INTRODUCTORY.

Shortly after the death of my father, in 1903, I received a letter from W. L. Kinkead of Paterson, N. J. who was seeking information concerning his paternal ancestors. He requested me to give him what information I could relative to my immediate family.

As I had received many such requests prior to this time, I conceived the idea of learning what I could of my ancestors and after compiling, have it printed in form of a pamphlet, so that when I received such queries in the future, I could mail a copy, to save time in searching notes, writing, etc., but when I began to do this I soon learned of the magnitude of the undertaking.

When I asked the older members of my family, I discovered that they knew little more than I knew. Knowing that my Great-grandfather had lost his life in the siege of Fort Meigs, in 1813, I wrote the Adjutant General of Ohio, for records of his service and was informed that Samuel Kincaid enlisted in Ross County, Ohio, served through the war and was honorably discharged, and that the records of the War of 1812 were very meager and indefinite. So, that there was either two Samuel Kincaids who enlisted from, or near the same place, or the records on file in Columbus, Ohio, are not correct.

Captain Langham, under whom Samuel Kincaid served, wrote a personal letter to Samuel Kincaid's wife informing her of the death of her husband and the date of his death was recorded in his family Bible, which is in a good state of preservation to-day.

I also failed to get any information of value at the War Department at Washington, D. C.

I found, also, that different relatives of my family who were scattered through-out the country, could not help me much. Some responded by giving me all details, while others neglected to write me in detail.

Many criticisms will no doubt be made of these notes, especially in regard to names, dates, etc., and I am frank to say that, no doubt I have made many errors but have done the best I could with what information was obtainable.

I wish to express my gratitude for assistance given me by W. Scott Kincaid, of West Union, Ohio, Colonel Frank Hayward Kincaid, formerly of Davenport, Iowa, now of Des Moines, Iowa, W. L. Kinkead, of Paterson, N. J. and the venerable R. C. Kinkead, (now deceased), of Greenfield, Ohio..

KINCAID GENEALOGY

By

G. L. Kincaid

The name, Kincaid, is, without doubt, from the old Scotch, "Kyncade, Kinkead, Kinkaid," or "Hyn-hyrd," or as in the Gaelic, (there being no "K"), "Cean-Cead" or "Ceann-Chead", meaning "head of a hundred," or literally, "The head of a hundred men".

Evidently, our paternal ancestor was the Chief, or "head man" of one of the "clans" of Scotland.

Our ancestors left Scotland after the troublesome times of 1688 and settled in the Northern part of Ireland, whence several brothers of the name came to America about the year 1707, others following from time to time.

Why the spelling of the name was changed from "Kincaid", no one knows, nor does it seem to have been adhered to until after the Revolutionary War, when some branches of the family began using the forms of "Kinkead, Kincade, Kinkaid, Kinkade, etc.," but all are corruptions of the original "Kincaid".

In a book entitled "The Parish of Campsie," by John Cameron, Kirkintilloch, Scotland, and published by D. McLeod, 17 Cowgate Street, Kirkintilloch, Scotland, 1892, on page 183 is the following article:-

"We first hear of Kyncaid in 1238, when a Galbraith got a charter for these lands. The Galbraiths parted with Kyncade lands after having possessed them 40 years, and now we find next that another family thus acquired by charter from Maldwin, 4th. Earl of Lennox, in 1280; and this family then took their surname from their property. These Kyncade lands extended from Glazert to the Kelwin. This family have not made any great mark in history, but one of them distinguished himself for gallant conduct against the English, and for his valiant services in recovering Edinburgh Castle from the English in the time of Edward The First, the then Laird of Kincaid was made Constable of Edinburgh Castle, and his posterity enjoyed that office for a considerable period. He had the Castle on the Kincaid shield granted as an honorable augmentation to his armorial bearings. These were, Gu. a fess. erm. hetw. two millets in chief. or. and a castle triple towered in base ar. masoned sa.- Crest- A castle, as in the arms, and issuing therefrom a dexter arm embowed, grasping a sword ppr. Supporters-- Two Highlanders, armed with cuirasses, each grasping a Lochaber Axe, all ppr. Motto-- "I'll defend". This shield may be seen on the tombstones at Clachan church yard, and above the Lennox Arms Inn, Lennoxtown, where it is quartered with the Lennox arms, which are-- Ar. a saltire gu. between four roses of the last, barbed vert. Crest.-- Two broadswords in saltire behind an imperial crown all ppr. Supporters-- Two savages, wreathed head and middle with oak, holding in their hands clubs. Motto-- "I'll defend".

In Nimmo's History of Stirlingshire there is mention made of an old Broad sword belonging to a branch of the family, upon which are the Kincaid arms as given, with these words:-

"Wha will pursew, I will defend
My life and honour to the end."

When the Kincaids obtained their lands in 1820, (evidently an error in this date.-G.L.K.), they would have to get a suitable residence, and they seem shortly afterwards to have built,

KYNCADE TOWER

The original tower of Kincade has disappeared so completely that there is uncertainty about its site.

The modern mansion was erected at three different times. The oldest portion, where the kitchen is, was built about 1690, the next oldest about 1750, and the modern large square portion, with its central staircase, its tower, and its four corner turrets, about 1812. The main idea of this new portion was taken from the Castle of Inveraray, which was destroyed by fire a few years ago." This book has many references to Kincaids, but these seem to be the most interesting.

In January 1903, the venerable R. C. Kinkead of Greenfield, O. (now deceased), sent a copy of this extract from "The Parish of Compsie," to Robert Cleves Kinkead, an attorney of Louisville, Ky, requesting him to obtain from some person versed in the Scotch dialect, a translation or explanation of the terms used in the description of the Kincaid shield. This gentleman obtained from a Scotch clergyman then residing in Louisville, the following explanation:-

"Two of the terms "Gu. and Erm." might be Gaelic but they are French, as indeed are all heraldic terms.

"Gu." - Gule - Red.

"A" - Azure.

"Fess." - a broad band across the field of a shield or escutcheon.

"Erm". - Ermine.

"Hetw". (Am in doubt but probably an abbreviation of (A) Hewyea).

"Two Millets". - Two stars or two rowels of a spur.

"Ar". - Argent, glistening or silvery.

"Masoned" - Articulated or jointed like masonry.

"Sa". - Sapphire.

"Ppr." - Perpura - Purple."

Another explanation from "Burk's General Armory" is as follows:-

Gules, (red) a Fesse (a belt covering middle third of the shield) Ermine, (white fur with black dots, being an unusually honorable augmentation) between two mullets (spur rowels) in chief, (top third of the shield) or, (gold or yellow) and a castle tripled towered in base (lower third of shield) argent, (silver) masoned, (pointed up) sable, (black).

Crest, a castle as in the arms (fourth) line above this) and issuing therefrom a dexter (right) arm embowed (curved to strike) holding a sword proper (in natural state and color as heraldic signs not so designated are only shown in natural fur and metal).

Supporters (only allowed to families of descent from ducal or higher rank and to the Lenox-Cameron line) two Highlanders armed with cuirasses (a steel vest or breast and shoulder covering) each holding a Lochabar Axe (the peculiar short handled small bitted weapon of the "Men of Lochabar" which the sub-clan title of the defenders of the rock "Caen Caedha" before their defense of the rock of Stirling, caused the Laird of the "Caen Caedha" to be given his grant of 30,000 Acres on the Campsie Fells and which when written, then and there in English was changed from Gaelic "Caen Caedha" and the earliest Scottish records show it "Kincaid" and the town and North British post-office so read to this day as here spelled and is correct".

Family tradition says that about the year 1797 or 1798, there came from Allegheny County, Penn. to Manchester, Adams County, Ohio, one, Samuel Kincaid, who had married Sarah Reed and at that time had two or three children.

This Samuel Kincaid enlisted in the War of 1812, under Gen. William Henry Harrison, in the year 1812 and was killed at the siege of Fort Meigs, on May 5th. 1813.

Family tradition further says that the father of this Samuel Kincaid was Robert Kincaid who married Margaret Daugherty in Ireland whence they came to America, locating at or near where the City of Pittsburgh, Pa. now is.

So much for family tradition.

That Samuel Kincaid enlisted as a soldier in 1812 and was killed and buried at Fort Meigs, is indisputable for his family Bible is still in existence and contains a record of the time and place of his death, in addition to the names and dates of birth of each of his children, but contains nothing to show that his father's name was Robert or that his mother's name was Margaret or that there was any other children besides Samuel.

On September 12th. 1684, John Kincaid, Presbyterian (Covenanter) Preacher, of Campsie Parish, Stirlingshire, Scotland, was, with 25 others, tried (on account of their religious belief), in the market place of Edinburgh, Scotland, by Lord Claverhouse' emissaries, and after burning three and hanging four, John Kincaid was, with the remainder, rivetted fast to a chain and exiled in a galley to Barbadoes, West Indies, whence, with the assistance of his family, he escaped and settled at Upland, Pa.

This John Kincaid had three sons, John, Thomas and Samuel. One of these three brothers, (not certain which) had a son John who was a Captain in 7th. Company, 1st. class

Chester County Militia, in Colonel Evan Evans' Battalion, and later Military storekeeper at the Manor Meeting House in Chester County, Pa. (No vital dates as to birth or death), but he had a son Thomas who was born at Londonderry, Chester County, Pa., on Dec. 13th. 1755 and died July 3rd. 1819 and is buried at Winchester, Ohio. He was a Sargeant in Captain William Henderson's Company of Daniel Morgan's Rifle Regiment of Sharpshooters in the War of the Revolution.

He went, with a large Pennsylvania emigration, to Northern Virginia in the early 1780's and later, with his family, to Limestone (now Maysville), Ky. in 1796 and in 1797 to the Block Houses at Manchester, Adams County, Ohio. His wife was Mary Mackey, born at Londonberry, Chester County, Pa. on September 26th. 1759 and died and buried at Winchester, Ohio, March 10th. 1824.

This Thomas Kincaid had three sons, viz: Thomas, Colonel John, and Samuel, who went with their father to the Block Houses at Manchester, Ohio in 1797.

(These last records are from W. Scott Kincaid of West Union, Ohio, and Colonel Frank Hayward Kincaid of Davenport, Iowa, and are undoubtedly correct).

Now, was the Samuel Kincaid, last mentioned, (son of Thomas Kincaid), the same Samuel mentioned in the beginning of these records, (whom family tradition says was son of Robert Kincaid), or did two Samuel Kincaids arrive at the Block Houses at Manchester, O. at about the same time?

No evidence is now obtainable to decide, although it is definitely known that the descendants of the Samuel Kincaid, who was killed at Fort Meigs, and who afterward located in Brown County, Ohio, (near Sardinia), claimed very close relationship with the descendants of Thomas Kincaid in Adams County, Ohio, and visited each other frequently.

The family Bible of Samuel Kincaid who married Sarah Reed is still in a good state of preservation and gives the date of his death and the dates of the birth of all his children.

Beginning with Samuel Kincaid, as Number one (No. 1.) it will be the object of this record to give, (so far as can be ascertained), the date of birth, marriage and death, of his descendants, giving to his oldest descendant the Number two, (No. 2.) and the next Number three (No. 3.) etc,

BIOGRAPHICAL

Samuel Kincaid, (1).

Nothing is known of the youth of this man. He married Sarah Reed while in the Western part of Pennsylvania. They had three children at the time of emigration to Adams County, Ohio, where they came about the year 1798. Four children were born after their settlement in Ohio. The Court Records of Adams County, Ohio, show that Samuel Kincaid on June 12th. 1798 and again on Tuesday of December 1800, was made Court Constable to wait on the Grand Jury. This was the Court of General Quarter Sessions of the North-west Territory at Adamsville, (now West Union) Adams County, Ohio. Ohio Records of the war of 1812 are very meager and all that is known, definitely, is that Samuel Kincaid enlisted as a private and was killed at Fort Meigs, on May 5th. 1813.

Mathew Kincaid, (3).

Born in Pennsylvania, July 16th. 1793. Came with his father to Adams County, Ohio, about 1798. When about 16 or 17 years old, he was apprenticed to John Marquis, to learn the trade of a tanner. His father having been killed in May, 1813, Mathew enlisted as a Corporal, in Captain Robert Russel's Company of William Key's 2nd. Battalion, 1st. Regiment, 2nd. Brigade, 2nd. Division, Ohio Militia, War of 1812, on July 28th. 1813, and was honorably discharged on Sept. 8th. 1813. On Sept. 19th. 1816 he married Rebekah Curtis and with his mother and brothers and sisters, removed to what is now Brown County, and purchased a tract of land about half mile North of Sardina. Here he prepared a yard for tanning raw hides and for more than 40 years followed the occupation of farming and tanning. While living here he was elected Clerk of the Township, and also served as Justice of the Peace for many years. His wife having died on Aug. 3rd. 1838, He married Lavina Hawkins on Sept. 1st. 1840. About the year 1860 he sold his farm and removed to a farm near Ripley, O., where five of his sons enlisted as soldiers in the Civil War. At the close of the war, he sold his farm and purchased a farm about half mile east of Sardinia, O. to which he moved about the year 1866. Here he lived, following the occupation of farming, until his death on Jan. 9th. 1871. He was active as an agent of the so called "underground Rail-
