FOREWORD

"Tell ye your children of it, and let your children tell their children, and their children another generation."—Joel i., 3.

In attempting to trace the ancient history of his family the compiler is early confronted with the necessity for sifting facts from tradition, and while many traditions are interesting and fondly cherished, often plausible, as well as suggestive and helpful in research, yet the evidence of recorded facts is the only safe guide in order to make such a compilation of much value. As a matter of fact, however, instances occur in these pages where traditions of Revolutionary service have been clues suggesting investigation which led to their verification by the discovery of recorded facts.

The name of Pringle is of great antiquity, and has been historically eminent in Scotland for many centuries.

Alexander appears to have been the great progenitor of the family, and he is said to have been one of the promoters of the Fourth Crusade and commanded one of the divisions of the Scottish soldiers engaged in Palestine.

Sir James Pringle was a Knight of great courage and discretion, and enjoyed the friendship and favor of King Robert the Bruce; and was one of the Scottish Knights who accompanied the great Lord Douglas on the celebrated pilgrimage of the heart of Robert Bruce. In the arms of all those engaged in that celebrated pilgrimage, a winged heart has been given as a crest, and it appears on some of the Pringle coats of arms. The escallop shells also show that a pilgrimage had been made to Jerusalem.

The origin of the Pringles in America is as yet uncertain, although it is known that our progenitor in this country, William Pringle, of New Haven, Conn., in 1654, was of Scottish nationality.

No attempt has been made to trace his ancestry across the water.

The name of Pringle frequently appears in the Publications of the Scottish History Society; and in Vol. 50, entitled "Records of the Baron Court of Stitchill, 1655-1807."—Edinburg, 1905, there is given the genealogy of Pringles of Stitchill, from the Pringles of Snailholm, and Hop Pringle of Craiglatch and Newhall—two generations prior to William Hop Pringle, 1485, from whom the descent follows.

These Records comprise the minutes of "The firste Court Barron holden at Stitcheill," beginning January 8, 1655, "be the Right worthy Walter Pringle of Greenkow. In the name of and haveing full power and commission fra the Right worthy Robert Pringle of Stitcheill, Barroun and heretable proprietor of the Lands, Parochin, and Barrony of Stitcheill," and extending to November 21, 1807. This Baron Court was that of the village, barony and parish of Stitcheill in Roxburgshire, three miles north of Kelso on the river Tweed. Walter Pringle of Greenkow was the second son of Robert the first laird of Stitcheill.

The name of Pringle is found with the Kers, Elliotts, Scotts and others, all ancient and renowned Border names, who were in full sympathy with the principles of the Covenant, and exerted undying influence on those living upon their estates. The lairds of Stitcheill were Covenanters and the head of the family (in 1732) originated the secession in the parish from the Church of Scotland.

There was a "Prindle Hill" near Scrooby, in Nottingham, England, the birth-place of Rev. John Davenport, the founder of the New Haven Colony in 1636, and which suggests that some of the name lived in that vicinity.

Scrooby Manor was near to the borders, both of Lincolnshire and Yorkshire, though itself in the County of Nottingham. It was also an ancient possession and occasional residence of the Archbishop of York, and located a little south of Bawtry, a market and post town situated on the boundary line between Nottinghamshire and Yorkshire.

Northumberland is still the home of Pringle families, as also the southeastern counties of Scotland, just over the border from Northumberland, where the Pringles of Yair and Whytbank were neighbors and distant kinsfolk of Sir Walter Scott. There are many graves of Pringles in Melrose Abbey and church-yard, with quaint inscriptions and tablets bearing dates from February 28, 1585, to January 13, 1899, the oldest of which is on an effigy lying on the floor of No. 5 chapel, and reads as follows:

HEIR LEIS ANE HONOURABIL MAN ANDRO PRINGIL FEUAR OF GALLOSCHIELS QUIIA DECESIT YE 28 OF FEBRUARE AN. DOM. 1585.

The word FEUAR is very common over all parts of Scotland and elsewhere, and means a person having a long lease of a piece of ground from another superior at a nominal rent. These leases vary from 99 years up to say 200 and 300 years, and many houses are built all over the country on ground taken in such a way. There are also old inscriptions of several Alexander Pringles, this name having been transmitted through several generations; and two or three of John Pringle, the earliest having died April 24, 1675, aged 72.

The earliest record so far found of Prindles in America is of John, whose name appears as an "after planter" in Milford, Conn., in 1645; and nothing further has yet been found until the name of William appears in the New Haven Colonial Records, in 1653-4. And in order to a better understanding of the matter it is desirable to make a brief reference to some of the events leading up to the settlement of this Colony, and the appearance of William, whom we find taking the oath of fidelity to the New Haven Jurisdiction in 1654.

The early settlers brought with them a high regard for church and town records, and so noted down with much care and minuteness the current facts connected with the family and business life. Some of these old records may seem of little moment, and even trivial, to the ordinary reader, but to the historian and genealogist they are often found to be of great value.

The history of the New Haven Colony begins as early as 1635, when the first steps were taken in the organization of the Davenport and Eaton Company, in England and Holland. The Rev. John Davenport, as pastor of the Church in Coleman Street, London, was made to feel the persecuting hand of Archbishop Laud, and to escape which he sought refuge for a time in Holland. Theophilus Eaton, the other founder of this Colony, was a London merchant of means and influence, and is said to have been a member of the former's congregation. This company was the fourth colony which had set out for New England, and is mentioned as being better equipped as to men and means than any of its predecessors. On arrival at Boston they were urged to join the Massachusetts Bay Colony. But glowing accounts had reached them from settlers who had "swarmed" from the Massachusetts Bay Colony, and while wintering in Boston some of their number had sought for a suitable location in Connecticut. Fearing that Archbishop Laud might trouble the Massachusetts Bay Colony if they remained with it, and having their own ideas about the management of civil and religious affairs, they were moved to decline the invitation as a colony, though doubtless some individuals may have remained, and others of the Bay Colony joined the newer enterprise.

So Eaton selected and purchased this tract on Long Island Sound, and settled upon the mouth of the Connecticut River as their harbor, being "merchants of Traffick and business. The Colony was under the conduct of as holy, and as prudent and as genteel persons as most that ever visited these nooks of America."

The Colony arrived at New Haven, April 14, 1638, and in June, 1639, after much consideration, proceeded to the organization of a civil government. In August following the church was organized, and Mr. Davenport chosen pastor, and later Mr. Eaton was made governor. The church at Milford was organized the same day. The settlement of Guilford, Stamford, Branford, and Southold, L. I., followed, as families from the various old home counties naturally gathered together at the different places, and their numbers were increased from time to time by the later emigrants in 1640-45. It is stated that owing to the persecutions of Laud about nineteen-twentieths of the Puritans that came over arrived in the few years preceding the long Parliament, 1641.

The later settlers, who came to Milford from Wethersfield and elsewhere, were called "after planters," and it is on this list that the name of John Prindle is found.

The different plantations were not equally prosperous or harmonious, but those at New Haven and Milford seem to have been the most so.

In 1646 Mr. Isaac Allerton, a Mayflower Pilgrim, came to New Haven from New York. He had been "assistant" to Governor Bradford, and was a "factour" of the Plymouth Colony some fifteen to twenty years before. He was interested in shipping and made several voyages back and forth to England, exchanging beaver skins, etc., for other goods needed by the colonists, but was most active in promoting the formation of new companies of "adventurers." Some dissatisfaction among these colonists followed his management of their affairs and so he removed to New York, about 1632-34, but later returned to New Haven.

In 1653-4 we find William Pringle mentioned as "the Scotchman which lives at Mr. Allerton's."

It was the custom to require a young man not living with his parents to make his home with a householder. Men married young then, often not waiting long after they were of age, and frequently marrying before that time; and so William was probably about twenty-one when he married Mary Desborough, in 1655.

His relationship to John, if any existed, has not been ascertained; nor, as before stated, have any steps yet been taken to trace his ancestry, but it is much to be hoped that the compilation of this little history may serve to arouse the enthusiasm and interest of his living descendants to make an earnest and persistent effort toward ascertaining his parentage and antecedents across the water. For however humble may have been the lot of our forbears who fled to New England to pioneer a new land of liberty and freedom, their names should not be left to perish with the lapse of time. And ungrateful must be the descendants of these founders, who have inherited the blessings for which they toiled and suffered to secure, who will not in some way aid to rescue their names from oblivion.

The tradition in many families, of the two or three "brothers who came over," has become so frequent as to excite the smiles of the incredulous; but when one considers the history of the times, the facts of homes broken up and families scattered by persecution, or the desire to better their condition, with one or more venturing to Holland or America for refuge or in search of a new home, it should not appear so strange. It would be but most natural for two or more of the same family to go together, or, if separately, with the purpose of rejoining later on in the new far-away land. So when the "three brothers" came over, it might have been at intervals or at the same time, the details of which are now lost in the distance; but the statement that they "came over" is often the starting point of the family history in the New World.

The Prindle traditions vary: some say three brothers, some say two; some say one settled in Massachusetts, and one in Connecticut, and one somewhere else; while others say one in Connecticut, one in Virginia, and lose the third one; and those that say two, put one in Connecticut, but are in doubt as to the other.

Remembering the general histories of the Colonies, all these traditions might be the truth, especially as early records in Massachusetts, Virginia and North Carolina mention Pringles or Prindles whose connection with William of Connecticut has not been traced. Means of communication were slow and difficult in those early days, and in most cases families thus scattered soon lost all knowledge of one another. At a much later period, after the Revolution, some Tory Prindles went to Canada, and, resuming the Scotch "g" of the name, lost their identity as Connecticut Prindles almost entirely. Also several Pringles of the British Army, liking the country, drew land and remained here.

Tradition also points to Holland, as well as Northumberland and around Edinburgh, as the place from which the early immigrants came. This seems very probable, as Holland was the near-by refuge of many who looked and longed for America as their future home.

The story thus far goes to show how meager and uncertain is our present knowledge of the origin of the Prindles in America.

The only authentic statement yet found is the one referred to about "the Scotchman" William, of New Haven; and it is concerning him that one of his descendants writes:

"William Pringle was the son of one of the followers of King James of Scotland and came to America on the restoration of Charles the Second, and from him the family in the United States derives its name and descent."

Another descendant writes:

"My aunt tells me that there is a tradition in one branch of the family that two brothers came over from Scotland. They ran away on account of a stepmother."

And still another descendant writes:

"There is a tradition in our family that we are descendants of a Pringle boy who came not many generations ago from Scotland. His story was told me by my dear grandmother, my father's mother, who long survived her husband and lived all my boyhood in this old Prindle home, where I was reared. My grandmother told me what she had heard from her husband, of that Scotch boy: that he was apprenticed in some seaport town to a ship's blacksmith. Living in the family of his master he came under the discipline of the blacksmith's wife, who was wont to chastise him severely. One day, when the boy had attained considerable size, his mistress was administering the customary punishment, the boy stooping before her, his head between her knees, while she was belaboring his posterior parts. The severity of the blows stirred the boy to rebellion, so gathering all his strength in an effort for freedom, he upset his mistress and escaped. When he had opportunity to consider what he had done, and the consequences of his rebellious act, he knew it would never do to fall into the hands of his mistress again, so he escaped to a ship bound for America."

The original aim of the compiler was to prepare only a brief family record of his great-grandfather, Zalmon Prindle, who was a soldier of the American Revolution, and of his descendants, and, as a slight tribute to his memory, to publish the same for preservation and distribution among those of his descendants now living who might desire to have it. Then, as the interest to know more of his antecedents speedily grew, the investigation was enlarged so as to embrace the record of his ancestors in the direct line of ascent to the original emigrant and progenitor of the family in this country. This in turn led to include also the children of each male ancestor; and, finally by utilizing the data incidentally accumulated, to enlarge the record so as to include all the descendants of William¹, as far as ascertained, from 1654, to those of Zalmon⁵ now living, 1906, during a period of 252 years and embracing ten generations. The descendants of the several lines and branches other than that of Zalmon have, however, only been brought down generally to the sixth generation, and in some lines to the seventh and eighth generations, but which it is hoped will prove sufficient to enable those of later generations to connect their own family records with those of the past. The compiler will feel sufficiently rewarded for his efforts if these pages shall serve to induce other descendants not only to make and preserve a careful record of their own families, but will also undertake the work of completing the history of their own lines and branches which has failed to find a record here, to the end that ultimately a full and complete history of the Prindle family in America can be made.

For the benefit of those descendants of soldiers of the Revolution who might wish to establish their eligibility to membership in the patriotic societies, based upon the service of Revolutionary ancestors, etc., there will be found in the Appendix, Note 11, a list of those soldiers whose names appear upon the official records of the Pension Office, War and Treasury Departments, and of the States of Vermont, Massachusetts, Connecticut and New York, together with a brief transcript of records of service rendered by them in the achievement of American independence.

The compiler desires to return his sincere thanks to those members of the family who have freely rendered assistance in furnishing their family records, etc., while special acknowledgments are due, and hereby gratefully made, to Mrs. Isabella A. (Hedenberg) Prindle, of Bon Air, Virginia, for most valuable aid rendered and for making available the extensive data which she has been patiently collecting for several years past, and which was freely used in this work; also to Miss Mary L. While much pains have been taken to make the individual records correct, as to names, dates, etc., it is probable that errors will be found; and it is earnestly requested that all such may be promptly reported to the compiler, as well as any omissions or additions needed to make the work more complete and useful.

EXPLANATORY

Names of persons born Prindle are printed in SMALL CAPS.

Names of persons intermarrying with female lines, and also of their descendants, are printed in black faced type.

Figures in extreme left hand margin, opposite a name, indicate that the family record of that person appears in the next generation, with the same number preceding the name.

The superior figure following a name indicates the number of the generation of that person.

PRINDLE GENEALOGY

PRINDLE GENEALOGY

"And I found a register of the genealogy of them which came up from the first."—Nehemiah, vii., 5.

1. WILLIAM PRINDLE.

WILLIAM¹ PRINGLE (also spelled Prindle in his will), a native of Scotland, the emigrant ancestor and progenitor of the family in America, settled in New Haven, Conn., where he took the oath of fidelity to the New Haven Jurisdiction, Theophilus Eaton, Governor, on April 4, 1654.

He is first mentioned in the New Haven Colonial Records as "the Scotchman which lives at Mr. Allerton's," who was one of the Mayflower Pilgrims. Savage says that William Pringle "was a proprietor in 1685, and so was Joseph, who may have been a son."

He married, December 7, 1655, Mary Desborough, daughter of ——— Desborough (also spelled Disburrow in copy of ancient records), Mr. Stephen Goodyear, magistrate, officiating.

His will was dated October 17, 1689, and probated June 5, 1690. Although the place of his burial is not now known, it is supposed to have been in the New Haven Green. She joined with son Eleazer, as late as April 6, 1697, in a deed, and probably died about 1700-01.

See Appendix, Note 1.

2. PHOEBE PRINDLE.

PHOEBE² PRINDLE (*William*¹), daughter of William and Mary (Desborough) Prindle, was born in New Haven, Conn., March 16, 1656-7. She was mentioned as "my daughter Beecher" in her father's will, and married, November 5, 1677, Eleazer Beecher, son of Isaac (who was b. England, 1623, emigrated to America and landed in Boston, June 26, 1637), who was born in New Haven, May 8, 1655, and died there March 2, 1726.

He was admitted into the Congregational Church of New Haven, September 23, 1785. His will, dated January 30, 1722-3, and probated April 4, 1726, gives to his beloved wife Phoebe, his movable estate; to the child of his dau. Obedience, dec'd, 5 shillings; to the three children of his son Eleazur, dec'd, 40 shillings apiece; to his son Stephen, 5 shillings; to his dau. Hannah Clark, 5 shillings; "having already given to my son Nathaniel 40 acres of 5th Division Land by deed, in consideration of his granting and confirming about 70 acres of land at Pilgrim Harbor to my son Isaac Beecher, I esteem that in full of said Isaac Beecher's portion, and therefore he shall not demand nor receive any more of my estate"; to son Nathaniel the remainder of his estate: "he, the said Nathaniel Beecher, to take care of and afford suitable maintenance to my beloved wife Phebe, so long as she lives or bears my name; and also take into his care and keeping my son Ebenezer Beecher, who I desire may always live with Nathaniel so long as he lives, I having given Nathaniel the more estate that he may carefully look after that impotent child."

Nathaniel was named executor, and the estate inventoried at £147 1 s. 4 d. John Smith and Samuel Candee, Appraisers.

In 1680, when the 3d Division of common land was made, Eleazer's name appears on the list as having three in his family, with £13, and therefore he drew twenty acres of land.

In 1684, he and John Smith partitioned for a piece of land at the foot of what is still known as Shingle Hill, in the western part of town, but which was not granted them.

On May 17, 1684, under the Act of 1667 authorizing such action, Eleazer recorded to himself 10 acres on the "West Side" (now West Haven), described as "that part of the 2d Division belonging to Mr. Lamberton's quarter, and did at the first belong to Robert Ceely (Seely), dec'd, bounded north and south by highways, east by land of William Pringle, and west by Peter Mallary, Sr." This piece was next adjoining, on the west, to his father-in-law, William Pringle, between Main and Elm Streets, Union Street and Third Avenue. Eleazer lived on this lot, for in after years he speaks of it as "my house lot in West Haven," and probably was living there at the time of William Prindle's death. His son, Eleazer, Jr., became one of the first settlers in New Milford.

He seems to have returned to New Haven in later years, where he died, March 2, 1726, and was buried in the Old Cemetery in West Haven, where the following inscription is found upon his tombstone:

Here lieth the Body of
ELIZUR BEECHER,
Who died Mch. ye 2nd, 1726.
Aged 71 years.

His descendants long owned the southern part of this ten-acre piece, and an old house with stone chimney was standing there as late as 1893. The last of the name residing there was Miss Amy Beecher, who died in 1836, ae. 78. St. Lawrence Church and rectory (R. C.) now occupy the site of the old home of generations of the Beechers.

Isaac Beecher, brother of Eleazer, was the ancestor of Lyman, who was the father of Henry Ward Beecher and Harriet Beecher Stowe, of the renowned Beecher family.

Children, born in New Haven:

3. JOHN PRINDLE.

JOHN² PRINDLE (*William*¹), son of William and Mary (Desborough) Prindle, was born in New Haven, Conn., October 5, 1658; removed to Derby, Conn., where he married, 1st, December 23, 1685, Mary Hull, daughter of Dr. John Hull, who was born October 31, 1666, and died September 5, 1696. He married, 2nd, March 1, 1697, Abigail Hawkins, daughter of Joseph and Mercy (Johnson) Hawkins, who died July 1, 1698; and 3rd, December 21, 1699, Hannah Botsford, twin to Joanna, and daughter of Elnathan and Hannah (Baldwin) Botsford, who was born in April, 1673.

His home was on Great Neck, where he died November 25, 1734, and his widow, Hannah, married November 14, 1735, as his 2nd wife, Capt. Joseph Hull, brother of Mary (Hull) Prindle.

Some of the twelve original settlers of Derby were from Derby, in England, and probably named this place in its honor, May, 1675. It had been set off from Milford, which was settled in 1639.

John Prindle came to Derby shortly before his marriage to Mary Hull, and thereafter his name appears frequently on the records of the town; on the lists of the assignment of lots; on the lists of estates; on the committee for seating the people in the church; as sending money and wood to the minister; as helping to lay out the land; as keeper of the "ordinary" or tavern, in 1716; as Deacon of the church; as administrator of his son's estate; and as town clerk.

 Jabez Pritchard (or Prichard), son of James and Abigail (Hickox) Pritchard, who d. 1777; m. (2)
 Elisha Steele.

Lieut. Jabez Pritchard enlisted July, 1777, in Capt. Carris' Co., Col. Enos' Regiment, who was in command of the guards at Horseneck which were afterwards transferred to Major Humphrey's command, near Fort Independence. In the conflict at the fort he was taken prisoner with others, confined first at Kingsbridge and afterwards on a prison ship in the North River. His commission was taken from him and he so brutally and inhumanly treated that he lived but a short time, and died while on the prison ship that same year.

That he was a man of generous nature and bore an honorable character is evidenced from the fact that he might have escaped capture had he deserted a poor wounded comrade, which he would not and did not do. And when he saw his comrades dying about him for want of food, he divided his money with them, which act, says Capt. Bradford Steele, was the means by which his own life was saved.

4. MARY PRINDLE.

MARY² PRINDLE (*William*¹), daughter of William and Mary (Desborough) Prindle, was born in New Haven, Conn., March 8, 1659-60; married, "before John Nash," January 23, 1683, John Roach (also spelled Roch and Roatch), probably of Milford, Conn.: admitted to the Congregational Church, Milford, December 28, 1686; died in Milford, August 16, 1691.

Children, bapt. in Milford:

- i. Mary Roach³, bapt. Nov. 20, 1687.
- ii. Sarah Roach³, bapt. July 20, 1690.
- iii. Samuel Roach³, bapt. Aug. 30, 1691; d. Sept. 10, 1691.
- iv. Thankful Roach³, bapt. ———; m. ———, 1736-7, Joseph Peck.

Milford Land Records show transfers of property, March 14, 1726-7, from Joseph Peck to Thankful Roch; and May 29, 1736, from John Roatch to "my daughter Thankful Roatch, for the great care showed to me in my very old age, my dwelling house, garden, and land of one-fourth acre in ye westernmost part of ye town, bounded S. on ye street or highway, W. on ye land which ye sd Thankful bought of Lieu. Jos. Peck, N. on ye undivided land or comonage, E. in part sd comonage, & in part of ye land of Alice Roberts."

The original first and second volumes of these records are missing, and Vol. III. (which is indexed as II.), has a note at the front saying, "Third Book of Records with a transcript of the most necessary things contained in the two former books. 1677."

It is presumed that the ancient scribe, in using his judgment as to the "most necessary things" to be transcribed for preservation, must have omitted many most interesting and valuable "things" to historians and genealogists!

5. EBENEZER PRINDLE.

EBENEZER² PRINDLE (*William*¹), son of William and Mary (Desborough) Prindle, was born in New Haven, Conn., September 10, 1661; married Elizabeth, daughter of John Hubby (or Hobby), whose will, dated Greenwich, Conn., April 24, 1707, and probated May 26, 1707, was signed John Hobe, and mentions sons Thomas, Benjamin and Jonathan, and daughters Elizabeth Prindle, Hannah Bunekum, Martha Moris, Mary Holmes and Rachel James, and grandchildren Rebecca and Hannah Hardy (daus. of dee'd dau. Rebecca Hardy), John Hubby and Mary Holmes. Son Jonathan Hubby and son-in-law Stephen Holmes, executors. (Savage has the name as Hobby.)

They first removed to Milford, Conn., where they and their children, Sarah, Enos, Joseph, Benjamin and Jonathan, were baptized and received into the First (Cong.) Church, July 4, 1703; removed again, about 1709-10, to Newtown, Conn., where he settled, and died there in 1740.

From the Milford records the following has been abstracted:

May 3, 1699.—Deed, Ebenezer Prindel of Milford, to James Prime of Milford, land "being 97 Lott in 3rd Shott in last division 18 acres more or less for 11."

March 11, 1703.—"Wee whose names are underwritten being Chosen by the towne this to Informe we have laid out for said Ebenezer Prindle Halfe an aere of Land at the foot of the hill at the lane end Comonly cal'd Canfields lane in the nor west side of the highway bounded with the Comon East West North & South."

March 6, 1709-10.—Deed, Ebenezer Prindel of Milford to W^m Gold of Milford, “certain house and house lott lying in Milford containing half an acre more or less bounded north south east & west by comon land . . . for £24 country pay.”

May 17, 1713.—Deed, Ebenezer Prindle of Newtown to James Prime of Milford “all my right of lands in Milford Comons as sequestered land, for 42 shillings in currant money.”

Witnesses: Theophilus Baldwin & Enos Prindle.

Newtown town records show, among other early transfers, the following:

January 19, 1703.—Deed, to Ebenezer Prindle of Milford “from Lemuel Eells of Milford all my right title and interest in and unto a place called Newtown as will more fully appear by the Grant of the General Court.” Also on March 2, 1709.—Deed to Ebenezer Prindle of Milford, from Lemuel Eells of Milford; showing that up to this time he had not removed to Newtown.

In May, 1708, the Colonial Legislature gave a town grant, leaving it to the people to choose between Preston and Newtown for a name; and

In March, 1710, the name of Ebenezer Pringle appears as one of twenty-two proprietors in “An a countt of a Division of Land laid out by the Committee for Newtown, each lot Contauning 20 acres,” etc., when he was allotted five lots on the west side of the town.

In May, 1711, the town was given the right to elect local officers, a town clerk, constable, surveyor, etc., and these officers were obliged to go to Danbury to take the oath of office, and

On September 24, 1711, at a meeting of the proprietors, Ebenezer Prindle was appointed surveyor of highways.

In October, 1711, the town was incorporated and granted the right to elect townsmen, or selectmen, and at a meeting held at the house of Daniel Foote, December 4, 1711, Ebenezer Pringle, Samuel Sanford and John Platt were chosen select men, thus inaugurating the first town government. He was also re-elected in 1712 and following years.

In 1711 he was also appointed surveyor of the land purchased from the Indians.

On December 4, 1711, at the second town meeting held that day, he was appointed on a committee of three to consider the matter of establishing a grist mill on Pond brook and to draw articles concerning the same.

Ebenezer Prindle was one of the thirty-seven original proprietors of Newtown in 1710. Each settler had a lot of certain given dimensions on the main street; and it was recorded on November 18, 1713, that "Ebenezer Prindle hath taken his pitch South westerly of Chestnut Ridge, length north and south 140 rods, width 80 rods," which was doubtless the original Prindle home lot.

The minutes of following town meetings contain many references to Ebenezer as a prominent citizen, as well as to his children, as time passed on. The land records show many transfers since then made in the names of Ebenezer, his children and their descendants down to the present time, more than three hundred of which have been examined for data relating to this branch of the family for use in this compilation.

By the will of Ebenezer Pringle (signed Prindle) of Newtown, Conn., dated June 26, 1740, and probated August 8, 1740, he gives to his "son Joseph one acre of Land adjoining to his house lot, bounded north on the highway South on his Brother Ephraim's land and west on his Brother Jehoshaphat's land; also my Dwelling House and my house lot or Home lot, . . . excepting two acres at the West Side or end, and that my Son Jehoshaphat shall have the privilege of passing and repassing and laying wood on the west side of his dwelling house. sd Home Lot is bounded Northerly by the home Meadow, Easterly and southerly by common land or the highway. Provided he shall pay all my Debts and Legacies hereafter mentioned for which my movable Estate is not sufficient.

To my son Jonathan, £00-05-00.

To my son Nathan, £10-00-00.

To my son Ephraim, two acres of meadow land adjoining the North end of my home lot which two acres I bought of Edward Fairchild.

To my son Jehoshaphat, my Barn and two acres of Land being the westerly side or end of my Home lot and meadow, which two acres is bounded northerly on the home meadow, Westerly on Moses Stilson's land Southerly on the highway and Easterly on that part of my home lot I above gave to my son Joseph.

To the children of my son Benjamin Pringle Deceased twenty shillings to each of them when they come to the age of 26 years."

His sons Joseph and Jehoshaphat were named as executors.

The inventory of his estate, dated August 16, 1740, made by Samuel Ferris and John Northrop, amounted to £263-11-10.

Children:

- i. EBENEZER³, b. ———; d. 1758, unm. (prob.).

The town records of Fairfield, Conn., show:

March 15, 1756.—Deed, Robert Meeker to Ebenezer Prindle, of Fairfield, 8¼ acres in Adams Long Lot in Fairfield, also April 27, 1757.—Ebenezer Prindle, of Fairfield, to Ebenezer Lyon, of Fairfield, 8¼ acres, a part of Adams Long Lot, for £42 New York money.

His will, dated Fairfield, Conn., May 17, 1758, and probated November 6, 1758, gives

To "Mr. William Stevens of sd Fairfield Twenty Pounds and all of ye remainder of my Estate real & personal I Give and bequeath to my Brother Enos Pringle and to my sister Elizabeth Roots."

William Stevens was named as executor; and the inventory, dated December 1, 1758, made by William Hall and Jonathan Walker, was valued at £69-12-01. All of the land in said inventory was located in the Parish of Redding, Conn.

- ii. SARAH³, bapt. Milford, Conn., July 4, 1703; m. July 19, 1715, John Foote, son of Daniel and gr. son of Nathaniel Foote, of Stratford, the first settler.

Children:

1. Sarah Foote⁴, b. Oct. 30, 1715.
 2. Elizabeth Foote⁴, b. May 14, 1717.
 3. Nathan Foote⁴, b. Oct. 24, 1719.
 4. John Foote⁴, b. Nov. 29, 1721.
 5. Phebe Foote⁴, b. ———; m. Dec. 4, 1751, Timothy Treadwell, son of Benjamin, of Fairfield, Conn.
 6. Peter Foote⁴, b. 1725.
 7. Hannah Foote⁴, b. 1727.
- iii. ENOS³, bapt. Milford, July 4, 1703; d. Greenwich, Conn., 1724.

The town records of Newtown show this single transfer:

August 30, 1715.—Deed, John Read to Enos Prindle. Also that he was witness to a deed, May 17, 1713.

Benjamin Prindle, of Greenwich, was appointed administrator of his estate, with bond dated December 3, 1724; and inventory taken December 18, 1724, by Joseph Ferris and Ebenezer Renels, valued at £21-08-03.

In the administration account it is stated that the deceased (who is called brother by the administrator) was partner with several people in Norwalk, Conn., in building a mill. He died probably unmarried.

10. iv. JOSEPH³, b. New Haven, Conn.; m. (1) Mary Adams; m. (2) Sarah Kimberly; d. Nov. 11, 1772.
- v. BENJAMIN³, bapt. Milford, Conn., July 4, 1703; m. ———; d. Greenwich, Conn., 1733, leaving children who were heirs to his father's estate and mentioned in his father's will, in 1740, but whose names are not known. Inventory of Benjamin's estate, dated Greenwich, Feb. 6, 1733, and valued at £34-7-8, was made by Caleb Knap and Nathaniel Husted.

NOTE.—It has been thought that the Enos Prindle who m. Deborah Jones of Milford, Jan. 16, 1750, and had ten children, was a son of Benjamin, but the proof is still lacking. Orcutt's History of Derby gives an incomplete record of this family. One of the sons, Enos Jones, was a soldier of the Revolutionary war, 1777-1786. Another son, John, served under Gen. Wooster at the siege of Boston.

This note is here made with the hope that it may lead to the discovery of further facts relating to the descendants of Benjamin and the ancestry of this Enos and John.

- vi. JONATHAN³, bapt. July 4, 1703; m. Mar. 1, 1731, Elizabeth Thompson, dau. of Capt. Samuel Thompson; rem. to Wallingford; d. ———.

Newtown land records show transfers from him in Oct., 1732, in which he describes himself as of Cheshire and Wallingford; and in June, 1733, as of Wallingford.

Children:

1. EBENEZER⁴, b. Oct. 7, 1731; d. Jan. 10, 1772.
2. KEZIAH⁴, b. Mar. 14, 1733; m. Mar. 19, 1759, Isaiah Moss.

- vii. NATHAN³, b. April 7, 1704; m. May 9, 1728, Mary Richason, dau. of John Richason, dec'd, who was b. Feb. 14, 1706-7; rem. to Waterbury, Conn., abt. 1727, with his cousin Jonathan, son of Eleazer², of Milford; d. July 8, 1746.

He was a clothier, and had a grant of two acres of land up Great Brook in 1727-8, provided he would build a fulling mill in four years. Nathan and Mary sold their house and mill to their brother Nathaniel Arnold in 1737, who in turn conveyed it to Ephraim Warner, Jr., and Ebenezer Judd, described as "4 acres with a house, shop, Fulling mill and tainters thereon, the press, Iron plate and other material for dressing cloth, lying eastward from the town by the highway to Buck's Hill."

Children, born in Waterbury:

This Will was "allowed and accepted to be recorded," at a Court of Probate held in Woodbury, December ye 4th, 1760.

Inventory of the estate was made Nov. 17, 1760, by Stephen Upson and Andrew Brownson, appraisers.

and filed by the Executors, December ye 2nd, 1760, amounting to £88-11-9, less Debts and Charges of £15-00-11.

The Court of Probate held at Woodbury, Dec. 2, 1760, appointed Licut. Stephen Upson, Mr. William Adams and Mr. Andrew Brownson, all of Waterbury, "to distribute sd Estate to the natural Brother and Sisters of ye sd deceased," and to make return to the Court of their doings.

A return of the distribution, made in Dec., 1760, was made to the Court, Feb. 20, 1784, as follows:

This ferry was established in 1686, when it was known as the "Moose plain ferry."

His name appears on a muster roll of Col. Whiting's regt. in 1761.

He was also a soldier of the Revolution, his name appearing on a list of "names of men enlisted at Northfield in Dec., 1776, to go to Danbury."

In Vol. 12 of "Mass. Soldiers and Sailors in the War of the Revolution," the following record appears:

"PRINDLE NATHAN.—Sergeant. Capt. Reuben Petty's Co., Lieut. Col. Samuel William's regt.; engaged Dec. 16, 1776; discharged March 19, 1777; service, 3 mos. 15 days, including 12 days (240 miles) travel home."

In the seating of the church of 1780, he was assigned No. 33, along with Nathan Flint, John Field and Eunice Field; and in that year he and Titus Dickinson were allowed to have their proportion of school money among themselves. He was chosen one of the surveyors at the town-meeting of March 3, 1800, and in 1818, he and 48 others living on the west side of the river petitioned to be set off into a new town.

6. JOSEPH PRINDLE.

JOSEPH² PRINDLE (*William*¹), son of William and Mary (Desborough) Prindle, was born in New Haven, Conn., June 11, 1663. He married August 19, 1686, Mary Brown, daughter of John² (*Francis*¹) and Mary (Walker) Brown, of New Haven, Mr. James Bishop officiating, who was born there May 2, 1664.

His father deeded him, in 1689, one acre of land at the N.E. corner of his homestead, near the corner of what is now Elm Street and Second Avenue, in West Haven, and also one-fourth acre on the S.W. corner. On December 10, 1691, he bought of Peter Mallary, Sr., six acres near Elm Street and Union Avenue, where is now the residence of Mr. Edw. G. Mansfield, and there built a house. He describes himself as a house carpenter, as distinguished from a ship carpenter. He sold this shortly after to Peter Mallary, Jr., and on February 8, 1697-8, bought of Jonathan Atwater, for 24 pounds, a tract of 88 acres located about two and one-half miles from West Haven, and which is described in the deed as lying "upon ye hill commonly called the half way hill as they goe to Milford." A part of this land is believed to have been the nucleus of the homestead, which remained in the Prindle family for 173 years.

The hill naturally took the name of "Prindle Hill," and the farm came to be called "Scotland," at just what time is now uncertain, but it was so named and known for at least the last 75 years of the Prindle occupaney. He is believed to have been, with Rev. Samuel Johnson, one of the founders of the Episcopal Church in West Haven.

He died March 18, 1737-8, and in the record of his death is called "Mr. Joseph Prindle," a title of distinction in those days. A small red sandstone slab marks his grave, the inscription now being nearly illegible, whereon he is entitled "Serjeant."

In his will, dated December 12, 1728, and probated May 29, 1738, he gives to his wife the use of the whole of his estate, and after her death to Joseph, he to pay the following legacies:

To Samuel, 100 pounds above what he has had already; To Hepzibah and Mary, 50 pounds each; and to the children of Joel, 40 pounds, or 10 pounds each. His son Joseph, Jr., was named executor. John Trowbridge, Jos. Whiting and Hannah Whiting were witnesses. His estate was valued at 808 pounds.

Children, born in West Haven:

- i. JOANNA³, b. ———; d. July. 1688.
- ii. JOHN³, b. 1691 or 1692; m. May 28, 1717, by Mr. Abraham Bradley, Hannah, dau. of Daniel and Hannah (Beecher) Clark, and gr. dau. of Elcazer and Phoebe (Prindle) Beecher.

A few days after his marriage, Joseph received from his father by deed one-half acre of land—being a part of his farm—with the new house thereon; and by his father's will he became the owner of the homestead where he lived and died, leaving an estate of 635 pounds, 7 shillings, two-pence. His will, dated Jan. 15, 1770, bequeathed to his wife one-third of the movable and the use and improvement of one-third of the real estate. His daughter Elizabeth was to be allowed to dwell with her mother while she lived, and afterwards to have, if unmarried, the use of her father's part of the house, which eventually was to go to Elijah. The remainder of the estate was to be divided into 15 parts, 4 going to Elijah, 3 to Joseph, and 2 each to the others. Joseph and Elijah were made executors.

Children, born in West Haven:

1. BETTY⁴, b. Oct. 7, 1728; m. June 8, 1758, Rev. Ebenezer Knibloe, of Amenia, N. Y., who was b. in Scotland, Oct. 7, 1729, and bapt. Oct. 8 in old church in Edinburgh, and d. of consumption, Dec. 20, 1785, ae. 56. She d. in 1809.

During the Rebellion in Scotland, in 1745, Mr. Knibloe favored the interests of the Pretender, and upon the defeat of that unfortunate Prince he came to this country. Soon after his arrival he became acquainted with many theological students who were pursuing their studies at Yale College, and with the faculty of that celebrated institute of learning, and so became a regular visitor at its examinations and commencements. And it was upon one of these journeys that the following interesting incident occurred, as extracted from an old paper now in possession of a descendant:

“About a year after his settlement at Phillips Patent, N. Y., in the fall of 1757, while on his way to commencement which then took place at the beginning of the fall term, he became somewhat belated on a dark and stormy night and lost his way some two or three miles west of New Haven. While traveling along he hears a lad whistling in the distance, and approaching him states his difficulty and requests the young man to set him on the right road. The lad informs him that the road is quite obscure for a stranger on so dark and inclement a night, and invited him to his father’s house, and tells him that he and his brothers will put him on the right track in the morning. Weary with some sixty miles of travel on horseback since morning, he follows the young man to his father’s house. Received with the frankness so common in that day by the lad’s parents, the mother and sisters prepared a supper for the stranger guest.

“In the meantime the father finds the stranger to be from the bonnie land of Scotland, even from the very neighborhood from which his own grandfather came to this country. Thus they were old friends at once, and it was late the next day when our hero was set on his way to the City of Elms, with the request that he should call on his return home.

“On the return call it appears a contract of marriage was made between him and the eldest daughter, Betty Prindle. The honored father and the two eldest brothers objected, as he was a Dissenter (Calvinistic Presbyterian), but Betty met their objections by saying that he was little less than a Churchman, since on his mother’s side a birthright Churchman to remotest generations, and on his father’s side by many links.

That Betty’s intercession was successful, is shown by the following copy of their marriage record from an old Scotch Bible:

“To the glory of God and the profit of the Church and Commonwealth as we earnestly hope and desire,

“The Rev. Mr. Ebenezer Knibloe, Minister of the Gospel at Amenia near Sharon, was married with Miss Betty Prindle, of New Haven, by the Rev. Mr. Elijah Sill, Minister of the Gospel at New Fairfield, upon Thursday, about 8 o'clock at night, being the eighth day of June, Anno Domini 1758.”

He was for more than 25 years minister of the Round Top meeting-house, in the south part of Sharon, Conn. He was a Loyalist during the Revolutionary war, and is said to have relinquished the ministry in consequence.

“He was a sound and sensible man, a good preacher, and apparently a sincere christian. They lived at Amenia Union a long time until their death.”

Children, born in Amenia, probably:

1. William Ebenezer Knibloe⁵, b. Sept. 10, 1760; d. March 6, 1812.

ae. 38; m. (2) Mrs. Elizabeth (Trowbridge) Candee, widow of Ezra, who d. April 28, 1806, ae. 74.

By the removal of his brothers and sisters, he became the owner of the homestead in West Haven, where he lived and died. He was for many years a warden of Christ Church, and naturally a Loyalist during the Revolutionary war.

It is related that when the British fleet was at anchor off Oldfield shore, at the time of Tryon's Invasion, the Prindle boys carried them some beef. The West Haven people hearing of this came up to Scotland to arrest them, and upon inquiring for the boys at the door were told they were there or had been only a short time before. The house was searched, but the boys, having observed their approach, left by another door and escaped to the woods. This occurred in the old home then located across the road from the present one, but which was pulled down immediately after building the latter, about 1827.

He lived more or less with his uncle Charles⁴ at New Haven, before his marriage. His home was the old house on the right-hand side of the road leading to Scotland, and the one which Elizabeth, his father's sister, was given apart for her life use. After the death of his father, in 1814, he removed to Sharon, Conn., induced to go there perhaps because his sister Lois and her family had gone there eight years before, and also because his daughter Sybil, who married Anson Prindle, and his son Samuel were then living there. He bought a farm on Gay Street (so-called), about two miles from the village, where his grandson Charles⁷, son of Samuel J.⁶, is now living, and owner of the farm which still remains in the possession of the family.

He was born at the old Prindle place on Sharon Mountain, about three miles east of Sharon village. After some years on the farm he sought mercantile pursuits, and first went into the store of his uncles, Samuel and Mark Prindle, and later engaged in the manufacture of clocks in Bristol; abt. 1850 he went to Brooklyn, N. Y., and engaged in the dry goods business at 21st Street and Third Avenue; a few years later he engaged in the coal and lumber business, and also dealt in real estate. He returned to his old home in Sharon abt. 1850, and soon after rem. to the village where he spent his remaining years. He served as town clerk, town treasurer, justice of the peace, and was judge of probate. He was of a quiet, unassuming, reserved nature, upright and honest in all his business dealings, and his devotion to his church and religious duties was marked.

(1) Jan. 12, 1758, Martha Clark, half-sister of Lois, who m. his brother Joseph⁴, and dau. of Ebenezer Clark, who d. July 28, 1764; m. (2) New Haven, March 17, 1766, Ruth Storer, dau. of John Storer, who d. Aug. 11, 1785; m. (3) May 21, 1787, "widow PUNCHARD," whose maiden name was Phebe Thompson, dau. of Col. Joseph Thompson, and who d. Jan. 26, 1791. He d. in New Haven, April 28, 1808, ac. 74.

He settled in New Haven, and lived on Cherry St. (now Wooster), in a one-story-and-a-half frame house with dormer windows. This house was standing until about 1850, when it was torn down to make room for Germania Hall. He was a blacksmith, and his shop stood opposite his house where Prindle Alley, named for him, is now. He brought up his nephew and namesake, Charles⁵, son of Joseph⁴, and it was supposed he intended to make him his heir, but the birth of children by his third wife appears to have changed any such intention.

He was a vestryman, 1775-1782, of Trinity Church, when it was located where Spaulding's drug store now stands.

At the time of the invasion by the British, under Gen. Tryon, in 1779, it is stated that, on the alarm of the approach of the British troops, he placed his wife Ruth upon a horse and started her for Hamden, where she remained until after the troops had left. With many others, he was then summoned before a Committee to explain why he remained in town during its occupancy by the enemy at that time.

In the plundering of the city his house was not omitted, much of his furniture was destroyed, and such valuables as could be found were carried off. An old-fashioned "chest of drawers," resembling a tall bureau, having three drawers in the lower half which could be opened, and three false ones, or panels representing drawers, above, with a lid on top, which constituted the "chest," was at that time a stylish piece of furniture. In this upper "chest" were kept many of the choicest things of the household, which in the hasty flight of the family were left behind.

Upon their return three drawers were found on the floor, but being unable to open the false ones above, though fitted with brass handles and otherwise looking like the others, and the visit of the looters necessarily being a hasty one, these troops of King George showed their disappointment by leaving the marks of musket blows on the chest, which it still bears and makes the old piece of furniture still more valuable as a relic, which is still retained in the possession of a descendant.

From an old account book of his is taken the following statement:

"Charles Prindle Los by ye Briteash Troops is 10 Shirts and 5 Stocks 2 Silver Stock buckels 2 Pare of Silver Shoe buckles 2 Pare of Do nebuckles 1 String gold beads 1 Pare of Stone Jugs 1 fether bed 5 Sheets 1 Pare of new Shoes 1 Long Brod Cloth Cloke 4 gowns 2 Lin aprons 2 Jacets 1 Pare of Trowsers 6 Silver Spoons 2 Plates 1 Diaper Table Cloth 1 watch 1 Bed quilt."

As a blacksmith, he carried on what was then considered a large business, besides having an interest in several vessels, as his old account-book shows.

Although the ink on many pages is pale, and the paper coarse, bearing the old-fashioned "water mark," and void of ruling, the entries are yet still legible enough to show that the people of those early days had an honest and simple way of settling their accounts with one another. It is probable that money was not very plentiful among them, and settlements between debtors and creditors were made in a way admitting of no future disputes. It appears to have been the custom for both parties to look over their book accounts together, and, after satisfactory adjustment, an entry would be made to that effect under the footing. Here is one from this old account book:

“The 14th June 1785 then reconed with Isaic Sandford & the Balance Dew me is two pounds seven-teen shillings & four pence

As witness our hands

Isaiac Sanford
Charles Prindle”

2-17-4

His only children were by his third wife, Mrs. Phebe (Thompson) Punchard, who bore him two daughters, the elder of which died at the age of seven of yellow fever, when it was epidemic in New Haven and 63 persons died of it.

7. SAMUEL PRINDLE.

SAMUEL² PRINDLE (*William*¹), son of William and Mary (Desborough) Prindle, was born in New Haven, Conn., April 15, 1668, and died in New Milford, Conn., September 29, 1750. He married 1st, by Robert Treat, January 1, 1699, Dorothy Plum, daughter of John Plum, of Milford, who was born May 26, 1660, and died after 1736; 2nd, March 31, 1747, Sarah Chapman; removed to Milford, and thence to New Milford, Conn.

His name appears on a List of Names of the Original Purchasers (109 in number) and Proprietors of the Township of New Milford, April 1706. He was one of the first twelve settlers of New Milford which was organized in October, 1712, and where he appears as a signer of the petition in 1711.

John Noble, Sr., laid out Mr. Prindle's first forty acres, on Second Hill before 1714, and on the Right of William Fowler, which was described as "lying upon the westerly side of the Second Hill at a place called Prindle's Pitch, 80 rods on the square, common land on all sides."

In 1721, William Fowler deeded his Right, including this land improved, and another piece at the south end of the village, to Samuel Prindle and Joseph Bostwick. Mr. Prindle had paid all the charges against this Right for seven years, by which he secured one-half the Right to himself. His dwelling stood at the south end of the village.

He and his wife united with the First Church there in 1720, but, with six of their children (John, Samuel, Jr., Sarah, Elizabeth, Dorothy and Daniel), are named in the Record of the Church book as "Sundry Members who fell away to Quakerism in ye year 1731 and 1732." Eight years after he returned to the First Church, but she had returned in 1736. It appears that the three sons left the Quakers and united with the Episcopal Church in 1743, the records of which show that on March 17, 1743, it was "Voted, upon the desire of John Prindle, Samuel Prindle, David Prindle" (and nine others) "to grant them a piece of land in the street east of Mr. Samuel Prindle's house, upon the hill near where the old pound used to stand, sixty feet in length and forty feet in breadth, in order to build a Church of England upon, and for no other purpose.

“Voted that the above named petitioners shall have liberty to use a piece of land eastward of Samuel Prindle’s house of sixty feet in length and forty feet in breadth, the length to be east and west, to build a house for the worship of God during the time the house shall be kept on the land; also that Mr. Nathaniel Bostwick, David Noble, and Daniel Bostwick, shall be Committee to set out the bounds of said land.”

His will was dated New Milford, November 24, 1749, “in the 23d year of the Reign of our Sovereign Lord George the 2nd,” and probated at Woodbury, Conn., October 30, 1750. Sons Samuel, John and Daniel were named as executors, and beloved daughters Elizabeth, Sarah, Dorothy, Mary and Obedience were named as beneficiaries.

To Samuel and John, “my tract or parcel of Land lying at ye three mile brook, to be equally divided between them.”

To Daniel, “my tract or piece of land lying at Two Mile Brook on ye west side of ye Country Rhoad to him and his heirs forever.”

Inventory, dated October 10, 1750, was valued at £842-17-00, by Dobson Wheeler & John Warner, “Prisors.”

In the distribution of the estate, made November 16, 1750, there was included, in

- iii. JOHN³, b. abt. 1705; bapt. March 1720; m. Feb. 5, 1729-30, Martha Prime, dau. of James Prime, 2nd, of Milford. (James Prime, 1st, came to Milford in 1644. He was of Huguenot descent, and is believed to have come from Doncaster, England.)

He was one of the first 12 settlers of New Milford, his residence was on the west side of the "Great River," on the west side of the Great Plain, near his brother Samuel's home, at the "Goose Pond." So said his father in a deed to his daughter.

He united with the First Church in 1726, and of him the Rev. Daniel Boardman made the following record:

"Oct. 1729.—John Prindle, a member of ye church was suspended from communion by a general voice of ye church at a meeting of ye Brethren, for a scandalously and schurrillously abusing Daniel Boardman, his pastor."

He appears to have been one of the most obnoxious to the pastor of those of his church that "fell away to Quakerism." There were eight of the name of Prindle who thus "fell away." Some returned to the First Church, and some became Episcopalians. John united with the Quakers in 1731, but in 1743 he is found in the Society of the Church of England.

He was a large land owner, and many deeds still exist showing transfers between him and his sons and others.

In deeds of 1761 and 1767, he describes himself as of South Precinct, Dutchess County, and Province of New York, and in 1769 as of New Fairfield, Conn.

Children, born in New Milford:

1. JOSEPH¹, b. Dec. 16, 1730; m. Mehitable ———, perh. a dau. of Ithamar Spencer, of Spencertown, as these three names appear in one deed. "Spencertown in Hampshire Co. and Province of ye Mass. Bay." The exact locality is not known. John is also named in this deed as a "husbandman."

The names of his children are not known.

His name, as Serjeant Joseph Prindle, appears on a list of officers named on a fragment of a muster roll, of Captain Joseph Canfield's Company, for 1758, which was raised in the spring of that year, and served in the campaign under Col. (aft. Gen.) Wooster, in the French War, the enlistments made in April reading "to serve His Majesty King George the second in a Regiment of Foot, raised by the Colony of Connecticut, to be commanded by Col. David Wooster, of New Haven, for invading Canada, and carrying War into the Heart of the Enemy's Possessions."

Capt. Canfield received orders from Gen. Wooster, dated New Haven, May 22, 1758, "to march to Albany and wait on the Commander-in-chief, and attend his orders," etc.

2. GOMAR¹, b. April 30, 1732. His name was changed to Gideon in Feb. 1739-40, as appears from the following from the Town Records of New Milford, Conn.:—

"This may certify that John Prindle and Martha Prime were united in marriage February 5, 1729-30, both of New Milford.

"Joseph Prindle, s. of John and Martha, b. Dec. 16, 1730.

"Gomar Prindle, s. of John and Martha, b. April 30, 1732.

* Mark Prindle, s. of John and Martha, b. March 9, 1733-4.

"Gomar Prindle had his name changed to Gideon in Feb. 1739-40."

2. GIDEON⁴, b. April 30, 1732; m. April 11, 1753, Lettice Towner. In a deed dated April 1, 1760, he describes himself as "of Beekmans Precincts in the County of Dutchess in the Province of New York."

He was a successful farmer, though not prominent in town offices. He united with the First Church in 1727, and was among those who "fell away to Quakerism" in 1731, but in 1743 he united with the Church of England enterprise that began about that time.

He and his son Aaron appear in Vermont land transfers, but it is not certain that Daniel rem. there. In the petition to the King for a grant of land in Vermont, in 1762, the names of Daniel and Aaron Prindle appear among the 23 petitioners there named. In 1751 he describes himself as of New Fairfield.

His will, dated Newtown, April 16, 1774, probated May 3, 1776, mentions: Wife Phebe; Sons Aaron, David and Daniel; Daughters Phebe Hallocke, wife of Benjamin; Hannah, wife of Benjamin Main; Rachel Marsh, wife of John; Elizabeth, wife of Simeon Leach, and Lois Prindle.

8. ELEAZER PRINDLE.

ELEAZER² PRINDLE (*William*¹), son of William and Mary (Desborough) Prindle, was born in New Haven, Conn., June 7, 1669; married Elizabeth Andrews, daughter of Thomas Andrews, of Milford, formerly of Farmington, Conn.; and died abt. 1713. He settled in Milford, at a place called Burwell's farms, and was one of the original proprietors of New Milford, in 1712. He was a blacksmith and preacher.

Eleazer was left the homestead in consideration of his taking care of his parents in their latter days, and was twenty years old when his father died. In 1697 he and his mother sold ten acres from the north end of the homestead to Joseph Smith. His mother died probably about 1700-1701, and in 1702 Eleazer sold the house and remaining land, of seven and one-half acres, to Isaac Jones and Gershom Brown, of New Haven.

This Isaac Jones had an interesting ancestry, which it may be well to refer to in this connection here. His father was William Jones, son of one of the judges that condemned Charles I. to death, and himself deputy governor of this Colony for over thirty years. His mother was Hannah, daughter of Theophilus Eaton. Jones sold his one-half interest in the place, in 1705, to Brown, in whose family (with possibly the exception of one transfer) it remained, without subdivision, for 150 years.

The year before he sold the remainder of the homestead, Eleazer had taken steps toward locating in Milford, influenced doubtless by the settlement there of his brothers Samuel and Ebenezer. In 1701 he bought four and one-half acres in Oyster Meadow Plain of Jeremiah Canfield, and in 1702 as much more of John Ford in the same neighborhood, and probably married soon after.

Administration on his estate was granted to his widow, Elizabeth, July 6, 1713. The inventory included the house and barn and land in Milford, £150; land in Wallingford bounds, 83 acres, £70; "spelling book and sermon book, 4 shillings," etc., the estimated value after payment of debts being about £275.

The widow Elizabeth married, 2nd, and before February 3, 1714, Mr. John Bronson, one of the first settlers of Waterbury, Conn. He was appointed guardian of the children for their father's estate, and Joseph Prindle, of West Haven, for their estate at Oranage by Stratford River, which they inherited from their maternal grandfather, Thomas Andrews.

Children, born in Milford:

- i. JONATHAN³, b. July 1, 1704, O.S.; m. May 4, 1732, Rachel Hickox, dau. of William and Rebecca (Andrews) Hickox, dec'd, who was also one of the original families of Waterbury; settled in Waterbury near Center Square, in 1726, where he d. April 10, 1782. She was b. May 16, 1710, and d. Nov. 24, 1798, ae. 88.

Upon his mother's removal to Waterbury, she brought her son Jonathan with her and bound him as an apprentice to Isaac Bronson, of Waterbury, to learn the art or trade of shoe making and tanning. His name appears on a list of petitioners to the General Court, Oct. 4, 1732, for exemption from the old parish rates during the winter months, and the privilege of having a minister at their own expense during this time, etc., which was granted and the privilege allowed for four years; also, May, 1738, on a list of heads of families included within the limits of the new society with the number of persons in each, by which it appears that his family comprised seven persons at this time; also, in 1742, on a list of subscribers to a building fund for an Episcopal Church; also, April 20, 1743, on a list of persons to whom John Judd conveyed a lot of ground for the new church, donated by him; and also, April 22, 1744, on a list of petitioners to the Assembly for parish privileges to enable them to lay taxes for building a church, which was not granted.

In Oct., 1752, he was appointed by the General Assembly Lieutenant of "the Company or trainband, parish of Westbury, in the town of Waterberry."

Children, born in Waterbury:

1. ELEAZER⁴, b. March 20, 1733; m. Oct. 18, 1752, Anna Scovill, dau. of Rev. William Scovill, son of Sergeant John Scovill, and gr. son of John, of Waterbury and Haddam; d. May 3, 1814, ae. 81, and was bur.

at Gunntown, in town of Oxford, Conn. She was b. March 25, 1731, and d. April 17, 1789.

His gr. stone contains also the following inscription: "Abigail Prindle, Died June 3, 1812, ae. 75," who may have been his second wife.

He was the Rev. Eleazer Prindle who helped to establish the Episcopal Church in Waterbury, and his name appears on a list of "the Churchman of Waterbury," in 1764, entering into an agreement "to hold public worship in Westbury on those Sundays when there was no preaching in Waterbury," until a church could be built there.

Children:

1. CHAUNCEY⁵, Rev., b. Oxford, Conn., July 13, 1753; m. Roxanna Bronson, dau. of Samuel Bronson, of Waterbury, who was b. Oct. 29, 1755, and d. Oct. 22, 1840; d. Aug. 25, 1833, ae. 80; and both were buried at Gunntown.

He entered Yale College in 1772, graduated as A.B., July 17, 1776, and received the degree of A.M. in Sept., 1779. He prepared for the ministry, and was admitted to the Holy Orders of Deacon in St. John's Church, Stamford, by the Rt. Rev. Bishop Seabury, in June, 1787, and was ordained Priest in St. James' Church, New London, by the same Bishop, Feb. 24, 1788.

When in deacon's orders he officiated as lay reader in the Episcopal Church at Westbury at a salary of £30, "to be paid in beef, pork, butter, tallow, wool, flax, or any sort of grain," and continued as rector until his resignation in 1804. He was for several years rector of the churches at Naugatuck and Oxford, having been the first minister of the parish of St. Peter's at the latter place, and was rector of Trinity P. E. Church, Seymour, Conn., in 1815.

It is said of him that "he was a most worthy and indefatigable man. and it is related as an instance of his punctuality in the discharge of duty, that on one occasion, when he was to preach at Waterbury, he found the Naugatuck much swollen by a flood, and rather than fail in his appointment he plunged in on his horse and swam the stream. He was noted for a sound and forcible intellect and stern integrity, and was orthodox and firm in principles. He was a useful minister."

Upon a memorial tablet in St. John's Episcopal Church, Waterbury, is written the following inscription:

Commemorative of the faithful labors in this parish of
The Rev. James Scovill
and
The Rev. Chauncey Prindle
A.D. 1759-1804
Their Record is on High

Upon his gr. stone in Gunntown is the following inscription:

Sacred to the memory of the Rev.
Chauncey Prindle
who died Aug. 25 1833
AE 85

The deceased was a graduate of Yale College and received his ordination to the ministry in the Protestant Episcopal Church from the hands of the Rt. Rev. Samuel Seabury. For a period of nearly twenty years his time was devoted to the united charges of Christ Church, Watertown, and St. Peter's Church, Plymouth. Subsequently at different periods he had the pastoral charges of the churches in Oxford, Salem and Bethany.

He lived to exercise the ministry for a period of fifty years.

And this stone is erected by his remaining friends and parishioners as a token of their high regard for his character, his zeal, his fidelity, his talents and his worth, both as a man and as a minister.

"Blessed are the dead that die in the Lord."

On his right is a stone inscribed:

3. RACHAEL⁴, b. March 29, 1738; m. April 16, 1758, Hezekiah Brown, son of Deacon Samuel Brown from Boston. He was a Loyalist. In Oct., 1775, certain inhabitants presented a memorial in the case of Hezekiah Brown:

That he had said that the Congress ought to be punished for putting the country to so much cost and charge, for they did no more good than a parcel of squaws; that it was an unnecessary expense, and the Assembly had no right to do it; that Boston had wrongfully undertaken to quarrel about the tea, and we had no hand in it; that our General Assembly was as arbitrary as the Pope of Rome when it cashiered

Captain Bronson and Ensign Scovill (who belonged to the Northbury Company which was so disaffected toward the cause of American liberty that the Co. was dissolved and these two men cashiered), and that he would not go one step further for the relief of the people of Boston than he was obliged to go."

Two months later, laws were enacted that any persons defaming Congress or the General Assembly should be deprived of arms and office, and should be punished by fine and imprisonment or disfranchisement. He was tried and deprived of holding any further military office. He left Waterbury not long after and joined the British in New York, where he received a Captain's commission, and died there Aug. 27, 1777.

His wife, the dau. of Lieut. Jonathan Prindle, remained loyal to the cause of the Colonies, and the real estate of her husband, which had been confiscated because of his giving help to the enemy, was restored to her.

Children, born in Waterbury:

1. Zere Brown⁵, b. Sept. 18, 1759.

He went away with his father in 1776 and joined the enemy on Long Island. After his father's death he returned to Waterbury "convinced of his error," and gave himself up to the civil authority. He was fined by the Superior Court £30, and ordered not to leave the town. In 1783 he presented a petition for discharge that he might labor for the support of his mother in Watertown, which was not granted.

Milford Land Records show transfers from Thomas Prindle in 1729 and 1731. He was of Derby in 1729, and on June 16, 1730, describes himself as of Wallingford. His estate, probated in 1731, locates him in Meriden in the town of Wallingford.

Administration of the estate of Thomas Prindle, of Wallingford, was granted to Thomas Prindle, of Waterbury, January 1, 1731-2. His estate was valued at 146 pounds, 4 shillings and 10 pence. The inventory included "a yoak of oxen, a sun dial, and a wigg." He was a weaver by occupation, and was unmarried.

9. HANNAH PRINDLE.

HANNAH² PRINDLE (*William*¹), daughter of William and Mary (Desborough) Prindle, was born in New Haven, Conn., March 6, 1670-71.

She is said to have married John Hull, Jr., but all that is known of this appears from the following:

John Hull, Jr. (b. March 14, 1662, prob. Stratford) married Hannah Prindle, probably, and lived a time on the hill near the Riggs farm, but afterwards settled near his mill, back of Ansonia, the place being known by his name. He was a man of solid worth; representative, selectman, farmer and miller.

His children were:

1. Deborah, b. December 29, 1691; d. Feb. 17, 1772.
2. John, b. Jan. 9, 1694.
3. Daniel, b. March 16, 1700.

5. Miles, b. July 6, 1704.
6. Mary, ———.
7. Elijah, b. March 15, 1707; d. July 23, 1709.
8. Ebenezer, b. July 8, 1709; d. Jan. 19, 1729, being drowned in the Naugatuck.—Orcutt's History of Derby, Conn.

Mary Tuttle, dau. of Timothy and Thankful (Doolittle) Tuttle; b. Oct. 3, 1712; d. April 21, 1770; m. Dec. 24, 1729, Miles Hull, son of John and Hannah (Prindle) Hull, and gr.son of Dr. John Hull, of Derby and Wallingford. He d. Jan. 20, 1775. 10 ch.—Tuttle Genealogy.

These references conflict, however, with the following as to the marriage of John Hull and Hannah Prindle:

John Hull, b. 1662, Stratford; m. Mary Jacobs; lived in Derby; d. 1753.

He was a son of Dr. John Hull, who was born in New Haven, Conn., in 1640; a planter in Stratford in 1661, where he lived until 1668; removed to Wallingford, Conn., in 1687, and died in 1711.—Hull Records, by Puella Follett (Hull) Mason. Milwaukee, Wis., 1894.

Deborah, dau. of Mary Hull, of Derby Ch., bapt. March 22, 1691.

John, son of Mary Hull, of Derby Ch., bapt. Sept. 9, 1694.—First Church (Cong.) Records, Milford, Conn.

- p. 251. Ebenezer, son of John and Mary Hulls, b. July 8, 17—.
252. Elijah, son of John and Mary Hulls, d. July 23, 1709.
273. Priscilla, dau. of John and Mary Hulls, b. June 3, 1702.

274. Miles, son of John and Mary Hulls, b. July 6, 1704.
274. Ebenezer, son of John and Mary Hulls, b. July 8, 17—.
289. Elijah, son of John and Mary Hulls, b. March 25, 1707.
293. Mary, dau. of John and Mary Hulls, b. July 16, 1696.
251. Nathan, son of Joseph and Mary Hulls, b. Nov. 26, 17—.

—Derby Town Records.

The foregoing is here presented in the hope that thereby it may possibly lead to the discovery of all the facts concerning the marriage and descendants, if any, of Hannah Prindle.

10. JOSEPH PRINDLE.

JOSEPH³ (*Ebenezer*², *William*¹), son of Ebenezer and Elizabeth (Hubby) Prindle, was born in New Haven, Conn.; bapt. (3) Jan. 26, 1835, Mary Jenison, dau. of Josiah and Susan Jenison, who is still living in Cleveland, O., at the advanced age of 96 years. He died Cleveland, O., Dec. 1, 1885.

Dr. Cyrus Prindle was a Methodist minister of much prominence in New England and New York, and had for many years many important churches under his care at Troy, Albany, Lansingburg, N. Y. City and other important points.

He left the Methodist Episcopal Church in 1843 in consequence of its attitude in regard to slavery, and was one of five or six other anti-slavery ministers who organized the Wesleyan Methodist Connection of America, at Utica, N. Y., in that year. He was editor of "The Wesleyan," the official paper of the Wesleyan Connection, at Syracuse, N. Y., for twelve years. After the abolition of slavery and the changed attitude of the Church with regard to slavery he, in 1868, returned to the M. E. Church, and was cordially received and highly complimented by the Bishop for his anti-slavery work in years past.

He had among his friends and correspondents such men as Charles Sumner, Benjamin Wade, Joshua R. Giddings, John P. Hale, Gov. Briggs, of Mass., and many other prominent anti-slavery men in Church and State.

He was converted at the age of 15, having been awakened at the first Methodist prayer-meeting he ever attended. He united with the M. E. Church early in 1817; was licensed to preach in February, 1821; admitted to the New York Conference in May of that year, and appointed to the Plattsburg circuit, which extended from Lower Canada to Elizabethtown, Essex Co., N. Y., necessitating about 300 miles travel. From that time until 1874 he continued in the active ministry, a period of over 53 years, with but a single month's relaxation from regular work.

In papers somewhat voluminous, written by him since his superannuation, the following interesting statement has been selected:

"In consequence of my profound convictions as to the terrible sin and snare of slavery, and the attitude of the Church toward it at the time, I, in 1843, united with others in the organization of the 'Wesleyan Methodist Connection of America,' and acted with that body until 1867, when, believing that they had performed the denominational mission to which they were appointed, I reunited with the Methodist Episcopal Church, and joined Erie Conference, after which, by the change of Conference lines, I became a member of the East Ohio Conference. This step to which I then pledged myself was the great event of my life, and I then considered, and have ever since, that I was urged to take it by moral compulsion. A truer heart never beat for the Methodist Episcopal Church than mine had been for the preceding 27 years. But the position she had taken in her constituted authorities upon the great sin of slavery, the persecutions she was inflicting upon many who were 'remembering those in bonds as bound with them,' left no alternative but either to disobey the command of God or dismember myself from the Church of my early choice, and under the circumstances I could not hesitate in the decision I made.

"This was no hasty step, nor one growing out of disappointed ambition, but one that involved the most sacred principles of divine truth and human duty, which afforded me an illustration of the meaning of cutting off the right hand and plucking out the right eye.

"The act of leaving the Methodist Episcopal Church in 1843 was the most painful I ever performed, and that of re-uniting with said Church in 1867 the most unalloyed and satisfactory, and I still believe that both acts, under the circumstances, were just and fitting. I have been an unprofitable servant, and have nothing to rely upon but the mercy of God in Christ Jesus, into whose hands I now commend my soul for the vast future."

Dr. Prindle was a man of rare purity of character, a true friend of the oppressed, of intelligent and positive convictions, a hater of shams and uncompromisingly righteous.

- v. ABEL⁴ ("Lieut."), b. Feb. 13, 1733; m. June 3, 1761, Amaryllis Toucey, dau. of Rev. Thomas and Hannah (Clark) Toucey; d. Aug., 1777, "killed at the Battle of Bennington."

In a deed of Sept. 21, 1773, he describes himself as of Lanesborough, Berkshire Co., Mass.

She was b. Sept. 11, 1739; m. (2) Major Thomas Bull; d. Dec. 10, 1800, ae. 61 yrs.

He served in the Crown Point Expedition, as appears from the following record:

"Camp at Fort William Henry
"Oct. 13, 1756.

"This may certify that the men within mentioned not present at muster are at the places against Each of their names annexed and are absent for no other Reason than those assigned and are part of the Effectives of the Company under my Command.

Being One Captain, Two Lieut's, Four Serjents, one Clark, four Corporals, One Drummer and Fifty three privates men Such as are not markt In the margin being Present On the Spot and those Markt are Certified to be absent at the places and for the Reasons assigned against their Respective names and for no Other Reason.

"Henry Liddell,

"Muster Master General."

"Present at this Muster & attest to ye facts

"John Winslow."

Among the names mentioned on this Muster are found those of John Prindle and Isaac Prindle—the latter being noted as "sick at Fort Edward."

He was appointed, March, 1758, 1st Lieut. of 6th Co., 4th Regt., Col. John Read, Colonial Troops; also March, 1759, and March, 1760, 1st Lieut. in Capt. Israel Kimberly's Co., 3d Regt., Col. (afterward Gen.) David Wooster; and March, 1761, 2nd Lieut. of 2nd Co., 2nd Regt., Col. Nathan Whiting.

From Massachusetts Manuscripts, Vol. II., on a List of Detachments under John Hawk, dated Nov. 17, 1759—the original of which is in the Library of Congress—is found the following record:

“Coll^o Woosters Connecticut Regiment, allowed two shillings & Eight pence Sterling for each man; being for eight days, commencing the Twentieth & ending the Twenty Seventh both Inclusive; at fourpence Sterling per day, the time Judg’d necessary to March from Northfield to Hartford.

Fort No. 4, on Connecticut River, Nov. 17th, 1759.

Received of Lieutenant John Small of the Royal Highland Regiment the above mentioned sum five Pounds four shillings Sterling being the Allowance for Thirty Nine persons as above of Coll^o Wooster’s Connecticut Regt. under my Command.

“Reuben Ferres, Capt.”

See also Note 12, Appendix.

He also served in the Revolutionary war, as appears from the following abstract from the Revolutionary War Archives of the State of Massachusetts:

“Abel Prindle: appears with the rank of Private on Pay Roll of Capt. Ebenezer Newell’s Co., Col. Symond’s regt. Time of service, 6 days. Company marched from Lanesborough to Meloomscuyck, Aug. 14, 1777, on an alarm. Mileage (35 miles) allowed said Prindel.” Vol. 21:135.

The latter place named is the present Walloomsac, N. Y., where the “Battle of Bennington” was fought, August 16, 1777.

In this connection the following extract from the History of Berkshire Co., Mass., Vol. II., p. 104, will be found interesting:

“When the alarm went through the Berkshire towns that the stores at Bennington were to be attacked by the Hessians under Col. Baum, this town (Lanesboro) furnished its contingent, and three of the soldiers perished in battle. So intense was the feeling against the tories that in the town records, beautifully written and bordered with heavy black lines, is the following tribute to the two officers who were then killed: 'Lientenant Abel Prindle, of Lanesboro, in the County of Berkshire, State of Massachusetts Bay, departed this life on the 16th day of August, anno Christ 1777, being shot through the head at Bennington fight, supposed to be done by one Solomon Samuel Bunnell, a Tory and neighbor townsman of his who had turned to the enemy and was found under arms and taken prisoner at Bennington fight, who confessed he had done his best to kill his neighbor. The poor man not only received his mortal wound by this infidel, but was taken out of time and sent into the eternal world of spirits instantaneously, that is, not one moment of time to think or prepare himself for his great last change; but we have reason to believe God will be merciful to those who died in so just a cause.

"Thus departed this life as good a friend to the American cause, perhaps, as ever yet was born, and we trust there is laid up for him a crown of glory."

In "Williamstown and Williams College," by A. L. Perry, 1899, p. 113, is found this further reference:

"Captain Daniel Brown took up from Lanesboro a fine company of 46 men, mustered in on the 14th and six days in service, of which the two lieutenants, Isaac Nash and Abel Prindle, were killed in battle, and these two names are inscribed in the town records as those of patriots and martyrs, while the General Court afterwards reimbursed the town of Lanesboro in 160 pounds of powder and 580 pounds of lead and 240 flints, expended at Bennington from their own stock."

They rem. in 1835 to New York City; in 1840 to Norwich, Conn.; and in 1853 returned to Poultney, where he permanently located, and where he d. at the advanced age of nearly 95 years.

He was a watchmaker and jeweler. He was an intimate friend of Horace Greeley, having formed his acquaintance when Greeley was learning the printer's trade in the office of the "Northern Spectator." They left Poultney for New York at the same time, each entering into his own business there, but remaining firm and intimate friends until Mr. Greeley's death. Their families were also quite intimate, Mr. Greeley's daughters, often spending their summers at Mr. Prindle's home in East Poultney.

His family were all members of the Episcopal Church, and noted for their faithfulness and devotion to its interests.

11. JOEL PRINDLE.

JOEL⁴ PRINDLE (*Joseph*³, *Ebenezer*², *William*¹), son of Joseph and Sarah (Kimberly) Prindle, was born in Newtown, Conn., November 19, 1734; married, Wilton, Conn., May 22, 1757, Sabra Kimberly, daughter of Gideon and Mary (Osborne) Kimberly, who was born July 8, 1736. (For Kimberly ancestry see Appendix, Note 3.)

They removed to Sandgate, Vt., where she died February 9, 1798, and where he also died August 11, 1809. His will dated July 20, 1809, and probated November 6, 1809, mentions "my two children now living (viz.), Zalmon and Clory, and my grandchildren, the children of my two daughters, Bethia Gilbert, and Mable Taylor, deceased."

Sandgate Land Records show that Joel, with his two brothers Jonathan and Nathan, each bought 50 acres of land in the West part of the town from James Hard, of Arlington, Vt.—the town adjoining—on January 26, 1784, the consideration in each case being the same—eight pounds—and each calling himself as of Newtown, Conn.; also Joel Prindle, of Newtown, deeded, February 11, 1788, to his "son, Zalmon Prindle, of Sandgate," certain land there, the consideration being "love and affection;" also that Joel Prindle, of Newtown, Conn., bought, August 11, 1794, another 50 acres of land from James Hard, of Arlington, the consideration being the same in this case—eight pounds; also that Joel Prindle and Zalmon Prindle, of Sandgate, Vt., bought, November 2, 1803, from Jonathan Prindle, of Newtown, certain land in Sandgate, the consideration in this case being $150.

She was an Episcopalian, but on December 4, 1836, she was received into the fellowship of the Moravian Church, in Camden Valley, of which her husband was then an active member and officer. (For Cogswell ancestry see Note 6, Appendix.)

Melissa Watkins was born in Sandgate, July 10, 1801; died there July 14, 1872, and was buried in West Sandgate.

He was a large and successful farmer, a prominent and influential citizen, and filled many important town offices. At the organization of the Moravian Church in Camden Valley, just over the New York State line adjoining the town of Sandgate, on September 29, 1834, he was elected one of the board of trustees, "thirty votes being polled." and on September 30 was one of eleven persons received into its fellowship, and on February 16, 1835, was elected its treasurer. He actively assisted in the building of the meeting-house, and lost an ox by the breaking of its leg while hauling timber for the framework. Its first pastor, Rev. Charles Bleck, came to Camden in November, 1832, preached at Sandgate and Russell's Mills, called also Eagleville, N. Y., and served the church from 1835 to 1838. The church was disbanded March 29, 1869, by removal of the last minister, Rev. Benjamin Ricksecker, who served from July 27, 1859, "after a service of nine years and eight months amid many trials and difficulties."

ABIJAH PRINDLE.

Of this Abijah Prindle it is only known that he was an orphan and supposed to have been an only child, brought up by Benjamin and Ruhamah Billings, in Canandaigua, N. Y. He was born bef. 1787, and died bef. 1813. He married in Canandaigua, abt. 1807 (prob.), Jane Peters, dau. of Abijah and Nancy (——) Peters, of Philadelphia, who was born July 27, 1787, and died, Canandaigua, Sept. 30, 1874. The family tradition has it that Abijah Peters "fought in thirty-two battles by land and sea" in the Revolutionary war; and it is probable that he removed to western New York when the public lands there were opened for settlement to veterans of the Revolution, as the records show him to have been a sergeant.

This Abijah Prindle was accidentally killed, about 1811, by being dragged by an ox he was leading, leaving two young children, Nancy and Abijah, the latter then an infant. His widow, Jane Peters Prindle, married, 2nd, Aug. 21, 1813, Isaac LeGore (of Montreal, Canada), by whom she had eleven children, all but four of whom died young. Her second husband brought up little Abijah Prindle as one of his own, and in such a fatherly manner that the latter never knew that Isaac was not his father, and was called by his name as Abijah LeGore, until he himself came to marry when he was informed as to the facts, and his mother told him he ought to resume his own proper name of Prindle, which he did, but retained also the name of LeGore, as Abijah LeGore Prindle.

So far all attempts to trace his parentage and ancestry have only met with failure; and this much of his history is now noted here with the hope that it may lead to further information from any source, which will be most gratefully received by his descendants.

JOHN PRINDLE.

About all that is now known of this John Prindle is that he was a merchant of New Milford, Conn., from which place he removed, with his two sons Solomon and John, to Williamstown, Mass., and settled on Birch Hill. And as they were among the early settlers of Williamstown, and their descendants have been identified with its history, some brief reference to its early days may be found interesting.

After the peace of Aix-la-Chapelle, in 1748, which resulted in the temporary closing of the old French wars the following year, the General Court caused a survey to be made of the extreme

JOHN PRINDLE.

About all that is now known of this John Prindle is that he was a merchant of New Milford, Conn., from which place he removed, with his two sons Solomon and John, to Williamstown, Mass., and settled on Birch Hill. And as they were among the early settlers of Williamstown, and their descendants have been identified with its history, some brief reference to its early days may be found interesting.

After the peace of Aix-la-Chapelle, in 1748, which resulted in the temporary closing of the old French wars the following year, the General Court caused a survey to be made of the extreme northwestern corner of Massachusetts, and laid down the lines of two townships adjoining one another and called them East and West Hoosac, after the name of the river flowing through that valley. East Hoosac was the one first reached by the old Mohawk trail, the then only route of travel from the Deerfield to the Hoosac over the Hoosac mountain. Fort Massachusetts, the most westerly and important of the forts established between the Connecticut and Hoosac Rivers, was located on or near the line dividing these two townships, and in September, 1752, Capt. Ephraim Williams, then in command of this fort, bought two house lots in West Hoosac, and fifteen more were bought by his officers and men. At the renewal of the French and Indian wars nearly all the officers and men resumed their military service—the young men from Mass. and Conn. being about equal in numbers.

As the troubles at Crown Point became more serious Capt. Williams was ordered with his command to the assistance of Fort Edward, but when within about four miles of the fort they ran into an ambush, and Capt. Williams was killed at the first fire. It was afterwards found that in his will he had made a bequest for the support of a free school at West Hoosac, provided that when incorporated as a town the name should be changed to Williams-town.

Upon the ending of the French dominion in America, which was determined upon the Plains of Abraham, the old route to the northward from Mass. and Conn., which had for half a century been paths of Indian ambush, hand-to-hand conflict, and sudden death, became at once open and safe. And as West Hoosac was on the direct route of the expeditions to Tieonderoga and Crown Point, it is no wonder that officers and men, remembering this quiet valley, surrounded by those grand hills so well wooded and watered, afterward turned their faces thither to seek new homes. Prior to the incorporation of Williamstown, in 1765, comparatively few of the settlers came from the eastward over the rugged Hoosac Mountain, and it is noteworthy that with the exception of those who had served at the fort as soldiers nearly all the newcomers from Conn. were from the northwestern part, and from around Litchfield County as a center. In that year Rev. Whitman Welch, a native of Milford, Conn., but later, after the death of his father, living with an uncle in New Milford, where he married Marvin Gaylord, a daughter of Dea. Gaylord, was called to the charge of the new church at Williamstown. This young minister was much beloved by the people, and during his ten years' pastorate he kept in close touch with New Milford, and a goodly number of citizens from both Milford and New Milford followed him to Williamstown, where he helped them in establishing new homes. Among these early settlers are found the names of many prominent Conn. families, as Noble's, Boardman's, Deming's, Johnson's and Prindle's.

Just when John Prindle sold his store in New Milford, and came with his two sons to join his former townsmen who had preceded him, is not now definitely known, but from the "Proprietors' Book" we learn that about the year 1790 the 60-acre lot on Birch Hill had been drawn in favor of house lot 54, and it was upon this lot that John and his two sons built their new home. Here Solomon and John, Jr., married Sarah and Penelope Johnson, sisters, and reared their families under the old roof-tree which they themselves had helped to build.

About 1832 Solomon and Sarah, with their daughter Almira, who had married Henry Babcock, left the New England hills for the then "far west," and settled on a farm in Kalamazoo, Mich., where he lived until his death, and where his grandson Henry Babcock now lives.

John and Penelope remained on Birch Hill Farm, where he died in 1837, aged 61 years.

So far all efforts to trace the parentage and early history of this John Prindle, Sr., have been unsuccessful, and the foregoing is here noted with the hope that it may lead to further information from some source, and which will be most gladly received and appreciated by his descendants.

NOTE 1.

The name of WILLIAM PRINGLE, the emigrant and progenitor of the Prindle family traced in this volume, first appears in America, in the Colonial Records of New Haven, Conn., in 1653-54, where he is referred to as "the Scotchman which lives at Mr. Allerton's."

He took the oath of fidelity to the New Haven Jurisdiction, Theophilus Eaton, Governor, on April 4, 1654; married Mary Desborough, December 7, 1656; and, after living for some time in New Haven, bought about 1672, from the administrators of the estate of Sergeant Thos. Jeffreys, 24 acres of land in what is now West Haven, but then really a part of New Haven, and known as "West Farms," and settled there. This land lies between what is now Main and Elm Streets, and Second and Third Avenues, and the old house formerly stood in Second Avenue near Main Street. A part of this land is now owned and occupied by the children of Rollin W. and Lugevia (Prindle) Hine, descendants of the 8th generation, and lies opposite their present home. His name is not found on a list of residents of New Haven, 1640-50.

These brief items tell nearly all that is now known of William Pringle, but much more is needed to satisfy the interest in the progenitor of a family, and we find considerable information of value in the general history of the times and customs of the people where he dwelt.

Isaac Allerton was a passenger on the "Mayflower," and "was chosen to be an Assistante unto" Gov. Bradford for many years in succession. He was sent several times to England and to Holland to dispose of furs and other products of the Colony and given "full power to conclude the former bargains with ye adventurers." Having been given so much power some cause for dissatisfaction would naturally arise, and about 1632 his connection with the Plymouth Colony was severed, though he was not until several years after a settler of New Haven.

The New Haven Colony arrived at New Haven in the spring of 1638, having passed the winter in Boston, and was composed principally of members of the church and congregation of which the Rev. John Davenport was pastor, in Coleman Street, London. They came provided with means and "men skilled in various arts," and Cotton Mather writes "The Colony was under the conduct of as holy, and as prudent, and as genteel persons as most that ever visited these nooks of America."

Mr. Allerton came to New Haven to stay about 1646, and built a handsome house "all of oak and the best of joiner work," having four porches and equal in every respect to that of the Governor. The intervening years were probably spent in New York where he continued his trading, though the final settlement of his affairs with the Plymouth Colony dragged along for several years.

He was married three times, his first wife being Mary, the daughter of Elder Brewster, whose account of Mr. Allerton's relations to the Plymouth Colony is quaint and interesting, and gives us an idea of the man and his character, although he is mentioned only at long intervals in the Elder's diary.

. . . "Besides, through private gaine, I doe persuade my selfe, was some cause to lead Mr. Allerton aside in thse beginnings, yet I thinke, or at least charitie caries me to hope, that he intended to deale faithfully with them in ye maine, and had such an opinion of his own abilitie, and some experience . . . as he conceived he might both raise himselfe an estate, and allso be a means to bring in such profits to Mr. Sherley. . . . At length, they, having an opportunitie, resolved to send Mr. Winslow, with what beaver they had already, into England, to see how ye square wente, being very jealous of these things, and Mr. Allerton's courses."

Mr. Sherley writes also,

"I fear neither you nor we have been well delte withal . . . and yet for all this . . . I dare not but thinke him honest, and that his desire and intente was good."

In the Chronicles of New Haven Green, it is stated that,

"On the lower Green, in some place unknown, but supposed to be not far from the flagstaff, lies Isaac Allerton, one of the * Mayflower Pilgrims, and 'father of American Commerce'." *

This is the man under whose roof our William Pringle found a home, but for how long a time we do not know. The town records of New Haven make some interesting references to him, which gives us some idea of the man he was, as will be seen by the following extracts:

"Feb. 27, 1653.—The townsman were desired and appointed to speak with the Scotchman which lives at Mr. Allerton's, and see if they can agree with him to sweep the chimneys in the town according to the order made 13th of November, 1643."

"Jan. 28, 1655.—It was propounded that one might be gotten to sweep chimneys in the town. William Pringle was named, and some were desired to speak to him to come to the governor and speak with him about it."

"Feb. 11, 1655.—The governor further acquainted the town that

* He was associated also with Gevert Lookermans a wealthy trader of

New Amsterdam

William Pringle, who was spoke of to the last court to sweep chimneys for the town, had been with him, and propounded some difficulty in the work, but the manner of paying discouraged him much, but hoping that may be amended, he is willing to try another year, if the town will lend him 40 shillings in corn, and let him have a canvas frock, and hood, to cover his clothes when doth the work. But now, Peter Mallory, from him declared, that the 40 shillings to be lent, he let it fall, so he may have the frock propounded, and his pay for his work duly paid him. The town declared if canvas can be got, he shall have such a frock and hood, he promising that if he leave the work, to leave such garment to the town again, and that men pay him down for his labor, or otherwise to his content, but if not, upon complaint the court will see it remedied, and that all chimneys in the town be included. and none exempted from pay, though they sweep them themselves, provided that he come within such time Winter and Summer, as is expressed in an order in the town records."

"The 4th of the 10th month, 1656.—The townsmen are desired to treat with William Pringle and agree with him to sweep chimneys for the town as they see cause."

The inhabitants were obliged to have their chimneys swept twice a year, or be fined. The doer of the task was not looked down upon by the others, for there were many things essential to the welfare of such a community that were not particularly agreeable, but persons to perform such duties were appointed by the town meeting and regarded as a call to duty for the common welfare. Many of the early chimneys were built of logs and plastered with clay on the inner surface, and it was, therefore, a matter of self-protection to appoint and maintain the office of Chimney sweep. But it was sometimes difficult to get and keep one in the office, largely, no doubt, because "the manner of paying discouraged them much." for in 1658 "the townsmen informed the Court that they could prevail upon no man to be chimney sweeper." William's independent way of "treating with the townsmen" indicates his standing in the community.

After these records William's name appears in the transfer of property, and in the birth records of his children, etc. His will, dated October 17, 1689, and probated June 5, 1690, with inventory of his estate, also appear; but the exact date of his death is not now known.

William and Mary were in all probability buried in the ancient ground of New Haven Green, which was used as a place of burial from 1638 to 1812.

The part of this ground so used was that around and under the present Center Church, in the crypt of which are still preserved many headstones of the early settlers. When the Green was leveled in 1820 the stones that were in good condition were taken to the then new Grove Street Cemetery and placed against the stone fence, but none can be found there of William or Mary.

The vestry records of Christ Church date back as far as known only to 1778, while those of Trinity Church date back only a few years earlier, to 1767, and contain the names of many Prindles, including those of Joseph^{2, 3, 4}, at which time the Prindles of New Haven were, and ever since have been, staunch Episcopalians.

It is not known to what denomination William belonged, but in the assignment of seats in the old "meeting house," by order of the general court, Feb. 20, 1661-2, the name of William Pringle appears, with others, on the list of those seated "Below the door," and Mrs. Isaac Allerton is assigned a seat, with other women, "In the short seats at the upper end," Mr. Allerton having died in 1659. It is probable that William may have had a sitting in the meeting house before this time, as the last order of the court before this, assigning the seats, was dated 4 yrs. before and then the names of both Mr. and Mrs. Allerton appear.

Besides the name of William Pringle in 1653, on the New Haven records, we have a John Pringle, "after-planter," in 1645, on the Milford records; but thus far nothing further has been learned about him, nor of his relationship, if any, to William. He might easily have been an older brother, perhaps bringing William with him as a lad, for William does not take the oath of allegiance until 1654. Or perhaps William may have followed John a little later; possibly one or both "were adventurers" in a company brought over by Mr. Allerton. About these things, however, we can only conjecture. Of the traditions that come from more or less widely separated branches of the family, nearly all agree that there were "brothers" who came to this country, but differ as to the number, whether two or three, though all agree that one settled in Connecticut.

There were Prindles and Pringles in several of the colonies, but they were probably later emigrations from England and Scotland. In the old country they were most numerous in the border counties of Northumberland in England, and Roxburgh in Scotland, the earliest records of Pringles being found at the latter place.

NOTE 2.

The following copy, from the files of the Pension Bureau at Washington, of the application of Samuel⁴ (Samuel³, Samuel², William¹) for a pension, is of interest in connection with his service as a soldier of the Revolutionary war:

State of Vermont }
Rutland County } ss.:

On this 21st day of August, A. D. 1832, personally appeared in open Court before the Hon. Probate Court for district of Fairhaven in the County of Rutland now sitting Samuel Prindle a resident of Poultney in the County of Rutland & State of Vermont aged 85 years the 30th day of March last who first being duly sworn according to law doth on his oath make the following declaration in order to obtain the benefit of the Act of Congress passed June 7th 1832.

That he entered the service of the United States under the following named officers & served as herein stated—That in March 1775 he enlisted at New Milford Litchfield County Connecticut in a regiment commanded by Col Waterbury—the major's name was Hawby the Captain of his company was Joseph Smith Ensign Asbel Ruggles Orderly Sergant David Smith—That in about one month after enlisting he marched from New Milford into Newtown through Norwalk to Horseneck & remained there about one month on drill when Gen Washington called on his way to Boston & ordered them to New York—That he in the Regiment commanded by Col Waterbury & accompanied by three others (he thinks) marched to that place & encamped a short distance out of the City until sometime near the first of August when they received orders to leave for St. Johns—That he in company with the same Regiment aforesaid ascended the North River to Albany where he landed and marched to Halfmoon Point now Waterford—that he remained here three or four weeks when the army was separated into two divisions, one to advance to Ticondaroga by the way of Lake George, the other by Lake Champlain, that he marched to Skeensboro now Whitehall & there took boat to Ticondarago where the other division arrived two or three (days) after them—According to the best of his memory he remained here four or five weeks & then proceeded with the army under the command of Gens Schuyler and Montgomery down the lake in the Batteaux they had constructed (at) Ticondaroga to the Isle aux Noix which on their approach was abandoned by the enemy who retreated immediately to St Johns—that he with the American Army followed & landed on the west side of the lake within nearly one mile from the Fort. This shore the applicant says was a wilderness except a cleared place of a few rods on which stood a small log hut. That here he with the army had a skirmish with a party of Indians a few moments after their arrival—that fifteen Americans were killed & some wounded. Among the wounded was Major Hawby whom the applicant aided in bearing to the boat. That during this time Gen Schuyler remained on board the boat & soon after the engagement with the Indians he saw a well dressed gentlemanly appearing man issue from the woods & make a signal when he was permitted to pass & went on board the boat where Gen Schuyler had remained & after staying there two or three hours returned in the same direction he came—That soon after the stranger retired & on the same day they arrived he with the army were ordered back to Isle aux Noix where they went & (agreeable to the best of the applicants memory) remained ten or twelve days. He remembers that in consequence of the above named occurrence & the delay occasioned by their return, the officers & soldiers became disaffected with Gen Schuyler & also that during a very dark night a number of musket balls were fired through his markee, when the Gen immediately returned to Ticondaroga. That the command then developed upon Montgomery who led the applicant with the American army back to St Johns & commenced besieging the fort which surrendered after forty six days. That during this siege they took a number of prisoners who in small parties endeavoured to obtain a passage into the fort—That he with the American army took between six & seven hundred prisoners. About the last of November he with a hundred Americans comprising a guard for the prisoners & commanded by Capt Mott returned to the Isle aux Noix agreeable to orders. That he with the guard & prisoners proceeded up the lake & remained over night at the following named places—The 1st night at the Point of Fair, the 2nd on a small island in the (lake) in order to guard the prisoners with more ease & safety, the 3d at Crown Point, the 4th at Skeensboro (now Whitehall), the 5th at Fort Ann, the 6th at Fort Edward, the 7th he has forgotten, the 8th arrived at Albany where they remained two days to obtain conveyance down the North River. That four sloops were obtained one for the guard & two for the prisoners—That in the evening before they sailed while lying by the wharf, the applicant with two others by the name of Platt and Hogins went a few rods from shore to a tavern to obtain some cider; that while there the guard vessel moved off & they were compelled to go on board the sloop which contained the prisoners & there remain over night—That the next morning he informed the Captain of the sloop how they were situated & requested him to send them to their vessel. That the Captain went with them & on the way informed them that the prisoners in the rear sloop had during the preceding night obtained by the aid of some Tories at Albany a box of arms & ammunition confined the Captain & sailors on board their sloop & were prepared upon the first favourable breeze to take the other vessel containing the prisoners & run by or capture the guard vessel & join an English ship of war by the name of Asia then lying near New York—That upon Capt Mott receiving information of the above circumstances he sent the applicant with others who boarded the sloop, took the arms & ammunition unbound the Capt & sailors & soon after landed on the west side of the River and marched to Kingston & remained there until a sufficient number of militia were raised to take the prisoners to Philadelphia—That he having served nine months had a written discharge from Capt Mott in December of the same year which has long been lost. That in March 1776 he enlisted in a company for nine months commanded by Capt Lazarus Ruggles. Lieut Ashbel Ruggles Serjant Asa Warner & marched from New Milford to White Plains & joined the main army at that place under Gen Washington—That he with the army marched from there to New York remained there for some time, on different duties—that upon their approach he with the army fought upon the retreat back to White plains during which he remembers that the son of Capt Ruggles was taken prisoner with some others in his company—That he was in the battle at White plains which ensued & remembers that Capt Ruggles was wounded in the arm by a cannon ball, after which engagement the enemy retired to New York—That in October of the same year being informed that his wife was dangerously sick he hired a man for two months (at the end of which time the term for which he enlisted would have expired) when he received an honourable discharge & returned immediately to New Milford having served under this enlistment seven months.

He hereby relinquishes every claim whatever to a pension or annuity except the present & declares that his name is not on the pension roll of the agency of any State.

Sworn & Subscribed the day & year aforesaid

SAMUEL PRINDLE.

A Certificate of Pension, No. 15,577, was issued to this applicant, Samuel Prindle, August 16, 1833, and his name placed on Roll of Vermont at the rate of $53.33 per annum, to commence on the 4th day of August, 1831, under the Act of June 7, 1832.

The following interesting statement of the religious experience of this Samuel Prindle was found among his papers, and now contributed by one of his descendants, Mr. Charles I. Brooks, of New York City:

SAMUEL PRINDLE'S EXPERIENCE.

I was born in Newmilford in Connecticut in the year A. D. 1747 and brought up by Religious Parents in the Presbyterian order and had good instruction from them; but I lived much like the great part of youths, but I thought it was necessary to have Religion before I died, but Put it off for Some future time. When I was about fifteen I had been to a ball and we had agreed to have another the next week. One day as I was alone this question seemed to be put to me: Will you follow the vanity of this world and go to hell, or will you Seek Religion and go to heaven? I paused awhile and my conclusion was I could not bear to think of going to hell but I would go to the ball this once and then I would Seek Religion. But after I had been I thought but little about Religion but I intended when a more convenient time came then I would have religion, which I thought would be when I came to be Settled in the world. But alas when that time came I was no more ready or willing than before. My mind was taken up with the cares of this world but when I came to have children according to custom I went and owned the Covenant and had my Children Sprinkled and thought my Self about as good as other people. So I lived till I was about twenty-five years of age, when it Pleased God to bring a sore sickness upon me so that one night the neighbors and friends was called in thinking I was dying and I thought so too. But the Distress of my mind cannot be expressed by tongue or pen. I knew I was not Prepared for death but oh the eternity that opened to my view. If I had been going to be Cast into the midst of a burning fry fernis it would have been nothing in comparison to the thots of eternity which I expected soon to fall into. All the hopes I had was that my life mite be Spaird, which I earnestly prayed for and Promised the allmity if he would spair my life I would live a religious life. My request was granted and I recovered by degrees but as I recovered my Concern wore off and the Concern about the world increased for about three months when one day these words Came into my mind but and if that evil Servant Shall Say in his heart my Lord delayeth his Coming and shall begin to beat his fellow servant and to eat and to drink with the drunken the Lord of that servant shall come in a day when he thinketh not and in an hour that he is not aware of, and will cut him asunder etc. These words came with such power on my mind that had there been a hard clap of thunder in a clear day it would not have given me a greater shock. It seemd it was spoke to me. I was the very man My Promises came to my mind that I made to my Creator in my sickness but I had broke them. I was under very heavy Conviction for a great while. I then took to reading my bible and to pray in my family and in secret but I could find no Comfort about this time I dreamed tha

I was on a very Slippery Place by a great gulf where I could see no bottom and I went along and held by little bushes and any thing that I could get hold of to keep from slipping into the gulf and at last I got where I could not get anything to hold by and was just slipping off and I cryed Lord have mercy on me and immediately I was taken up without hands and set on the beautifull-est Rock that ever I saw and a clear Crystal stream of the pleasantest water that ever I drank issued out of the Rock which I followed down into a wilderness and I awoke and I beheld it was a dream. What the interpretation could be I could not think but I thought it implied some important event. My Concern still grew greater. I read in my bible Except a man be born again he Cannot see the Kingdom of God, but what it was to be born I knew not I thought I must do some good works or God would not accept of me so I went about to mend my ways and to Repent. But when I came to look into my own heart I see that there was no goodness there. My heart was at enmity with God. My Repentance was nothing but fear of Punishment. I had no love for God. Sometimes I thought of giving all up and not troubling myself about Religion but I dare not. Sometimes I was Greatly afraid I had committed the unpardonable sin but at last I was brought to see it would be just with God to cast me off forever and I despaired of ever making myself any better and I Concluded to go and Cast myself at the foot of mercy so I went away alone and Prostrated myself on the ground and said god be mercyfull to me a poor helpless sinner but by the time I had got to the ground these words came to my mind say not in your heart who shall ascend into heaven that is to bring Christ down from above or who shall descend into the deep to bring Christ up from the dead. The word is nigh thee the word which we Preach that if thou shalt Confess with thy mouth the Lord Jesus and shalt believe in thine heart that god hath Raised him from the dead thou shalt be saved. I did then believe that God had Raised Christ from the dead and that the Father, the son and the holy ghost was united in the salvation of all that believed in him. I felt willing to resine myself and all I had into his hands and oh the happiness I then enjoyed is beyond tongue or pen to describe. There is none but them that has felt the same that can have an idea of that joy. It is a joy that the world cannot give or take away. God appeared to be Just such a one as I wished him to be and I cryed out Glory be to the father, to the son and to the holy ghost and I had a desire that all rational creatures should give honor and Prais and Glory to him that sets upon the throne and to the lamb forever and ever. When I came to get up I could not think what was the meaning of what had past in my mind but the concern of my mind was gone and I did not know what was agoing to become of me but the way of life and salvation through Jesus Christ appeared so Glorious that I wanted everybody to except of it but what would become of me for I did not at that time think myself Converted. But my Concern of mind was gon but it was not long before it came into my mind what our Saviour said to Nicodemus of being born of the Spirit the wind bloweth where it listeth and we hear the sound thereof but canst not tell whence it cometh and whither it goeth so is everyone that is born of the spirit and I felt Peas of Conscience and Joy in the holy ghost and I thought I should never have any inclination to do anything contrary to the will of God but it was not long before I found I had temptations to strive against but I ment by divine assistance to maintain Religion in my soal. Soon after the Revolution war bokeot (broke out) and I thought it my duty to stand for the liberty of my Country and I enlisted into the servis in the year A.D. 1775 and in the year A.D. 1776 for 8 or 9 months each year and in the year A.D. 1777 I set up a salt works at New-field now called Bridgeport and followed that till the war ended. Then I moved to ferrisburg (Vt.) and lived there about four years and my wife died and about a year and a half after I marryed again to a woman that was a baptis by profession which was a demomination that I knew but little about but I thought they was not right. I thought that infant sprinklin was the rite way of baptism I had never heard it disputed and I thought I could convince my wife but I said nothing to her nor she to me on that subject. I thought it not best before I could bring scripture evidenee sufficient to prove it so went to searching the bible and I read the new testament through and noted every place that I thought any way favored infant baptism but I could not find the evidence that I expected. I thought I had mist some then I read the whole of the New testament through by corce again but I could not find that even there was an infant baptised anyway. What to do I did not know. I thought of going to some pedo baptis to see if he could give me some instruction but I thought that the bible was the likeliest to give me the best there was number of places that I thought some ways favored infant baptism but I could not be fully satisfied. It was said by som that it came in the room of circumcision. I was sprinkled in infancy and I thought if that was an institution of god it was a great thing to renounce it so I thought I would go to him who was able to instruct me in the right way so went alone and praed and promised that if God would make none my duty that I would endeavor to perform it. My duty was then made known to me clearly. The places of scripture that had been a dispute in my mind was clearly opened to my mind as to circumcision it came to me in this way when a child was eight days old it was a fit subject for circumcision in the old covnant so in the new covnant when a person was born again thay was fit subjects for baptism and I felt fully satisfied that the baptis was right and my duty was plain and I went forward the first opportunity.

I am now entered on my ninety-third year about one month and twelve days there is something on my mind that has been a living Experience on the subject of war that is of learning or bearing arms as the Sivil (law?) Directs of standing in our Defence of our nattuall lives by searching the new testament I find there is nothing that will uphold it but altogether to the reverse from it. This is a subject that has been laid before my mind for about ten years and i leave these lines of my experience to show to the Reader my mind as I think it very important to make our calling and election sure and now when I have my facultyes bright if these lines will be of any use to any is the sincere Desire of the author as I conceive that we have got to Come into perfect obedience to him who shed his precious blood and laid down his precious life for all that would come for all that he cast none away that came by him that Declared I am the Door of the true Sheep fold any one that will Come to me I will in no wise cast away but he shall go in and out and find pasture. If any is at a loss respecting any subject let them remember that God is love and so loved the world that he sent his only begoten son that whosoever believeth in him should have everlasting life and come into the Spirit of Christ for the apostle tells us that any man (that) hath not the Spirit of Christ he is none of his.

Samuel Prindle, of Poultney, Vermont.

KIMBERLY ANCESTRY OF THE DESCENDANTS OF JOSEPH AND SARAH (KIMBERLY) PRINDLE, JOEL AND SABRA (KIMBERLY) PRINDLE, CURRENCE PRINDLE AND ABEL BURRITT KIMBERLY, AND ABRAHAM AND BETSEY ANN (KIMBERLY) PRINDLE.

1. THOMAS KIMBERLY.

Thomas Kimberly, the emigrant ancestor, came from London and was one of the Founders of the New Haven Colony. He was in Dorchester, Mass., in 1635, and had a wife Alice with whom he removed to New Haven in 1638-9, where she died in 1659.

He married (2) Mary ———, and removed to Stratford, Conn., where he was made freeman in 1668, and later in that year purchased land from Joseph Hawley. He died there in January, 1671-2, and the inventory of his estate was valued at 160 pounds and 16 shillings.

His widow Mary married (2), in 1673, Eliasaph Preston, by whom she had a daughter Mary, born April 12, 1674. In his will, dated Jan. 11, 1671-2, he names the following children, and several grandchildren:

Children:

- i. Eleazer, bapt. Nov. 17, 1639. He is said to have been the first white male child born in New Haven; was schoolmaster at Wethersfield in 1661, and continued as such at intervals until 1689; succeeded John Allyn as Secretary of the Colony of Connecticut, in 1696, and so continued until his death. His home was on the east side of the river in what is now called Glastonbury, where he died in 1709. His son Thomas and four daughters were mentioned in his will.
- ii. Thomas, b. ———; m. Hannah ———; was a freeman in 1669, and a proprietor at New Haven in 1685, where he died in Feb. 1705, leaving no children.
2. iii. Abraham, b. ———; m. Hannah ———; d. bef. 1701.
- iv. Nathaniel, b. ———; was one of the proprietors of New Haven in 1685, and died in West Haven in 1705.
- v. Abiah, bapt. Dec. 19, 1641; m. Israel Boardman.
- vi. Mary, b. ———; m. Nathaniel Hayes.
- vii. Hannah, b. 1656.

2. ABRAHAM KIMBERLY.

Abraham Kimberly, b. ———; married Hannah ———, and had a daughter, Mary, who was bapt. in New Haven, July 24, 1659; removed to South Carolina, where his other children were born; but was not "killed by the Indians" there, according to a tradition, as he returned and settled in Stratford, Conn., where he died before 1680.

He was quite prominent in town offices and work. His widow Hannah married (2) John Curtis, Jr., and died before 1701.

Children:

- i. Mary, bapt. July 24, 1659; prob. d.y.
- ii. Mary, b. "in ye County of Charolina," May 4, 1668; m. John Blakeman, gr.son of Rev. Adam Blakeman.
- iii. Abigail, b. 1670; m. Ebenezer Blakeman, also gr.son of Rev. Adam Blakeman.
- iv. Sarah, b. in County of Albemarle; Province of Carolina, Aug. 1, 1672; m. Sergeant Benjamin Hurd, son of John and gr.son of Adam Hurd, who was one of the first settlers of Stratford, Conn., in 1639, who was b. Feb. 16, 1667, and rem. to Woodbury, Conn.
3. v. Abraham, 2nd, b. Albemarle, Province of So. Carolina, March 14, 1674-5; m. Abigail Fitch; d. March 20, 1727-8.

3. ABRAHAM KIMBERLY, 2ND.

Abraham Kimberly, 2nd, was born in the County of Albemarle, Province of Carolina, March 14 or 15, 1674-5; m. in Stratford, Conn., May 11, 1696, Abigail Fitch, daughter of Thomas and Sarah Fitch, of Wethersfield, Conn., and gr.son of Samuel Fitch; died in Newtown, Conn., before March 20, 1727-8, leaving widow Abigail and nine children. His son Abraham was appointed, July 26, 1727, administrator of his estate, valued at 652 pounds. He was one of the original proprietors of Newtown, and his name is prominently mentioned in the early records of the town.

Children:

- i. Hannah, b. Jan. 19, 1698; m. James Hard.
- ii. Abigail, b. April 25, 1699; m. John Lake.
4. iii. Abraham, 3rd, b. April 29, 1702; m. Abigail Adams; d. June 1, 1772.
5. iv. Gideon, b. ———; m. Mary Osborne; d. Feb., 1759.
- v. Thomas, b. ———; on March 7, 1735; he makes choice of his bro. Abraham as his guardian.
6. vi. Sarah, b. abt. 1708; m. JOSEPH PRINDLE³; d. 1758, ae. 50.
- vii. Mary, b. ———.
- viii. Abiah, b. ———.
- ix. Prudence, b. ———.

4. ABRAHAM KIMBERLY, 3RD.

Abraham Kimberly, 3rd, was born April 29, 1702; married, Oct. 31, 1725, Abigail Adams, daughter of Freegrace Adams; died June 1, 1772, ae. 70; resided in Newtown, and later removed to Guilford, Conn.

Children:

- i. Jedediah, b. Feb. 8, 1725-6.
 - ii. Anah, b. Aug. 8, 1727; m. Sept. 2, 1747, John Dunning.

 - iv. Abiah, b. Aug. 13, 1731; m. July 19, 1750, Michael Dunning.
 - v. Mary, b. March 3, 1733; m. Dec. 25, 1752, Isaac Bostwick.
 - vi. Fitch, b. Dec. 22, 1736; m. Milford, Conn., July 6, 1758, Abigail Woodruff; d. Watertown, May 3, 1813. He served in the French war, in 1756, in the Regt. of Col. Andrew Ward of Guilford, where he lived. He also served in the Revolutionary war, having enlisted as a private in Capt. Jarius Wilcox's Co., March, 1778, for three years, from Newtown.
7. vii. Abraham, 4th, b. Jan. 6, 1739; m. Feb. 14, 1760, Tamar Burritt.

5. GIDEON KIMBERLY.

Gideon Kimberly, was born ———; married Oct. 9, 1735, Mary Osborne, of Stratford; makes choice of his brother Abraham as his guardian, Dec. 12, 1728; d. Norwalk, Conn., Feb. 1749. Nathan Hubbell, Jr., appointed administrator of his estate, Dec. 20, 1759; inventory dated Feb. 22, 1759.

Children:

8. i. Sabra, b. July 8, 1736; m. JOEL PRINDLE⁴; d. Feb. 9, 1798.
- ii. Phebe, b. ———; m. Dec. 1, 1765, William Burwell.
and perhaps others.

6. SARAH KIMBERLY.

Sarah Kimberly, born ———; married JOSEPH PRINDLE³, (*Ebenezer*², *William*¹), son of Ebenezer and Elizabeth (Hubby) Prindle, of Newtown, Conn., who was born New Haven, abt. 1703, bapt. Milford July 4, 1703, and died Newtown, Nov. 11, 1772. She died Sept. 22, 1758, ae. 50.

7. ABRAHAM KIMBERLY, 4TH.

Abraham Kimberly, 4th, was born Jan. 6, 1739; married Feb. 14, 1760, Tamar Burritt, who died Oct. 1, 1768, ae. 30, in giving birth to son Abel Burritt; married (2) Isabel ———; removed to Sandgate, Vt., and Salem, N. Y. where he died about 1809. His will dated Jan. 21, 1808, and probated June 14, 1809, mentions his wife Isabel; eldest son Abel B.; sons Abraham and Ichabod; daughters Jerusha Busby and Sally Ann; two grandchildren Jonathan Northrop and Ann Peck, the children of daughter Mary Northrop.

He served with his brother Fitch in the French war, in 1756, in the Regt. of Col. Andrew Ward of Guilford, where they lived. He also served in the Revolution, having been appointed by the Assembly, Jan. 7, 1777, "Lieutenant of the western alarm list company in the town of Newtown, in the 16th Regt. of this State."

Children:

- i. Mary, bapt. Aug. 31, 1760; m. ——— Northrop.

- iii. Ann, b. July 1, 1764.
- iv. Jerusha, b. May 18, 1766; m. ——— Bushy.
9. v. Abel Burritt, bapt. Oct. 16, 1768; m. CURRENCE PRINDLE⁵.
- vi. Abraham, 5th, b. ———; rem. to Rochester, N. Y. Land records of Washington Co., N. Y., show transfer, by deed dated Oct. 1, 1829, from Abraham Kimberly of Rochester, N. Y., to Abraham C. Lansing of Lansingburg, N. Y., of "land in Cockburn's Patent in Salem, N. Y., being the farm Abraham Kimberly, deceased, formerly owned and now occupied by Ichabod Kimberly, bounded north by lands of Abel Kimberly," etc.
- vii. Ichabod, b. ———.

8. SABRA KIMBERLY.

Sabra Kimberly was born July 8, 1736; married in Wilton, Conn., May 22, 1557, JOEL PRINDLE⁴, (Joseph³, Ebenezer², William¹), son of Joseph and Sarah (Kimberly) Prindle, who was born in Newtown, Conn., Nov. 19, 1734; removed to Sandgate, Vt., where he died Aug. 11, 1809. She died in Sandgate, Feb. 9, 1798.

9. ABEL BURRITT KIMBERLY.

Abel Burritt Kimberly, was born in Newtown, Conn., Oct. 16, 1768; married CURRENCE PRINDLE⁵, (Nathan⁴, Joseph³, Ebenezer², William¹), daughter of Nathan and Ann (Bristol) Prindle, who was born in Newtown, Oct. 7, 1773, and removed in 1784, with her parents, to Sandgate, Vt.

Children:

10. i. Betsey Ann, b. Oct. 8, 1795; m. ABRAM PRINDLE⁶; d. April, 1864.
- ii. Ann, b. March 19, 1799; m. John J. Steele; d. Salem, N. Y., Nov. 3, 1870, and bur. in Evergreen Cemetery there.
- iii. Jerusha Ann, b. 1801; d. March 8, 1829, in the 28th year of her age; bur. in West Sandgate, Vt.

10. BETSEY ANN KIMBERLY.

Betsey Ann Kimberly was born in Sandgate, Vt., Oct. 8, 1795; married her second cousin, ABRAM PRINDLE⁶ (Zalmon⁵, Joel⁴, Joseph³, Ebenezer², William¹), son of Zalmon and Mary (Williams) Prindle, who was born in Sandgate, Vt., Aug. 5, 1792, and died in Hebron, N. Y., May 3, 1852. She died in Camden Valley, Washington, Co., N. Y., April, 1864.

NOTE 4.

ZALMON PRINDLE, the only son of Joel⁺ and Sabra (Kimberly) Prindle, was born in Newtown, Fairfield County, Connecticut, January 11, 1758.

He was a soldier of the American Revolution from February 23, 1777, to June, 1783, having enlisted at the age of nineteen, with the following record of service as it appears on the files of the War Department, Washington, D. C.:

"It is shown by the records that one Zalmon Prindle served as a private in Captain Samuel Comstock's Company, 8th Connecticut Regiment, Revolutionary War. He enlisted February 23, 1777, to serve during the war; was transferred in January, 1781, to Captain Comstock's Company, also designated that 2nd Company, 5th Connecticut Regiment, commanded by Lieutenant Colonel Isaac Sherman; again transferred November 1, 1782, to the 3rd Company, 2nd Connecticut Regiment, commanded by Colonel Heman Swift, and his name last appears on the muster roll of that organization dated May 26, 1783."

The following is also abstracted from the Record of Connecticut men in the War of the Revolution. Adj. Gen.'s Office, Hartford, 1889:

"Zalmon Prindle, enlisted from Newtown, Conn., February 3, 1777, for the war, as private in Capt. Samuel Comstock's Company, Eighth Regiment, Col. Chandler, of the 'Connecticut Line,' in the formation of 1777-1781; transferred to the Fifth Regiment. Lt. Comdnt. Sherman, 'Connecticut Line,' in the formation of 1781-1783; and to Capt. Munson's Company, Second Regiment, Col. Heman Swift, 'Connecticut Line,' in the formation of January-June, 1783."

The service rendered by these Regiments is summarized as follows:

Eighth Regiment, "Connecticut Line," Formation of 1777-1781. Raised from January 1, 1777, for the new "Continental Line" to serve through the war. Enlisted in Litchfield and other Counties. Went into the field at Camp Peekskill, spring of 1777. Ordered into Pennsylvania, under Gen. McDougall, it fought at Germantown, October, 1777, and suffered some loss. Assigned to Varnum's Brigade, October 16. A detachment from the Regiment, with one from Durkee's, continued the stubborn defense of Fort Mifflin, Mud Island, Penn., November 12-16, 1777, and "lost some gallant officers and men." Wintered at Valley Forge, 1777-1778, and on June 28th following present at battle of Monmouth. Encamped during the summer at White Plains with Huntington's Brigade. Wintered 1778-1779 at Redding. In summer of 1779, on the Hudson, east side; its light Company under Capt. Munson detached to Meig's Light Regiment and engaged in storming of Stony Point, July 15, 1779. Wintered 1779-1780 in "Morristown huts," Morristown, N. J. Wintered 1780-1781 at Camp "Connecticut Village," above Robinson's house, just back of Constitution Island opposite West Point, about a mile and a half from the river and not far from the main road, and advantageously situated as lying between two mountains, and there consolidated for the formation of 1781-1783, the men and officers receiving furlough in rotation while here.

Fifth Regiment, "Connecticut Line," Formation of 1781-1783. Fifth Regiment, in the second formation of the "Line," serving from January 1, 1781, to January 1, 1783; composed of the First and Eighth Regiments of the previous formations. In "Camp Phillipsburg," near Dobbs Ferry, and formed in order of battle in July 1781. Marched down nearer New York, and then returned to Phillipsburg and Camp "Connecticut Village." The Commander-in-chief, Washington, visited this camp, April 13, 1782. At Camp Verplanck's Point, in order of battle, August-October, 1782. From there marched to West Point, crossing the Hudson at Newburg, where it went into winter quarters for the last time during the war.

This Regiment was consolidated in December, 1782, for the third formation of January-June, 1783.

Second Regiment, "Connecticut Line." Formation of Jan.-June, 1783.

The Second Regiment, in the third formation of the "Line," of January-June, 1783, was composed of the Second and Fifth Regiments of the previous formations. It remained in camp at West Point and vicinity from January 1, 1783, until early in June, when, by Washington's orders, it was disbanded with the greater portion of the army. A certain number of men were retained from the Regiment of the last formation.

It is most probable that while in camp and during the operations of the army in the Manor of Phillipsburg, the young soldier first met Mary Williams, the daughter of Abraham and Mary (See) Williams then living there, Abraham being also a soldier of the Revolution, for in the year following the disbandment of his regiment we find the record of their marriage, on May 13, 1784, at South Salem, N. Y., near the Connecticut border, where her mother, then a widow, had removed after the capture of her husband Abraham, by the British and Tories, at the time of the assault upon Young's House, the headquarters of the American forces, on the night of February 3, 1780.

They removed to Tarrytown, N. Y., where their son Zenas was born, April 17, 1786, and soon after again removed to Sandgate, Vermont, where his father Joel, uncles Nathan and Jonathan, and other kindred from Newtown, Conn., had preceded him. In those early days traveling in the interior was largely on horseback, and in this manner the young wife and mother, with her infant son Zenas in her arms—their first born, Joel Wm., having died when eight days old—made the journey to their new home in the sparsely settled and mountainous country of Vermont, where they settled near those who had preceded them, on Prindle Hill, in the western part of the town and near the New York State line.

The township of Sandgate, in Bennington County, was one of the New Hampshire Grants, its charter having been granted by Gov. Benning Wentworth, August 11, 1761, to John Park and 65 others, embracing 23,040 acres, in 72 shares. Its first settler was a Mr. Bristol, who located there in 1771. Reuben Thomas was also one of the first settlers in Sandgate. He was one of its first justices of the peace, and its first town representative to the State Legislature, in October, 1778. His son, Samuel Thomas, was the first child born in town, September 15, 1772, who served as justice of the peace for 12 years and was also elected town representative to the Legislature, in 1825.

It may prove interesting to note here that this Samuel Thomas married Miriam Sherman, and that their son, Dr. Samuel Thomas, who was born May 15, 1807, married January 14, 1841, Jane Cogswell, daughter of Samuel and Joanna (Smith) Cogswell whose sister Hannah married Zenas⁶ Prindle.

The first highway was laid out through the middle of the town, passing through "The Notch," in March, 1781. The first deed of land transfer was executed in 1778, and entered on the town records, May, 1782.

The emigration to this new country must have been considerable, for a few years after, in 1791, according to the census of that year, the population had increased to 773. Many families came from Newtown, Conn., and vicinity, and settled on the west side of town, some of whose descendants still remain. Among these from Newtown were several Prindles: Joel¹, Nathan¹, and Jonathan¹, who were sons of Joseph²; Ammon⁵, son of Eliada⁴ and grandson of Joseph³; and Zalmon⁵, son of this Joel¹.

The Land Records show that Nathan was the first to become a land owner there, on May 25, 1782, when he acquired 50 acres from Amon Hard, of Newtown, Conn., for 25 pounds. On October 18, 1783, he acquired another 50 acres from Samuel Drinkwater, of Sandgate, for 20 pounds, and on January 26, 1784, these three brothers—Joel, Nathan and Jonathan—all "of Newtown," each acquired a tract of 50 acres from James Hard, of the adjoining town of Arlington, Vt., the consideration being the same, 8 pounds, in each case. In the summer of that year Nathan, with his family, removed to Sandgate, and on September 20th following he acquired still another 50 acres, this time from Samuel Bristol, of Sandgate, for 100 pounds. After this he no longer calls himself as of Newtown, but as "of Sandgate, Vermont."

Joel Prindle, on August 11, 1794, still "of Newtown, Conn.," acquires another 50 acres from James Hard for 8 pounds, and after that he calls himself as "of Sandgate, Vt."

Jonathan Prindle, on December 5, 1793, acquires 10 acres from David Tuttle, of Sandgate, for one pound and three shillings; and on January 19, 1799, another 50 acres from George Peck, of Sandgate, for one dollar. In all the transfers in which his name appears he calls himself as "of Newtown, Conn.," and it is not certain that he ever removed to Vermont to live for any great length of time, if indeed at all, or ever transferred his citizenship from his native town and state where he is reported to have died February 15, 1814. We find that on November 2, 1803, he transferred his holdings in Sandgate to Joel and Zalmon, for $150, which terminated his property interests in Vermont.

Ammon Prindle, "of Sandgate," on January 6, 1786, acquires from Amos Tuttle 43 acres for 17 pounds, and on November 1, 1791, transfers the same to Sarah Cogswell for 28 pounds, he then calling himself "of Newtown," from which it would appear that he had returned to his native state.

The name of Zalmon Prindle first appears of record there on February 11, 1788, when "Joel Prindle, of Newtown, in the County of Fairfield, State of Connecticut, for the consideration of the love, affection, and good will, I have and bear toward my son, Zalmon Prindle, of Sandgate, County of Bennington, State of Vermont," transfers unto the said Zalmon 30 acres of land adjoining his other land, and also adjoining land of Nathan Prindle.

All subsequent land records under the name of Prindle show transfers only to or from Joel and Nathan and their descendants, of which more than one hundred were entered prior to 1850.

The tradition runs that when the first settlers of the Prindle family sought a new home in southwestern Vermont, they traversed the country along the Battenkill—a tributary of the Hudson River—and, disdaining the lower pine lands of the valley as more or less unhealthy, pressed onward and upward toward the higher and hardwood timber-land which indicated to them more healthful surroundings, and finally settled on the top of the low mountain still known as "Prindle Hill."

Here they cleared away the forest, built them log houses and barns, brought the hard and stony soil under subjection; raised, spun, and wove flax and wool for clothing, and reared their sturdy families for many years under pioneer conditions and in comparative isolation; the succeeding generations gradually forsaking the unthankful soil of the mountain top for the better and more accessible, though limited, intervals and less hilly lands below.

A recent visit to this interesting locality showed but few remains of the olden time. A few depressions in the earth mark the sites of the old homes of which not a vestige remains, even of the one in which the compiler remembers to have spent a night with the family in his childhood. The formerly cultivated fields and meadow land have relapsed into poor pasture lands, while these in turn are being overgrown with new timber and underbrush which will ere long take the place of the original forest, and little be left to indicate the former period of toil and struggle and deprivation of those of our ancestors, who here sought so courageously to subdue, and did for a time, the unfriendly conditions of such primitive surroundings.

In now visiting this region one is reminded of the rhyme beginning

“Up in Vermont where the hills are so steep,

The farmers use ladders to pasture their sheep,” etc., and the impromptu lines of a native son of the soil there:

“Poor old Sandgate! All 'round hemmed in;

Three sides mountains, t'other side Camden.”

are still remembered by living descendants of those early settlers who appreciated the one only, and comparatively easy, outlet over the “York State line,” to a more advanced civilization along the valley of the Battenkill, via “Camden Valley,” through which the famous trout stream of Terrell's Brook still flows.

Here Zalmon Prindle lived and toiled as a farmer for twenty-five years, and died August 19, 1811, at the age of 53, a victim of an epidemic, said to have been then prevailing and which also carried off other residents of Prindle Hill, and leaving a widow and eight children to mourn his untimely death.

His widow, Mary—who was also called Polly—survived him for fifty years, and died March 19, 1861, in her 95th year.

They now lie side by side in the old burying ground in West Sandgate, with a plain marble head-stone to mark the place and bearing the simple inscription:

ZALMON PRINDLE

died

AUG. 19, 1811,

in his 53rd year.

My flesh shall slumber in the ground,
Till the last trumpet's joyful sound;
Then burst the chain with sweet surprise
And in my Saviour's image rise.

It is much to be hoped that his descendants will erect to his memory a substantial monument of granite, upon which shall be deeply engraven these words:

A PATRIOT SOLDIER of the
AMERICAN REVOLUTION
who faithfully served for more than six years in the achievement of
AMERICAN INDEPENDENCE
Feb. 1777-June 1783.

NOTE 5.

MARY WILLIAMS, daughter of Abraham Williams and Mary See, his wife, was born in the Manor of Phillipsburg, Westchester County, N. Y., June 23, 1766. She was baptized in the First Reformed Dutch ("Sleepy Hollow") Church, Tarrytown, N. Y., as Mareitie Sie, with David Stoerm and Liesbeth his wife, as witness or sponsors, October 28, 1766; and married at South Salem, Westchester County, N. Y., May 13, 1784, Zalmon⁵ Prindle, son of Joel⁴ and Sabra (Kimberly) Prindle, of Newtown, Conn., who was a soldier of the American Revolution, 1777-1783.

They removed to Sandgate, Bennington County, Vt., in 1786, the wife and mother carrying her infant son Zenas in her arms on horseback, as was the manner of journeying in the more unsettled parts of the country in those early days.

She died at Fort Edward, Washington County, N. Y., on March 19, 1861, at the advanced age of 95 years, and was buried by the side of her husband—surviving him for nearly half a century—in the old burying ground in West Sandgate, having long been known, loved, and revered as "Granny Prindle," at once a daughter and a widow of patriotic soldiers of the Revolution, the one having given his life, and the other more than six years of his, to the service of his country in its struggle for the achievement of American Independence.

The history of ABRAHAM WILLIAMS and family, though all too brief so far as now known, is an interesting one.

He was born in Phillipsburg, of Dutch ancestry running back on both sides for many generations. According to the "Sleepy Hollow" Church records he was baptized July 5, 1746, though probably born a few years earlier, as the son of Jan Williams and Zara Stuyvers, his wife, with Abraham and Rachel Jurekse as witnesses.

He married, October 31, 1761, Mary See, daughter of David Zie and Raghel Gerdenier, his wife, of Phillipsburg, where she was born August 22, 1742, and baptized June 23, 1743. The records show that "Abraham Williams and Marytie Sie, his wife," were received as Members of the "Sleepy Hollow" Church, September 3, 1765.

He served as a soldier in the Colonial service, as well as in the Continental Army. But of the former service we have only the brief record from the Report of the State Historian, 1897, where it is stated, Vol. I., p. 942, on muster roll of men raised and passed muster in Westchester County, N. Y., for Joshua Bloomer, April 30, 1759, for service in the French war, that "Abraham Williams enlisted March 23; age 21; born in Phillipsburg; volunteer; out of Capt. Buckhout's Co. of Militia; Capt.

Bloomer enlisting officer; 5 ft. 7 in. high; light blue eyes and hair."

The exact date of his entering the Revolutionary army has not been ascertained, but it must have been as early as 1777, as would appear from the official records on file in the Comptroller's Office at Albany, N. Y., that Abraham Williams, of Col. Hamman's Westchester County Regiment, gave receipt to Captain Martling for pay for one year's service.

Also a receipt roll of Lieutenant Cornelius Van Tassel for services under his command, in 1778, containing the receipt of Mary Williams for amount due her husband, Abraham Williams, dated at Phillipsburg, February 14, 1785.

Other records place him at different times in Capt. Coomb's and Capt. Orser's Companies of Militia, and his name appears several times in local Revolutionary annals; and from the records of the War Department at Washington, we have the following:

"It is shown by the records that one Abram Williams, whose rank is not stated, served as a member of Captain Daniel Martling's Company, Colonel Hammond's Regiment, New York Militia, Revolutionary war. His name appears on a receipt roll dated January 3, 1785, which shows him paid £31, 16s, 5d, for one year's service. Neither the date of beginning nor the date of termination of his service has been found of record.

"The name Abrm Williams also appears on a receipt roll dated at Phillipsburg, February 14, 1785, which shows that Mary Williams received for her husband, Abrm Williams, the sum of 's14, d2 2/3' for service under the command of Lieutenant Cornelius Van Tassel during the year 1778.

"The name Abraham Williams also appears on a muster roll 'of the men received from the county of Westchester, N. Y., by Capt. Richard Sackett.' This roll, which is not dated, shows the following in the case of this soldier: Age 16; feet 5, inches 5; hair light; eyes light; complexion light; where born, Co^t Morer (Cortland Manor); place of abode, Co^t Morer; occupation farmer; time of enlistment 1 May, 17—.

"The name Abraham Williams also appears on the records as that of a private of Captain Richard Sackett's Company, Colonel Albert Pawling's Regiment, New York Militia, but the period of his service is not recorded."

As our Abraham Williams died, a British prisoner of war, in December, 1780, he should not be confounded with the younger Abraham Williams mentioned in the first, third and fourth paragraphs of this official record, who served in Captain Martling's and Captain Sackett's Companies, the record of the elder Abraham appearing only in the very brief second paragraph above.

The church records show that this younger Abraham was baptized April 20, 1763, as the son of William Willemse and Hester Waldron, his wife, with Abraham Williams and Marytie Cie, his wife, as witnesses.

His name is also mentioned as being in the party of seven who were engaged in the capture of Andre, having been one of the four stationed near David's Hill, where they separated, Sergeant John Dean, Isaac See, James Romer, and Abraham Williams remaining on the Hill, while James Paulding, Isaac Van Wart, and David Williams proceeded on the Tarrytown road about a mile and concealed themselves in the bushes until the approach of Andre.

The family tradition is that our Abraham Williams, who married Mary See, was a cousin of David Williams and Isaac Van Wart, two of the captors of Major Andre. That there was a relationship, and doubtless a close one, makes it of special interest to his descendants.

The Sleepy Hollow Church records show that Aert (Arthur) Williams was the father of this David who married Femmetie Waldron, and that William Willemse married her sister Hester Waldron. Jan Williams, the father of Abraham, may have been of an earlier generation but they were doubtless brothers or cousins of a near or remote degree.

The Van Wart relationship was through the marriage of Rachel Williams, sister of Aert Williams, and Martinus Van Wart, the father of Isaac, who was thus an own cousin to David and probably a cousin once removed to Abraham Williams.

Abraham and Mary had a son Abram, born February 13, 1775, and this Abram had a son Abram, born October 12, 1802, one of twelve children.

The active service of Abraham Williams the elder, in the Continental army, was brought suddenly to a close early in 1780, when, as near as can be ascertained, he was captured at the time of the attack on Young's Corners by the British and Tories, on the night of February 3rd, of that year, when that place was successfully assaulted and many prisoners taken. The Young's place was noted in the Revolution as the headquarters of the American Army, until after the buildings were destroyed and his house burned at this time, and the American lines driven back to the Croton.

Lieut. Colonel Thompson was in command there then with a force of 250 men of whom 13 were killed, 17 wounded—some mortally—and about 100 prisoners taken. Among the latter, doubtless, was Abraham Williams, whose home was directly opposite, being the present Campbell farm, and who was confined in a British prison in New York, where he died about December 19, 1780.

The family tradition that he was brutally treated and "starved to death by the British in prison in Morrisania," is handed down by those now living who had it long afterward from the lips of his daughter, Mary (Williams) Prindle. His prison life and death there is attested by the following:

Petition of Mary Williams, widow of Abraham.

To the Honorable Legislature:

Gentlemen:—I beg leave to inform your Honors that I am the widow of Abraham Williams, who died in Prison at New York, in December last, (1780) after ten months' imprisonment, leaving me with six children without any means of subsistence; and, being driven from my place of residence near the White Plains, to Courtlandt Manor, and being destitute of the common necessities of life, therefore beg the Honorable Legislature to take my circumstances under consideration and afford me such relief as they in their great goodness may think meet, which will be gratefully acknowledged by your Honors' most obedient and humble servant,

June 8, 1781.

MARY WILLIAMS.

(Endorsement).

In Assembly June 18, 1781.

Petition of Mary Williams assigning the death of her husband while imprisoned by the enemy and poverty as her reason for praying for charity.

Read and referred to Mr. Schoonmaker, Mr. Lawrence and Mr. Cantine.

In a manuscript book of records at Albany, "Prisoners and Pension Rolls," it is stated that the account of Abraham Williams was audited, Nov. 13, 1784, for services (presumably while in prison), from Feb. 19, 1780, to Dec. 19, 1780, which strongly indicates that he died on the latter date, and accords with the above statement of his widow in her petition to the Legislature for relief as having occurred the previous December. "after ten months' imprisonment," which would carry the date of his capture back to the assault at Youngs Corners in February of that year.

It is also recorded that on June 8, 1786, she was awarded, as the widow of Abraham Williams, 19 pounds and four shillings on a claim for damage for fences, etc., destroyed during the war.

After the disastrous results following the assault at Youngs Corners, Mary Williams with her helpless flock of six children—the youngest, Abram, but three years old, and our Mary a girl of fourteen—was compelled to seek safety in flight with others, to South Salem, then a part of Courtlandt Manor, where David Williams, his father Arthur, who died there October 18, 1792, and others had preceeded her.

It is probable that she remained here until after the marriage of her daughter Mary to Zalmon Prindle, May 13, 1784, for in the following year she took title to the old farm at the Cross Roads from the Commissioners of Forfeiture, as would appear from the following, copied from the Land Records:

"Dec. 6, 1785. Sold to Mary Williams of the County of Westchester, widow, for £319 12s., All that certain farm of land situate, lying and being in the Manor of Phillipsburg and County of Westchester, bounded northerly and easterly by the highway, southerly by land now or late in the possession of Moses Miller, westerly by lands now in the possession of David See, Sarah Buckhout, the widow Van Wart, and Nicholas Storms, containing 142 acres more or less, as the same is now possessed by the said Mary Williams, forfeited to the people of the said State by the attainder of Frederick Philipse of the said County Esquire."

And it is very probable that about this time the family returned to the old home, for a son, Zenas, was born to Zalmon and Mary "at Tarrytown" April 17, 1786.

It also appears that Mary Williams, widow, gave a mortgage on her homestead to James Dunlap, Sept. 14, 1786, for 67 pounds; and also about the same time gave another mortgage on a part of her farm to Daniel McFarland, of Greenburgh, who was by marriage related to the Williams family. It was probably through these mortgages that the title to the old farm passed from her. The David See whose farm is mentioned in the boundaries of the Williams property, was the father of Mary Williams, widow. He was the son of "Jacobus Sie and Catharina his wife" who was received as Member of the Sleepy Hollow Church, Aug. 15, 1732, and one of its Deacons, 1760-64.

At all events the farm soon appeared to be in the possession of others, a part of it—the site of Widow Flanagan's celebrated hostelry on the corner—as early as 1795, and the remainder, probably at an earlier date, was in possession of Isaac Van Wart, who sold part of it to Stephen Campbell in 1801; but her deeds of sale not being recorded there is no data to fix the time of the sale other than the date of removal to Sandgate, Vt.

Perhaps the widow and her family were quite willing to leave the scenes which had been to them so full of tragedy and suffering during the dark days of Revolution, as besides the loss of husband and father the land had literally been stained with blood, while partisan warfare raged around them on every side, for those Cross Roads were the scene of many a conflict and left them bitter memories.

Many interesting incidents of those stirring times have been handed down as coming from her own lips. During the absence of her husband Abraham while serving in the Continental army, she was left with the maintenance and care of herself and family of six children, the youngest being the only son, born in 1775, and the oldest daughter being but 12½ years older.

She relates that upon one occasion a marauding party came and drove away her horses and cattle, leaving but one horse and one cow, and these she was obliged to yoke together as a team with which to do the plowing and other farm work. This horse had a peculiar trait of turning tail-to on being approached, and with ears laid back would assume a threatening attitude as if intending to forcibly resist capture. But to one approaching boldly and patting the rump without showing fear, it would readily submit to being haltered. This feature being unknown to the thieves saved this animal to the family, as he was left unmolested.

On another occasion, after she and her girls had finished harvesting, they stacked the grain in the field for fear that if stored in the barn the enemy might burn both grain and barn together. But it availed them nothing as the enemy soon came and applied the torch to each stack as it stood in the field.

On the occasion of still another visit from the "Cowboys," as they were driving away her stock, she stood in the open door-way of her humble and defenceless home, pleading with them to leave her one cow for herself and little ones, until one of the brutes raised his musket to take aim at her when her daughter seized her by the skirts and quickly drew her inside and shut the door.

Notwithstanding these many trials and hardships of those troublous times, the husband and father would come home occasionally on furlough, in rags and tatters, only to be reclothed from head to foot and then return again to his post of duty and service, as a patriot soldier, until his capture by the British and death in a loathsome prison—a willing sacrifice in the cause of American liberty—which left them homeless, herself a widow, and her children orphans.

The sturdy patriotism and sterling integrity of those Dutch people are fittingly referred to in "Farrytown," by M. D. Raymond, where he says:

"Then came the shock and upheaval of the Revolution. And to their everlasting honor be it recorded that, notwithstanding the fact that the lord of the Manor was in accord with the King, there were but few tories in this vicinage.

The tenantry from the first were in full sympathy with the cause of the colonies; and although sore trials were in store for them, their fields devastated, their property wasted, and the tragedy of war was enacted at their doors, its rude alarms and terrible realism did not seem to repress their patriotism or awe them into submission.

The British General Howe could not well have paid them a higher compliment than when he said, after his fruitless movement in this direction in 1777—"I can do nothing with this Dutch population; I can neither buy them with money, nor conquer them by force."

The daughter, Mary, with her husband, Zalmon Prindle, removed to Sandgate, Vt., in 1786, he having followed his father Joel and other kindred from Newtown, Conn., there, all seeking new homes in that sparsely settled region; and as the widow Mary afterward made her home with them she subsequently removed there also, where she died in April, 1834, in her 92nd year, having survived her husband for more than 53 years. At the time of her death "Granny Williams" was living with her daughter Mary,—“Granny Prindle,”—also a widow, on the old “Horton place” in West Sandgate, that being known as the part of the town lying west from “The Notch,”—a natural depression or narrow and circuitous cut through the summit of the mountain ridge, and the dividing line between “Old Sandgate” and the “West side,” through which the main road passes. The old house, which is still standing, is located on the east side of the Rupert road which branches off from the main road just west from the “Notch,” and is the first house on the east side, north and about a mile distant from the “Notch.”

The first house on the west side of the Rupert road and a little nearer the “Notch,” which is also still standing, is on the old “Philips place,” where the compiler was born seven years after the death of “Granny Williams.”

The following list of her children has been handed down, in which she says:

“The ages of my children are as follows:

Rachel Williams, born Aug. 27, 1762.

Catharine Williams, born July 24, 1764.

Mary Williams, born June 23, 1766.

Lear Williams, born July 20, 1768.

Elizabeth Williams, born Aug. 19, 1771.

Abram Williams, born Feb. 13, 1775.

Lear Williams, died November, 1795.”

It will be seen that all of these children were born before the Revolution in which their father was to take an active part and to give up his life—a veteran soldier of two wars, a Patriot indeed, whose name and memory deserve to be held in perpetual reverence and honor by his descendants, and all lovers of Freedom, for which cause he gave his life.

NOTE 6.

COGSWELL ANCESTRY OF THE DESCENDANTS OF ZENAS AND HANNAH (COGSWELL) PRINDLE, AND OF JOEL AND PHOEBE (COGSWELL) PRINDLE.

1. JOHN COGSWELL.

John Cogswell, son of Edward and Alice Cogswell, was born in Westbury Leigh, County of Wilts, England, abt. 1594; married Sept. 10, 1615, Elizabeth Thompson, daughter of the parish vicar, Rev. William and Phillis Thompson; resided in Westbury until 1635 when he, with his wife and eight children, embarked at Bristol on the "Angel Gabriel" for America. The ship went to pieces in a frightful storm of August 15, 1635, off Pemaquid, on the coast of Maine.

They were safely landed there, having barely escaped with their lives, and soon after went to Ipswich, Mass., a new town not far from Boston, formerly called "Aggawam" by the Indians, where he settled and died Nov. 29, 1669. She died June 2, 1676.

ANDREW ANCESTRY OF THE DESCENDANTS OF HAWLEY PRINDLE.

1. JOHN ANDREW.

John Andrew, b. ———; m. (2) Mary Ridgly; d. bef. 1693. She d. after 1716.

He was of Kings Town, Rhode Island, May 20, 1671, at which time he took the oath of allegiance. January 1, 1672, he with others bought of Awashuatt, chief sachem of land called Quohasset, in Narragansett, for a valuable sum, etc., a certain tract in Quohasset, bounded on the east from the house of John Andrew, etc. The sachem's two brothers and three sons also conveyed their interest in same.

Nov. 10, 1679, John Mackandrew, alias Andrews, petitioned the Assembly to remit the sentence of the General Court of Trials, on account of the great infirmity of his body and smallness of his estate. Corporal punishment was remitted, also 5 pounds of fine.

He held the office of constable in 1683-84; and on Sept. 6, 1687, the records show that he was taxed 4 shillings and 8 pence.

Children:

4. SYLVESTER ANDREW.

Sylvester Andrew was born in Coventry, Kent Co., R. I., Dec. 12, 1760; married (1) in 1781, Mary Weaver, who was born March 24, 1761, and died after the birth of daughter Judith; married (2) Hannah ———; removed to Arlington, Vt., where he died Nov. 25, 1838, and was buried in the grave-yard on Maple Hill, the inscription reading "Capt. Sylvester Andrew, aged 78."

The records of the Pension Bureau show that he was a soldier of the Revolutionary war, having served in the Rhode Island troops at various times from 1777 to 1781 under Captains Wm. Roy, Asa Bennett, and Topping.

In his application for a pension, dated Arlington, Vt., Aug.

14, 1832, he states that he "was born in Coventry, R. I., Dec. 12, 1760, and removed to Arlington, Vt., two years after the war. Never had a written discharge. Served one month and eight days in 1778, when he went to Newport, where there was a severe engagement with the enemy, under Gen. Sullivan, who had command of the American forces." His claim was allowed. In his application he makes reference also to the military service of his father.

The following further reference to his military service has been furnished by the Office of the State Record Commissioner:

"Andrews, Sylvester. Private, Rhode Island militia; R. I. pensioner, residing in Bennington County, Vermont; annual allowance $42.21; sum received, $123.63; placed on Pension Roll Aug. 31, 1833; pension commenced March 4, 1831; age 73."—Pension Roll, 23d Congress, Vol. I., p. 73. Also "In the Census of Men Able to Bear Arms, 1777, his name appears under the town of Coventry; age 16-50, able."

6. OLIVE ANDREW.

Olive⁶ Andrew (*Reuben*⁵, *Sylvester*⁴, *Charles, Jr.*³, *Charles*², *John*¹), daughter of Reuben and Martha (Oatman) Andrew, was born in Arlington, Vt., Jan. 12, 1811; m. Oct. 28, 1838, HAWLEY⁷ PRINDLE (*Zenas*⁶, *Zalmon*⁵, *Joel*⁴, *Joseph*³, *Ebenezer*², *William*¹), son of Zenas and Hannah (Cogswell) Prindle, who was born in Sandgate, Vt., Feb. 29, 1812, and died in Chillicothe, Mo., Aug. 27, 1883.

She died in Arlington, Vt., March 15, 1864, and both were buried there in St. James' church-yard.

The early genealogy of this branch of the Andrew Family may be found in Austin's Genealogical Dictionary of Rhode Island, and from the Vital Records of Rhode Island, 1636-1850.

NOTE 9.

SARAH ANN PRINDLE, daughter of Zenas and Hannah (Cogswell) Prindle, was born in Sandgate, Vt., April 3, 1824; married January 1, 1845, Zachariah Hurd Randall, son of Levi and Annie (Hurd) Randall, of Sandgate, who was born there August 11, 1825. He was in early life called "Ryer" so much that he afterward assumed that name.

Late in the fall following their marriage they left Vermont and started out to find a new home in the "Far West," proceeding by wagon to Troy, N. Y., thence by the Erie Canal to Buffalo, where he shipped for a lake trip to Milwaukee, in the then Territory of Wisconsin. They first made their home with her uncle, Martin Cogswell, in the township of Brookfield, near Milwaukee, with whom they lived until 1849, when they concluded to remove to Appleton, Wis. They pushed out by team as far as Fond du Lac, thence going by rowboat to Menasha, and finally by an Indian canoe to within three miles of Appleton, walking the remaining distance.

Appleton then (February, 1849) consisted of a small number of log buildings only, not a frame structure having then been built.

Mr. Randall purchased 160 acres of Government land in Grand Chute township adjoining, a tract of unbroken forest, and the first white man's habitation was the log cabin built by him. Here they lived during all the succeeding years; for the first few he was obliged to seek work for a part of the time in Appleton, but each year found the farm in better condition, until at length it yielded a comfortable income.

A new and larger frame house succeeded the old log cabin, more and more of the forest land was cleared and brought under cultivation, and after many years of hard and patient toil the farm was finally brought from its wild and unproductive state to a condition of comfort and profit. Here their only child, Viola, now Mrs. J. N. Fox, was born; here they celebrated their golden wedding, January 1st, 1895, and here Mrs. Randall died, May 27, 1904, aged 80 years. It was the compiler's privilege to have seen this dear aunt married, at her father's home, adjoining his own, in Sandgate, Vt., January 1, 1845, and—though but once again—to look upon her fair, sweet face, bearing scarcely a wrinkle, as she lay in her casket prepared for burial, on that beautiful Sunday morning in May, more than fifty-nine years after.

Mr. Randall is now left as the only survivor of those who were residents of the township at the time of his arrival there in 1849. He has held leading offices in the township, serving several years as chairman, etc., and in the discharge of all his public duties has met with the approval of his fellow citizens.

On July 16, 1861, soon after the breaking out of the Rebellion, Mr. Randall enlisted as a musician in the regimental band of the 6th Wisconsin Vols., and served, principally at Washington and Arlington Heights, Va., until October 1st following, when he was honorably discharged on account of disability resulting from exposure while marching. In September, 1864, he again entered the army, having been drafted, and was assigned to Co. F., 22nd Regt., Wis. Vols., with which he served until the close of the war, and then returned to the old home of his early manhood, middle life, and now old age, where he still resides.

NOTE 10.

FRANKLIN COGSWELL PRINDLE, son of Hawley and Olive (Andrew) Prindle, and great-grandson of Zalmon Prindle, was born in Sandgate, Vermont, July 8, 1841, where he lived until 1850, when the family removed to Arlington, Vermont. His father was a farmer.

He was educated in the public schools, and at the Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, Troy, New York. He early evinced a love for reading and study, and his rapid progress in mathematics beyond those of his age was made the subject of official comment in reports of the town superintendent of the public schools. He subsequently taught in the same school where he had attended, some of his former schoolmates being among his pupils.

Possessing a marked aptitude for mechanics and machinery, and having a strong dislike for farm work and life, he sought his parents' consent to learn a trade, and for some months worked as an apprentice in the machine shop and foundry of Grover and Harrington, in Bennington, Vt. But being of slight build and not very robust it was soon found that he had not the requisite strength to continue, and so was reluctantly compelled to abandon that congenial work and return to the farm.

He had early learned the use of tools while yet a boy, and now supplemented by this experience in the machine shop, he fitted up an outbuilding as a workshop of his own and equipped it with a carpenter's bench, blacksmith's forge, and turning lathe worked by foot, which he had recovered from a factory fire and rebuilt for working in both wood and metals. Here he spent most of his spare moments, often working after the day's toil late into the night by the aid of a lantern, until peremptorily called into the house and sent to bed. In this shop he constructed several labor-saving contrivances and machines to lessen the drudgery of farming, which work was to him most distasteful, and also made several other inventions, only to often find them anticipated by others. He constructed, in wood, a working model of a duplex steam engine, by which the slide valve on one cylinder was actuated by the piston-rod of the other, in substantially the same way as obtains in the well-known duplex steam pumps of to-day, which have a world-wide use. Here he also built a small oscillating steam engine and attached it to the boiler of a shingle mill in an adjoining town in order to prove to some doubters that it would "go," as it did.

This brought him into more prominent notice in the vicinity, and resulted in an offer and acceptance of employment in a steam saw and stave mill, then just starting in a neighboring town at the foot of the Green Mountains, where he assisted in erecting the engine and boilers and other machinery, and then remained for a time as engineer and fireman, finally leaving the factory after a year and more, where he had reached the position of superintendent, at the age of 18, to take a course of study in civil engineering.

He was admitted to the sophomore class of the Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, Troy, N. Y., in 1860, and at the end of his sophomore year, in 1861, he left the Institute to enter the Navy. The Civil War was then in progress and, responding to his patriotic impulses, he offered his services to his country. Preferring the Engineering Corps of the Navy he readily qualified for receiving an appointment therein, the age requirement in his case—he being but twenty years old—having been waived by Secretary Welles to enable him to enter the competitive examination precedent to such an appointment, which resulted in his successfully passing with the standing of No. 3 in his class and receiving the appointment of Third Assistant Engineer in the Navy, August 3, 1861.

He was immediately ordered to duty on the U. S. S. Ottawa, one of the "ninety-day gunboats" then fitting out at the Novelty Iron Works in New York, which sailed in October to join Commodore Dupont's squadron then assembling at Hampton Roads, Va. The "Ottawa" was one of the 48 vessels comprising the famous Port Royal Expedition, which sailed from Hampton Roads, October 19, 1861, and which was dispersed by a furious storm in passing Cape Hatteras when some vessels were lost, and some days later re-assembled off Port Royal, South Carolina. He was in his maiden battle of Port Royal, November 7, 1861, which resulted, after a furious bombardment of several hours, in the capture of the forts commanding the harbor at Hilton Head and Bay Point. After this he saw much active service in the South Atlantic Blockading Squadron, and participated in the sinking of the "stone fleet" at the entrance of Charleston Harbor, in the engagements at Pocolaligo, Stono Inlet, Secessionville, Morris Island, and other defenses of Charleston, including the reduction of Fort Sumter, capture of Beaufort, Fort Clinch, Fernandina, St. Marys, Jacksonville, Palatka, and other minor operations in the South Atlantic waters, the blockade of Charleston and Savannah and along the coast from Georgetown, N. C., to Jupiter Inlet, Fla., etc., to which squadron the Ottawa remained attached under Commodores Dupont and Dahlgren.

He was promoted to Second Assistant Engineer, April 21, 1863, and a year later granted a month's leave of absence, when he returned home, and at the expiration of his leave he was ordered to special duty at the Novelty Iron Works, New York, where he remained until the close of the war.

The war being ended, and having no taste for a sea-faring life, he offered his resignation, which was accepted September 11, 1865, and soon after entered the office of Norman W. Wheeler, mechanical engineer, New York City.

Some two years afterward he was offered and accepted the appointment of assistant civil engineer at the New York Navy Yard, and after a short period of duty there was transferred to the Navy Yard at Philadelphia in charge of public works of improvement there.

He was commissioned a Civil Engineer in the Navy, April 17, 1869, by General Grant, then President, and continued on duty at the old Philadelphia Navy Yard, and later assigned to the new League Island Navy Yard, of which he was its first civil engineer. He made the first plans for the development of this new navy yard, designed and constructed the first buildings and other improvements there, and resigned January 1, 1876, to return to the private practice of his profession as civil and mechanical engineer in Philadelphia. In 1879 he was urged to re-enter the naval service, and offered his former position, which he accepted with the purpose of making it his life work, and was again commissioned a Civil Engineer, U. S. Navy, by President Hayes, on July 22, of that year, and ordered to duty at the New York Navy Yard.

Since then he has served as civil engineer at the navy yards and stations at Portsmouth, N. H.; Boston, Mass.; Newport, R. I.; Brooklyn, N. Y.; League Island, Pa.; Norfolk, Va.; Port Royal, S. C.; Key West, and Pensacola, Fla.; Mare Island, Cal.; Puget Sound, Wash.; Yerba Buena Island, Cal., and Honolulu, H. I. The construction of the Naval Training Station on Yerba Buena Island, in San Francisco Bay, 1898-90, of which he was the civil engineer, was his last important work.

His last official duty on the active list of the Navy was performed at the Naval Station in Honolulu in 1900, and from there—broken down in health for the second time—he was invalided home and transferred to the retired list on February 27, 1901, on account of physical disability incurred in the line of duty, and with the rank of Rear-Admiral. His naval record thus shows a long and honorable service as a staff officer of the navy, in the steam and civil engineer corps, in every grade of rank from that of midshipman, in 1861, to that of rear-admiral, in 1901, the latter having been conferred under authority of an Act of Congress granting retirement of veterans of the Civil war, with creditable records, with the rank of the next higher grade. At the time of his retirement the subject of this sketch had reached the rank of captain—the highest in his corps—in the regular course of promotion, and thus attained the next higher rank of rear-admiral upon his retirement.

During his active service he was actively and aggressively interested in the advancement of his corps as an important branch of the naval service, and in securing suitable recognition of its proper position as such. And it has been conceded that the final establishment of the Civil Engineer Corps, as a permanent staff corps of the Navy, with a civil engineer at its head as chief of the bureau of yards and docks having charge of the public works at navy yards and stations, was largely due to his earnest, persistent, and long-continued efforts.

He was engineer and secretary of the American Dredging Company, Philadelphia, in 1876-7, and in the fall of 1876 visited England, Scotland, Belgium, Holland and Germany to examine into the systems of dredging machinery in use in those countries.

He was employed as engineer and superintendent of the Carolina Oil and Creosote Company at Wilmington, N. C., 1889-90, while on leave of absence, and the latter part of the time as its secretary and treasurer also, when the entire charge and management of the business was confided to him.

He was elected a director and vice-president of the Aztec Oil Company, one of the pioneers of the famous Kern River oil field in California, upon its organization in 1900, and upon his retirement from active service in the navy became its president.

He was elected a Member of the American Society of Civil Engineers in 1874, and of the Institution of Civil Engineers of Great Britain in 1883, and while stationed at Philadelphia, Boston, and San Francisco he was admitted to membership in the Franklin Institute, Boston Society of Civil Engineers, Technical Society of the Pacific Coast, and the University Club, at these places.

He is a member of the National Geographical Society, and the National Genealogical Society, at Washington, D. C.; and also connected with several patriotic societies, being a Companion of the Military Order of the Loyal Legion of the United States, of the Naval Order of the United States, and of the Society of American Wars, and a Compatriot of the Society of the Sons of the American Revolution.

He is Past Master and life member of Crescent Lodge, No. 493, Free and Accepted Masons; also life member of Temple Chapter, No. 248, Royal Arch Masons, and of St. Alban Commandery, No. 47, Knights Templar, all of Philadelphia, and member of the Grand Lodge of Masons of Pennsylvania.

Politically, he is a Lincoln Republican; and in religion, a staunch and earnest Baptist by faith and practice. He was baptized and received into the fellowship of the Baptist Church, Shaftsbury, Vt., on June 3, 1860, and during his residence in many parts of the country he has transferred his affiliations and membership successively to the following Baptist Churches: Fifth Avenue, New York City; Tabernacle, Philadelphia, Pa.; First, in Pierrepont Street, and Washington Avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y.; First, San Francisco, and Bakersfield, Cal.; and First, Washington, D. C. Several of these churches he has served as deacon or trustee, or both, one for a time as clerk, and was for many years a teacher and earnest worker in the Sunday school and Young People's Societies.

He is a descendant of six soldiers of the Revolutionary war, three of whom—Abraham Williams, Ferris Cogswell and Zalmon Prindle—were ancestors on the paternal side, and three—Charles Andrew, Jr., and Sylvester his son, and Isaac Oatman—ancestors on the maternal side. Abraham Williams was also a soldier of the Colonial wars.

He was born on the old "Phillips' place" in West Sandgate, Vt., that being known as the part of the town lying west of "The Notch." at the summit of the ridge through which the main road passes, and the old house in which he was born, which is still standing, is located on the west side of the Rupert road, it being the first house north from the junction with the main road, and about a mile from the "Notch." The next house north, on the opposite side of the road, is upon the old "Horton place," where his great-grandmother, Mary (Williams) Prindle, and her mother, Mary (See) Williams, lived together as widows for a while, and where the latter died in April, 1834, aged 91 years 9 mos.

He has been three times married: 1st, May 19, 1864, to Gertrude A. Stickle, who bore him seven children—four of whom died in infancy and early youth—and died Sept. 15, 1876; 2nd, Sept. 25, 1878, to Sarah A. Cranston, who died April 22, 1892, and 3rd, April 8, 1896, to Mrs. Fidelia E. (White) Mead.

P. 449. ALEXANDER PRINDLE, sergeant, Capt. Shaw's Co., Col. Van Rensselaer.

Note.—The term "deserted" or "deserter" which is occasionally found opposite a soldier's name on the old muster rolls, etc., was not always one of reproach. Many of those who were thus called merely absented themselves for a time and then rejoined their commands, without question. Others are described, in the documents, as having afterward "Joined and served to the end of the War." or "Joined and afterwards died."

The term "absent" would more correctly describe the real conduct of many of the soldiers. In the Land Bounty Rights there is often a serious doubt whether the word "deserted" refers to the Soldier or his claim on the land.
