he was hardly of age when he took leave of the paternal home on Pomciticut hill in Stow, followed his brother Capt. John to Lunenburg ("y<sup>e</sup> South Town" till 1728) and located near him in the south of the town; as these two brothers were not separated in life so in death they repose on the same sunny slope in the old burying ground; his home was the Ephraim Sautle "House Lott number 33 First Division" deeded him together with "second Division Lott number 34" [upland of 60 acres] by his father "tenth day of March in the thirteenth year [1740] of his Majesty's Reign [George II], in consideration of Love and goodwill and affection which I have and do bear towards my Dutifull son Arrington Gibson of Lunenburg Husbandman."

He was a man of great size and physical strength and courage, but was prevented by early death from holding many public offices; he was, however, surveyor of highways 1746 and 1750, tithingman 1753 and constable 1754; he was also a good church member, both he and "wife Mary renewing baptismal covenant in the First church Oct. 26, 1740, and Mary admitted to f. c. May 9, 1756," a few months after his decease.

Lancaster, Mass., Ap. 13, 1719, bap. by Rev. John Prentice, June 26, 1720, d. Stow, Oct. 26, 1802 "in the 84 year of her age," bur. at the right of her husband), dau. of John and Mary Goss.

<sup>1</sup> Philip Goss of Lancaster, "merchant of Boston" as entered on town records, d. Lancaster, prior to May 26, 1698 the date of administration of his estate; bur. in the "Old Burial Field" laid out in 1658 on "Burying Place Hill;" m. first, Hannah Hopkins; m. second, at Concord, Mass., Mar. 29, 1690, Mary Prescott (b. Lancaster, Feb. 20, 1669, m. second, Nov. 20, 1698, John Houghton of Lancaster), dau. of John and Sarah (Hayward) Prescott. Previous to locating in Lancaster Mr. Goss made his home either in Muddy River or Roxbury, Mass. (the former set off from Boston as Brookline in 1705, the latter incorporated in 1630 and in 1868 annexed to Boston); on his arrival in Lancaster he bought and occupied a part of the homestead of Rev. Joseph Rowlandson whose wife Mary is familiar to posterity by the story of her Indian captivity in King Philip's war of 1675 and 1676. Mr. Goss must have been a man of public spirit and valor as during the Indian raids of 1692 he held a garrison of nine men at North river bridge (Lancaster). Children: <sup>1</sup> Philip of Brookfield, Mass. bap. Roxbury, Feb. 16, 1679; m. Aug. 30, 1699, Judith Heywood. <sup>2</sup> Hannah bap. James of Groton; Col. William of Pepperell, Mass., commander of the American troops at Bunker hill battle; Maj. Gen. Oliver of Groton.

Dea. Gibson remained in Stow after the family removal there from Sudbury in his boyhood, and always resided on the paternal homestead on Pomciticut hill (now Summer hill and since 1871 in Maynard). His first real estate was probably that deeded Sept. 29, 1740, shortly after his majority, by "Timothy Gibson of Stow, yeoman, and wife Rebecca, to my son Stephen of Stow, yeoman, for £100 and fatherly regards—two lots in Stow, one, 5 acres bounded north by Concord road, South and West, by my own land; the other, 25 acres bounded east on Assabeth river." Again, Mar. 31, 1747, his parents deeded him for £152 and services to be rendered, "my house [the homestead] and 50 acres in Stow, bounded by Concord highway on north, east by Stephen Gibson's and Stephen Houghton's land, south by John Jewell's, west by Gardner's, also  $\frac{1}{4}$  acre in Sudbury . . . reserving three rooms for ourselves and stabling for three cows;" on June 9, 1752 he increased his Sudbury property by buying for £149 5s., some 20 acres in two tracts from Stephen Houghton of Stow. He was also a large landholder in Ashby, Mass. (Lunenburg till 1764, then Fitchburg till 1767); among purchases—one, June 9, 1763 for £80, from William Benjamin, "100 acres, house &c. in Lunenburg;"—another, May 4, 1768, from William Flagg of Ashby, 12 acres still known as the "Flagg piece;"— a third, Jan. 5, 1771, for £88, from Brown and Blaney of Salem, 110 acres;—a fourth, for £10, from his son-in-law Stephen Barker of Ashby, 1½ acre; doubtless these purchases were the lands occupied by the three of his sons, Rev. Stephen, John and Abraham who lived on adjacent farms in the new town; in addition to his Ashby acquisitions he owned 100 or more acres in what was the north of Fitchburg till 1829 when ceded to Ashby. He left no will, and as his sons, Rev. Stephen, Arrington and Abraham, declined administration, Augustus Tower gave bonds as administrator Ap. 17, 1807; the estate, then wholly personal, amounted to near \$500 and in 1811 was divided among the eight surviving children and the children of the deceased daughter Elizabeth Piper.

Dea. Gibson was a man of sound judgment and executive ability, often chosen appraiser and in 1746 selected guardian of Sarah and Ephraim Gibson, children of his deceased brother Abraham; a faithful attendant, communicant and deacon of First church, and on the rebuilding of the edifice, purchasing Jan. 17, 1755 "next to minister's pew, west of the pulpit;" a loyal and patriotic citizen of his town and country; a dutiful son, his parents voluntarily sharing their home with him and his widowed step-mother Mrs. Submit Gibson returning his respectful attentions by little legacies to his children—"a gold ring" to Sarah, and to Rebecca, Arrington and Timothy each, "a pewter plate;" a loving husband "living respectably in conjugal happiness with his first and only wife more than 60 years."

He was a revolutionary soldier—private, Capt. William Whitcomb's co., Col. James Prescott's reg. of militia (Middlesex county), marched from Stow Ap. 19, 1775 on Lexington alarm, served 3 days; also his name appears on the alarm list (Dec. 1776) of Capt. Benjamin Munroe's co. (6th), Col. Ezekiel Howe's reg. (4th Middlesex county), reported "between 60 and 65 years of age."

Mr. Gibson, one of the three brothers who resided on adjacent farms in Ashby, settled there shortly after his marriage on the property deeded him as late as Mar. 16, 1779, by "Stephen Gibson of Stow, yeoman, and wife Sarah, to John Gibson of Ashby, husbandman, for 5 s. and love and affection for my third son, 80 acres in Ashby, bounded west on line between Ashby and Ashburnham to line of Stephen Gibson Jr., including house, &c." On Jan. 19, 1799, about which time he probably left Ashby, he sold to Josiah Bright for $1,000 this farm of 80 acres lying both sides the highway and bounded north by his brother Abraham's, south by his brother Rev. Stephen's and west by Ashburnham (Dorchester Canada from 1690 until incorporated Feb. 22, 1765); in 1801 it again became Gibson property but of another branch of the family who still hold it in possession.

He was a revolutionary soldier—private, Capt. John Jones' co., Col. James Prescott's reg., marched from Ashby Ap. 20, 1775 on Lexington alarm, served 7 days.

Ithamar Rice of Sudbury. <sup>8</sup>Rev. Reuben, D. D., "the idol and pet of his father's heart," b. Jan. 5, 1756; d. Berlin, Mass., Ap. 9, 1829 after a pastorate over the Congregational church since 1781. He was a gentleman of remarkably fine looks, pleasing address and gentle manners, graduate Harvard coll. 1778 and ranking high as a clergyman of scholarly attainments.

Rev. Mr. Gibson, one of the three brothers who resided on adjacent farms in Asliby, was in the new town prior to 1770; he settled on the 80 acres including the "Flagg piece" deeded Ap. 8, 1773 by "Stephen Gibson of Stow, yeoman, to Stephen Gibson of Ashby, husbandman, and in consideration of 5 s. and love and affection for my eldest son." This farm, the most southerly of the three, lying both sides the highway and bounded north by his brother John's (the Asburnham road between), south by Flint's land and west by Ashburnham line, remained his home until his death; two years later the property was bought by a Gibson nephew whose family retained it till 1896 when it was sold to strangers. He was well fitted for a life of activity and usefulness, beginning on his arrival in his adopted town to hold public offices—framer of "first rates" or tax list, selectman 1770 and 1775, town clerk Mar. 1, 1775—Mar. 1, 1776, moderator 1782, and always taking a deep interest in the religious and educational growth and general welfare of the people.

He was a revolutionary soldier—1st Lt., capt. John Jones' co., Col. James Prescott's reg. of militia (Middlesex county), marched from Ashby Ap. 20, 1775 on Lexington alarm, served 7 days; also his name is on the list of commissioned officers of Mass. militia as 1st lieutenant, Capt. James Bennett's co. (9th), Col. Oliver Prescott's reg. (6th Middlesex county), chosen by the company and accepted by the Council Ap. 24, 1776.

Rev. Mr. Gibson was brought up a Congregationalist and on his removal to Ashby became a member of First church in Fitchburg organized Jan 7, 1768; that he experienced a change of religious views is shown by the church voting Sept. 6, 1776, "to send the pastor [Rev. John Payson] and brothers Walker and Goodridge, to discourse with Brother Stephen Gibson and wife for absenting themselves from our communion," and by his reply that "he absented himself because he disliked the principles of the church in baptizing infants," etc. True to his conscientious convictions, he accepted the Baptist faith, not that of the "protest" but the Freewill sect, and being "gifted in this direction" he began preaching to those who gathered to hear him and in any building selected for the occasion; he did not, however, withdraw from First church, and on Mar. 8, 1783 a committee was appointed "to admonish Brother Stephen Gibson of Ashby for absenting from worship;" this was followed by the church convening June 1, 1783 and voting "to Reject Stephen Gibson from his relation to us for his absenting from us and Irregular & disorderly conduct in preaching from place to place;" but he continued to preach for many years either in private dwellings or schoolhouses in both Ashby and Ashburnham and occasionally in Page's schoolhouse in Fitchburg, and in consistence with his unbelief in salaried clergymen, preached "with more acceptance than compensation." It was not until 1810, two years before his death, that his society then worshipping in its own meetinghouse in Fitchburg near Ashby line, was incorporated as the First Baptist society of Fitchburg and Ashby.

- VI Stillman Gibson (Dr.) of Ashby, Mass. and New Ipswich, N. H., fifth child of Rev. Stephen 112 and Rebecca (Puffer) Gibson, b. Ashby, Aug. 22, 1781 and named for Rev. Samuel Stillman, pastor First Baptist church, Boston, Mass.; d. New Ipswich, Sept. 4, 1864, the family monument in the new burying ground laid out in 1807, inscribed: "Dr.—Stillman Gibson—son of—Rev. Stephen Gibson—Ashby Mass.—died Sept 4, 1864—Æ 83 yr's.;" m. at New Ipswich by Rev. Stephen Farrar, May, 1804, Rebecca Chandler (b. New Ipswich, July 3, 1779, d. New Ipswich, July 2, 1870, bur. beside her husband), dau. of Dea. James and Mary (Melvin) Chandler.

<sup>3</sup> James Chandler of Concord, son of Samuel, b. Concord, Aug. 28, 1714; d. Dec. 8, 1792 "in 79th year;" m. first, 1737, Mary Wright of Concord; m. twice afterwards. He was quite an important person, member the committee of safety and correspondence in revolutionary days, and "had stored in his barn some of the powder for which the British were searching on Ap. 19, 1775." Among children the three deacons—James, Joseph, Jonathan, a revolutionary soldier.

<sup>4</sup> Dea. James Chandler of New Ipswich, only son of James and Mary, b. Concord; d. New Ipswich, May 10, 1824 aged 84 years (gravestone in South burying ground); m. Mary Melvin (d. Mar. 22, 1807 aged 62 years), dau. of Capt. Eleazar Melvin, survivor of "Lovell's fight" of 1725 and the Fr. and Ind. war. Dea. Chandler was a pioneer in New Ipswich as early as 1765 and until his death filled various offices of trust—member the committee of safety and correspondence, selectman 1777, deacon, etc. Children b. in New Ipswich: <sup>1</sup> Samuel. <sup>2</sup> James. <sup>3</sup> Roger, the father of Rev. Seth Chandler, historian of Shirley, Mass., and the gr. father of Prof. Charles H.

Dr. Gibson after his marriage remained in Ashby until 1811, then crossed the state line and settled on a farm in "New Laid out Division, Range XIII, Lot 2," on the western slope of Page hill in the town incorporated as New Ipswich Sept. 9, 1762. In 1823 he bought the old Jeremiah Prichard property, "South Ranges—Range V, Lot 4," about 1½ mile eastward and a little north of his farm, and by further purchases enlarged this future homestead to 200 or more acres; his comfortable farmhouse so full of hospitality to all beneath its roof and such a place of wonder and delight to the young folks of the family, was destroyed by fire some years ago and never rebuilt.

He was endowed with a native genius and versatile talent, the latter preserved and developed in the mechanical pursuits of several of his descendants; for more than half a century he held the respect due a skilled agriculturalist, a successful physician and an honorable and benevolent gentleman.

Dea. Gibson was a student Appleton acad. (New Ipswich) 1849 and in early life taught school in both eastern and western states. In 1862 he became a resident of Fitchburg and, with the inherited love for mechanical pursuits, engaged in the millwright business under firm name F. Sheldon & Co.; he was one of the city school board, a zealous Sunday-school teacher, a faithful attendant of the C. C. church and elected deacon Jan. 3, 1879. Compelled by ill health to seek a change of clime he made Boulder his home after 1882, identifying himself with various enterprises and lending heart and hand to the service of science and christianity. He was thoroughly and heartily interested in genealogy and gave valuable assistance in collecting data for this record of the Gibson family. A few months after his death the First Congregational church of Boulder printed a Memorial which in its touching and beautiful simplicity, portrayed the character of one of God's noblemen.

Carle of Portland, Or., editor Oregonian. <sup>4</sup> Joseph W. d. young.

Mr. Gibson was a graduate Appleton acad., and in early manhood a clerk in the Massachusetts towns Concord and Ashby; during his residence in Fitchburg he engaged in mercantile pursuits until his removal in 1867 to Kalamazoo where for twenty-five years he was superintendent of the manufacturing plant of which he became president. He was deeply interested in religious, charitable and educational work—Sunday-school superintendent and trustee the Congregational church, Kalamazoo college and Young women's christian association; he was also much interested in research pertaining to his ancestry and in the compilation of this book.

Of a bright, genial nature bravely bearing his many years of failing health, of sound judgment and executive ability added to a broad and generous spirit, "he was in every acceptance of the term a christian gentleman" and, as said by his pastor, "one of the noblest men who ever walked the earth."

- V Samuel Gibson (Dea.) of Fitchburg, Mass., fourth child of Dea. Stephen 111 and Sarah (Goss) Gibson, b. Stow, Mass., Mar. 4, 1750; d. Fitchburg, Feb. 12, 1824; bur. in Dean Hill cemetery laid out in 1800 in the west of the town; m. Dolly Barker (b. Acton, Mass., Oct. 16, 1744, d. Ashby, Mass., Jan. 19, 1846 "aged 101 yrs. 3 mos. 3 days," bur. beside her husband), dau. of Joseph and Ann Barker. Her one-hundredth birthday anniversary was celebrated by a family gathering, each guest receiving some little gift accompanied by a card written by the donor similar to this: "Miss Caroline F. Gibson—please accept this from your aged aunt Dolly Gibson & this day am 100 years old, Ashby Oct. 16, 1844."

Dea. Gibson lived in the northwest of Fitchburg which was ceded to Ashby five years after his death ; his farm was bounded west by Ashburnham line and north by Flint's land separating him from the home of his brother Rev. Stephen Gibson, one of the three brothers residing on adjacent farms in Ashby. In addition to this homestead of more than 100 acres, partly if not wholly the gift of his father, he owned real estate in Ashby, purchasing 8 acres in 1782 and on June 27, 1783, the property known as "the Woodbury farm;" he also bought in Acton, Jan. 17, 1786 for £200, some "158 acres, house, barn, &c." and Mar. 26, 1790, a 54 acre tract.

In 1775 he was one of the five Gibsons among the forty-four Fitchburg minute-men ; at that date he was a member of First church (Congregational) but changed his religious views probably about 1776 when his brother and sister, Rev. Stephen Gibson and Mrs. Sarah Puffer, changed theirs, and in 1783 his name appeared among the thirteen "profest baptists asking rebate of ministers' rates;" this small community later held religious services in the "Lord's barn" which stood on Dean hill from about 1784 to 1826 and was occupied by the Baptists, Methodists and Universalists until the town rebuilt First church in 1796. Dea. Gibson must have again changed his views to those of the Freewill-Baptists as he became a deacon in his brother's church.

Ashby, Aug. 18, 1856; m. Jan. 25, 1798 (pub. Dec. 23, 1797), Esther Page (b. Fitchburg, Mar. 30, 1774, d. Ashby, Mar. 16, 1840, bur. in Dean Hill cemetery), dau. of Jonathan and Esther Page.

Mr. Gibson always resided on the homestead receiving from his father Mar. 16, 1798, "in consideration of the love I bear to my second son Samuel Gibson Jr—and also three hundred and eighty Dollars paid to me in hand by the above named Samuel Gibson Jr. the one-half of my farm being and lying in the northerly part of Fitchburg, together with one-half the buildings thereon and also the one-half of a meadow lot lying in Ashby, in the whole of both lots about fifty-four acres and one-half;" a few months after his father's death he bought June 13, 1824 from his brother Stephen Gibson of Ashby, paying $1,000, "all my right, &c. in the estate which belonged to our late Father, Samuel Gibson, late of Fitchburg, deceased."

He was an important man in his native town—member of the legislature 1805, 1806, 1807 and 1812. By the annexation of the northerly part of Fitchburg to Ashby in 1829 he became without change of location a resident of Ashby.

V Arrington Gibson of Stow, Mass., seventh child of Dea. Stephen 111 and Sarah (Goss) Gibson, b. Stow, Feb. 4, 1756; d. Stow, June 21, 1815; m. Feb. 12, 1778 (Stow records), Rachel Longley (b. Bolton, Mass., July 13, 1757, d. Stow, Ap. 5, 1825), dau. of Robert and Anna (Whitcomb) Longley of Bolton.

Mr. Gibson was a revolutionary soldier—private, Capt. William Whitcomb's co., Col. James Prescott's reg. of militia (Middlesex county), marched from Stow on Lexington alarm of Ap. 19, 1775, served 16 days; private, Capt. Caleb Brook's co., Col. Nicholas Dike's reg., "3 mos. service to Dec. 1, 1776 at Dorchester heights;" corp., same company and regiment, Dec. 1776 to Feb. 1777, guarding stores at Boston.

He was a lifelong resident of his native town and on the homestead of his father and gr. father on Pomciticut hill, deeded him June 30, 1785 as follows: "Stephen Gibson of Stow, yeoman, and wife Sarah, to Arrington Gibson of Stow, husbandman, for love I bair my fourth sone Arrington, & also 5 s. half of my lands in Stow & half of the seller and house and half of the barn to his heirs forever;" he was also a large land owner in Fitchburg, Mass. and Dublin, N. H., his father giving him in the former town Jan. 7, 1786, "in consideration of love and 5 s. one-half of my land lying in Fitchburg in the county of Worcester, adjoining to Samuel Gibson's land [Arrington's brother] it being the east end of the lot of said Samuel's land which I gave to him," etc.; again, giving him Sept. 29, 1801, "one-half for quantity and quality of a certain tract of Pasture land lying in the town of Fitchburg, the whole containing by estimate Thirty-two acres, bounded Westerly on land of Samuel Gibson," etc. By his will dated May 13, 1815, he gave to "wife Rachel, use and improvement of my household furniture during her life, & at her death to be divided to the children, Stephen, Eli, Robert & Rachel," also "Wife  $\frac{1}{3}$  part of all my lands and buildings within this Commonwealth," which one-third part after her decease was to be given to Eli and Robert to whom were bequeathed the other two-thirds unconditionally; he left an estate of nearly \$10,000, the realty in Stow (including the homestead of 80 acres appraised at \$3,500), in Fitchburg and in Dublin amounting to over \$7,000. After his death the heirs retained for a few years the old home of four generations handed down from sire to son, but since 1823 it has ceased to be a Gibson possession; the house is gone long ago, its site and that of the well, however, are still discernible.

Mr. Gibson received under his father's will, jointly with his twin brother Robert, personal estate, also real in New Hampshire and eventually all the lands and buildings in Massachusetts. By purchasing in 1820 his brother's half interest he became sole possessor of the nearly one century old Gibson home which Feb. 22, 1823 (then containing some 90 acres), he sold to Mrs. Lucy Smith of Sudbury. On May 29, 1826 Mrs. Smith deeded the entire property to her son-in-law Isaac Maynard whose sons are the present owners and occupants; the place is now known as Summer Hill farm, the name of the hill is changed from the Indian Pomciticut to Summer hill, and both farm and hill since

Ap. 19, 1871 are in the new town of Maynard, not old Stow.

- IV Isaac Gibson of Stow and Lunenburg (Fitchburg), Mass. and Grafton (originally Thomlinson), Vt., tenth child of Dea. Timothy <sup>9</sup> and Rebecca (Gates) Gibson,

b. Sudbury, Mass., Ap. 27, 1721; d. Grafton, June 1, 1797, his gravestone in so-called Middletown, Middle-town or Middle-of-the-town cemetery inscribed: "Isaac Gibson—Died June 1st 1797—in the 77th year—of his age—White is his soul—From blemish free—Red with the blood—He shed for me;" m. first, at Lunenburg by Rev. David Stearns, Feb. 4, 1744 / 5 (pub. Jan. 5, 1744 / 5), Keziah Johnson (b. Sept. 7, 1725, d. Fitchburg, Feb. 7, 1766, bur. in Lunenburg South yard), dau. of Dea. Samuel and Rebecca Johnson of Lunenburg (Keziah<sup>v</sup>; Dea. Samuel<sup>lv</sup>; Edward<sup>lll</sup> of Woburn, Mass.; Maj. William<sup>ll</sup> of Woburn; Capt. Edward<sup>l</sup>, the English pioneer in Charlestown (Woburn) in 1630, a very prominent man and author Wonder Working Providences of Sion's Saviour in N. E.); m. second, at Leominster, Mass. by Rev. Francis Gardner, Nov. 27, 1766, Mrs. Abigail (Darby or Stearns?) Bennett (d. Grafton, Nov. 26, 1808 aged 81 years, bur. beside her husband).

Mr. Gibson was one of "the Gibson brothers" of local history and the third of the four who settled in Lunenburg; he was not much over age when he bade good by to the parental homestead on Pomciticut hill in Stow and followed his brothers Capt. John and Arrington to Lunenburg ("y<sup>e</sup> South Town" prior to Aug. 1, 1728). He settled in the westerly part of the town set off Feb. 3, 1764 as Fitchburg, and on the "115 acres more or less" deeded him by his father Oct. 25, 1744, "the Southerly part of my Land at Pearl Hill . . . in consideration of Love and good will which I have and do bare to my beloved son Isaac Gibson of Lunenburg provided allways my said son Isaac shall allow one hundred pounds received as part of his Portion out of my Estate Equal to one hundred pounds given by me to any of his Elder Brothers before the Date of this Deed;" his house, "Fort Gibson" in the Indian raid of 1748, stood on the eastern slope of the hill and is still standing in good preservation, the property owned by strangers since about 1873.

He was a man of great size, strength and courage; among several anecdotes told of his personal daring is his well-known encounter with a bear whose cub he was carrying off, the combatants rolling down Pearl hill together, each victorious, each vanquished, the bear losing her offspring, the captor showing on his person through life the marks of the struggle!

Mr. Gibson was always an important person in his adopted home—scout in the Indian troubles of 1748, selectman 1767-1770, 1774-1777, among the thirteen largest taxpayers in 1771, chairman of the committee of seven Dec. 1, 1773 "to respond to the Boston letter" and on the committee in 1774 "to prepare instructions for the guidance of the town's representative in the General court," one of the five Gibsons of the forty-four Fitchburg minute-men in 1775, town moderator 1777.

He was a revolutionary soldier—private, Capt. Ebenezer Woods' co., Col. Asa Whitcomb's reg. of militia, marched from Fitchburg on Lexington alarm of Ap. 19, 1775, served 11 days.

There is no record when he removed to Grafton (Thomlinson under charters of 1754 and 1763 and Tomlinson from 1788 to Oct. 31, 1792 when the name Grafton was bought at auction); that it was between Dec. 26, 1786 and Sept. 4, 1790 is shown by an agreement made on the first date by "Isaac of Fitchburg" and his son "Jonathan of Thomlinson," and by a power of attorney given on the later date by "Isaac of Tomlinson" to his son "Jacob of Fitchburg;" the removal was probably in the spring of 1787 as in 1785 he paid his last Fitchburg real and poll taxes and in 1786 his last personal tax; he did not, however, withdraw his membership from First church (Fitchburg) till Oct. 16, 1791 when at "y<sup>e</sup> request of Isaac Gibson the church voted to give him a dismissal from his special relation to y<sup>e</sup> m. and a recommendation to the church of Christ in Thombleston" [Tomlinson].

V <sup>2</sup> John Gibson of Fitchburg b. Lunenburg (Fitchburg), July 25, 1747 ; killed at Bunker Hill battle, June 17, 1775 ; m. at Lunenburg by Rev. Zabdiel Adams, Sept. 16, 1766, Hannah Martin (b. Lunenburg, Oct. 1, 1746, m. second, after Ap. 14, 1780, Phineas Farnsworth of Harvard, Mass.), dau. of John and Elizabeth Martin of Ipswich and Lunenburg, Mass.

Mr. Gibson was a revolutionary soldier—private, Capt. Ebenezer Wood's co., Col. Asa Whitcomb's reg. of militia, marched from Fitchburg on Lexington alarm, served 11 days (not the private in Capt. John Jones' co., Col. James Prescott's reg. marching from Ashby on Lexington alarm—the hitherto supposed record but which is disclaimed by the writer, and the correct record accepted by James F. D. Garfield, esq., the present Fitchburg revolutionary authority); private, Capt. Abijah Wyman's co., Col. William Prescott's reg. Ap. 30, 1775 until his death at Bunker hill. On Capt. Wyman's muster roll dated Aug. 1, 1775, is written after the name John Gibson : "kild in Battle June 17th as supposed," and on Capt. Wyman's returns of Oct. 3, 1775, after John Gibson's name : "Died June 17." To quote, "his remains were not recognized among the slain, but the last seen of him was in the hottest of the fight when, his ammunition having failed, he was beating back the enemy with the breach of his gun . . . the only man from Fitchburg known to have been slain in the revolution." On Ap. 23, 1776 David Goodridge, Isaac Gibson and Joseph Walker, selectmen of Fitchburg, addressed the following letter, the original found in the Massachusetts archives :

"To the Committee of Cloathing for the Colony of Massachusetts Bay—Gentlemen : This may certify to you that John Gibson who was supposed to be killed in the battle of Bunker Hill, had his last place of residence at Fitchburg, and said Gibson belonged to Capt Abijah Wyman's company in Col William Prescott's Reg. and the said Gibson has not drawn a coat nor any money in lue thereof, and there is no administrator on said Gibson's estate. Therefore we desire you should pay to some one of us the subscribers, or our order, the sum of twenty-five shillings for the benefit of the heirs of the said deceased, agreeable to a resolve of the General Assembly."

The city of Boston erected June 17, 1889, as a memorial to the patriots who fell at Bunker hill, two double-faced bronze tablets in Winthrop square (Charlestown), the front looking towards the square and the reverse, Adams street; on the front of one is engraved "John Gibson, Fitchburg."

Mr. Gibson was a revolutionary soldier—private, Capt. Ebenezer Bridge's co., Col. John Whitcomb's reg. of minute-men, marched from Fitchburg on Lexington alarm, served six days; private, Capt. John Fuller's co., Col. Asa Whitcomb's reg. of militia, Ap. 25, 1775 to 8 months later, on duty Oct. 4, 1775 at Prospect hill near Boston; private, Capt. John Joslin's co., Col. Job Cushing's reg. (6th Worcester county), marched July 31, 1777 to Bennington "to joyn Gen. Seth Warner." It is said that in the Bennington centennial celebration one of his descendants carried a Hessian drum captured at the battle.

On his removal to Grafton he located on the hills in "the middle-of-the-town," and under town entry of Mar. 4, 1793 "Eus. Jonathan Gibson" was chosen constable and collector but was allowed to hire some one to serve in his place.

By the agreement of Dec. 26, 1786 his father and step-mother made their home with him, the son signing a bond for £300 "to hold Myself Boun to the said Isaac Gibson and wiffe to find the One halaff of the house Namely the Estend of said House from the saller to the Garrot" . . . to provide fire-wood, food including "Two Good Cows for Milk Butter & Cheese," clothing "Both for the Lords Day and Every Day," and "a Good Horse as oft as they need it or when they Please" . . . "to Nurse and Docter in Sickness and to Bury the said Isaac Gibson & wife at their Disease Decently and honourably"; and in consideration of this the father agreed "to keep for the use of the Family [Jonathan's] two Beed together with the remainder of the Household stuff and Beading Dureing the Life of Myself and wife," and also "to Give to the said Jonathan Gibson Two Cows as part of the Reward for to Enable the said Jonathan to full fill the above Conditions."

Mr. Gibson passed his early manhood in his native town and in 1775 was one of the five Gibsons among the Fitchburg forty-four minute-men; about 1782 he moved to the southwest of Rindge remaining there till his death of "spotted fever," an epidemic which prevailed in several New England localities in 1811 and 1812.

Miss Gibson during the civil war was actively engaged promoting the interests of "the boys in blue"—the Ellen (Ella) E. G. Hobart, lecturer and writer on questions of morality, giving to the Northwestern sanitary fair at Chicago (1863) the first one hundred dollars realized from the sale of her pamphlet The Soldiers' Gift, and closely identifying herself with the regiment of which her husband was chaplain, the 8th Wis. volunteers or "Live Eagle" regiment whose Old Abe, after safely returning from three years' camp life, was kept in the capitol grounds in Madison, Wis. and died in 1871 at the venerable age of twenty ! In 1864, on the recommendation of Gov. Lewis of Wisconsin and other state officials, Miss Gibson was elected chaplain 1st Wis. heavy artillery then stationed at Fort Lyon, Va., and performed the duties of chaplain although the Secretary of War declined to have her mustered, perhaps for the reason stated in the following letter signed by President Lincoln and dated Nov. 10, 1864 :

"This lady says she would be appointed chaplain of the 1st Wisconsin Heavy Artillery, only that she is a female. The President has not legally anything to do with such a question, but he has no objection to her appointment.

A. Lincoln."

V Nathaniel Gibson of Lunenburg, Mass. and Grafton (Thomlinson 1754-1788, Tomlinson 1788-1792), Vt., fifth child of Isaac 160 and Keziah (Johnson) Gibson, b. Lunenburg (Fitchburg), Feb. 22, 1753; d. Salisbury, Vt., before 1824; m. first, June 25, 1776 (pub. May 15, 1776), Hannah Brown (b. Lexington, Mass., Ap. 28, 1753, bap. Ap. 14, 1756, d. Grafton, Ap. 3, 1789), dau. of Daniel and Anna (Bright) Brown of Lexington and Lunenburg; m. second, July 6, 1791, Mrs. Keziah Hayward of Grafton.

Mr. Gibson was a revolutionary soldier—private, Capt. Ebenezer Bridge's co., Col. John Whitcomb's reg. of minute-men, marched from Fitchburg on Lexington alarm of Ap. 19, 1775, served 6 days; private, Capt. John Fuller's co., Col. Asa Whitcomb's reg. of militia Ap. 25, 1775 to 8 months later, on duty Oct. 4, 1775 at Prospect hill near Boston.

His religious views were most likely in advance of those of his day, and that he was fearless in expressing his personal convictions is seen from the following statement dated "Grafton, June 21, 1803," signed "Nath<sup>l</sup> Gibson" and attested by the town clerk:

"I do not agree in Religious Opinions with the majority of the Inhabitants of the town of Grafton."

V David Gibson of Fitchburg, Mass. and Grafton, Vt., seventh child of Isaac 160 and Keziah (Johnson) Gibson, b. Lunenburg (Fitchburg), Mass., Jan. 22, 1757; bap. Mar. 20, 1757; d. Grafton after 1815; bur. in Middle-of-the-town cemetery; m. at Sutton, Mass. by Rev. Ebenezer Chapin, Ap. 29, 1778 (pub. Mar. 27, 1778), Anna Barton of Sutton (d. Grafton, Nov. 23, 1815 aged 59 years).

Mr. Gibson was a revolutionary soldier—corp., Capt. Joseph Sargent's co., Col. Josiah Whitney's reg. May 5 to July 12, 1777, Rhode Island service.

He lived in that part of Fitchburg which later became "the village"; his house stood on the site of the present city hall, and his bakery, the first built in town, "across the road from his house." Imitating the example of his father and brothers Nathaniel, Jonathan and Abraham, he removed to Grafton prior to Jan. 9, 1794 as on that date "David Gibson of Grafton" appointed his brother Jacob (of Fitchburg) "My Lawful Attorney in my Room and Stead;" his farm lay on the hills near the center of the town commonly called Middletown or Middle-town.

- IV Reuben Gibson (Capt.) of Stow and Lunenburg (Fitchburg), Mass., twelfth and youngest child of Dea. Timothy <sup>9</sup> and Rebecca (Gates) Gibson, b. Sudbury, Mass., Feb. 14, 1725; d. Fitchburg, July 27, 1800; bur. in South Street cemetery (accepted as a "buering yard" 1756), his gravestone inscribed: "Capt. — Reuben Gibson — died July 27, 1800 — Æt. 76;" m. at Sudbury, Nov. 13, 1746 (pub. Sept. 11, 1746), Lois Smith (b. Sudbury, Nov. 1, 1726, d. Fitchburg, Nov. 22, 1816, "Mrs. Louis . . . Aged 94" on gravestone and correctly entered "widow Lois Gibson 90" on First church records), dau. of Thomas and Elizabeth Smith, and gr. dau. of John and Sarah (Hunt) Smith of Sudbury.

Capt. Gibson was one of "the Gibson brothers" of local history and the last of the four who settled in Lunenburg; he was probably not of age when he bade farewell to the parental homestead on Pomciticut hill in Stow, followed his brothers Capt. John, Arrington and Isaac to Lunenburg and located on Pearl hill, on a farm of 100 acres or more deeded by his father Oct. 25, 1744:

"I, Timothy Gibson of Stow, County of Middlesex in New England, yeoman, in Consideration of love and good will and affection I have and do bare to my beloved son, Reuben Gibson Jr [junior meaning a minor] of said Stow, Husbandman . . . a Certain Tract of Land Situate Lying and being in Lunenburg and it is bounded Southerly by the Divisionall Line between him and his Brother, Isaac Gibson and is bounded all otherways as it stands Recorded in the Proprietors Book of Records for Lunenburg, provided allways my said son Reuben Shall allow one hundred Pounds Received of my Estate as part of his portion equal to one hundred Pounds Given by me to any of his Elder Brothers before the Date of this Deed . . . I set my Hand and Seal this twenty-fifth day of October Annoque Domini, One Thousand Seven hundred and forty-four and in the Eighteenth year of his Majesty's [George II] Reign."

This was Capt. Reuben's home until his death although in 1769 he and Isaac leased together some 200 acres of their lands for gold mining purposes; shortly after 1863 his heirs sold the property to strangers and about 1892 the house built in 1746 or earlier, was torn down.

He was a man of great size, strength and physical courage, and of such enterprise and force of character that he was a very important person both in old Lunenburg and the new Fitchburg after its incorporation Feb. 3, 1764—selectman on the first board Mar. 5, 1764, surveyor of highways 1767, among the thirteen largest taxpayers in 1771, one of the committee of seven on correspondence Dec. 1, 1773, constable 1775, chairman of the committee of five on safety and correspondence 1776, collector 1781, probably captain of a company as town records call him "Cap<sup>t</sup> Gibson" after 1772.

He was one of the five Gibsons among the forty-four Fitchburg minute-men in 1775, also a revolutionary soldier—sergt., Capt. Ebenezer Woods' co., Col. Asa Whitcomb's reg. of militia, marched from Fitchburg on Lexington alarm of Ap. 19, 1775, served 11 days.

By his will dated Mar. 10, 1797 ("the twenty first yeare of the independency of America") and allowed Sept. 2, 1800, Capt. Gibson left his household goods to his children equally, to Arrington, the only unmarried child, "my land and buildings by him freely to enjoy after the decease of myself and wife, on condition of my said son Arrington faithfully providing for myself and wife all necessarys of life both in helth and sickness, and also at death to bury myself and wife in a deacent and Christian form and manner," and one dollar to each of the seven married children—"for the love I have to my daughter Billings . . . for the love I bare to my sons Reuben, Abraham, Thomas, Bezaliel, Isaac & Ephraim Gibson One dollar to each and every one of them at our decease;" the appraisement, made by his nephew Rev. Stephen Gibson and two others, showed an estate of $1,100 real and $309.19 movable property.

- V Reuben Gibson of Fitchburg, Mass., second child of Capt. Reuben 192 and Lois (Smith) Gibson, b.

Lunenburg (Fitchburg), Sept. 21, 1748 (town records); d. Fitchburg, Ap. 20, 1836; m. Feb. 8, 1774 (pub. Jan. 22, 1774 Fitchburg records), his second cousin Betty Gibson (b. Stow, Mass., June 6, 1750, d. Fitchburg, Sept. 12, 1824, bur. in Laurel Hill cemetery, the gravestone naming her Betsey), dau. of Jonathan and Mary (Forristall) Gibson, see 51.

Mr. Gibson was a revolutionary soldier—private, Capt. Ebenezer Woods' co., Col. Asa Whitcomb's reg. of militia, marched from Fitchburg on Lexington alarm of Ap. 19, 1775, served 7 days. He was a man of great strength and courage, and it is said of him and his cousin Jake (Jacob Gibson, see 162) that in the Shay rebellion of 1787 they by their intrepid fearlessness, set at defiance the soldiers sent to arrest them as "suspects."

The Fitchburg records show that he held offices of trust—"Surveyer of Highways & Collector of highway Taxes" 1778, one of the committee "to provide a Scool marfter or marfters" 1783 and on the committee "to provide schooling in each Quarter of the Town" 1786 and 1788.

He owned considerable real estate in Fitchburg—49 acres bought of his father Mar. 22, 1777 for £60;—30 acres purchased Dec. 24, 1789 from John Knight for £80 and sold Mar. 17, 1797 for $500;—22 acres from the same party May 6, 1790; he also bought June 15, 1792 from John Knight, 20 acres in Lunenburg, and Sept. 9, 1795 from Peter Stone, 53½ acres in the east part of Ashburnham, paying £200 and selling the same May 16, 1798, together with "½ Pew No. 27 in Ashburnham Meeting House," for $730. In his will dated Nov. 4, 1831 and allowed June 2, 1836, each child was named with some small legacy, and the rest of the property left to his eight surviving daughters and the three children of his deceased daughter Sally Whitcomb.

William Burgit died at East Troy, Wis., Sept. 23, in the 74th year of his age.

The deceased was born at Ritchford, Tioga County, N. Y. He came to Wisconsin in 1837, having thus spent more than half a century of his life in this town, on a farm which for many years he has owned and occupied jointly with his brother J. W. Burgit.

He was married January 14th, 1862 to Maria J. Burleigh, of Rochester, N. Y. One daughter was born to them, who is now the wife of Hubert Bovee. He was a republican in politics and had always taken an active interest in public affairs. He had been assessor and supervisor, and was chairman of the town quite a number of years. He was a member of the school board for many years, and the secretary of the Troy and East Troy Farmers Mutual Fire Insurance Co., for over fifteen years. He was the member of Assembly from this district in the years of 1870 and 1874 and in every position he was called to fill he discharged his duties zealously and faithfully. He was of strong character and lived a true and upright life, and was honorable in all his dealings. Some months since he united with the Congregational church of this place. A beloved wife, one daughter and many relatives and friends now mourn the loss of one "gone to the silent land." The funeral services were held from the house on Sunday at 2:30 o'clock p. m. Rev. A. J. Hayner officiating and were attended by a large concourse of friends from this and neighboring towns.

OBITUARY.

Another of those sad events which have recently disturbed the well-springs of sorrow, and elicited the universal sympathy and regret of a community, occurred in Sheridan, Saturday morning at 3 o'clock. At that hour all that was mortal of Lowell B. Dewey ceased to live, and his spirit passed to the great beyond. He was a large, strong man, in the prime of life, surrounded by family and friends, and with bright prospects before him. He was honest, industrious and frugal, and stood high in the esteem of all who knew him.

He was born in Vernon, Wis., June, 13, 1862, removed to Fort Collins, Colo., in 1880, where he was married to Miss Mattie Corslett, February 25, 1883. He came to Wyoming in 1887, resided in the southern part of this county until last spring when he moved to Sheridan and began working at the carpenters trade. He was taken down with the typhoid fever about one month ago, from which he never recovered.

The funeral services were conducted by Rev. J. H. Gillespie in the M. E. church last Sunday morning, and the remains were deposited in Mount Hope cemetery.

He leaves a wife and four children, a mother and three sisters to mourn his untimely death. The sympathy of the community goes out to the sorrowing relatives and friends in their sad affliction.

Card of Thanks.

The undersigned wishes to express her heartfelt thanks to the good people of Sheridan and others who so kindly assisted at the bedside, and in performing the last sad rites over her beloved husband. When called upon to bear a similar affliction may you find as many warm hearted friends.

Mrs. L. B. DEWEY.

Miss Mary J. Elmore Died Sunday Afternoon.

For the third time within a year and a half, death has entered the Elmore home, Mary Jorden Elmore, youngest daughter of the late Andrew E. Elmore, passed away Sunday afternoon after a long and painful illness. An abscess developed in January and since that time she had suffered greatly, although the best medical aid was called. Dr. Slaughter, the family physician, had Dr. Gordon, of Oshkosh in consultation, but her case was hopeless, and only the loving care of the remaining sister Miss Phoebe, soothed her last days and with sweet resignation she spoke of her death and her heavenly journey as only a few steps away.

In the death of her father, she felt a deep loss, but in the taking away a few days later of her dearly beloved twin sister, Miss Augusta, her sorrow was unspeakable and the joy of the coming reunion, made her parting with loved ones here, less painful.

Miss Elmore was born at Mukwonago on August 29, 1851. The family had lived in the old home near the river for 39 years.

Miss Mary, with her sisters was fond of home life and especially so of gardening, plants grew and flourished and flowers blossomed forth under her thoughtful care and constant work of her deft fingers. She was of a retiring disposition but her sweet manners and kind deeds, gained her many warm friends, who sadly regret her untimely death, and extend their sympathy to her sister, Miss Phoebe Elmore and her brother James H. Elmore and other relatives.

The funeral took place from her late home on Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, Rev. R. K. Manaton of the St Paul Methodist church conducting the services.

The pallbearers were Judge Carlton Merrill, Frank Blesch, Wilbur Fisk, George Richardson, J. H. Taylor and Leo Law. The burial was in the family lot at Woodlawn cemetery.

BENJAMIN F. PARK.

Born at Chilton, Wis., Mch. 14, 1863, died
ine 9, 1893 at Kaukauna, Wis.

It is an easy matter to write of the path of one of whom you know but little. All must die sooner or later, at when you come to talk of your familiar friend, it is not so easy. As you think of him and in your mind see him, you last saw him, tears come in spite of your manhood. You laugh perhaps, you think of that last joke he played on you, but it is a tearful laugh. Laughter and tears are near of kin. It was years ago, when Ben was a young telegraph operator at the station here we first made his acquaintance, lived in the same family, joked with and were joked by him, for he was a merry fellow. Underneath his lightness was a strict attention to business that brought advance in position until the lives of many on the L. S. & W. road were in his hands as netes, as train dispatcher. We remember one day when he seemed in a serious mood he told us this responsibility troubled him. While apparently not noticing it, he noticed it very much. As he talked while out of his mind near the end it would indicate this. His fingers too were moving as in operating. Sunday in the arch he had a chill, Monday a physician was called but still he grew worse and in two weeks died with a dozen doctors in attendance. Blood poisoning they called it, but what made the blood poisoning, they could not tell. No matter now. The body was laid away Sunday afternoon in our Wildwood by the brethren of the Masonic Order.

From earth to earth, dust to dust, but the will to God who gave it. A good, square, honorable, loving man was Ben. One of his friends said of him, his best girl was his mother for he loved her best and for above all others he has provided we understand. Just as we would have expected. The father, mother and two others and one sister (Mrs. W. D. Cockburn of this city) are left.

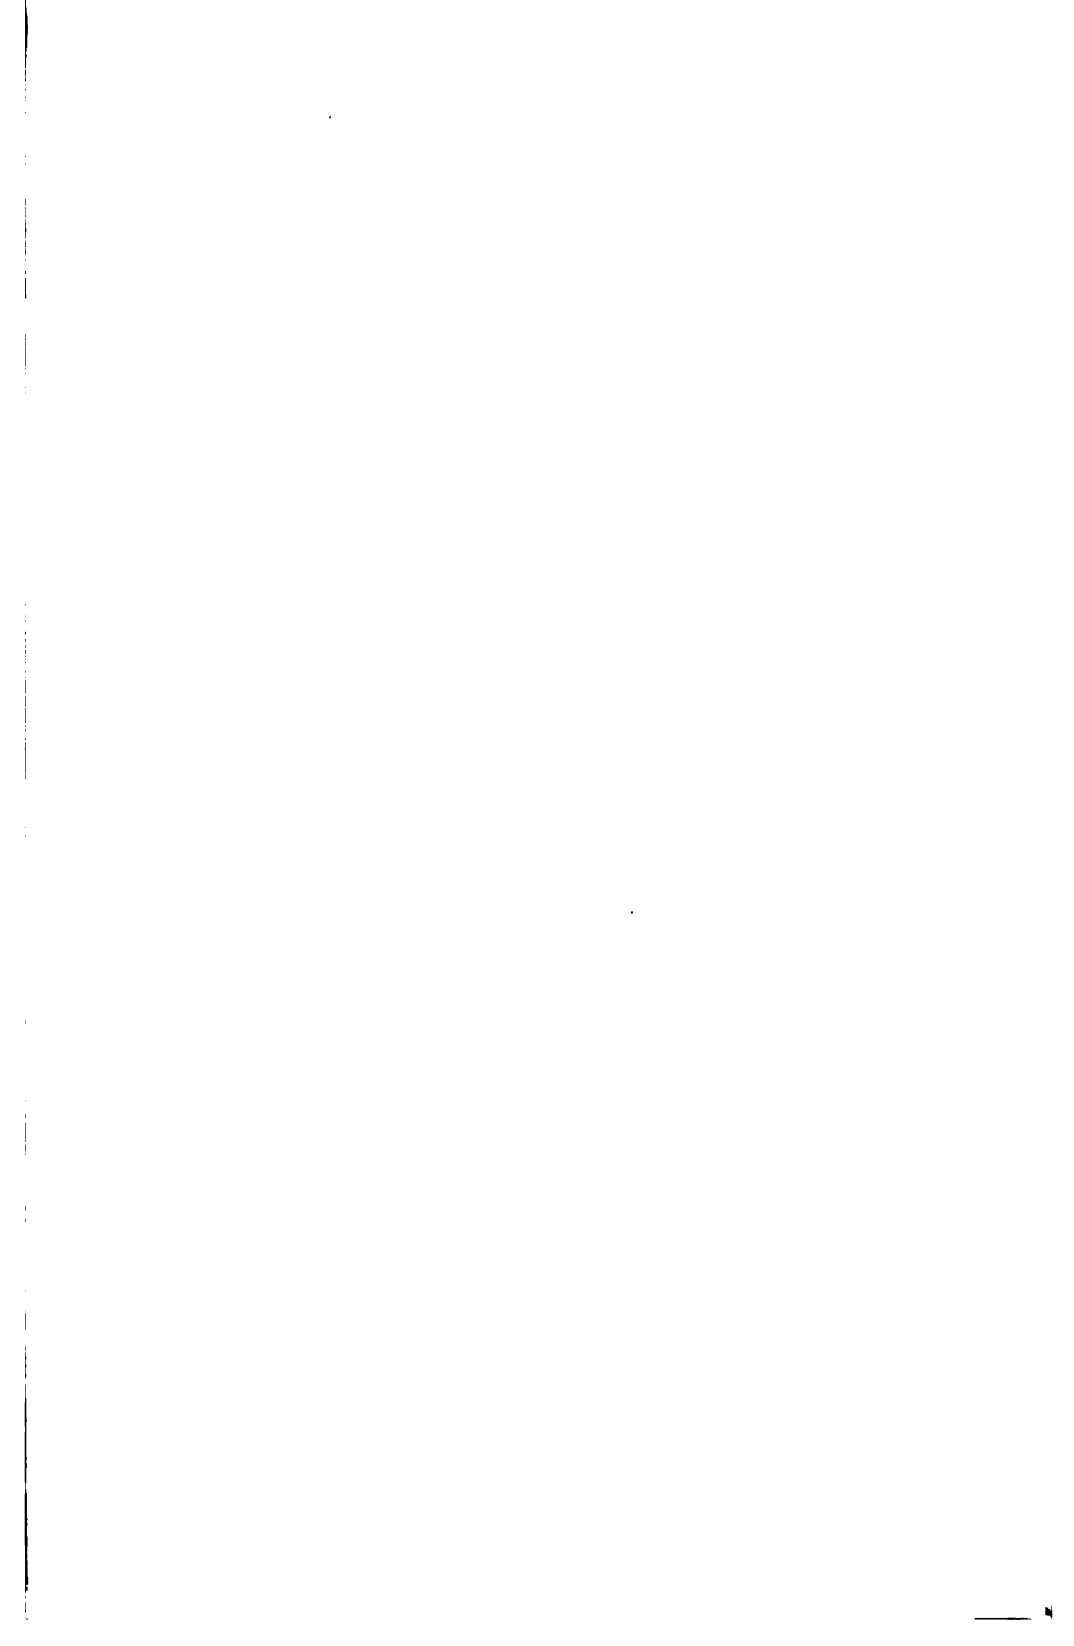

At Kaukauna the funeral service consisted of a sermon by the Rev. Gibson, Baptist minister read a Psalm and a prayer was offered by the Methodist minister, all of So. Kaukauna. Brief Masonic services were also held at the house and the body was then brought to the city Sunday afternoon by special cars in four coaches, accompanied by the mourners, an escort of the Masonic lodge of Kaukauna, a delegation from the River Lodge No. 90, K. of P. and a large concourse of sad hearted friends. Among the immediate relatives were Mr. and Mrs. B. S. Park, father and mother deceased; Mrs. W. D. Cockburn of this city, sister; E. S. Park and Ray C. Park of Kaukauna, brothers; Mr. and Mrs. F. Park of Elkhorn, uncle and aunt, Fred Park of Lake Mills, uncle.

On the arrival of the train here the funeral party was met at the depot by the members of the Masonic Lodge and Knights Pythias and escorted to Wildwood cemetery where the last sad rites were performed according to the ritual of the Masonic Fraternity, the beautiful and impress-

FLORAL TRIBUTES.

The floral tributes were something beautiful, which softly yet impressively, spoke volumes of the high regard in which the deceased was held by his fellowmen and the community at large. From the members of the Masonic Fraternity of Kaukauna and Appleton, a square and compasses with the letter G.; from the Kaukauna lodge, K. of P., a shield, emblematic of their order; from the ladies of So. Kaukauna Congregational Church, a harp; from his five companion train dispatchers, two telegraph poles, with six wires, one broken, also the significant figure "30" meaning among telegraphers "I am through;" from the Order of Railroad Conductors, a pillow with open key and the figures "30;" from Appleton lady friends a pillow with the words "Ben;" from Miss Mattie Pape of Sheboygan, a large bouquet of flowers; from Milwaukee friends a large bouquet of roses; from the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, of Kaukauna, a crescent and star, together with many other tokens which we failed to obtain.

We have spoken of the flowers but must not leave out a very modest bouquet, just a little bunch. In going to and from his work Ben had made the acquaintance of a little cripple girl, and, after his death she came through the rain and mud lame as she was, to bring them. They say, she soon will die also, (as she is growing weaker;) soon follow her big friend to the better land. Another too, good as an illustration of his way of following the Master is this. One of the bearers was an engineer and the man that ran the train back. Some years ago when a fireman he was taken sick alone in a bit of a room, cheerless enough. Ben found him, took him to his own room and played the good Samaritan. Now he has gone to his reward, so many of these good hearted things come out, we don't wonder Kaukauna people turned out a thousand or more to the funeral service there, and so many came down here to be present at the ceremony at the grave.
