4. Letters by Gilbert, bishop of Caithness, narrating that in times prior to his administration there had been, as well on account of the poverty of the place as because of frequent hostility, not more than one priest serving God in the cathedral church of Caithness, and that he, being desirous for the honour of our Lord Jesus Christ, and the most blessed Mary, his mother, and all saints, and having taken the advice of discreet men concerning the matter, had resolved to increase divine worship in the same; and at his own expense to erect the said cathedral into a conventional church, according to the measure of his poverty, and had ordained that there should be ten canons therein, who, personally or by their vicars, should for the time being watchfully minister to the bishop there, among whom the bishop as head should preside. Of these canons five dignities shall be created, namely, a deanery, precentory, chancery, treasury and archdeaconry, each one of whom with the bishop and the abbot of Scone, who is also constituted a canon, shall be bound to find a priest to minister for him in the said church every day in his absence; the three remaining canons being bound to find three deacons vigilantly to assist and serve the said priests in the church. For the support of the said canons he had provided and assigned to each of them a particular and distinct prebend, namely, to the deanery, the church of Clun (Clyne), with the pertinents, the garbal teinds of the city of Durnach (Dornoch), and of the town of Echenboll, with the fourth part of the altarage of Durnach, and the whole land of Methandurnach; to the precentory, the church of Creich, with all its pertinents and chapels, the garbal teinds of Promci, Auelech, Stradormeli, Askesdale and Rutheuerchar, the fourth part of the altarage of Durnach, and the whole land of Huchterhinche at Durnach; to the chancery, the church of Rothegorth (Rogart), with its profits and pertinents, the garbal teinds of Scelleboll (Skelbo), namely, of 12 davachs, and the fourth part of the altarage of Durnach ; to the treasury, the church of Larg (Laig), with its profits and pertinents, the garbal teinds of Scitheboll and Sywardhoch, except the teinds of the precentory at Stradormeli, and likewise the fourth part of the altarage of the church of Durnach ; there being also assigned to each of these four prebends a free toft and croft in the city of Durnach. And for the greater inducement of these dignitaries to residence, the bishop assigned to those residing in the cathedral church, or engaged without, either in its affairs or those of the bishop, the church of Far, with all its profits and pertinents in common, except the teinds and profits of Helgedall, previously granted by the bishop to the church of Ra (Reay), on account of its nearness to Helgedall, and the great distance of the church of Far ; reserving power, however, to divide the parish of Far into several, on account of its wide extent, and ordaining that those resident should share the whole profit of the said church and of its chapels equally among them, those absent receiving nothing in absence. Further, it is ordained that as, after the bishop, they were the principal persons in the cathedral church, their churches should be free from all burden of the officials and rural deans, and that none of theforesaid persons should presume to exercise any jurisdiction over their persons, families or chaplains, as their excesses were to be corrected by the bishop and chapter. To the archdeaconry the bishop assigned the churches of Bouer and Watne (Watten), with all their profits and pertinents. Moreover, to the chancellery, treasury and archdeaconry, the whole lands of Pethgrudi and the two Herkenys are assigned, to be divided among them by equal portions, with the common pasturage of the city of Durnach. The church of Kelduninach, with all its profits and pertinents, is assigned to the prebend of the abbot of Scone, who, by a priest vicar, shall minister in the cathedral church, he and his successors being bound to residence, or to find a vicar in his prebendal church ; while to the three remaining prebends are joined the three parish churches of Olrick, Donat and Canisby separately, and the church of Scynend in community, etc. Sealed with the seals of the bishop and chapter, and subscribed by the canons. Circa 1222-45,.....

7. Agreement between Archibald, bishop of Caithness, and William, Earl of Sutherland, narrating that a long controversy had been maintained between Gilbert, William and Walter, the said Archibald's predecessors, bishops of Caithness, in name of the church there, on the one part, and William, of honourable memory, and William, his son, earls of Sutherland, regarding the castle of Schytheboll (Skelbo) and certain other lands, namely, six davachs of Schytheboll, and six davachs of Syttheraw with the ferry, and two davachs and a half of the lands of Miggewe, Swerdisdale and Creych, with the fishing of the Buniach of Cuttheldawach, two davachs of Monimor, two davachs of Awelec, three davachs of Promsy, one davach of Roweherchar, three quarters of Haskesdale, a half davach of Hacchencosy, three davachs of Thorebolle, two davachs of Kynalde and four davachs of Largge, to which lands and castle the bishop's predecessors had claimed right in name of the church of Caithness; which controversy has caused much expense to both parties. At length the said William, Earl of Sutherland, in consequence of the friendly offices of certain prelates, noblemen and others, of his own free will granted to the church of Caithness, the bishop and his successors, the castle of Schythebolle with six davachs of land adjacent, and six davachs of land of Syttheraw with the ferry, and two davachs and a half of Miggewe, Swerdel and Creych, with the fishing of the Bunnach, Further, with the view of obtaining more secure provision for the said church, and full possession of the said lands granted by the said earl, and for benefits conferred by the latter on him and his successors, the said bishop, with consent of his chapter, granted to the earl and his heirs a davach of Owenes, worth half a merk ; with right to the earl and his heirs to present a chaplain to perform mass for ever in the church of Durnach at St. James's altar for the souls of the earl, his predecessors and successors, whom the bishop and his successors should be bound to admit, and to pay to him five merks yearly out of the episcopal goods, namely, the rents of his town of Durnach : Promising with consent of the chapter to give the earl every security that he and his council could wish for the observance of the agreement ; for the keeping of which the bishop for himself and his successors, the dean, archdeacon, precentor and chancellor for themselves and the chapter of Caithness, and the earl for himself and his heirs, gave their bodily oath. To the copy to remain with the earl the seal of the bishop and the common seal of the chapter, etc., are appended. TRANSLATION.

JOHN, by Divine mercy, Archbishop of Saint Andrews, primate of the whole realm of Scotland, "legatus natus" and Abbot of the Mouastery of Paisley, in the diocese of Glasgow, and nuncio with the power of legate a latere on behalf of the holy apostolic See, to our beloved in Christ, the noble and powerful Lord James, Earl of Bothwell, Lord Crichton, Hailes and Liddesdale, high admiral of the foresaid realm of Scotland, in our diocese, and to Jonet Gordon, sister-german of the noble and powerful Lord George, Earl of Huntly, Lord Gordon, a lady of the diocese of Moray, greeting in the Lord. The prudence of the apostolic see sometimes tempers with gentleness the rigour of the law, and graciously permits what the decrees of the sacred canons forbid, in cases where, with due regard to the character of persons and circumstances, it considers such indulgence to be expedient in the Lord. Forasmuch as a declaration or petition lately presented to us on your behalf bore that you, from certain reasonable causes moving your minds, desire to be joined together in matrimony, but that because you are related in the double fourth degrees of consanguinity, you cannot in this matter fulfil your desire without an apostolic dispensation; for which cause ye have humbly besought us, that by virtue of our power and office of apostolic legate graciously committed to us, the favour of a fitting dispensation may be mercifully granted you: We, therefore, favourably inclined to your prayers in this matter, by the apostolic authority committed to us, and which we herein use, by the tenor of these presents, mercifully in God grant to you a dispensation, so that, notwithstanding the foresaid double fourth degrees of consanguinity, you may be able validly and freely to contract marriage and to solemnise it in face of the Church, and thereafter lawfully to abide in the same, by these presents decreeing the child or children thence to be begotten to be legitimate. Given under our seal at our monastery of Paisley, in the year of the Incarnation of the Lord one thousand five hundred and sixty-five, on the thirteenth day before the Kalends of March, the seventh year of the pontificate of our most holy lord, Pope Pius the Fourth.

JOHN OF ST. ANDREWS, Legate.

124. CLAIMS of JOHN, TWELFTH EARL OF SUTHERLAND, and DONALD MACKAY of Strathnaver, against the Earl of Caithness and Lord Berridale, his son. [July 1612.]

The Clame for the Erll of Sutherland and Donald McKy of Stranaver, gevin in to your lordschippis, indgeis arbitouris and amicable compositouris chosin for decisioun of all materis and questionis debettable betuix thame and the Erll of Caithnes and my Lord Berridaill, his sone.

IN the first, it will pleas your lordschippis considder that my Lord Berridaill violentlie and per force tuke Angus Hariache, seruitour to McKy, being in Stranavar in the toun of Balinhagalies doing his lesun and honnest effairis, and caryit him away captiue and presentit him to the said erll of Caithnes, his father, quha pat him in strait prisoun in the place of Girnigo, quhair he wes keipit be the space of sevin ouldis in fetteris and irnis, quhairby he is maid vnable in his leggis and feitt, quhairof the said laird of McKye desyris satisfacioun to be maid to him and his man.

Secundlie, it will pleas your lordschippis considder that his Maiestie, being crediblie informit that Arthour Smyth was ane fals cmnzeour, directit commissioun to Schir

Robert Gordoun and Johnne Gordoun of Gospitour for taking of the said Arthour, and for that effect to chairge the cuntrey to assist with thame ; for obedience of the quhilk commissioun the said Johnne Gordoun, accompanied with the young laird of M^cKye and certane vtheris, past and searcht the said Arthour, and fand and apprehendit him in the toun of Thurso, and being caryng him away in sober and quiet maner, the toun of Thurso, accompaneit with diuers of my lord of Caithnes, his freindis and servandis, set vpoun the said Johnne Gordoun and his complices and invaidit thame ; and nochtwithstanding the commissioun was schawne and declairit to thame, and that thay had apprehendit the said Arthour be virtew of the said commissioun, yit thay wald nawyse desist, but maist barbarouslie set vpoun and invaidit the saidis personis and hurte with arrowis and vtheris wapponis saviu of thame, quhairof tua, viz. Johnne McTagart and Neill Nathmar ar so woundit that thair is no hoip of thair recouerie. And speciallie thay hurte and woundit young M^cKye to the grite effusiooun of his bloode, quhairof satisfacioun and redres aucht to be maid, beseiking your lordschippis to caus the said erll of Caithnes and the said Lord Berridaill, his sone, to mak satisfacioun for the premissis.

Item, it will pleas your lordschippis consider that my lord of Caithnes is bound to relax Johnne Sutherland, sustir sone to M^cKy, fra the horne, being put thairto be the erll of Caithnes for diuers alledgeit caassis mentionat in the letters of horning, quhilkis ar in the said erll his awne hand, and yit will nocht purches relaxationis of the saidis horningis ; thairfore we desyre your lordschippis to caus the said erll produce the saidis horningis and purches relaxationis thairof, and delyuer the samyn to the said Johnne.

The erll of Sutherland sayis vnto your lordschippis that the erll of Caithnes and my Lord Berridaill, his sone, be ane band and obligatioun ar bound and obleist to renunce all richt of iusticiarie thay haue within the boundis of Sutherland and Stranavar ; and the said erll is obleist to caus his sone at his perfyte aige ratifie the samyn, as the said band heirwith producit as ane pairt of this article at more lenth beiris : And now, seeing the said Lord Berridaill is past the aig of twenty-ae yeiris, it is desyrit that he may ratifie the said baud, haill headis and articlis thairof, and that for eschewing of all pley and proces of law quhilkis may fall out betuix the said pairteis for implement of the said band.

Item, It will pleas your lordschippis consider that the erll of Sutherland, be his band and obligatioun, is obleist in diuers headis, pointis and claussis and conditionis, at lenth contenit in the said band heirwith producit, and speciallie is obleist to purches and obtene him selff infest in the few landis of Cathnes, and being infest sould gif infestment thairof to the said erll of Cathnes ; and in caice of failyie and nocht infesting of him self and nocht granting of the said infestment to the said erll, band and obleist him, and certane his cautionaris, to pay to the said erll of Caithnes twenty thowsand pundis : And seing the said erll of Sutherland hes purchast him selff infest, as also hes gevin infestment to the said erll of Cathnes, he desyris ane dischairge of the said penultie of twenty thowsand pundis, and of the sowme of ten thowsand merkis addebitit be the said band in caice of suspensioun of the said sowme of twenty thowsand pundis, and of the haill remanent headis of the said band, in respect the said erll of Cathnes can schaw no head nor point thairof vnfylfillit.

125. ANSWERS by the EARL OF SUTHERLAND and DONALD MACKAY to the claim of the EARL OF CAITHNESS and LORD BERRIDALE.

It is answerit for the pairt of the said erll of Sutherland and the Laird of McKye to the clame gevin in be the erll of Cathnes, lord Berridaill, and thair kin and freindis.

IN THE FIRST, as to the first pretendit article of the said clame beirand that the erll of Sutherland and McKy, at the last thair freindis, purchest ane commissioune for taking and apprehending of vmquhill Arthour Smyth, seruitour to my Lord Caithnes and indwellar within the boundis of Caithnes, notwithstanding that be decrete arbitrall thay wer obleist in the contrair. It is answerit thairto that thair wes neuir sic ane decrete arbitrall : and gif any sic decrete arbitrall be, desyris that the samyn may be producit that we may knaw the tennour and effect thairof: and giving thair had bene sic ane decrete arbitrall, yit it will pleis your lordschippis consider that the Kingis Maiestie his seruice is speciallie exceptit and reseruit, sua that of necessitie obedience behuifit to haue bene gevin to his Maiestie, nochtwithstanding of any decrete arbitrall or ony clame or conditioun thairin contenit ; sua that quhatsumeuir commissioune wes derecit be his Maiestie, the samyn wes done onlie for his Maiesties seruice and correcting of grite abuissis and lese Maiestie in the cuntry, qubilk tendit to the wraik, ruyne and pouirtie of the haill inhabitantis of the cuntry. Farder, efter we had the commissioune we wer neuir of mynd to put the same in executioun without the erll of Cathnes knowledge vntill such a tyme as he took McKyis man without a commissioune, whairin first he contravenis the headis of that decrete and incuris the penultie, if any thair be : And quhair it is alledgeit in the said pretendit article that the said Arthour Smyth wes most schamefullie slane be the erll of Sutherland and McKyis servand, the contrair thairof is more nor notour, for efter the away taking of the said Arthour, the erll of Cathnes servandis and inhabitantis of the toun of Thurso most cruelly invaidit his Maiesteis commissionaris, hurt and woundit diuers, thair servandis, and in the invasioun slew the said Arthour : And whair it is alledgeit in the said article that the commissioun purchast aganis the said Arthour wes vpoun wrang narratioun, gif any narratioun may be verifeit to haue bene gevin vp be the erll of Sutherland, thair kin and freindis, thay ar able to iustifie the samyn.

Secundlie, as to the secund article beirand that the erll of Sutherland, thair kyn and freindis, come to the cuntrey of Caithnes, and thair slew Johnne Sinclair of Stirkag, and woundit James Sinclair ; to that it is answerit that quhatsumeuir slauchter or hurting wes committit, that wes done in thair awne proper defence ; in sua far as thay haueing taikin Arthour Smyth be virtew of his Maiesteis commissioun, and haueing caryit him away, thay wer nocht onlie invaidit be the cuntrey of Caithnes and diuers of thair men hurt and woundit to the nomber of sevin befoir that euir thay maid ony resistance, bot compellit for feir of thair lyveis to defend thame selffis ; in the quhilk defence gif ony slauchter or wounding was committit it man be impute to thame that invaidit the kingis commissionaris.

As to the thrid article beirand that McKy, accumpaneid with the freindis of the house of Sutherland, lay for the slauchter of the erll of Caithnes, as also wes of intentioun to haue murdrest the laird of Ratter ; to that it is answerit that the samyn is ane meir calumnye and devyse devysit be the erll of Caithnes and his freindis, thinking thairby to mak the erll of Sutherland and McKye odious to your lordschippis, and quhairof thair can be no kynd of presumptioun : And as to the letter alledgeit writtin be auld McKy to Alexander Sutherland to caus the laird of Ratter meit young McKye in Thurso, it is desyr that the letter may be producit, be the production of the quhilk it salbe maid cleir that the meeting come of thame selffis and nocht of McKye.

As to the fourt article beirand that he desyris William Angus Raitsoun quha hes eschaiped out of waird, and is alledgeit intertenyit in the cuntrey of Stranaver, to be exhibite and delinerit to him that justice may be ministrat vpoun him, it is answerit that thair is no sic persone in Stranaver, and it is notourlie knawin in the cuntreyis of Stranaver, Sutherland and Caithnes, that the said Williame is ane notorious, deboschet man, servand to my lord of Caithnes, mantemit and defendant be him, nochtwithstanding of ane multitude of innormiteis committit be him within the saidis cuntreyis, and houndit out be him to committ mony innormiteis as salbe mair particularlie sett doun gif neid beis, and provin by my lordis awne write.

Fyftlie, as to the fyft article quhilk is coicident with the first, the samyn is sufficientlie ausuerit to in the first article, and quhatsumeuir speitcheis may be alledgeit to haue bene spokin be the said erl of Sutherland, M^cKy, or thair freindis, agauis the said erl of Caithnes, or vñquhyll Arthour Smyth, thay being speciallie condiscendit vpoun salbe haue ane direct ansuer, and whatsumeuir speiteheis thay haue vtterit thay ar able to verifie the samyn.

And as to the last article anent the steilling of horse and meiris out of Caithnes, and resatting of the samyn in Stranaver and Sutherland, it is ansuerit that that article is so generall that no direct ansuer can be maid thairto ; and gif the article be maid speciallie the samyn salbe haue ane direct ansuer, and salbe maid cleir and manifest that thair ar no horse stollin in Cathnes bot be Cathnes men, and convoyit out of the cuntrey be thame, and speciallie be Kenneth Borye, Henry Sinclair, brother naturall to my Lord, and William Angus Raitsoun, and vthers quha salbe condiscendit upoun gif neid beis : And as to that pairt of article anent the ten horse allegeit stollin, that pairt is also generall, and contenis ane manifest fictionn and inventioun and calumnye, it being more nor notour that thair wes neuir ane stolliu hors challangeit in Sutherland, bot the erl of Sutherland causit redres the samyn. And as to the last pairete of the article anent Elizabeth Sincklair, that is nocht to be cognoscit be your lordschippis bot man be remittit to the judge ordinair.

It will please your lordschippis consider that some good ordour wald be taikin with the stollin hors quhilk ar stollin be the inhabitantis of Cathnes fra the inhabitantis of Sutherland and Stranaver ; and speciallie that your lordschippis wald caus the erl of Cathnes be answerable for Henry Sinclair, his bruther naturall, for sevin hors taikin be him out of Stranaver, viz., fra Katherine M^cKye, quhilk salbe sufficientlie verifeit to your lordschippis : And becaus the erl of Cathnes aucht be the actis of parliament and lawis of the cuntrey be answerable for the said Hendrie, we desyre that he exhibite him before the iustice, and that your lordschippis may tak strait ordour with the erl of Cathnes that he may be answerable for his men and trespassouris within his cuntrey.

131. ANSWERS by DONALD, LORD REAY, to a Paper by JOHN, THIRTEENTH EARL OF SUTHERLAND.

At Tunge the 17th July 1647. The Lord Reays ansuere to the Earl Sutherlands last paper of the 15th July, from Dunrobin, by George Mac Iean M^cPhinla.

FIRST, I render his lordship thankes for prorogating our cessation to the 2d August nixte. Mean tyme shall apply my power to procure surety for his lordship, both for my selfe and friends for tyme to come, and shall advertise my nominattred friends to know when I may soonest conveene them. But I vnderstand not how in tyme of parlee and cessation, Robert Gray, alias commissary, should write to his pairty in Cathnes that all commoning being ceassed betweene the Earle and mee, they should not faile to surprise any goodes or men of myne they finde in that countrey; and they accordingly, in pursuite of his order, within these 5 last dayes haue pursued a boat with goodes and men of myne. Wherefore I desyre the Earle will command the said Robert and his pairty to forbear medling with my people or their goodes, during our cessation, or else that the Earle hold it no breach on my pairete that I rectify myselfe against Robert and his complices whatsoeuer: and vpon this I desire the Earls speedy ansuere.

Touching present restitution of Strathnaver, I needit not ansuere it in my former, since it was mentioned in my first. Nor knew I till now that Lochnaver is his lordshipis, and ame glaid it should bee so, that his lordship bee our vassall. But I medled not with that land since I sould it, nor haue to do with it but in superiority; and tyme will cleare that not I but others haue hand in that bussinesse.

Touching malefactours, it is true I sent for Nele Williamsoun and Alexander Clerk to know what they could ansuere for them selues. Neele answereth hee never wronged your lordshipis countrey, saue when hee was sent by mee with a pairty to spy the Free the day of Brekkach before the pacification; and mervailleth why your Lordship craueth him more then the rest who were in that pairty. Alexander Clerk refuseth not to go to Dunrobin when it pleaseth your lordship to call him.

Touching my friends submission, they are willing to doe so, but not knowing what forme or draught of submission will best please your lordship, seing your lordship neuer aduertised how the draught I sent for myselfe pleased you; which, if not satisfactory enough, that your lordship wold returne it back, and send another of your own framing to bee signed by ws all.

Touching the reference, whether to one oversman or to two, whereas your lordship thinketh it will bee long ere two can bee had together, I ame of another opinion, that the kingdome now reduced, your lordshipis and my complying may mooue two of them to meet. If after they are desyrcd, they refuse, wee shall vse them who most conveniently can bee had.

D. REAY.

132. ANSWERS by JOHN, THIRTEENTH EARL OF SUTHERLAND, to the Paper by DONALD, LORD REAY.

At Dunrobin the 19 of July 1647. The Earle of Sutherland his ansuer to the Lord Reay his paper off the 17 of the said moneth from Toung.

QUHAIRAS the Lord Reay restis contented with the tyme of the cessatioun, I expect vpon the other pairt, that he will not only convein his freindis speidily, bot also will delywer the possessioune of my landis, which is not answered in his last paper bot superficiallie, referring the same to another paper quhairin he desyres, befoir he restore the landis, I may doe some thingis for him, and so standis in comp[et]itioun with me, as if he were not in my reverence bot I in his ; quhairby his unwillingnes to aggrement is fully ewedenced. In this I may not declyne quhat in reasone I ought to doe.

As for Robert Gray his writeing to the pairtie in Caithnes, I know nothing of it.
It is a busines that concernes the publique : lett Commissar Gray ansuer to the publique and to the generall persones ; for quhat is done against the commissar or that pairtie is done against the publique.

Conecerning Lochnaver, although it were not myne bot my countreymans, ther can be no honnowrabill or concessionabill agreement, vntill thes landis be restored fullie vnto the proper owner.

Toucheing Neill Williamsone, who newer (as the Lord Reay sayis) offendit me bot iu the takeing away of my goodis that great day at Breakkach foughtin against Cowis, the contrair wilbe found quhen Neill salbe put to a tryall ; and for Alexander Clerk, he salbe delywerit as worthie of haung, befoir ewer I send for him. For the Lord Reay and his freindis submission I hawe sent the forme of one heirwith, howsoone that is sent hither subscrywed, the forme of the Lord Reayis owne salbe sent back.
Aud for the restoreing of malefactours, ther is no mentioun made therof in the Lord Reay his last paper, though I speedily expect the same, which so much concerns my honnour (without which I newer condescendit to a submissioun) and was accordingly promised by the Lord Reay to Culloden and Mr. Georg Gray : in testimony quhairoff he with his sonne wished to keepe the same quyet, quhairby they might be the moir conveniently apprehendit.

And this is all I thocht meitt to ansuer, nether will I trouble my selff with further wreacking, till thes thingis be performed, the equitie quhairoff salbe made cleare to all.

J. E. SUTHERLAND.

Therefore, and in return of these his Lordship's services, and in consideration of the nobleness of his blood, as being descended not only from the ancient thanes and earles of Sutherland, but from the royal family of Scotland as is aforsaid, his Majesty thereby authoris'd and order'd me, his Majesty's Lyon King at Arms in that part of his Majesty's kingdome of Great Brittain called Scotland, to add to the paternal coat of arms of the said John, Earle of Sutherland, the double tressure circonfleur de lize, as the said royal warrant, registrat in the books of Councill and Session, upon the threteenth day of January, onc thousand seven hundred and nineteen years at length contains.
