TO THE EXCHEQUER.

Right, &c.—Whareas, for the mantenance of a secound minister at our churche of Halieroodhous, and for the use of the poor of the Channogaet, wee have been pleased to signe ane signatour of the upsettis of tradis of the small impost of wynes, and of the benefeitt of alterages and hospitallis dotit by some religeous persones of old for pious uses within that paroche, And efter the reformatione of religeone gifted by our dearest grandmother Queen Marie, of blissed memorie, to the churche of the Channongaet, for the interteinment of a minister and ther poore whareof (as wee are informed), wee nor our predecessouris have never receaved any benefeitt, which wee wer the rather moved to doe becaus the course is much agreable to our intentione in our deeree, and may save us from a forther charge for the mantenance of ane second minister at that churche, which necessarile requirethe a helper in regard of the eminencie of the place and greatnes of the charge: Oure plesoure tharefore is, that you consider of the premissis, and if you find it not materiallie prejudicious unto us, nor any of our subjectis, that furthwithe you caus exped the said signatour in due and competent forme, according to the tennour thareof: And for your soe doing, &c.—Whitehall, the fourth of Januare 1630.

TO THE CHANCELLARE.

Right, &c .- Whareas, at the time of our agreement with the Marques of Huntlie for his shirrefships of Aberdeen and Innernes, wee wer pleased that he should be relaxed from all horningis whareunto he was denunsit for not apprehending of those persones whome he hade charge to tak, the doing whareof (as wee are now informed) is delayed till he should apprehend such of them as he is bound to exhibit, as landeslord of the boundis whare they dwell; sieing wee have granted a commissione to the Lord Gordoune, whoe may best performe that which his father should have done therein. Wee doubt not bot he will assist his sone to give us contentment in anything that concernis our service; And sieing wee desire not their shirrefshipps being dimitted that the expressing of our favour towardis him be soe strictlie interpreted, wee have thought it more fitt to acquent you, then otherwayis to doe it in a more public maner, that it is our plesour, and wee doe heirby require you, to caus relax the said Marqueis fra all horningis used aganis him as Shirreiff or landslord for not apprehending of papistis before repairing to our court: And to the effect he may the better shaw his affection to our service in causing apprehend those persones, that you grant him licience to repair northward: And whareas his dochters are to be removed from him, according to the course intended to be taken with such noblemen's childring by the generall ordour, sieing they are mariageable, wee hold it not expedient that they at this time should be taken from there mother, but will that point in there behalff to be dispensed with till our forther plesure be knowen: And as wee have signified our plesour what we wold have done heirin, soe, being confident of your affectione to our service, wee remitt the conditiones and maner how it may be most convenientlic done unto you, that the same may be performed, or that you will adverteis what forther is requisite from us to be done in that purpose: Which specialie recommending to your care, Wee bid you fareweell.—The 4 of Januar 1630.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—As we wer pleased to wreat to you before in favours of Maistir James Hannay, minister at our churche of Halierudhous, requiring you to considder of the reasones which wer exhibited unto us in his behalff, and inclosed in our former lettres, concerning the provisione of that churche with ane honest and competent mantenance to the minister, according to the eminencie of the place and greatnes of his charge: And wee being informed that the same could not convenientlie be performed before the pronuncing of our decreitt: Oure plesour tharefore is, and we doe heirby authorise, will, and require you, that now, after the publicatione of our said decree, you tak the said reassones in your serious considerationes, and with all convenient diligence you setle and appoint to the said Maister James and his successouris, ministers at our said Kirk, ane honest and sufficient mantenance as you shall think fitting for the said place and charge.—Whitehall, the seavint of Januar 1630.

TO THE ERLE OF SEAFORT.

Letter to repair to Court, in the usual form.—Whitehall, the 7 of January 1630.

To the Sessione.

Right, &c.—Whareas there are actiones of law intendit and dependent before you betuix the burgh of Edinburgh and some inhabitantis of Leithe concerning the rightis and priveledges of our said burgh: These are to will and require you with all convenient expeditione to administer justice to both parties in the actiones, according to there rightis and the laws of that our kingdome: Soe we, &c. Whitehall, the 7 of Januar 1630.

TO THE COUNSELL

Right, &c.—Whareas wee have understood by your lettre of the inconveniences that are like to come to that our kingdome by strangers, whome, planting thameselves in the He of the Lewis by means of a patent granted to the Erle of Seafort not as yet exped, wold usurp the benefit of the fishing in theis seas adjacent thareunto, to the great prejudice of our subjectis wishing that the samen may be prevented: We doe approve your opinione, and have taken another course to our consideratione, whiche, as wee doe conceave, may verie much import the good of that our kingdome: Wharevpone we have required the said Erle and a commissioner for the borrowes to repaire unto us at the first of Marche nixt to come, that after due deliberatione wee may think fitt what is to be done tharein: And in the meantime it is our plesour that you give ordour for stopping the said Erle his patent in Exchecquer, or otherwayis, till after the said time you shall heir farther from us, as likewayis that the strangers whoe are alreadie planted thare be made liable to the lawes of the cuntre, and find catione for thare compirance when they shalbe cited to ansuer for transgressing our actis of parliament, and that noe others be suffered to plant thare till wee have resolved what shalbe fittest for the publict good of that kingdome.—Whitehall, the 7 Januar 1630.

TO THE ADVOCAT.

Trustic, &c.—Whareas thare hath been ane signatour of some landis belonging to . . . Sir James Oliphant, Knight Baronett, presented to be signed by us, as wee are willing to doe him any laufull favour, see wee are loath that any thing which might be prejudiciall unto us should pas, and therefore wold give noe ordour for expeding of the same till first your opinion warr hade thereanent: Therefore our plesour is, that iff you find noething their which is prejudiciall unto us, or contrarie to our late decree or ony other reservatione send home to our Exchecquer, that you ether caus pas the same or returne it docated for our hand for that effect.—Whitehall, the 7 Januar 1630.

TO THE KING OF FRANCE.

Treshaut tresexcellent et trespuissant nostre tres cher et tresame bou frere beau frere cousin et ancien allie Le seiur de Suinton porteur de la presente qui a este cy devant Archer de vos gardes de corps, nous ayant faict entendre le desire et entention qu'il auoit de sen retourner en France avec sa femme et ses enfans pour y passer le reste de ses jours, et nous ayant supplie de le favoriser de nos lettres de recommendation vers vous, nous l'ayons bien voulu accompaigner de celle cy, pour vous prier, comme nous faisons effectueusement, qu'en consideration des bons et longs services qu'il a rendu au son roy de hereuse memoire vostre pere et a vous en la dicte place de l'archer des gardes du corps, en laquelle il y a tesmoignage de vous avoir bien et fidelement servie le space de vingt et huict aus, comme aussi en des autres occasions ou il y a este employe pendant ce temps la. Il vous plaise le laisser jouer de mesmes franchises et priviledges dont il a jouy par cy devant en vostre royaume et luy departir aus occasions le benefite de vos favours pour luy donner moyen de vivre et subsister en sa viellesse, et de vous rendre les services ou il vous plaira encores de l'employer selon l'affection entiere, quil tesmoigne tousiours y avoir. A quoy vous le obligeres d'autant plus estroitement, et encourageres les autres de sa nation pour ceste faveur laquelle aussy deferre a nostre recommendation nous recognoisserons en parcille occasion enverz les vostres Et sur ce nous prierons Dieu, Treshaut, tresexcellent et tres puissant prince, nostre tres cher et tresame bon frere, beau frere, cousin, et auncien allie, quil vous ait tousiours en saincte et digne garde.—A nostre pallace de Westminster, 7 Januarii 1630.

TO THE ADMIRALITIE.

Right, &c.—Whareas wee wer informed that our burgh of Edinburgh hath of late encroached much upon the priviledges and liberties of . . . the Duke of Lennox in his office of Admiralitie: And thareupon wee, haveing considered with the Commissioner of the said burgh, find that our said burgh is verie willing to cleer themselves from any usurpationes of whatsomever libertie or priveledge properlie belonging to our said cousen in his said office: Oure will and pleasour tharefore is, that you conveen with such commissioners as our said burgh shall nominat and trye what priveledges and liberties by the lawes of that our realme doe properlie belong to our said cousen in his said office of Admiralitie, that our said cousen may enjoy the same; Or els that you may in some peaceabill way see compose the differences as all occasione of contraversic or debate may be taken away heirefter, and that you certifie us of your proceeding is and of the trew estate of the said bussienes: See wee bid you fareweell.—Whitehall, the 7 Januar 1630.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—Whareas wee have been peticeoned by Johnne Innes of Crombie, showing the great losse and charges susteened by him in the leavieing and keeping together a companye of footmen for our uncle the King of Denmark his service, and wee, commiserating his distres, have thought fitt to refer the triall thareof to your consideratione: Ource pleasoure tharefore is, that you tak speciall notice of the peticeone heir inclosed, and after triall thareof that you certifie us bak again what you find requisit for us to doe thareanent, whereby his losses (if any be by that service) may be repared, and he in tyme coming enabled when occasione shall offer to doe us service.—Whitehall, the 7 of Januar 1630.

To the Counsell.

Right, &c.—Whareas there hathe been some articles exhibited unto us aganis our burgh of Edinburgh in name of the toune of Leithe, whereof such particulars as are submitted to us by Mr Johne Hay, in name of our said burgh, contined in their chartour in anno 1603, to be surrendered to us, conforme to the noat inclosed in the lettre writen by us to our advocat, willing him to secure us of the same, and after sight of there evidentis, to acquent us what forther is necessarie for us to advert heirto, assuring ourselves of the discharge of his duetic heirin: Likewayis wee have given commission for composing the differences between that our burgh and the noblemen and gentlemen of Wast Louthian, anent there chartour in anno 1603, in soe farr as concerneth there interest, that they may ether setle the same or certific us what they find fitt for us to doe therein: And for those thingis in contraversic betuix them and Leithe, Wee desire you to tak theis articles which we have sent you heirwithe to your considerations, and haveing hard both parties and there laufull defences, what is fitt in law for you to judge of, or refer to others judicatories to whome the judging thereof dothe propertic belong, that you tak such ordour as wee did lattic wreat touching that purpos, as is most agreeable to law and equitic; and if you think it necessary, that you certiefic us of your proceeding and opiniones therein: Soe, not doubting but you will have such care heirof as is requisit, &c.—Whitehall, the 7 of Januar 1630.

To the Exchequer.

Right, &c.—Whareas wee have been humblic peticeoned by . . . Doctor James Chambers, one of our ordinarie Phisicians, making mention that he haveing payed four hunderthe poundis sterling unto Alexander and Robert Irewingis towardis thare transportatione and subsistance abroad, in consideratione and for a lease of certane landis lent unto him by the saidis persones during thare lifetimes, which he alledgeth he cannot legallie enjoy without our confirmatione or grant of thare escheat and liferent, as fallen and become in our handis by thare excommunicatione or denunciatione to our horne: And forasmuch the said Alexander and Robert Irewingis have given band to leave that our kingdome for shunning all occasione of scandell unto the discipline of our churche thare, and for that our said seruand Doctor James Chambers humblie intreatethe for the guiftis of there escheatt and lifrent, for his better securitie of his said lease: Tharefore, and in regard of the long and faithfull service done unto our late dear father and us by the said Doctor James Chambers, wee have been graciouslie pleased to signe unto him a signatour of thare said escheat and lifrent, and doe heirby will and require you to pas the same accordinglie, and to ratifie and confirme unto him his said lease or tak of the saidis landis in such legall forme and maner as you in your discretiones shall think most fitting for his securitie: And for your soe doing, &c.—Whitehall, the 8 day of Januar 1630.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—Whareas wee did formerlie write our lettres unto you concerning the place of our coronatione in that our kingdome: Oure pleasoure therefore is, that you consider what place is most convenient, and that you adverte us of your opiniones concerning the same, and whither you think St Geillis church in Edinburgh or the Abbey churche of Halyerudehous to be more convenient place for such a publict actione, that upon notice of your opiniones wee may tak such forther course and give such forther directiones as may seem most fitting for setling the preparationes fitt for that actione, and with als litell charge as may be convenientlie.—Whitehall, the 8 of Januar 1630.

TO THE ADVOCAT.

Trustie, &c.—Whareas our Commissione of surrenders and tithes hath not as yet determined anything concerning the Laudis of our propertie and principalitie, nor concerning the changed tennouris in that our kingdome: And forasmuch as the time of prescriptione now approchethe, whareby our title unto the saidis landis and tennouris may perhappes tharefter ether be doubted of or contraverted under collour of the said prescription, except some summondis and proces be timelie intended and execute at our instance for interrupting the said prescriptiones: Oure pleasure tharefore is, and wee doe heirby authorise, will, and require you, with all convenient diligence, duely to weighe and consider of the said prescriptione, and speedelie to advise and execute some legall course by summondis of improbatione, reductione, warning, and removeing, or some such other faire and laufull way, against our vassellis of the premissis as in your judgment and opinione may seem most meet for interrupting the said prescriptione, and for avoiding all such prejudice as the same may infer against oure croune and titill unto the saidis lands and tennouris; and speciallie oure pleasour is, that you have a care of our propertie of Ettrick Forrest: All which we recommend unto your speciall care and diligence, &c.—Whitehall, the 8 of Januar 1630.

TO SIR THOMAS EDMOND, HIS MAJESTIES' AMBASSIDOUR IN FRANCE.

Right, &c.—Whareas the bearer heiroff, James Swentoune, haveing certificatts from France of his long and faithfull services done thare theis twentie-eight yeers past as one of the Archers of the Guard of the bodie of our brother the most Christiane King, hath humblic intreated our recommendatione unto our said brother, that he may enjoy his royall favour, and the priveleges formerlie enjoyed by him as a Scottisman within the kingdome of France: And haveing been graceouslie pleased to grant his said desire, wee have writen unto our said brother for that purpose, and doe heirby will and require you to assist the said James Swentoune by all the faire wayis and means you can towardis his said Christian Majestie that he enjoy his royall favour, may subsist in the full fruitione of his wounted promises, and may be the better used heirefter as one specialic recommended from us, whoe have taken particulare notice of his worthe and partis, and of his long and faithfull services, and of his birthe and descent testicfied unto us under the Great Seall of the kingdome of Scotland where he was borne; and soe wee bid you hartlie fareweell.—Whitehall, the 8 of Januare 1630.

TO THE ADVOCAT.

Trustic, &c.—Whareas wee did formerlie write unto you that wee hade agreed with the Lord Lowdoune for the heretable office of Shirrefship with the superiorities of Kyllesmoor and Barmoor, with his heretabill office of Baillierie and regalitie thereof, and to wedset unto him the saidis superiorities, few-deuties, and casualities of the same for the soume of eighteen thousand merkis, till be retayned by him till wee should be pleased to redeem the same from him by payment unto him thereof: And wee being humblic peticeoned by George Read of Dandilling, in behalff of himselff and the tennentis of Killesmoore and Barmoore, to accept of thems as our imediat tennentis to the same, they paying unto us the soume of twelff thousand merkis scottis as the greatest parte of the price of the few-deuties were are to give to the said Lord Lowdane, making resignations thereof in our handis: Though were doe like of that intention heirin, yet were will tak now course heirin till first we have considered of that petitions which were have sent you heirwith inclosed: Therefor our pleasour is, that you consider of the demandis of the peticeone, and that you certific unto us what course yee think fitt to be taken heirin, that therefter we may signific our further pleasour unto you thereanent.—Whitehall, the 10 of Januar 1630.

TO THE ADVOCAT.

Trustie, &c.—Whareas wee are informed that by the confessione of one Alexander Hamiltoune, questioned for witchcraft, thare are divers persones dilated as complices with him in some divellische practises against the life and estate of Sir George Home, Knight, whom the persones accused, with thare favorers, traduce as ane subornour of Hamiltoune to accuse them falslie, and doe all they can to hinder the triall, whareby the innocencie or giltienes of the said Sir George or the persones of the accused might be made apparent: Wee being moved to tak the bussienes into our serious consideration as a thing concerning the gloric of God and good of that our kingdome, that such hynous crimes should not pas without severe punishement: And haveing tharefor expreslie recommendit the exact triall of it to . . . the Erle of Monteith, our Justice-Generall of that our kingdome: Wee are likwayis pleased heirby to will and require you to give your best concurrance in the prosecutione and triall thareof, that noething may be omitted which may tend to the impartiall cleering of everic circumstans in the bussienes, that soe the innocent may be acquited, and the guiltie may receave such due punishment as by the lawes of that our kingdome is to be inflicted upon them: See earnestlie recommending this unto your speciall care, &c.—Whitehall, the 13 of Januar 1630.

To the Erle of Anguse.

Letter to repair to Court, in the usual terms.—Whitehall, 14 January 1630.

TO THE PRINCE OF ORANGE.

Mon cousen nous a este presentee par le commissiaire des villes royalles de nostre auncien royaume d'Escosse au nome des magistrats eschevecus burgeois et eonseilleirs de dictes villes avec remonstrance de plusieurs enfraints des articles leur accordes par contract faict entre eux et les magistrats de la dicte ville de Camphire en Zelande estant l'estaple et seule port et havre assignee pour recevoir les commodities et marchandises exportees hors de nostre dict royaume de Escosse aux provinces unies du pays bas Et combien que le dit commissaire nous a prie au nome de dietes villes royalles de les permettre changer leur dict estaple port et havre pour estre restablie en quelque autre endroict ou leur traffique pourra estre mieux accommodee, et nos marchands mieux traictes, Neantmoins nous avons trouve bon vous adventir de leur desyre et remonstrance afin que vous ayant donne ordre pour la preservation du dict contract avec mandament aux Magistrats de la dicte ville de Camphire de mieus traicter nos dicts marchants qu'auparavant, et de leur octroyer telles autres favours lesquells les pourroent encouragee de continuer leur dict estaple dans la ville de Camphire.—Whythall, le dixisesme de Januier 1630.

TO THE EXCHEQUER.

Right, &c.—Whareas . . . James Carmichell, one of our was mony years since appointed by us to be chamberlen of our principalitie for receaving all the rentis and casualities thareof, and of all annucties ishueing out of the same, and of all compositiones arrising for or out of any parte thareof, alsweel superioritie as tennendrie: Oure pleasoure tharefore is, that you tak a speciall care to satle him in the said office according to the contentis of his guift or guiftis thareof, and that noe other persones may be by you authorised or permitted ony wayis to intermeddle with any point of the said office, or with the rentis, casualities, compositiones, or annucties due out of any parte of the landis and teithes off or within our said principalitie, but that the saidis James Carmichell and his deputies may have the sole and full intromissione tharewithe in all time coming, as one whome wee have specialic trusted with the receipt thareof, he alwayis accompting for the same in our Exchequer as in his said gift or giftis is mentioned: And for your, &c.—Whitehall, the third of Februar 1630.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—Being credibillie informed of the prejudice arising unto that our kingdome by the abundance of forrain coyne currant thare and great scarcetic of our owne, Wee wonder verie much that you should have suffered a thing soe hurtfull to our subjectis and aganis the custume of all weell governed estattes to have soe farr prevailed: Theis are tharefore to require you, that, haveing thought of the premissis, you tak such speedic course for redressing of the said abuse and for bringing in the wonted bulzeon as you shall think fitt for the good of our said kingdome, whareby noe such absurditie may heirefter be seen at the time of our coming to that our kingdome, and that you acquent us with your proceeding heirin.—Whitehall, the 3 of Februar 1630.

TO THE ADVOCAT.

Trustic, &c.—Whareas wee have been pleased to present our trustic and weelbeloved servitour and chaplen Mr Johne Patersone to the personage of Oldhampstockis; and understanding that the Erle of Balcleuch pretendit right to the said patronage, whereby our royall intentione in planting the church may not be impedit, and our right of patronage thareof not prejudged, Wee will that you concurr with the said Mr Johne, and doe your endevore for persueing or defending our right of the said patronage, alsweell he way of actione as be way of exceptione; and alsoe that you intend reduction in our name, with your concurrance for our interest, or at the instance of the said Mr Johne, for reduceing or annulling of the said Erle his pretended right of patronage of the said churche, iff need be, and persue all other actione necessare and competent for estabillishing our right foirsaid in the persone of our said servitour, according to the lawes of that our kingdome, as you will doe us acceptabill service.—Whitehall, the 4 of Februar 1630.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—Whareas wee did latelie in August last wreitt lettres unto you for a dispatche of the caus concerning the tuoe privateer French schippis called the S^t Peter and S^t Michaell, alledged taken since the pacieficatione made with France: And forasmuch, as wee are informed by the parties interested, that the said caus is not as yet determined, nether any answer come from you concerning the same: Tharefore, at the humble peticeone of the said parties, wee doe heirby again will and require you with all expeditione to caus decide the said contraversic according to justice and equitie, least the tediousnes of the suite should seem to be a delay of justice, and a greevance to the parties whome wee wold glaidlie have freed from any just caus of clamour: Soe houping you will not suffer any more to be trubled or importuned with this bussienes, wee bid, &c.—Whitehall, the 4 February 1630.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—Whareas peticeone is exhibited unto us by Luba of Caleis, alledging that his schip, called the Amitie of Caleis, loadned with salt, was in September last bipast taken from him and his company neir unto the citie of Bergin, in Norway, by ane Capitane Andersone, upon pretence that the same did belong to Dunkirk, as by the within peticeone may appeir, wharein speedie justice is humbly prayed: Oure plesour therefor is, and wee doe heirby authorise, will, and require you upon sight heiroff, to minister justice with all such summary proceedings as may be best agreeabill to justice and equitie and the lawes of that our kingdome, the peticeoners being strangers and not able to attend any long sute without extream prejudice and loss: And for your soe doing, &c.—Whitehall, the 4 Februare 1630.

TO THE SESSIONE.

Right, &c.—Whareas peticeone hath been exhibited unto us by one Walter Romholtome, citizen of Lubeck, complaning of ane alledged undue sentence pronunced in the Court of Admiralitie of that our kingdome, whareby the schip called the St Laurence, taken from Marteen Muller in Lubeck in Anno 1627 by Sir William Alexander, Knight, loadned with salt, was judged to be good and laufull prise, as by the said peticeone within may appeir: And wee conceaving that our supream judicatorie of our sessione to be the onlie competent court of justice for reversing [or] reduceing of all undue sentences pronunced in any other judicatorie within that our kingdome: Oure plesure therefore is, and wee doe heirby will and require vou. to admitt the parties interested unto there laufull summonds and proces of reductione before you, and if you shall find any errour into the proceedings in our said Court of Admiralitie, or any inquirie in the sentence or any other just or laufull caus or ground of reductione, that you doe speedelie releive the peticeoners from the same, and with als summarie proces as the lawes of that our kingdome can permitt, whareby the parteis may be restored to there said schip and goodis, or value thereof, if the same be sold or put away, and if you find not any laufull ground of reductione of the said decreet pronunced in our said Court of Admiralitie, then you are to justifie the proceeding is thareof by granting absolvitour from the said reductione as use is in such cases: Soe committing this particulare unto your care, wee bid you, &c.-Whitehall, the 4 Februar 1630.

TO SIR WILLIAME ALEXANDER.

Right, &c.—Whareas wee have by our Infeftment under the Great Seall of our kingdome of Scotland granted unto you and your heirs authoritie to be our Lewetennent of New Scotland and Cannada, with pourse to confer titles of honour thare upon such inhabitantis as shalbe aidding and assisting unto the plantaceon thereof; and whareas alsoe, for the better encouragement of our subjectis of our said kingdome to plant and contribute touardis the plantatione of the said cuntrey, we have erected the ordour and dignitie of Knight Baronet in our said kingdome of Scotland, and by our lettres have appointed and licensed the Knight Baronettis of our said kingdome, to carie and weare a cognissance and orange tanney ribbane about there neckis: Therefore wee doe alsoe heirby authorise and require you and your heirs and successouris to authorise, licience, and appoint the Baronettis of New Scotland and Cannada, appointed or heirefter to be appointed by you or them in the said territorie and dominione of New Scotland and Cannada, to wear and carie the like cognissance and ribbane for there better distinctione from the others freeholders and inhabitantis thereof, and that you caus registrat this our warrand in the bookis of counsell, sessione, and exchequer of our said kingdome, and in the registers of our said territorie and dominione of New Scotland, and for your see doing their our lettres under our Privie Signet shalbe unto you and your heirs and successouris a sufficient warrand in that behalff.—Whitehall, the fourt day of Februar 1630.

TO THE EXCHEQUER.

Right, &c.—Whareas our Right trustie, &c. [the Earl of Mortoune] hath done unto us good and acceptable services, whareof we have taken speciall notice: Tharefore, and for divers others important causes concerning us, Oure plesure is, that with all possible diligence, against the terme of Witsonday nixtocum, you readdle pay unto the said Erle the soume of 5000^{lbb} sterling, out of any of our custumes, great or small, of that kingdome, and out of the first and reddiest of our rentis, dueties, and easualities, or other benefitt whatsoever now dew unto us, or which heirefter shal happin to be due and accres to us in our said kingdome, or out of any of the first taxationes that shalbe granted unto us thare: And incais the said soume be not payed unto him or his foirsaidis betuix this and the terme foirsaid, that he have the ordinarie annuclerent till he be fulliclie satisfied of the wholl soume: And that this precept be registrat in the bookis of exchecquer, and that one act of Exchecquer be made thareupon for the said Erle his better securitie; and for your soe doing, &c.—Whitehall, the eight day of February 1630.

TO THE EXCHEQUER,

Right, &c.—Whareas wee are resolved to be served in our Chappell Royall in that our kingdome with such musitians borne within the same as are continoualie or placed of new by the Deane of that Chappell, and by Edward Kellie, our servand, to the effect they may be the more able to discharge our service tharein: Oure pleasoure is, and wee doe heirby will and require you, that with all convenient and possible diligence you caus pay out of the reddiest of our rentis or casualities whatsoever in that our kingdome, unto the said Edward into the behalff of the said musitians, all such arrears of there fee is as shalbe found justlie due unto them, or any of them, conforme to any guift or guiftis granted by us thareupon, least our said service at our comming thither be ether neglected or they not fitt to be in such a place and charge: And for your soe doing, &c.—Whitehall, the 8 of February 1630.

TO THE ADVOCAT.

Trustie, &c.—Whareas heving accepted of a surrender from my Lord Naper of the soume of Seaven thousand merkis scottis, which was payed to him yeerlie by Williame Dick, merchand, out of our revenues of Orknay, by and attour the former rent which wee hade there: And being pleased of late to dispose of the same to . . . the Erle of Annandale, by a sufficient right under our hand, with poure to him to uplift not onlie the said seaven thousand merkis, bot likewayis whatsoever was restand due by the said Lord before his surrender: Therefore our plesour is, and we require you, that incaice the said Erle receve not satisfactione according to the grant given by us to him, you compler in our name for obtining of whatsoever shalbe found due by the said Lord at any time unto us or him by reasone of the said superplus preceding the dait heirof.—Whitehall, the 8 of Februar 1630.

TO THE TOUNE OF JEDBURGH.

Trustie, &c.—Whareas . . . the Lord Drumlanrig hath receaved some prissoners latlie by a warrand from us taken into the borders by . . . Sir Richard Grahame, Knight, to deliver unto you: It is oure pleasour that, imediatlie after he shall arryve at our toune of Jedburgh, you receave from him the saidis prisoners, and keep them in safe ward till they receave there triall upon such maters as they are to be charged withall.—Whitehall, the 8 of Februar 1630.

TO THE ADVOCATT.

Trustie, &c.—It is our will and plesour that after the sight heiroff you call unto you the Advocattis of Franceis Steuart, and that, consulting with them, you find out and demonstrat unto us some of ane sure course in law how the forfaltour off Frances, Erle Bothuell, and this disabilitie of the said Frances, his sone, may still be reserved in our absolute pouare, and he fred from all dangers of the act of prescriptione; and likwayis, if noe such course can be found in law as accordis with our foirsaid resolutione, that with all possible diligence, without forder delay, you adverte us, that tharefter we may tak such a speedie and safe course tharein as wee shall think flitt, the exact performance whereof wee recommend to your speciall care and trust, as yee wilbe answerable to us, and to haste bak the answer heirof with all diligence.—Whitehall, the 8 day of February 1630. Also another Letter to the said Advocate on the same subject on the following day.

TO THE ERLE OF MONTEATHE.

Right, &c.—Whareas . . . the Vicount of Drumlanerek, his sone, heving by a commissione from us apprehendit in the border these thrie theeftis, fugitives, and rebellis, Williame Weigin, in Whisgillis, and James Weigin, his sone, and Johne Armestrang, alias Tueden, was most contempteouslie opposed in the executione of the said commissione by a number of leud persones named in the roll heir inclosed, whoe did rescue in a most insolent maner, and assisted the said rebellis for thare better avoiding without respect of our said commissione, and sedetiouslie convocat others for that purpos to our heigh contempt, authoritic, and lawes, the like whareof was never committed in our late deir father's nor our time; ffor the better preventing the like untollerabill and dangerous courses heirefter, Wee are heirby pleased to require you that you call before you all those that are named in the said roll, and others whoe shall be dileited by the said Vicount, or his sone, to have opposed our commissione; and efter triall of thare outrageous misdamanour, that you tak such a speedic course for thare conding punishement that others, by thare example, may be terrified from all such detestable insurrectiones and convocationes: And likwayis that you give ordour for apprehending the saidis rebellis, and being taken, that you caus committ them in some of our save wardis, thare to be keept till such punishement be inflectit upon them as is agreabill with our lawes provided in the like cases.—Whitehall, the nynth of Frebruar 1630.

TO THE ADVOCAT.

Letter upon the same subject and of the same date.

TO THE ADVOCAT.

Trustic, &c.—Being resolved to bring bak agains to our croune all the heretabill offices, Regalities, and superiorities, and being informed how necessare it is for us to have all and haill the landis, milnes, dueties, and privelieges contined in a note direct heirwith in oure handis, alseweell in regard of the value of the thingis themselves as of the neirnesse of there lying to our cheeff cittie and palace, Wee have agriett with . . . Robert, Erle of Roxburgh (whoe as wee are informed), hath undoubted right unto them: Tharefore our plesour is, that you draw upp a sufficient lettre of dispositione, contining a procuratorie of resignation be our said trustie cousen and counsellare (with consent of Sir Williame Ballanden) to us of the premisses, as likwayis that you draw upp a sufficient right and securitie of the samen landis and others as is abone writtin, to our said trustie cousen and counsellare, and his heirs, that they may be fully secured thareof, aev and whill they be secured of the soume of to be given to him as ane parte of the price thareof; and siclik that there be a speciall provisione sett doune and insert in his said securitie that it shalbe nowayis lesome to us to redeme the saidis landis and others abone nominat from them, untill such time wee mak thankfull payment of the soume of to be specified and contined in ane particulare band to be made be us to him to that effect, and that by and attour the other soume abone writtin, which will compleit in the haill the soume of ; The which band we likewayis desire you to draw upp; ffor doing thereof thir present shalbe, &c,-Whitehall, the 9 day of Februare 1630.

TO THE LORD OF LORNE.

Right, &c.—Haveing understood by your father of ane great extremitie whareunto he is likelie reduced by reasone of ane debt due by him unto a merchand of Londone, which he expected should have been payed by a voluntarie contributione granted by his procurement from his freendis in Argill, ffor which he was desirous to have repared thither for some time: But becaus wee cannot convenientlie give way to his desire, wee are verie confident that he will use his best endevouris; These are to recommend unto your care the providing of his releeff according to the agreement for that purpose, &c.—Whitehall the Sexteinth day of Februar 1630.

Whareas warrantis hath been issued from the Lordis of our privie counseil of Scotland for apprehending of Johnne Neall, whoe hathe been thir many yeers bypast reputed a notorious witche and delaitted guiltie of a most bussie practiser of that cryme within our said kingdome of Scotland; and we being informed that the said Johnne Neill, being presently in Tuedmouth or Clusher, within the bordour of this our kingdome of England, doth by that means avoid apprehensione and punishment: Theis are tharefore to will and require yow and everie one of you to caus tak and apprehend the bodie of the said Johnne Neill, wharesoevir he may be found within our said kingdome of England; and him soe apprehendit, that you send him from constable to constable untill he be brought into Scotland, thare to be delivered unto

Sir Williame Cokburn of Longtoune, Knight, Barronet, our Shirreiff of the shirrefdome of Berwik, and his deputie, to be by him convoyed and delivered unto the Lordis of our privie counsell of our said kingdome of Scotland, thare to be dealt withall according to the lawes of that our kingdome: And for your soe doing, &c.—Whitehall, the 19 of Februar 1630.

To our trustic and weelbeloved Heigh Shirreff and Justice of the Peace of our cuntric of Northumberland, and to all others our Shirreiffis, Maiouris, Justices, Coroners, Baillies, Constables, and all others oure officiars and loving subjectis, whome their presents doethe or may concern.

TO THE EXCHEQUER.

Right, &c.—Whareas wee are informed by . . . the Duke of Lennox that divers of our subjectis doe wrong and encroach upon the offices of Admiralitie and chamberleenrie of that oure native and ancient kingdome, and that they acquire divers grantis and rightis in prejudice of our said cousen and the saidis offices: In consideratione whareof, and that wee are most willing to restore the said offices to the full integreetie and for the good of our said cousen, Oure expres pleasour and will tharefore is, that you stop heirefter the passing of all grantis and rightis which shalbe presented to you in hurt and prejudice of our said cousen, concerning the said offices, or what belong that to: And wharein our said cousen is prejudged by the passing of the late tak of Orknay to Williame Dick, including the admiralitic thareoff, that prescryve speedic remedic heiranent; and for redres thareof wee ordane you to grant to the said Williame Dick a new tak of Orknay, conforme to that which is past to him of late, leaving out what concernis the saidis offices and prejudice thareof, and bearing noe prejudice or hurt to our said cousen; and that you mak speciall actis heiranent into our buikis of Exchecquer; flor which theis presentis shalbe unto you a sufficient warrand.—Whitehall, the secund of Marche 1630.

TO THE CHANCELLARE.

Right, &c.—Whareas wee are informed that about twoe yeirs agoe or thareabout the Commissioners of our Excheckquer did pas unto Sir Lodovick Houstoune, of that Ilk, Knight (as it hath been usuall with them to doe to others in cases of like nature), a signatour of certane landis belonging to him, which imediatly tharefter being by you exped under our great seall, is as yet undelivered unto him: Oure pleasure is, that without forder delay you ether caus rander the same unto him, or to any of his name, or otherwayis, if you have upon any occasione forther conceaved anything wharby the same may prejudge us, we require you to exhibit the same undone hefore our said commissioners to be againe perused by them; and if you and they doe not condiscend as at first touching the deliverie thareof unto him, that with all convenient diligence you certifie us the reassones thareof, that we may give such forder ordour tharein as wee shall find just caus; Wee bid you fareweell, &c.—Whitehall, the eight day of March 1630.

TO THE ERLE OF MONTEATHE.

Right, &c.—Whareas wee are informed that there is a nomber committed to Jeyell in Drumfrees for theift, receipt of theiffs, and fugitives, which abuse, by neglect of punishment this some time past, is hecome soe frequent that unles strict ordour be taken with the committers thereof, there is small hope to bridle such disordouris: We desire therefore that after you have been at the Justice Court in Jedburgh, and have used justice aganis such as are to be punished in that place, you faill not to goe to the toune of Drumfrees and use justice aganis such as are in Jeyll, or such others as are fit to be called in questione there, flor we think it most convenient, both in the case of our subjectis and for the good of that service, that the male-factouris abyde there triall in partes where there wiffes are best knowen: We doe likeway is recommend to your speciall care that the resaittouris of the theeffis themselves and fugitives be noe les punished than the theeffis themselves, since the lawes of that our kingdome doeth strictlie appoint the same; And it is impossible to frie that cuntrie from such villanie iff the reseatters and fosterers of theeffis be not exemplarlie punished: And becaus we have trusted our servand, Sir Richard Cockburn, Knight, and hath alreadie receaved good prooff of his affectione to the quiet of our late borders, it is oure speciall pleasour, and by theis presentis wee command and authorise you, to call the said Sir Richard to be present, and to assist with you and the rest of the commissioners at all times heirefter, considering how requisit it is to have his opinione at all occasiones in that border service: Wee desire you likewayis, for the forther encouragement of our said servant, that you acquent our Counsell with that trust wee have imposed upon him, and will them, if occasione shall offer, to give there hest assistance for ease of his panis: Which commandement we likewayis will you to mak knowen to our wholl commissioners of that our kingdome, wharby mutuall correspondence may be interteyned amongs them to the joynt commissione which wee are about to exped: Soe recommending thir particulars to your speciall care, as our trust is in you, We, &c.—Whitehall, the eight day of March 1630.

TO THE EXCHECOUER.

Right, &c.—Whareas we wer pleased to write to you of befor that thare was 300^{lib} sterling rased at our Citie of Londone, for which . . . the Lord Traquhair standeth engadged, from one Williame Morehead, factour thare, and that towardis the furnessing of armes to those soldiouris whoe under the conduct of the Erle of Mortoune war to repair unto Frauce for our service thare, Theis are tharefore to require you againe, for the saidis Lordis releeff, that you pay with all convenient diligence to Williame Dick, merchand at our burgh of Edinburgh, the said soume of 300^{lib} sterling, togither withe the ordinarie interest for the time of the forebearing, and that out of the first and reddiest of our rentis, casualieties, and dueties of that our kingdome.—Whitehall, the Tent of Marche 1630.

TO THE EXCHEQUER.

Right, &c.—Whareas wee are informed that the Infeftment of the Lord Douglas and his Ladie is not as yet past for the implement of thare Contract of Mariage, be reasone that Sir James Douglas his signatour is stopped by you, which should be passed for the securing him of the moneyis due unto him by the Erle of Anguise, his brother: Tharefore, we being verie desirous that the said Lord Douglas and his Ladie be weell and speedelie secured, the said Erle and his creditouris being first secured for the soume of ane hundreth thousand merkis Scottis reserved to him in the said contract, Oure pleasoure is, that with all expeditioun you pas the said Sir James Douglas his signatour, without questione of itt any forther inserting onlie in the said signatour ane claus that it shall not be prejudiciall to our revocatione in any sort: And for your, &c.—Whitehall, the tenth of Marche 1630.

TO THE EXCHEQUER.

Right, &c.—Whareas we have been moved in the behalff of the Lord of Balmirrienoche and James Creichtoune of Fendraucht, and the toune of Selkirk, for granting unto them signatours of thare landis: Oure pleasour tharefore is, that you peruse and reforme the said signatouris by the advise of our advocatt, and that you pas the same accordingly without prejudice unto us, as is usuallie in such caisses, remembering alwayis to insert ane claus tharein that noething tharein mentioned be prejudiciall unto our revocatione, annuetic, ministers' stipendis, and others pious uses, or to the generall submissione and our decree following thareupon: And for, &c.—Whitehall, the 10 of Marche 1630.

To the Archbischopp of St Androis.

Right, &c.—Whareas wee are informed by your lettre of the frequent Simonicall compactes between the patrones and the presentatione ministers within that our kingdome, which is ane abuse worthie of our princelie reformatione and your pastorall animadversione, for the good and mantenance of the church from delapidationes and unlawfull admissiones: Oure pleasoure therefore is, and wee doe heirby strictlie will and require you, to caus the cannons of the church to be orderlie observed for preventione off all kind of Simonie in time coming, and that no persone be admitted, instituted, or inducted in any church heirefter untill be doe first tak his corporall oath before his ordinarie that he hath not anywayis come to his presentatione by any Simonicall compact whatsoever, directlie or indirectlie; and if you have alreadie found, or shall heirefter find, any Simonicall errour committed by any, wee require you to punish the partic alswell named in your lettre as all other offenders in that kind, by proces in the heigh commissione, or by deprivatione, suspensione, or otherwayis, as you shall find agreable to the cannons of the church, or lawes and practique of that our kingdome: Requiring you also to intimat this oure plesure unto all the rest of the Archbischopps and Bischopps within that our Kingdome, whareby they may carefullie look unto such abuses heirefter.—Whitehall, the 10 March 1630.

TO THE SESSIONE.

Right, &c.—Whareas wee are informed by our clergie thare that Mr Patrik Hepburne, the sone of the late Minister of Oldhamstockis, haveing confessed the giving of ane soume of money to the Erle Baleleuche for his presentatione to the said churche after his father's deceis, doethe endevore to defend and mantein his said impious act of Simonie under collour of the generalitie of the word of ane act of Parliament made in anno 1612, which he and his lawers labour to wraist for thair owne purpose: And forasmuche as the generall word of many actis of parliament which hath not been in use nor practise are not fitt to be raschlie put in executione, or wraisted into any impious sence, contrair to the intentione and true meening of the estates of parliament, Oure pleasure is tharefore that you seriouslie and consciebillie advert unto the said case of Simonie, and that yee cautiouslie prevent any precedent which may be urged for the defence of soe wicked a cryme as is not only pernitious to the estate, but alsoe may prove to be the uter overthrow of the church thare, whose decayed rwines we wold glaidlie to be repared by all the faire and lauchfull means and wayis which cau be devised: Soe recommending this particulare unto your serious consideratione, unto our nixt parliament may provide some wholesome remeid, we, &c.—Whitehall, the tenth of March 1630.

TO THE EXCHEQUER.

Right, &c.—Whareas wee are pleased to signe a signatour for some yeers to James Philp upon a motione made unto us in his behalff that the transportatione of milnstones and all others kind of stones fitt for building and dressing of houses and divers others uses, from thence into this our kingdome, never heirtoefore (as we are informed) practised, or by any might or means to set many of our poore subjectis thare a wark, and in some sort better our custumes both heir and thare; which, if you as yet have not caused exped, wee require you to doe it with all convenient diligence, granting unto him and his partiners, for the forthering of his intentione heirin, all such priveleges as you shall find to be requisit and usuall in the like nature: For doing whareoff, &c.—Whitehall, the tenthe of March 1630.

TO THE COMMISSIONERS OF THE PARLIAMENT.

Right, &c.—Whareas wee did latelie caus prorogate our Parliament unto the first day of Junij nixt to come, in houp that wee could have been our selff in persone at that time: And now considering that the present estate of our affairis can not permitt us to be thare convenientlie as we desyred, And yet being unwilling to be absent from our said parliament, and desyring to receave our croune in persone, and to settle all bussienes there for the good and weell of that our ancient and native kingdome, and with the applaus of all our good subjectis there: Oure pleasoure therefor is, and wee doe heirby authorise, will, and require you, to caus fense our said court of parliament by vertew of our commissione latelie granted unto you by us, and to prorogat or continow the said parliament again to the first of August nixtocum, with continouatione of dayis, that wee may have time to settle our affairs heir before we begin our jornay towardis that our ancient kingdome: And for doing of the premissis, &c.—Whitehall, the 10 of Marche 1630.

TO THE ERLE OF MARR.

Right, &c.—Being resolved, as wee hade formerlie determined, to repair unto that our kingdome, and notwithstanding of the provisiones alreadie made, wee consider that there wilbe sindrie other thingis requisit, whereof wee desire you as you tender our service to have a speciall care; And becaus it is necessare that some one should come hither whoe doethe understand the estate of thingis thare, as likewayis what is fitt to be furnesit from hence; and haveing already hade experience of the sufficiencie of . . . Sir James Baillie of Lochend, Knight, and his affectione to our service, wee think it necessare, and it is oure pleasoure, that you direct him hither, being instructed with all that may concerne our service in this bussienes, and that you satisfie of that which was formerlie allowed unto him for his repairing hither according to the warrand which he formerlie hade when he was send for, as likewayis at this time.—Whitehall, the eleventh day of Marche 1630.

TO THE EXCHEQUER.

Right, &c.—Whareas wee have granted unto . . . Maister Williame Haig, one of our sollicitouris under oure royall signatour, a commissione for imbringing to our use in a legall way some soumes restand due unto us of the ordinary taxationes 1621 and 1625: Wee are now informed that you have as yet delayed the expeeding of the same: Wee doe verie much wonder thareof, since wee hade granted the same upon soe good deliberatione after wee hard divers objectiones proponed unto us against it: Tharefore it is oure plesour, and wee doe heirby require you, that you ether give way to the said commissione, or otherwayis that you send unto us a noat of suche reasones against the expedience of itt as our advocatt has not answered unto us, and that without dropping upon any pointis which in this case aucht to be discussed and judged by the Lordis of Sessione.—Whitehall, the eleventh day of Marche 1630.

TO SIR ROBERT GORDOUNE.

Trustie, &c.—In regard wee approve the laudable custume of that our kingdome in choosing thare commissioners yeerlie in everie shire for attending at Parliamentis, conventioues, and other generall meeting of the estates of the said kingdome, Wee have thought fitt, out of our princelie care both for church and commonewelth, to require you to proceed to a new electione of tuoe such persones as you know to be sufficient and able, weell affected to our service and the publict good of that shire whareof you are ane shirreff against the nixt parliament, which wee intend in persone shortlie to hold thare: And wee haveing alreadie good prooff of your sufficiencie and affectione to our service and the publict good, wee wishe that yourselff might be chosen as one of the said tuoe commissioners, if by any faire and laufull means you can procure the same to be done: Soe wee bid, &c.—Whitehall, the 16 of Marche 1630.

TO THE BISCHOPP OF DUMBLAINE.

Reverend, &c.—Whareas wee did formerlie write unto you divers lettres concerning the celebratione of the Communione at Easter yeerlie, and thought wee did not doubt bot you will carefullie performe the directione of our said lettres, yet to quicken your endevouris heirin, Oure pleasoure is, that you give warning to the Lordis of our Counsell, and the Judges and members of our College of Justice, and others mentioned in our said former lettres, to performe thare partes prescrived be our said former letters: And that you certifie unto us the names of the Communicantis, and of those that, being warned, doe not Communicatt, that wee may tak such forther ordour as is most suteable with the governament of our church thare: Soe recommending this to your speciall care, wee bid you, &c.—Whitehall, the sexteenth day of Marche 1630.

TO THE ADVOCAT.

Trustie, &c.—Whareas wee are informed that the Commissioner of Dunkell, haveing some charge of the estate of Atholl in the minoritie of the Erle thareof, did without any warrand from us or our counsell release tuoe notorious theeffis from prisone after they wer laufully convicted and condemned, This abuse, if it be treu as is informed, being committed in contempt of our authoritie and against the due course of justice, and which by the exemple may prove dangerous: Oure pleasoure is, that you informe your selffis of the treu estate thareof, and if you find what is heirin alledged to be true, that in our name yee proceed against the said commissioner, according to justice and the course accustumed in cases of the like nature: And for your see doing, &c.—Whitehall, the 16 day of Marche 1630.

TO THE EXCHEQUER.

Right, &c.—Whareas . . . Doctour Johne Yong, Deane of Winchester, being imployed within that our kingdome for the service of our late dear father, and hade moneyis appointed by his speciall directione to be payed unto him thare, whareof (as we are informed) he is like to be disapointed by the deathe of Archibald Prymrose, late clark of the taxationes, whoe hade taken allowance for the same: And wee, being very loath that one whoe hade deserved weell of us should be defrauded of that which was allowed him for his charges, Oure pleasour is, that noe guift of Exchecquer be past of the said Archibald his goodis, unles our said servand be first satisfied of that which is due unto him out of the same, or otherwayis, if it be not alreadic payed or allowed in the saidis Archebaldis comptis, that you tak a course for his satisfactioun: ffor doing whareoff, &c.—Whitehall, the 16 day of March 1630.

TO THE COUNSELL

Right, &c.—Whareas we have writen our princelie directione unto our commissioners of Parliament to prorogat and continow the same unto the first day of August nixtocum, whareby wee may have some more time and leasour to be thare in persone in the said parliament, and to resave our croune for the peace and tranquilitie of that our native and ancient kingdome; oure pleasoure tharefore is, and wee doe heirby will and authorise and require you, that after the said parliament shalbe prorogated and continoued as said is, you caus intimat the said prorogatione and continouatione to all our good lieges within our said kingdome be oppen proclamatione at the merkatt crose of Edinburgh, and other places needfull; and warn all prelattis, noblemen, commissioners for borrowis, and all others haveing place, vote, or owing attendance in the said supream court of parliament, to attend and wait upon the same the foirsaid day, withe continonatione of dayis, and to perform all and sindrie such other thing is as to there places and offices doeth apperteen: And for doing of the premissis their our lettres, &c.—Whitehall, the 16 day of Marche 1630.

TO THE BISCHOPP OF CAITHNES,

Reverend father, &c.—Whareas wee did formerlie wreitt unto the Archbischopp of S^b Androis that notwithstanding of ane ordour of our privic counsell, whareby you are appointed to repair unto your dyocic and mak your aboad there, yet he should suffer you to remain in the pairtes of your ordinaric residence during the winter seasone, in regard wee wer to use you in some thingis touching our service; and sieing now we intend verie shortlie to doe the same, Wee have thought good heirby to require you to remain still in your ordinaric residence till you heir forther from us, and (if need be) you acquent the said Archebischop with their presentis: And for your soe doing, &c.—Whitehall, the 18 day of Marche 1630.

TO THE COUNSELL

Right, &c .- Whareas it hathe been complaned unto us by . . . the Duke of Lennox that divers of our subjectis, and specialie the burgh of Edinburgh, hath encroached upon the offices of Admiralitie and chamberlanrie of that our native and ancient kingdome of Scotlaud, usurping honouris, privelieges, and benefeittis belonging thereunto: And in regard that Mr Johne Hay, Commissioner for our said burgh, did affirme in our royall presence that they hade not acquired any thing belonging to the said offices; and forthermore, that iff our said burgh hade acquired any rightis in prejudice thareof that they wold willingly denude themselffis of the same in favouris of our said cousen: Oure expres will and plesour tharefore is, that you conveen before you the Magistratis of Edinburgh, Leith, and all others requisit in requiring them to give satisfactione to our said cousen, or to them intrusted by him, according to the said assurance made and given us by the said Mr Johne Hay, and our Advocatt concurr with the Advocattis of our said cousen in doing anything that may tend to the recovering of that which is wrongfully deteyned from him, or in securing of him in that which is or shalbe condiscendit upon, as they will answer upon there trust: And that you caus speedelie advise and raise summondis, righting our said cousen, to be called in the nixt parliament of that our kingdome aganis any persones whatsoever that have wronged or encroached upon the honouris, priveleges, and benefeittis of the saidis offices: And that you provide and use speedelie all others laufull means for preventing any inconveniences and redressing all prejudices that hes or may heirefter ensue and befall to our said cousen heiranent by prescriptione or otherwayis; the doing and performance whereof we recommend to your speciall care: And soe wee bid you fareweell .-- Whitehall, the 18 of Marche 1630.

TO THE ERLE OF MARR, THESAURER.

Right, &c.—Though wee have ever been confident of your affectione to our service, and of the continouance of your endevouris to the place wharein you serve; yet haveing by your lettre unto us, that in regard of your present infirmitie you are willing if wee be pleased tharewith to demitt the office of Thesaurer in favouris of . . . the Erle of Mortoune, wee approve of your resoluceone tharein, and upon your demissione shall presently grant the said place unto him, not doubting bot, as you wrett unto us, you will still be carefull to attend our service as one whome wee specialic respect: And soe, &c.—Whitehall, the 20 day of March 1630.

TO THE ADVOCAT.

Trustie, &c.—Haveing perused the answer that yee sent unto us for preventing any inconvenient that might arrise unto Frances Steuart, sone to the late Erle of Bothuell, be means of the late act of prescriptione: After divers considerationes, the noblemen heir present whoe have interest in that which he doeth clame are willing to renunce all benefit that they, there heirs or successouris, or any haveing right from them or to there behave, can pretend against the said Frances, be vertew of the said act of prescriptione, to the effect that the poure may still remain in our persone to determine therein as wee think best, as if the said act hade never been made: Therefore our plesour is, that you with all diligence imediatlie caus draw upp all such securitie or sureties as you think requisitt in law for the effect foirsaid, that the tuoe noblemen heir present may presentlie renunce all benefitt that they, there heirs or successouris, or any haveing right from them or to there behove, may clame against the said Frances, be vertew of the said act of prescriptione: And it is our forther plesour that you mak interruptione in our name to . . . the Erle of Balcleuch, and to all other persones whoe doe not renunce in due time all benefitt that may arrise to him or them, or to any of them, of the saidis landis, tithes, wadsettis, and others by vertew of the foirsaid act of prescriptione, as the noblemen heer present are content to doe, see that the said Frances be put in noe worse case by means thareof, But that the said estate may still remain in our handis to be disposed upon; and if the said Erle, or any other interested in that state, shall not as they doe renunce all benefeitt that can arise by vertew of the said act, if you find the interruptione made in our name will not be sufficient against the said Erle or others whoe doe not in due time renunce for the effect foirsaid. Wee are likewayis pleased you draw upp a poure for the said Frances from us in his owne name to mak interruptione to the said Erle or to any whoe doeth not renunce in maner abone specifieit; Provyding alwayis that he have noe poure to proceed forther then to mak the said interruptione, unless he have a farther warrant from us for that purpose: And soe, becaus of the schortnes of the time, recommending carnestlie unto your care that all diligence possible be used for effectuating that our intentione abone expressed, Wee bid you, &c .- Whitehall, the 21 March 1630.

A PRECEPT TO THE ERLE MARR.

It is our plesure that [with] all possible diligence you caus pay to the bearer, James Querriers, one of our falconers, the accustumed yeerlie allowance for bringing of some haulkis unto us from the northern partes of that our kingdome, and that you give unto him your best fortherance for this effect; ffor doing thereof, &c.—Whitehall, the 24 March 1630.

TO THE ADVOCAT.

Trustie, &c.—Whareas we have been plesed to present our weelbeloved Maister Johne Guthrie to the churche of Duffus, in Murray, Wee have thought fitt to require you, if any doe pretend rycht to the patronage of the said churche (as heirtofore sindrie have done in the like case), whareby our royall intentione in planting the churche may be impedit, and our right of patronage thareof prejudged, that you concurr with the said Maister Johne, whome we have been pleased to present, and doe your endevore for persewing or defending our right of the said patronage, alsweell by way of actione as by way of exceptione; And alsoe that you intend reductione in our name with your concurrence for our interest or at the instance of the said Maister Johne, for reduccing or annulling (if need he) the right of any persone whoe shall pretend to the said patronage, and persew all or other actione necessare and competent for estabilishing our right foirsail in the persone of the said Maister Johne, according to the lawes of that our kingdome.—Whitehall, 24 Marche 1630.

TO THE ADVOCAT.

Trustic, &c.—Whareas thare hath been a signatour of some landis belonging to . . . the Erle of Buchane presented to be signed by us, as wee are willing to doe him any laufull favour, soe wee are loath that any thing which may be prejudiciall to the generall directiones which you have from us should pas, And tharefore weld give ordour to doe the same till last your opinione ware hade thareanent: Tharefore our plesour is, that iff you find noething thareinto which is prejudiciall unto nor contrarie to our late decree, or any reservatione sent thareon to our Exchecquer, that you ether caus pas the same or retorne it docated for our hand for that effect: Soe wee bid, &c.—Whitehall, the 24 Marche 1630.

TO SIR ALEXANDER HAY OF FOSTERSEAT.

Trustie, &c.—Whareas wee are informed that you have conceaved some informatione to have been made unto us against you: As in our princelie judgment wee ar not accustumed to give ear to any report made unto us against any of our subjectis whatsoever without verie apparent evidence and importent respectis, much les will wee hearken to any thing that might derogat from you whoe hath been in see eminent a charge as one of the Senatouris of our Colledge of Justice, and whoe tharein hath soe long served us and our deir father of worthie memorie, without wee hade both seen just caus and reall groundis for the same, and hade caused acquent you therewith for the better justifieing of yourselff: Bot wee are see farr from any such conceptione as may tend to your disadvantage, that wee will not be unmyndfull to expres our forther respect unto you when ony occasione shall convenientlie be offered unto us for doing the same: Whareoff haveing thought fitt at this time to give you notice, Wee bid you, &c.—Whitehall, the 4 day of Aprill 1630.

TO THE EXCHEQUER.

Right, &c.—Whareas upon consideratione that the Marques of Huntly and Lord Gordoune, his sone, did voluntarelie surrender in favouris of us and the croune of that kingdome, ad perpetuam remanentiam, the heretable offices of the shirrefshipps of Aberdeen and Innernes, wee wer pleased to grant unto the said Lordis a precept of fyve thousand pundis sterling out of our custums, great and small, of that our kingdome, and that payment should be made unto him or his assignees out of theis custumes before any other payment excepting the yeerlie fees due to our Colledge of Justice: And now for theis considerationes being willing that he be payed according to our former royall intentione, And being informed that he hath deputed Williame Dick for receaving the payment thereof, to whome a lease of theis custumes is granted by you, Oure pleasoure is, that in behalff of the said Lord you give way to the said Williame Dick, to be payed of that soume out of these custumes, great and small, according in all respectis to the precept formerlie granted: And for your soe doing, &c.—Whitehall, the 4 day of Aprill 1630.

TO THE THESAURER AND DEPUTIE THESAURER.

Right, &c.—We have been willing to have some muttons yearly from that our kingdome, at such seasones of the year and in such number as was formerlie brought in custume for the use of our late dear father, to which purpose wee have been formerlie pleased to give ordour at severall times; and understanding that Johne Geddes, whoe hath taken great panis and been at charges to doe us service tharein, was be our appointment imployed in this earand: Oure pleasoure is, that you authorise him tharein to bring hither for our use such and the like number of sheep as wer in use to be brought of before; And that you pay him the like allowances and feeis as wer paid by Sir Gedeon Murray, our late Deputie Thesaurer, to any persone whoe at that time hade the like charge: And for that purpos that according to our first intentione furness unto him upon accompt present moneyis at his first begining to serve us in that kind; ffor doing whareof, &c.—Whitehall, the fourth day of Aprill 1630.

TO THE ERLE OF MONTEATH.

Letter to repair to Court, dated Whitehall, 13 April 1630.

TO THE EXCHECQUER.

Right, &c.—Whareas we have been informed by our servand James Maxuell of Innerweek that his landis and barony of Innerweek are holden of our principalitie by the tennour of ward and releeff whareby the mariage of his dochters by his death may fall in our handis and at our guift if they should happen not to be matched in his lifetime: And wee being weell pleased at his humble sute to compound with him by your advise for the wardschip and mariages of his saidis dochters, if the same shall fall: Oure pleasonr tharefore is, that you secure him and them from the danger of the said wardschip and mariages for such compositione as is usuall for the like barrones, or as you think fitting for a man of his qualitie and place, and in such a legall maner as our advocat shall devise, in a signature to be presented by him to your handis to be passed for that effect.—Whitehall, the 16 day of Aprill 1630.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—Haveing intentione upon verie good considerationes at this time to aid our brother the King of France with such forces as wee can convenientlie spare, We required . . . the Lord Gordoune to leavie in that our kingdome a companye of Tuoe thousand footmen, ffor doing whareof it is fitt that he be authorised by our commissione under the Great Seall of that our Kingdome of Scotland appointing him to be folle Colonell of the said regement, with pouare to him to elect, nominat, and appoint such commanders and officiars as are usuall to be appointed by a Colonell: These are tharefore to will and require you upon sight heirof to caus exped unto the said Lord a commissione under our Great Seall aforesaid in competent forme, giveing and granting unto him full pouare a licience to leavie and transport the said regiment . . . into France for our said brother's service, out of all such persones within that our kingdome as he shall find willing to goe with him thither, granting him libertie to tuck drummes for that purpose, with as large priveleges as any other hath hade heirtofore in the like kind, he alwayis giving such satisfactione to everie one of the said number as shalbe agreed upon betuix him and them according to the like cases: tfor doing whareof, &c.—Whitehall, the 20 of Aprill 1630.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—Whareas wee did grant a commissione unto . . . the Lord Gordoune, with consent of the Archebischopp of St Androis in behalff of the clergie, for apprehending of such papistis as wer in rebellione, and excommunicated persones in the Northern partes of that our kingdome: And now conceaving the time agreed upon betuix you and him for imbringing of the saidis excommunicated rebellis to be too schort in regard of his present imployment in the other service concerning our brother the King of France: Our pleasoure is, that the said former time condiscended upon betuix you for executing of the said commissione be prorogated till the first day of July nixtocum, &c.—Whitehall, the 20 of Aprill 1630.

TO THE EXCHEQUER.

Right, &c.—Seing, as wee are informed, it pleased our late deir father to give ordour by a lettre from him that noe guift of the Erle of Nithesdale his liftent or eschet should be disponed of untill he wer first acquented tharewith: And wee, being noe les carefull of that which may concern the said Erle or the good of his house, doe require you by theis presentis that you pas noe gift of his liferent or escheat till he, or such as shall have warrand from him, be first hard, that the benefit thareof may be applyed for his debtis, and payment of the same, and releefling of his cationers, whome we recommend unto you in like maner, in see farr as they stand bound for him, &c.—Whitehall, the 20 of Aprill 1630.

TO THE VISCOUNT CLANNEBOUES.

Right, &c.—Being informed by... the Erle of Nithesdale of the care and diligence taken by you in all thingis that might tend to the advancement of our service, and how carefull you have been to apprehend and send againe some notorious maliefactouris, whoe, haveing committed hyenous crymes in Scotland, hade fled from thence to Irland, thareby preventing the due course of justice fitt to be execute upon all such malefactouris, Wee doe rander you hartlie thankis for the same, And doe heirby will and require you that, upon adverteisment from our Counsell, or Commissioners of the Middle shires, called the borders, you caus search and apprehend any such persones afoirsaid as shalhappin to be within your boundis, or elswhare, as you shall think fitt, and that you caus send them bak againe, which we will tak as acceptable service, &c.—Whitehall, the 20 of Aprill 1630.

TO THE VISCOUNT MONTGUMRIE.

Another lettre conforme to the former was directed to the Viscecount Montgomrie, verbatim, of the foresaid dait.

TO THE ERLE OF MONTEATH.

Right, &c.—Being informed of the great abuses which arise in the bordouris by a custume latelic used in the holding of Courtis, whareof noe man, how giltie soever of thift or receipt of thift, is put to triall by the Commissioners except the partie accuser doe suer and persue at the tour, by which abuse many notorious theeffis doe daylie escape punishment, the partie from whom the goodis are stolline not darring openlie so to follow the same for fear of forder harme from the maister or freendis of the theeffis; as likewayis many baveing committed thiftis from Englishemen which are notoriouslie known are libered from punishement in regard the parties from whome the goodis are stollen doe not compeir to follow, whoe, ether upon collusione or many other reassones, may pretend cause to be absent from the Justice Courtis: Tharefore our pleasure is, that you, or the rest of the Commissioners of the borders, a dittay being sufficientlic suorne to any one of the Commissioners, or to the clark of the commissioner, or the dittay being knouen by pregnant probabilities, conforme to the custume which hath been used befor times, caus the partie accuser by his triall, and with all that you give or dour that noe cautione be admitted before the generall Justice of such as are inhabitant in the shires of late called the borders, whoe are accused of thift, recent of thift, or recent slauchter, but that they be appointed to by thair triall at the Justice Courtis upon the borders: And whareas likeway is thare are divers the effis and male factour is whoe, haveing for thare superiour is the Lordis of the regalitie, are protected by them, soe eschewing due punishement which should be executed against them, Wee will that you desire the said is Lordis, ether by themselves or thare baillieff is, to assist and concurr with you for thare triall, whareby justice may be ministred; and for the benefit that shall arrise thareby it is noe way our meening that they be prejudged thareof: And for your soe doing, &c.—Whitehall, the 20 of Aprill 1630.

TO THE HEIGHE COMMISSIONE.

Right, &c.—Whareas, at the humble sute of the Bischoppe and ministeris of Gallowa, and upon certificat from them of the great necessitie of building and providing a churche at Portt Montgumrie, alias Port Patrik, not onlie for the good of the inhabitantis at the said port, and others neir unto itt, bot also of all our subjectis of our kingdome of Scotland, England, and Irland that doe travell to and from Irland, Wee wer graciouslie pleased to give ordour to our advocat to caus a signatour be drawen upp for our hand, that the church which was then abuilding by . . . Viscecount Montgumrie might be thareby erected into a paroch church, and provided with means competent for the interteinment of a preacher to serve the cure thare: And now, understanding that the said Church is weell builded and finished by our said Viscount Montgomrie at his charges, and that by our lettres under our Great Scall of that our kingdome of Scotland the said churche is erected into a paroch churche, and certane landis disguised [devised?] and alloted thareunto for a paroschine, but as yet there is noe provisione for a minister, Oure pleasure tharefor is, that you tak a speciall care to sie the said churche weell provided out of the first and reddiest of such tithes, great or small, or other casualities, kirk-rent, which ether are or shalhappin in our handis, and that the samen be annexit to the said churche for ever heirefter for interteinment of the minister thare: Which recommending seriouslie to your care, we bid you fareweell, &c.—Whitehall, the 20 of Aprill 1630.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—Whareas wee are informed that divers parties, goldsmithes, gravers, cutters, and others artificers, take upon them to grave, paint, cutt, and give coatis of armes to such persones as are not privelidged by the law of armes nor any way warranted by us to wear coatt armour or cognissance of gentrie; which disordour wee will not suffer any longer to be continoued, sieing that both wee, our ancient nobilitie, and gentrie of that our kingdome are heirby wranged, and in particulare our King of Armes, whose cheeff mantenance hath heretofore depended (as wee are informed) upon the like services: Tharefore our plesure is, and wee doe heirby require you, to call before you all such persones as shalbe alledged by our said King of Armes to transgres in that kind, ordayning to deliver upp to him all bookis of armes, genologies, papers, and all other draughtis touching that purpose which can be found by you to be in thate handis or custodie: Likewayis our plesour is that you fyne and imprisone all offenders in this kind according as the nature of the offence shall require, Ordaning them to find suretie and cautione, under such panis as you shall think expedient, that they doe not in any time heirefter transgres in this maner.— Whitehall, the 20 of Aprill 1630.

TO THE CHANCELLARE.

Right, &c.—Haveing preferred . . . Sir James Balfour of Kinnard, Knight, to be our King of Armes in that our kingdome of Scotland, And being willing that noe honour belonging to that place and office should be diminished or impared, It is our royall pleasure and will that you with all convenient diligence inaugorat him with all ceremoney due and requisit in als goodlie maner and forme, and als solemnlie in all respectis as ever any Lione King at Armes hath bene crouned in that our kingdome; ffor doing whareof, &c.—Whitehall, the 20 day of Aprill 1630.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—Whareas (wee are informed) that divers insufficient persones of noc worth nor reputatione hath latelie, by the neglegences of our late King of Armes, bene promitted, contrare to the law of armes, the honour of us, and of that our ancient kingdome, to be herauldis and pursevantis, whoe for the most pairt being ignorantis, without learning or letters, keepers of tavernes and victualling houses, does so blemishe and defile that honerable office of armes, contrarie to the oathe given by them at thare admissione: Wee, thinking ourselves heirby verie much interested, doe will and require you that you call oure King of Armes before you, ordouring him to cite the wholl herauldis and pursevantis of that our kingdome, and in our presence, according to the accustume used in the like causes, trie and examine them; requiring you likewayis to discharge from any forther exercise of that office all such as shall not be judged worthie by you of soe honorable an office and calling: ffor doing whereof, &c.—Whitehall, the 20 of Aprill 1630.

TO THE ERLE OF LINLYTHOUHO.

Right, &c.—Whareas wee are informed that you of late, by advise of our Privie Counsell, have not for some causes proceedit against some persones (whoe hade tortered some of the subjectis of our brother the French King) according to the sentence of deathe given against them by your court of Admiralitie, till oure plesour should be first knouen tharein; as wee doe approve of your moderat maner of proceeding in this in seeking the approbatione of us and our counsell, whare you might have caused execute justice of yourself, according to the privelege of your office: Soe now (sieing yee desire to know our plesure heirin), wee will the rather trust your oune judgment and discretione; And tharefore wee remitt unto yourself to tak suche a course touching them as you shall think most fitt and equitable: Soe we, &c.—Whitehall, the 20 of Aprill 1630.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—Whareas we have been petitioned by William Ramsay of Pettenweem, in the cuntrie of Fyff, for some duetic to be imposed upon everic tune of goodis which shalle imported or exported into or out of that our kingdome, in any stranger's bodden, accordinglic as is done with our subject is nother forrance parties: Though wee think it ressonable that there should be a difference betuix our native subject is and strangers in such causes, yet we wold not doe anything heiriu till first your advise wer hard of; and tharefor, haveing thought fitt to send you the petitione heir enclosed to be considered of, that haveing certified us bak of your opinione tharein, we may tak such courses therefore as we shall think most fitt: Soe we bid, &c.—Whitehall, the 20 of Aprill 1630.

TO THE SESSIONE.

Right, &c.—Wee are informed by petitione from James Hereot, our jewaller, that his brother George in his laufull legacie bequethed a legacie of 1000hb sterling to Thomas Hereot, ane other brother, with special appointment that iff any of the said soume, or any part of itt, should be unpayed after the decease of the said Thomas, it should descend upon the said petitioner, and that at least two thirdis remain still in the said George his executouris handis, or our toune of Edinburgh, upon ane heretable band, whareby the petitioner, as being his nixt heir, besidis the will of the testatour, hathe the undouted right to at the least the said twoe-thridis; Bot that notwithstanding thereof the executouris of the last deceased Thomas his brother acclame the wholl, and by reasone of the peticeoner's absence, and that there chanouris, importonis, or povertie may possibillic prejudge him in his right, These are therefore to recommend unto you our said servand his right, and to will and require you to look carefullie thereunto, that hee be not prejudged by his absence, it being for our speciall and daylie service but that he may find as a just and equitable, soe a speedie and quick dispatche: Wharein not doubting of your care and diligence, wee bid you fareweell.—Whitehall, the 24 of Aprill 1630.

TO THE EXCHECQUES.

Right, &c.—Wee are informed by peticeone from Andro Dicksone that he haveing taken great panis and layed out great soumes of money in reparing and setting furth of those shippes which have ordour for the use of the estate thare, hath not onlie been prejudged in his healthe, but lyen out of his money all this whill, to his great domage and almost utter undoing: Wee tharefore, in justice and out of our princelie commiseratione, have thought fitt to will and require you fforthwith to examine the accomptis of his debursements, and give ordour for speedic payment of such moneyis as you shall find to be due unto him thareupon, &c.—Whitehall, the 24 of Aprill 1630.

TO THE EXCHEQUER.

Right, &c.—Wee are informed by peticeone from Peter Hay that his childring baveing been made executouris to thate grandmother for apprehending certane legacies bequethet from hir unto them, have notwithstanding been keept from the benefit thateof by the adversouris of hir husband George Bonyman during his lifte, and since his death by the pouare of his freendis, see as now he hath noe other remedie of thate losse but by our grant of all the chattellis, reall and personall, pertining to the said George during his liftime, and being escheated unto us by vertew of his rebellione: These are tharefore, out of our princelic commiseratione, to will and require you, if the information be trew, to exped in name of the petitioner a grant of the said George his escheat: Yet see as you tak him bound to mak noe forther use thareof than for the recoverie of the saidis legacies to the behove of his childring; wharein not doubting of your care, We, &c.—Whitehall, 24 Aprill 1630.

TO THE ADVOCAT.

Trustie, &c.—Wee are informed by peticeone from Archebald Wood, keeper of our moore of Moore Eamonth, that it is mightie incroached upon by some of the nobilitie and gentrie haveing landis neir adjacent thereto, whereby not onlie the peticeoner is endomaged, but wee alsoe divers wayis, and especiallie in our right prejudged: These are also to will and require you, if the information be trew, to tak a legall and speedie course for vindicating our right, and the peticeoner's prejudice from any forther intrusione or present encroachment, but housever to certiffie us of your diligence, and enquire heiranent: Wharein not doubting of your care, Wee bidd you fareweell.—Whitehall, the 24 day of Aprill 1630.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—Wee wer heirtofore pleased to recommend unto your cares and endevouris Tuoe petitiones of Margaret Ballandyne's, which wer sent unto you inclosed within our lettre daited the thrid of Aprill 1628, willing you to trye the groundis thareof, and tak speedie course to give such satisfactione to hir as in equitie should be by you found fitt, or otherwayis to certiefie us what you should think fitt to be done heirin: Nevertheles noething, as wee are informed, beeing done, and wee taking notice againe of the peticeoner's demandis and hir povertie, and alsoe of the losse of hir brother's liffe in our service at the Ile of Rhea, doe heirby will and require you forthwith to tak the same into your consideratione, and, according to our former lettre that you tak some speedie course for hir releeff, or els certiefie us what you think fitt to be done tharein, that thareupon wee may tak some forther course and ordour for hir releeff.—Whitehall, the 24 of Aprill 1630.

TO THE ADVOCAT.

Trustie, &c.—Whareas wee are informed that one Keir hath of long time opprest our subjectis in the charge which he hade under M^r Johne Skeen, clark of the Billis in our College of Justice: Oure pleasoure is, that if you find that what is heerin informed unto us to be trew, that you in our name proceed against the said Keer according to the lawes of that kingdome, and to the course accustumed in the like causes.—Whitehall, the 28 of Aprill 1630.

TO THE EXCHEQUER.

Right, &c.—Whareas wee are informed that one Keir, whoe hade a charge under Mr Johne Skeen, clark of the Billis in our College of Justice, hath both wronged the trust reposed nnto him, and oppressed our subjectis, contrarie to our lawes, whareby his landis and moveables fall as escheat at our guift: And being willing, for considerationes knouen unto us, to grant any benefit that may thareby arrise unto us to Sir Thomas Dischingtoun, our servand: Oure pleasoure is, iff the said Keer be alreaddic found, or shall heirefter be found culpable in that kind, and that wee may laufullie caus evict the said escheat, that our said servand be preferred thareto before any other persone: And to that effect that you pas noe other guift thareof till any other till our forther plesour be signified unto you tharein.—Whitehall, the 28 day of Aprill 1630.

TO THE CITTLE OF BRISTOLL.

Trustie, &c.—Whareas wee are informed by testimonie of our College of Phisitians of the integretie of liffe and conversatione, of the learning, care, conscience, and diligence, of . . . Robert Ramsay, practisioner in phisick, and of his habilities in the studie and groundis of that science: Wee tharefore being carefull of you and everie one of your helthes, doe heirby specialic recommend the said Robert unto you, requiring you to resave, accept, and intertein him as one whoe of himselff desires to leive and bestow his talent amongis you: Which trusting you will doe, we bid you hartlie fareweel.—Whytehall, the 30 of Aprill 1630.

TO THE ERLE OF HOME.

Right, &c .- Whareas upon consideratione that our late royalf father hade taken soe much panis in setling some differences between your father and Johne Steuart touching Coldinghame. Wee wer the rather pleased to write heirtofore unto you in that purpose, wherein wee have hitherto found a reddie performance in you obeying our desire tharein, ffor which wee give you thankis: And now being peticeoned by divers creditouris of the said Johne, that in respect they have alreadie in his behalff payed thrie thousand of the four thousand poundis decreed for your satisfactione, there estates being as yet engadged for the same, and that if compleet payment of the moneyis due unto you be not whollie payed before the tenthe of Junij nixt, you are to enter to the full possessione of all that estate, by schortnes of which time, and, as wee are informed, of there hard estate to raise those money is occasioned by thare burthens see contracted for paying of you, they are likelie to lose what they have debursed in his behalff (the estate of Couldinghame being the means by which they can expect releeff), oure desire now is, that iff your moneyis, both principall and annuellis, be not payed unto you at that time, you will ether tak such a pairt of that estate as is proportionable to what is justlie due unto him, or otherwayis, that upon sufficient suretie to be given you by them, you will give them the terme of Mertimes nixt for doing thareoff, which wee will take as a favour done unto us; and if they doe not at that time give you compleit satisfactione of what you can justlie demand, wee will never heerefter meddle further in that purpose: Soe desyring your resoluceone heirin to be imparted to the said creditouris, wee bid you, &c .-Whitehall, the fourt day of May 1630.

TO THE CHANCELLAR AND PRECEDENT.

Letter upon the same subject and of the same date,

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—The inclosed peticeon being presented unto us, Our pleasour is, that you give such ordour for the peticeoner's satisfactione tharein as may best tend to the exact triall of those offences according to the lawes of that our kingdome, and as may best stand with the case of our good subjectis; and to that effect that the peticeoner may have such freedome as is requisit for prosecutione of the triall till it be finallie determined according to justice.—Whitehall, the 4 of May 1630.

TO THE ERLE OF LYNLITHQUHO.

Right, &c.—Whareas wee have been informed, in behalff of Captains Andersone and Daw, and thare owners, that since ordour was given for release of the tuoe schippis, alledged to be of Calias, taken by them, it is found by certificat of divers honest men that they did belong to Dunkirk and Ostend: howso-ever, wee are confident that your decreit was pronunced according as at the giving thareof you found just evidence; yet because thare demand (seeming to proceed upon forther knowledge of the treuth of theis proceedings) is only that the same may be tryed according to justice before theis shippis be put from thence, without any long stay or charge of the owners, Wee are heirby pleased (if any ground shall appeir of what is alledged) that, according to the demand of the peticeone which wee have sent you heirwith enclosed, a time requisit for the tryeing of what is alledged be granted, and that a course be taken accordingly for that effect: Which purpose seriouslie recommending unto your care, Wee bid you, &c.—Whitehall, the seventh of May 1630.

TO THE ADVOCAT.

Trustie, &c.—We greet you weel, and do thank you hartefullie for the care you have hade, according to oure directione, to prevent any prejudice that might have come unto us by means of the act of prescriptione, and wee are verie confident that the act made in Sessione wilbe sufficient for that purpos; yet in regard of the doubt thareof made by some, apprehending what objectiones are in possibilitie to be made heirefter touching the same, after you have advised with our Chancellare (if he be thare, whare in due time you may meet with him), and that you find it necessare to proceed in some legall maner as shalhe thought most fitt by you for our better assurance, ether to strengthen oure title (iff need be) or to prevent any inconvenience that in liklichead may arise tharein: Oure pleasoure is, that with diligence you raise summondis, or tak any other course thought necessarie by you for this purpose, against all persones interested in such thingis, whareunto wee have just clame, and from which we have not alreadie secludit ourselves be our declaratione concerning our revocatione, excepting such persones who have submitted themselves unto us for such thingis as by vertew of thare submissiones are comprehendit within our decree: See not doubting bot you will vse your best endevouris heirin, wee bid you fareweel.—Whitehall, the 13 day of May 1630.

TO SIR WILLIAMS ALEXANDER.

Trustie, &c.—Haveing understood by your lettre, and more ample by report of others of the good success of your voyage, and of the earefull and provident proceeding for planting of a colonic at Port Royall, which may be a means to settle all that cuntrie in obedience, wee give you hartlie thankis for the same, and doe wish you (as wee are confident you will) to continow as you have begune, that the wark may be brought to the intendit perfectione, which wee will esteem as one of the most singulare services done unto us and of you accordinglie, and of everie one of your company that have been good instrumentis in the same, as wee shall have a testimonic of them from you: Soe recommending unto you that you have a speciall care before you return to tak a good course for government of the Colonic during your absence, Wee bid you fareweell.—Whitehall, the 13 day of May 1630.

TO THE SESSIONE.

Right, &c.—Being informed that . . . the Erle of Annandale haveing purchesed from umquhill Sir Robert Gordoune of Lochinevarr some landis in Irland, whateunto . . . Sir Archebald Achesone, secretarie for that our kingdome, pretendit right; and that it is necessarie that the differences depending thareupone between them be decided according to the course of justice of the kingdome whare the landid dois lye: Oure pleasoure is, if any actione touching that purpos bee which hath relaceone thareunto shall happen to come before you, that the same be suspendit unto such time as you be certified of the proceedings thareof in Irland, and then (if need be) that you proceed tharin as you shall find just caus, according to justice.—Whitehall, the 13 day of May 1630.

TO THE EXCHEQUER.

Right, &c.—Wharcas . . . Sir Johne Scot hath shewen us a way how the Lordis of the erectiones may be payed without any money to be given by our thesaurer unto them, by giving of new rightis by us upon the saidis Lordis and thate vassellis owne resignationes to all such as have clauses irritant in there out writtes without the saidis clauses; ffor the which favour we are informed that they wilbe willing everie one to pay for the proportione of thare owne landis to the saidis Lordis, that heirefter they may get from us new writtes, and wee may thareby have our rent of our croune incressed by thare dueties: And as for the rest of the vassellis whoe have not clauses irritant in their ould writtis, it is thought fitt that for some few yeers' discharge of there few dueties in time coming thay wilbe content to pay there parties of the saidis fewes to the said Lordis of erectiones, the particulars whereof he is willing to use his best endevouries to cleir unto you: Tharefore we will you to tak theis things into your considerationes, and if you find the same profitable for us and our estate, Wee desire you to informe yourselffis of the same by the said Sir Johne, which being cleer, that you goe on in prosecuting of the same for the weell of our service, adverteising us what expectatione you have of the success of this bussienes, and of what other overtour the said Sir Johne shall propone for the advancement and incress of our estate there, and certificing us of your opinion therein, that we may caus them be prosecuted, and may reward the said Sir Johne as the success of the service being perfited may merit and deserve at our hand: Soe, &c.—Whitehall, the 21 May 1630.

Our Soveraigne Lord ordeanes a Letter to be made vnder his highnes great seall of Scotland, Makand mention that wheras his Ma^{teis} trustie and weilbeloved M^r David Fullerton, one of the receavers of his Ma^{teis} rents of the said kingdome, did by speciall direction from his Ma^{teis} receave for his Ma^{teis} vse, for provisions and other things fit to be in readines at his Ma^{teis} intended goeing at that tyme to the said kingdome, from some persones in his Ma^{teis} kingdome speciallie entrusted in some of his Ma^{teis} affaires, the sowme of eight thowsand pundis sterling money; and his Ma^{teis} haveing now vponn good consideratiouns, and for the well of his service in the said kingdome of Scotland, made spetiall choyse of his Ma^{teis} right, &c. the Erle of Morton to be his Ma^{teis} Thesaurer thairof (who by reasone of the great want of moneyis at this tyme in his Ma^{teis} Exchequer occasioned vpon many and important causes) is to seik all the lawfull wayes and meanes wherby moneyis may be had for dischargeing such necessar affaires as his Ma^{teis} at this tyme hath speciallie entrusted vnto him, and as speciallie doe concerne the good of his Ma^{teis} present and vrgent affaires to be performed ther: Therfore his Ma^{tie}, and for diverse other good consideratiouns moveing his highnes, have gevin, granted, and committed, lykas his Ma^{tie} be thir presentis Gives, grants, and committs vnto him his Mateis full power and commission to call for ane accompt of the said sowme of Eight thowsand pundis, and everie part thairof, at the handis of the said Mr David Fullerton, and at the handis of any other officers whatsoever, persone or persones to whome the saidis moneyis, or any part thairof, had bene delyvered by the said Mr David, wheref accompt hath not bene made be him and them, or any of them, in Exchecker, to be made appear vnto the said Thesaurer, and which he the said Mr David or any of the saidis persones hath not bene alreadie imployed by his Mateis speciall warrand appearing under his highnes' hand, and for the speciall vse of his Mateis service, with full power and commission to the said The saurer to receave and uplift from the said Mr David, or from other persones as aforesaid, the said sowme of eight thowsand pundis, or such part or parts thairof as hath not bene made accompt of in Exchequer as aforsaid, and particularlie imployed by speciall warrand from his Matie, and for the vse of his Mateis service, as said is, And with power to his Mateis said Thesaurer to dispose thairof for the good of his Mateis said service: And his Matie doeth heirby declare that the said Thesaurer his acquittance or acquittances granted vpoun the recept thairof, or any part thairof, pro tanto, shalbe as sufficient exoneration and discherge to the said Mr David, and others officers and persones aforsaid, as if he and everie of them wer particularlie discherged be his Matie efter what maner they could best devyse, and with power to the said Thesaurer all and sindrie vther thingis to doe, vse, and exerce, &c., firme and stable, &c.: And that the said Letter be extendit in the best forme, with all clausses neidfull: And his Matie ordeanes this present signature to be a sufficient warrant to the directour of his Mateis Chanceric for wryting of the said commission, and to his Mateis Chancellour for appending the great seall thairto, without any precept to be past for that effect vnder his Mateis signet or privie seall.—Gevin at Whythall, the 11 of Junij 1630

TO THE ADVOCAT.

Trustie, &c.—Wee haveing at some lenth writen to our Exchecquer touching some causes of the resignatione to be made in our favouris by the Reverend father in God the Bischopp of the fles, which you, as one of that number, will perceave, Oure pleasoure is, that you draw upp in sure maner a resignatione of the superiorities, temporall landis, and benefices whatsoever of the Bischoprik of the fles, the Abbacie and Nunrie of Icolmekill, and Priories of Ardchatan and Orensey, or of any other landis, superioritie, and benefices belonging and annexit to that Bischoprik, reserving specialie the spiritualitie thareof, whareby he may provide the ministerie in that diocie, that wee be not heirefter burdened with thare mantenance: And tharefter that you in our name intend proces and insist by law for drawing bak of that temporall estate for our use, in soe far as justly and laufullie can bee done by you; at the full recoverie whareof wee will (according to our royall promies made unto the said Bischopp) that the same be restored unto him or his successouris Bischoppis of the fles, oure yeerlie allowance of thrie hunderith pundis sterling granted unto him being at that time drawen bak to our Exchecquer: Soe, not doubting but that you will prosecute this purpose without exceptione of persones or occasions, haveing legall and convenient groundis for doing thareof, wee, &c.—Whitehall, the eleventh day of Junij 1630.

TO THE EXCHEQUER.

Letter similar to the above and of the same date.

TO THE EXCHEQUER.

Right, &c.—Whareas upon divers good and important considerationes, and for advancement of our service, wee wer pleased in August last to grant vnto . . . the Earle of Montcathe, precedent of our privie counsell, and our Justice Generall of that our kingdome, a warrant for fyve thousand poundis sterling, knowing how much his abilities, care, and affectione hath advanced the same, and may heirefter contribute therunto: Our speciall pleasure is, that you pay unto him the said soume, or his assignais, according to our said warrand: But if the same caunot possebillie be payed at this time, in respect of the present wantis in our Exchecquer, that after the ensueing terme of Mertimes, you pay unto him or them, out of the first and reddiest of our rentis, casualities, and taxationes, present and to come, belonging unto us, ordinarie interest for the time of the forbearance thareof (as he might pay vnto others); and for his forther suretie, that you mak are act of Exchekquer heirupon: And for your soe doing, these shalbe unto you and everie of you a sufficient warrand and discharge.—Whitehall, the elevent of Junij 1630.

Instructiones to the Exchequer.

Right, &c.—Whareas, upon good and important respectis we have at this time given some instructiones to . . . the Erle of Mortoune, our thesaurer, to be by him put in execution, in soe farr as they or any of them shalbe found fitt, for the good of our service and the publict good of that our kingdome: Oure pleasoure is, that you grant unto him actis of counsell and Exchequer upon the said instructiones, or any of them, and what assistance he shall demand, touching the more specdic prosecutione of the same.—Whitehall, the eleventhe of Junij 1630.

TO THE TWOE RECEAVERS.

Trustie, &c.—Whareas the present wantis in our Exchecquer are weell knowen unto you, and the great burtheans undergone by . . . the Erle of Mortoune, our Thesaurer, hathe made us conclude with him, bothe for the urgent dispatche of our present affairs thare, requiring the greatest diligence that can be used, and for his onne releeff of the saidis burdeans, to tak the most exact and speediest way (whareby he may be the more able to be answerable unto us in his charge) ffor leavieing of our rentis and casualities whatsoever belonging unto us in that our kingdome: Oure pleasoure tharefor is, that you pay not any moneyis whatsoever belonging unto us, upon any warrant or occasione whatsoever, without speciall directione of our said Thesaurer.—Whitehall, the eleventh of Junij 1630.

TO THE CHANCELLARE,

Right, &c.—Whareas the Erle of Mortoune, our thesaurer of that our kingdome, hathe been stayed heir upon some speciall occasiones concerning our service, and upon hope to have receaved that supplie intendit for him by us, soe that he could not soe quicklie repair thither for dispatch of such thingis as doe concerne his charge from us as was requisit, nether yet tak that course with his creditouris at this time as by them may be expected, in regard he is with all convenient diligence to repair thither: Oure plesoure is, that you (if need be) acquent them with the estate thareof; and in the meantime, if you shall find the estate of his affairs soe to require, to deall with his creditouris in a freendlie maner, to forbear any insisting against him till his homecuming, and wee doubt not but he will shortlie be enabled to give them satisfactione: Wee bid, &c.—Whitehall, the eleventh day of Junij 1630.

To MR DAVID FULLERTONE.

Trustie, &c.—Though wee doubt not of your care and affection in the charge you have from us, yet, haveing at this time speciallie entrusted the dispatche of divers our most waightie and urgent affairs in that our kingdome unto the Erle of Mortoune, our thesaurer, whoe (by reasone of the present wantis in our Excheckquer, not unknowen unto you) can hardlie rease readie moneyis for that purpose, Wee, for his more timelie doing thareof, have caused considder of all the laufull wayis and means that can be devised for his better releeff and fortherance tharein: Whareupon, considering howe wee wer pleased to deliver unto you heir, for our use thare, Eight thousand poundis sterling, we have been the rather pleased, in respect that divers of theis moneyis are (as wee are informed) out of your handis, to grant unto him a commissione for taking a compt of that soume: Tharefore oure plesour is, that you give him such light heirin as can be given by you, and that you forthwith deliver upp to him such parte of the same as you have in our charge, and which you have not as yet payed out of your handis by speciall warrand appeiring under our hand: Soe wee, &c.—Whitchall, the eleventh day of Junij 1630.

TO THE ERLE OF MARR.

Right, &c .- Whareas wee were formerlie pleased to grant commission for componing with such persones whoe, contrarie to the act of parliament made in anno 1621, wald defraud us of our taxationes, wherin you wer cheefflie entrusted in making the compositiones, which being agreed upon, wer onlie to have been delivered unto you; Though wee have found by good effect is the great care and affectione you have to our service, both in time of our late deir father and in our owne, and are still confident that you wold discharge yourselff weell tharein; yet, haveing at this time speciallie entrusted the dispatch of divers our most weyghtie and urgent affairs unto our thesaurer, whoe, by reasone of the present wantis in our Exchecquer, weell knowen unto you, can hardlie rais moneyis for that purpos, haveing undergone soe great burtheans for your releeff in our service, Wee, for the better and more timelie supplieing of these wantis, have caused considder of all lawfull way is and means for that purpose, and doe find non more lawfull and fitt than to grant a commissione of new for compounding with such transgressouris of our lawes with whome no compositione hath been alreadie made: Oure pleasoure is, that you accompt with our said Thesaurer touching the compositiones given to you by reasone of any commissiones granted by us concerning the reformeing of that abuse; and that yee deliver upp unto him, for the use of our speciall service, such moneyis thereof as have been resaved in your name, and not imployed alreadie for our service, leaving (for the speciall causes afoirsaid) to proceed heirefter by vertew of any former commissione granted to you for this purpose; and in all other thingis concerning the prosecutione of our service heirin, that you give him your best advice and assistance, which wee will tak as a most acceptable service done unto us. - Whitehall, the eleventh day of Junij 1630.

TO THE EXCHEQUER THESAURER,—SECURITIE CONCERNING MARR.

Right, &c.—Wharcas out of our princelie respect to . . . the Erle of Marr, and royall intentione that non of our subjectis suffer for thare affectione to our service, Wee have moved our Thesaurer to engage himselff and freendis for paying of Ten thousand poundis sterling to the said Erle of Marr (which wee wer pleased to bestow upon him as a mark of our princelie favour for his bypast services), and for releeffing of him of all soumes of money levied and expendit by him for our use, and of the super expensis of his accomptis in the charge he hade from us, whareby, finding our selffis in honour [bound] to provide for our said Thesaurer's releeff since he and his freendis have undergone theis burdings for the good of our service, being besidis to leavie great soumes of money for our necessare charges during our aboad in that our kingdome: Oure pleasoure is (for his and thare more frie and readie payment of their moneyis), that there be granted unto him and them, and such of them as shalhappen to be bound with him heirefter for the purpos abonesaid, what securitie he shall require upon any of our rentis, casualities, taxationes, present and to cum, in generall or particulare assignmentis, and that he and they be secured in maner foirsaid upon any benefitt present, or which heirefter shalhappen to be payed unto our Exchequer for whatsoever caus, by whatsoever persones or maner of way, and that to be instantlie secured unto him and them by actis of counsell, Exchequer, or otherwayis as they shall devise, and that all impedimentis in there uptaking of the saidis moneyis by all or any of the wayis foirsaid be by you removed till they be compleitlie satisfiet of all the said particular soumes for which they are alreadie engadged, or shalhappin heirefter to be engadged for the saidis causes, with ordinarie interest for the same (as it is payed by them to there creditouris) during the time of the forbearance thereof: And whereas wee have given preceptis and warrantis for payment of great sources of money to many of our servantis and subjectis, which wee intend by all readie way is and means to caus pay unto them after the payment of the money is abonesaid to our Thesaurer, the doing whareof docth soc neerlie concern the gud of our service, Wee will you to restrain their preceptis and pensiones till hee and they be first releiffed; and that you suffer no precept nor pensione whatsoever to pas in Exchequer heirefter till you provide that the passing thuiroff doe not prejudge our said Thesaurer and his foirsaidis payment and releeff, and that furthwith you caus registrat thir present is in the book is of Exchequer .- [No date.]

TO THE EXCHECOUER.

Right, &c.—Wheras we ar formerlie pleased to grant to . . . Robert Buchan a precept receaved and allowed lykwyse in our Exchecker, for moneyis dew by we wrote him for the pearle bussines; in regard (as we ar informed by him) the greatest part of the said moneyis restand yet vnpayed to him, As also at this tyme for certane quantitie of his most choyse pearle receaved by we, wherwith we ar weil pleased: Our expres will and pleasur therfor is, that with all speed yow mak present payment to the said Robert Buchan or his assigneis, as weill for the said pearles now receaved, according to a precept vnder our royall signature to him gevin for the same, as also for such moneyis as are vnpayed to him of his former precept, in regard he hath long wanted the same, contrarie to our royall intention and warrand: And for your see deeing these presents shalbe vnto yow, and everie of yow, a sufficient warrand and discherge.—Gevin at St James', the 14 Junij, in the sixt yeir of our Regne.

To the Generall Convention.

Right, &c.—Wheras we have bene humblic moved, in behalif of . . . Robt Buchan, that ather some moneyis might be levyed from all such persones ther as would willinglic contribute to the repairing and vpholding of the way, called the King's Calsey, in Courmont, being the ordinarie road from the north to the south parts of that our kingdome; or, if any landis can be fund formerlic appropriated for vpholding therof, that the rents of the same may be converted to ther vsc. The intention seameing to intend to a public good, many persones being much troubled (as we ar informed) in ther passage by decay of the way, we have bene the rather pleased to tak notice of this purpois, and to recommend it to yow, that if you find the passage fit to be helped, yow consider of the expedience of the demands; and if any of them (thoght most fitt by yow) can be lawfullic and convenientlic granted in such maner as by yow shall be thoght most fitt and requisite to be preseryed for the repairing and vpholding of that way heirefter, And if any motion or expedient shalle proposed vnto yow by the said Robert tuitching this purpois, we ar willing (if you think the same fitt to be granted) that yow give way thervnto, In regard of his earnestnes to sie that work effected, wherof (in respect, as we ar informed, of the nearnes of his duelling to that passage) we think fitt that he have the charge; which recommending to your care.—Whythall, 14 Junii 1630.

TO THE COMMISSIONERS FOR SURRENDERS.

Right, &c .- Whareas wee have given our determinations upon that which was submitted to us concerning tithes, appointing price and the maner of the payment that the heretouris should performe for the same, which accordinglie wee desire to tak effect: But being informed that there is an great hinderance heirin by the slow progres of the valuationes, occasioned by some indirect means used in the same, and that divers heretouris and titulars are earnest to conclude for thare tithes according to our decree: Oure pleasure is, that you use all reasonable means in hastening the valuationes, and in the meantime that you tak a course with diligence for preventing any inconvenient that may come by leading of tithes, by appointing the titulars who have powere to caus value the tithes which they wer accustumed to lead to doe it before the time of the nixt leading, that the heretouris may lead the tithes of his owne landis, paying or securing there tithemaisters for the same according to the valuationes made or to be made, ffor wee sie noe reasone why the heretour should not posses his owne tithes if he ether satisfie according to our decree, or till the valuationes be perfectit (whare the delay is not his fault), pay or secure by your appointment the titular, conforme to the said valuatione made or to be made, at least noe lettres of spoliatione should be granted in that caice, the expeditione whareof we will you to tak in your consideratione and signific the same to our Colledge of Justice; and wee doe not esteem any partie, ether titular or heretour, of the benefitt of our decree, in whose default the perfectione of that work is hindered, the speedie perfecting whareof we specialie recommend unto your care, leaving the means whare they are not cleir to your owne judgment: Soe we, &c .- Whitehall, the 14 Junij 1630.

TO THE EXCHEQUER.

Right, &c.—Whareas wee have been pleased at this time to grant thric thousand poundis sterling unto . . . the Erle of Monteith, president of our Privie Counsell, upon verie good and weightie considerationes specialic importing us, mentioned in our guift granted tharevpone, becaus both the caus and maner of his proceeding with us touching that purpose deserve a speciall consideratione: Oure pleasoure is, that with all diligence you signe and caus exped the said gift, and (if need be) that noe possible or lawfull means be wanting upon your partis for causing answer, and pay the same unto him or his assignes accordinglie, which wee will accept as veric good service done unto us: Soe wee, &c.—Whitehall, 14 Junij 1630.

TO THE EXCHEQUER.

Letter similar to the above, with grant of £2000 sterling made to Sir Thomas Hope, of the same date.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—Whareas were have been pleased to signe a remissione unto one Robert Millare, upon informatione made unto us that it cannot be proved against him that the death of one Patrik Craw (suspected to have been procured by him) did anywayis happen by his means: But he, fearing least his enemyes should have taken his life before he should be hard to answer for himself, was forced for many yeirs to abandone his house and leave his poore wiff and childring in extreme miserie: Oure pleasoure is, that you, after triall heirof, if noe thing can reallie appear whareby the death of the said Craw can justlie be layed unto his charge, that with all convenient diligence you pas and exped the said remissione: Soe we, &c.—Whitehall, the 14 Junij 1630.

TO THE THESAURER AND DEPUTIE THESAURER.

Right, &c.—Whareas wee have receaved of . . . Robert Buchan a certain quantitie of his most choice pearle, whareby wee are weell pleased, which, after true valuatione by our Jewallars, are found to be worthie of the soume of four scoir fyve pundis sterling, Oure express will and plesour is, that you mak present payment unto the said Robert Buchane, or his assignais, of the said soume: And for your soe doing these, &c.—Given at St James, the 14 Junij 1630.

TO THE MARQUES OF HUNTLIE.

Right, &c.—Being credibillie informed that James and Alaster Grantis, being accompanied with a nomber of other rebellis to the number of fyve or sex scoir, have, in great contempt of our auctoritie and lawes, banded themselves, and in oppen and braving manuer oppressed some of our good subjectis in these partes, especiallie such as dwell upon the landis of the Laird of Frendright; and having heard that they are assisted by some of your tenuentis and followers, whareat wee did verie much wonder, seing wee expected that noe thing concerning our service in using your best endevouris to settle peace in these partis should have been neglected by you, though not warranted from us or our counsell thare: Oure pleasour is, you haveing particularlie informed yourselff of these rebellis, and of thare hantis and residentis, that you [take] the first opportunitie of comming or being within your boundis, whare ye are knowen to have any command or freendship, and that you apprehend and send them to our counsell or Justice Generall for undergoing such punishment as there offenses shalbe found justlie to meritt: And as wee will not think weel of any neglect or delay heirin upon your part, soe if you doe proceed (as wee doubt not) according to our royall plesonr heirin, wee will accompt it is a verie acceptable service done to us, whareof wee will not be unmyndfull when any occasione shall offer whareby wee may laufully and conveniently expres our respect unto you.—Whitchall, the 15 day of Junij 1630.

TO THE LAIRD OF GRANT.

Letter to the same effect and in similar terms of the same date.

TO THE CLERK REGISTER.

Trustic, &c.—Whareas . . . the Earle of Angus hath at this tyme (as we ar crediblic informed) speciall occasion to sie some writts and records, wheref yow have the charge from ws: Our pleasur is, that with diligence, and at seasonable times, yow mak the same patent vnto him, or to any persone or persones in his name; and that yow ather sie the search made yourselff, or else suffer him or them to mak it, and to tak the Extracts of such things as may any wayes concerne him: And for your see doing, &c.—Whythall, 22 Junij 1630.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—Wheras we ar importuned by diverse petitions from Alexander Hay, Indueller in Leith, compleyning upon a wrong done by letters directed from ws; considering how much this did concerne ws in honour and justice, if any such just cause had bene gevin, and not onlie ws and our ministers heir, bot likewayes yow of our Counsell and session, to whom our letters wer directed, if yow or they had fund any such thing and not acquainted ws therin, we wer pleased to give ordour to such of our Counsell as wer heir for the tyme to call him before them, and to peruse the extracts of these letters, from whom it was reported to ws that his complaint did proceid from a mere calumnie, without any just caus: And as if we had fund it otherwyse we would have takin ordour therwith accordinglie, so, haveing understude that such seditious persones deserve to be punisched, we gave ordour and caused declair our pleasur tuitching the sending of him to that our kingdome, which, since he has neglected and docth absent him selff heir, therby adding contempt of our royall direction to his former fault, Our pleasur is, that yow caus apprehend him at his comeing ther, and committ him to prisone till you have conferred tuitching this purpois with some of our privic counsell who were heir, and therefter that yow censure and caus inflict such punischment vpon him as yow shall find his offence shall deserve, taking assurance of him that vpon no occasion whatsoever he shall repair to our Court.—Whythall, 22 Junij 1630,

TO THE CHANCELLOUR.

Right, &c.—Our repairing to that our kingdome at the tyme appoynted not standing with the conveniencie of our present affaires, and being desyreous that these bussines that ar of most moment may be prepared, as we may have the less trouble when we come, vpon good considerations we have resolved to have a convention of our Estats at the time which the letter directit for that effect bears: And therefter these ar now to requyre you to consult togidder, that yow may adverteise we of such things as yow conceive necessarie to be treated of ther, for our service and the good of that kingdome: And if yow find it neidfull, that yow call vnto yow any other whom yow think fitt for that purpois, and that yow acquant we with that wherupon yow deliberat with as much diligence as possiblic can be vsed, to the effect yow may hear our last resolution, according whervnto yow ar to proceid in due tyme, ffor we desyre that nothing be proponed at that assemblie save that onlie which is warranted vnder our hand, or vnder the hand of the Clerk Register, as he shall hear from ws, ar to be allowed by yow: And so, not doubting bot that yow will have a speciall care of a matter that doeth so neirly import ws, we bid you, &c.—Whythall, the 22 Junij 1630.

TO THE ADVOCAT.

Trustie, &c.—Hearing of ane Infeftment takin by the late Lord Boyd of the halff landis of Tealing, which, by act of forfalture by one of his predicessours, wer annexed to our Croun, as we are informed, and being vnwilling, in respect of the interest of Sir Colin Campbell, our servand, hath in these lands, for which he payeth vnto ws a great few dewtie, wher the same wer hold in ward befoir, that ather ther infeftment should be ane hinderance to our said servand in making the best vse of his right, or ane introduction to any to call in question our right to other landis belonging to we he that forfalture, without some evident and just caus: Our pleasour is, that with all convenient diligence, efter yow have considered the grounds of our right, you intend action of reduction of that infeftment, and that yow proceid by all lawfull wayes and means for annulling the same.—Whythall, 22 Junij 1630.

TO THE LORD LORNE.

Right, &c.—Wheras we have sene diverse letters from our royall father tuitching the imploying and satisficing of the Lord of Lundie for his panes and losses in that service against the Clangregour and Clandonald, cheiflie performed by him, for which your father, haveing bene acknowledged for the same, was long since to have gevin him satisfaction, as by our royall father was first appointed, to which purpois we wer lykwyse pleased to wryt at severall tymes, sieing the consideration for his sone our servant's satisfaction heirin is such as doeth in honour to induce ws to repair the same, and should in equitic move your father to tak that course which convenientlie can not be taken but out of his estate which yow pay vnto him yeirlie: And sieing our servand hath bene long without satisfaction (his Lands, as we ar crediblie informed, being these many yeires burdened for the debt undergone by his said father for that service), we have agane thoght fitt to requyre yow to pay vnto him these moneyis, and annuells thairof, out of the first and readiest of that rent and moneyis payable vnto him by yow at the nixt terme, for which we will give yow thanks, and approve of your proceidings, if anything should be moved vnto ws to your disadvantage therim.—Whythall, 22 Junij 1630.

TO THE EXCHEQUER.

Right, &c.—Wheras by expres letter we have formerlie requyred yow ather to expeid the Commission granted by ws to our lovit Mr William Haig, one of our solicitours, for inbringing to our vse in a legall way some sowmes resting due vnto ws of the ordinarie taxatione in anno 1621 and 1625, or wryt bak to ws a note of such reasones aganst the expediencie of it as our Advocat hath not answered vnto ther, and that without tuitching vpon the caus in so far as it oght to be judged by the Lords of the Session: Notwithstanding whareof yow have not returned vnto ws any reasone aganst the expediencie of the same: And sieing all the power gevin by the said Commission (being onlie to bring vnto our Excheker such sowmes as in a legall way can be discovered to be due vnto ws) shall expyre, vnless in a proces aganst ten persones onlie, it appeares that more sowmes ar due vnto ws then made compt of for the saids taxatiouns: These ar tharefor to will and requyre yow that with all diligence you expeed the same, or vther wayes vryt bak vnto ws with all diligens your reasones against the expediencie: So we bid yow farewell from our Court at Whythall, 22 Junij 1630.

To the Chancellour, President, and Others of the Exchequer.

Right, &c.—Wheras humble complaynt hath bene made vnto ws by James Law, one of our heraulds, that he hath not receaved the reward due to him, provydit by Act of parliament made in anno 1621 for such persones who discover conceillers and wrongous vpgivers of ther lent money to deceave ws of our taxationns, and that besyds the service alreadie done by him and charges expended therein, for which he hath not receaved any satisfactione, he is able to doe ws greater service in that kynd, wherin for his better encouragment Our pleasur is, that yow hear his accompts, and if yow shall find any thing dew vnto him for his reward and disbursmentis, that proportionablie as he shall mak appear that any of these moneyis have bene levyed and imployed for our vse by his meanes, that he be satisfied for the same out of the readiest moneyis belonging vnto ws, togidder with his charges which shall lykwyse appear vnto yow that he hath justlie and necessarlie disbursed therin, or if yow find such moneyis levyed by his meanes, and no accompt made thairof as yet for our vse, that yow requyre our Collectour haveing charge therof to tak that course for his satisfaction, and if you find it requisite for the good of our service in that kynd, that yow continew him in that imployment efter such maner, tyme, and condition as yow shall think fitt, and is provydit by the said Act.—[No date.]

TO THE ADVOCAT.

Trustie, &c.—Wheras our right trustie and right, &c., the Earle of Eglinton is desyreous to treat with us for some heretable offices and other royalteis and Juresdictiones he hath, and that he hath formerlie delt with ws concerneing the Landis which he holdeth within the principalitie of that our kingdome, we are gratiouslie pleased that yow should nowayes proceid against the said Erle tuitching the premisses till our pleasur herin be furder knowen, and that yow receave particular ordour from ws concerneing him, notwithstanding any former directions, ffor doeing [whereof] the presents shalbe vnto yow a sufficient warrand.—Whythall, 22 Junij 1630.

TO THE THESAURER AND DEPUTIE THESAURER.

TO THE CHANCELLOUR, THESAURER, PRESIDENT.

Right, &c .- Wheras humble complant hath bene vnto ws in behalff of diverse of our frie burrowis who have not schirreffis within themselffis, that they undergoe great and unnecessarie charges by travelling to parts far distant from ther duellings, for giveing vp of ther Inventors of ther annual rents to the schirreff of the schyre, wher the same might much more convenientlie and as surelie be done befor ther provest and bailleis, wherin we inclyneing that some ordour be establisched for ther good and ease: Our pleasur is (if yow find that we be not therby prejudged, and that no inconvenient vtherwyse may aryse by the same), that yow signific our pleasur to our nixt convention of our Estats ther, that they give way thervnto by making such ane act of Convention as yow and they shall best condescend vpoun to this purpois to be ratifeid the nixt parliament, wherby both the saids Magistrats and other subjects may from hencefurth be authorized to proceid accordinglie: And wheras we ar informed that our late royall father of his princelie favour pardoned diverse pennall statuts as by Commissions for tryeing of what of them wer fit to be executed, what to be pardoned may appear, we being alwyse willing for diverse good and weightie causses moveing ws at this tyme to give them some such taste of our bountie and favour as may the better induce them not to transgress our lawis heirefter, or expecting further impunitie in caice they should abuse our princelie clemencie heirin, wherof we ar willing that speciall notice be gevin them efter what maner yow shall think fitt: Our pleasur is, that by ane Act of the said Convention to be ratifeid in the ensueing parliament, yow cause discharge all our subjects of all pennall statuts whatsoever preceiding the dait heirof, which wer formerlie remitted in any parliament, and of the fynes of all pennall statuts made in anno 1621: And for your soe doeing these presents, &c.-Whythall, 28 Junij 1630.

TO THE ADVOCAT.

Trustie, &c.—Wheras we ar informed that diverse noblemen and others haveing landis of our principalitic and propertie in that our kingdome, whois rights and evidents therof ar fitt to be renewed. paying such reasonable Composition to ws for the same as we should be pleased to caus modifie, wherin respecting the good of our subjects and our owin benefite, Our pleasur is, that yow to this purpois draw vp a Commission in a legall and sure maner, leaveing a blank for such names of our Commissioners to be insert therin as we shall be pleased to appoynt by our thesaurer, and therefter that yow delyver the same to him, &c.—Whythall, 28 Junij 1630.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—Being informed of the sufficiencie of our right trustic, &c. the Erle of Tullibardyne, and of his affection to our service, we are moved in regard theref, and for his better encouragment and enabling for our said service to advance and promove him to be one of our privic Counsall of that our kingdome: Therfor our pleasur is, and we doe heirby requyre yow, that haveing administred vnto him the oath accustomed in the lyk causes, yow admitt him to be one of our privic Counsell, receaveing him in that place as one of your number, for doeing quherof these presents shalbe vnto yow a sufficient warrand.—Gevin at our Court of Whythall, 28 Junij 1630.

To the Exchequer.

Right, &c.—Wheras a signature of the Lordship of Scone, proceiding vpon a resignation by the Viscount of Stormont in favours of Sir Mungo Murray, hath bene presented to have bene signed by ws, wherin we ar willing to schaw any lawfull favour for our servand's furtherance without prejudging our selff in the late course intendit by ws for our owin and the publict good; yit we ar pleased to returne the same vnsigned to be considered by yow, Requyreing yow, if yow fund the same fit and lawfull to be granted by ws, and that ther is nothing therin directlie by the consequence may hurt that course, that the said signature, or any vther to that purpois thoght fair and just by yow be past, and exped our sealls with all convenient diligence; and so we, &c.—Whythall, 28 Junij 1630.

TO ALLAN CAMERON.

Trustie, &c.—Wheras our right, &c. the Erle of Tullibardyn is to repair to Lochaber and some nightbouring partis by our direction, and for our speciall service for the better and more speciall furtherance therof we are informed that yow can be verie steadable: Our pleasur is, that wherin he shalbe willing that yow give way and assist him in that service, that yow readelie obey the same in so far as it is in your power lawfullie and possiblie to doe, and that yow vse your best meanes for causing him and his companie to be as civilie and weill vsed as the estates of these parts can convenientlie affurd, that they have no just caus to compleane, and vpon the said Erle his report vnto ws at his returne of your care and diligence to obey ws heirin, we will accompt it as verie acceptable done vnto ws, whereof we will no wayes be vnmyndfull.—Whythall, 28 Junij 1630.

To McCleane.

Trustie—being informed that near to some part of your Yland of Mull a Spanish schip was long since cast away, wherin ther wer some ordinance and other things which may be recovered and be steadable for our service: Our pleasur is, for the better and more speedie doeing therof, that yow both assist and caus civilie vse, in so far as lawfullie and possiblie yow can, our right, &c. the Erle of Tullibardyne, his partiners and companie, of whom as persones sufficient and able to doe ws service therin we have made choyse, to repair thither from this our kingdome: So not doubting of your caire and diligence to obey ws heirin, as we will not be vnmyndfull of yow when any fitt and convenient occasion shalbe offerit vnto ws concerneing yow, we bid yow fairweill.—Whythall, 28 Junij 1630.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—Wheras our right, &c. the Erle of Tullibardyne intendeth vpon some special occasionis for the good of our service, wherwith he will particularlie acquant yow, to repair to Lochaber, Mule, and other adjacent places, sicing for the better and more speedie advancement in that service we ar pleased to imploy him and his associats, of whois judgments and habiliteis to bring such purposes to some perfection we have bene informed: Our pleasur is, that yow seriouslie wryt in ther behalff to any of our officers in these bounds, and to such noblmen and others of qualitie remaneing or haveing power therin (whois help they may have occasion to vse) for assisting the said Erle and his partiners in any thing that may advance our said service in so far as yow think they may lawfullie and convenientlie doe: And in respect that none (as we ar informed) haveing former Commissions for any of these purposes have broght the same to any perfection, bot have long since left the prosecution therof, we further requyre that what shall therby be pretendit by them for any respect or occasion whatsoever be no hinderance to our present service heirin: So we bid, &c.—Whythall, 28 Junij 1630.

TO THE CONVENTION GENERALL.

Right, &c.—Wheras we ar informed that our trustie and weilbeloved Robert Buchan hath vpon his owin charge and ground built a Church, and appropriat a sufficient gleib thervnto, which, being distant fyve myles of marich, rockie, and vnpassable way at many tymes in the winter seasone from any vther church in these bounds, will prove verie commodious for the good and ease of many poore people ther, who for the most part hath bene heirtofor destitute of the benefite of hearing God's word: In regard, as we ar lykwyse informed, that Church hath bene consecrated by the bischops of Aberdene and Murray, and that work is lykwyse approved by diverse others of the elegic, we ar heirby pleased to recommend the purpois vnto yow, that if yow find it necessarie, and that compitent meanes out of any tythes therabout may be had for a minister's stipend, without being a meanes to hinder the provision of other churches alreadie establisched neir that part, that yow proceid, in soe far as yow can lawfullie and convenientlie doe, to give such ordour for the setling therof in a distinct parochin, and of a constant stipend for the same, as yow shall think most fitt and necessarie, and as shalbe most agricable to any ordour observed in cases of the lyk nature.—Whythall, 28 Julij 1630.

To the Counsell.

Right, &c.—Wheras wee signified vnto yow our pleasur tuitching the action perswed by our Advocat aganst Archibald Tod, dischergeing him to proceid further therin in respect of our late interest, wherin sieing vpon good considerations we wer pleased to give that ordour, and leist we should be troubled heirefter with any new motion concerneing the same, we ar heirby pleased to signific vnto yow that we frielie remitt vnto the said Archibald Tod, and our burgh of Edinburgh for ther interesse, all actions whatsoever, civill or criminall, compitent to we aganst them tuitching that action, requyreing yow to command our Advocat in our name not to insist further therin, and that by Act of Counsall yow discherge the same and all that may follow therepon; ffor which these presents, &c.—Whythall, last of Junij 1630.

TO THE CHANCELLOUR, THESAURER, PRESIDENT OF THE COUNSELL, AND PRIVIE SEALL ADVOCAT.

Right, &c.—Wheras M^r Johne Hay, Commissioner of our burgh of Edinburgh for removeing all questions betuixt the noblemen and gentlmen of West Lothian and that burgh concerning the extention of ther schirrefschip and crownerschip, and halding the gild Courts and Custome of the load of aill, conteynit in the Chartour granted to them in anno 1603, made certane offers vnto ws, which we formerlie sent vnto yow, our Chancellour, wherby all occasion of contraversic may be takin away: We therfor give and grant vnto yow our full power and commission to call befor yow the Commissioners of both the saids pairteis and hear ther differences, and so compose the same as is most fitt for the good of both and ther severall interests for avoydeing all question in tyme comeing, and that yow sie the same done in a legall forme: And if any difficultie shall aryse which cannot of consent of both pairteis, or be by yow composed, that yow certific ws of your opinions therin, that we may tak such course for setling therof as in our princelic judgment we shall think fitt.—Whythall, last of Junij 1630. Which recommending vnto your care, &c.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—Haveing bene formerlie pleased vpon some good considerations then moveing we to requyre our Right, &c. the E. of Murray to surrander his Commission, but being informed that the Insolence and oppressions daylie committed within these northerne parts in great contempt of our authoritie and lawis requyre a speedie course to be takin for repressing thereof: And being still confident of the said Erle, his affection to our service, and that he will use the execution of that Commission, which we intend not to renew at the expyreing of the dait thereof, in such moderat and fair maner, as non of our subjects can have just caus to compleane: Our pleasur is, that the said Commission be continewed according to the tyme and tenour thereof, and be as effectuall vnto him in all respects whatsoever as if we had never requyred him to surrander the same; And if it be by yow fund requisit, that yow approve the same, after by Act of Counsell or by causing intimat our pleasur herin in such parts and efter such maner as yow think fitt, or otherwyse efter what other forms yow for that purpois shall think most requisit.—Last of Junij 1630.

TO THE ADVOCAT AND HENRISON.

Trustie, &c.—Wheras we have bene petitioned by Edward Maxwell schowing the great losses susteaned by him in our service: And being vnwilling that he or any of our gude subjects should suffer in that kynd as he pretendis: Our pleasur is, that haveing called vnto yow such persones as can best give yow light in the said Edward his debursments, panes, and losses, yow tak speciall notice of the petition heirin enclosed, and haveing informed your selff of his cariage in that service, that therefter with all diligence yow acquant ws what he hath deserved, that accordinglie we may tak a course for his satisfaction.—Whythall, last of Junij 1630.

A precept to Sir Andro Gray, of the date of the preceding letter.

TO THE EXCHEQUER.

Right, &c.—Wheras we have bene pleased to signe ane gift of ane yeirlie pension to Sir George Elphingstoun of Elythswood, knyt, of tuo thowsand merks Scotts, for many good and faythfull services done by him vnto our late dear father and ws: Our pleasur therfor is, for the better encourageing the said George to continew in the lyk good services heirefter, that yow caus exped the same vnder our sealls with all possible diligence according to the forme accustomed; for doeing wherof these presents shall be vnto yow, and everie of yow, a sufficient warrant.—Gevin at Whythall, the last of Junij 1630.

TO THE GENERALL CONVENTION.

Right, &c.—Wheras we ar informed that our Right, &c. the Erle of Nithisdale did send vnto Carlile diverse malefactours borne in that our kingdome vpon evidence gevin him by Sir Ritchard Grhame, knyt and barronet, and that they had committed diverse thifts and other crymes vpon the bounds of the Midleschyrs of this our kingdome, and that some of them efter tryell and by due course of Justice did suffer death for the same: Becaus the said Sir Ritchard was vpon ane extraordinarie vocation, and great complaynt made aganst these crymes imployed by ws for sieing the offenders punished according to our Lawis, we have the rather thoght fitt at this tyme to signific vnto yow that we ar pleased with that service, and doe dispense with any thing that can be objected aganst the said Erle for the same, being willing that such a course may be takin heirefter, that nather of our kingdomes might shelter such malefactours, bot that justice may have the due course in the bounds wher the crymes are committed; And to that effect that a reciprocall ordour be observed by both nations till the setling thair of: This shalbe no president for sending such malefactours to this kingdome, vales it be by our speciall warrand, or that the lyk ordour be enacted and observed therin.—Nonsuch, 14 July 1630.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—Wheras we wer long since pleased to signific our pleasur that Robert Creichtoun and Alex^r Alexander should be preferred to the first vacing offices of Masserie, wherof notwithstanding they have bene disapoynted (as we ar crediblic informed), contrair to our royall intention: Now, least others should ather vnreasonablic importune we to have these two offices, or least the said Robert and Alexander be further disapoynted of what we intended for them, Our pleasur is, that yow tak notice of our royall intention heirin; and if any such office doe vaik at our gift by death, demission, deprivation, or otherwyse, that yow hearken to none bot shall have leave or shalbe sutters vnto we or yow for the same, sieing according to our first intention we have resolved to grant the first place so vaiking vnto the said Robert and the nixt vnto the said Alex^r, and to this effect that yow cause mak ane Act of Counsell and sederunt, and for your so doeing these presents shalbe a sufficient warrand.—Nonsuch, 14 July 1630.

TO THE JUSTICE GENERALL.

Right, &c.—Wheras humble complant hath bene made vnto ws in behalff of Margaret, Jeane, Elizabeth, and Barbara Barnes, of the slaughter of Johne Barnes, ther brother, committed by ane Blair of Pettindreich, his sone, and ther accomplices, wherin, being willing that Justice be administred without delay, according to our Lawis provyded in the cases, Our pleasur is, that yow cause cite them befor yow, and if, efter due tryell they are fund guiltie of that slaughter, that yow give ordour for executeing of Justice vpon them, according to our said Lawis, that by the exemple of ther punishment others therefter may be terrifeid from such barbarous crymes.—Nonsuch, 20 July 1630.

TO THE CONVENTION OF ESTATS.

Right, &c.—Wheras we ar informed that the Cathedrall Kirk of Dunkeld is so ruynous that, without a speedie course be takin for repairing therof, scarce any monument of so good a work will remane, whervpon haveing heard a proposition made in behalf of our trustie and weilbeloved James Creichtoun, Clerk of the Commissariot ther, that the best meanes for helping therof wer by a voluntar contribution of our subjects, Our pleasur is, that yow consider of this purpois, and if yow find it expedient to be granted that yow give such ordour for collecting that contribution, and tuitehing the maner, tyme, and limitations therof, and for the expedient of the same for the vse of that work as yow shall think most fitt and necessarie, wherin, in respect of the said James his care and affection to sie that work be effected, we think fitt that he be imployed: So we bid, &c.—Nonsuch, 1630.

TO THE CHANCELLOUR.

Right, &c.—Haveing granted a Commission to your selff and some others for tryeing the great abuses which (as we ar informed), wer committed by ane Keir aganst our subjects ther: And sicing it is agricable to Justice that such persones be tryed and punisched if fund guiltie, wherby others may be terrifeid from practizeing the lyk heirefter, Our pleasur is, that with diligence yow expeed that Commission vnder our great seall, otherwayes that your returne reasone vnto ws why yow delay the same: We bid yow farewell.—Bagschot, 6 August 1630.

TO THE ERLE OF MONTEITH.

We have agane writtin to the Lord Naper that we have gevin full power vnto yow to deall with him for surrendrie to ws of his office of deputic thesaurer, and that we expect that he will the more willinglie condescend therin with yow, in regard we have delt with him efter so fare a maner: Therfor our pleasur is, that yow agane deall with him to this purpois, and if he will not yield to any fair or reasonable proposition made by yow therin, we require yow to cause put him to a tryell tuitching anything that justlie can be objected aganst him in the execution of that office, which course we will further authorize (if neid be), efter what maner shalbe fund most requisit: We bid, &c.—Titchburne, 12 August 1630.

TO THE LORD NAPER.

Wheras we gave power to our Right, &c. the Erle of Monteith, to deall with yow for surrendring to ws your office of deputie Thesaurer, whervnto (as we ar informed) yow ar vnwilling till yow hear our pleasur from our owin mouth: These ar therfor to signific vnto yow that we have for causses just knowen vnto ws, commanded him to deall with yow theranent, which we expect yow give him a willing ear to this our pleasur, by which we doe not intend yow should ather be disgraced or a loser: We bid, &c.—Titchburne, 12th August 1630.

Our Soverane Lord ordeanes a Remission to be made and exped vnder the great Seall of the kingdome of Scotland, makand mentioun that wher some 35 yeires agoe Duncan Campbell of Glenlyon, in his minoritie of 13 yeires of aige, hapned casuallie, he being in companie with some of his father's men when in rescue of his father's cattell stollen be ane Johne McMurthie McO'neill, and his complices, common theives and broken ylsmen, the said John McMurthie O'neill, and some of his Companie wer killed in this conflict as common theivis, haveing ther prey with them: And in regard it doeth appear vnto his Matie that the said Duncan Campbell was then but a young boy, and not able to doe any harme; and that the said Johne McMurthie McO'neill and some of his companie wer killed in the cryme be the said Duncan's father servandis, and that he can hardlie be troubled for that fact, or perswed befor any Judge, efter so many veires silence: And his Matie, considering that if any of these old done deids should be now rypt up and called in question, the exemple by consequence might prove dangerous and terrible to his Maties good subjects, who hath long lived in quyetnes since the beginning of his Maties late royall father's happie entrance into the government of his Maties kingdome of England: Therfor his Matie, of his spetiall grace, mercie, and favour, hath accepted, and be thir presents accepts, the said Duncan Campbell under his royall protection and saveguard, frieing and exonering, lykas his Matie doeth heirby frie and fullie exoner him, the said Duncan Campbell, for now and ever, of all action and cryme that can in aney maner of way be imputt vnto him through his being art or part or through his being in company at the slaughter of the Johne McMurthie McNeill and his complices, which was committed in the yeir of God, &c., and of all said question, challenge, and persute that may follow thervpoun against the persone of the said Duncan, his landis, goodis, or geir: Dischargeing, lykas his Ma^{tie} doeth heirby speciallie discherge, his Ma^{ties} Justice-Generall, Clerk, and Justice-Depute, his Maties thesaurer, deput thesaurer, Advocat, and all his Maties officers, Judges, and ministers of his Lawis whatsumever, spirituall and temporall, for the tyme being, and who shalhappin to be heirefter, and ther deputts, or any of them, for seiking, apprehending, calling in question, imprissoneing, or any wayes troubling or molesting at any time heirefter of the said Duncan Campbell for being art or part of the slaughter of the said John McMurthie McNeill and his complices, or any of them: Ordeaneing the said Letter of Remission to be exped in the best and most ample forme, with all clausses neidfull.—Windsore 4 Sept[‡] 1630.

TO THE EXCHEQUER.

Right, &c.—Wheras the enclosed signature of some tythis of the Lordschip of Aberbrothok, conteneing a reservatioun of our annuitie and of the constant locall stipend to the minister of the parochim wher the tythis ar, hath bene presented to be signed by ws, bot we being willing to proceed by due advyse in any purpois of that nature, have remitted the consideratioun thair of vnto yow, requyreing yow forthwith to pass the same if yow find nothing therin that can prejudge our late decrie: And if ther be anything therin thoght fitt by yow to be amended that efter the same shalbe accordinglic reformed, yow pass it with all diligence; and for your soe doeing these shalbe sufficient warrant: We bid, &c.—Hampton Court, 24 Sept. 1630.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—Wheras our Right, &c. the Marqueis of Hamilton is to levy sex thowsand men in that our kingdome, and to transport them into Germanie for assistance of our brother, the King of Sueden, in his warres, vndertakin for releiff of our distressed freindis ther, which generous interpryse of our loveing Cousen we have not onlie approved, bot have lykwyse caused provyd him with competence of moneyis for performance of the same, and sieing this interpryse so much concerneth the libertie of our freindis and the common good of Christendome: Our will and pleasur is, that vpon sight heirof yow cause expede vnto him a commission vnder our great seall for levyeing and transporting of the said sex thowsand men according to the best and most speedie maner that hath bene at any tyme heirtofoir accustomed, or as can lawfullie and possiblie be granted: And that he and all persones imployed vnder him have your best furtherance, alsweill in the levyeing as for the transportatioun of his men, wherin we will not doubt bot your endeavours wilbe answerable to our expectation.—Hampton Court, 24 Sept. 1630.

TO THE ERLE OF ANTRYM.

Right, &c.—Wheras we ar crediblie informed that yow have agried with the Erle of Abercorne for payment of a sowme of money in consideration of the contract made between his father and yow for matching your sone, the Lord Dunluce, and his daughter, the Lady Lucie Hamilton, who being as yit within aige, can not so well acquyt by a lawfull discherge as the said now Erle can doe, who in honour is bund to be carefull of his said sister, and to match hir wher he best can with that sowme agried vpon by yow: And becaus we wish weill vnto the said Lady, and that schoe may be speedelie provyded for and preferred to some good match: Our pleasur therfor is, and we doe heirby pray and requeist yow to pay over the said money vnto the said now Erle to the vse of his said sister vpon his acquittance and securitie to frie yow for the same at the hands of the said Lady, and all others whatsoever, and for performeing vnto yow the substance of your last agriement whervnto we wilbe ayding and assisting with all the lawfull favour we can: So recommending this particular vnto your speedie care and performance, as our trust and confidence is in yow, We bid, &c.—Hampton Court, 24 Sept. 1630.

These conteyne a Remission to Robert Dumbar of Bourgie and his Complices for the alledged slaughter of vmquhile Johne Dow, and for all other crymes alledgit to be committed by the said Robert (the crymes of treasone against your Ma^{ties} persone, false coyne, and witcheraft excepted).—Hampton Court, 2 Octor 1630.

Vpon your Ma^{ties} former grant concerneing the erection of ane kirk at Portpatrik (builded by the Viscount of Montgomry be his owin charges), and your Ma^{ties} promeis to provyde the samyne with compitent meanes, and vpon his purchassing from the Commendatour of Salset the whole fruits and rents of the samyne, alreadie dimitted by him for the vse of that kirk: These conteneth a Chartour of Mortification for dissolveing the Abbacie thairof, wherby the spiritualitie and temporalitie of the samyne ar vnited to the said Kirk: Reserveing to your Ma^{tie} and successours the presenting of Ministers at Salset and Kirkmayden, the onlie tuo kirks which formerlie belonged to that abbacie, with the locall stipends to the ministers serveing the cure, and with provision that, at what tyme your Ma^{tie} or successours shall mortifie and assigne to the minister at Portpatrik, as much other good rent, with the few-maills and few-dewteis of that temporalitie then this mortification therof to be payed, that ar to be ratified in the nixt parliament.—Hampton Court, 2 Octor 1630.

These conteyne a Licence for 19 yeires to James Jaksone, phisitan, his heyres, associats, &c., to vse within Scotland a new Invention for dryving all sorts of watter works, provyded he doe it with consent of the owners. All others, save he and his forsaids, ar prohibited to putt it in practeis dureing that tyme, vnder pane of Confiscation of ther engynes to the patentees. They are to putt it in practeis within 3 yeires, otherwyse these to be voyd.—Hampton Court, 2 Octor 1630.

These conteyne a Lease to the Viscount Air, his heyres and, &c., for yeires, of the ore of gold and silver within his owin landis, and ane heretabill disposition of all other mettalls therin, with power to export the best mettalls to ane forrayne part, being in league with your Maties, paying the customes vsed in the lyk cases, or as shalbe modified by the thesaurer or Excheker. They have libertie to bring in strangers for working of these mettells, who ar to have the benefite of naturalization. They are to pay to your Matie the part of the ore, or the part of the refyned mettall, with a yeirlie dewtie of dureing the said Lease for the said ore of gold and silver, and for all other sorts of oris, in name of blencshe ferme. The part of the Master of the Mynes is reserved. These ar to be ratified in the nixt parliament.—Hampton Court, Octor 1630.

A PRECEPT TO THE THESAURER.

In regard of the faythfull service done vnto ws be Johne Sandilands, gentlman of our privic Chalmer in ordinarie, and of his continual abyd about our persone, and for diverse others consideratiouns moveing ws: Our pleasur is, and we doe heirby will and requyre yow to caus pay vnto him or his assigneyis, with all diligence, the sowme of 600^{lib} sterling, and that out of the first and readiest of our rents and casualiteis whatsoever of that our kingdome, or out of such moneyis growing due or which shall accress vnto ws within the same by whatsoever maner of way: And for your so doeing these presents shalbe vnto yow a sufficient warrant and discherge.—Hampton Court, 2 Octor 1630.

TO THE EXCHEQUER.

Right, &c.—Wheras a gift of the ward nonentrie and releiff (when it doeth happin) of certane Landis which did belong to one David Symsone, deceissed, and of the mariage of his aires, hath bene presented vnto ws, though we ar willing therby to gratific Mr David Ayton, younger, for the panes takin by him in discoverie therof; yet not knowing how much the granting of the same vnto him may concerne ws, we are pleised heirby to remitt the consideratioun therof vnto yow, that if the said ward, &c. be at our disposition the gift therof may be exped in his favouris for some reasonable composition to be payed by him for the same, and giveing suirtie for his performance of such things as in caces of the lyk nature is vsuallie gevin by others.—Hampton Court, 2 Octor 1630.

To the Session.

Right, &c.—Haveing vpon good consideratiouns allowed our late Thesaurer to sitt in our Colledge of Justice, and the lyk consideratiouns, induceing we at this tyme to have his place supplied by our Thesaurer now being, of whois sufficiencie and qualificatioun we ar verie confident: Our plesur is, that yow receive and admitt him in our said late Thesaurer's place in the Session, taking his oath as is accustomed in such caces, and that he have and enjoy all the priviledges and other things of that place as his predicessours therin did hold the same.—Hampton Court, 2 Octor 1630.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—Wheras by the within petition we ar informed of the many abuses committed in that kingdome by the common sort of practisers in phisick, and we being most willing the same may be amended by the Corporation mentioned in the petition, or by some other lawfull way as yow shall think fitting for the credit of that our kingdome and the good of our subjects ther: Our pleasur therfor is, that yow tak the said petition into your serious consideratioun, and proceid therin, as yow in your judgments shall think fitting for encourageing of learneing and restrayneing of abuses in the said profession and practeis of physik, and when your opinion therin shalbe certified vnto ws, we will be the more readic to authorize and establishe what yow shall authorize in that kynd; And for that effect we desyre yow to require our advocat to draw and doquet a signatur fitt for our hand, and for recommending this bussines to your speciall care, we bid, &c.—Hampton Court, 2 Octor 1630.

TO THE ERLE OF MORTON, THESAURER.

Right, &c.—Wheras petition hath bene made vnto ws by Lady Agnes Maxwell, the daughter of the late Lord Maxwell, humblie praying our princelie letters vnto our Exchequer for geving ordour for payment of the arreirs of hir pension, and yeirlie in tyme comeing for hir mantenance, the same being bot 41^{lib} sterling per annum, or therabout: Though, by reasone of the present wants of our Exchequer, we have reserved to give ane ordour for the payment of any arreirs of pensions, yit, haveing commiscratioun of hir pure and distressed estate, and of hir want of all other meanes wherby now to live in hir old aige, we could wish that yow tak some course for hir present supplie, for which yow shall have what warrand yow shall cause draw vp for our hand; and therefter that yow mak payment to hir of hir pension, according to hir gift therof.—Hampton Court, 2 Octor 1630.

TO THE EXCHEQUER.

Right, &c.—Wheras we ar informed that ane annual-rent out of the Landis of Murkhill and Trapren was bought and mortifeid by our late dear father for the vse of our Chappell Royall, which therefter was ratifeid in parliament; And that now it is feared that if any disposition or deid should be made by we or our successours, of or concerneing these landis, our Chappell right to that annual-rent wilbe endangered: Though we sie not just caus to suspect any such thing, yit to avoyd any fear that may be concerned in that kynd, Our pleasur is, that yow consider if ther be any such necessitie for taking a course to prevent what is heirin feared, and if yow find it necessarie, that yow mak ane Act of Exchequer thervpon, or otherwayes that yow doe therin as yow shall think most fitt for that purpois, which we, if neid be) will further authorize as yow to this effect shall best devyse: So we bid, &c.—Hampton Court, 2 Octor 1630.

TO THE EXCHEQUER.

Right, &c.—Wheras we are pleased to ratifie in favours of our Right, &c. the Viscount of Air, a Chartour of Confirmatioun granted by King James 3, confirmeing a Chartour of Alienatioun of certane landis mentionat in the ratificatioun which wer gevin by one Sir Robert Creighton of Sanquhar, knyt, to one Lawrence Creichton: Sieing what we have done heirin appeareth to be granted upon a deed of one of our royall predicessours, Our pleasur is, that yow pass and cause expeed the said ratificatioun, according to the tenour therof, otherwayes that yow returns reasone to we why the same cannot be done.—Hampton Court, 7 Octor 1630.

TO THE BISCHOP OF BRICHAN.

Reverend Father—Being informed that the Church of Munckie is not provydit of a preacher, and that Patrik Maull, our servand, is the cheif man of that parochine; And being confident that he will present a sufficient and qualifeid persone for dischergeing of that function, our pleasur is, that whomsoever he shall name vnto yow, ye admitt him vnto the said Churche, as you will doe we acceptable service.—Hampton Court, 7 Octor 1630.

TO THE COUNSELLOURS COMEING VP.

Right, &c.—Haveing occasion at this tyme to confer with yow tuitching some things concerning our service, We requyre yow with all diligence to repair vnto our Court, wher our farther pleasur shalbe made knowen vnto yow.

Ane other, conforme to the former, of that same dat lykwyse.

TO THE THESAURER.

Right, &c.—Wheras our right trustie the Erle of Monteith hath, by express command from ws, for the vse of our Chappell royall, agried with the Lard of Syneton for the tythis of the landis of Markhill and Trapren, for payment vnto him of 500^{iib.} sterling, being willing (if convenientlie it can be done this yeir) that the tythes of these Landis for this cropt may be had for the vse of our said Chappell; Our pleasur is, that with all convenient diligence yow pay vnto the said Lard of Sineton the saidsowme of 500^{lib}, and that out of the first and readiest of our rents, casualiteis, and others dewteis whatsoever due vnto ws, within our said kingdome; and for the soe doeing these presents shalbe vnto yow a sufficient warrand and discherge.—Gevin at Hampton Court, 10 Octor 1630.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—Wheras we ar informed of some trouble that is lyklie to aryse betuixt our right trustie, &c.

The Erle of Galloway and Johne Gordon of Lochinvar, tuitching one William Gordon of Murefade, and one who was a servand of the said William, for preventing whairof, being willing to have all differences between them composed on a freindlie maner, Our pleasur is (haveing takin these differences into your consideratioun) that yow vse your best meanes to remove them, according as yow shall find just caus; bet if yow find any of the pairteis (whome we will yow to call befor yow) refractoric to what yow shall think fit to be concluded betweene them that yow returne your opinion what is fit to be done by we therin.—
Hampton Court, 10 Octor 1630.

TO THE ADVOCAT.

Trustie, &c.—Wheras we ar informed that nothwithstanding of the agriement made betweene . . . Gordon of Rothemay and James Creichton of Frandraught, tuitching the late accident between them, he, the said James Creichtoun, is as yit exceedinglie oppressed by such as wer of the pairtie of Rothemay, and by such rebells who, vnder cullour of that enmitie, doe wast and spoyll his landis and goods, to the great contempt of our Authoritie and lawis: Therfor our speciall pleasur is, that with all possible diligence yow insist in our name aganst them in a legall maner, according to any cause formerlie vsed aganst such malefactours and oppressours, and that yow grant vnto the said James Creichtoun your best ayd and concurrance, ather by intending and raising of letters and processes and prosecuteing Justice aganst them, in so far as can by your place in our or in his name, or both, as yow shall think most necessarie for that purpois.—Hampton Court, 10 Octor 1630.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—Wheras we ar informed that vntill our late dear father's taxt being in that our kingdome, all sowmes formerlie granted vnto him or any of his predicessours by the Estats of that our said kingdome in name of taxationn were so dewlie appearand amongst them from tym to tyme past memorie of man by the mutuall Consent of all the Estats, and by such way of association as the Ecclesiasticall lands and benefices payed the one halff of the said taxatioun, and the noblemen, barrones, and frieholders of the Croun, tuo thrid parts of the other halff, and the regall burrows the other thrid part of the said halff (being the just part of the whole taxatioun) Conforme to the Act of parliament, lawis, and practique of that our kingdome, inviolablic observed vntill the last tuo taxatioun wherin the taxt rolls then suddenlie made did minister some colour to the benefices and burghes to compt for less then ther due proportion, and less then was then taxed and collected from the senerall vassalls and burgesses of the saids benefices and burroughs; And in regaird the said disproportion was compleyed vpon by our Solicitour, Mr Wm Haig, vnto quhom we did latelie grant a Commission for discoverie therof in the said last tuo Taxatiouns; And we being verie desyrous to have that errour (if any be) amended and prevented for the tyme to cum, and in such convenient maner as none of our particular subjects may have any just occasion to think that ather we ar frustrated of ther benevolence granted, or they disproportioned in the division therof contrarie to the former lawis and practique of the said kingdome: Our pleasur therfor is, and we doe heirby authorize, will, and requyr yow to advert seriouslie vnto the making of the tax roll of this present taxatioun, and so in equitie to proportion the same as (respect being had to the pound Landis) the burrowis may be taxed to no more than the sixt part of the wholl, as the continual custume was in payment of all former taxatiouns of definit sowmes; As also, that yow have a care that the particular benefices and vassalls therof, and the particular burgesses and inhabitants of burrowis be taxed to noe more then according to the quantitie of ther frie rent and frie geir respectivelie, conforme to the tenour of the Act of parliament: And that the saids sowmes so to be levyed or payed in name of taxationn may be duelie accompted for to our vse: Which recommending, &c.—Hampton Court, 10 Octor 1630.

A signature was signed for Mr Andro Bruce, principall of St Leonard's Colledge of St Andrewis, wherby he was to be nominated and presented to the deanrie, Chaptour of St Androis, and kirk of St Leonard's, and to the constant stipend therof, modified by the Lordis Commissioners of parliament, &c.—Hampton Court, 12 Octor 1630.

Mr Johne Fyff, present minister of Findogask, by this presentatioun was to be nominated and presented to the Archdeanrie of Dumblane, and benefice thairof, and to the haill teynd sheavis and others teyndis, as well personage as viccarage, of the kirk and parochin of Findogask, being ane part of the patrimonie of the said Archdeanrie, except the teynd scheavis of the landis of Keirprone allanerlie, lyand within the said parochin.—Hampton Court 12 Octor 1630.

Subr A. B. Dumblane.

To the Archbischop of ST Androis.

Right, &c.—Being informed that by displaceing M^r Joseph Lawrie, late Minister at Stirling, and the not restablishing ather of him, or placeing some other able and qualified persone ther, the Inhabitants of that burgh ar diverse tymes dissapoynted of the benefite of God's word, and ther Infants delayed in receaveing tymelie baptisme: Our pleasur is, and we doe herby will and desyre yow, if yow find that by the ordour of the Churche the said M^r Joseph cannot be re-established, yow sie him speedelie provyded with such a sufficient preacher as they shall present vnto yow.—Hampton Court, 12 Octo[†] 1630.

To the Burrowis.

Trustic, &c.—We caused the Commissioners sent hither of late concerneing the fisching to meitt and confer with such as wer appoynted by we heir to treat in that purpois, haveing our selffis heard at lenth the reasones and grounds of that bussines, the tymelie and provident prosequution where may tend peculiarlie to your good, and increase of trade and schipping ther, and to the good of all our kingdomes in generall: And becaus it is nowayes intented that yow should therby be wronged in your ancient priviledges or benefite, we are confident that yow will vpon your part goe on in the most effectuall maner for advanceing of that purpois, the particulars where, as they have bene debated heir, we remitt to the relation of your Commissioner, who will at lenth impart the same vnto yow from ws; and as hitherto in all things concerneing our service recommended vnto yow by ws, and particularlie in this last assemblie of our estats, we have fund your affection to our service, for which we give yow hartlie thanks, so we ar confident that in all other things concerneing the good therof yow will continew as we have ever fund yow.—Hampton Court, 12 Octo* 1630.

TO THE ARCH-B, OF ST ANDROIS.

Right, &c.—Haveing vnderstude how affectionathe yow and the rest of the Clergie wer readie to further these things which wer propounded concerneing the good of our service at the last convention, we give yow hartie thanks for the samyne, willing yow to significe the rest of your brethren how weill we are satisfied therwith, which we shall ever be willing to acknowledge when any occasion is offered that may fairlie tend to your good: And as yow was cairfull of our service at that tyme, we expect the lyk of yow at the nixt meitting for the erecting of a generall fisching, which is a great, a glorious, and beneficiall work, cheiflie for the good of that our ancient kingdome: And therfor being verie confident that yow will apply your best Counsells for the advancement therof, We bid, &c.—Hampton Court, 12 Octor 1630.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—We have fund your affection to our service at this last Convention of the Estats, for which we give yow hartie thanks. As tuitching the propositions sent by ws vnto yow concerning the improveing of the Fischings ther, we have caused the Commissioners (sent hither to treat in that purpois) to meett and confer with such as wer appoynted by ws heir to that effect, haveing our selfs heard the reasones and grounds for prosecuteing that bussines, wherin, efter that they have delyvered vnto yow what hath bene debated heir at this tyme, We will yow to insist, as yow have begun, to give your best advyse and furtherance for bringing a work of so great consequence to the intended perfection, which, amongst other good services done by yow for the publict good of that our ancient kingdome, will accompt this one of the greatest; and efter yow have heard the opinion of such of the Estats as ar to convene for that purpois, we desyre yow to returne Commissioners, with instructions to treat heirin, with ane absolute power to conclude for avoyding all delayes, becaus the work, for diverse considerations, requyreth haist.—Hampton Court, 12 Octor 1630.

TO THE ASSEMBLIE OF ESTATS.

Right, &c.—We have fund by report such as wer present at your last meetting, and by effects your affection vnto our service, wherwith we rest weill satisfeit, and doe give yow most hardie thanks for the same, assureing yow that we will not be wanting in any thing that we can contribute to the good of that our ancient kingdome; for which effect some propositions wer sent by we to be considered of by yow concerneing the improveing of the fischings ther, whervpon yow sent as we requyred Commissioners hither to treat of that purpois, we have caused them, and such as wer appoynted by we heir for that effect, to meitt and confer togidder therin, haveing our selffis heard the reasones and grounds for prosecuteing that bussines, which, as we conceave (if it be providentlic followed), may prove a work of great consequence for the generall good of our whole kingdomes, and more particularlic for the benefite of that our ancient kingdome, by the daylic improveing of trade and schipping therin: And sicing it is not heirby intendit that any of your ancient priviledges nor benefits formerlic enjoyed be anywyse hindered, bot, on the contrarie, that your trade, schipping, and consequentlic the strenth and gloric of the kingdome be encreased. These will therfor seriouslic recommend vnto yow the said purpois, as it shalbe delyvered vnto yow by them who wer Commissioners vnto ws, that you may consider how this work may be best and speedelic done, what toimes and plantations ar to erected for this purpois: And to the intent yow on your part should give that contribution, help, and furtherance which is requisite for so good and glorious a work, that yow condescend among your selffis what help and supplie may be expected from thence, and haveing weill considered what is fitt to be done vpon your parts for advancement of this great work, that Commissioners may be sent bak with absolute power to conclud therin, without any restriction, bot of our approbation.—Hampton Court, 12 Octor 1630.

Postscript with his Mateis owin hand.

This is a work of so great good to both my kingdomes, that I have thoght good by these few lynes of my owin hand seriouslie to recommend vnto yow, the furthering or hindring of which will ather oblidge or dissoblidge me more than any one bussines that hath happened in my tyme.

TO THE SESSIONE.

Right, &c.—Haveing resolved to change some persones who had extraordinarie places in session, according as we vpon good Consideratiouns had formerlie intendit, and being confident of the sufficiencie and qualificatioun of our Right, &c. The Lord Traquair, we ar heirby pleased to will and requyre yow to admitt and receave him in the session in the place of the Lord Erskene, and that yow tak, as is accustomed in such caces, the oath of the said Lord Traquair, whome we will to have and enjoy all the priviledges and other things belonging to that place; and for your so doeing, &c.—Hampton Court, 12 Octo* 1630.

Sir William Alexander to be admitted in place of Sir Archibald Achiesone.

TO THE SESSION.

Right, &c.—Haveing resolved to change some persones who had extraordinarie places in Session, and so furth, conforme to the precedent letter, his Ma^{tie} willing that Sir John Hamilton, Clerk Register, be admitted in the Session in the place of Sir John Scott, directour of the Chancerie.

And ane other of the same date, and conforme to the precedent, admitting in the Session in the place of

To Four Noblemen.

Right, &c.—Considering how inconvenient it is that such a great number of Commissioners should be vpon our Exchequer as ar for the present, it would seme more expedient that none should be admitted thervpon save our Officers of Estate: And yit being desyreous to have it done without any just caus of discontent to these noblemen and others who have bene in it the tymes bypast, and have deserved well of ws, we have lykwyse takin to our consideratioun that these officers, or a certane number of them, might be the quorum, Our thesaurer or deputie thesaurer being alwyse one, without removeing any of the rest for the present: Bot in regard this is a matter of speciall moment, we would not determyne in any thing without your advyse: Therfoir we desyre yow that yow consider of both these tuo wayes, or of any other that in your judgment may seme better, and at yow resolve lett a Commission be drawin vp accordinglie and sent vnto ws: So recommending that speciallie vnto your care as vnto those whome we speciallie trust, We bid, &c.—Hampton Court, 12 Octor 1630.

TO THE LORD ERSKENE.

Right, &c.—Though to prosecute that caus which vpoun good considerations was intented and delayed by ws at our last placeing yow vpon the Session, We have removed yow from that Judicatorie for a tyme, we ar so far from doeing it out of any dislyk of your cariage therin, or in any vther thing concerneing our service, that these ar to give yow most hartie thanks for the same, assureing yow that we shall not be vnmyndfull therof whensoever any convenient occasion is offered wherby we may express our respect vnto yow: We bid, &c.—Hampton Court, 12 Octor 1630.

Ane other of this style verbatim done to Sir John Scott.

Instructions from the King his Ma^{tie} to the Right Hon^{le} the Erle of Monteith, Lo/ President of his Ma^{teis} privice Counsall of Scotland.

It is his Ma^{teis} pleasur that the said Erle gave ordour to his Ma^{teis} Advocat carefullie to advert to his Ma^{teis} interruption of the prescription, and that he vse his best meanes that nothing be omitted that may save his Ma^{teis} Actions from prescription.

That the said Erle seik and requyre are accompt of such letters and directions as his Ma^{tie} hath formerlie gevin concerning the rectificing the abuse of Coyne.

That the said Erle give ordour to his Ma^{teia} Advocat to try the right of Sir Mungo Murray to the Lands of Hountingtour, and to report the estate thair of to his Ma^{tie}.

That the said Erle desert out of his Court of Justice-Generall any dittay concerning W^m Gordoun of Murefade, and of one who was a servant of his, becaus his Ma^{tie} hath requyred his Counsell to vse ther best meanes to compose these differences in a friendlie maner.

That the said Erle confer and advyse with his Ma^{teis} Chancellour Thesaurer concerning the fisching bussines, and that they enjoy togidder in what and in everie thing that may concerne the advancement of his Ma^{teis} service.

That the said Erle confer and advyse with the Lord Chancellour the Archbischop of S^t Androis, Thesaurer Privie Seall, and his Ma^{teis} Advocat, or any thrie of them, whither it be feit for the good of his Ma^{teis} service to mak vse of the Commission signed for the Exchequer wherin the officers ar onlie joyned with the Thesaurer and deputie Thesaurer, or if the saidis officers, or some of them, shall onlie be putt vpon the quorum, or otherwayes what Commission they shall think best to be vsed therin, that one may be drawin vp accordinglie for his Ma^{teis} hand.—Hampton Court, 12 Octo^{*} 1630.

TO THE CHANCELLOUR.

Right, &c.—Wheras we wer pleased vpon good consideratiouns to commend vnto yow for vseing the fairest and best way in making that act vneffectuall which was made aganst the decrie gevin by our Colledge of Justice in favours of our burght of Edinburgh tuitching some of the Inhabitants of Leith, and therefter in composing in a freindlie maner the differences betwixt them which at the tyme yow could not convenientlie effectuat becaus of our service entrusted vnto yow in the ensueing Convention, and the vacancie following thervpon: Though we have heirin at lenth significial our pleasur to our Counsell, these ar agane seriouslie to recommend vnto yow that purpois, that we be not further troubled with any question that may aryse therin.—Hampton Court, 12 Octor 1630.

TO THE TOUN OF EDINBURGH.

Trustic, &c.—Vnderstanding how that immediable efter M^{} Johne Scharp did find himselff disappoynted of that place of principall of S^{} Leonard's Colledge (whervanto of our owin motion and knowledge of his sufficiencie we had recommended him), yow had by the advyse of the Archbischop of S^{*} Androis made choyse of him to serve in your Church or Colledge, we give yow hartie thanks for the same, and the rather for that yow did efter so readic and frie maner; And as we doubt not bothe will discharge a dewtie in that charge, so we wilbe confident that yow will contribute (as occasion shall requyre) to any thing that may tend to his further advancement and furthering of his good.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—Wheras we have bene informed that yow have caused suspend the decrie gevin by the Session in favours of our burgh of Edinburgh aganst some of the Inhabitants of Leith: Though we doubt not yow have had some speciall Consideratiouns moveing yow thervnto, yit desyreing that everie Judicatoric may be preserved in the owin integritie, and sicing as we conceave that decrie was pronunced by our Colledge of Justice as a civill matter properlie belonging vnto them, we sie no reasone why it should not tak effect as was intendit without any hinderance by any meanes whatsoever: Therfor our pleasur is, that yow tak a course for making the Act made aganst the decrie vneffectuall, that our Lawis may have ther frie course amongst all our subjects whatsoever, and our said burght may enjoy ther liberteis conforme thervnto: As for removeing of that difference which is amongst them concerneing garnelling of victuall in Leith, we have signified our pleasur to our Chancellour, Thesaurer, and President of our Counsell, that such a course may be amicablic takin therin, as if our said burgh shall dispense with ther libertie in that poynt the saids inhabitants may [make] such retribution vnto them in other things as in reasone and equitie in such causes is allowable.—Hampton Court, 12 Octor 1630.

TO THE EXCHEQUER.

Right, &c.—Wheras we have signed a signature of Confirmatioun of the contract past betweene the Lord Lyndsay and the Lard of Barnes, concerning his tythis of West Bernes, within the paroch of Craill, as a paterne for the rest of that paroch: Our pleasur therfor is, that yow expeed the same, and the lyk signature vnto the rest of the parochiners of the said paroch, with reservation of our annuitie and others mentionat and reserved in the said signature: And for your so doeing, &c.

Drawin by Sir Archibald Achiesone, and procured to be signed by the Marqueis of Hamilton.

TO THE CHANCELLOUR.

Right, &c.—Wheras we have writtin our princelie letters to the Lords of our privic Counsall concerneing the approportioning of this present taxatioun and setling of the tax rolls theref: And considering that yow are our Collectour-generall of the said taxatioun, and absolutelie trusted by ws in anything which may concerne the same or the dewteis of your place, wherin we are confident that yow will endevour to satisfie our just desyres in so duelie proportioning the benefices and burroughs who the taxatioun of the pound Landis of the nobilitie and gentrie, and other frie holders of our Croun, as the sowmes to be levyed by vertew of the taxt rolls so to be made may be dewlie collected and accompted for to our vse: Our pleasur therfor is, that yow seriouslie advert vnto the making vp of the taxt rolls of this present taxatioun, wherby such due proportion may be observed therin, as had wont to be in all former taxatiouns of definite sownes, wherof (as we ar informed) the burrows did ever pay halff as much as the nobilitie and gentrie frieholders of the Croun, and the benefices as much as both, viz.:—the benefices one-halff, the burrows one-sixth part, and the pound lands the rest, being two-sixth parts, conforme to the act of parliament, lawis, and custome of that our kingdome, inviolablie observed past memoric of man: So recommending this particular vnto your speciall care of our service and proffeit, against which, if any objection shal happin to be made, we desyre yow to caus our Advocat and sollicitour Mr Wm Haig mak answer therto in writting, that the same may be considered of by ws: So we bid, &c.—Hampton Court, 12 Octor 1631.

By Sir Ard Achiesone.

TO THE ADVOCAT.

Right, &c.—Wheras we have writtin our princelie letters vnto the Lords of our privie Counsall of that our kingdome concerneing the due setling of the taxt rolls of this present taxatioun in such anc equitable maner as the benefices and burrowis may be justlie approportioned vnto the pund lands of the nobilitie and gentrie, conforme to the ancient laudable custome observed in all former taxatiouns of definite sowmes, wherin the borroughs ever payed halff as much as the Nobilitie and gentrie, and the benefices as much as both: Our pleasur therfor is, and we doe heirby will and requyre yow to have a speciall care of our interest in the said taxatioun, and to sie the taxt rolls therof so duelie made as the said due proportion may be observed by the saids benefices and brughs relative to the pound Landis of the nobilitie and gentric holdin of our Croun: And also that yow doe vrge, for our interest, that all sowmes to be taxed vpon the particular benefices and vassalls of benefices, and particular burgesses and inhabitants of brughs, may be so dewlie accompted for to our vse, as we be not frustrat of ther benevolence, nor they disproportioned fra the sowme payable out of the pund landis: So recommending this vnto your speciall care and wounted dextruous proceiding in our service, we bid you fairwell.—Hampton Court, 12 Octor 1630.

By Sir Ard Achiesone.

TO THE VISCONT OF AIR.

Right, &c.—Wheras ane Assemblie of our Estats ar to meit vpon the second of Nor nixt to treat vpon some things concerneing the good of our whole kingdomes in general, and in particular to the honour and benefite of that our ancient kingdome: Though we know that the matters to be treated therin ar such as may induce a desyre in all our subjects to advance the same, yit to the end our royall intention therin for ther good may be rightlie vuderstude from such who know the Estate therof, and from such of whois affection to our service we ar confident: These ar to require yow to be present at that assemblie, and as in all things concerneing the good of our service we have hitherto fund your hartie affection, so we will expect that in these things to be treited now (the concludeing wherof we most carnestlie affect), yow will vse your best meanes both by your selff and otherwayes to further the same, which we will accompt a speciall service done vnto ws, and will not be vnmyndfull of what we last promised vnto yow, And that with the first in that kynd: We bid, &c.—Hampton Court, 19 Octo* 1630.

These conteyne a grant vnto Johne Halyburton, his heyres and assigneyis, of the nonentresse, maills, fermes, and dewteis of the landis and baronie of Borthuik, which pertend vnto vmquhill

Right, &c.—Wheras we have bene moved, vpon the inclosed petition for giveing way to erect lights in the Yland of May, in the firth of Forth, as a purpois expedient for preventing of shipwrakis therahout, wherin, expecting the good and saiftie of our subjects, we are heirby pleased to remit the consideratioun of the petition vnto yow, that haveing pervsed the same, and hearkned to what can be further propounded to yow tuitching that purpois, yow may resolve if there be any expediencie for erecting of these Lights, and of the meanes and wayes to keip the same; and if yow find it necessarie, and a willingnes of such of our subjects as are most interest therin to pay such a dewtie to the same, as yow and they can best condescend ypon, that a patent be drawin vp for our signature heir, or to pass our Coquet there as yow shall think fitt for the petitioners, and that for such number of yeirs for such a dewtie to be imposed according to the schipp's burden, and such other limitatioums and provisions as yow shall think fitt to prescryve for the good of our kingdome and saftie of our subjects.—Hamptone Court, 25 day of October 1630.

TO THE ADVOCAT.

Trustie, &c.—Haveing granted a Commission to our trustie and weilbeloved Mr Wm Haig, as solister, vpon apparent reasones proponed by him for our benefite and the publict benefite of that our kingdome in discoverie of more moneyis due vnto ws then ar accompted for our vse of the tuo preceiding taxatiouns, And heing willing to advance (in so far as we can lawfullie doe) any proposition tending to that purpois, we have heirby thoght fitt to requyre yow to assist him in the prosecution of that Commission, and seriouslie to consider such thing is as he shall propone vnto yow concerneing the taxt rolls, wherin expecting such effects of your panes as is answerable to your charge, and the prooff we have had of your former affection to our service, we bid, &c.—Hampton Court, 28 Octor 1630.

TO THE SESSION.

Right, &c.—Wheras we ar informed that our late dear father did in behalff of our late servand James Pringle recommend vnto that our Colledge of Justice ane Action depending befor them concerneing the Landis of Lees in regard of the interest of that action of Lancelot Pringle, his brother, who (as we ar informed) can not mak any long residence ther, and of the aige and inabilitie of his father to prosecute that action, We ar heirby pleased to recommend vnto yow the speedie dispatch therof in so far as may be agricable vnto Justice, and the equitie of the cause.—Hampton Court, 28 Octor 1630.

To Four Counsellours.

Right, &c.—Wheras we ar informed that Symeon Ersken was by our late Thesaurer assigned to paye rests of the bygane taxatiouns which he hath not receaved in regard of the persones inhabiliteis who wer to pay the same, in seiking whereof he hath both lost his tyme and meanes: We being most willing (according to our late father's royall intention) that he be payed of the 5000 M. scotts designed by we for his satisfaction for haveing so frielie adventured his lyff abroad in killing of one in single combat who had vnjustlie caluminat our said late father, of worthie memorie: Our pleasur is, that yow consider and examyne the warrant gevin vnto him by our said late thesaurer, and what he receaved of the 5000 Merks, and therefter that yow tak such a course for his payment for what shal happin to be due vnto him out of these concealed taxatiouns as yow shall think fit, and as may be most agricable to your Commission from ws.

TO THE ERLE OF BUCCLEUGH.

Right, &c.—Finding the tyme appoynted for your repairing to Court at Michaelmes last for the setling of all differences betuixt yow and Francis Stewart to be expyred, We ar pleased to requyre yow to repair vnto ws for that purpois betuixt this and the last day of Nor nixt, that we may determyne therin as we have resolved, for immediathe therefter we intend to proceid, and will delay no longer: Thus haveing signified our pleasur heirin vnto yow, we bid yow farewell.—Hampton Court, 29 Octor 1630.

TO THE CHANCELLOUR,

Right, &c.—Wheras our trustic and weilbeloved Mr William Haig, our solister, hath made a proposition vnto ws semeing expedient for ordouring the rolls to be gevin out for collecting the borrowis and benefices parts of this taxatioun, wherby yow may find a clearer way to doe ws service in that kynd for our benefite and the good of our subjects then hath been practized in Collection of the last tuo taxatiouns, wherin being willing to further any thing tending to such a purpois; Our pleasur is, that yow consider of the proposition which we have commanded him to give yow in writt, And (vnless ther be some speciall reasone in writt to the contrarie, aganst which our Advocat and our said solister can give no reasone), that yow proceid accordinglie, and if any course be alreadic takin for the Collecting of these taxatiouns contrarie to this expedient (being approved), that the same be reduced and ordored according to the said proposition, vnless it be made appear that this same may not be done without charge or trouble vnto ws, hurt to our subjects, or prejudice to the ordour prescryved by acts of parliament in the collection of taxatiouns; wherin expecting the care and diligence for the good of our service, we bid, &c,—Whythall, 5 Nor 1630.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—Wheras we ar informed of the lamentable accident falling out by burneing the Tour of Frendraucht, with the Viscount of Aboyne and some others therin: As we ar soriefull for the same, so we desyre, for removeing of all suspition that may seme to aryse of any foirthogh fellonie, that yow caus vse all lawfull and possible meanes for tryeing the maner therof, and if yow find the same to have proceidit out of any malicious intention, Our express will and pleasur is, that according to the Lawis of that our kingdome justice be execute vpon the offenders in the most exampliaric maner, to the terrour of all others who shall attempt the lyk heirefter, and that yow have a speciall care that no trouble aryse therby in these boundis.—Whythall, 5 Nor 1630.

TO THE EXCHEQUER.

Right, &c.—Wheras we ar informed that yow have carefullic cause surveigh the estate of some of our houses within that our kingdome, and find many things therin fitt to be helped befor our Masters of Works do medle therin for keiping therof in such good ordour therefter as by Contract between we and them they are bund to doe, becaus that condition was made upon verie good considerations for our benefite, we think it expedient that yow conduce with Artificers and others persones thoght fitt by yow for putting them in such good ordour as is requisit: Or otherwyse, that yow condescend with the Masters of Work themselffis for doeing therof in the best maner yow can for our behaiff, that thairefter they you ther parts may proceid according to the said Contract; And for advanceing of moneyis to that purpois, which we desyre may be done with as much diligence as may be, these presents shalbe vnto yow, our Thesaurer, and others whom it may concerne, a sufficient warrant and discharge.—Gevin at our Court of Whytball, 5 Nor 1630.

To the Commissioners for Surranders.

Right, &c.—Wheras complaynt hath bene made vnto ws that the tythis of Dysert, wherof the Lord Sinclair is patron, have bene much vndervalued, wherby both we in our annuitie, the patron and persone of Dysert, ar prejudged, whairof, and of the whole bussines of the valuations in generall (recommended by ws vnto yow befor), we desyre yow seriouslie to consider that if the Sub-Commissioners have not takin a right course in ther valuations, yow sie the same rectifeid, as shalbe most expedient for the publict good, and the bussines itselff hastned with as much diligence as can be; which earnestlie recommending to your care, We hid, &c.—Whythall, 5 Nor 1630.

TO THE ADVOCAT.

Trustic and weilbeloved Counsellour, We greet yow well.—Wheras our trustic and weilbeloved Johne Gordon of Lochinvar hath of himselff frielic and without any condition agried to surrender vnto ws his regalitie of Corsmichaell and bailliarcis of Kilpatrik and Tungland: These ar to desyre yow to draw vp such a surrender, ane or mae, of the same as yow shall think fitt to be made in our favours, and haveing sene him signe the same, that with all diligence yow send them to Sir William Alexander, our Secretarie, And for his proceiding so fair with ws as he shall find by effects we will acknowledge the same: So we bid yow farewell from our Court at Whythall, 6 Nor 1630.

TO THE THESAURER.

Right, &c.—Haveing caused deall with the Lord Naper for a surrender of his Office of Deputie Thesaurer in our hands, and finding him altogidder vnreasonable in his demandis, we have for the good of our service appoynted the Right, &c. Lord Traquair to be lykwyse our deputie Thesaurer, of whois care and abilitie to doe ws service we ar confident, and therfor our pleasur is, that in all things concerning our service yow mak speciall vse of him: And befor your repairing to our Court you mak knowen to our Exchecker that it is our speciall pleasur that in your absence he supplie your place in the said service, and in all things whatsoever concerneing the same: Which recommending to your care, we bid yow farewell.—Whythall, 5 Nor 1630.

TO THE ERLE OF MORTON, THESAURER.

Our pleasur is, and we doe heirby will and requyre yow, for speciall and good consideratiouns moveing ws, that yow caus pay with all diligence vnto our right the Lo/ Naper, our deputie thesaurer, or to such as have his power, his whole feyis, pensions, or other things due from ws vnto him, by whatsoever maner of way resting vnpayed vnto him at any tyme preceiding this terms of Mertimes, and that out of the first and readiest of our rents, dewteis, and casualiteis whatsoener in that our kingdome; and for your soe doeing these presents, togidder with his or his forsaids acquittances therepoun, shalbe a sufficient warrand and discherge vnto yow.—Whythall, 16 Nor 1630.

TO THE ERLE OF MORTON, THESAURER.

Right, &c.—Being informed that Mr Wm Kellie insisteth to trouble the Vassalls of our Lordship of Dumbar, notwithstanding we had formerlie writtin in ther favours, and that he challengeth priviledges over them which doe not belong vnto him, Our pleasur is, haveing first heard Alexr Narne of Sandfurd tuitching the bargane he made betweene the late Erle of Holdernesse and the said Mr Wm concerneing the sale of his Lands within that Lordship, that in our name yow deall with him to sell the same vnto ws at the rate he bought them from the said Erle, or otherwayes, that yow condescend with him as yow shall think fit; but if he will not hearken thervnto, sieing these lands did belong vnto our Croun of that kingdome, we will yow to requyre our Advocat to insist in our name and for our intrest, in so far as he can lawfullie doe, for reduceing the right of the said Mr William thervnto; And in the meanetyme that yow vse your best endeavours for defence of these vassalls, in so far as lawfullie and convenientile can be done by yow.—Whythall, 16 Nor 1630.

TO THE EXCHEQUER.

Right, &c.—Wheras vpon good considerations of the loss sustened by Williame French of Frenchland, formerlie made to ws, we granted a warrant for payment to him of 200 hb sterling for the space of sex yeires till the sowme of 1200 hb wer payed vnto him out of our customes, rents, and other dewteis of the Midleschyris of that our kingdome, bot in regard we had for causes speciallie importing the good of our service gevin ordour vnto yow, our Thesaurer, that vpon no consideration whatsoever none of our rents, casualteis, or other dewteis should be particularlie assigned for the payment of any persone; Yit being willing he be payed out of our Exchequer at the tymes mentioned in the said warrand according to the maner accustomed, Our pleasur is, that out of the first and readiest of our rents, dewteis, and casualiteis whatsoever of that our kingdome, due, or which heirefter shall accress vnto ws by whatsoever maner of way within the same, yow mak payment vnto him or his assigneyis of the said sowme of 1200 hb at the tymes mentioned in the said warrand; and if any termes be alreadie past at which some part of these moneys should have bene payed vnto him by vertew of our said former warrant, Our further pleasur is, that he or his assigneyis be payed therof in this instant yeir of God 1630: And for your soe doeing these presents shalbe vnto yow a sufficient warrant and discherge.—Whythall, 18 Nor 1630.

A presentation was signed for Mr Archibald Moncreiff to the kirk of Abernethie, which was vacund in his Ma^{teis} handis, gift, and disposition, be the dimission therof made be Mr Archibald Moncreiff, elder, last minister of the said kirk.—Whythall, 23 No^r 1630.

THE HUMBLE PETITION OF JOHNE CUNYNGHAM OF BARNES.

Humblie scheweth—That diverse schipwraks have fallin and doe daylie fall out by want of Lights in the Hand of May, in the entrie of the firth of Forth, the chefff place of trade within that your Mateia ancient kingdome.

Sieing that Hand doeth belong vnto your petitioner, who can more easelie and in a cheap maner manteane these lights then any other persone whatsoever, and that this is a purpois tending to the publict good: May it therfoir pleas your most excellent Ma^{tie} to remitt the consideratioun thairof vnto your Ma^{teis} most honorabill Counsall ther, and that they hear what further proposition shalbe made by the petitioner or others interessed tuitching this purpois that if they find it expedient for the good of such as trade and adventure by sea ther, A patent for manteaneing of these Lights vpon his own charges may be granted vnto him for such a number of yeires and for such a ductie to be payed of everie schip or bark haveing hir course to be from that way according to hir burden, as in cases of the lyk nature is vsuall, or as they in ther judgments shall think fitt, haveing a respect allwyse (if so be they shall think it expedient) that a difference be made between natives and strangers in payment of the said ductie.

TO THE CLERK OF REGISTER.

Trustie and weilbeloved, &c.—Wheras ther hath bene petition sent vnto ws from our Counsall of that our kingdome, in name of our Right, &c. the Erle of Annandale, concerneing some differences betuixt him and Sir Ritchert Grham, knyt and barronet, for pasturage vpon the Lands of Rollands Merse; sieing we can determine in nothing therin till we have heard both pairties or sene these records or treates which hath bene between the tuo kingdomes concerneing ther merches, wherby the grounds whervpon the saids differences doe aryse may be cleared, Our pleasur is, that yow carfullie search and consider all such treates and records tending to the clearing of the saids differences as ar in our Castele of Edinburgh, or can be fund by yow elsewher, wherof (if any be) we requyre yow to send bak vnto ws, with all diligence vuder your hands, the extracts, togidder with such information and advyse as yow can give tuitcheing the removeing of the saids differences; which recommending, &c.—Whythall, 25 Nor 1630.

TO THE EXCHEQUER.

Right, &c.—Wheras we lather did grant vnto our servand Walter Stewart, gentlman of our privice Chalmer, a gift of the wardschip and mariage of the Lord Salton and others his predicessour's lands and nonentric therof, without any intention that he should pay any composition at all vnto ws for the same: Our pleasur therfor is, and we doe heirby anthorize, will, and requyre yow to pas the same vnto our said servant gratis, without any composition and with all possible diligence, that he may the more speedleic enjoy the benefite of the same, according to our royall intention therin expressed, or else with all diligence schew caus to the contrarie: And for your so doeing these our letters shalbe ane sufficient warrand and discharge in that behalff.—Whythall, 2 Der 1630.

TO THE EXCHEQUER.

Right, &c.—We ar informed by petition from Patrik Lyndsay that in recompence of long service ther was 1000hb granted to him by our late dear father, where he never received but 300 merks: We therfor, commiserating his aige and povertie, have thought fitt to will and requyre yow to examyne and try the treuth of the premisses, and if any thing be fund dew vnto him, ather to give ordour for his satisfaction therin, or otherwyse to certifie ws, that we may give further warrant theranent: So, not doubting of your care heirin, We bid, &c.—Whythall, 2 Der 1630.

By his Mateis command. Subscribe JA. GALLOWAY.

TO THE EXCHEQUER.

Right, &c.—Being petitioned by John Kennedie, sometyme of Blairquhan, and Margaret Stewart, his spous, that about ellevin yeires since, he being then near the aige of 21 yeires, was circumvened and induced by Josias Stewart, then styled of Bonyton, to sell vnto him the landis and liveing of Blairquhan for twentie-fyve thowsand merks scotts, they being worth one hundreth thowsand and vpward, which Josias and James Kennedye, thar styled of Culzeaue, his sone-in-law, and William Stewart of Dunduff, gave band to pay vnto them at a certane terme bypast, with the ordinarie interest thairof, but never performed the same; And lykwyse that the said Josias and Williame Stewarts and James Kennedie ar our rebells, lying at horne vnrelaxed, wherby the said Johne and Marie, his spous, ar frustrat of the benefite of ther estats, except our gratious favour be vnto them extendit: Our pleasur therfor is, that yow try the estate of the premisses, and finding it trew that the said Johne and Mary have heir alledged, that yow pass vnto them a signature of the escheit and lyfrent of the said Josias and William Stewarts and James Kennedie, but so as they doe not extend farther then to the satisfaction of what is justlie due vnto them: They alwyse giveing such reasonable composition to ws for the same as to yow shalbe thoght fitting, and for your soe doeing these shalbe your sufficient warrant.—Whythall, 2 Der 1630.

By Sir James Galloway.

TO THE ADVOCAT.

Trustie, &c.—Wheras we ar informed by William Tyrie of Drumkilbo that some persones haveing intendit ane Action questioneing some of his landis hold ward of ws, wherby, if the same should happin to be evicted from him, we will lose our superioritie therof, and wilbe a dangerous president for taking diverse superiorities of that nature from our Croun, a course far contrarie to what we had intended for drawing in of all superiorites justlie belonging to we within that our kingdome: Our pleasur is, that yow consider of the trew estate of that action, and if yow find that we ar lyklie to suffer in our interest therin, that yow carefullie advert thervnto, that (in so far as lawfullie may be) nothing be done therin to our prejudice; And (if neid be) that yow advertise we of the estate therof, and of your advyse tuitching the same: So we, &c.—Whythall, 3 Der 1630.

TO THE EARLE OF SEAFORT.

Right, &c.—Haveing occasion to confer with yow at this tyme in some things concerning our service, Our pleasur is, that with as much diligence as convenientlie can be vsed, yow repair to our Court, wher further pleasur shalbe imparted vnto yow: We bid, &c.—Whythall, 3 Der 1630.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—Wheras we ar informed that our service committed to the Charge of our Right, &c. the Erle of Tullibardyne and his associats for performeing that part of a Contract betweene ws and them concerneing such things as might be vsefull for our Navie, cannot be performed vnless Johne Grant of Glenmorishtoun, with whome, as we are lykwyse informed ther is a necessitie to agrie for furnishing tymber to that purpois, have libertie to provyde and delyver the same, which he is not able to performe, becaus of some hornings vsed against him by our Right, &c. the Erle of Murray for Criminall causes, but offereth, if he wer permitted by yow to goe on in that service, to give vnto yow sufficient securitie for his appearance befor yow at all tymes efter a lawfull summondis; wherin his demand scameing to ws to be verie reasonable, and the consideration of what he vndertaketh to be of great consequences for the good of our service: Our pleasur is, that yow ather caus frie him of the saids hornings or suspend the execution thereof to the effect he may frielie and speedelie proceid in our said service, taking such sufficient suretics of him for his appearance at such tymes as yow shall think fitt to appoint for answering befoir our Justice-Generall anything that can be justlie objected against him; And the better advanceing our said service, that yow grant him all such lawfull favour and furtherance as convenientlie yow can, he alwyse carrying himselff in a civill and lawfull mauer.—Whythall, 9 Der 1630.

To the Commissioners of Surrenders.

Right, &c.—Wheras we wer pleased of late to requyre our Right, &c. the Erle of Roxbrugh, to repair to Court for setling of all bussines betweene him and Francis Stewart, in regard he cannot he able for the present till the first day of Junij nixtocum, to attend vpon what may concerne him in that Commission of the Tythis, by reasone of his necessarie attendance heir, for hearing our determination ament the saids differences, wherin we are now to proceid without any further delay: Our pleasur is, according to our former letter vnto yow tuitching this purpois, that now lykwyse whatsoever shall cum befor yow concerneing the said Erle his Tythis be continewed till that day: We bid, &c.—Whythall, 7 Der 1630.

TO THE COUNSALL.

Right, &c.—We wer pleased heirtofoir, out of just and reasonable consideratiouns, to grant a yeires protection to the Mr of Herreis, and being now agane informed by petition from him that certane actions of his towards the payment of his creditours are yit undetermined and depending still befor our Judges, which, without the continuance of our protection will be unvesfull to his said intention, as lykwyse that the rigour of his creditours is such as no reasone will satisfie them without the restraynt of his persone, wherby they would enforce him to tak such course as they please, but unnaturall . . . a sone to the prejudice of his father; we therfor, out of our princelic consideration, have signed him a protection for ane whole yeir, willing and requyreing yow to expeed the same, efter yow have taken him bund for performeing of such equitable conditions as are expressed in the said grant; wherin, not doubting of your Conformitie to this our pleasur, we bid, &c.—Whythall, 13 Der 1630.

By Sir Ja. Galloway.

TO THE LORD GORDOUN.

Right, &c.—We ar informed from the Lord Archbischop of S^t Androis, and other bischops of his dyocie, of your carefull and diligent proceidings vpoun that Commission latelie gevin vnto yow aganst the papists in the North, and the good effects which hath followed thervpon, of quyeting the cuntrey and repressing ther insolenceis, wherin, as yow have we and to the cuntrey good and acceptable service, so we have thoght it our part, towards the encouragement of your selff or others in services of that nature heirefter, to give to yow our particular thanks; and wheras we ar further informed by them that by this your forwardnes yow have incurred the displeasur and indignation of many great persones, both at home and abroad, Our desyre is that yow doe not putt them in a balance with our good opinion, but believe that as yow have bene carefull and diligent in the performance of our service, we lykwyse shall not be wanting by our good countenance to contervale the loss of any such malicious and evill disposed persones; wherof, desyreing yow to rest assured, we bid, &c.—Whythall, 17 De* 1630.

By Sir Ja, Galloway.

TO THE THESAURER.

Right, &c.—Humble sute hath bene made vnto ws in behalff of the reverend father in God, the bischop of Brechin, to caus pay vnto him his pension of 500M. Scotts, the meanness where and the persones qualitic requyreing some favour heirin, we have thought fitt seriouslie to recommend the payment heirof vnto yow, togidder with the arrears (if any be due) and that with as much diligence us can, for doeing where, these presents shalbe your warrand.—Whythall, 20 Der 1630.

TO THE CHANCELLOUR.

Right, &c.—Wheras our right, &c. the Lord Lowdoun hath surrendered vnto ws his heretable office of the schirrefdome of Air, wherby the placeing of a schirreff ther is at our disposeing, being informed of the sufficiencie of David Dumbar of Enterkine to serve ws in that charge, and least our service in that kynd should be neglected, Our pleasur is, that yow in our name Authorize him to be schirreff of Air till a new Election be made: And for your so docing these presents shalbe vnto yow a sufficient warrant.—Whythall, 20 Der 1630.

TO THE EXCHEQUER.

Right, &c.—As we wer pleased of late to wryt to yow for preventing of what might be feared by any deid to have bene made by we concerneing the lands of Markle and Trapren, least it might endanger the right alledged to belong to our Chappell royall of ane annuel-rent out of the same; So being willing that the lands and other things which formerlie belonged to the late Erle of Bothwell remane vnquestioned or changed from the estate wherin they now ar till we have gevin our decreit vpon the submission made vnto we by the persones cheiffic interested, wherin we intend to proceid with all diligence: Our pleasur is, that till that tyme nothing be exped which may anwyse concerne that estate; which recommending vnto your care, &c.—Whythall, 20 Der 1630.

TO THE ARCH BISCHOP OF ST ANDROIS.

Right, &c.—Wheras we have bene petitioned in behalff of the poore Ministers of that our kingdome that they may be exempted from our taxatiouns, we are no less willing then any of our predicessours have bene to favour them heirin; Yit being informed that sindrie abuses have bene committed under that pretext, Our pleasur is, that yow confer with our Chancellour, Collectour of our taxatiouns, that efter due consideration a course may be sett down how the poore may enjoy the benefite of our favour heirin, and yit that our intention be not abused in being extendit further then what shalbe fund requisit for the effect forsaid; ffor doeing wherof let such a warrant as yow agrie upon be sent unto we for our hand: And so remitting the forme therof unto yow, we bid yow farewell.—from our Court at Whythall, 24 Der 1630.

TO THE ADVOCAT.

Trustic and weilbeloved Counsellour—Wheras we ar informed that Sir George Home of North Berwick hath not subscryved the generall submission, intending besydis as titular of the Tythis of certane landis belonging to our right trustic and right weilbeloved cousen the Erle of Angus, to tak a more strict course with him tuitching the same then hath bene formerlie accustomed, the said Erle and his predecessours (as we ar lykwyse informed), haveing bene these many yeires kyndlie taksmen therof for paying of a certane reasonable dewtie, wherin we dislyk of the said Sir George, his intention, as altogidder disagricable to the course intended by ws for the publict good, both in avoyding to signe the said submission contrarie to what the most part of our good subjects have done, and by endeavouring the contrarie at this tyme in his owin particular, while a purpois of such consequence is bot as yit in the setling: Our pleasur is, that ye in our name requyre him to submitt as others have done, otherwyse if he refuise that yow tak all such information from the said erle, or otherwyse as may conduce to the evicting of his right, and therefter that yow intend action against him in so far as yow can in a lawfull maner: And for your, &c.—Whythall, 24 Der 1630.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—Wheras we ar informed that in regard of the death of the late Lord Oliphant without leaveing any aires-male lawfullie procreat of his bodie to succeid vnto his title of honour, ther is a question fallin out betwixt Lady Anna Oliphant, his daughter, his heyre of blood, and ane Patrik Oliphant, pretending right to the said title, by tailzie and disposition flowing from the said late Lord, by which he assumes title and place; and being lykwyse informed that the proces is alreadie intented befor the Judges Ordinarie, for decydeing of the saidis parteis' rights: It is our expres will and pleasur, to the effect we be nather wronged in our princelie prerogative, nor ather pairtie in ther right that yow, your sight heirof, in our name discharge both the saidis pairteis from presumeing to vsurp to tak vpon them the said title or place vntill such tyme as by the Judge Ordinarie it be legallie decydit to whom the said place doeth lawfullie pertene.—Whythall, 5 Jar 1631.

TO THE ERLE OF MURRAY

Right, &c.—We understand by a letter from our Counsell how good a service you have done unto we by apprehending of James Grant, the rebell, by your successfull endeavours therin approveing our judgment in granting that Commission unto yow; and as we know that this was not done without great charges and paynes, soe we will accordinglie esteame tharof, as we have writtin unto our Counsell, willing that nothing be done to the prejudice of your Commission, bot that it have the full power allowed therin to the expyreing of the same, dureing the which tyme we wish yow to proceid as yow have done hitherto, according to the tenour therof: And so, expecting your best endeavours, and wishing your good successe, &c.—Whythall, 7 Jar 1631.

To the Counsell.

Right, &c.—We understand by your letter how good a service is done unto ws by our Right, &c. the Erle of Murrray in apprehending James Grant, the rebell, and his complices, which we acknowledge and will esteame therof as it doeth deserve: Bot sieing we conceave that a persone of his qualitic could not have see subsisted or preceidit therin without the ayd or encouragment of others, as this service hath made ane end of his treacherous and malicious course, so to prevent, by the punishment of this, the attempting of any the lyk heirefter, Our pleasur is, that yow caus examinat the said James (if he be alyve) or any others that adheared unto him, of the meanes how he hath bene supported, that ordour may be takin with all that have contributed any voluntaric help for assisting of him, in so far as the lawis of that kingdome will allow: And in the meanetyme, sieing our said cousen's Commission hath produced so good effects, our further pleasur is that nothing be done to the prejudice therof, bot that it stand in the full force and effect till the expyreing of the same: Any so, not doubting of your care heirein.—Whythall, 7 Jar 1631.

TO THE CHANCELLOUR.

Right, &c.—Wheras we have writtin vnto our Counsell for causeing examyne James Grant (if he be alyve) or any others who adhaered vnto him, of the meanes how he hath bene supported dureing the tyme of his rebellion, and that ordour may be takin with all such as shalbe fund to have contributed any voluntarie help towards his mantenance; and being verie desyreous that all meanes should be vsed for finding out such persones (if ther be any), we conceave that it may be better tryed by a privat number than befoir the haill table; and in such a cause we doe heirby will and authorize yow that, ather by your selff, or if yow shall find it neidfull that yow assume vnto yow such of our privic Counsell or others as shall seme best vnto yow, and that yow vse your best endeavours for tryell of the same, as yow will doe acceptable service vnto ws: And our further pleasur is, that the said James, or any others who have had hand in that cryme, being in close prissone, yow give speciall ordour that none have access to speik with them without your particular warrant.—Whythall, 7 Jar 1631.

TO THE ADVOCAT.

Trustie, &c.—Haveing vnderstude that, nochtwithstanding of the presentatioun granted by ws of the Church of Duffus, the assisting where of we recommended vnto your care, yit the same persone whom we wer pleased to gratiefie therwith bath takin another right, neglecting that which he had from ws, whervnto yow have opposed your selff for manteyneing our title, We approve your cariage heirin, and the care yow have schawin therby of our service: And it is our pleasur that yow proceid for defending that presentatoun which was granted by ws, in so far as the Lawis of that our kingdome will allow; and that yow tak the lyk course in all other caices of the lyk nature, that we may recover any patronages that ar vajustlie deteyned from ws, wheranent these presents shalbe vnto yow a sufficient warrant.—From our Court at Newmerkit, 23 Jar 1631.

To the Counsell.

Right, &c.—Being informed of a contraversic betuix Thomas Kirkpatrik of Lisburne and ane Bryce Semple, wherby the said Thomas was lyklie to be vtterlic ruinated in his whole estate by the said Bryce, Onr pleasur is, that, haveing cited the pairties befor yow, yow tak such ane equitable course by ther submission vnto yow, or otherwyse, if yow shall think requisit, for preventing any wrong that the said Thomas may suffer by that meanes; and in caice that ather of the pairties will not hearken vnto reasone, that yow acquant ws therwith, that therefter we may proceid therin as yow shall think most convenient: Which recommending vnto your care, &c.—Newmarkit, 29 Jar 1631.

To the Session.

Right, &c.—Being informed that in tyme of our late dear father the differences betweene our right trustic, &c. the Frie of Annandale and Sir Archibald Achiesone, knyt, our Secretarie for that our kingdome, tuitching some landis in Irland, were be them referred vato Sir William Alexander, our principall Secretarie ther, and Sir James Fullertone, late of our bed chalmer, to have bene composed by them in a freindlic maner: And now we being willing becaus of the said Sir James his deceis, and that they cannot mutuallic agric between themselffis for setling these differences between them, that they be takin away in ane arbitrarie coure, We think it fitt that ather yow or they themselffis may choyse to this purpois of such persones who best vnderstand the Lawis of Irland and the estate of these lands in question; and if the said Erle and Sir Ard Achiesone will not condescend to this course, or if it doe not tak that effect, that yow certifie we therof, that we may give such farder speedie ordour therin as in justice we shall think fitt and reasonable.—Whythall, 13 Feb 1631.

TO THE VISCONT DUPLIN, CHANCELLOR.

Right, &c.—In regard of the prejudice that diverse of our loveing servandis and subjects doe suffer by want of these moneyis which we vpon good consideratiouns and for the good of our service had condescended to give unto them, Our pleasur is, that whatsoever moneys yow shall receave of any taxatioun wheref yow ar Collectour, that, with the concealments thairef, yow delyver the same to the E. of Morton.—[No date.]

TO THE EXCHEQUER.

Right, &c.—In regard we have agried with Sir Alex* Strauchan of Thorneton, knyt baronet, for surrendring his Commissions granted by ws vnto him for the sowme of 3000^{lib.} st*, for payment wherefy vnto him, or vnto others of whois estates he hath made vse, our thesaurer principall, and the Lord Traquair, our deputie thesaurer, have gevin ther bandis: And sieing it is nowayes our intention that they should any wyse suffer in the same, it being done by our direction, Our pleasur is, that the said sowme of 3000^{lib.} st. be allowed vnto them in ther owin handis out of the first moneyis arysing be the said Commission, or out of any other our rents and casualiteis whatsoever, till they be completilie releived: And in regard we have lykwyse [agreed] with the Lo/ Naper for surrendring vnto ws his place of deputie thesaurer, as lykwyse in contentatioun of his pension, which he bought from Walter Stewart for the sowme of 3500^{lib.} st., to be gevin to him, it is our further pleasur that the said sowme be lykwyse allowed to them in ther owin handis out of the first and readiest of any of our rents and casualiteis whatsoever, and that, for ther further securitie, yow mak ane act of Exchequer heirvpon: And for your soe doeing, &c.—Whythall, 13 Feb* 1631.

TO THE EXCHEQUER.

Right, &c.—We ar informed by petition from George Foulls, Master of our Cunzie hous, that he haveing devolved vpon him a great burden of debts from his kinsman Thomas Foulls, late taksman of the Lead Mynes, who contracted the same by the great charg and loss that he had in finding out and prosecuteing of these works; for which burden the petitioner haveing no vther releiff bot the hope of benefite that might aryse thence, and haveing at the instance of our Counsell made some tryell thairof, that he findis the benefite (if any may be raised) can not counterpoyse the panes, bot that he must now be enforced to desist from prosecuteing the said work, except we be pleased, out of our princelic consideration, to dispense with the tak dewtie payable to ws for our tenth, to the behuiff of him and his eldest sone: We therfor, not otherwyse knowing the treuth of the premisses, and out of our princelic care, being desyreous the said works, so beneficiall to the cuntrie and any poore, may be continewed, though without benefite to ws, for a tyme, if otherwyse may not be, have thought fitt to will and requyre yow to tak the premisses to your consideration, and to doe and settle therin with the petitioner according as yow in your wisdomes shall think fitt and expedient for the common good, or interest and encouragment of the petitioner; wherin not doubting of your care, We, &c.—Whythall, 4 March 1631.

TO THE COMMISSIONERS FOR SURRENDERS.

Right, &c.—Wheras by our former warrand direct to yow we gave Ordour for expeiding the valuation of led tythis, wherin, as we understand, yow have proceidit see wyslie that within schort tyme the valuatioun of led Tythis shalbe concluded: Bot as to the Tythis which ar bruiked by the heretours joyntlie with the Lands wherin the probation is common both to titular and heretour, we ar informed that the samyne proceidis verie slowlie, and that partlie by reasone of the negligence of the titulars and heretours in persewing of ther valuations, or be the contestation betwixt them efter report, wherin so much tyme is spent vpon everie particular, that the work is mightelie hindred, and lyk to be frustrat, except some remedie be provydit thereto: And we considering that the difficultie and contestation aryses for the most part ypon the constant rent of stok and tyth, whereas no difficultie can be in the present rent, we think it nowayes reasonable, wher the present rent is certane, that vpon the contestation anent the constant, ather the titular should be frustrat of the payment of the just tyth or we of our annuitie: And therfor we think it necessar, for the good of the great work and our service, that are act be made ordeaneing all titulars and heretours to expeid and conclude ther valuations betwixt and the first of August nixtocum, and if any contestation shall-appin to fall out betwixt them efter that day, in that caice that it be enacted and ordeaned that the heretour shall pay his just tyth according to the fyveth of the present rent, togidder with our annuitie furth of the samyne according therto, and of all yeires bygane and in tyme cuming, ay and whill the constant rent of the said stok and tyth shalbe fullie agried vpon betuixt them by your sight, and if it shalhappin any led tythis to be vnvalued efter the said first day of August nixt, ather in default of the titular or heretour, in that caice, as we allow the ordour taking by yow for leiding of the tythis be ather of them who shall not be fund in default of the not valuation, so we think it just and reasonable that the intromettour with the tyth should be obleidged in payment of our annuitie according to the just worth of the tythis led dureing the veires of his leading, deduceing onlie thereof the fyveth part for the ease and that which is payed to the ministers for ther stipends, and that ay and whill the valuations be concludit: And to the effect that ther be no delay on your part in considering of the reports, and discussing of the difficulteis anent the valuations, we think it fitt that yow grant committeis to some of your number, ane or mae, for hearing of the difficulteis betwixt the titulars and heretours, and decyding the same, except in such difficult cases which shall deserve the hearing of the whole table.—Whythall, 6 March 1631.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—Wheras we ar informed that certane informatiouns gevin vnto we aganst the Lord Naper were by ordour from yow putt vpon record, wherin, sieing he hath gevin we satisfaction, and that non of our subjects ar therin interessed, we will not that anything tuitching the saids informations be left as a ground to wrong him or his posteritie in the reputation due vnto them: Therfor our pleasur is, that yow mak the said informations and articles of accusation vneffectuall, by cancelling or rasing of the same: And for your so doeing these presents shalbe vnto yow a sufficient warrand.—6 March 1631.

TO THE EXCHEQUER.

Right, &c.—We ar informed from James Boncle, by petition instructed by diverse certificats vnder the hands of our Secretarie of state, that he of late yeires haveing with great charge, panes, and danger performed many good services to our state and freinds, is now for want of health and strenth becum vnable to purches the meanes of lyveliehood and mantenance to himselff, requesting ws therfoir, and for the interest of our dearest freinds his recommenders, to bestow vpon him some meanes of sustenance in that his native cuntric indurcing his naturall lyff: We therfor have thoght to refer and recommended him vnto yow to have such proportion of meanes allowed him ther as yow in your wisdomes efter pervsall of his saids certificats and recommendatiouns shall think fitt; wherin not doubting of your care, &c.—Whythall, 7 March 1631.

By Sir James Galloway.

TO THE EXCHEQUER.

Right, &c.—Wheras we did formerlie wryt vnto yow that yow should expeid vnto our weilbeloved Walter Stewart, gentleman of our privie chalmer, a gift of the wardschip and mariage of the Lord Salton and vthers his predicessouris landis, and of the nonentrie thirof, or else to wryt bak to we your reasones aganst the expediencie of the same: And sieing yow have not returned vnto we any, it is our express will and pleasur, without any further delay, yow pass the samyne vnto our said servand gratis, without any composition, and with all possible diligence, that he may the more speedelie enjoy the benefite of the same, according to our royall intention therin exprest: And for your, &c.—Whythall, 14 March 1631.

To the Counsell.

Right, &c.—Wheras we are informed that James Creichton of Frendraucht is to onderly the Law for the death of the late Viscont of Melgun and Rothmay, the maner wherof was so barbarons and odious, as we desyre that all meanes may be vsed wherby the trenth therof may be broght to light, bot becaus the matter is of so great importance and so much difficultie in the tryell, in regard the Erle Monteith, president of our privic Counsell, who is our Justice Generall, is to remane heir some tyme as called by ws to attend our service heir; And that we would be loath to have that bussines putt to a tryell by a deputie dureing the tyme of his absens: Our pleasur is, that yow taking sufficient assurance continew his tryell till sic a day in Juny nixt to cum as yow shall think most fitt, that our said Justice Generall may be present that the samyne may be exactlic tryed, which we exceedinglic desyre that punischment vpon the offenders may be accordinglic inflicted: And our further pleasur is, that in the meane tyme such persones as ar alreadic in prissone for suspition of the said fact may be still safelic deteyned in firmance vnto the said tyme.—Whythall, 14 March 1631.

TO THE COMMISSIONERS FOR SURRENDERS.

Right, &c.—Wheras we ar pleased of late to requyre our right, &c. the Erle of Buccleugh to repair to Court for setling of all bussines betuix Francis Stewart and him; in regard he cannot be able for the present till the first day of Junij nixtocum vpon what may concerne him in that Commission of the Tythis, by reasone of his necessarie attendance heir for hearing our determination anent the saids differences, wherin we ar now to proceed without and furder delay, Our pleasur is, that whatsoever shall cum befoir yow concerneing the said Erle his Tythis be continewed till that day: And for, &c.—Whythall, 16 March 1631.

TO THE SESSION.

Right, &c.—Wheras we wer pleased of late to requyre our right, &c. the Earle of Buccleugh to repair to our court for setling of all bussines betwixt Francis Stewart and him: In regard, as we ar informed, he hath some actions depending befor yow, vpon which he cannot be able befor the beginning of the nixt session to attend, in regard of his necessarie attendance heir, for heiring our determination anent the saids differences, wherin we ar now to proceid without any further delay, our pleasur is, that yow continew all actions that cum befor yow, concerneing the said Erle till that tyme, that he may convenientlie attend them.—Whythall, 16 March 1631.

TO THE ERLE NITHISDALE.

Right, &c.—Haveing bene informed of the good service yow have done vnto ws in apprehending, putting to tryell, and executioun of diverse malefactours and Outlawis in the borders of our kingdome of Scotland, we doe heirby render yow hartie thanks for the same, and we assure yow that we will not be vnmyndfull therof when any further occasion shall offer wherby we may express our favour vnto yow.—Whythall, 18 March 1631.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—Wheras we ar informed that notwithstanding Henrie Ramsay of Ardownie was denunced to the horne as suretic to James Beaton of Westhall, who haveing left the kingdome is now returned, and may satisfie his creditours, and releive his cautioner, yit delayeth to doe the same, wherby the Estate of the said Henrie is lyklic altogither to perishe, speciallic by being disabled by reasone of the said horning to tak any course for his owin releiff, whervpon, we being humblic petitioned that he may be licenced to stand in judgment to plead in that behalff, and for recoverie of such debts as ar justile dew vnto him, wherby to satisfic all his creditours, we ar heirby pleased (if yow find what is affirmed to be trew, and the consideratioun of his demand to be reasonable, as we conceave it to be), that yow grant vnto him a protection for ane yeir, with licence to stand in judgment for recoveric of his releiff, and all other actions concerning him, taking alwayse such ordour as yow shall find to be most requisit, that the creditours be not defrauded of what is justlie dew vnto them.—Whythall, 18 March 1631.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—Wheras we ar informed that Sir Johne Ogilvie of Craig, knyt, since he was apprehendit by the Erle of Monteith, president of our Privie Counsall, who is our Justice Generall, and since his imprisonment in our Castell of Edinburgh, hath caryed himselff moderatlie, nather gevin nor offered any scandell to the professed religion: And being humblie petitioned in his behalff that he may be confyned within his owin boundis, in regard his estate is lyklie altogidder to perishe by his absence, and that his aige and great seiknes, whervnto he is much subject, requyred our princelic consideratioun towards him, we ar heirby pleased to remitt the consideratioun of his demand vnto yow, that if yow find not some speciall reasone to the contrarie, yow give ordour for his enlargeing and confinement in his owin boundis vpon such conditions as yow shall think fitt to preseryve, for mantenance of religion and quyet of these parts.—Whythall, 18 March 1631.

TO THE COMMISSIONERS OF PARLIAMENT.

Right, &c.—Wheras we did latelie caus prorogat our parliament vntill the first day of Aprill nixtocum, in hope that we could have bene ther our selff in persone: And now, considering that we cannot be ther at that tyme, and yit being vnwilling to be absent from our said parliament, and desyreous to receave our Croun in persone, and to setle all bussines ther, if our affaires can convenientlie permitt we to repair thither, as we carnestlie desyre, Our pleasur is, and we doe heirby authorise, will, and requyre yow to cause fense our said Court of parliament, by vertew of our Commission latelie granted vnto yow by ws, and to prorogat and continew the said parliament agane to the fourt of August nixtocum, with continuatioun of dayes, that we may have time to setle our affaires heir befoir we begin our jorney towards that our ancient kingdome: And for your see doeing, &c.—Whythall, 18 March 1631.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—Wheras we have writtin our princelie direction vnto our Commissioners of parliament to prorogat and continew the same vnto the fourt day of August nixtocum, wherby we may have some more tyme and leasure to be ther in persone at the said parliament, and to receave our croun, for the peace and and securitie of that our native and ancient kingdome, if our affaires can convenientlie permitt: Our pleasur therfor is, and we doe heirby authorise, will, and requyre yow that efter the said parliament shalbe prorogated and continewed as said is, yow caus intimat the said prorogation and continuation to all our good leidges within our said kingdome by oppin proclamation at the mercat croce of Edinburgh, and other places neidfull, and warne all prelatts, noblemen, Commissioners for barrones and burghs, and all others haveing place, voit, or owing attendance in the said supreame Court of parliament, to attend and wait vpon the same, the forsaid day, with continuation of dayes, and to performe all and sindrie such other things as to ther places and offices doe apperteane: And for doeing the premisses, these our letters shalbe vnto yow and everie of yow from tyme to tyme a sufficient warrand and discharge in that behalff. So we bid yow farewell from our Court at Whythall.—18 March 1631.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—Haveing gevin Commission vnto our right, &c. the Marqueis of Hamilton for the levy of 6000 men within that our kingdome, and sieing that the speidie doeing therof doeth highlie concerne ws and our freinds abroad, and that the seasone doeth now approache for their transportation: Our pleasur is, that yow vnanimouslie concure by all possible and lawfull meanes to vse your best endeavours to that purpois; wherin as yow shall doe vnto ws most acceptable service, soe we will not be vnmyndfull of your affection and panes takin therin.—Whythall, 21 March 1931.

A presentation was signed this day in favours of Mr Henrie Wilkie to the kirk of Portsnook, vacand in his Ma^{teia} handis by the dimission of Mr John Wilkie, minister of the said kirk.—Whythall, 24 March 1631.

These give a Licence to Andro Haig, his heyres, assigneyes, and partiners, for the space of 21 yeires, to mak prinnes, Needles, and to draw wyre within Scotland, without restrayneing the Merchands to bring in the lyk commodites, prohibiteing all others to mak them without ther licence, vnder the pane of confiscation, the ane halff to your Ma^{tie}, and the other to the patentees. They are to sell them at the rates now accustomed. They are to putt ther works in practeis for the public good in 3 yeires, otherwyse these to be null.—Whythall, March 1631.

These ratifie the Letters, Act, decreit, and ratification therin conteynit, gevin by the present provest, bailleis, deane of guild, thesaurer, and remanent counsellours and deacons of Crafts of Edinburgh, in favours of the deacon brethren, burges, and friemen of the skynners within that burgh, for keeping good ordour amongst them of that trade.—[No date.]

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—Being informed of the sufficiencie of our right, &c. Johne, bischop of the Yles, and of his affectioun to our service we ar moved in regard theref, and for the better encouragment and enabling for our said service to advance and promove him to be one of our privie Counsall of that our kingdome: Therfoir our pleasur is, and wee doe heirby requyre yow that haveing administred vnto him the oath accustomed in the lyk caces yow admitt him to be one of your number; for doeing wheref, &c.—Whythall, 24 March 1631.

TO THE CHANCELLOUR.

Right, &c.—Being informed by the reverend father in God, the Bischop of the Ylls, of your forwardnes in our service tuitching the restoreing of the decayed estate of that bischoprik, for which we give yow hartie thanks, we ar now pleased that yow continew as yow have begun by vicing your best endeavours to that purpois, in so far as the disposition of your bodie and conveniencie of your charge from ws will permitt, and to that effect that yow deall with the persones possessing the temporale esteat therof to submitt vnto ws as others have done in the lyk caces, otherwyse if they will not condescend thervnto we remitt vnto your consideratioun if we may not proceid aganst them by any legall course whatsoever, or by withholding from them heirefter the ordinarie favour granted by ws to others, our subjects, in passing the rights and confirmatiouns, or any other benefite concerneing them that may flow from our gift, wherin efter yow have advysed what is fitt for ws to doe, and conferred with our Advocat in poynt of Law (to whom we have writtin to that purpois), returne your opinion to ws vnder both your handis that therefter we may give such speedie ordour for restoreing of that estate as we shall find just caus: And further, our pleasur is, that ye represent vnto our Counsall the necessitie of reparatioun of Churches and planting of Scools in the said Yles, and that yow consider of the best expedient how that course may be best effectuated, and therefter caus putt in practeis what by yow can be most convenientlie done to that purpois.—Whythall, 24 March 1631.

PRECEPT.

Wheras the Reverend father in God, Johne, bischope of the Yles, hath done vnto ws many good and acceptable services, both at home and abroad, wheref we have takin speciall notice therfor, and for diverse vther good and considerable causses moveing ws: Our pleasur is, that yow pay vnto him or his assigneyis the sowme of 300^{lib} stg. moncy yeirlie and termelie at Witsonday and mertimes; And that out of the first and readiest of our rents, dewteis, casualiteis, and other benefits whatsoever now due vnto ws, and which heirefter shal happin to be due and accress to ws in that our kingdome, the first payment of which sowme of 300^{lib} money forsaid, begining at the terme of Witsondey last, anno 1630, is to be made to him or them at Witsondey nixt now ensueing, and so furth to be continewed yeirlie and termelie till the temporall estate of the bischoprik of the Iles be fullie restored, or the said bischop otherwayes compitentlie provydit: And for his better securitic, Our further pleasur is, that yow caus registrat this precept in the books of Excheker to be a sufficient warrand, not onlie to yow and everie of yow whom from tyme to tyme it may concerne, bot lykwyse a warrant to the Auditours of Exchecker for the tyme to defease, and allow to yow and everie of yow the said yeirlie sowme in your yeirlie accompts: And for your so doeing, &c.—Whythall, 24 March 1631.

TO THE SESSION.

Right, &c.—Haveing writtin to our Chancellour to deall with the persones possessing the temporall estate of the bischoprik of the Yles to submitt vnto ws therin, as others have done in the lyk caces, vtherwyse to certifie ws of his opinion how far it is fitt to proceid aganst them ather in a legall course or by any other lawfull meanes whatsoever: And becaus the restoreing of that bischoprik doeth much import the good of our service and the mantinance of religion in these barbarous and remot pairts, Our pleasur is, till we be further resolved that in all actions intendit or to be intendit aganst the saids persones, yow be cairfull that Justice be administered with all expedition according to the lawes of that our kingdome, and that in all other actions concerneing him that shall cum befoir yow, yow tak the lyk diligence, least he should be distracted from his charge.—Whythall, 24 March 1631.

TO THE ADVOCAT.

Trustie, &c.—Haveing writtin to our trustie, &c. the Viscont of Duplin, our Chancellour, to deall vith the persones possessing the temporall esteat of the bischoprik of Yles, to submitt vnto ws as vthers hath done in the lyk caces, otherwyse to certific ws his opinion how far it is fitt to proceid aganst them ather in a legall course or by any vther lawfull meanes whatsoever: Our pleasur is, in regard of your charge from ws, and that the restoreing of that esteat doeth much concerne the good of our service, that (haveing heard at lenth what can be informed to that purpois by the reverend father in God, the bischop of the Yles) yow concure with our Chancellour by giveing him your best advyse in poynt of law for reduction of ther rights, that therefter, haveing your opinions therin vnder both your handis, we may give such further ordour tuitching the same as we shall find just caus: And in the mean tyme, till we be further resolved, Our farder pleasur is, that yow, without exception of any of the saids persons, insist to persew all actions alreadie intendit or to be intendit aganst them tuitching that purpois, and that ather in our name or in name of the said bischop, as may best subsist in law for the good of that cause, which we will tak as a speciall service done vnto ws.—Whythall, 24 March 1631.

TO THE SESSION.

Right, &c.—Wheras we ar informed that yow have pronunced your decrie tuitching that action depending befor yow concerneing the patronage of Duffus, but as yit doe delay to enroll it till our pleasure be known for our interesse, wherin we approve of your proceidings, that with administration of Justice yow have had so great a care of our right: Our pleasur is, that vulless yow think that we may therby be prejudged further then his submission can satisfie, and that it be necessarie that our title be first cleared with all convenient diligence, yow caus extract the same, that the reverend father in God, the bischop Murray, may have the full benefite therof: And in the meane tyme to whoseever the right of that patronage shalbe adjudged that his sone have the benefite of our presentatioun.—Whythall, 24 March 1631.

TO THE ADVOCAT.

Trustie, &c.—Being informed in the behalff of the reverend father in God the bischop of Ross that certane patronages belonging to that bischoprik ar by the Lord Balmeino variatie challenged befoir our Colledge of Justice to belong vato him; wherby sieing that both we and the said bischop may be prejudged, Our pleasur is, that in all actions intentit or to be intented aganst him tuitching that purpois, yow compeir for our interest, and give your best assistance in so far as yow can lawfullie doe.—Whythall, 24 March 1631.

TO THE SESSION.

Right, &c.—Wheras we ar informed that ther dependis befor yow ane action of Law betwixt the Laird of Hintsfeild and ane Margaret Kilpatrik, who in regard of hir distressed Estate, sex, and of hir being vnmaried, doeth in the caice of Orphanes beg for our princelle favour towards hir, in so far as the equitie of hir caus and extremitie of hir estate doe requyre, the consideration wherof have moved ws to recommend hir action vnto yow that schoe may have justice with all expedition.—Whythall, 24 March 1631.

TO THE ADVOCAT.

Trustie, &c.—Being informed in name and behalff of the reverend father in God the bischop of Dunkeld that certane charges belonging to that bischoprik ar by some persones vajustlie challenged befoir our Colledge of Justice to belong vato them; wherby sieing that both we and the bischop may be prejudged, Our pleasur is, that in all actions intendit or to be intendit aganst him tuitching that purpois yow compeir for our interest, and give him your best assistance in so far as yow can lawfullie doc.— Whythall, 24 March 1631.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—Wheras we wer pleased, at the desyre of the Colledge of Justice, to give way to the tyme of ther sitting, but being of late informed of some objections made aganst the same, and considering that this purpois is of that weight and consequence which require due advyse: Our pleasur is, that yow give ordour that they mak nothing in ther sitting but continew the accustomed course therof, and in the meane tyme that yow informes your selffis of the objections made aganst it; and efter yow have dewlie considered therof, that with all convenient diligence yow returns we your opinion tuitching the same, that we may give such further ordour therin as we shall find just caus.—Whythall, 25 March 1631.

These conteyne ane Commission of Counsell of Scotland, whairof 7 is the quorum, the Chancellour or President of Scotland being one of the sevin, and in ther absence the eldest Counsellour, to whome your Matter committies the whole administration and governement of your Materia said kingdome in as ample power and authoritie as hath bene heirtofoir in any tyme bygane; with this provision alwise, that the sampue shall not be prejudiciall to the Commission of Excheker; and that in matters of great importance the Chancellour sie that the Counsell be more frequent, and if any being advertised absents themselffs, they are to be censured by the table; and thir presents to be ane sufficient warrand for the great seall.—Whythall, 25 March 1631.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—Haveing bene moved by our right, &c. the Lord Rae in the name of the King of Suaden for transporting some forces from that our kingdome for his better supplie in the warres, wherin he at this tyme is engadged: Our pleasur is, that yow grant vnto the said Lord, or to any other whom he shall appoynt, a Commission with a sufficient warrant to levy and transport 2000 men for the purpois abone-said, with as large priviledges as any generall, Colonell, or Commander hath had heirtofoir in the lyk kynd, he alwyse geving satisfaction to everie ane of the said number as shalbe agried vpon betwixt him and them according to the custome in the lyk cases; ffor doeing wheref, &c.—Grenwitch, 5 May 1631.

TO THE EXCHEQUER.

Right, &c.—Being informed of the prejudice sustened by ws in our rents and casualite of that our kingdome by granting of assignements thervnto, wher it wer more expedient that the assigney is should have recourse to the payments of our Exchequer: Our pleasur is, and we doe heirby will and require yow to suffer no such assignements to pass at any tyme heirefter: And that yow endeavour to reduce in a fair and legall maner such as ar alreadic past.—Grenwich, 5 May 1631.

TO THE COMMISSIONERS OF THE MIDLSCHYRES.

Right, &c.—Being crediblic informed of the sufficiencie of Andro, Lord of Jedwart, and of his affection to our service, and with all that it is fitt for the good therof to adjoyne him to your number as one weill acquanted with the estate of these parts, wherin for the sieing of our peace preserved we have appoynted yow our Commissioners: Our pleasur is, and we doe herby requyre yow to admitt him to be one of your number according to the forme accustomed in the lyk cases: And for your see doing, &c.—Grenwich, 5 of May 1631.

TO THE EXCHEQUER.

Right, &c.—Wheras we have bene informed that the Landis of Eister Stanelie and Thornelie wer resigned in our hands by Johne Maxwell, some tyme heretable proprietar therof (who held them of the Prince and Stewart of that our ancient and native kingdome), in favours of Lord and Lady Ross, and that ther was a signature of the samyne past and componed by yow in ther favours befor the birth of our dearest sone the prince, which as yitt is not putt vnder our sealls, wherby it is necessarie that the samyne be renewed and past over agane, and our said dearest sone, the prince's name, insert therin as superiour therof: Therfor we as administratour vnto him authorise yow to renew and expeed the same for the former composition agreid vpon of befor: And for your soe doeing these presents shalbe vnto yow a speciall warrant.—Grenwich, 5 May 1631.

TO THE ADVOCAT.

Trustie, &c.—Being willing to renew the Commission of our Exchequer in such forme as is fund most requisit for the good of our service: Our pleasur is, that yow draw vp a Commission therof according to the inclosed Articles, and haveing docated the same, that yow delyver it to be sent vnto ws by our right, &c. the Lord Traquair, our deputic thesaurer: And for your so docing, &c.—Grenwich, 5 May 1631.

TO THE THESAURER.

Right, &c.—Wheras we ar informed that ther ar diverse vnnecessarie feyis and pensions wherwith that Exchequer of that our kingdome is burdened, wherby (besydis the inconvenients that may aryse vnto the estate theref) our owin vrgent necessarie affaires can hardlie often tymes be so effectuat as is requisit for the good of our service, wherin desyreing that a due consideration may be had, our pleasur is, that yow call vnto yow, our Thesaurer deputic, and such of the Commissioners of our Exchequer as yow think fitt, and that yow and they consider of the burden theref and what yow think vnnecessaric, and what payments may be vpon some considerations, and for some tyme be discontinewed; and therefter that yow report vnto we your opinions tuitching the same, that we may give such further ordour as we think fitt; and for your so doeing, &c.—Grenwich, 5 May 1631.

TO THE EXCHEQUER.

Right, &c.—Wheras we ar informed that the schirrefschip of Murray (being ane heretable office and falling in the hands of a minor) is comprysed for some small sowmes of money: As we doe verie much dislyk of the course intended therin by Robert Dumbar of Burgie, so we doe commend your care in not giveing way to the confirmeing of his assignement thervnto, and least Justice in executioun of that office be frustrated, we requyre yow to caus our thesaurer or deputie-thesaurer to deale with the said Rot Dumbar of Burgie for his right, which being establisched vpon ws, and the minor secured vpon repayment of what shalbe fund due vnto ws at his perfyte aige in a reasonable satisfaction to be condescended vpon betweene ws and him for his heretabill title, we recommend vnto yow that a sufficient and liable man may discharge that office vntill our further pleasur be known: And if the said Robert shall refuis to deale heirin, that yow certific ws therof that we may give such further ordour tuitching him and that bussines as we shall find just caus.—Grenwich, 5 May 1631.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—Wheras ane humble complant hath bene made vnto ws in behalff of diverse our subjectis within the schirrefdome of Forfar, that notwithstanding of tuo severall decreits gevin by yow for the Schirreff of Forfar his holding Courts at the burgh of Forfar, and the shirreff-clerk his resideing ther, as the most commodious pairt of the schyre for that purpois, it being seated, as we ar informed, about the middle therof, and the place ancientlic accustomed for holding of shirreff Courts; yit the present shirreff doe hold his Courts at Dundie, which, as we ar lykwyse informed, is seated in a corner of that schyre, wherby our subjects who most attend at these Courts did suffer great hurt, contrair to our royall intention: Sieing yow have proceidit so far as to pronunce your decrie heirin, and that we have not heard from yow, nor otherwayes any persone, why it should not have bene obeyed, We will not that any of our subjects contemne nor neglect that authoritie yow have from ws: Our pleasur is, that yow tak a course that the said shirreff, and all others bearing the lyk charge, heirefter hold ther Courts at the said brugh of Forfar, according to your said decrees and the ancient custome and liberteis granted, as we ar informed, to the head brugh of everie schyre,—Grenwich, 5 May 1631.

TO THE ADVOCAT.

Trustic, &c.—The publict affaires of that our kingdome requyreing at some tymes that publict Commissiones be gevin by ws for advanceing our service ther, wherin, and speciallie in the Commission of our Exchequer, to be drawn vp by yow at this tyme, least any mistakings should be ather to prejudge, hinder, or alter any thing tuitching the generall course takin by ws concerneing the submission made vnto ws of tythes and other things therin mentionat, and our decrie following thervpon; we have bene pleased to confer therin with our right, &c. the Erle of Monteith, president of our Privic Counsall, to whome we have at lenth imparted our pleasur concerneing the same: Therfor we requyre yow (till by his letter he acquant yow more particularlie with our mynd heirin) that yow be carefull in the meane tyme that nothing be done therin any wayes to prejudge, hinder, or alter the said generall course and Commission of surranders, as yow will be answerable vnto ws: So, &c.—Grenwich, 6 May 1631.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—We wer pleased of late to wryt vnto yow that nothing be changed tuitching the sitting of our Colledge of Justice till our further pleasur wer signified therin: Bot now, haveing takin into our princelic consideration that though some materiall groundis might be proposeit for altering theref, yit we would doe it so consideratile and by such advyse as so grave a matter and of such consequence doeth requyre: Therfor our pleasur is, that yow give speciall Ordour that no innovation be made therin till a parliament or generall convention of our Estats he called by ws, wherin, amongst other thingis concerning the publict good, that purpois may be resolved vpon and ordered as by them shall be fund most expedient.—Grenwitch, 6 May 1631.

To the Session.

Right, &c.—Wheras it is expedient for the good of our service that our Thesaurer or deputie Thesaurer be present at all such processes in Law wherin we are a pairtie, in regard of their charge from ws: Our pleasur is, that heirefter nothing be heard nor concluded in any such processes or action without our said Thesaurer, or, in his absence, the deputie-Thesaurer, be present: Which speciallie recommending vnto your care, we bid, &c.—Grenwich, 7 May 1631.

[Not addressed.]

Right, &c.—Wheras we ar informed that our trustie and weilbeloved Thomas Thomesone of Dudingstoun hath signed the submission made vnto ws, and, according to our decrie, hath bought his owin tythes, being lyable to the payment of the annuitie due vnto ws out of the same: And wheras he feareth least, efter so great panes and charges takin by him in setling the estate of his tythes according to the ordour prescryved, the patronage of that kirk belonging vnto ws should be granted to any persone whoseover; wherby to prejudge him in his right, who holdeth his landis immediathe of ws, Our pleasur is, that no such right of that patronage be granted from ws to any whoseover, and that in anything tending to the secureing of him to the tythes so purchased by him, yow give him all the favour in the speedie passing therof that yow can lawfullie grant vnto him: So we bid, &c.—Grenwich, 7 May 1631.

TO THE EXCHEQUER.

Right, &c.—Wheras we ar informed that our right, &c. the Lord Traquair and his predicessours ar, and hath bene, heretable patrones of the Churche of Bedroule, and taksmen and possessours of the tythes theref, past memorie of man, as also have bene kyndlie taksmen of the viccarage tythes of Innerleithen, and yit have a great many yeires to run of ther last taks, wherby the benefite arysing of the pryces of these tythes doe justlie belong vnto him: And we being willing to contribute to his good and advantage, so far as is agreeable with the course of our decree, Our pleasur is, that the saids tythes being lyable to the payment of our annuitie, vpon reservation of a compitent stipend and mantinance to the ministers serveing the cure at the saids kirks, and ther successours, that ther be ane act made in his favours warranting him to dispose vnto the inheritours the aforsaid whole tythes of the parochin of Bedroule and Viccarage tythes of Innerleithen, and that the whole pryces therof, without diminution, be converted to his owin vse.—Grenwich, 7 May 1631.

These, conteneing your Ma^{teis} Ratification of ane assignement made by Sir James Scott to David Beaton and his wyff of the fermes, few-maills, and others dewteis of Kingsbarnes, assigned to them of new in yeirlie pension dureing ther lyftymes, and the longest leiver of them, in the saids fermes and dewteis, ther first entrie to be this yeir.—Grenwitch, 17 May 1631.

These conteyne a Ratification of the toun of Kinrochen in a burgh of baronie, with ane Erection thairof of new, in favours of the Erle of Morton, your Ma^{teis} Thesaurer, with the priviledges and liberteis belonging to a burgh of baronie, and speciallie with libertie of tuo yeirlie frie fayres within the same, and of a weiklie mercat, to be holdin vpon . . . and of all customes and casualities belonging therto: In the moneth of Junij, the mercat to be holdin.—Grenewitch, 25 of May 1631.

To the Archbischop of St Androis.

Right, &c.—Wheras we did some tuo yeres agoe signe a presentatioun send vp vnto ws vnder your hand for the Church of Pencatland in favours of Mr Ritchard Broun, and since that sieing your hand to ane other presentatioun of Mr Johne Oswaldis, we signed that lykwyse: Bot being informed that this presentation was for that church which we formerlie gave to Mr Ritchard Broun, though not then voyd as we conceaved: We have therfor signed a thrid presentatioun in behalff of the said Mr Ritchard, and hearing that ther is lyk to be a sute in Law betuixt the saidis pairteis concerneing a right to the same, whereof we no wyse lyk of, sieing our intention was onlie that the said Mr Ritchard should have it, and the rather becaus we could nowyse doubt bot he is weill qualified, his first presentatioun being vnder your hand: Therfor our pleasur is, that yow immediatlie give collation to the said Mr Ritchard, and that yow put him to present and peaciable possessioun therof without any further trouble at all, and that yow think of some other course for the accommodating of the said Mr Johne, with some other benefice: And with all that yow signific this our royall pleasur (if neid be) to any others to whome the consideratioun of the premisses may any wayes apperteane: And for your soe doeing, &c.—Grenwich, 25 May 1631.

TO THE SESSION.

Right, &c.—Wheras we ar informed that notwithstanding the rentall bolls ar within the full worth of the tythes of these landis where we ar titular, that if a tymelie and provident care be not had by adverting to the valuations there we may be thereby prejudged: Our pleasur is, that yow carefullie look vnto the same, that nothing be done therin to prejudge ws: And in the meane tyme that yow vse your best endeavours for furthring the generall course of the valuations.—Grenwich, 25 May 1631.

TO THE EXCHEQUER.

Right, &c.—Being informed that the signature of our servand James Maxwell, which we have sent yow heirwith doeth differ nothing from the securitie of the persones from whom he doeth purches the lands mentioned therin, save onlie that we doe licence of new to erect the toun of Dirlton, in a brugh of baronie: Our pleasur is, that yow pervse the same, and if yow find what is affirmed to be trew, and that nothing therin doeth prejudge ws, that with all convenient diligence yow pass and cause expected it according to the tenour therof; and for your see doeing, &c.—26 May 1631.

Our Soveraigne Lord haveing taken speciall notice of the good and faythfull services alreadie done to his Matic by his right, &c. The Erle of Monteith, Lord Grhame of Kilpont, President of his Matic most honorabill privic Counsall of his kingdome of Scotland, both in the said place and all other occasions being employed by his Matic, and of his habilities and affection to continew in the same: Therfor his Matic ordanes a Letter to be made vader his highnes' great seall of the said kingdome, makand, constituteand, and ordeaneand his said, &c. William, Erle of Monteith, president of his heynes' said counsell, dureing all the dayes of his lyftyme, with full power to him to enjoy and Exerce the samyne, with all honour, liberteis, friedomes, and priviledges and digniteis belonging thervato: And lykwyse ordanes the said W^m, Erle of Monteith, president of his highnes' privic counsall, to have place and precedence nixt and immediatlic efter his highnes' Thesaurer principall of the said kingdome, in all places and at all tymes requisit heirefter: Ordaneing thir presents to the great seall and appending of the great seall and keeper thairof for wryting of thir presents to the great seall and appending of the great seall heirvanto, bot passing of any other sealls or registers whatsoever quharament these presents shalbe vato them a sufficient warrant, &c.—Grenewitch, 28 of May 1631.

To the Session.

Right, &c.—Being informed of diverse acts and statuts made for preventing all vnnecessarie delayes which our subjects might sustene in ther actions befoir yow, and of the great prejudice they receave thrugh the not putting of the same in executioun, and being desyreous for ther good that the same should be putt in practeis: Our pleasur is, that yow renew, and in ane Act of new, all such acts and statuts as wer made to this effect; for the doeing wherof these shalbe your warrant:

And considering lykwyse how the administratioun of Justice doeth necessarilie requyre your daylie attendance, and that besydis your extraordinarie paynes excessive charges ar requisit for the same, which your feyis being so little yow ar not able to vndergoe: And being willing to redress the same, Our pleasur is, that yow convene and consult amongst yourselffis of such overtures, wherby your feyis may be augmented with the least burden to ws, and that yow acquant ws with the same that we may give such further ordour as we shall find requisit.—Grenwich, 28 May 1631.

TO THE CHANCELLOUR.

Right, &c.—Wheras for severall good services done vnto our late dear father and ws by the Reverend father in God, Patrick, bischop of Ross, we wer pleased to grant vnto him the sowme of fyve thowsand pundis sterling, wherof as yit he hath receaved no part: And being desyreous, till a course be takin for his satisfaction according to our former warrant granted vnto him, or otherwyse as we shall find occasion, that he might deteyne in his handis such moneyis of our taxatiouns last granted vnto ws as wer payable by him vnto yow as our Collectour generall theref, We ar heirby pleased that yow allow vnto him whatsoever is to be payed by him for his part of the saids taxatiouns in his owin handis taking his acquittance therefor:

And for your, &c.—[No date.]

To the Bischop of Aberdene.

Right, &c.—Wheras, vpon humble sute made vnto ws in behalff of Robert and Alexander Irwings and Thomas Meinzeis, that they may have libertie to trade in merchandice in that our kingdome of Scotland, and to setle some of ther necessar affaires, whereith they, in humble obedience of our lawis for ther sudden departing from thence, could not have tyme to tak ordour, and in all things else to be restraned in what is not ordinarlie allowed to any stranger repairing thither for trade, We have bene pleased to wryt vnto our Chancellour concerneing that purpois, and to grant them licence to setle the saids affaires and trade as strangers within our said kingdome, with a restriction that they doe nothing therin to hurt or derogat from the estate of the pesent professed religion: Therfor we have thoght it fit to recommend them vnto yow, that if they performs what is heirby provyded by we tuitching the religion, yow give way vnto them, in so far as may concerne the dispatch of ther lawfull affaires.—Grenwich, 28 May 1631.

TO THE CHANCELLOUR.

Right, &c.—Wheras humble sute hath bene made vnto ws that Rob⁴ and Alex⁷ Irwings and Thomas Meinzeis might have libertie to settle some of ther necessarie affaires within that our kingdome, wherwith they, in obedience of our Lawis for ther sudden departing from thence, could not have tyme to tak ordour, And in all things then to be restraned in what is not ordinarlie allowed to any stranger repairing thither for trade, without which, as we ar informed, they can not subsist: These considerations, joyned with that of ther losses sustened, as we ar lykwyse informed, by them in abandoning that kingdome and settling themselftis in Deep, in France, hath moved ws so far to give way vnto ther demandis as may not any wayes wrong and derogat from the estate of the present professed religion: Therfor we have thoght good to impart our pleasur heirin vnto yow, that, if neid be, yow may impart the same to our Counsall, that they may have a licence, without any trouble, to dispatch the said lawfull affaires, vnless just caus of complant be made vnto our said Counsall aganst them.—Grenwich, 28 May 1631.

WARRANT.

Wheras we have bene humblic petitioned in behalff of Robert and Alex* Irwings and Thomas Meinzeis that they may have such libertie to trade in that our kingdome as is granted to any stranger resorting thither; And the rather becaus that they, out of ane humble and due obedience to our lawis, did abandon our said kingdome, and have settled themselffis, wyffs, and famileis in Deep, in France, wher they, being reduced to great povertie, can hardlie live, as we ar crediblic informed, without they be licenced to repair to and fra that kingdome for dispatch of ther necessarie affaires of trade and merchandice, and in some things concerneing ther owin privat estate, wherwith they, in obedience to our said lawis, could not have tyme to tak ordour at ther departing from thence: These considerations, joyned with that of ther losses sustened, as we are lykwyse informed, by them, have moved in ws our princelic compassious so far to give way to ther demand as may not anywyse wrong and derogat from the estate of the present professed religion within the said kingdome, to which purpois we have signified our pleasur to our Counsell: These ar therfor to licence the saids Robert and Alex* Irwings and Thomas Meinzeis, dureing the space of sex monethis, to ordour ther affaires within the said kingdome, and to trade within the same from tyme to tyme as occasion shall requyre dureing the said space, they behaveing themselffis as aforsaid: Inhibiteing yow or any of yow from troubleing or molesting the saids persones or any of them at any tyme as aforsaid, or vpon any occasion, in dispatching of the saids affaires, as yow and everie of yow will answer ws in the contrarie at your perrills.—Grenwich, 28 May 1631.

To all and sindrie our Officers, servandis, and others our subjects whatsoever, as well ecclesiasticall as civil, of our kingdome of Scotland, whom these presents doe or may concerne.

Wheras for speciall good services done vnto our late dear father and ws by the reverend father in God Patrik, bischop of Ross, we wer pleased to grant vnto him the sowme of 5000^{lib} st., wherof as yit he hath received no part, Our will and pleasur is, that yow pay vnto him, or his assigneyis, the said sowme of 5000^{lib} with all possible diligence, and that out of the first and readiest of our rents, dewteis, annuiteis, last taxatiouns, granted vnto ws in the moneth of July last, and casualiteis whatsumever, now due vnto ws, and which heirefter shalhappin to accress and be due vnto ws in that our kingdome: And for your soe doeing these presents, with his or his forsaidis acquittance or acquittances vpon the recept therof, shalbe your sufficient warrant.—Grenewitch, 28 May 1631.

TO THE ADVOCAT.

Trustie, &c.—We have sent yow heirwith a signature presented to ws of some Landis belonging to the Erldome of Dumbar, to be granted in favours of our trustie and wellbeloved Sir Robert Dowglas of Spott, kny¹: And as we desyre to gratifie him, who hath bene our ancient and well deserveing servand, so desyreing lykwyse that none have just caus to compleyne of any wrong done with them, it is our pleasur that, haveing duelie considered of the same, yow draw vp such a signature in his favours of the saidis Landis as we can lawfullie grant without wronging our selff or any of our subjects, and that yow returne the same vnto ws docated vnder your hand; for doeing whair of these presents shalbe vnto yow a sufficient warrand.—From our Court at Grenewich, the 29 May 1631.

TO THE EXCHEQUER.

Right, &c.—Haveing bene moved vpon the inclosed petition that a consideration might be takin of the petitioner's charge in our service necessarlie requyreing (as we ar informed) his daylie attendance for the good therof, and for his long and great panes takin therin, both in the tyme of our late dear father and of our owin, without any compitent allowance anywayes fitt for the same: We ar heirby pleased to remitt the consideration of the said petition vnto yow, that such a course may be takin for his intertenement as yow shall find the necessitie of his imployment for the good of our said service to requyre: The maner and doeing therof we remitt to yow, and bid yow farewell.—Grenwich, last of May 1631.

TO THE SESSION.

Right, &c.—We ar informed that some persones holding of the Abbaeie of Kinloss, vnder cullour of the late course takin by ws tuitching erections and others things mentioned in the generall submissions, doe not pay vnto our right, &c. the Lord Bruce such dewteis as by them ar payable vnto him for some yeres preceiding that tyme, sieing our royall intention was not to question what did preceid that course, but to setle it heirefter according to our decrie gevin vpon the saids submissions made vnto ws, the said Lord being one who signed the same: We for these respects, and becaus that in regard of his residence within this our kingdome he cannot so convenientlie (as is requisit) attend the prosecuteing of any action in Law ther that doeth concerne him, Ar heirby gratiouslie pleased to recommend vnto yow that in all such processes and actions intented or to be intended befor yow at his instance against the saids Vassalls, no advantage may be takin against him be reasone of his submitting vnto ws or of any clame of ours to these bygane dewteis for any tymes preceiding his said submission, bot that such speedie justice may be administred therin as is agricable to the Lawis of that our kingdome.—Grenwich, last of May 1631.

TO THE CHANCELLOUR.

Right, &c.—We being moved in the behalff of the Widow of Sir Johne Livingstoun (a long and weill deserving servant of our late royall father) that in respect of hir widowhead and residence in this our kingdome, being a stranger to the lawis and customes ther, We would be pleased to recommend vnto our Colledge of Justice such actions of Law concerneing hir as doe or shall happin to cum befoir them; but being rather willing to impart our pleasur heirin to yow then to the bodie of that Juicatorie, Our pleasur is, that yow tak speciall notice of what doeth concerne hir in any purpois, and that therin yow be carefull to sie justice administred with as much diligence as the equitie of the cause and the Lawis of that our kingdome will permitt.—Grenwich, last of May 1631.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—We perceave by your letter that yow have rescindit your Act made aganst the decrie obtenit by our brugh of Edinburgh aganst some Inhabitants in Leith, except in so far as concerneth the girnalling of victuall, and as yow have desyred by your letter, haveing duelie considered the declaration made to our session insert in the said decreit, That notwithstanding of the said decreit, it should be lawfull to any nobleman, gentlman, or others our subjects, to girnall victuall ther, except the Inhabitants of Leith; And that our said brugh doe not clame any other priviledge then by the lawis of our kingdome is allowed and warranted by former decreits: It is our pleasur that if our said brugh shall ratifie the said declaration conteynit in the said decreit made in favouris of our nobilitie, gentric, and others expressed in the same befoir yow, that yow, without any further delay, annull the said Act in so far as concerneth the said girnelling of victuall also, and leave the Execution of the said decreit to our said brugh ay and whill the samyne be lawfullie reduced befor the Judge ordiner.—Grenwich, 5 of Junij 1631.

TO THE EXCHEQUER.

Right, &c.—Wheras our late dear father was pleased to signe a signature of 500 merks Scotts by yeir vnto our right, &c. the Viscont of Stormonth, to be vplifted by him out of the readiest blensh dewteis of Scone, the passing wherof through the sealls being hitherto differed, and earnest sute now being made vnto ws in his behalff that we would signe the same: As we ar vnwilling to retene anything which our father did bestow vpon any deserveing servant, so we desyre to know the caus of the not passing thairof at that tyme: Therfor our pleasur is, that yow informe yourselff, as far as yow can, of the reasones thairof, and adverteise ws of the same, that we may give such farther ordour as we shall find most convenient: So we bid, &c.—Grenwich, 9 Junij 1631.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—Wheras we have bene moved vpon the enclosed petition for giveing way to erect Lights vpon the Skairheads as a purpois expedient for the preventing of schipwraks therabout, wherin respecting the saftie and good of our subjects we ar heirby pleased to remitt the consideration of the petition vnto yow, that haveing pervsed the same and hearkned to what may be further proponed to yow tuitching that purpois, yow may resolve, if there he any expediencie for erecting of these Lights, and of the meanes and wayes to keip the same; And if yow find it necessarie and a willingnes of such of our subjects as ar most interested therin, to pay such a dewtie to the same as yow and they can best condescend vpon that a patent be drawen vp for our signature heir, or to pass our cachet there as they shall think fitt for the petitioner, and that for such number of yeres for such a dewtie to be imposed according to the schipp's burden and other limitations and provisions as yow shall think fitt to prescrive to the good of our kingdome and saiftie of our subjects.—Grenwitch, 9 Junij 1631.

TO THE COUNSELL

Right, &c.—Vnderstanding perfectlie of the sufficiencie of our trustie and weilbeloved Sir Rot Dowglas, knyt, and of the affection to our service, we are moved in regard thairof, and for his better encouragment and enabling for our said service to advance and promove him to be one of our privite Counsall of that our kingdom: Therfor our pleasur is, and we doe heirby requyre yow, that haveing administred vnto him the oath accustomed in the lyk caices, yow admitt him to be one of our privite Counsall, receaving him in that place as one of your number; for doeing whairof, &c.—Grenwich, 9 Junij 1631.

Ane other Letter of the same nature was signed for Sir Rot Ker.—9 Junij 1631.

TO THE ADVOCAT.

Trustie, &c.—Vnderstanding that ther is a contraversic concerning the title of the Erledome of Lothian and Lordschip of Newbotle, and we being verie vnwilling that any should usurp the said title till such at it may be made knowen vnto ws how the estate therof standeth in Law, and to whome it doeth justlie belong: Our pleasur is, that yow informe yourselff thairoff, and that with all convenient diligence yow certifie ws bak as near in your judgment yow [can] to whome the said title doeth justlie belong, and what in justice we ar bund to doe to the right and lawfull heyr therin: Which recommending to your care, We bid, &c.—Grenwich, 9 Junij 1631.

TO THE ADVOCAT.

Trustic, &c.—Wheras by our gift we did appoint a certane sowme to be payed furth of our Exchequer ther to the Musitianes of our Chapell royall for their mantenance yeirlie till such tyme as the rents of the old foundation of our said chappell should be establisched; And sieing as we ar informed the sowme appointed by our said gift is not sufficient to manteane such a number in any compitencie as our servandis, Therfor and for their better mantenance and disburdening of our Exchequer of the said yeirlie sowme, we ar verie willing that our said Chapell royall and musitianes thereof be establisched in the old rents and casualiteis alloted therto at or since the foundation therof, according to its owin rights and lawis and practique of our said kingdome: Our pleasur is, that in all actions intented or to be intended at the instance of the deane of our said chappell or of our servand Edward Kellie, tuitching that purpois, yow competr for our intrest and give them your best assistance aganst any persone whatsoever in so far as yow can lawfullie doe, which we will tak as acceptable service done vnto ws.—Grenwich, 9 Junii 1631.

TO THE EXCHEQUER.

Right, &c.—Wheras we appoynted our servand Edward Kellie for the Ordouring of our Chapell royall, and being crediblie informed that he hath weill furnisched it with ane expert Organist, singeing men, and boyes, and other thingis therto belonging, wherof we doe heirby approve as good service; and being lykwyse informed that the said Organist and six boyes hath bene since the 24 Oct[†] last, and ar as yit, manteaned at the onlie charge of our said servand, We being vnwilling that he should anywyse suffer for his service done vnto ws, Our pleasur is, and we doe herby will and requyre yow, that with all convenient diligence yow receave his accompts of his disbursments for the mantenance of the said Organist and boyes since the said 24 Octo[†] last, and accordinglie that yow mak payment vnto him, his heyres or assigneyis therof, and of the arreiris of his former accompts allowed by yow preceiding the said day, and that some course be takin wherby he may be disburdened of the lyk charge in all tyme coming.—Grenwitch, 9 Junij 1631.

To the Session.

Right, &c.—Wheras our right, &c. the Marquis of Hamilton is for our service to goe furth of our dominions, Our will and pleasur is, that in all and everie action comeing befor yow wherin our trustic cousen shalbe anywyse called, that yow delay the same and doe not proceid therinto without first acquanting ws, or vntill the conveniencie of our service suffer his returne and he able to answer for himself; ffor the which these presents shalbe your warrant.—Grenwitch, 9 Junij 1631.

TO THE EXCHEQUER.

Right, &c.—Wheras we ar pleased with the bargane made betwixt our Right, &c. James, Marqueis of Hamilton, Erle of Arran and Cambridge, &c., and William Dick, merchand, burges of Edinburgh, anent the disposition of the Imposts of Wynes, Our will and pleasur is, and we doe heirby will yow, by acts of your table or otherwyse, as W^m Dick shall devyse, to give all further corroboratioun, ratificatioun, and approbation of the said bargane, declareing the forsaid disposition made by our said right trest Cousen to be as good and valide in all respects as if the same had bene made immediatlie by ws to the said William Dick with your consents, and that for the whole space and conditions therin conteyned: And that yow command the said disposition to be registrat in your books of Excheker, and ordeanes allowances yeirlie to be gevin to the said W^m Dick, conforme to the tenour therof: And for the soe doing these presents we will to be registrat, which shalbe vnto yow and everie of yow a sufficient warrand.—Grenwitch, 9 Junij 1631.

TO THE VISCOUNT OF STORMONT.

Right, &c.—Being informed of diverse inconveniences often tymes arysing vnto our subjects who have occasion in the winter seasone to cross the watter of Quigh, being the ordinarie passage betweene our burgh of Edinburgh and Perth, and that ther be diverse old and failled wood in our park of Falkland neir adjacent to the saids watters, which might be both convenientlie spared and exceidinglie vsefull for making of small tymber passages over the same: Our pleasur is, that with all convenient diligence yow caus delyver for that vse eight of the most decayed and greatest treis of our said park; And for your, &c.—Grenwitch, 9 Junij 1631.

TO THE ADVOCAT.

Trustic, &c.—Haveing writtin vnto our Counsall that they caus justice be execute vpon all such persones as have had hand in the cruell murther of William Grhame, brother of our trustic and weilbeloved servand Sir Ritchert Grhame, kny^t baronet, Our speciall pleasur is, that ye in our name persew the saids malefactours, according to the lawis of that our kingdome, and to that effect that yow informe your selffe from the pairtic interested, or any in ther name, of the estate and circumstances of that fact; which speciallic recommending vnto yow, we bid, &c.—Grenwitch, 14 Junij 1631.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—Being informed of the cruell slaughter of Williame Grhame, brother to our trustie, &c.

Sir Ritcherd Grhame, knyt and baronet, committed by some of the Irwings in the bordours of that our kingdome, which we seriouslie requyr to be tryed and exemplarlie punisched with all possible diligence according to the Lawis of that our kingdome: Our speciall pleasur is, that yow sie justice execute vpon all such persones as shalbe fund to have ane hand in this murther or anywyse accessorie thervnto, and to that effect, if vpoun citation they doe not appear, that yow grant such Commissiones as the pairteis interests shall lawfullie require for the more speedie apprehension of the malefactours; which speciallie recommending vnto your care, we bid, &c.—Grenwitch, 14 Junij 1631.

TO THE SESSION.

Right, &c.—Being informed that ane Patrik Crawfurd of Auchnames haveing sued for the benefite of the ward of mariage of John Crawfurd of Kilbirnic, in regaird a small parcell of his estate which was holdin ward of him, though all the rest be holdin ward of the principalitie, and that the Commissioners of our Excheker for preventing such a vigorous course did grant for the vse of the said John the gift of the others lyfrent and escheit, being yeir and day at the horne, and have modified vnto him for the said ward a reasonable sowme of money wherof he will not accept, bot will insist by Law to tak the extreamest course aganst the said Johne, wherin, as we approve of the proceiding and gift granted by our said Exchequer, so we recommend vnto yow that in all actions alreadie intended or to cum befor yow by reasone of the said gift, yow administer justice with as good diligence as the course of these our Lawis can affoord; Which commending, &c.—Grenwitch, 14 Junij 1631.

TO THE BISCHOP OF THE YLES.

Reverend father, &c.—Wheras we have sent our Secretarie, the bearer heirof, to that our kingdome to attend that treatic concerncing the Clergic, whereof we wryt formerlie by yow: These are to desyre yow to have a care in so far as your endeavours can extend, to sie all things in that treatic composed in a freindlie and quyet maner; and for your furtherance in all other things which he shall impart vnto yow from ws, as yow will have we to remember that which we promised vnto yow; And so referring all further to him, We bid yow farewell.—Grenwitch, 14 Junij 1631.

TO THE BISCHOP OF ROSSE.

Reverend, &c.—Wheras we have send our Secretarie, the bearer heirof, to that our kingdome, to attend that treatie concerning the Clergie, wherof we wryt formerlie by the Bischop of the Yles, haveing the prooff of your affection formerlie to our service: These are to recommend it both in composeing all things in that treatie in a freindlie and quyet maner, And in all uther things which he shall impart vnto yow from ws; And so referring all further vnto him, we bid, &c.—Grenwitch, 14 Junij 1631.

TO THE ARCH BISHOP OF ST ANDROIS.

Right, &c.—According as we wryt vnto yow formerlie, we have sent our Secretarie to sie that treattie putt to a poynt: Bot though we ar veric confident that all your number ar well disposed in any thing that doeth concerne our service, yit we doe rely more particularlie vpon your endeavours, and therfor doe earnestlie desyre yow to have a speciall care to have all the bussines concerneing the Clergie composed in a freindlie and quyet maner; and lykwyse that yow give your best ayd and advyse in any other thing ther unitching our service at this tyme, whervpon We have desyred our Secretar, the bearer heirof, to confer with yow as one whome we speciallie trust, and be assured that as we doe speciallic expect your service at this tyme, so we will particularlie acknowledge the same.—Grenwitch, 14 Junij 1631.

TO THE COMMISSIONERS FOR VALUATIONS.

Right, &c.—As we have sindrie tymes done heirtofoir, so these ar now agane to requyre yow to continew and encrease your care for hastening of that work to ane end which is committed to your charge, and above all things to vae your best meanes that the valuations may be justlie made; for doeing wherof we ar willing to contribute what yow think can lawfullie proceed from we for that effect: That this Commission might be the more assiduouslie prosecuted we wer pleased heirtofoir that a sub-committee might be made to sitt daylie when the whole Commission might not attend, bot noway intending therby that the great Commissioum might intermitt ther ordinarie attendance, bot only that they should still continew to sitt efter ther ordinarie maner, these sub-committies being onlie to supplie them for bringing of the said work the sooner to ane end, which course we doe approve still; and recommending the prosecuteing therof to your care, We bid yow farewell.—Grenwitch, 14 Junij 1631.

TO THE ARCHIBISCHOPS AND BISCHOPS.

Right, &c.—Wheras we have caused revewe and imprint the translation of the Psalmes of King David in English meeter, wherof our late dear father was author; And have allowed them to be sung in all the churches of our dominions, as being, besyd the goodnes of the work itselff, a perpetuall monument to his memorie, it is our pleasur that yow vse your best meanes to have them received in schoolis, and to be sung in all the churches within that our kingdome: And being verie confident that both your love to the work and to the author's memorie will mak yow the more carefull heirof, We bid, &c.—Grenewitch, 14 Junij 1631.

TO THE CHANCELLOUR.

Right, &c.—Wheras we have sent our trustie, &c. Sir W^m Alexander, kny^t, our Secretarie in that our kingdome, for sindrie thingis concerneing our service, chieflie for the fisching and treattie with the bischops, wherin he is to confer with yow at lenth from we efter yow considered togidder what is best to be done in both for our service, we doubt not bot yow will vse your best endeavours for effectuating of the same: And as we have ever fund the great care yow have had to doe we service we expect it cheiflie at this tyme, which we shall acknowledge as yow shall find by the effects: So we bid, &c.—Grenwich, 14 Junij 1631.

To the Burrowis.

Trustie, &c.—As we have ever fund your affection and best endeavours in all things that wer recommend vnto yow for the furthring of our service, we cannot bot be confident of it at this tyme that yow will vse your best meanes for furthring this association for a generall fisching, whervnto we know ye may contribute more then any of our esteats, and be assured that as ever we have had, so we still will have a care to preserve your liberteis whairvnto this work is nowayes derogatorie, bot may tend much to your advantage and to the honour of that our ancient kingdome: And for your more particular information heirin remitting yow to Mr Johne Hay, we bid yow farewell.—Grenwiche, 14 Junij 1631.

TO THE ADVOCAT.

Trustie, &c.—The Commissioners for the fisching bussines haveing condescendit vpoun the foundamentall poynts of the Chartours to be drawin for the establishing of that association, according to the severall draughts of our Secretareis for both kingdomes sent yow heirwith: And becaus that purpois is of such consequence that we our selff have a speciall care to have it both speedelie and weill effected, Our pleasur is that, haveing considered the draughts, yow draw a chartour thervpon in such legall maner as is most agricable with the lawis of our kingdome, in your doing wherof let no consideration nor poynt of formalitie bred any delay or hinderance; wherin yow shall doe we acceptable service.—14 Junij 1631.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—Wheras we have gevin ordour to our Thesaurer and Thesaurer depute for causing coyne some farthing tokens, such in weight and quantitie as current in this our kingdome, which we will to cary . . . vpoun the one syd, and . . . vpon the other: It is our pleasur that yow give ordour by proclamation, as is usuall in the lyk caces, for receaveing of them, and for calling in of the copper money called Turnbores, they allwyse who bring them receaving from the Master of our mynt the value of such quantitie as they delyver payed bak in the said new coyne, that they may be no losers therby, and that yow contribute any other help or give any further warrand requisite from yow for furthering heirof.— Grenwich, 14 Junij 1631.

TO THE SESSION.

Right, &c.—We ar crediblie informed that ther be some actions of Law depending and may cum befor yow which concerne our right, &c. the Erle of Murray, who, for affaires speciallie importing for the good and quyet of that our kingdome, hath repaired to our Court, as we ar willing that Justice be not prostrat be any delay, so we think it just and requisit that he receive no prejudice by his absence, but that he be heard by his owin presens in what may concerne him, since he intendis to mak no advantage be his stay heir, but to returne with alse much diligence as the estate of our service can convenientlie permitt him; and therfor we ar heirby pleased to recommend vnto yow that for the space of this sommer sessione yow doe not admitt nor give proces in any action befor yow concerneing him: Which recommending to your care, we, &c.—Grenwich, 20 Junij 1631.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—We wer pleased some years agoe, vpon a proposition made by Robert Seaton for improveing of our Gold Mynes, and the hope gevin ws of a manifest incresce of our revenewis, therby to will and requyre yow to assigne to him some allowance yeirlie for the enabling him the better towards the performance, yit so as the same should continew dureing our pleasur onlie, and that he should to that purpois and vpon certane conditions transact with him; bot being now informed that he does bot delay in the bussines, or otherwayes is vnable to mak good his vndertaking, or make the benefite equivalent to his charge, we therfor have thoght fitt to will and requyre yow to try and consider of the premisses, that if the information be trew, yow stop the said assignation, that we be not longer deceaved with such frivolous vndertakings, wherin the charge is greater and more certane than the benefite; wherin not doubting of your care and diligence, &c.—Grenwich, 23 Junij 1631.

By Sir James Galloway.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—Wheras we have bene pleased to grant warrants to our right trustie, &c. the Marqueis of Hamilton for levyeing and transporting some regiments for the service of our brother the king of Sueden, And being verie desyreous that yow would vse your best meanes for this effect by any lawfull and convenient furtherence that yow can devyse for ther quick dispatch, or that shalbe propounded to yow by the Colonells of the saidis Regiments for waighting them safelie over from thence, Our pleasur is, that with all diligence yow caus provyd schips at such reasonable rates as yow, or commissioners from yow to this effect, can best agrie vpon, or as the custome hath bene in the lyk caces, for transporting of the saids forces; which seriouslie recommending vnto your care, as a purpois which we doe cheitlie respect, and wherin nor doubting bot that yow will vse your best and readiest endeavours.—Grenewitch, 25 Junij 1631.

TO THE ADMIRALL.

Right, &c.—Wheras we have bene pleased to grant warrants to our right trustie, &c. the Marqueis of Hamilton for levyeing and transporting some Regiments for the service of our brother the King of Sueden, and being verie desyreous that yow would vse your best endeavours, as we have writtin to our Counsell, that schipps be provydit with all possible diligence for transporting of the saidis forces from thence, and knowing how much yow, as Admirall, may contribute to the furthring of ther quick dispatch, Our pleasur is, and we heirby requyre yow to concurre with our Counsell, giveing your best ayd and furthrance that such a tymelic course may be takin for provydeing schips and sending away of the saidis forces, as by them and yow may be most convenientlic and lawfullic done, and efter what maner they and yow shall think most expedient that may work the desyred end with most conveniencie, &c.—Grenwich, 25 Junij 1631.

TO THE ADVOCAT.

Trustie, &c.—Wheras we have bene pleased to signe the Commission of our Exchequer which we required yow to send up vnto ws renewed in such forme as is fund requisit for the good of our service, and to send the sampne heirwith bak agane to be filled up by yow: Our pleasur is, that yow insert the names of all these who wer in the last Commission (save onlie of these noblemen whom we left out of our Counsell), or addit therto since by our letters.—Grenwitch, 25 Junij 1613.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—In regard of our resolution for levyeing and transporting some forces from that our kingdome for the better supplying of our brother the king of Sueden in the warris, wherin he at this tyme is engadged; and of the readines and constant affection of our trustic and weilbelovit servand Sir Frederick Hamilton, knyt, to our service in that kynd; Considering as well the action it selff, so full of honour, as the persone and familie of the vudertaker, which we have in speciall recommendation, Our pleasur is, that yow grant vnto the said Sir Frederik Hamilton, or to any other whom he shall appoynt, a Commission with a sufficient warrant to levye and transport tuelff hundreth of our subjects of that our kingdome for the purpois above said, with as large priviledges as any generall, Colonell, or Commander hath had heirtofoir in the lyk kynd, he alwyse giveing such satisfaction to everic ane of that number as shalbe agried vpon betweene him and them, And to that effect that yow authorize him to cause beat drumes: Our further pleasur is, that yow give such speedic ordour for causing provyde schippes for ther transportation at such reasonable rates as yow or Commissioners from yow to this effect can best agrie vpon, and lyk conditions as hath bene formerlie gevin to others, which seriouslie recommending vnto your care; and wherin not doubting bot yow will vse your best and readiest endeavours, we bid yow farewell.—from our maner at Grenwitch, last of Junij 1631.

PRECEPT.

Wheras by a Letter from our Exchecker we vnderstand that according to our direction they have examined all the accompts, debts, and disbursments clymed from ws by Sir James Stewart, knyt, and that they have agried with him that he should be fullie discherged of them all for the sowme of fyftene hundreth pundis sterling money to be gevin vnto him as full satisfaction for the same: Our pleasur is, and we heirby will and requyre yow, that vpon his surrender or discharge vnto ws of all these debts, accompts, and disbursments, yow pay or cause be payed vnto him or his assigneyis the said sowme of 1500^{lib} sterling, and that out of our readiest rents and casualiteis whatsoever, or which shall accress vnto ws heirefter in that our kingdome; and for your soe doeing these presents shalbe vnto yow and everie one of yow a sufficient warrant and discharge.—Grenwitch, last of Junij 1631.

TO THE THESAURER AND DEPUTIE,

Right, &c.—Wheras our late dear father did vpon good considerations grant a pensione of 500 merks be yeir vnto his servand Sir Peter Young, kny^t, and efter his deceis to any of his children whome he should appoynt; And being informed that he did nominat our trustic servand Sir Peter Young, knyt, to succeid to the same, as lykwyse that he hath received no part thereof since the deceis of his said father, These ar therfor to will and requyre yow that furthwith yow pay vnto the said Sir Peter the pension aforsaid, with the arrieris due for the tyme bypast; and for your soe doeing, &c.—Grenwich, last of Junij 1631.

TO THE EXCHEQUER.

Wheras we ar informed that one Christiana Lyndsay, the widow of one William Murray, by diverse occasions being reduced to great wants, is willing to surrender vnto ws a pension of 200^{lib}, with all the arreages resting due, and ane vther of 4 Chabders of victuall, for a certane sowme to be gevin vnto hir for hir releiff of hir present necessiteis; and being desyreous as weill, in consideration of the service done by hir husband vnto our late royall father, as for disburdeneing of our Exchecquer, that some course may be takin, our pleasur is that yow deale with hir for the same, and that yow agrie with hir for such a competent sowme as yow in your judgment shall think fitt; which we whollie remitt vnto yow.—Grenwitch, last of Junij 1631.

TO THE THESAURER AND DEPUTIE.

Wheras we ar pleased to grant vnto the Lord Gordon a precept of 5000lib sterling for the schirrefschips of Innerness and Aberdene, resigned by his father and him in our handis, wherof as yit he hath receaved no satisfaction: Our pleasur is, that ye pay vnto him or his assigney is the said sowme out of the first and readiest of the taxatiouns last granted vnto ws, or out of rents, dewteis, casualiteis, or other benefite whatsoever, now due vnto ws, or which heirefter shallappin to be due and accresce vnto ws in that our kingdome; and for your soe doeing these presents, with his or his forsaids acquittance or acquittances, youn the recept therof, shalbe your sufficient warrand.—Grenewitch, last of Junij 1631.

Wheras we have gevin ordour for coyneing a certane quantitie of copper into farthing tokens in our kingdome of Scotland, and for performance of which work yow ar made choyse of: These ar therfor to requyre and authorise yow to forge, mak, and grave, or cause to be made and graved, in our citie of London, or elswher within this our kingdome of England, all kinds of instruments, paysses, engynes, yrones, stampes, coynes, with all others provisions necessarie for the fabrication of the saids farthings, to be delyvered by such as yow shall be directed by our trustic and weilbeloved counsellour Sir W^m Alexander, kny^t, that they may be transported vnto our mynt of our toun of Edinburgh, within our said kingdome of Scotland: For doeing whairof, as also for your owin repairing thither for setting vp and establishing the said work, these presents shalbe vnto yow a sufficient warrand.—From our Court of Grenwitch, the last of Junij 1631.

To our trustie and weilbelovit Nicolas Briot, cheiff graver of our Mynt within our kingdome of England.

TO THE COMMISSIONERS OF SURRENDERS.

Right, &c.—Vnderstanding perfectlie the sufficiencie of our, &c. Patrik Maule, and of his affection to our service, we are pleased in regard theref, and for his better encouragment and enabling for our said service, to advance and promove him to be one of the Commissioners for Surrenders: It is therefor our Will and pleasur, and we doe heirby requyre yow, to admit him to be one of your number, receive him in that place efter such forme as is fitt to be vsed for doeing, &c.—Grenwitch, 7 July 1631.

TO THE THESAURER AND DEPUTIE.

It is our pleasur that yow caus pay vnto our, &c. the Erle of Tullibardyne, or to such as shall have power from him, the sowme of 500 merkis Scotts yeirlie at Witsonday and Mertimes, togidder with the ariages thereof due vnto him, and that with as much diligence as yow can, the first terme's payment to begin at Mertimes nixt, and so furth yeirlie dureing our pleasur, and that towards the mantenance of ane vnder keiper of our forrest of Glenalmond; for doing wherof, &c.—Grenwitch, 10 July 1631.

ARTICLES FOR SIR WM ALEXANDER.

- To joyne with my Lord Chancellour in treating with the Clergie, according to our warrants gevin concerneing that purpois, and to adverteis ws or repair hither to report as the occasion for the good of our service shall require.
- 2. To deall with all things that may tend to the advancement of the association for a generall fisching, according to the articles agreed vpon, and to that which is conteynit in our letter to the Counsall concerning the places to be reserved.
- 3. To advyse with our Advocat what course is fitt to be takin for trying and punisching the wrong done in demolisching the work or mulzeling the goodis belonging to we in our silver mylnes neir Lythgow, and to cause prosecute the same immediatile, in such maner as our lawis doe allow, concurring therin with our Thesaurer depute, who is to give what is due to the Informer in lyk caces, preferring him in the composition, in so far as he shall think fitt, to others.
- 4. To inquyre of our Advocat what he hath fund best to be done in that which we by our letters referred formerlie vnto him concerning our servand Patrik Murray in bringing of the Abbay of Inchaffray to our Croun presentlie, or in making of the conditions wherevon he should proceed in the actions depending for recoverie thairof.—Grenwitch, 10 July 1631.

To the Chancellour.

Right, &c.—Wheras complaint hath bene made vnto ws in behalff of the widow of Mr David Lyndsay, late bischope of Ross, that our late royall father haveing granted vnto Sir Jeromie Lyndsay, knyt, 1000 aiker of land in Irland for the vse of hir and hir heyres, and ane other 1000 aiker vnto Sir Johne Dumbar, knyt, for passing vnto hir by letters patents of the first 1000 aiker, and for planting therof, The said Sir John, contrarie to the trust reposed in him, hath, without hir knowledge or geving hir any satisfaction, sold the said first 1000 aiker vnto Sir William Cole, knyt, wherby our said royall father's bountie intended towards hir is frustrated, and schoe in hir widowhedd hath now of a long tyme bene heavelie distressed: Sieing that both the Lords of our privic Counsall of this our kingdome and our Commissioners for the Irish affaires (to whom the tryell heirof was by ws remitted) have certified that it is fitt for the better clearing of what heirin is alledged that the said Sir Jerome be examined ypon his proceiding and knowledge therin: Our pleasur is, that yow call him befor yow, and efter examinatioun of him vpon oath tuitching the same, to certifie ws with diligence what yow doe find theirin, that therefter we may give such further ordour as we shall sie just cause, and as may be most agricable to our said royall father's intentioun concerneing this purpois.—[No date.]

To the Archbischop and Bischops.

Right, &c.—Wheras the reverend father in God, the Bischop of Ylis, hath informed ws of some greevances sustened by yow, which being desyreous to remove, in so far as lawfullic and convenientlic can be done, we have been pleased to appoint our right, &c. our Chancellour, Thesaurer, President of our Counsell, and our principall Secretarie, or any two of them, to meitt and hear the same: Therfor we think fitt that Commissioners be choysen by yow out of your owin number to treit with them for removing therof, otherwyse we require them and yow that vpon any point wherepon they and yow cannot condescend to certific ws therof, that we may give such further ordour therin as we shall find just caus.—Grenwitch, 10 July 1631.

TO THE ADVOCAT.

Trustie, &c.—Wheras we did formerlie wryt vnto our Counsell that in that contraversic betuixt Lady Anna and Patrik Oliphants, that they should discharge in our name ather pairteis from taking vpon them the title or place of the Lord Oliphant, till such tyme as the same wer decydit befor the Judge Ordiner, to which of them it did belong: And being verie desyreous to vnderstand how the estate therof standeth in Law, it is our pleasur that yow informe your selff therof, and that with all convenient diligence yow certific ws as neir as yow can to whom the said title doe justlie belong, and what in justice we are bund to doe to the right and lawfull heyre therin: Which we recommend, &c.—Grenwitch, 10 July 1631.

[No Address.]

In regard of the great paynes occasioned by extraordinarie cause, Our right, &c. the Viscount of Dupline, our Chancellour, hath takin for imbringing of our taxatiouns granted to ws in anno 1625, which now he hath brought to ane finall poynt, and for doeing wherof he hath had heirtofoir no allowance, it is our pleasur that at the hearing of his accompts yow allow vnto him in his owin handis the sowne of 500 Hz. sterling for his further encouragement to doe ws service heirefter: And for your see doeing these presents shalbe your warrant.—Grenwich, 10 July 1631.

PRECEPT TO THE THESAURER AND DEPUTIE.

In regard of the good and faythfull service done vnto ws by Sir William Alexander, our Secretarie, it is our pleasur that yow delyver vnto him for his vse all and whole the moneyis that doe or shall belong vnto ws (as feyis justile due being defrayed) for our share by the Coyneing of the farthing tokens, or of any such Copper coyne as yow shall think fitt to be coyned by vertew of our warrant sent vnto yow for that effect, and that ye send vnto ws any further warrant that yow think necissarie heirin; ffor doeing where, in delyverie the same to him by vertew of this warrant, or for drawing vp of another, these ar to secure yow as a sufficient discherge and warrant.—Grenwitch, 10 July 1631.

TO THE THESAURER AND DEPUTIE.

Right, &c.—Wheras ther hath bene a proposition made vnto ws for coyneing a quantitie of farthing is tokins within that our kingdome such as ar current heir, and considering in regard of the searcitie of money for the present ther, that some such kynd of coyne wer the more necessarie at this tyme for the vse of the meaner sort, and for the smallest sowmes; Yit becaus we desyre to proceed heirin as circumspectlic as can be, both for the good of our owin subjects and that such correspondencie may be keipit heirin with our other kingdomes as in such caice is requisit, Our pleasur is, that haveing conferred with them who have the Charge of our Mynt, as lykwyse with the propounders of this course, that yow mak the fayrest and best bargane yow can for our advantage, and that yow sequester the moneyis arysing therby to be bestowed as yow shall have a particular warrant from ws for that effect.—Grenwitch, 10 July 1631.

TO THE SESSION.

Right, &c.—Haveing resolved to change some persones who had extraordinarie places in our Colledge of Justice, according as we vpon good considerations had formerlie intended, and being confident of the sufficiencie and qualification of Sir William Alexander, our Principall Secretarie of Scotland, we are heirby pleased to will and requyre yow to admitt and receave him in the Session in the place of Sir Archibald Achiesone, our secretarie therof, and that yow tak (as is accustomed in the lyk caices) the oath of the said Sir W^m Alexander, whom we will to have and enjoy all the priviledges and others things belonging to that place: And so, &c.—Grenwitch, 10 July 1631.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—Haveing considered that the Letter which yow wryt vnto ws concerneing the places for fisching in these seas which yow think necessarie to be reserved for the sole vse of the natives of that our kingdome, we cannot conceave what necessitic can be for reserveing of so many severall places, and lykwyse of fyftene myles within the sea, distant from everie schoar, wher it would seame expedient that these of the assotiation for this generall fisching, as they have libertic to land in any place, paying the ordinarie dewteis, should lykwyse be frie to fisch wher ever they ar to pass: And as we ar willing to reserve for the natives all such fischings without which they cannot weill subsist, and which they of themselftis have and doe fullie fisch, so we will not reserve any thing to them which may be a hinderance to this generall work, which may so much import the good of all our kingdomes: And therfor we require yow, as yow affect our service, to contribute your best helpes, all and everie one of yow, in everie thing that may conduce to the accomplishment of this work, and that yow certific ws bak by our trustic Sir William Alexander, knyt, our Secretarie, the bearer heirof, of your opinion heirin, and what yow think fitt for wis to doe as in a matter which we highlic value.—Grenwitch, 10 July 1631.

WARRANT.

Right, &c.—Wheras ther is a finall agreement made betuixt ws and our good brother the French king, and that, amongst other particularities for perfecting heirof, we have condescendend that Port Royall shall be putt in the estate it was befor the begining of the warre, that no pairtie may have any advantage ther dureing the continuance of the same, and without derogation to any preceiding right or title be vertew of any thing done ather then or to be done by the doeing of that which we command at this tyme: It is our will and pleasur, and we command yow heirby, that with all possible diligence yow give ordour to Sir George Home, knyt, or any other haveing charge from yow ther, to dimolisch the Fort which was builded by your sone ther, and to remove all the peoplis, goods, Ordinance, munition, cattell, and other things things belonging vnto that Colonie, leaveing the boundis altogidder waist and unpeopled, as it was at the tyme when your said sone landed first to plant ther by vertew of our Commission; and this yow faill not to doe, as yow wilbe answerable vnto ws.—Grenwitch, 10 July 1631.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—Sieing we have sene by a letter from yow the ordour of Barronets erected by our late dear father and ws for furthering the plantation of New Scotland was appoynted by the whole estate of our kingdome at the last Convention, And that we understand both by ther reports that cam from thence, and by the sensible consideration and notice takin thairof by our nyghbour cuntreyis, how well that work is begun, Our right trustie and weilbeloved Counsellour Sir William Alexander, our Leivtennent ther, haveing fullie performed what was expected from him for the benefite which was intendit for him by these barronets: Being verie desyreous that he should not suffer therin, but that both he and others may be encouraged to prosecute the good begining that is made, as we hartelie thank all such as hath contribute ther ayde by contracting with him for advancing of the said work alreadie: Our pleasur is, that yow seriouslie consider ather amongst yow all or by a Committie of such as ar best affectionat towards that work, how it may be best brought to perfection (whatever contraversic be about it) from quyting our title to New Scotland and Canada, that we wilbe verie carefull to manteane all our good subjects who doe plant themselffis ther, and lett none of the barronets anyway be prejudged in the honour and priviledges conteynit in ther patentes, by punisching of all that dare to presume to wrong them therin, that others may be encouraged to tak the lyk course as the more acceptable vnto ws, and the nearer to a title of Nobilitie, whervnto that of barronets is the nixt degrie: And if the said Sir William, as our Livetennent of New Scotland, shall convene the barronetts to consult togidder concerning that plantation, we heirby authorise him and will yow to authorise him as far as is requisit for that effect, willing that proclamatioun be made of what has been signified, or of what yow shall determine for furthering that work, where we recomend the care to yow as a matter importing speciallie our honour and the good of that our ancient kingdome.—Grenwitch, 12 July 1631.

To the Thesaurer Depute.

Right, &c.—Being verie desyreous in regard of the good service and daylie attendance of our trustice and weilbeloved Sir W^m Alexander, our Secretarie for that our kingdome, that he should enjoy the whole benefite belonging vnto his place, and that no other have any part therof; And yit being loath to tak from any other that which they justlie posses, without giveing them reasonable satisfaction, Our will is that yow vse your best meanes to mediat agriement with any persone that is interested that way, and that what ever yow shall find by a just value (efter due consideration) fitt to be bestowed for the effect wherby our said servand may come to the whole benefite of this place, this shalbe a warrant vnto yow to pay the same.—Grenwitch, 12 July 1631.

TO THE ERLE NITHISDALE, ERLE BUCCLEUCH, ROBERT PRINGLE, FRANCIS GRHAME, AND TO OTHERS COMMISSIONERS FOR THE BORDERS OF OUR KINGDOME OF SCOTLAND.

Our pleasur is, and we doe heirby expressie command that yow furthwith apprehend Thomas Irwing, Ritcherd Irwing, rebells, and committ them to jayll till ordour be takin for ther tryells according to Justice, for a murther committed by them on a brother of Sir Ritchart Grhame: Faill not to doe vpon your knowledge, or any notice gevin vnto yow by our said servant or any other, ther being or resideing in any of our kingdomes heirin, be carefull as yow will answer the contrarie, for which these presents shalbe your sufficient warrant in this behalff.—Outlands, 24 July 1631.

TO THE TUO JUSTICES OF IRLAND, THE CHANCELLOUR, VISCOUNT LOFTUS, AND THE ERLE OF CORK.

Right, &c.—We ar informed that one Thomas Irwing and Ritchart Irwing, rebells, have repaired to that our kingdome, to prevent the tryell of our Lawis to be takin aganst them for the murther of a brother of our servant Sir Richart Graham, wherin sieing it concerneth ws in our royall authoritie not onlie for the present to cause justice be execute on these malefactours according to the Lawis of our kingdome wher the fact was committed, bot lykwyse to have a speciall care that from hence furth none of our kingdomes be a meanes to shelter such persones wherby to delude the course of Justice due to be execute in any of the other: Our pleasur is, that furth with yow give speciall ordour to all the officers of that our kingdome, whom it may concerne for a diligent and far search to be made for the saids Irwings, and all such other rebells as ar fled out of our borders of Scotland to prevent Justice, whois names yow shall receave from tyme to tyme vnder the hand of our Justice-Generall, and that these or any of them by your care apprehendit may be transmitted to the provest and bailleis of Drumfreis in our kingdome of Scotland; And as for such malefactours as shall flie from Justice out of the borders of Irland, whois names yow shall receave heirwith vnder the hand of Lord W^m Howard, Sir Ritchart Grham, and Sir George Dawsone, yow shall returne all such persones to our jayll at Carlill in our countie of Cumberland, —Oatlands, 24 July 1631.

TO THE BISCHOP OF CARLILE.

Right, &c.—We have thoght fitt to acquant yow of our good acceptance, and how weill we approve of that work proposed to ws by our trustic and weillbeloved servand, Sir Ritchard Grhame, in building of the Church of Kirkandrous, with tuo Chappells of ease. We conceave it to be verie necessarie, especiallie in that part of our cuntrey wher ther is so mutch want of Education, the want of which draweth many ignorant people to many inconvenients to the great disturbance of that our kingdome, we have heirin dewlie considered and to this effect have passed our grant and intend our gracious furtherance for the finisching therof, by breives or such other wayes as by yow and our said servand shalbe conceaved most convenient, where of we recommend vnto your best course and assistance this our servand that he may have the best furtherance yow can affurd or shalbe requisite in this or any other thing he shall requyre: With all not doubting of your care in overlooking the ministrie that ther lyffis and conversation may be good: Our pleasur lykwyse is, that yow receave ane information from our said servant, Sir Ritchart Grhame, aganst the Minister of Bewcastle, who, as we understand doeth vse his parischoners, with all vnjust rigour worthie of reprooff, and if yow find such things as ar alledged aganst him to be of weight, that then he be removed, that one of better lyff may be placed ther to the comfort of the people.—Heirin expecting your care, we bid, &c.—Oatlands, 24 July 1631.

TO THE ADVOCAT.

Trustie, &c.—Wheras we are pleased to signe a signature in favours of Mr Walter Neish of the office of Isherie of our Excheker of that our kingdome, which is not as yit passed, nather any reasone schawin vnto ws for not passing of the same: And sicing (as we did formerlie writt vnto yow) we ar fullie resolved to draw back vnto our Croun all heretable offices, and to intent actions aganst all such as will not voluntarlie surrander, Our pleasur is, that yow compeir in our name befor our Exchecker and vrge the passing of the said signatur with all convenient diligence, and tharefter if any persone shall pretend title to the said office, then they may be heard befor the Judge compitent: And our further pleasur is, that in all actions intented or to be intented aganst him tuitching that purpois, yow lykwyse compeir for our Interest for his best assistance in so far as yow can lawfullie doe; which we will tak as acceptable service done vnto ws.—Grenwitch, 28 July 1631.

TO THE THESAURER DEPUT.

Right, &c.—Wheras we wer pleased in July last to send our right, &c. the Viscount of Stirling, our principall Secretarie for that our kingdome, about bussines speciallic importing the good of our service, for which he had no allowance of ws towards the defraying of his charges, and that now vpon the lyk reasone we have thoght good to send him bak agane: It is our pleasur that vpon sight heirof yow pay vnto him the sowme of and the lyk sowme whensoever heirefter he by our speciall direction shalbe imployed by ws thither out of the first of the readiest of our rents and casualiteis whatsumever.—Grenwich, 28 July 1631.

TO THE COUNSELL,

Right, &c.—Vpon ane information made vnto ws of some latelic killed in a casuall encounter in the forrest of Glenhartnay, betuikt the forresters thairof and some of the name of Buchanan, for keiping of the said forrest, being desyreous that the trew estate of that bussines may be dewlie tryed and justice accordingly administred, Our pleasur is, that the tryell therof be delayed till our right, &c. the Erle of Monteith, our Justice generall, who is now heir vpon some speciall thingis concerneing our service, may be present to judge thairof, taking in the meanetyme sick suertie of them as yow shall think fit for preventing of any farder harme which may aryse by the same; And haveing heard of late that some of them who ar interessed in that quarrell doe carie hagbutts and pistolls throw the said forrest, making it a common passage, which not onlie affrights our dear, bot lykwyse as we ar informed was the caus of the forsaid slaughter, which we wonder that any of our subjects whatsumever should be suffered to doe in regard of our lawis made to the contrarie: It is our further pleasur that yow tak this vnto your particular consideration, and give ordour that no man vnder great penalteis be suffered to cary any of the saids prohibited weapones, and speciallic within our said forrest, wher we tak the wearing of them for the greater contempt, And therfor requyreing yow not to faill in doeing of this with all diligence: We bid yow, &c.—Grenwitch, 28 July 1631.

TO THE ARCHBISCHOP OF ST ANDROIS.

Right, &c.—We ar informed that ther is a proces of Law depending befor our Colledge of Justice betweene the bischope and the Erle of Murray, wherin hearing that the Erle is most willing to doe vpon his part what shalbe thought fitt by any indifferent persones, and that all differences betweene them be composed in a friendlie maner, We to that purpois ar pleased that yow deale with the bischope to tak the lyk course, and therefter that yow vse your best endeavours for removeing of all questionis amongst them, Which we the rather desyre, and the more speedic course be takin therin, that by the said Erle his attending the following of that proces, some of our affaires committed to his charge may not be neglected.—Oatlands, last July 1631.

TO THE CHANCELLOUR,

Right, &c.—We have at this tyme, vpon some speciall considerations tuitching the good of our service, directed thither the Erle of Monteith, vnto whom amongst other our instructions we have at lenth signified our pleasur tuitching the tythis and Commission of surrenders which we still resolve to cause bring to a full conclusion according to our first determination, we haveing long prooff of your affection to our service, both in the tyme of our late dear father and our owin, ar still confident that in all things tuitching the advancement of that particular service, or in other things concerneing the same which the said Erle shall import from we vnto yow, yow will joyne with him in your most hartie affection and readic endeavours, for which as these presents shalbe a sufficient warrant, soe we will accompt it as verie acceptable service done vnto ws.—Oatlandis, last of July 1631.

TO THE EXCHEQUER.

Right, &c.—We ar informed that one Robert Philp, sometyme schirreff-Clerk of Drumfreis, haveing power to receave some of the taxatiouns granted in the tyme of our royall late father, did befor his death give ane accompt of his whole charge therin, save of a small parcell which therefter in the accompts of the Erle of Mar, ther Collectour, was allowed as moneyis desperat to be recovered, which being (as we ar informed) a matter of small value, we ar willing to remitt vnto Mr Robert Philp, his sone, who, by reasone he cannot convenientlie setle his father's esteat ther, hath caused move we to that effect: Therfor our pleasur is, that yow discharge him, his heyres and executours, of the said rest, and of all intromissions of his said father, with any preceiding taxationns; and for your see doeing, &c.—Oatlandis, last July 1631.

TO THE COMMISSIONER OF SURRENDERS.

Right, &c.—Wheras we formerlie willed yow not to proceid in any thing concerning the tythis of the Erle of Buccleugh till the first of Junij, that he might be ther present himselff; And now sieing that day is expyred, and the differences betuixt him and Francis Stewart, for which the said Erle was called hither to attend, ar not as yit determinat, which we intend schortlie to doe without any further delay: Our pleasur therfor is, that yow continew all proceidings concerning these saidis tythis till the first day of Nor nixt ensueing.—Oatlandis, last July 1631.

To the Archbischop of St Androis.

Right, &c.—Wheras vpon information made vnto ws by yourselff and others of the Clergie, how by the vnjustnes of the valuation of the tythis not onlie we in our annuitie, but the Estate of the Church in that our kingdome was lyklie to be prejudged, We, for rectificing therof in so far as convenientlie could be done without prejudice to the generall course preseryved by we tuitching the tythis and superiorite of erectionis, wer pleased to direct the Viscont of Stirling to treat with yow therin: Bot haveing now of late receaved a letter from yow concerneing diverse things tuitching that purpois, which, haveing pervsed and considered everie particular therof, we have at lenth imparted our pleasur therin to the Erle of Monteith, whom at this tyme, vpon some speciall considerations for the good of our service, we have directed thither, with speciall command to returne with all diligence; and we haveing good prooff of his affection and sufficiencie for advanceing our service tuitching the publict good of the Estate of the Church, and of the professed religion, we have directed him to answer everie particular of your said letter, whom we will yow trust therin as delyvered from our owin mouth: Therfor our pleasur is, that yow propois vnto him what may concerne that purpois, both tuitching the prejudgeing of the Church and ws in our annuitie, with the expediencie yow can find for rectificing thairof, that we may give such farther ordour therin as we shall find just caus, for be confident that we will not be wanting in anything that may tend to the good of the Church, provyded it doe not prejudge the said general course tuitching the said tythis and superioriteis which we, haveing by due advyse so deliberathe digested for the publict good of that our kingdome, we will not have any wayes invented or delayed. [All these words following by the King's owin hand.]—I have choysen this bearer, not onlie to give a speedie dispatch to the bussines of the tythis (wherby to putt yow Churchmen out of your needles fears), bot also to bring me a trew report of your greevances in particular, which I have heard so much talk of in generall: Wherfoir I expect that yow deall with him with as much confidence as yow have reasone to believe, that I shall give yow a quick redress of whatsoever thing yow have just reasone to compleyne of.—Oatlands, last of July 1631.

TO THE ADVOCAT.

Trustie, &c.—We have takin occasion at this tyme, vpon speciall considerations for the good of our service of that our kingdome, to send thither our right, &c. the Erle of Monteith, to whom, amongst other instructions speciallic importing the good therof, we have at lenth communicated our pleasur tuitching the bussines of the tythis, and other matters of the greatest consequence which at this tyme we have within the same, becaus we have prescryved vnto him no longer tyme of stay then the first of Sept^{*} ensueing, we requyre yow from tyme to tyme, dureing his abode ther, to tak his directions in all things concerneing our service as delyvered from our owin mouth, for which, as these presents shalbe vnto yow a sufficient warrant, so we shall accompt your travells to be takin therin as acceptable service done vnto ws.—Oatlands, last July 1631.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—We receaved your letter desyreing that no restraynt might be aganst the importatioun or exportation of Salt from that our kingdome, bot that it might be in that same case as it was heirtofoir: Though ther has bene made ane overture vnto ws, which as we conceave may tend to our benefite, and nowyse to the trouble or hurt of any of our leidges, yit, out of the care we have of that our ancient and native kingdome, we have resolved that ther shalbe no restraynt at any tyme comeing aganst the importing or selling of any Scotts salt in this our kingdome; provydeing alwyse that as much be imposed to the vse of our Exchequer ther vpon everie weght of salt which is imported vnto this our kingdome, as the natives are content to pay in the lyk caces heir.—Oatlands, last of July 1631.

TO THE ERLE OF MONTEITH.

The whole Letter was writtin with his Mateis owin hand.

Monteith—I have gevin yow diverse instructions, where I expect a particular accompt of, and to which I most add this one word, that is, yow must deall about the reservations for the fisching bussines to keip these places from being reserved that I have told you of, becaus I forsee that otherwyse that great business, where I have had so great a care of, will run a hazard. So God speed your endeavours.

Subscribitur,

C. R., Oatlands, 31 July.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—We have heard yow have made the Lard of Grant to produce ane Allaster Grant, a rebell, to be subject to the tryell of our lawis, wherin, as we doe approve of the maner of your proceeding, so we doe of your care and diligence in the speedie executioun, for which we give yow hartie thanks, and ar willing (if yow find it convenient) that yow insist not onlie to tak the lyk course with the said Lard of Grant, bot lykwyse with our right, &c. the Marqueis of Huntlie, for produceing all such rebells who as yit stand out, and whom by the generall band they are bound to exhibite, and with all such noblemen and others who, by vertew therof, ar subject in the lyk kynd when the lyk occasions shalhappin to occur, which we will accept as acceptable service done vnto ws.—Oatlands, last July 1631.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—We vnderstand that according to our pleasur significial vnto yow for tryeing the maner of the burneing of Frendrauchts Tower, yow have omitted nothing that convenientlie could have bene done for tryeing therof, for which we give yow hartie thanks, yit the presumptions (as we ar informed) being great that it was done out of a malicious intent, have made ws to think that a continewed tryell to be takin therin may happelie produce some good effects for clearing of the truth: Therfor our pleasur is, that yow insist by all lawfull and possible meanes for a speedie and sure tryeing therof: And if yow think it fitt, we ar willing that yow select a committee out of your number, who more convenientlie, without interposition of other affaires (which the bodie of our Connsall can hardlie avoyd), may proceid in the tryell with all convenient and possible diligence till it be broght to a full conclusion; which seriouslie recommending vnto your care, &c.—Oatlands, last July 1631.

TO THE VISCOUNT OF STERLINGE.

Right, &c.—We receaved a letter of late from the right reverend father in God, &c. the Archbischop of St Androis, tuitching the purpois wherin the Clergie of that our kingdome thought themselffis greived, for knowing the trew groundis wherof we, at your last departure from our Court, had gevin yow direction, haveing occasion at this tyme to send thither our right, &c. the Erle of Monteith, president of our privite Counsall, tuitching some of our speciall affaires, which he will impart vnto yow, we have bene pleased to remitt the answer of the said Letter by him, with whome, as in that particular so and in all other things tuitching the advancement of our service, we doubt not bot yow will concurre and give your best advyse and assistance: We bid, &c.—Oatlands, last of July 1631.

To MR Johne Hay, Toun Clerk of Edinburgh.

Trustie, &c.—Haveing at this tyme, vpon speciall occasions tuitching the good of our service in that our kingdome, directed thither our right, &c. the Erle of Monteith, whom we have commanded to returne with all possible diligence; And knowing by former prooff your sufficiencie and affection to our service, both in the tyme of our late dear father and our owin, We will expect at your hands that what directions shalbe imparted vnto yow at this tyme by the said Erle concerneing the advancement of any particular tuitching our said service, yow wilbe carefull to receave and obey them, as directed from our owin mouth; and as we had formerlie resolved to be myndfull of your care and paynes in our service, we have now signified our pleasur tuitching the same vnto him, whom yow shall trust therin as from ws, And expect our favour accordinglie.—Oatlauds, the last of July 1631.

PRIVAT INSTRUCTIONS FROM HIS MATIE TO THE ERLE MONTEITH.

To deall with the Clergie for setling of the said greevances in the matter of Valuation of Tythis, and to answer to everie poynt of the letter writtin by the Archbischop of S^t Androis to his Ma^{tie}.

To have a care that the bussines of the fisching may be weell and tymelie concluded, and the Commission returns befoir the middle of Sep^r ensueing.

To advert to the bussines of the Salt and Coall.

To deall with the burgh of Edinburgh, that they may buy so much of that bargane which his Matie hath agreid for with the Erle of Roxburgh as is fitting for them to have.

That the said Erle returne vnto our Court with the rest of the Commissioners befor the tent of September ensueing.—Oatlands, last Julij 1631.

To the Commissioners for the Tythes,

Right, &c.—Wheras we ar informed that our right, &c. the Erle of Home and the Countess his mother ar now in process for the valuation of the stok and tythis of the parochin of Innerweik, and that the vassells of the parochin of Gulane intend the lyk: And being crediblic informed that in these valuations our servant James Maxwell hath speciall interest, who being to give his attendance in our service heir, is lyklic in his absence to be prejudged if he doe not in persone attend the proceidings to be made in these valuations; Our pleasur is, that vntill he can ather convenientlic repair thither him selff, or that we be pleased to signific our further pleasur for your proceiding therin, that no course be takin in the sampne, and that yow give ordour accordinglic.—Oatlands, last Julij 1631.

TO THE EXCHEQUER.

Right, &c.—We ar informed that at Sir James Sinclar, kny^t and Colonell, his first vudertaking of imployment for the late service of our Vncle the King of Denmark, he and his freinds did enter in band to W^m Dick for levyeing of moneyis for that purpois, haveing besydis engadged vnto him diverse evidents for the same: And vuderstanding by your letter vnto ws that the said Colonell hath both vsed his best endeavours in that service, and hath therin trewlie bestowed the whole moneyis bestowed vpon him, We think it vureasonable, sieing (as we ar informed) these moneyis ar otherwyse allowed vnto the said William Dick, that the said Colonell and his freindis should now suffer therin: Therfoir our pleasur is, that yow call W^m Dick befor yow, and if yow doe not find a sufficient reasone to the contrarie, that yow caus him discharge the said Colonell and his suirteis of all moneyis for which they stand bund for that imployment, and to delyver bak vnto him what papers wer delyvered tuitching that purpois; for which these presents &c.—Oatlands, 7 August 1631.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—Wheras we have declared our pleasur that the trew worth aryseing by the forfaltour of the late Erle Bothwell's estate being fund by yow vpon strict examinatioun, we have, out of a due consideration, allotted vnto Francis Stewart, his sone, a considerable part therof, to be takin out of these Lords' possessionis who have all the benefit of the said foirfaltour; declaring that everie one of them shall doe whatever shall be thoght fitt in Law and is in ther power to performe for secureing of the other of that which we have appoynted to be done, a care being alwyse to be had, as we will tak ordour for that effect, that the division which we have declared shalbe justlie and equitablic made, giveing to everie one his proportion for avoyding of future stryff in the parts wher it may be most convenientlie for ther vse; sieing that heirin we have takin so great paynes, and have brought all things to that perfection that nothing resteth but to know the trew worth of that estate, which convenientlie can not be done heir, And we being vnwilling to entrust the tryell therof to any saveing to such in whom we absolutelie repoise a cheiff trust, Our pleasur is, that not onlie yow cause exhibit vnto yow the trew rentalls of the said estate efter what maner yow shall think fitt, but lykwyse that yow give ordour to our Advocat to draw vp the securiteis for that purpois, leaveing the blanks of the quota to be filled vp by ws: In all which we desyreing yow proceid with all convenient diligence till it be broght to perfection, according to our royall intention, We bid, &c.—Oatlands, 8 August 1631.

HIS MATEIS DECREE.

Francis Stewart haveing petitioned ws to have compassion on his deplorable estate, and that his father's fault, of which we find him nowyse guiltie, may not vtterlie ruyn him, of which petition we haveing duclic considered, doe find it fit so far to satisfie him, that he may have a compitent mantenance to live vpon, to which end we, haveing spokin with these Lords who have all the benefite of the late Erle of Bothwell's forfaltour, and they, as reasone is, haveing submitted to what we shall determyne heirin, doe herby declare our pleasur that the trew worth of the said forfaltour being fund out vpon strict examinatioun by our Counsell of Scotland, and that being divydit into . . . parts, we allot . . . parts to Francis Stewart, to be takin respectivelic out of each of the foirsaids Lordis possessions, and that everie ane of them shall doe whatever shalbe thoght fitt in Law, and is in ther power to performe for secureing of the other of that which we appoynt to be done, a care being had, as we shall give ordour for that effect, that this division which we have declared shalbe justlie and equallie made, giveing to everie one his proportion for avoyding of future stryff in the parts wher it may ly most convenientlie for his vse: And these presents shalbe a sufficient warrant for our Advocat to draw vp securiteis heirvpon.—Oatlands, 8 August 1631.

These words following ar writtin with his Mateis owin hand,

I have not filled up these blanks, though I have done these of the Decree, Becaus the rentalls true value may be found out with the less partialitie.

TO THE LARD OF LAWERIS.

Trustie, &c.—We ar informed it is fitt our forrest of Glenalmend be enlarged by taking in some grounds adjacent thervnto belonging vnto yow, and being willing to caus deall with yow for a reasonable satisfaction to be gevin vnto yow for the same, we have to that purpois imparted our pleasur to our right, &c. the Erle of Monteith, whom we have directed to surveigh the ground, and with whom we desyre that yow condescend concerneing the pryce for payment, whairof vpon your agriement we will by him give ordour for your satisfaction: So expecting that in a purpos wherin no sene prejudice can be sustenit by yow, yow will conforme your selff to this our pleasur.—Oatlands, 8 August 1631.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—Wheras we habene pleased to grant vnto our trustie and weilbelovit servand Sir Alext Home, knyt, the favour of our royall protection, that he may frielic repair vnto Scotland for setling of his affaires, which he cannot convenientlie doe without the concurrance of his father, Sir George Heme of Manderstoun, in whois behalff we have lykwyse signified our pleasur vnto yow, that he might have libertie to cum in publict for prosecution of the tryells of certane persones dilated as guiltie of divilish practeizes aganst his lyff and estate (which we ar informed) ar not brought as yit to a finall period: Therfor, as weell for our said servandis better furtherance in the setling of his affaires, as also that the said Sir George may be liable to bring the saidis tryells to a full conclusion, we ar heirby pleased to recommend him vnto yow that he may have such farther libertie to cum in publict as yow shall find requisit for the one and the other.—Oatlands, 8 August 1631.

TO THE ERLE OF MORTON.

Right, &c.—Having considered that it is requisit for avoyding of partialitie in valueing the rentalls to be made of the late E. Bothwell's estate to keip vp for some tyme the proportions designed by ws in our decree tuitching the division therof, haveing to that effect keipt cloise in our owin custodic the decree itselff: Our pleasur is, that what yow know therin, or hath bene by ws imparted vnto yow tuitching that purpois, yow keip the same secreit; wherin, not doubting bot yow will obey our pleasur.—Oken, the 10 August 1631.

TO THE ERLE OF MONTEITH.

Right, &c.—As tuitching that part of your letter concerneing the Erle of Murrayes interest in the thrid of Duffus, and in the patronage therof, we find no reasone for ws to tak any course therin to our owin disadvantage, Sieing the Erle of Murray hath submitted vnto ws his interest therin, and that we conceave that if ther be any farther right then our owin, it is in the persone of the bischop of Murray: Therfor we still hold it expedient, as formerlie we have done, to remitt the tryell therof betwixt the said E. Murray and bischop . . . to due course of our Lawis, requyreing yow to caus our Advocat carefullie to advert therin for our interest, wherin have thought fitt to signific our pleasur vnto yow: We bid, &c.—Wodstok, 22 August 1631.

TO THE DEPUTIE THESAURER, LORD TRAQUAIR.

Right, &c.—Haveing at this tyme gevin instructions vnto our right, &c. the Erle of Monteith for dispatch of affaires speciallie importing ws and the good of that our kingdome, with speciall direction to returne vnto our Court with all possible diligence, and being confident of your affection to our service, we are heirby pleased to require yow that what directions shalbe imparted vnto yow at this tyme by the said Erle yow wilhe cairefull to receave them as directed from our owin mouth: So not doubting bot in all things tuitching the advancement of our service yow will joyne with him in your most hartie affection and readiest: We bid, &c.—Wodstok, 23 August 1631.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—Haveing intention vpon veric good considerations at this tyme to ayd our brother the King of Sweden with such forces as we can convenientlie spare from all our kingdomes, our pleasur is, that yow grant vnto our trustie, &c. Lodovick Leslie, Livetenent-Colonell to Sir John Hamiltoun of Skirling, knyt, a Commission with a sufficient warrant to levy and transport thither 200 men, and that towards the recrue of the said Sir Johne his Regiment out of all such persones within that our kindome as he shall find willing to goe with him thither: Granting him libertie to touk drumes to that purpois, with as great priviledges as any other hath had heirtofoir in the lyk kynd, he alwyse giveing such satisfaction to everie one of the said number as shalbe agried vpon betuixt him and them.—Wodstok, 28 August 1631.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—Wheras heirtofoir we have sufficientlie signified vnto yow our pleasur for exhibiteing vnto ws the trew rentalls of the lands of the Erledome of Bothwell, possessed by the Erle of Buccleuch, and intending the selff same course with the Abacie of Kelso, which we did not mention in our former letter, We have therfor thoght fitt heirby to will and requyr yow (notwithstanding of any preceiding warrant) presentlie to goe on in the lyk course with the Abacie of Kelso, by exhibiteing vnto ws a trew and perfect rentall of all the temporall landis of that whole Abacie, togidder with a perfect valuation of the spiritualitie theref: And fearing your ordinarie way of valuation prove long and tedious, we heirby lykwyse will yow to embrace whatever speedier course yow in your judgment shall find most fitt; and in respect of your not frequent meittings in vacation tyme, we lyk it well that a Committie be choysen out of your number of such as reside narrest our brugh of Edinburgh, who for the speedie dispatch of these rentalls and valuations may with the greater convenience meitt so often as the necessitie of this service shall requyre.—Nonsuch, 28 August 1631.

TO THE COUNSELL AND SESSION.

Right, &c.—Wheras we did formerlie recommend to yow ane action persewed by our trustie servand and chaplane Doctour Walter Whytfurd concerneing the subdeanrie of Glasgow, wherin, as we acknowledge your good service done vnto ws in reduceing by your sentence the patronage of that benefice to our Croun, Soe we ar willing to provyd for refounding our said servant in his great charges in persewing that action, by his enjoying the fruitts of that benefice, for which caus we have gevin command to our Advocat to assist and concurre with him in all actions tending or that may tend to that purpois, and ar pleased heirby to signific vnto yow that it is our express will and pleasur that yow proceid to minister justice in these actions, according to the Lawis of that our kingdome, with all lawfull expedition, wherby our said servand may have possession of the rents of that benefice and others encouraged to doe ws the lyk service; which recommending to your speciall care, &c.—Nonsuch, 28 August 1631.

Was signed a presentation of Robert Hamilton to the Church of Stanehous, 15 Septr 1631.

TO THE ARCHBISCHOP OF ST ANDROIS.

Right, &c.—Haveing occasion to declair our pleasur vnto yow touching some thingis concerneing our service, We requyre, at the repairing hither of our Court of the Lord President of our Privic Counsell, and of our Principall Secretarie, yow lykwyse repair hither, wher our further pleasur shall be imparted vnto yow: We bid yow farewell.—Theobald's, 15 Sept. 1631.

TO THE ERLE STRATHERN, ERLE MENTEITH, LORD PRESIDENT.

Right, &c.—Haveing at your last departure from our Court granted vnto yow no longer tyme to stay ther then the fyftene of this moneth, bot knowing that it is requisit for the good of our service that yow be present at that meitting of our Counsell which is appointed to be schortlie at our brught of Perth, Our pleasur is, that yow be present therat, and immediatlie therefter repair to our Court: We bid, &c.—Theobald's, 15 Sept^r 1631.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—The Lord Vchiltrie haveing bene examined befoir our Counsell heir tuitching some informations gevin by him reflecting vpon some nobilitie of that our kingdome, we have bene pleased to remitt him thither to be tryed according to the lawis therof, haveing to that purpois sent yow heirwith enclosed some depositions vnder his owin hand, and the authentik copeis of others, wherof the principalls we cause reserve heir becaus they lykwyse concerne other persones: Our pleasur is, that haveing gevin ordour for receaveing and committing him to safe custodie, yow caus try and censure him according to our saids lawis befoir what Judicatorie and judges yow shall think fitt and compitent for that purpois; and for your soe doeing these presents shalbe your sufficient warrand.—Hampton Court, 24 Sept. 1631.

To the Archbishop of St Androis,

Right, &c.—Being informed of the sufficiencie and qualification of one Mr Andro Eliot, and that he is a persone fitt to succeid to the Minister at the Church of Innerkeillour, whereof the parochiners, be vertew of the ministeris great aige and seiknes, stand in neid of ane liable persone for helping him in the charge of the ministrie: We ar heirby pleased to recomend the said Mr Andro to yow, that if he be fund qualified, as is affirmed, he be preferred to any other in that charge when it shall happin to vaik, and that then yow send we a presentation to that purpois.—Hampton Court, 24 Sept 1631.

Datum in palatio nostro Hampton, 12 Mensis Octoris 1631.

TO THE CHANCELLOUR.

Right, &c.—We ar informed by petition from Patrik Cor that he haveing in obedience to our Lawis, and late ordour of our Counsell, retired him selff and his familie furth of the cuntric befoir any proces intended aganst him for not conformitie, was, notwithstanding, by the presbyterie of Aberdene excommunicat efter his departure, and by the consequent thairof that these to whom he entrusted his estate hath hitherto and may still, though vujustlie, detenit fra him, except we, out of our princelic consideration, dispense with the rigour of the Law, and grant him our licence to abyd and follow his bussines within the cuntrie for ane whole yeir: We thairfor, considering that the petitioner being from his cradle bred in poperie, and haveing yeilded humblie and tymelic obedience to our lawis and government, ought not in equitie or reasone to incur the punischments that are due to dissobetients onlie, have thoght fitt, if the information be trew, to grant vnto him licence to abyd within the cuntrie and follow his bussines for the space of ane whole yeir, and to dispense with the consequences of his excommunication for the said space, in so far as they may concerne or prejudge the libertie of his persone or the recoverie and enjoying of his estate: Willing, therfoir, and requyreing yow to give notice heirof to any whom it may concerne, especiallie to the two supreame twines of Iudicatoreis, our Counsell and Colledge of Justice, and by your authoritie from ws give ordour for the petitioner's securitie and saftie as shalbe neidfull: Provydeing alwyse that endureing the said space he give no scandall nor just offence to the Churche or governement: Wherin, not doubting of your care and conformitie to this our pleasur, we bid yow, &c.—Whythall, 28 Octo* 1631.

TO THE COUNSELL.

We have duelie examined and considered the caus wherin the Erldome of Lothian and Lordschip of Newbotle doeth presentlie stand, both by sieing the patent therof granted by our royall father, of happie memorie, to Robert, the late Erle theref, vpon his resignation of the former made to Erle Mark, and the Act of Parliament Confirmeing the same : And haveing takin advyse of these with whome we have thoght fitt to consult about it, being persones of honour and understanding, and well acquanted with the bussines, we doe planelie perceave that his purpois was that, if failzeing of heyris-male of his bodie, his eldest daughter without division should be his heyre, both to his whole estate and honour, in so far as in him lay, to establish it ypon condition that schoe should marie a well borne gentlman of the surname of Ker, who should be bund to bear the said Erle's Armes; and sieing that according to his intention his eldest daughter, the Lady Anne Ker, hath maried Sir William Ker, sone to Sir Robert Ker of Ancrum, knyt, gentlman of our bedchalmer, and so on hir part hath fulfilled the condition sett on hir by hir father; and hir husband as also willing to bear these armes and leave his owin, and that Sir Robert Ker, his father, hath vpon the mariage redeamed the Lordschip of Newbotle out of ther handis who had comprysed the same for the late Erle's debts, and by adding his owin estate to it, and other Compitent meanes, wherby of a perplexed and almost ruinated estate, by God's assistance, he hath made it capable of the former dignitie; haveing also provydit a portion to the Lady Jeane, the late Erle's younger daughter: All which considered, out of our grace and favour to the saids persones, and, if God will, to keip vp the house to them and ther posteritie, who have done see much for it, we have thought fitt to creat the said Sir William Ker of Ancrum, and his aires-male, erles of Lothian and Lords of Newbotle; and becaus that we hear that Sir William Ker of Blaikhope, brother to the late Erle of Lothian, hath takin on him (as pretending to be airmale of the house) to style himselff by that title without our licence and authoritie: Therfoir it is our express will, and we command yow, that yow call befoir yow the said Sir William Ker of Blaikhope, and freindlie reprove him in our name for so great presumption, letting him know what we have bene pleased to doe, and stratlie chargeing him that he nor nane of his successours, ather gottin of his bodie or brethren, who might perhaps pretend the same heirefter, if he should die without aires, presume to vse that title heirefter; and if he have anything to alledge why this should not be done, lett him seik his releiff by the Lawis of that our kingdome, and shall have such just hearing as we doe willinglie grant to all our subjects; bot if the said Sir William Ker of Blaikhop keip himselff out of the way to avoyd this just reprooff, or that he cum not readelie to hear this our declaration, then it is our will that yow so mak knowen this our pleasur, that by his freinds he may be adverteised of it, and that none give that styll bot to these vpon whom by letters patents we have conferred it.—The last of Octor 1631.

TO THE CHANCELLOUR.

Right, &c.—Wheras we did formerlie wryt vnto our Counsell for proceiding in the lyk course tuitching the rentall of the Abbacie of Kelso, as we wer pleased to requyre to be takin of such of the estates of the late Erle of Bothwell as was possest by the Erle of Buccleuch, bot considering that convenientlie nothing can be done without the presence of our right, &c. the Erle of Roxbrugh, and that we ar to deteyne him for some short tyme for causes concerning the good of our service: Our pleasur is, that yow proceid not in anything concerning him or that Abbacie till the fyftene day of Januar ensueing, which we have appoynted him preciselie to keip; And that yow signific our pleasur heirin to our Counsell and Commissioners for the surrenders: So we bid yow hartie farewell.—Whythall, 9 Nor 1631.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—Wheras we have gevin ordour to some of our cheiff officers in that our kingdome, who ar heir for composeing of such feuds and differences as ar amongst the name of Grant, not intending therby that such malefactours of that name who have transgressed our Lawis and broken our peace in these parts be lett goe vupunisched, if anywayes fund guiltie or accessorie thervnto; And vnderstanding that Allaster Grant (who for a long tyme hath bene a prissoner for crymes alledged aganst him of this kynd) is schortlie to be putt to his tryell, and that it is requisite for the better cleiring of the treuth heirin that some longer tyme be prescryved for that purpois, our pleasur is, that the said tryell be continewed till the tent day of Aprill ensueing, befoir which tyme we will expect that further light wilbe gevin therin: We bid yow, &c.—Whythall, 10 Nor 1631.

TO THE THEASURER DEPUTE.

Wheras our right, &c. the Erle of Stratherne, Lord President of our privie Counsell of that our kingdome, did not long since, by our speciall direction, levy a pension of 500^{lib} st. from the Erle of Carrik, who be him is secured in his landis for payment of these moneyis yeirlie which ar condescended vpon between them, wherby we have gayned vnto our Exchequer the arreirs of that pension, extending to 2000^{lib} st., which wer due to have bene payed to the said Erle of Carrik: These considerations, being more then Ordinarie, have justlie moved ws that the said Lord President be made no loser by our meanes; Therfoir we will and requyre yow that, according to our grant of that pension, yow mak good and readie payment therof vnto our weilbelovet Cousen the Countess of Stratherne, or hir assigneyis, whois names is insert in the said grant: And for your see doeing these presents shalbe vnto yow a sufficient warrant and discherge, notwithstanding of any former restraynt or direction to the contrarie.—Whythall, 16 Nor 1631.

TO THE COUNSELL

Wheras we have fullie resolved to repair at the ensueing spring of the yeir to that our ancient kingdome for receaving our Croun and holding a Parliament ther; And being cairfull (according to our former pleasur signified to that purpois) that at that tyme all things may be in good ordour and decent as most convenientlie can be done, and as shalbe fund most requisite, Our speciall pleasur is, that yow speciallie consider of what is fitt to be looked vnto and provydit at our comeing dureing the tyme of our abode ther;
And that yow signifie this our pleasur, and give ordour accordinglie, to all our officers and subjects whom it may concerne; and, amongst other things, that yow have a speciall care for causeing preserve our game in our Parks, forrests, and other places of sport accustomed by our late royall father, and to that effect that yow give ordour for doeing of such things, and prescryveing such cautions and penalteis to be inflicted ypon the transgressours, as yow shall think fitt and most necessarie to that purpois: All which we doe in a spetiall maner recommend vnto your care.—Whythall, 16 Nor 1631.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—Wheras we ar informed by petition from Johne McDonald, Captane of Clauronald, that he being summonded to give his appeirance befoir yow in this present moneth, is not able to performe the same without great tryell and danger of the vnseasonablenes of the tyme of the yeir and the great distance and perrells of the way, by both sea and land; bot that he hath gevin sufficient surteis for answering whatsoever can be lodged to his charge at the next generall apparence of the Ylanders, vnder paine of great sownes of money; As lykwyse that, in regard of the anticipating of that dyet this yeir, he should be forced in schort tyme to mak that so dangerous a journey tuyse: We therfor, considering the premisses, have thought fitt to will and requyre yow to dispense with the petitioner's particular appearance vnto the nixt generall dyet of the Islanders, which we have requyred yow for some speciall occasions to appoynt in the spring of the yeir; wherin not doubting of your conformitic of this our pleasur, we bid, &c.—Whythall, 16 Not 1631.

Was a presentatioun signed in favours of M^r George Young to the Vicearage of Calder and Monkland, with all sindrie things perteneing thairto.—Whythall, 17 Nor [1631].

TO THE LORD LOWDEN,

Right, &c.—Haveing gevin ordour for delyverie of these moneyis which ar payable by ws for the redemeing the wodsetts of these superioriteis mentioned in the transaction betuixt ws and yow, we have returned that signatur signed by ws concerneing yow for your proceidings, wherin in so frie and voluntar a maner we give yow hartie thanks, and will acknowledge the samyne as good service done vnto ws: And be confident that as [we] will not that any superiour be interposed therin between ws and yow, so if we shalhappin at any tyme heirefter to schaw any favour to any of the lyk kynd, be assured yow shall find the same in alse great a measur as any vther: And in that particular which we promised yow at your being heir, be lykwys confident that we will performe the same vnto yow at our home cuming amongst the first of that kynd, and will sie yow satisfied of what is further due vnto yow: We bid, &c.—Whythall, 17 No* 1631.

TO THE ADVOCAT.

Trustie, &c.—Wheras we have writtin vnto our right, &c. the Erle of Winton to deall with Mr William Kellie, Advocat, and his tuo sones in Law, for surrendring vnto our Croun ther title to the Eistbarnes, which is a part of our propertie of the Lordschip of Dumbar; And being willing so to proceid with them therin as both our ancient patrimonie may be restored and they satisfied in so fair and reasonable maner for their interest, Our pleasur is, that yow learne of the said Erle if they will be content to accept of a reasonable satisfaction for their right thervnto; and if not, that yow proceid by a due and legall course for bringing bak of these lands vnto our Croun: And becaus locall assignements to our propertie doe no less prejudge ws, and ar of no less dangerous consequence in prejudgeing thairof, Our further pleasur is, that yow tak the lyk course with such of the assigneyis who will not accept of ther payments out of our Exchequer according to the ordinarie and approved manner.—Whythall, 17 Nor 1631.

TO THE ERLE OF WINTON.

Right, &c.—Haveing resolved, for restoreing of the Lordschip of Dumbar, which is a part of the antient patrimonie of our Croun, to cause vse all such fair wayes and meanes as both our royall intention therin may tak effect and as may best tend to the advantage of our subjects interessed therin, We to this purpois, haveing considered the long and reall prooffes of your affection to our service, both in the tyme of our late dear father and our owin, and being informed of some interest that M^r W^m Kellie, advocat, hath in yow, and that his tuo sones in Law and himselff have possession of Eastbarnes, a parcell of that Lordship, have thoght it expedient to vse yow as a fitt instrument to deall with them to this purpois, and to vse your best and most readest endevours therin; whervuto if they condescend, acquant our thesaurer or deputie thesaurer therwith, that they may farther agrie for ther satisfaction for their title vnto the said lands efter some reasonable maner; bot if they will not be content to goe on therin, we have directed our Advocat to proceid against them by due course of Law for bringing bak of the saids lands vnto our Croun.—Whythall, 17 Nor 1631.

TO THE THESAURER.

Right, &c.—Haveing fullie resolved to repair vnto that our ancient kingdome in the ensueing spring of the yeir, and knowing that ther is nothing more necessarie at our comeing then to have our housse wher we intend to be dureing the tyme of our abod ther in that good ordour and decencie as is requisit: And that this purpois, amongst these others, which ar the caus why at this tyme we have gevin ordour that a restraynt of the issueing of moneyis is none of the leist: Our special pleasur is, that yow furth with pay vnto our masters of work such moneyis as by advyse of our privic Counsell wer condescended vpon by contract between we and them, and that from the dat therof to the tyme limited therin: And for your soe doeing these shalbe a sufficient warrant, notwithstanding of any former direction to the contrarie.

—Whythall, 17 Nor 1631.

TO THE COMMISSIONERS OF SURRENDERS.

Right, &c.—Wheras the bussines of the Commission for Surrenders and Tythes hath takin long tyme, and not schortlie be effected vnless ther be a daylie sitting of Commissioners for dispatch therof, and we being most desyreous to have these affaires put to ane end befoir our comeing to that our kingdome, We have thoght it meitt that of your owin number some be selected and putt apart for the work such as may be best spared from other our services in Counsell, session, and Exchequer: It is our speciall pleasur, and we doe heirby requyre yow, to mak a Committie vnto the persones nominat by we and sent in a roll to our Chancellour, to which number we have ordaned our right, &c. the Viscont of Dupline, our Chancellour, The Erle of Morton, our thesaurer, The Erle of Stratherne, Lord President of our privie Counsall, The Erle Hadington, Lord Privie Seall, the Viscont of Stirling, our principall Secretarie, and Sir Thomas Hope of Craighall, knyt and baronet, our Advocat, shalbe added and shalbe present when shall please them and our other weghtie affaires shall permitt, which committie we have ordeaned to convene at our palace of Halyrudhous vpon the first day of Febr ensueing, and daylie therefter to sitt in such places and at such hours as they shall think most fitt for prosecuteing that work, and bringing the same to some good conclusioun; And that the said Committie shall proceid in all such poynts and heads as ar warranted by our generall commission, and according to the severall decries pronunced by we and published in print, making report allwayes of ther proceedings to the generall Commission, that the same, being by them allowed and approved by ws. may receave a finall determination; and if any differences shall aryse betwixt the Committie and yow tuitching things by them appoynted, we will that the same be remitted to our selffis, that we may determine therin as we shall find just cause; ffor the more speedie effecting of all which we have requyred our Chancellour to caus a proclamation be made for publishing our intention heirin, warneing all our subjects whom this bussines doe concerne to give attendance vpon the said Committie at the dyetts to be assigned vnto them, and dischergeing all warrants and licence ather procured or to be procured in favours of whatsumever persones for continuatioun or delay in thir particulars, certifieing them and everie of them that shalbe lawfullie warned to appear at the dyets to be assigned, that if they faill in attending the same by themselffis or ther procuratours, the said Committie shall proceid as if they wer personallie present, for soe we have appoynted and such is our pleasur: Wherin nowayes doubting of your readic furtherance, we bid yow farewell.—Whythall, 24 Nor 1631.

TO THE THESAURER DEPUTE.

Right, &c.—Being informed that the silver mylne neir our burgh of Linlythgow, tools and works therto belonging, which to the great charge and care of our late royall father ther wer erected for making and fyneing of silver ore ther, ar broken down, stollen, and takin away, wherby, besydes the great loss we have sustened, we exceidinglie mislyk that any durst attempt any such course: Our pleasur is, that yow and our Advocat informe your selflis of the estate and committers therof, and that yow persue them by due course of Law befoir whatsumever judge or judges compitent, to the effect that Justice may be putt to dew and speedie executioun vpon the offenders, and in regard we compt it verie good and acceptable service done vnto we that we have bene informed in a course tending to the punisching of such ane abuse done aganst ws, we ar pleased that with the halff of the benefite which shalhappin to aryse by the persute of these persones which is due to the pairtie informer, the halff lykwyse belonging to we be gevin to him vpon such reasonable composition as yow shall think fitt to modifie.—Whythall, 28 Nor 1631.

TO THE CHANCELLOUR.

Right, &c.—For as much as the Commission of Surrenders hath made a slow proceiding be reasone of the imployments of diverse of the Commissioners in our other necessarie services, and that we ar most desyreous to have the same at a poynt befor our comeing to that our kingdome, and have thoght meitt that a Committie be made of a fewer number that may be best spared from attending our other services in Counsell, session, and Exchequer for sitting daylie vpon the dispatch of that bussines, the list of whois names we have sent enclosed vnto yow, that yow may acquant the Commissioners of our will and pleasur therin: Therfor we desyre yow with all convenient diligence to convene and call the Commission togidder for establisching the said Committie according the roll and quorum therin sett doun, and therefter cause publicatioun to be made of this our pleasur, and Charge by oppin proclamation the persones nominated for the said Committie, as lykwyse all our subjects whom that bussines doe concerne, to attend the dayes and dyetts that shalbe assigned vnto them, according as we in our letter to the Commission have declared: Which recommending to your speciall care and the trust we repose in yow, we bid yow hartie fairwell.—Whythall, 29 Nor 1631.

TO THE ADVOCAT.

Trustie, &c.—Being informed that the Silver Mylne neir to our brugh of Linlythgew, tools and works therto belonging, which to the great charge and care of our late royall father ther wer erected for making and fyneing of silver vre ther ar broken down, stollen, and takin away, wherby, besyds the loss we have sustened, we exceidinglie mislyk that any durst attempt such lyk course: Our pleasur is, that haveing takin the advyse of our thesaurer deputic, to whome we have writtin to be ayding and assisting vnto yow heirin, yow informe your selff of the estate and committers therof, and that yow persew them by dew course of Law befoir whatsoever judge or judges compitent, to the effect justice may be putt to dew and speedie executioun vpon the offenders.—Whythall, 29 Nor 1631.

TO THE ERLE OF ANNANDALE.

We being informed that yow have both layed arreistments vpon hay of this yeir, which yow have fund to have bene vnjustlie takin away out of our Park and Medowis of Falkland (wheref yow ar the keeper), and vpon some Cattell fund therin other then our owin: Our pleasur is, that yow proceid according to the arreistment and aganst the transgressours in so far as yow ar warranted to doe as our stewart ther, causeing deteyne the Cattell within the parks and grounds belonging thairto till yow receave our further direction therin, and if any persone shall presume to breek your arreistment, we requyre yow to committ them to prissone till our further pleasur be made known vnto yow tuitehing them, whairof doe not faill, as yow wilbe answerable vnto ws.—Whythall, 29 Nor 1631.

TO THE ADVOCAT.

Trustie, &c.—Wheras we ar informed that our royall father did entrust the late Viscount of Stormont with severall charges and intromissions in his service, wherof he hath not in his tyme made accompt, We ar willing that our right, &c. the Erle of Annandale vse his best endeavours to find them out, and for his paines and charges to be takin therin Our pleasur is, that vpon information made vnto yow by the said Erle, or otherwyse, if any thing omitted by the said Viscount in that kynd, yow draw vp a signature or gift therof to pas our hand for the vse of the said Erle: And for your soe doeing these presents shalbe your warrand.—Whythall, 29 Nor 1631.

TO THE SESSION.

Right, &c.—Wheras we did formerlie recommend vnto yow in behalff of the reverend father in God, and our right trustic and weilbeloved Counsellour, Johne, bischop of Iles, all actions of Law depending or which should happin to cum befoir yow tuitching the restoreing of the bischoprik of Yles to that integritie which was intendit by our late dear royall father, wherin, thogh hitherto he hath not prevailed, he hath at lenth informed ws of the great care and paines alreadic takin by yow in the same, for which we give yow hartie thanks: And in regard the purpois is of that consequence which may much conduce to the advancement of religion and civilitie in these parts, we ernestlie recommend vnto yow to insist as yow have begun in all actions of that kynd, till the said bishoprik be restored, and speciallie in all such actions which concerne taks whervnto the said bischope hath or doe pretend a lawfull right, which we will accompt as verie acceptable service done vnto ws.—Whythall, 8 Der 1631.

TO THE ADVOCAT.

Trustic, &c.—Wheras the restoreing of the bischoprik of Yles to that integritic intended by our late father is a purpois much conduceing to advancement of religion and civilitie in these parts, and being informed that much consisteth in your care and diligence for bringing the same to ane good perfection, Our pleasur is, that ather in our name, or in the name of the said bischop of Ylis, or in both, as it shall seme most expedient vnto him, ye compeir and give your best concurrance in all actions of Law depending or which shallnappin to cum befoir our Colledge of Justice of that kynd, and spetiallie in all such concerning any taks whervnto the said bischop hath or doeth pretend a lawfull right, wherin as yow shall doe vnto we acceptable service, so we will tak particular notice therof; And being informed of a right which we have to the Yles, as being the antient propertie of our Croun, Our further pleasur is, that at the nixt meitting of the Handers befor our Counsall, yow deall with them for restoreing our right in a fair and equitable maner; but if yow doe find that they ar not content to goe on therin, that yow informe yourselff particularlie of our title and right thervnto, and acquant we therwith and with your proceidings with them tuitching that purpois, that at our comeing thither we may give such farder ordour therin as we shall find just caus.—Whythall, 8 Der 1631.

To the Counsell.

Right, &c.—Wheras we ar informed that one David Foulls hath aganst our lawis and contempt of our authoritie committed a ryot in entring violentlie and keiping a house belonging to ane other persone, dispossessing his wyff and children, and manteneing the fact by fortifying the house with muskets and pistolls, for which yow have caused committ him to prissone, becaus the fact is of a dangerous consequence and fitt to be tryed in the most strict and highest degrie according to our Lawis, it being lyklie that the said David hath bene ayded and encouraged thervnto by others: Our spetiall pleasur is, that yow caus try if any persones hath bene anywayes accessorie vnto the same; and if they be tryed and fund guiltie, that both the said David and they be punisched and censured according to our Lawis, that all others may be terrifeid from attempting the lyk heirefter.—Whythall, 8 Der 1631.

[No Address.]

Wheras we have made choyse of our trustie and weilbeloved Nicolas Briott, our cheiff graver of our Mynt of England, for the coyneing of a certane quantitie of copper coyne presentlie ordeaned by ws and our Counsall to be coyned in the mynt of that our kingdome, for which vse we have expreshed directed him thither: Our pleasur is, yow permitt him to sett vp and establish, in the most convenient place of our said mynt, all engynes and tooles necessarie for that work, and to give vnto him or his depute all concurrance and assistance till the said quantitie of copper be fullic coyned.—Whytball, 8 Der 1631.

TO THE EXCHEQUER.

Right, &c.—Being informed that the escheit and lyfrent of the goods, lands, and others mentioned in a signature which we have signed and sent vnto yow heirwith, which did belong to George Gordoun of Gight, ar now fallin in our handis, and at our gift and disposition, by his being denunced our rebell and remaneing at the horne above yeir and day vurelaxed; and being willing, for good considerations knowen vnto ws, to bestow the same vpon Patrik Maule, our servand, Our plesur is, that yow pas and cause exped the said signature vnder our privie seill according to the tenour therof and maner accustomed.—Whythall, 9 Der 1631.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—Wheras the reverend father in God, and our right trustie and weilbeloved Counsellour, Johne, bishchop of Iles, hath represented vnto ws the great barbaritie vsed amongst the Ilanders of his diocie, and how ther is no ordour amongst them for encreasing ather of religion or civill policie: And notwithstanding that ther ar Articles condescended vpon tuitching that purpois (none of them, as we ar informed, being observed), vit ther is no punischment inflicted youn the delinquents; Our pleasur is, that haveing appoynted a day in Aprill or May ensueing, yow call the cheif men amongst them befor yow, and by the advyse of the said bischop that yow vse your best meanes for establishing of religion and governement according to the effect above specificit; And if yow find that by that meanes yow cannot effectuat the same, that then yow deteyne them with yow, vntill that we ourselff shall cum to that our kingdome, that we may caus proceed therin as we shall find most requisit: And wheras we wer formerlie pleased to wryt vnto yow for dispensing with the appearance of the Captane of Clanronald vntill the nixt dyet of the Handers approvided to be in the spring of the veir, intending that the lyk generall course might have bene takin be him as with the rest of the Handers, haveing bene since informed by the said reverend father the bischop of Ylis, that aganst our lawis and in contempt of our authoritie a preist was violentlie takin out of his custodie by some persones who did depend vpon the said Captane, for whom he should be answerable, and besyds that violence was offered to the persone of the said bischop: Our pleasur is, ther be no dispensing with the said Captane's comperance, but that yow proceed aganst him as yow find the nature of the offence to requyre.—Whythall, 10 Der 1631.

TO THE LORD CHANCELLOUR.

Right, &c.—We have bene often importuned by petitions from James Kennedie for taking notice of certane rigorous and vajust delaying vsed by sindric ther aganst him, where f we, not knowing otherwyse the treuth, have thought fitt to send this his petition enclosed vato yow, willing and requyreing yow to call the parties interessed, and if yow find the information aganst them to be trew, that yow endeavour ane agriement betwixt them; or otherwyse, to certifie we how the caice standis, that accordinglie we may know how heirefter to putt off such importunite both from our selff and yow; wherin not doubting of your care, &c.—Whythall, 13 Der 1631.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—Wheras vpon our pleasur formerlie signified vnto yow tuitching the copper coyne, yow gave ordour for coyneing of fyftene hundreth stone weight of copper vnto farthing tokens of the lyk weight and value as they ar current in this kingdome: Being now informed by our Right, &c. the Viscount of Stirling, our principall Secretarie ther, that diverse of our loveing subjects conceave the division of the penney sterling formerlie vsed to be more convenient for exchange and reckonyng then the new division into four farthings, and that (for avoyding the danger of counterfitting, and for the more exactnesse of the impression) it is thought fit to mak the copper money of a greater proportion of weight: Our pleasur is, that the said quantitie of copper be coyned in several spaces of penny, tuo penny, and four penny peices, and that a fyftene part therof be coyned into penneyis weying eight granes the piece (being the weight formerlie allowed by yow to the farthings), and the remanent quantitie be equall division into two and four penny pieces of proportionable weight to the penny, causing distinguish them be ther bearing on the one syd the figure or number of ther value vnder ane imperial Croun with our Inscription, and on the other the Thistle with the vsuall Motto, and that ther be made of the said thrie peices the said quantitie of Copper so ordeaned by yow to have bene coyned in farthings, with what addition yow shall now or heirefter think fitt in regard of the alteration of the weight of the peices, and as the necessitie of the cuntrie shall requyre: Which Coyne we will to have course amongst our subjects for the vse of the poore and change of small commodite without any other imposition in the payment of great sowmes ther hath bene formerlie accustomed in the Copper Coyne of that our kingdome, or shall from tyme to tyme seme expedient vnto yow: And in regard of the necessitie of a speedic returne hither for occasion concerneing our service of Nicolas Bryat, our cheiff graver of our Mynt heir, whom we directit thither for Coyneing these moneyis, We spetiallie recommend vnto yow that no farder delay be made in putting that work to perfection.—Whythall, 13 Der 1631.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—We have sene the Lo/Vchiltrie his petition which yow sent vnto ws, and considering how requisite the conference with the divynes is for him at this tyme, and how necessarie for his affaires the meitting with his wyff or these his freindis on the imployment of that his servant at all occasions may be to him: Our pleasur is, that yow give warrant for these particulars, or for his further ease within the prisone as yow shall think fitt dureing the dependance of his tryell, according to the tenour of his petition, which we returne yow heirwith: For docing wherof these presents salbe to yow a sufficient warrant.—Whythall, 28 De^r 1631.

TO THE THESAURER AND DEPUTIE.

Right, &c.—Wheras diverse good considerations move ws to have a speciall care of what may concerne the estate of our Right, &c. the Duik of Lennox, espetiallie now in his absence, Our pleasur is, and we doe heirby will and Command yow, that yow furthwith mak good and readie payment to his curators, or others for his behaiff, of the pension which we have granted vnto him, yeirlie and termelie, according to the grant gevin thervpon, togidder with the arriers therof (if any be), and that notwithstanding of any warrant or ordour to the Contrarie: And for your soe doeing, &c.—Whythall, 29 Der 1631.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—Wheras vpon our pleasur formerlie signified vnto yow tuitching the Copper Coyne yow gave ordour for Coyneing fyftene hundreth stane weght of Copper into farthing tokens of the lyk weght and value as they are current in this our kingdome, being now informed by our right, &c. the Viscount of Stirling, our principall Secretarie ther, that diverse of our loveing subjects conceave the division of the penny sterling, &c. (as is forsaid in the other letter).—[Not dated.]

To the Session.

Right, &c.—We are informed by our right, &c. the Erle of Annandale that he hath some actions of Law depending befor yow, tuitching one whairof he was to have appeared upon the eight day of this moneth of Januar for giveing his oath befor yow, but being deteyned heir by appropriment of our Privice Counsall of this our kingdome for appearing befor them upon the twentie-thrid of this moneth, so that he can hardlie keip the said eight day ther, we recommend vnto yow to dispense with his appearance befoir yow till the last day of Februar ensueing, and till that tyme that no further proceiding be in that action concerneing Johne Murray of Brochton, or any other action concerneing the said Erle, becaus (as we ar informed) he hath particular interest therin as necessarlie requyre his owin presence; bot if at the said last of Februar be shall not appear and caus insist in these actions, We will that yow without further delay proceid therin according to the Lawis of that our kingdome: We bid yow hartlie farwell.—Whythall, 3 Jar 1632.

TO THE COUNSELL

Right, &c.—We wer well pleased to wryt vnto yow of late that our right, &c. the Erle of Roxburgh could not (in regard of occasions concerneing our service) repair to that our kingdome befor the fyftene day of this moneth of Januar, so the verie same occasions being a reasone vnto ws for his further stay, Our pleasnr is, that these bussines concerneing him signified by our former letter be continued till the fyftene day of Februar nixt ensueing; And to that effect that yow caus intimat this our pleasur to our Commissioners of Surrenders, and to the Committie appoynted by yow for giveing vp a trew rentall of the Abbacie of Kelso: Which recommending vnto your care, &c.—Whythall, 3 Jan^{*} 1632.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—We wer pleased some monethis agoe seriouslie to recommend vnto yow the speedie and exact tryell of the burning of the house of Frendraucht, and the death of the Viscount of Melgun, and other gentlmen that wer with him: But being now informed by the Lord Gordoun that, in regard of the publict bussines which continuallie occure vnto yow, yow cannot have convenience so speedelie to goe thrugh that tryell as the haynousnes of this cryme (if any shall be fund) doeth requyre, We therfor have thought fitt to propone to yow the desyre of the Lord Gordon, which is that a Committie furth of your number should attend without delay to performe that tryell, willing therfor and requyreing yow ather to give present way and ordour for expeiding of a Commission thervyon vnder the great seall of that our kingdome, or otherwayes, that by your owin authoritie yow establisch the lyk Committie in all poynts according to the tenour of the Commission sent yow heirwith; wherin not doubting of your conformitie to this our pleasur, we bid yow farewell.—Whythall, 9 Jar 1832.

TO THE CHANCELLOUR.

Right, &c.—Being informed of the good and acceptable services done vnto our royall father in the Midle Merchis of these our kingdomes by Harbert Maxwell, whose great aige and absence from thence (his ordinarie residence being within our realme of Irland) requyre our princelie commiseration in what in justice and equitie may concerne him; we to that prooff being lykwyse informed that he hath a lyfrent right of the Lands of Caverse and Mylne of Prestoun, have, vpon his humble sute for recommending his cause to the Colledge of Justice, thoght it more expedient to wryt vnto yow for dealing with the pairtie interested, for setling of him without trouble in his right, otherwayes, if he be-forced to seik it by course of Law, we, for the respects of his said service, aige, and ordinarie absens from that kingdome, doe recommend vnto yow to have a care that justice may be duelie and readelie administred vnto him, according vnto our lawis, in any action belonging vnto him which shalhappin to cum befor that Judicatorie; which we will tak as acceptable service done vnto ws.—Whythall, 9 Jar 1632.

TO THE EXCHEQUER.

Right, &c.—Wheras vpon spetiall considerations known vnto ws we have bene pleased to signe a signature in favours of our, &c. the Erle of Morton, our principall thesaurer of that our kingdome, which we have sent yow heirwith: Our pleasur is, that with diligence yow exped the same, according to the tenour therof: And for your soe doeing, &c.—Whythall, 13 Ja^r 1632.

To the Commissioners for Surrenders,

Right, &c.—Haveing sene the Overtures which yow sent hither to ws for expeding the valuations, wherby we perceave your care and affection for the speedie effectuating of our desyres in bringing that great work to ane end, we approve your judgments in the course yow have takin, and in the severall propositions which in these overtures yow have recommended to our consideratioun for the prosecution of the work heirefter, wherfor it is our pleasur that yow goe on to the establishing of the work according to these your propositions in everie severall poynt, and that yow appoynt of such as be of the Committie as hath bene alreadie made choyse of, and to supplie any of ther absences by others as yow shall think expedient, without secludeing any of the Commissioners who can be able to attend, and we doubt not bot the continuance of your care heirin will produce effects answerable to your intentions and our expectation, which we will tak as acceptable service done vnto ws.—Whythall, 13 Jar 1632.

TO THE COUNSELL AND EXCHEQUER.

Right, &c.—Wheras some Overtures hath bene propounded to ws by Sir W^m Seton, kny^t (as we ar informed), to our benefite and the good of our subjects in that our kingdome: Our pleasur is, that yow call him befor yow, and efter consideration of his propositions, if yow find them to be such as he affirmeth, that yow give ordour he proceid therin, and to that effect that yow give vnto him all assistance that he can awfullie demand, or the bussines shall necessarile requyre; And becaus he hath bene ane ancient and well deserving servand to our late dear father and ws, that yow pay vnto him, out of the first and readiest of the benefite that shall happin to aryse therby, the arrears of his pension; ffor deeing of all which these presents shalbe vnto yow and everie of yow a sufficient warrant: We bid, &c.—Whythall, 13 Jar 1632.

TO MR JAMES HANNAY.

Trustie, &c.—We have bene informed of the great paines yow have takin, and of the great charges yow have bene at in repairing the Abbay Church of Halyrudhous: And these ar to encourage yow to proceed as yow have begun, assureing yow with all that we will not suffer yow to be a loser any way therby, but will have yow payed for your charge of that work according to the warrant that was formerlie gevin by we vnto our Exchequer for that purpois, not doubting bot ordour wilbe takin for your payment accordinglie; and so we bid yow farewell.—From our Court at Whythall, 13 Jar 1632.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—Being informed that it would much conduce to the setling of our peace in the Midlchyris that our Commission thereof for that our kingdome be executed according to the intent of the same without advocation of any particular proper to be judged by vertew therof to any other our Judicatoreis, vuless yow shall find a necessitie to the contrarie, or a neglect in the Commissioners in putting anything in dew and tymelie execution committed to ther charge: Our pleasur is, that no replegiation be made of any particular incident to that Commission, vuless it be vpon the exceptions aforsaid, and wher any hath bene made, that the particular whervpon it did proceid be remitted bak to that Commission: We bid, &c.—Whythall, 16 Ja^{*} 1632.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—Wheras vpon your representing to ws the great loss sustened by Captan Robertsone, latelie deceissed, and the contempt offered vnto ws by some Hamburgers, we wer pleased to grant to him and his partiners letters of Reprysall, being now informed of his modest cariage befor his death, in his patiente suffering of his losses, without any violent course takin aganst any of the Hamburgers, dureing such tyme as yow (out of a respect to that state) had prescryved, and that now both the tyme limited is expyred, and no satisfaction gevin to him befor his death, nor since to his partiners, we ar gratiouslie pleased, vpon humble sute made vnto ws in behalff of Andrew Hensky, Johne Cowan, George Arnot, and other his partiners, and of his widow and children, that yow grant vnto any persone whom they shall mutuallie appoynt for that purpois letters of reprysall of new, according to the trew intent and provisions mentionat in the former, and to that effect that yow give ordour for expeeding therof vnder our great seall; and for your soe doeing these presents shall be vnto yow and our Chancellour, and all others quhom it may concerne, a sufficient warrant and discherge.—Gevin at Whythall, 16 Jar 1632.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—Haveing considered of your letter concerneing the Lo/ Vchiltrie, and of the process sent therwith, we doe conceive no necessitie of any further direction then was formerlie gevin; And that it is our pleasur that yow proceid according thervnto in the ordinarie way of Justice for his tryell; and as for the doubt arysing about the confronting of the said Lord with the Lord of Rea, they wer confronted befor the Committie appoynted by ws for that purpois in all such things as wer thought fit to be cleared between them at that tyme; and if any difference doe aryse in that kynd, where ye desyre to be resolved, acquant ws therwith, and ane answer shalbe returned with diligence: So expecting your diligence for a fair and legall tryell, we bid yow farewell.—Whythall, 16 Jar 1632.

TO THE SESSION.

Right, &c.—Haveing, vpoun speciall considerations for the good of our service, directed our Advocat to insist in our name by Law for reduction in a grant procured from ws to Mr William Forbes, late of Cragievar, of certane lands, tythis, and superioriteis holdin of the Abacie of Lundoris, wherin we have at some lenth writtin to our Advocat, to be more particularlie imparted by him vnto yow; We ar heirby pleased effectuallie to recommend vnto yow the action of reduction of that grante intendit befor yow, that Justice may be speedelie administred therin according to our lawis; which we will tak as verie acceptable service done vnto ws.—Whythall, 17 Jar 1632.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—We have heard of the perplexed Estate wherin the children of Johne Grant, late of Carron, ar left by debts, wherwith ther lands ar burdened, in seiking our lawes aganst the committers of his slaughter, and by the contraversie in Law between some of ther kinsmen in pretending to be ther tutours, wherby the governement of their estate hath bene hitherto neglected, so that if their creditours should at this tyme tak a strict course for sueing for their whol moneyis, it would altogidder ruinat the estate of the minors, and leave them in a miserable condition: And wheras we ar informed that their narrest kinsmen doeth offer to pay yeirlie to their creditours their annualrents, and to give sufficient securitie to pay vnto them, within a few number of yeires, their principall sownes; which offers seameing vnto ws to be reasonable, and the consideration of the vntymelie death of the father and the present estate of the children, being, as we ar informed, infants of four yeres or therabout of aige, moveing in was a princelic compassion towards them in so far as it is agricable to Law and equitie, we ar heirby pleased to recommend their caus vnto yow; and to that effect to call the creditours befor yow and propound vnto them the saids offers, wherof if they will not accept, we requyre yow to certifie ws thairof, togidder with your opinions how far we may cause proceid according to equitic and the lawis of that our kingdome, for the good of the saids minors, without prejudice to the creditours.—Whythall, 17 Jar 1632.

TO THE ADVOCAT.

Right, &c.—Wheras, vpon severall informations made vnto ws by some of our subjects haveing lands and tythis of the Abbacie of Lundoris, and ypon your opinion in Law, certifeid (as we ar informed) to the Commissioners of Exchequer, of the vnlawfulnes of a grant of the heretable offices, superioriteis, and others mentionat therin, procured by William Forbes, late of Cragievar, wherof not onlie we in our right, bot these vassalls, wer lyklie to have bene exceedinglie prejudged, we wer pleased to require yow to reduce the said grant in our name; whervpon a submission being offered vnto ws by Sir William Forbes, his sone, whairof we would not accept becaus of the reservations and provisions therin, We did wryt vnto some of that Commission and your selff for composeing the differences betuixt him and the vassalls tuitching things to be performed by each pairtie to other, and the benefite that might therby aryse vnto ws; otherwyse to certific vnto ws the reasones and your opinions therin: Notwithstanding (without answer returned) we are now informed by James Chalmers, phisician in Ordinarie to ws, and our dearest sone the Prince, that vpon the said Sir William his preferring of a new signature to our Exchequer, wherby, to wrong ws and the saids vassalls, some of them have bene moved to compone and agrie onlie with the said Sir William for new grants, and that such of them as would not bot stand our right have bene forced at severall tymes to cum from ther duellings to Edinburgh, wher, never being called vpon by the said Sir William, they have returned, to ther great prejudice: Our spetiall pleasur is, and we doe heirby command yow, that without further delay yow proceid and prosecute the reduction of the grant procured by his said father, and that according to our lawis, as yow will tender the good of our service; and that in all other things concerneing that purpois yow carefullie advert that nothing be done therin that may anywayes prejudge ws in our right, and to that effect that yow acquant the Lords of our session and Exchequer with our pleasur heirin. —Whythall, 17 Jar 1632.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—Wheras we ar informed that yow have of late appoynted the 19 of this moneth for the compeirance of all those that ar interested in the estate of the Erldome of Bothwell, to hear your proceidings concerneing the rentalls of the said Erledome: Sieing our right, &c. the Erle of Buccheuch cannot repair to that our kingdome, for considerations knowen to ws, at the day presrryved by yow, Our pleasur is, that what may concerne the said Erle in the tryell in the rentalls of the said Erldome of Bothwell yow contenew the same vntill the 15 of Februar ensueing, and to that effect that yow caus intimat this our pleasur to such persones as yow shall find it may concerne: Which recommending vnto your care, we bid, &c.—Whythall, the 17 Jar 1632.

TO THE THESAURER DEPUTE.

Right, &c .- Wheras, for the recoverie of the losses, both of tyme and meanes, susteaned by the Reverend father in God the Bischop of the Yles in prosecuting that charge conferred vpon him by ws, We were pleased to grant vnto him a precept of 600lib sterling, togidder with a pension of 300lib sterling, till the temporall estate of that bischoprik wer fullie restored, wherof (as we ar informed) he hath not as vit receaved any payment, wherby he is lyklie to be troubled by his Creditours, to whom he standeth engadged for moneyis borrowed by him for that service; least the charges in that function (it being of all others of that kynd in that our kingdome the most troublesome, and most necessarie to be executed) should be deserted for want of meanes, espetiallie sieing our late royall father and ourselff hath takin so great paines for establishing therof, as a purpois so much conduccing to the good and quyet of these parts, and setling of religion ther, and that it concerneth ws in honour not to sie him suffer, by relyeing ypon what we had ypon so good considerations intended for him: Our pleasur is, and we doe heirby will and command yow, that furth with yow pay vnto him, or such of his creditours as he shall assigne vnto yow, the said pension, with the arreirs of the same, Togidder with the moneyis of the said precept, according to the intent thairof, and that notwithstanding of any former warrant or restraynt, for whatsoever caus or occasion gevin, to the contrair: And for your soe doing these presents shalbe vnto you and everic of you a sufficient [warrant] and discharge,-20 of Jar 1632.

C. Rex., subscripsit Fiat.

Our Soveraigne Lord, considering That King James the Fourt, of worthie memorie, did by advyse of Parliament speciallie discharg, under the pane of punishment as reaff, that no persones should presume to exact or tak, vnder the name of Caulps, the best aucht, whither it war ox, cow, horse, or mare, from aney of his subjects of the kingdome of Scotland, which was ratifeld by his Mateis late royall father and estats of Parliament in his tyme; And his Matie considering that the abuse is most barbarous and not to be suffered in any civill kingdome, and without putting these laudable acts in executioun the abuse can hardlie be rectifeid, And how it is necessar that a sufficient and able persone be made choyse of for prosecuting of that his Mateis service: Therfor his Matie, with speciall advyse and consent of his Mateis Right, &c. the Erle of Morton, and of his Mateis weilbeloved Counsellour Johne, Lord Stewart of Traquair, his Mateis deputie thesaurer in that kingdom, and of the remanent of the Commissioners of the Exchequer thairof, Ordeanes a Commission to be made and exped vnder his highnes' great seall ther, Giveing full power and commission to his Maties trustie and weilbeloved Captan William Campbell and his deputts, for whome he is to be answerable, To search and try out, dureing the space of fyve yeires, all such persones who have in ther tymes (allanerlie) transgressed the said Act of Parliament in exacting or taking vnder the name of Caulps the best aucht, whither it wer ox or horse, mare or cow, from any of his Mateis subjects; And doe hereby grant vnto the said Captan William and his forsaids, dureing the saids veires, full power and authoritie to call and cite the saidis transgressours befoir whatsumever judges or judicatorie compitent, and therby the speciall assistance and concurrance of his Majestie's Advocat for the tyme to question and accuse them or any of them according to the decrees and sentences which shall happin to be pronounced by the saids judges, with speciall command to his Mateis said Advocat to compeir and concure to that effect; with power to the said Captan Williame and his forsaids to compone, transact, and agrie with such of the transgressours as shalhappin to acknowledge ther faults therin, and be willing to give composition for the same to his Maties vse, wherof the one halff to be receaved by the said Captau William and his forsaids, and made accompt of by them to his Mateis principall thesaurer, and the other halff to be deteyned by the said Captan and his forsaids to ther owin vse as ther propper goods for the paynes and charges vndergone and expended be them in that service, and that the acquittances and discherges to be gevin by him to them shalbe a sufficient discharge and exoneration to the saids transgressours or any of them in all tyme cumeing for the saids abuses formerlie committed be them, or otherwyse, that a certificat vnder the said Captane or his forsaids hands shalbe as sufficient to the keeper of the great seall and writter thervnto for making and expeeding to all the saids transgressours, or any of them, generall or particular pardones or remissiones, as they shall best condescend vpon for ther being discherged of the saids facts and abuses so committed by them or any of them at any tyme preceiding; With speciall command and direction lykwyse to the Lords of his Ma^{teis} Privie Counsall to give out from tyme to tyme, dureing the saids yeires, letters and charges for strenthning of the said Captane and his forsaidis to putt the said service and acts of parliament in Execution in maner as is above exprest; And to that effect to command (if neid beis) the schirreffis of the pairts, wher the saidis transgressours doe remane, or shall for the tyme, to apprehend and present them to Justice in caice of ther dissobedience to transact in a fayr maner with the said Captane or his forsaids; And his Ma^{tie} ordeanes thir presents to be a sufficient warrant to the keeper of the great seall and wryter thervnto for wryting heirof for the said seall, and appending the great seall therto.—Whythall, 23 Ja^{*} 1632.

May it pleas your most sacred Matie-

Your Ma^{tie} doeth heirby constitute M^r Robert Lyndsay, sone of Bernard Lyndsay, deceised, during his lyff, your Ma^{teis} searcher and taker of schipps and goods to be imported or exported at the portes of Leith and Newhaven and Mylheaven, with all feyis and priviledges belonging to that office, as his said father or as his brother Bernard Lyndsay, younger, had the same, which office the said Bernard, younger, in regards of his service in the warres with the Marqueis of Hamilton, hath disponed to his said brother M^r Robert.—Whythall,

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—Wheras we have bene petitioned by Andrew Fethie to have libertie to goe to that our kingdome, that by him selff and Lawers he may be heard in judgment for causes in Law concerneing his aged parents, Becaus ther estate requyreth ane princelie compassion, his father (as we ar informed) being blind, and his mother a criple, haveing litle or no meanes, we have thoght fitt to remitt the consideratioun of the enclosed petition vnto yow, if at the sight of the right reverend father in God, and our trustie and weilbelovit Counsellour, the Archbischop of S^t Androis, the petitioner shall cum himselff modestlie, without giveing scandale to the professed religion, we requyre yow to grant vnto him what tyme and libertie shalbe requisit for following his saids parents' actions and his owin, and to that effect that yow signific our pleasur heirin to our Colledge of Justice: We bid yow hartlie farewell.—Whythall, 28 Jar 1632.

To the Archbischop of Glasgow,

Right, &c.—Wheras Doctour Whytfurd, our Chaplane, who hath deserved verie well of ws, is to remove from his Church at Moffat: And we being desyreous to sie that place well provydit agane, have made spetiall choyse of ane for that purpois, wherin we have signified our pleasur to the right reverend the Archbischop of S^t Androis: These ar to desyre yow to admitt of the man whom he from we shall nominat to succeid in place of the said Doctour, and we will esteme the same as verie acceptable service done vnto ws.—Whythall, 28 Ja^r 1632.

TO THE CLERGIE.

Right, &c.—Your greevances being represented vnto ws by the right, &c. Archbischop of St Androis, and by the right, &c. bischop of Murray, efter diverse conferences haveing fullic considered therof, we have accordinglic gevin ordour for provyding of the remedie, and for preventing inconveniences heirefter, wheref we doubt not bot the Committie made choyse out of the Commissioners for surrenders for the more speedie dispatch of such affaires will have a speciall care; and we doe heirby earnestlic requyre yow to give your best assistance heirin that no delay be in your fault, And be assured that we will no way lett the Church suffer therby, bot will have a care of that which is hir due, being ever willing, where ther is reasone and meanes to doe the same, rather to augment nor diminish your benefite: And soe, as yow would have we to doe for yow expecting your best endeavours for the speedie accomplisching of that good work, We bid, &c.—Whythall, 28 Jar 1632.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—Being informed that vpon some considerationes we were pleased not long since to grant a protection to Sir Johne Leslie of Wardess, and a certane number of his cautioners, from being troubled by their creditours for some schort tyme, and hearing that a number of the said Sir Johne Leslie his cautioners wer omitted in the said protection, wherby their estats ar lyklie to be seized vpon, We have thought fitt for their better ease to recommend spetiallie vnto yow that these cautioners omitted, whois names shall be given up to yow, performing to the creditours such things as ar mentioned in the said protection, the lyk in all respects be granted vnto them, and that the same be immediatlie exped (without further trouble to ws) vnder our great seall for which these presents shalle vnto yow, our Chancellour, and others whom it may concerne, a sufficient warrant.—Whythall, 28 Jar 1632.

TO THE BISCHOP OF CARLILE.

Reverend father in God, &c.—We wer formerlie pleased to wryt vnto yow in a particular tuitching our servant Sir Ritchart Grhame, kny⁴ and baronet, and the persone of Bewcastle, wherin we ar informed that yow have vsed your best endeavours to obey our directions, for which we give yow hartie thanks: But hearing since that some lett hath bene in the prosecution therof, contrairie to our royall intention, by wanting of our further warranting of yow to that purpois, Our speciall pleasur is, and we will heirby command yow, furthwith to proceid in that particular according to our former direction signified by our letter; and for your more absolute warrand for what yow doe in that particular, and what is fitt to be done in caices of the lyk kynd, yow shall schortlie receave our further warrant for authorising of yow, wherin be confident that we shall not be anywayes wanting as occasion shall fittle requyre to encourage your proceidings.—Whythall, 2 Febr 1632.

TO THE EXCHEQUER.

Right, &c.—Wheras we ar informed by a certificat from our Counsell that, according to the vndertaking of our servant Edward Kellie, he hath performed all thingis necessarie for the vse of our Chappell royall, aganst our comeing to that our kingdome, and doeth vndertak to continew that service therin in lyk due and ordourlie maner in all tyme heirefter, and to have alwyse in readines sufficient Musick for our Coronation, and all other Church musick necessarie: To the effect the musitianes and others belonging to that Chapell be manteaned, with the rents belonging thervuto, and our Exchequer disburdened of the present allowance of 3000 merkis scotts yeirlie, payable to them for ther mantenance till they be provyded, We ar pleased to send vnto yow the signature heirwith enclosed conceaved in favours of the said Edward for the vse of our Chappell; and haveing ealled vpou yow the reverend father in God, and our trustic and weilbeloved Counsellour, the bischop of Dumblane, the deane thairof, and haveing pervsed the said signature, if yow find no thing therin that doeth prejudge ws, Our pleasur is, that yow furth with exped the same vnder our Cachet and great seall; and for your soe doeing these presents shalbe vnto our Chancellour and other whom it may concerne a sufficient warrant and discherge; And that yow assist our said servant in all things for the furtherance of that service, which we will tak as acceptable service done vnto ws.—Whythall, 2 Feb 1632.

TO THE COMMISSIONERS OF PARLIAMENT.

Right, &c.—Wheras of late our Parliament was prorogated by yow according to our royall direction till such a day as we thought fitt we could have been ther ourselff in persone: And now considering we can not be ther at that tyme, and yit being vnwilling to be absent from our said parliament, and desyreous to receave our Croun in persone, and to setle all bussines ther if our affaires convenientlie permitt we to repair thither as we carnestlie desyre: Our pleasur is, and we doe heirby authorize, will, and requyre yow to cause fense our said Court of parliament by vertew of our Commission granted vnto yow to be to prorogat or continew the said parliament agane to the 13 of August nixtocum, with continuatioun of dayes, that we may have tyme to setle our affaires heir, befor we begin our journey towards that our ancient kingdome: And for your soe doeing these presents shalbe your sufficient warrant.—Whythall, 9 Febr 1632.

TO THE COUNSELL

A Letter conforme to the preceiding letter that was writtin vnto the Counsell concerning the prorogating of the parliament was writtin the 9 Feb^r 1632, at Whythall, that it may be continewed to the 13 of August nixt ensueing.—9 Feb^r 1632.

TO THE SESSION.

Right, &c.—Wheras we wer informed that ther ar some actions in Law betwixt our Toun of Edinburgh and the Inhabitants of Leith, presentlie depending befor yow, in regard our said burgh is to give speciall attendance in our service at our home comeing, God willing, this yeir to that our kingdome: We ar pleased to recommend vnto yow in a serious maner that speedie justice be administred in all such actions in soe far as yow shall find agricable to justice and the Lawis of that our kingdome, without delay therin: So not doubting of your care in that, we bid, &c.—Whythall, 9 Febr 1632.

TO THE SESSION.

Right, &c.—Wheras we ar informed that ther ar several actions in Law to cum in befor yow for preservation of the rights and priviledges of our frie royall burgh of that our kingdome, and for rectificing, according to Justice and the lawis therof, such abuses wherof we ar informed diverse burghes of baronic have vsed aganst them, by encroaching upon ther ancient priviledges and liberteis: Sicing that they of all other the burghes of that kingdome ar onlie lyable to the payment of our taxatiouns and have voit in parliament: And that they have gevin reall prooff, both in the tyme of our late royall father and our owin, of ther affection to our service: And to the effect they may the more readelic and convenientlic attend vpon the same now at our comeing to that our kingdome which we intend this yeir, We ar heirby pleased in a particular maner to recommend vnto your serious care that speedic justice be administred in all such actiones that may tend to the reformation of these abuses committed by the saidis brughs of baronic, or which otherwayes may concerne our said frie burgh, in so far as yow sall find agricable to justice and lawis of that our kingdome, And that they be not frustrat or delayed heirin; which lykwyse we recommend to your care, and bid yow fairwell.—Whythall, 9 Febr 1632.

TO THE COUNSALL.

Right, &c.—Wheras we formerlie wryt vnto yow tuitching Our burgh of Edinburgh, that thay might enjoy ther priviledges and liberteis according to the Chartour granted to and confirmed by diverse of our royall progenitours, and conforme to the severall acts of parliament made therepon, and being willing in our tyme to approve what vpon so warrantable grounds hath bene granted vnto them: And haveing therwith considered the reall prooffs they have gevin, both in tyme of our late royall father and our owin, for advanceing our service recommended vnto them: We doe heirby spetiallie recommend vnto yow that in all such causes concerneing ther rights and priviledges as cum befoir yow, they may have ordour gevin for setling therof as our Lawes doe allow, with all convenient expedition, and in all things of that nature that ar judged befoir our Colledge of Justice, or any other Judge compitent, that yow vse your authoritie in so far as the nature of the caus shall requyre for putting of the same in execution, that they may frielie enjoy the saidis rights in the accustomed maner according to our pleasur formerlie signified to that purpois.—Whythall, 9 Febr 1632.

TO THE COUNSELL

Right, &c.—Being informed of the great abuses committed in the Torwood, by cutting of trees and killing of the deir and otherwayes, and being verie desyreous that a strict course may be takin for the better preservation therof therefter: It is our pleasur that yow grant a Commission, with full power to the keeper thairof to persew according to the lawes of that our kingdome all such delinquents, as weill for our part as for his owin: And that yow be readie to give him your best assistance in the said persute, whersoever it shalbe desyred of yow, as lykwyse that yow tak him strictlie bund for the keeping therof in tyme comeing; and in consideration of the Charges he is to be at, that yow delyver vnto him all fynes to be takin for the tyme bygone for his owin vse: And for your soe, &c.—Whythall, 9 Feb. 1632.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—Wheras we had determined to repair to that our ancient kingdome this nixt somer, which, as we had of a long tyme extreamelie desyred, soe we had at the said tyme most certanelie resolved so to doe: Bot now in regard of some late considerations speciallie concerneing forrayne affaires, the estate where is sufficiently knowen to be verie considerable at this tyme; And we ar induced to continew our comeing till the nixt yeir, at which tyme, God willing, we shall not faill to cum; And for that effect we have presentlie to goe: And as for our parliament ther, We have sent yow warrant heirwith to prorogat the same till the 13 of August nixt, that it may be prorogat from that tyme till the certane tyme that we are to repair thither, valess yow shall think it more fit to prorogat it presentlie at the first till the said tyme: And in that caice we will and doe authorize our Commissioners for the parliament heirby to prorogat the same to the eightene day of Junij the nixt yeir, bot remitting the doeing of the one and the other as yow shall think most fitt.—[Not dated.]

TO THE CHANCELLOUR.

Right, &c.—We ar informed from Mr Nathaniell Edward that he is confident of a way for improveing the bussines of Salt, both to the generall good of our kingdomes and our particular benefite, without any greevance to the subjects, which way he is desyreous to approve first ther, and to your hearing; We therfore have thoght fitt to will and requyre yow to tak the joynt assistance of the Lord Privie Seall and Thesaurer deputie, and call the said informer and some of the cheif Salt makers befor yow, to hear and consider of such propositions as he shall mak to them and ther answers, and to returne to ws your opinion of both that we may therefter resolve how far it may be fitt for ws to proceed therin: So not doubting of your careful diligence heirin: We bid, &c.—Whythall, 18 Febr 1632.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—We doe send yow heirin enclosed tuo crosse petitions, the one conteyning a charge of so barbarous oppression of the poore, and the other so fair a profession of Innocencie, as doe justlie deserve ane exact tryell and exemplarie punischment of the delinquent: And becaus we can hardlie believe that any gentlman would so far wrong himselff ather to committ such a ryot or haveing done it so confidentlie to plead innocencie; Nor on the other part that so meane ane accuser durst without great ground of treuth appeall to our justice, and knowinglie incurreth punischment due to so bold and malicious detractions: We therfor have thoght fitt to recommend to yow the tryell of both, and the repairing or punischment of ather as yow in justice shall find caus, willing and requyreing yow to give vnto the complener your protection aganst the horning as he alledgeth vnjustlie led aganst him, and that for such compitent tyme as yow in your wisdomes shall think fitt; wherin not doubting of your carefullnes and conformitie to this our pleasur.—Whythall, 18 Febr 1632.

Charles, by the grace of God, &c.—To our right trustic and weilbeloved Cousen and Counsellour the Erle of Morton, Thesaurer of our kingdome of Scotland, the Erle of Stratherne, President of our privice Counsall, the Viscount of Stirling, our principall Secretaric of our said kingdome, greeting: Wheras we have been pleased by our letter of gift vader our privice seall of our said kingdome, bearing the date the 9 of De[†] 1630, To constitute M^r Walter Neish our Isher of our Excheker ther: Our pleasur therfor is, and we doe heirby will, requyre, and desyre yow and everic of yow, joyntlic and severallic, to tak the said M^r Walter, sworne by his oath de fideli administratione officii in our said service, and admitt him to be our actuall servand in the said office, and for that effect that yow choyse a Clerk or notter, whome we doe heirby authorise and ordeane to Extract and delyver to the said M^r Walter authentik acts and instruments in the premisses, and for your soc doeing here in England we dispense with the place: And these presents shalbe vnto yow and everic of yow, as vnto the said Clerk or notter and the said M^r Walter, a sufficient warrant and Commission.—Whythall, 19 Feb^r 1632.

TO THE EXCHEQUER.

Right, &c.—Wheras we send heirwith inclosed vnto yow a signature of Ten thowsand pund sterling in favours of our Right, &c. the Lord Viscount of Stirling, to be past and exped by yow vnder our great Seall, least any mistaking should ensue therepon, we have thought it good to declare vnto yow that (as it may appear by itselff) it is nowayes for quyting the title, ryght, or possession of New Scotland, or of any part therof, but onlie for satisfaction of the losses that the said Viscount hath, by giveing ordour for removeing of his Colony at our express command, for performing of ane Article of the Treatie betuixt the French and ws, and we are so far from abandoneing of that bussines as we doe heirby requyre yow and everic ane of yow to affoord your best belp and encouragement for furthering of the same, cheiffle in perswading such to be baronets as ar in qualitie fit for that dignitie, and come befor yow to seik for favour from ws, but remitting the maner to your owin judgment, and expecting your best endeavours heirin, willing thir presents to be insert in your books of Excheker and ane Act made thervpon: We bid, &c.—Whythall, 19 Febr 1632.

TO THE COUNSELL

Right, &c.—Being informed that Sir William Ker of Blaikhop, knyt, brother to the late Erle of Lothian, taketh vpon him the title of the Erle of Lowthiane without our licence or authoritie, or without proceiding [by] course of Law to defate the right of his said brother's eldest daughter and hir husband, who have proceidit more ordourlie in the right of the said Erle by the letters patent grantit vnto him by our late royall father, which we have sene and considered, and have proceidit therin as we thoght just and fitt: Our pleasur is, that yow call the said Sir William befoir yow, and haveing reprehended him for taking vpon him the said title without warrant from ws, that yow charge him in our name that he presume not heirefter to tak vpon him any title of nobilitie which did belong to his said brother, or to tak any place or prerogative therby without our licence, requyreing yow to mak this knowen in such sort at the Counsell boord, that if he absent himselff it may come to his knowledge, and that yow cause mak ane Act of Counsell for discharging him, his sone and successours, and his brethren and ther Children, to vse any of the titles belonging to the said late Erle, without the said Sir William doe insist by due course of law evict the same as justlic belonging to him, that our subjects may be warnit not to give to him or any of them such title heirefter, bot vnto such vpon whom by our letters patents we have conferred the same.— Whythall, 19 Febr 1632.

TO DOCTOUR WHYTFOORD,

Trust, &c.—Wheras we and our father, of blissed memorie, wer gratiouslie pleased to wryt to our Chancellour and the Archbischop of Glasgow that in the action depending befoir our Colledge of Justice betuixt the Lord Boyd and Sir James Cleland, knyt, nothing should be determined to the prejudice of our right, &c. the Lord Blantyre, till his taks of Monkland and Calder wer ratifeid: And though of late we wer lykwyse pleased to wryt in your favours to the said Colledge that justice might be administred vnto yow with all convenient diligence, for your interest in that bussines, yit we wer so far from thinking that your ends wer then to question the said Lord his taks, that we beleived yow had gevin him satisfaction befor that tyme theranent: Our pleasur is, that as yow tender our service, yow proceid no longer in such rigorous course with him as yow have done heirtofoir, bot that yow tak such a course for his satisfaction heir, that we may not be farther troubled heirwith: And so much the rather becaus we ar informed he did contribute his best endeavours for your setling ther: And with all (be reasone that yow have engadged your-selff by promeis vnto him for ratificing of the saidis taks) not doubting of his conformitie to this our pleasur, &c.—Quhythall, 19 Febr 1632.

TO THE ADVOCAT.

Trustie, &c.—Wheras our right, &c. the Lord of Lowden hath, according to the generall course intended by our Commission for surrenders, and by a particular Contract between ws and him, surrenderd in our favours his heretable offices of his schirrefschip of Air, regalitie and Justiciaric of Kylsmure and Barmure, with the superiorite and few-dewte thair of, we, for performance of a part of that contract, ar pleased to secure him of all such lands whair of he or his predicessours have, according to the lawis of that our kingdome, acquyred the right of propertie: Our pleasur is, that yow pervse the Contract and what is to be performed on our part for secureing these lands to him, his aires-male, and assigneyis, that furth with, by advyse of our theasurer and deputie, draw vp from we in his and ther favours a signature of the same, to be exped vnder our Cachet and great seall ther, and that yow express therin these landis by ther severall and accustomed names: for doeing of all which these presents shall vnto yow, and other officers whom it doeth concerne, a sufficient warrant: We bid yow farewell.—Whythall, 19 Febr 1632.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—We ar informed of the hard estat of Robert Levingstoun by being suirtie for Johne Levingstoun of Donypace, younger, to whome for some good Considerations we had for some tyme granted a protection, Though the distress of the said Robert in that kynd, occasioned, as we ar informed, by the others necessite is, doeth seame to requyre the lyk pitie and proportion of our favour; yit vpon his humble sute made vnto ws for the same, we would not absolutelie grant it till yow had first considered his case heirin, and how far it war fitt to proceid in his behalff without defrauding his Creditours, To which purpois we have sent yow heirwith a protection, that if yow find his estate heirin, to require the lyk favour as was granted vnto the said Johne, and that though the Creditours ly out of ther moneyis for some schort tyme, that they will not be defrauded of what shalbe fund dew by the said Robert as suretie for him, Yow caus expeid the said protection vnder our great seall, for which these shalbe sufficient warrant.—Whythall, 4 May 1632.

To the Archbischop of ST Androis.

Right, &c.—Wheras we did formerlie wryt vnto yow and to the Clergie of that our kingdome concerneing the receaveing of the Psalmes that wer translated by our late dear father to be sung in the Churches ther, which we particularlie recommended vnto yow at your last being heir, and haveing a great desyre that the same may be establisched with all possible convenience, sieing the sufficiencie therof hath bene approvin by all our kingdomes: It is our pleasur that yow call vnto yow such of the bischops of that our kingdome as yow can convenientlie have, and that yow resolve vpon the maner and tyme when they shalbe receaved, that ordour may be gevin for provydeing of books to that effect; and so not doubting bot, as yow tender that work and the memorie of our father, yow will have a care therof: We bid, &c.—Whythall, 5 of May 1632.

TO THE PRIMAT OF ARDMAUGH,

Right reverend father in God, and right, &c.—We have bene informed of your approbatioun of the Psalmes translated by our late dear father and of your affection to his memoric therin, which is verie acceptable vnto ws; And in regard that we ar desyreous that these Psalmes be receaved in all the Churches of our dominions, and that ther is a cours taking for that effect: These ar lykwyse to requyre yow, with advyse of such of the bischops or others of the Clergie of that our kingdome as may convenientlie soonest meitt with yow, to consider of some course wherby our desyre heirin may be best effectuated, and acquant ws with the same, which we will esteme as verie acceptable vnto ws; and expecting your best and speediest endeavours heirin, we bid yow farewell.—Whythall, 5 May 1632.

TO THE MINISTERIE OF EDINBURGH.

Trustie, &c.—Wheras we have bene pleised at this tyme to signific our pleasur vnto the right, &c. the Archbischop of St Androis, for calling vnto him such of the bischops of that our kingdome as convenientlie he could for resolveing vpon the maner and tyme when the Psalmes translated by our late royall father might be receaved and sung in the Churches therof; wherin knowing how much your care and paynes may contribute to that purpois, and being confident of your affection to our service and love of a work of that kynd, which is approved in those our other kingdomes, we have thoght fitt spetiallie to recommend the same vnto yow for vseing your best endeavours that these Psalmes be receaved and sung in our Churches of our burgh of Edinburgh, haveing for your better assistance therin writtin to the Magistrats of that burgh; and wherin not doubting bot the effects of your endeavours will answer our expectation, We bid, &c.—Whythall, 5 May 1632.

TO THE BURGH OF EDINBURGH.

Trustie, &c.—Wheras we have caused pervse the Psalmes that wer translated by our late dear father, the sufficiencie whairof hath bene approved in all our dominions, we are desyreous that the sampne may be generallie receaved and sung in all the Churches of our kingdomes, and have gevin severall ordour to the Clergic thereof to that effect: And as we are confident of your affection to any thing may concerne our service, and cheiffice what may concerne the memoric of our said father, we have thought good to requyre you that yow would concurre with your ministric for the furtherance of our desyre in this particular, according to the ordours shalbe prescryved be the Clergic for that effect, not doubting but as yow are the cheif of our brughs in that our kingdome, and have bene the first in other things concerning our service ther, so yow will give exemple to others for effectuating of what we so carnestlic desyre in this: Which recommending vnto your care, &c.—Whythall, 5 May 1632.

TO THE CHANCELLOUR.

Right, &c.—Wheras, vpoun good Consideratiouns schawin vnto ws, We did grant a Commission of late for reviseing the Acts of Parliament, that such of them as wer considered and collected by our Commissioners appropried for that purpois might be in readines to be rectified and ordoured in the nixt parliament, according to the intent of that Commission: Bot heiring that little or no progress was made in that bussines, and we still intending to have all things tuitching that purpois in readines at our comeing thither, God willing, the nixt yeir, ar heirby pleased that in our name yow requyre the saids Commissioners to proceid according to the meaneing of the said Commission, which (if neid be) we ar willing to be renewed; otherwayes, if at the holding of our first parliament anything shalbe defective in that kynd, we cannot bot be discontent, and imput the faill vnto them.—Whythall, 5 May 1632.

· To the Chancellour Hadinton, Winton, Carnagie, Advocat.

Right, &c.—Being informed of some differences betuixt Sir Robert McClellane of Bombie, knyt, gentlman of our privie Chalmer in ordinarie, and Johne Gordoun of Lochinvar, which hapned dureing our said servant his charge of a horse Companie in Irland, from whence he could hardlie repair thither without spetiall licence from our generall of our Armie ther: And being willing that these differences be removed in a fair and quyet maner, that our said servand be not distracted from his charge, Our pleasur is, that yow call them befor yow, and haveing informed yourselffis of the estate of these differences, that yow vse your best endeavours to compose the same, or certifie ws of the reasones of the pairtie fund refractorie by yow to this course, that yow may give such farder ordour therin as we shall find just caus.—Whythall, 5 May 1632.

TO THE EXCHEQUER.

Right, &c.—Hearing that for the farthering of our service Johne Stewart of Coldinghame did subscryve the generall submission, haveing therby denudit him selff in our favours of his right to that abbacie, and such persones to whome for payment of his debts he hath made conveighances therof and disposeing of that estate to his hurt: To which purpois he hath humblie petitioned ws that we might not sie him suffer for his affection to our service, spetiallie by these who hath not submitted for ther interest in that estate as he hath done, whervinto, and for our owin interest, haveing a respect that we nor ye he not prejudged, Our pleasur is, that hencefurth no signature concerning that abbacie be exped in exchequer till we be first acquanted therwith, that we may give such farther ordour therin as we shall find to accord with justice and equitie.—Whythall, 8 May 1632.

TO THE SESSION

Trustie, &c.—Wheras we ar informed that vpon the signification of our plesur vnto yow for admission of Robert Crachton and Alex⁷ Alexander to the first vacand places of Maisserie, yow have alreadie admitted the said Robert to the place of ane Chalmers, who did bear that Charge, and being lykwyse willing that the said Alex⁷ Alexander, who hitherto hath bene, and heirefter may be, as occasion presents, imployed abroad in our service, may lykwyse enjoy the benefite of our royall intention, and that by his absence at any tyme he be not theref frustrat, Our spetiall pleasur is that the attending to our former letter to that purpois, he be preferred to the first vaiking place of Maiserie thats halhappin to vaik by death, dimission, or deprivation, or aney way else howsoever, and that at his comeing he may be receaved thervnto, and the former Act of Counsell and Sederunt be renewed in favours of the said Alexander Alexander to that effect; and for your soe doing these presents shalbe your sufficient warrant.— Greenwitch, 18 May 1632.

TO THE EXCHEQUER.

Right, &c.—We ar informed by the Lord Naper that our late royall father did give vnto him a benefite out of the Tallow transported furth of that our kingdome, and that thervpon ther ar Acts of Exchequer, of which gift ther is yit a remander vnpayed to him: It is our pleasur that he enjoy the said benefite, as the foirfaltours shall occure, till he be fullie payed of that which yow shall find to be justlie dew vnto him, And if neid he, to tak acts of new to that purpois, Causing registrat these presents, which shalbe a sufficient warrant.—Greenwich, 18 May 1632.

TO THE COUNSELL

Right, &c.—Wheras we ar informed that be vertew of our letters of reprysell granted to Captan Robertsone, deceissed, some schippis and goodis of the Hamburgers have bene takin of late by his partiners, who being to receave satisfaction of them, we ar vanvilling that these Hamburgeris be troubled for any other cause or occasion whatsoever, to the effect that that State finding our just intention in what may concerne ther good, correspondence may be keipt between them and our subjects: Therfoir our pleasure is, that satisfaction being made to these partiners of what shalbe fund due vnto them, ather in behalff of our interest pretendit in our name, or in the name of any of our officers or subjects whatsoever: Which recommending, &c.—Grenewitch, 18 May 1632.

TO THE MASTERS OF WORK.

Trustie, &c.—Being willing that no materialls and things necessarie, whairof yow shall find that vse wilbe necessarile requyred for building and repairing our housses ther, be takin away or any way wanting, spetiallie when the same can be had in the boundis properlie belonging vnto ws, Our pleasur is, that yow suffer no sort of coall or friestone to be takin for the vse of any persone whatsoever, other than our owin, out of the precinct of our Castells, housses, and parks thervnto belonging, without warrant from ws.—Grenewitch, 18 May 1632.

To the Counsell.

Right, &c.—Wheras we have often bene importuned by diverse persones vajustlie compleyneing and informeing ws of wrongs done to them, wherby both we ar vascasoneablic troubled and sindric of our good subjects wronged by false calumneis: To the effect remedie be provydit aganst such abuses, our pleasur is, that yow consider how the same may be best prevented heirefter by causing publische or otherwayes putt in executioun what yow shall think fit to that purpois, as of late yow have ordered tuitching ane Lumisden, wherin we approve your course, and ar willing that yow putt it to executioun, to give exemple to others not to committ the lyk heirefter: Which recommending, &c.—Grenewich, 18 May 1632.

TO THE THESAURER DEPUTE.

Right, &c.—We have bene pleased to wryt vnto our Exchequer for causeing exped of Robert Maxwell of Portrak, for the vse of the Erle of Nithisdale, a new gift of what may be demanded in our name, by reasone that the Lands and others belonging to the said Erle have fallin in nonentrie, wherof we ar pleased that yow tak particular notice for sieing our pleasur therin obeyed accordinglie, and that as occasion shall occure in our Exchequer, which may concerne him or his freinds, yow give all lawfull and readic assistance for ther good and furtherance therin: Which we will tak as good service done vnto ws.—Grenwich, 18 May 1632.

TO THE ADVOCAT.

Trustie, &c.—We ar informed that ther ar severall actions in Law persewed aganst the E. of Nithisdale at the instance of diverse persones, wherin a cullour of our interest is onlie vsed without any benefite to ws, wherby yow, being requyred to compeir therin in our name, the said Erle is and wilbe much prejudged: Our pleasur is, that yow doe not compeir heirefter in any action aganst the said Erle or his freindis, if yow doe not find that we ar particularlie interested therin tuitching our benefite: ffor the which these shalbe your warrant.—Grenewich, 18 May 1632.

TO THE EXCHEQUER.

Right, &c.—Wheras we ar informed that some nonentric dewteis of the Lands and others belonging to the E. of Nithisdale ar to be called for in Exchequer for our vse, sieing we wer formerlie pleased to grant a gift of some thair of to Robert Maxwell of Portrak in behalff of the said Erle, and being vnwilling that any course be takin for exacting of the same, or what doeth since fall vnto ws in that kynd: Our plesur is, that without composition yow pass and cause exped vnder our privie seall in dew forme vnto the said Robert, his aires and assigneyis, a new gift of what may be demandit in our name by reasone of nonentrie, ather proceiding or since the said gift, and to that effect that yow give present ordour that no proceiding is be vsit aganst the said Erle or aney others in that behalff; for which these presents shalbe vnto yow a sufficient warrant.—Grenewitch, 18 May 1632.

To the Archbischop of Glasgow.

Right, &c.—We ar informed that certane taks of Tythes belonging to our right, &c. the Duik of Lennox ar expyred, and that the power of renewing thair of is in your handis, we haveing a particular care of our cousens Estate speciallie now in his absence: And sieing what is demanded in his behalf is conforme to our intention in our Commission for surrenders, Our pleasur is, and we doe heirby will and requyre yow, that he and his vassalls be preferred to any persones whatsoever in haveing new leases of all such tythes as ar in your power, wherin, though we had not spetiall interest in our said cousen, we will expect a Conformitie in yow as a course which in the generall is agricable to our royall intention, and establisched for the publict good.—[Not dated.]

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—Haveing bene pleased to consider of the differences betuixt the Noblemen interested in the forfaltour of the late Erle Bothwell and Francis Stewart, his eldest sone, as may appear by the directions that we have gevin concerneing the same, We doe heirby agane require yow to proceed in the tryeing of the trew rent of the Estate that they injoy by his forfaltour, which hath at any tyme heirtofoir bene payed to the late Erle Bothwell, or to any other who had the saidis landis or benefices befor him, or vnto them who had them of late, and whatever is claymed by the said Francis, whilk they or any of them have of that nature wherof they ar ther authors, wer not in possession by a good right preceiding the foirfaltour and the said Francis inhabilitie: It is our pleasur that ather they quyt the benefite of the foirfaltour pro tanto of that which is in contraversie, taking theirto ther other rights, or otherwayes that it be valued and cum vnder our consideratioun with the rest: And as we desyre that all rents, tythis, and other commoditeis belonging to the premisses be dewlie valued, so lykwyse, wher ther is any laick of patronages or churches ather of the erldome or Abbacie, We will that the ministers stipendis being dewlie deduced, the remainder of the saidis Churches and patronages be dewlie estimated as the reall rents therof, and the samyne to be trewlie reported vnto ws, that we may finallie determine thervpon: Which recommending vnto your care, &c.—Grenwitch, 28 May 1632.

TO THE SESSION.

Right, &c.—Being informed that the action intended befor yow in our name for reduction of the Infeftments of the heretable Isherie of our Exchequer hath of a long tyme depended befor yow, and as yit doeth remane vndecydit, to the prejudice of the persone whome of late we have appointed to discharge that office, and the generall course established for bringing bak of heretabill offices to our Croun: Therfoir our pleasur is, that yow tak the said caus vnto your serious consideration, that justice may be ministred therin with convenient expedition: Which recommending, &c.—Grenwitch, 29 May 1632.

TO SIR HENRIE MARTEN.

Trustie, &c.—Wheras we have bene petitioned concerneing a schip of Lubec, that some yeres agoe was declared pryse in our Court of Admiralitie in Scotland, we ar desyreous befoir we give any ordour therin to have your opinion according to the cace which we send yow heirwith: Therfor our pleasur is, that yow pervse it and delyver vnto ws your opinion concerneing the same, that we may be the better informed to give such ordour as shalbe further requisite.—Grenwitch, 29 May 1632.

TO THE THESAURER AND DEPUTIE THESAURER.

Our pleasur is, that out of the readiest of our present rents or casualiteis whatsoever of that our kingdome, or which shall accresce vnto we heirefter by whatsoever maner of way, yow pay with all diligence vnto Sir Robert Gordon, kny^t, gentlman of our privie Chalmer in Ordinarie, the sowme of 2000^{lib.} sterling:

And for your soe doeing these presents shalbe vnto yow and all others whom it may concerne a sufficient warrant and discharge.—Grenwitch, 7 Junij 1632.

TO THE EXCHEQUER.

Right, &c.—Wheras we have bene pleased, vpon good considerations knowen to ws, to let the Commission expyre which was granted to our, &c. the E. of Murray, and vnderstanding that he hath bene at great charges in citeing of sindrie persones to appear befoir him for Crymes whervpon they wer accused, whois processes as yit he hath not had tyme to finish, to the effect that he may noway be defrauded of the escheits or fynes of them that ar fund guiltie, as was granted vnto him by his Commission, Our pleasur is, and we doe heirby grant vnto him, the escheits, fynes, or benefite arysing otherwise from any persones that hath bene cited by him by vertew of his Commission that shallhappin to be decerned befor any Judge whatsumever; for allowing where vnto him these present is shalbe vnto yow a sufficient warrant.—

Grenwitch, Junij 1632.

TO THE SESSION.

Right, &c.—Wheras diverse persones wer denunced rebells at the instance of our right, &c. the E. of Murray, according to the power granted vnto him by a Commission from ws, wherby he hath intended or is to intend some action befoir yow concerneing causes determined befor the expyreing of his said Commission to have declaratiouns therepon: These ar to requyre yow that in any such case he may have all the Expedition that the due course of Justice can allow to the effect that he may enjoy the benefite granted vnto him by the said Commission: Which recommending to your care, &c.—Grenwitch, 7 Junij 1632.

To the Counsell.

Right, &c.—Wheras we wer pleased, vpon good considerations knowen to ws, to give ordour for continewing the tryell of 'Allaster Grant for a certane tyme, as our letters writtin for that effect doe bear; Though we did delay it for that space, it was noway our intention to defrand Justice: And therefor it is our pleasur that efter the expyreing of the said tyme yow give ordour for the tryell of him, and all others who wer accused or to be accused as engadged in the said rebellion, and that all persones who band themselffis for producing of the broken men who ar complices with James Grant or the said Alaster, that they exhibite them according to the ordour preserved by yow in that case: Which recommending to your care, we bid, &c.—Grenwitch, 7 Junij 1632.

TO THE CHANCELLOUR,

Right, &c.—Being informed that in regard the Lo/ Vchiltrie is now vnder a criminall processe, yow have stoppit the passing of a patent granted vnto him and Sir Pieris Crosbie and other ther partineris who had long since contracted with our right, &c. the Viscont of Stirling for some landis in New Scotland, and being willing to secure all such vndertakers in that plantation, and to encourage them to prosecute ther vndertakings for the good of our service and increase of our dominions, We, for these respects, and particularlie calling to mynd the good service done vnto ws by the said Sir Pieris, and conceaveing hopes of his future service in New Scotland, we [are] pleased that the said patent be exped vnder our great Scall, causeing raze out the Lo/ Vchiltreis' name, otherwayes (iff yow find a necessitie), that yow caus draw a patent of new to that purpois to be exped vnder our Cachet and Great Scall, without passing other scalls or registers; ffor which these shalbe a sufficient warrant.—Grenwitch, 7 Junij 1632.

TO THE THESAURER AND THESAURER DEPUTIE.

Our pleasur is, according to our former warrant to the E. of Mar, then our Thesaurer, that yow pay vnto James Bowie, serjant of our wyne seller, or his assigneyis, the feyis dew vnto him as master of our wyne seller of that our kingdome, according as is mentionat in the gift grantit thervpon by our late royall father, togidder with the arrieris therof, and that out of the first and readiest of our rents or casualiteis whatsoever remaneing in your handis, or which heirefter shall accrese vnto ws: And for your see docing these presents shall evento yow a sufficient warrant and discharge.—Grenwitch, 7 of Junij 1632.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—Wheras we ar informed that some learned Gramarians of these our kingdomes have approved of a Gramer perfected and dedicated vnto ws by ane Mr Robert Williamsone, as a work in that kynd verie exact and fitt speedelie to advance students to the knowledge of the Latine tongue, wherin sieing he hath bene at the charge of the printing and other wayes, and that he is onlie desyreous at this tyme to mak ves therof in so far as it shalbe fund heirefter fitt for the publict good; Our pleasur is, that ywe cause perves the said Gramer, and if ywe find it such as is pretendit, and that no inconvenience can aryse vnto our subjects by granting vnto the said Mr Robert the benefite of his owin wark, that yow give vnto him and his partiners dureing the space of 21 yeires licence to print and sell the said Gramer: And to that effect that yow give way for expeciding a patent therypon vnder our Cachet and Sealls in the vsuall maner, with such Conditions and restrictions as yow shall find to be necessar in the lyk cases; for which these presents shalbe your warrand.—Grenwich, 7 Junij 1632.

TO THE SESSION.

Right, &c.—Haveing heard that ther ar some actions depending befoir yow for reduceing of decreits that wer gevin by our Admirall vpon pryse schippes dureing the tyme of the late warris, we ar confident that he hath not proceidit in any such processe bot vpon verie just grounds, and no decreit gevin by our Admirall of this our kingdome can be reduced befoir any other Judge, save by such as ar especiallie appoynted by we for that purpois, and though we doe not intend to derogate from our Judicatorie in aney thing that is [the] propper object thairof, yit in regard that our right, &c. the Duik of Lennox, our Admirall, is absent for the present, and a minor of whome we have takin charge, and that we would not have aney just caus gevin to discourage others heirefter to vndertake in our service in the lyk kynd when they shall sie these to suffer who, efter sentence gevin in the ordinarie Court, have disposed of the goodis according hervnto: We have thoght fitt to recommend vnto yow that yow proceid the more wareilie in any action persewed befor yow of this nature, that these our subjects who ar or shalbe interested in that kynd may find all the just favour and encouragment which the practeis of other nationes and the Lawis of that our kingdome may allow: Which especiallie recommending vnto your care, we bid, &c.—Grenewitch, 14 Junij 1632.

TO THE ADVOCAT.

Trustie, &c.—Wheras we have bene humblie moved in behalff of Johne Dundas of Newlistoun that a signature of the Mylne called Brestmylne (whairof he is proprietar) might be exped vnto him, his wyff, and Patrik Dundas, ther sone, his aires-maill and assigneyis, vnder our great seall, wherby they might becum our immediat vassalls for payment vnto ws of the few-dewteis accustomed to be payed by him vnto the Lord of Torphechin, who (as we ar informed), contrarie to the generall course of our Commission for Surrenders, hath sold his superioritie of that mylne (which is a part of his erection) to ane James Inglis, both to defeat ws of our right thervnto, and of the whole erection tuitching the reduction wherof ther is ane action in Law depending at our instance; Our pleasur therfor is, that yow consider of the inclosed petition, and informe yourselff of our right to the said Mylne, and if yow find the same to be good, and the course intended by the petitioner to be conforme to the course of our Commission, that yow sie a signatur of that mylne exped in Exchequer in the petitioner and his forsaids behalff, representing (if neid be) vnto our Commissioners therefour just title, and if yow find a necessitie and just ground in Law whervpon to proceid, that yow in our name intend processe of retraction of what hath bene done by the said Lord and the said Inglis to our prejudice heirin: Which recommending, &c.—Grenwitch, 14 Junij 1632.

TO THE EXCHEQUER.

Right, &c.—Wheras, vpon information made to ws of our right to the superioritie of Brestmylne, and that we are lyklie to be prejudged thering by a disposition of the superioritie therofolds be the Lord of Torpheching to an James Inglis, contraried to the course of our Commission for surrenders, we have requyred our Advocated to represent vnto yow, if neid be, our just title thervnto; which, if he shall make appear vnto yow to be good in Law, and conforme to the course of our said commission, Our pleasure is, that yow pass and cause be exped vnder our Cachet and great seall a signature of the said mylne in favours of Johne Dundas of Newlistoun, proprietar therofold, his wyff, and Patrik Dundas, there sone, his aires-male and assigneyis, according to the ancient holdings and accustomed few dewteis.—Grenewitch, 14 Junij 1632.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—Being informed that James Law of Suanden, herauld, did mak vse of some of our taxations (with the Collection whairof he was entrusted), for not delyverie of which vnto our vse he is now a prissoner, and that by his panes and charges in discoverie of sindrie concealed moneyis which wer broght in for our vse, and for other good services done by him vnto ws, we ow him some sownes of money; Our pleasur is, that yow consider his paynes and examyne his accompts, and that yow remitt and discharge him of what shalbe fund dew vnto ws by him; And that thervpon ane act of Exchequer be made for his exoneration at the handis of our Collectour-General of our taxations, now or who was for that tyme, and of all other whom it may concerne, giveing ordour that he be not any longer deteyned in prisson for that cause.—Grenwich, 14 Junij 1632.

TO THE BISCHOP OF ABERDEN.

Reverend father in God, &c.—Humble sute being made vnto ws in behalff of Walter Robertsone, burges of Aberdene, and his eldest sone, that they might have libertie to trade in Merchandice in that our kingdome, and to setle some of ther necessarie affaires, wherwith they (in humble obedience of our lawes by ther sudden departur from thence) could not have tyme to tak ordour; In all things else to be restrayned in what is not ordinarlie allowed to any stranger repairing thither for trade; We ar heirby pleased to recommend them vnto yow, that if they doe nothing to hurt or derogat from the estate of the present professed religion, yow give way vnto them, in so far as may concerne the dispatch of ther lawfull affaires.—Grenwitch, 14 Junij 1632.

TO THE EXCHEQUER.

Right, &c.—Being informed that our trustie and weilbeloved James Dowglas hath not receaved payment of his pension these diverse terms bypast, contrar to our royall intention, sieing, vpon the consideration of the long and painefull service done by him to our late dear father, of worthic memorie, the same was granted vnto him: Our pleasur therfoir is, efter due tryell how much he is behynd of the said pension, that with all convenient and speedie diligence yow caus pay vnto him the arrieris therof, togidder with the samyne yeirlie and termelie, according to his gift granted to him thervpon: And for your so doeing, &c.—Grenewich, 14 Junij 1632.

TO THE ADVOCAT.

Trustie, &c .- Wheras, vpon the late treatie betuixt ws and the French King, we wer pleased to condescend that the Colonie which was latelie planted at Port Royall, in New Scotland, should befor the present removed from thence, and have accordinglie gevin ordour to our right, &c. The Viscount of Stirling, our Principall Secretarie for Scotland; also by all our severall ordours and directions concerning that bussines we have ever expressed that we have no intention to quyt our right title to anie of these boundis; yit in regard our meaneing perchance will not be sufficientlie vnderstude by these our loveing subjects who heirefter shall intend the advancement of that work, ffor ther further satisfaction heirin, we doe heirby will and requyre yow to draw vp a sufficient warrant for our hand to pas vnder our great seall to our said right, &c, the Viscount of Stirling to goe on in the said work, whensoever he shall think fitting, wherby, for the encouragment of such as shall interest themselffis with him in it, he may have full assurance from ws in verbo principis that as we have never meaned to relinquish our title to any pairt of these cuntreyis which he hath by patents from ws, so we shall ever heirefter be readie by our gracious favour to protect him, and all such as have or shall heirefter at aney tyme concurre with him for the advancement of the plantations in these bound is forsaid is; Aud if at aney tyme heirefter by ordour from ws they shalbe forced to remove from the saidis boundis, or aney part therof, wher they shall happin to be planted, We shall fullie satisfie them for all loss they shall susteane by aney such act or ordour from ws: And for your so doeing, &e,-Grenewich, 14 Junij 1632.

TO THE VISCOUNT OF ABOYNE.

Right, &c.—We are informed by your willingnes and the watehfull care of your religious Lady towards the education of your children to learneing, and in especiall in the true Catholique religion publicklie professed in our dominions, And to that purpois that yow have bene, not onlie at extraordinarie charges in transporting your whole familie to the Vniversitie of Aberdene, and liveing ther these tuo yeres bypast, bot hath lykwayes for that cause susteaned sum loss and incurred the displeasur of some powerfull freindis; We therfor have thoght fitt to tak favourable notice therof vnto yow, onlie to requyre yow not to be deterred by any privat discouragment, bot constantlie to continew in these and such lyke your religious endeavours which so neirlie concerne the futur quyet of these parts in that our kingdome; wherin as yow shall doe ws acceptable service, so we lykwayes, when occasion shall offer, will be willing by our Countenance and favour to acknowledge the same, and weigh down any loss that yow shall susteyne therby; wherin not doubting of your loyall care, we bid yow fairwell.—Gevin at our Manour of Grenwitch, 14 Junij 1632.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—Haveing considered the great prejudice that We receave in our dominions by the abuse of Coyne, the best of our gold and silver being exported to Forraeyne nations, and a base sort of money imported in place therof, We have the more willinglie hearkned to such propositions as wer made for remedie of the same, that we may therefter, with your advyse and with advyse of our Counsell heir, resolve what course is best to be takin for reformeing the present abuses and preventing the lyk heirefter: Our pleasur is, that yow tak the proposition which we send yow heirwith into your consideratioun, as lykwayes any other that shalbe made by Johne Achiesone, general of our Mynt, or any other of our Mynt heir, haveing called for them for that effect; And efter yow have seriouslic considered of them, that so soon as convenientlic yow can, yow certific ws of your opinion what yow think best to be done therin, that we may therefter tak such a course theranent for the well of our kingdomes.—[Not dated.]

TO THE EXCHEQUER.

Right, &c.—We have bene petitioned of late by Alex Peeres concerneing a water pound for the vse of our Court of Halyrudhous, wheref he vndertuik the building vpon a former warrant vnder our hand, and vnderstanding his informatioun that the said work is exactlie performed, bot that the charge of it amounts higher then as was at first expected or warranted by our former ordour: It is our pleasur that yow direct some of your number, with the assistance of the Masters of work, for pervseing of his accompts; And in regard of his paines and lyeing out of his moneyis since the perfecting of the work, that yow give such further ordour as he may receave speedie satisfaction in what salbe fund justlie dew to him according to his accompts; and for, &c.—Grenewich, 18 Junij 1632.

Our Soverane Lord ordeanes ane Letter to be made vnder his highnes' privie seall in dew forme to his lovit Peter Andersone, indueller in the Cannogate, nominatand and presentand him dureing all the dayes of his lyftyme to the office and keeping of his Mateis Chapell Royall of Halyrudhous, whole keyis, locks, and dores thairof, with the keyis of his highnes' loft, and all other rownes and places within the samyne, revestreis, and whole pertinents whatsumever perteneing thairto, or within the samyne, And to all feyis, casualiteis, proffeits, digniteis, emoluments, and dewteis whatsumever righteouslie perteneing and belonging to the samyne, or to be mortifeid or dotted therto, now vacand in his Maties handis, and at his highnes' gift and disposition be dimission made of the samyne office by Robert Weir, last keiper of the said Chappell royall, in his Mateis or his highnes' Commissioner's handis, or by the seiknes and inhabilitie of the said Robert not being able to keip and exerce the said office, or by his deceis, when it shalhappin to vaik and becum in his Mateis hands, Requyreing and desyreing heirby Our Reverend father in God, Adam, bischop of Dumblane, deane of the said Chappell royall, to admitt and receave the said Peter Andersone in and to the said office upon his oath of obedience, And that the said letter be extendit in the best forme with all clausses neidfull, And with command therin to the Lordis of Counsall and session vpon the sight of his admission and presentation to grant and direct Letters at his instance vpon ane simple charge aganst all and whatsumever persones within this realme subject in payment of the fevis, casualiteis, and dewteis belonging to the said office at any tyme bygane, or that shall happin to be subject therto in tyme comeing ffor causeing the said Peter Andersone, his factours, servitours, and others in his name, to [be] readelie answer it and obey it of the saids whole fevis, casualities, proffits, emoluments, and dewteis perteneing and belonging to the said office of the said Chappell royall at any time bygane, or shall happin to pertene and belong therto, And that of the Cropt and yeir of God 1632. And sicklyk yeirlie and termelie thairefter and in tyme cuming during all the dayes of his lyftyme, -Greenewitch, 26 Junii 1632.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—Wheras vpon good considerations we wer pleased a yeir agoe to grant our weilbeloved servand Sir Alex^r Home a protection for ane yeir, wherby to frie him of some encombrances broght vpon him in his younger yeres, and to the end that he might have the concurrance of his father, Sir George Home (necessarlie requisit vnto him), yow did vpon our letter grant a protection to the said Sir George, in regard that at that tyme our servand, for occasions spetiallie concerneing our service, was forced to repair from thence to our Court, wherby he did lose the opportunitie of that tyme granted to him: Our pleasur therfor is, that according to your first intention yow grant of new to our said servand and his father libertie to cum in public for the lawfull setling of ther affaires till the ending of the ensueing winter session.—Grenewitch, 27 Junij 1632.

TO THE EXCHEQUER.

Right, &c.—Wheras we have bene pleased to grant vnto our right trustie and right weilbeloved Cousen and Counsellour the Viscount of Stirling, our principall Secretarie for Scotland, the benefite arysing to the Copper money to be counted in that our kingdome according to his patent thervpon for his satisfaction dew vnto him by we efter deduction whairof, with the charges of the werk, he is to be accomptable to ws for the superplus, and we being pleased vpon good considerations, and with consent of the said Viscount for his interest, that our servant Sir Robert Gordoun have the fourt part of the frie benefite of these Copper moneyis till he be payed of 2000¹⁶ sterling latelie granted to him by our precept, Our pleasur is, that yow give your best assistance heirin to the said Sir Robert Gordon, and tak some course as may be sufficient to enable him by himselff or assigneyis to receive the said fourt part till he be payed of the said sowme, allowing to the said Viscount in his accompts the deduction of that same for that vse.—Grenwitch, 27 Junij 1632.

TO THE COUNSALL.

Right, &c.—Wheras our right, &c. the Erle of Tullibardyne, being to repair to that our kingdome, to these partes wher these of the name of Grant doe reside, we for the better setling of our peace ther, by causeing remove in a fair and quyet maner, without farder danger of law or trouble to our subjects, all such differences as ar amongst these of that name, have to that effect requyred him to informe himselff of the groundis theref, and the best way how they may be composed, and that to vse his best endeavours, or at least to certifie ws of the Estate wherin they now stand: Thairfor we have thoght fitt to recommend vnto yow to give vnto the said Erle all such furtherance which yow shall find that he shall lawfullie and necessarlie requyre to that purpois.—Grenewich, 27 Junij 1652.

TO THE SESSION.

Right, &c.—The inclosed petition sent by ws to be considered vpon by yow being presented vnto ws by our weilbeloved servand, Sir Alex* Home, who though he be (as he affirmeth) deiplie interested in that caus, yit in regard of his service about our persone he cannot long attend the issue thairof, we ar pleased seriouslie to recommend vnto yow that, efter strict examination of such persones as can give evidence in the matter, and exact tryell of everie circumstance that may tent to the clearing of the treuth, Justice be administred with expedition according to the Lawes of that our kingdome, wherin not doubting of your care, &c.—Grenwitch, 28 Junij 1632.

TO THE THESAURER AND DEPUTIE THESAURER.

Our pleasur is, that out of the readiest of our present rents or casualiteis whatsumever of that our kingdome, or which shall accresce vnto ws heirefter by whatsumever maner of way, yow pay with all diligence vnto Sir Robert Gordon, knyt, gentlman of our privie Chalmer in ordinarie, the sowme of 2000^{lib} sterling; and for your see doeing these presents shalbe vnto yow and all others whom it may concerne a sufficient warrant and discherge.—Grenwitch, 28 Junij 1632.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—Wheras we ar informed of a practeis in appearance so pernicious and neerlie concerneing ws, as we could not bot tak some tryell thairof both by ourselff and some of our Counsell appoynted by ws for that purpois: Bot in the meane tyme, becaus of some sinistrous rumours maliciouslie raisit thervpon to the prejudice of our right trustie and weilbeloved Cousen and Counsellour the Marqueis of Hamiltoun, and the Earles of Hadinton, Buccleugh, and Roxburgh, and some others, least the lyk reports be broght into our earis, we have thoght good heirwith to declair that not onlie we have fund by the tryell we ourselffis takin, that they ar altogidder innocent and cleir thairof, bot lykwyse that the pryme informer thairof hath now cleared them vpon oath, testificing them (as we know them to be) as good and faythfull subjects as aney we have in aney of our kingdomes: And for the bussines itselff whensoever it shalbe fullie tryed, we will therefter express our further pleasur concerning others interested therin, according as we shall find just caus ather in punisching aney persone who shalbe fund guiltie, or in punisching aney persone that shalbe fund to have gevin false information: And wheras we have formerlie by our letters recommendit vnto yow our right, &c. the Marqueis of Hamilton for furthering the speedie levy and transportation of men with all possible diligence, these ar agane to requyre yow to contribute your best help that your authoritie or endeavours can affurd to that effect, wherof both out of the regard we have to him and to that imployment, being verie confident of your best care: We bid, &c.—Grenwich, 29 Junij 1632.

To our Leivtennents, Deputie Leivtenents, and all other our vnder Officers within aney of the parts abone writtin, Wheras our servand Sir Ritchart Grhame is to attend upon we with his horse and hound at these tymes in the yeir when our hunting is in seasone, for which cause we doe heirby acquyt and discherge him of all dewteis and cuntrie services belonging unto we from him within our counters of Yorkschyre and Cumberland: To which purpois we will and requyre yow, our officers under writtin, that at your generall musteris and assembleis yow doe not charge him to schow light horses, nor impose upon him any other services or dewteis whatsoever; for which the sight of these presents shalbe unto yow and everie of yow a sufficient warrand.—Oatland, 3 July 1632.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—Wheras we ar informed that it was carefullie provydit by diverse acts of Parliament into the tyme of our late royall progenitours that the Maltmen in these tymes wer restrayned to a certane quantitie of victuall or pryces in selling ther malt, which they wer not to transgresse, as may by the Acts appear; bot by reasone of the long tyme since these statuts wer made, the pryces of all thingis ar much changed, so that it is thoght necessarie for the reformation of the present abuse, committed by Maltmen to the great prejudice of the Commongood, that new ordours and pryces according to the tymes be establisched and new penalteis prescryved to be inflicted vpon the delinquents: Our pleasur is, that haveing considered of the saidis Acts, yow give ordour for the pryces in tyme cuming to be takin by the Maltmen betweene the boll of barley and the boll of bear, prescryveing penalteis in caice of dissobedience in such maner as yow shall think fitt, and as may be most agricable to the pryces of the present tymes: Whervpoun we will yow to caus mak ane act of Counsall till further ordour be takin (if yow shall find it expedient) in our nixt Parliament, And in the meantyme that the execution of the former acts, in so far as doeth concerne the saids acts, when we shalle pleased to call for them: We bid yow hartlie farewell.—From our Court at Oatlands, last July 1632.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—Wheras we ar informed that diverse priviledges and liberteis have bene granted to our frie burghes of that our ancient kingdome by diverse of our royall progenitours, which therefter we confirmed vnto them by severall acts of Parliaments, for which they are subject to the payment of our taxations and diverse services tending to the publict good, wherevnto no other brugh being tyed ar discharged by speciall acts of Parliament to enjoy the lyk priviledge, which being willing to confirme from tyme to tyme for the vse of the said frie burghes in so far as is agricable to our saids lawes: Our pleasur is, that in the erection of all brughes of baronie heirefter ther be no further libertie granted to them in any patent than by the Lawes of that our kingdome is compitent to a brugh of baronie, and that nane of them heirefter be erected with any priviledges which by the lawis and statuts of that kingdome ar onlie propper to our brughs royall; which recommending to your care, We bid, &c.—Oatlands, last July 1632.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—Wheras we ar informed that our ancient kingdome doe verie much suffer by want of Manufactoreis, wherby the native Commoditeis might be made more vsefull and beneficial for the publict good, and a number of our poore subjects ther be putt to work, speciallie by making of cleath and of all kynd of stuffes, wherin haveing a speciall care, by causeing putt in practeis what is heirby intendit conduceing to the good estate thairof, Our pleasur is, that yow Call befoir yow the Counsall of our brugh of Edinburgh, or such others of our brughes and subjects whom yow sall find willing to vndertak the inbringing of tradesmen for fitting vp works to that effect, granting vnto them such priviledges and liberteis as may encourage them to works of that kynd, restrayneing all others dureing the tyme yow shall limit vnto them by ther patentes or licenees, which we will approve and confirme as yow shall find requisit for the publict good.—Oatlands, last July 1632.

TO THE COUNSELL,

Right, &c.—Wheras our burgh of Edinburgh hath made offer vnto ws to build vpon ther owin charges fair and convenient housses and rownes for the vse of our Counsell, Exchequer, and Colledge of Justice, and for receaveing the Estates of that our kingdome in the tyme of Parliament and generall assembleis therof; And we being willing to encourage them to prosecute what they have for the honour of that our ancient kingdome so willinglie offered and vndertakin, Our pleasur is, that yow caus surveigh the saidis buildingis, and if yow find them for the purpois above specifeit, and be assured that they will accomplish the same, certifie ws therof accordinglie, for we think that the work doeth deserve encouragment, and we will mak vse of it as we find caus: So recommending this vnto yow, We, &c.—Oatlands, last July 1632.

TO THE CHANCELLOUR.

Rights, &c.—Being informed of the qualitie and sufficiencie of our trustie and weilbelouit James Murray of Kilbabertoun, and of his affection to doe ws good service ther, Our pleasur is, that with all ceremonie requisit yow dub him knyght, according to the vse and custome of that antient kingdome observed in the lyk caices; and for your soe doeing these presents shalbe your warrand: So we bid yow farwell.—From our Court of Oatlandis, last July 1632.

TO THE CHANCELLOUR.

Right, &c.—Being informed that ane Mr James Cokburne, shirreff-deputic of Eist Lothiane, hath exercised that office this many yeires bypast, both for the good of our service of that kynd and to the good lykeing of such of our subjectis whom it did concerne; and that in regard of his long practeis therin and sufficiencie otherwayes, great prejudice would aryse to our service and to our subjectis if he wer removed: Our pleasur is, that at the yeirlie election of our shirreffiis yow give ordour that he be elected and continewed in that charge; and for your, &c.—Oatlandis, last July 1632.

To the Viscount of Dauplin, our Chancellour of Scotland, and our Collectour Generall of Taxatiouns granted ws in that our Kingdome.

In regard of the good and acceptable service done vnto ws by our servand David Firynghame, who is to attend heir in the charge he hath from ws, Our pleasur is, that yow discharge him and his factours of his part of all such taxations for his moneyis in that our kingdome as wer granted in the tyme of our late dear father and our owin, and of all penalteis and forfaltours incurred, or which heirefter can be exacted for concealment thairof, or otherwayes, and that vnder your owin hand as collectour generall, or as hath bene accustomed in the lyk caices, and wher your owin discharge will not serve to this purpois, that yow cause mak ane act of Counsell or Exchequer, or what discharge shalbe sufficient fund for his exoneratioun of his part of these taxations; for which these presents shalbe vnto yow and all others whom it may concerne a sufficient warrand and discharge.—Oatlandis, last July 1632.

TO THE AGENT BRUXELLS.

Trustie, &c.—We ar informed that a schip called the St Peter of Kinghorne, in Scotland, hath bene of late vajustlie takin by one Nicolas Maschler in Ostend, in hir voyadge from that our kingdome to Caleis, in France, whither or in some part of this kingdome shoe was to vaload, as by the inclosed information and other papers for giveing light to this purpois yow may informe your selff, if our subjects can mak appear by themselffis or otherwayes, that ther schip and goodis hath bene vajustlie takin be the said Captane his forceing of them to fill vp a blank left in the indentours between them and ther partiners for the place of the valoading of ther goodis: Our pleasur is, that yow vse your best and most readie endeavours with our sister and the Archdutchess hir officers, and others whom it may concerne ther, that speedie restitution be made vato them of the said schip and goodis, with ther losses, causeing punisch the takers according to the lawes ther, wherin we will yow to vse such panes and diligence as possible may be for ther satisfaction, which we will tak as good service done vato ws.—From Oatlandis, last of July 1632.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—We have bene humblic moved in behalff of our frie brughs in that our kingdome that we might be pleased to cause preserve ther liberteis and priviledges as our late dear father did, and as we have hitherto done: To which purpois ther humble sute is that they suffer no prejudice therin by a Commission granted by ws for tryeing the priviledges of the office of high Constabularie of that kingdome, if any new patent be granted thairvpon concerneing additions derogatorie to ther former rights and customes, as our intention is to caus try what doeth justlie belong to that office, that according as shalbe fund our high Constable may enjoy the same in such maner as any of his predicessours hath formerlie done: So we doubt not therby that our saidis brughes be prejudged in their rights and priviledges which they have ancientlie enjoyed, by grants of our royall predicessours: Therfoir our pleasur is, that no new gift be exped tuitching the said office of constabularie, if any heirefter shalbe presented vnto yow, till the Commissioners of our saidis brughtis be first lawfullie cited and heard to object aganst the same; and if any question shall aryse ament ther liberteis and priviledges, that yow stay the passing of the said gift, in so far as concerneth the differences betuixt our high constable and them conteynit in the said gift, vntil they be legallie tryed and decydit befoir the judge compitent to whome we will that the tryell thairof be remitted.—Oatlands, last of July 1632.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—Wheras in the Chartour granted by ws to the Companie of the generall fisching of Great Britane and Irland we have gevin libertie to fisch in the seas of all our dominions, saveing such places as for the necessarie vse of the natives we should particularie reserve and declair by our proclamatioun, as by the said Chartour may appear: Vnderstanding that many of our subjects duelling vpoun the bounds adjacent vnto the rivers and firthis of Forth and Clyd hath bene at all tymes heirtofoir, and still ar, at all tymes of the yeir cheifle mantened by the fisching thairof, as serveing for ther necessarie vse, so that they can hardlie subsist, It is our will and pleasur, and we doe heirby expreslie declair, that non, be vertew of that generall Association for the said fisching, fisch between St Abbes Head and Readhead, or in any place within that firth; And, for the Clyde, that non fische between the mylves of Galloway and Kintyre, or in any place within the same, except the natives, according to the ancient custome; and this yow can publisch by proclamation at all places thoght necessarie by yow for that purpois, which we will that yow caus putt vpon record, that all our subjects both now and heirefter may tak notice of our pleasur heirin.—Oatlands, last July 1632.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—Efter long tyme, and many meeting is between the Commissioners of both our kingdomes for a generall association for the fisching, wherento we ourselff for the most part was present, the bussines being now, to our great contentment, concluded with mutuall consent of both, as may appear by the Chartours which we send yow heirwith, drawin vp according to the heads that wer agreed youn, wherin we have had a speciall care to preserve the dignitie of that our ancient kingdome, both in the placeing thair of and in appending the sealls: And Our pleasur is, that yow pass the Charter which we have gevin as king of Scotland, England, and Irland immediathic under our great seall of Scotland in the first place, that theirefter the same may be returned, and the great seall of Ingland appendit thervnto in the second place; to the other Chartour gevin by ws as king of Ingland, Scotland, and Yrland, whervnto the seall of Ingland is alreadic appendit in the first place: And for your further warrant heiranent (besyds these presents) we sent vnto yow tuo signaturis, conforme to the custome of that our kingdome, as warrants for both the Chartours, togidder with the Latine Chartour signed by ws as king of Scotland, Ingland, and Irland, of which Chartours and signature yow shall mak yee as yow shall think fitt, or as neid shall require: And becaus it is thought expedient that both the Chartours be of one date, it is our further pleasur that yow mak yours of the date with the other for this our kingdome, which is dated at Westminster, the Nyntene of July 1632, that a greater conformitie be in such records as concerne a work of that consequence. -Oatlands, last July 1632.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—Wheras we ar crediblic informed that it was compleyned vpoun of the last conventioun of the Estats of that our kingdome that, contrarie to the lawis and custome thairof, ane Robert Buchan, vnder cullour of preserveing our watters from vnseasoneable fisching of Pearle, and encreasching our yeirlic revenewes, had procured a patent, wherby he appropriats the whole benefite thairof vnto himselff; wherin we respecting the ancient custome and lawis of that our kingdome, and preferring the generall good of the publict to our owin particular pretendit interest, or the ends of any privat persone, Our pleasur is, that yow call the said Buchan befoir yow, and discharge his patent, and all further prosecution therby, causeing publisch by proclamation that all our subjects hath libertic frielic to fisch and tak pearle in all the rivers and watters in that our kingdome in all tyme cuming, And that no other patent be exped heirypon heirefter; ffor which, &c.—Oatlands, last of July 1632.

TO THE CHANCELLOUR.

Right, &c.—Haveing directed a warrant to the Senatour of our Colledge of Justice for receaveing of Sir Johne Scott to ane Ordinarie place of session: Therefter, in regard of the course we have formerlie established for distinguishing of our Judicatore ther, it is our pleasur that yow require the said Sir Johne to absteane from sitting any more at our Counsell table or Exchequer ther, conforme to our said course formerlie established; for doeing, &c.—Oatlands, last July 1632.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—Haveing at this tyme, amongst other things concerneing our service in that our kingdome, imparted our mynd at lenth tuitching the Lo/Vchiltrie vnto our right, &c. the Erle of Stratherne, We have to that purpois gevin direction vnto him to signific our pleasur vnto yow, willing that such a course be takin with the said Lord Vchiltrie as the said Erle shall acquant yow from ws; ffor doeing, &c.—Oatlands, last of July 1632.

To the Counsell.

Right, &c.—Wheras we ar informed that the fisching of Ballintrae doeth verie much hinder the plentie of herring fisching in the West Coastis of that our kingdome and Yles thairof, and these pairtis of Irland opposit thairto, by destroyeing of the fry of herrings at vnseasonable tymes, which (as we ar informed) if they wer spared might produce such plentie in all these coastis as might verie much advance the intendit work for fisching now establisched by ws for the generall good of all our dominions, and speciallie of these parts: Therfoir our pleasur is, that yow caus proclamation to be made dischargeing the vnseasonable fisching thairof in all tyme cuming, causeing sufficient surtie to be takin for that effect of these who wer accustomed to fisch ther; and that yow give ordour to the schirreffis Justices of Peace and others persones of qualitie therabouts, whom yow shall think fitt for that purpois, to sie the said proclamation putt in due executioun, significing vnto them our great care that nothing be done which any wayes may hinder the said intendit work of fisching for the generall good of all our subjects: Which speciallie recommending, &c.—Oatlands, last of July 1632.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—Wheras the office of Justiciarie, in the bound of the Ilis and other parts mentionat in our grant thereof vnto our right, &c. the Lord Lorne, is established, and all questions removed which wer objected against that office to the effect that justice may be dewlie and tymelie executed in these parts according to the lawis of that our kingdome: Our pleasur is, that from tyme to tyme as the said Lord or his depute shall have occasion to vse your and in any thing that may concerne his furtherance in the lawfull execution of that office, yow grant the same vnto him.—Outlands, last of July 1632.

TO THE DEPUTIE OF IRLAND.

Right, &c.—Wheras we ar informed that the patent of honour of the late Lord Castelstewart hath bene long deteyned from the seall by the occasion of the death of Francis Edgworth, late Clerk of the Hamper of that our kingdome, the same patent haveing fallin into the hands of his executors who, efter many delayes, have now of late delyvered the same vnto the late Erle Castelstewart's eldest sone and air, wherby the seall may be appendit therto, according to the intention of our late royall father; and we being vnwilling that his said sone and air should be any wayes frustrated of that honour or place of precedence intendit for him, or that any lyk later erections should be prejudiciall vnto him, he being ane whom we doe verie much respect, both for his owin abilities and noble descent, and also for his said late father's many publict services performed to our late dear father and ws: These ar therfor to will and requyre yow, with all convenient diligence, to append the seall to it and delyver it vnto him as a mark of our royall favor vnto that familie; And for your soe doeing these our letteris shalbe your sufficient warrant.—Gevin at our Court of Oatlands, the last of July 1632.

TO THE THESAURER AND DEPUTIE.

Right, &c.—Wheras we wer formerlie pleased with advyse of the Commissioners of our Exchequer to give a monethlie allowance to the Masteris of Works ther for vpholding our housses and palaces in that our kingdome, securing the same vnto them by an assignment vpon the assignments which we have bene pleased of late to dispose of otherwyse, wherby they find themselffis dissapoynted of ther payments, and therby disabled to performe ther dewtie to the great hazard of the ruyne of our housses, The vpholding whairof doeth much concerne we and the konour of that our ancient kingdome; and haveing heard thairof from our saidis Commissioneris, We have thoght fitt that tymelic ordour be takin: Our pleasur therfoir is, that haveing considered of the best meanes wherby they may receave satisfaction, yow give ordour to our Advocat for drawing vp such further warrant for our hand, wherby they may be secured in alse ample maner in tyme cuming as they wer formerlie, And in the meanetyme that yow give satisfaction in what is alreadic due vnto them to the effect they may be the better enabled for performeing ther dewteis in vpholding our housses in that kynd which is necessarie, wherin not doubting of your conformtie to this of pleasur, &c.—Oatlands, the last of July 1632.

TO THE ERLE OF LINLYTHGOW.

Right, &c.—Wheras we ar informed yow intend to dispose of your heretable right to the keiping of our palace of Linlythgow and Castle of Blakness by your best advantage, we ar desyreous to have the same in our handis, to be disposed of heirefter by we as we shall at all tymes find expedient, and being willing with all that yow should receave such satisfaction as in reasone is due, we have gevin ordour to our right, &c. the Erle of Stratherne, President our privice Counsall, to treat with yow theranent, which we recommend to your consideration, and expecting the issue that may be answerable to our desyre and your satisfaction, We bid, &c.—Oatlands, last July 1632.

TO THE ERLE OF STRATHERNE.

Right, &c.—Wheras we ar informed that the Erle of Linlythgow is to dispose of his heretable right to the keiping of our palace therof and Castell of Blakness, by selling of the same to some pairtie for his best advantage, And in regard of our generall intention to draw vnto our owin handis vpon everie convenient occasion all such rights, we have thoght good in this particular to mak choyse of yow by treating with the said Erle for to obtene his interest for keiping of these tuo housses at the easiest rates yow can agrie vpon, and whatever pryce yow shall reasonablic Condescend vpon to advance vnto him for that his right, we doe heirby promeis in verbo principis to refound vnto yow whensoever we shall desyr to retire that sume bargaine from yow vnto ourselffes, togidder with all the interest and losses yow may in the meanetyme sustene by this advancement of moneyis, which for the present we recommend vnto your care.—Oatlandis, last of July 1632.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—We ar informed that our right trustie and weilbeloved Cousen and Counsellour the Marqueis of Huntlie, is charged for presenting befoir yow ane Findlay McGrimon, rebell, who had secretlie abandoned the kingdome befoir, wherin though we doubt not bot yow have some good consideratiouns, moveing yow to tak that course; yit vpon humble motion made vnto ws in his behalff, that sieing hardlie the rebell can be brought bak (it being vncertane what part abroad he is gone), he will obleid phimselff to exhibite him, if at any tyme heirefter he shall returne to that our kingdome, which conceaveing to be reasonable, we think fitt (vnless ther be some speciall reasone to the contrair) that yow accept of his offer, and to that effect that yow authorize him (if neid beis), or the Viscount of Aboyne, his sone, with what warrand and commission yow shall think fitt to that purpois, taking of them such surtie as yow shall find expedient, &c.—Oatlands, last of July 1632.

TO THE SCOTTS RESIDEING IN POLLAND.

Trustic, &c.—We ar informed that ther ar diverse abuses committed amongst yow by some of your owin number, that yow suffer often by others, and that onlie by want of your joynt concurrences wherby some ordours might be establisched for preventing the miscariages of your owin, and for enabling yow the better to remedie any losses yow might sustene from others, and out of our royall care that your cairages may not be derogatorie to the honour of our ancient kingdome whervuto yow belong, nor your negligences be ancy more occasion of your owin losses, we have thoght good heirby to recommend vnto your generall cares that, considering the place wher yow ar and the necessitie of your affaires ther, yow would by a joynt and mutuall consent determyne ypon some course that might be answerable to our desyres in the advancement of your commoun good, according as we have gevin particular directions to our agent ther; and as we shall heirefter hear from him of your diligence heirin, we shalbe readic to contribute what we shalbe informed may be further requisit from ws by our letteris or mediation with our brother, the King of Polland, for your advantage,—Beawlie, 15 August 1632.

TO THE COMMISSIONERS OF SURRENDERS.

Right, &c.—We have heard of the good progresse made by yow in the matter of tythes and valuations therof, approveing both of the ordour takin by yow for drawing of the same befor yourselffis if the heretours and titulars doe not ther diligence at the tymes appoynted by yow, and of your care takin for rectificing the reports at the instance of our Advocat wher the tythes ar undervalued to the prejudice of the Churches mantenance and of ws in our annuitie, and being informed of the course lykwyse takin by yow for giveing to all heretours indifferentile the leading of ther owin tythes, upon surety for payment of the tythes valued to the titulars they haveing submitted or not (it being a course which in all equitie oght to be universall), we give yow hartie thanks for your care and diligence therin, and doe will yow to proceid in that work according to these rules alreadic begun till it be finisched, and wher the tythes be undervalued wherin the Church and we must suffer most: Our pleasur is, that though both titular and heretour be silent that yow have a speciall care to rectific these valuations, and that the persute goe on in our Advocat's name, least ther might be collusion between them to our prejudice: Which recommending, &c.—Beawlie, 15 August 1632.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—Wheras we have bene petitioned by the Mr of Maxwell that a ryot hath of late bene committed by some persones depending upon the Lard of Johnestoun, wherby the tennents of his brother, the Erle of Nithisdall, and others, our subjects, hath bene much wronged contrarie to any ordour of law or justice as by the enclosed petition and roll of the delinquents names, which for your better information we have sent yow heirwith, may appear; for preventing of the lyk heirefter, and least any new occasion should be gevin for kindling of the old rancor, which (as we ar informed) hath bene betweene the names of Maxwell and Johnestoun, Our pleasur is, that yow call the pairteis interested befoir yow, and efter exact tryell heirin if yow find the persones accused or any of them guiltie, that yow cause punish or censure them as yow shall find the offence to deserve, taking of both pairteis if yow shall find it requisit sufficient cautioun for preserveing our peace heirefter in these boundis.—Beawlie, 15 August 1632.

TO THE THESAURER DEPUTIE, TRAQUAIR.

Right, &c.—The treatic of the fisching bussines, wherin we our selffs have takin great paines, being now concluded, so that nothing so much resteth as that our good subjects goe on according to the course prescryved, We have to that purpois gevin instructions to our right, &c. the Erle of Stratherne and Mr Johne Hay: Our pleasur is, that yow informe yourselffis from them of what may conduce to this purpois, and that accordinglie yow vse therin your best and your most readic endeavours, wherby at the vpcomeing of our said cousen and of the said Mr Johne, the bussines may be the more speedelie putt to a finall conclusion, so remitting this and some other thingis concerning our service otherwyse to be imparted vnto yow by our said Cousen, &c.—Beawlie, 15 August 1632.

TO THE COUNSALL.

Right, &c.—Wheras by our others letteris and patents that ar sent vnto yow with the progresse of what doe concerne the work of the generall association for fisching, and have gevin yow our furth directions theranent, whairof we expect a speedie accompt thairof from yow. Ther ar yit severall propositions for the advancement of that work which we have thoght fitt to recommend vnto your considerations by our right, &c. the Erle of Stratherne: And it is our pleasur that according to the propositions, or as yow and the Counsell of that association for that our kingdome shall best resolve vpoun for conduceing to the begining and advancement of this great work yow proceid accordinglie, and with all acquant ws therwith by the said Erle.—Beawlie, 15 August 1632.

TO THE BURGH OF EDINBURGH.

Trustie, &c.—Though we have bene pleased by ane other letter to acquant the burrowis in generall with the great regard we have had to the honour and weilfair of that our ancient kingdome, and to ther interest in it in this leat treatie of a generall association for fisching, which is now happelic concludit recommending earnestlie to them the vseing of ther best endeavours to contribute to the advancement of it, wherin we doubt not bot they wilbe dewtiefull to we and cairfull of ther owin good, yit we have thoght good in particular to recommend the same to your care, as whom amongst them it doeth first and most concerne, we have formerlie fund your good exemple powerfull and effectuall in that which concerned our service and the good of the cuntrie, and we doubt not bot yow will continue in this particular with your best advyse to others and assistance from yourselffis to secure our desyres in advanceing this great work according as we have gevin particular direction to this bearer, wherwith he will acquant yow.—Beawlie, 15 August 1632.

TO THE DEPUTIE OF IRLAND.

Right, &c.—Wheras we have bene pleased, for the generall good of all our subjects, to caus proclamation be made in these our kingdomes of England and Scotland that none of our subjects of any of our dominions shall pay in aney of them ather more or other customes or dewteis mentionat in the proclamation than what the natives of the place wher the custome is takin ought to pay: To which purpois, our royall intention being that the lyk course be takin in that our kingdome, we have sent yow the lyk proclamation vnder our owin hand: Therfoir our pleasur is, that yow caus exped and publisch the same in such sort that all our subjects ther may tak notice of our pleasur heirin, and that yow sie the same dewlie observed.—Beawlie, 15 Angust 1632.

Instructions given by his Ma^{tie} to the Erle of Stratherne to be communicated to the Counsell of Scotland anent the advancement of his Ma^{teis} royall [intention] of the fisching of Great Britain and Irland.

Yow shall recommend to ther consideratioun the Act of Parliament made by his Ma^{teis} predicessours, vmquhill King Ja. 4, Par^t 4, cap. 4, anent the putting out of Busches be the nobilitie, gentrie, barrones, and others of that his Ma^{teis} kingdome of Scotland, and in his Ma^{teis} name to requyre them to use ther best meanes and endeavours that the same be putt in executioun for the advancement and continewing of the busch fisching.

Yow shall recommend to ther consideration how necessarie it is for the Yles fisching that plantations be made in the most commodious places of the Yles, and therfoir to condescend vpoun the places wher the same shalbe, and of the meanes how the same shalbe continewed and brought to perfection.

Yow shall recomend to them the taking of sufficient suretie of the Land Lordis of the Yles and Loches of the Continent uixt adjacent to the same, for Indemnitie of the feloueis of the societie of the said fisching, in ther persones, schips, boats, goods, and fischings, from all kynds of oppression and violence, for themselffis and vessells and others inhabitantis in that boundis.

That they discharge all the Landlords of the Yles and Loches nixt adjacent to the same, wher the fischings ar, and ther vassalls and tennents, from vplifting and exacting from the felloues of the said societic, ther fischers and servandis and others our subjectis fisching ther, of any other dewtie, impost, sowmes of money, or other casualitie whatsoever than is warranted and our predicessours granted, and to this effect that proclamation be made with all possible diligence intimating this his Ma^{teis} pleasur to them and all others whom it doe and may concerne.

That they caus ane exact tryell be takin of all customes, dewteis, or other impositions whatsoever payed by his Ma^{tie} or aney his subjects within that kingdome, vpon whatsoever pretence be the fischers theref, and the warrandis and groundis of same.

That they caus ordour be takin for removeing of all strangers repairing to our Yles for fisching and other tradeing ther aganst the lawis of that our kingdome, and speciallie in the Lewis and Schetland, and sie the Acts of Parliament made theranent putt to executionn.

That they caus such ordour be takin as that all the felloues of that societic, alswell natives of that kingdome as others his Ma^{teis} subjects of Ingland and Irland, repairing ather to the Yles, loches, or seas of that our kingdome for fisching in these places wher they ar lawfullie authorized, be kyndlie and well vsed, and by all meanes encouraged to prosecute the said work.

That they informe themselffis in all things may tend to the advancement of the said work, and to his Ma^{tie} ther advyce in writt, als well in the particulars abone writtin as in all other things offered to ther Consideratioun by yow and remanent Committie of the fischings in that kingdome, and returne the same with all diligence by yourselff at the tyme prescryved by his Ma^{tie}.

To the Borrowis.

Trustie, &c.—Wheras we have bene ever carefull in all thingis to preserve and continew your liberteis and priviledges, wherof we have gevin evident prooff not onlie in this treatie of the generall association of fisching, which yow will find much to contribut to your good, bot also in these suittis presented to ws by this bearer, wherof he will give yow a full accompt; so haveing fund your readines to our service, speciallie in this our great work of fisching, wherin we doubt not bot yow will continew to do that which may be worthie the favour we have schawin yow, and answerable to the Intention we have for the honour of that our ancient kingdome, wherof yow ar to reap the fruit; in particular, if yow shall preserve the same with that care which yow have promised by this bearer, we thoght good to recommend the same to yow, willing yow to contribute your best endeavours to bring the said work to perfection, wheranent we have requyred this bearer more particularlie to acquant yow with what may concerne your good, assureing your selffis that yow will not be wanting to ws, your cuntrie, nor yourselffs in what may tend to the accomplishment of our royall intentions, for the which yow will find we ever willing to manteane and defend your liberteis and priviledges, and to tak particular notice of your service.—Beulie, the 15 August 1632.

TO THE BARONETTS.

Trustie, &c.—Wheras our late deir father, out of his pious Zeall for the advancement of religeon in the remote parts of his dominions, wher it had not bene formerlie knowen, and out of his royall care for the honour and well of that our ancient kingdome, was pleased to annex to the Croun therof the dominion of New Scotland, in America, that the vse of it might aryse to the benefite of that kingdome; we, being desyreous that the wished effects might follow by the continuance of so noble a designe, wer pleased to confer particular marks of our favour vpon such as should voluntarlie contribute to the fartherance of a plantation to be established in these boundis, as appeared by our creeting of that ordour of baronetts wherwith yow ar dignified, whervnto we have ever since bene willing to add what further we conceaved to be necessarie for the testifeying our respect to these that ar alreadie interested, and for encourageing of them who shall heirefter interest themselffis in the advancement of a work which we so reallie tender for the Glorie of God, the honour of that nation, and the benefite that is lyklie to flow from the right prosecution of it: But in regard that notwithstanding the care and diligence of our right, &c. the Viscont of Stirling, whom we have from the begining entrusted with the prosecution of thiswork, and of the great Charges alreadie bestowed vpon it, hath not takin the root which was expected, partile, as we conceave, by reason of the Incommodite ordinarie incident to all new and remote beginnings, and partlie, as we ar informed, by want of the tymelic concurrance of a sufficient number to insist in it, but especiallic the Colonic being forced of late to remove for a tyme by meanes of a treatie we have had with the French: Thairfor, we have takin vnto our royall consideration by what meanes agane may this work be established; and conceaveing that ther ar none of our subjects whom it concerneth so much in credit to be affectioned to the progres of it as these of your number for justefieing the groundis of our princelle favours which yow have receaved by a most honorabill and generous way, we have thoght fitt to direct the bearer heirof, Sir William Alexander, knyt, vnto yow, who hath bene ane actor in the former proceedings, and hath sene the cuntrie, and knowen the commodite thereof, will communicat vnto vow such propositions as may best serve for making the right vse heirefter of a plantation trade in these boundis, for encouraging such as shall adventure therin, and we doubt not bot if yow find the groundis reasonable and fair yow will give your concurrance for the further prosecution of them: And as we have alreadie gevin ordour to our Advocat for drawing such warrandis to pass vnder our sealls ther, wherby our loveing subjectis may be fred from misconstruction of our proceedings with the French anent New Scotland, and secured of our protection in tyme cuming in ther vndertakeris vnto it: So we shalle readie to contribute what we shall heirefter find we may justlie doe for the advancement of the work and the encouragement of all that shall joyne with yow to that purpois: Which recommending vnto your care, we bid yow farewell.—Beawlie, 15 August 1632.

TO THE TOUN OF EDINBURGH.

Trustic, &c.—Wheras we ar informed that our late royal father did ordeane that at the election of your deacones and tradis, and counsellours for the same, yow should mak choyse of the most expert handie laborers and tradismen, as persones best experienced and able to give advyse in things concerning ther trades and improvement of manufactoreis, we being carefull to have that continewed which by our said father was ordeaned for the publict good; and haveing of late writtin to our privic counsell tuitching the erecting of manufactoreis, wherby the native commoditeis of that our ancient kingdome may be putt to the best vse, and poore and ydle people sett a work: Our pleasur is, that in all tyme comeing, at the election of these deacones and counsellours yow mak choyse of none bot of such as are handie laborers, chope keiperis, vsers of ther tradis, and best skilled therin, That when occasion shall requyre, we may have ther advyse in such things as concerne ther trads: Which recommending vnto your care, as yow will tender the good of our service: We bid yow farewell from our Court at Beawlie, the 15 August 1632.

These approve Sir Henrie Wardlaw in dischargeing the office of Chalmerlanrie at Dumfermeling, Rosse, Ardmanagh, and Ettrik Forrest, of the office of receaver of your Ma^{teis} rents, and of the taxatiouns of the said Lop^s of Dunfermeling and Ettrik forrest, dischargeing his aires and executours of all clams and question that may be moved aganst them in that behalff.—Beawlie 17 August 1632.

A Commission was signed for hearing the E. of Mortone's accompts by the Chancellour S^t Androis, &c.—Beawlie, 17 August 1632.

Our will and pleasur is, that for our vse yow bring from our kingdome of Scotland about Michaelmes ensueing, the lyk number of muttons, and in such maner as was formerlie accustomed to be brought from thence by Charles Murray for the vse of our late royall father or for our owin by yourselff, according to our former appoyntment for your imployment in that service, and that accordinglie yow continew yeirlie to doe the same till we shalbe pleased ather to approve that service by a further warrant or discharge it; And in the meane tyme the lyk allowance and feyis shalbe yeirlie payed vnto yow as wer gevin for that purpois in the tyme of our said late royall father, whereof doe not yow faill as yow will answer vnto ws.—Gevin at our Court of Beanlie, 17 August 1632.

To Johne Geddes, burges of our burgh of Drumfreis.

TO THE ERLE MARSHELL.

Right, &c.—Haveing formerlie fund by experience your affection to our service, and being now informed of the continuance thairof in advanceing (in so far as in yow lyeth) the bussines of the Tythis, and what else doeth at this tyme concerne we ther we give yow harty thanks for the same, desyreing yow to continew as yow have begun, speciallie vseing at this tyme your best endeavours to advance the generall bussines of the fisching of great Britane and Irland now set afoot by ws, tuitching which purpois sieing we have gevin particular instructions to our right, &c., the Erle of Stratherne, we ar willing that yow informe yourselff from him of what may concerne your endeavours for furthring therof, and that yow proceid accordinglie as lykwyse in all other things tuitching our service which he shall impart vnto yow from ws.—Beaulie, 17 August 1632.

TO THE CLERGIE.

Right, &c.—We have vnderstude by your letter your earnest care to have the psalmes translated by our late royall father receaved in the Churches of that our kingdome according as we did recommend vnto yow by our former letteris to that effect: And hearing from yow that the delay of that work proceideth from the want of a number of copies fitt to be distributed thrugh the dyoceis of that kingdome, we have gevin ordour that such a number be sent vnto the Archbischop of St Androis as convenientlic can be had as may be most expedient, and have by our letter vnto him particularlic signified our mynd heirin to be imparted vnto yow: Our pleasur is, that yow setle some speedic course how they may be receaved, and sung in the Churches ther, and thervpon we will furthwith give ordour for the reformeing or adding to the said work what shalbe fund necessarie, that therefore a course for a full Impression from tyme to tyme may be establisched, wherin expecting your care and diligence, we bid, &c.—Wanstead, 13 Sept. 1632.

TO THE ARCHBISCHOP OF ST ANDROIS.

Right, &c.—We have vnderstood from our Clergic the continuance of ther desyres to have the Psalmes translated by our royall father receaved in the Churches of that our kingdome, haveing vndertakin to doe the same, bot that the want of a number of copeis fitt to have bene distributed in the severall dioceis theref, occasioned a delay in putting that work to a speedie poynt: Therfor we have gevin ordour that such a number of copeis be sent vnto yow as convenientlic can be had at this tyme, to be disposed of as yow shall think most expedient: And becaus the Impression of such a number of books as from tyme to tyme wilbe fund necessarie for the publict vse will requyre a present charge, we have requyred them to setle a course how they may be receaved and song in the Churches ther; And thervpon we will furthwith give ordour to hasten the said Impression, and for reformeing or adding to that work what shalbe fund necessarie: And wher at the last meitting we hard that your seiknes was some hinderance to the progres of that work, we will now expect at your handis some speedie furthrance therin as your charge and affection to our late royall father's memorie will lead yow vnto, that the work may be fund setled at our comeing, God willing, at the nixt spring of the yeir to that our kingdome, which we will tak as verie acceptable service done vnto ws.—Wanstead, the 13 Sept. 1632.

TO THE THESAURER.

Right, &c.—Wheras we have gevin ordour to our Advocat to persew the Lard of Lusse for the cryme of Incest alledged to have bene committed by him: Though he can deserve no favour for himselff in what the course of our Lawis can inflict vpon him in his persone or estate, yit haveing compassion of the suffering of his wyff and children, and of so antient a familie, Our pleasur is, that if his escheit, lyfrent, or landis sall fall in our hands, in the disposeing therof yow have a speciall care that no creditour of his be defrauded of that what is justlie dew vnto them; and that the mantenance of his wyff and children and the standing of his house be provydit for, he onlie suffering in his owin persone all that by the course of our Lawis vsuall in the lyk caice may be imposed vpoun him; Which seriouslie recommending vnto your care, we bid, &c.—Wanstead, 13 Septr 1632.

TO THE ADVOCAT.

Trustie, &c.—The foulnes of the cryme alledged to have bene of late committed by the Lard of Luss haveing justlie moved ws to have the same tryed according to the Lawis of that our kingdome, and him punished if fund guiltie, that others be terrifed from committing the lyk heirefter; our pleasur is, that yow cause summond him to appear befor the Judges compitent for his tryell, and that in our name yow insist therin, according to our saids lawis and custome in caices of the same or lyk nature: ffor which, &c.—Wanstead, 13 Sept. 1632.

Similar Letter to the Earl of Stratherne, Justice General.

TO THE TOUN OF JEDBRUGHT.

Trustie, &c.—Vnderstanding that it pleased our dear royall father, vpon diverse good considerations mentionat in his letter to that our burgh of Jedbrugh, to desyre them to choyse and elect ther provestes by the advyse of Sir Andro Ker, then Captane of the guard, so vpon the lyk considerations, We (haveing heirtofoir writtin that they should mak choyse of ther provests by advyse of our right, &c. the Lord of Jedbrugh) ar pleased to recommend vnto yow the doeing therof heirefter, which we will acknowledge as good service done vnto ws: We bid, &c.—Wanstead, the 13 Sept^{*} 1632.

TO THE BISCHOP OF CAITHNES,

Reverend father in God, &c.—Being desyreous that the Commissioners for surrenderis, where f yow are one, should so prepare that bussines against our comeing to that our kingdome that we may the more readilic putt ane end to the same; and being informed that some of your number, by ther remote duelling from Edinburgh, and others by ther infirmitie of bodie, ar not so able to attend the Commission as yow ar, we think it fitt till our comeing thither, or till we shalbe pleased to signific our further pleasur heirin, that yow mak your ordinarie residence at your church of Jedbrugh, to be the more near and readie for that service, and such as we may have occasion to imploy yow, wherin we will expect your carfull attendance that no bussines draw yow from it, if your health permitt; and if neid be that yow acquant the Archbischop of S⁴ Androis with this our pleasur, or any other whom it doeth concerne.—Wanstead, 13 Sept. 1632.

A pacquet sent to Sir W^m Alexander, wherin ther wer two letters anent the Psalmes, one to the Clergie, one to the B. of S^t Androis; 3 concerning the L. Lusse to the Thesaurer, Advocat, E. Stratherne; one to the B. of Caithnes, and to the toun of Jedbrugh, procured by Sir Ro^t Ker.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—We have bene pleased heir to express our care for tryeing the death of the Viscount of Melgun and others, haveing at that purpois writtin at severall tymes for examyng such persones as wer most suspected to have bene guiltie, or any wyse accessorie to that fact: But now of late a complaint being made vnto ws in behalff of our Right, &c. the Marqueis of Huntlie, that in the late proceidings for tryeing of ane Tosheoch, delay hath bene made to the hindrance of Justice: Our pleasur is, that yow call him befor yow, and haveing considered the complaynt to be gevin in befor yow by the said Marqueis and others interested tuitching that purpois, that yow certifie ws of your opinions therin, that we may give such farder ordour tuitching the same as we shall think expedient; and in the meanetyme that yow tak a course that no such delay be made heirefter in the trying of that bussines: We bid yow farewell.—Hampton Court, 27 Sept 1632.

TO THE ERLE OF STRATHERNE.

Right, &c.—Wheras we ar informed that as yit ther is bot a small progres made in the tryell of the lamentable death of the Viscont of Melgun and others, we haveing writtin at severall tymes that all lawfull and speedie meanes might be vsed for bringing the tryell of that matter to light, and particularlie for the tortureing of ane John Meldrum, of whois guiltines ther ar some great presumptions, proceiding (as we ar informed) from his owin Confession: And sieing it is enacted by our Privic Counsell that he should be tortured, which if it be done in tyme may much conduce to any subsequent tryell for clearing of that bussines, Our pleasur is, and we doe heirby authorize yow, to caus torture the said Meldrum with all diligence.—Hampton Court, 27 Sept. 1632.

TO THE ERLE OF STRATHERNE.

Right, &c.—Yow will perceave by our letter to our Counsall our intention tuitching a complaynt made vnto we in behalff of our right, &c. the Marqueis of Huntlie, that in the late proceiding for trying of one Tosheoch tuitching the death of the Viscount Melgun, delay was made by the Justice deputs to the hinderance of Justice, wherin, sieing our princelie care still is that all lawfull and speedie wayes may be vised for bringing the treuth of that bussines to light, we will expect at your handis both in regard of your Charge and trust from we that yow sie no lawfull meanes omitted for the due and tymelie tryell of that complaynt, and that yow will therin vie your most effectuall and readie endeavours and certifie we of your opinion tuitching the same.—Hampton Court, 27 Sept. 1632.

To the Archeischop of ST Androis.

Right, &c.—The inclosed petition being presented vnto ws, we wer pleased to remitt the consideratioun therefore vnto yow that if by good evidences yow shall find the petitioner's losses to be such as he affirmeth, and that his estate and that of his familie requyre some help, yow vse the ordinarie meanes that the Churche's Charitie may be granted vnto him efter what maner yow shall think fitt to prescryve, or as hath bene accustomed in the lyk caces.—Hampton Court, 27 Sept. 1632.

To the Counsell.

Right, &c.—We have bene humblie petitioned by some of our subjects mentionat in the inclosed petition, schewing that in transporting their lawfull merchandice from this our kingdome vnto Irland (for which, as we ar informed, the custome dew to ws was payed), the same was takin from them at sea by one Nutt, a pirat, who sold these goodis to some of our subjects resideing in that our kingdome, as by the petition will more fullie appear: Becaus it is compleaned vpon by the petitioners that our saids subjects ther did know that these goods wer vnlawfullie takin, and that the said Nut was a pirat, for which, if it be trew, they deserve to be punisched, and be lyable to restore the goods to the trew owners: Our pleasur is, that, taking unto your assistance our Admirall for the tyme for his interest, yow call befor yow the first buyeris of these goodis from the said Nutt, and if yow find they knew of the same wer not lawfullie acquyrit by him, or that he was not warranted by coquet or other evidence in that kynd to dispose of the same, That yow tak a speedic course that the goodis, or the value thairof, apprysed by such as yow shall appoint for that purpois, may be restored to the petitioners, or aney haveing their power, and the delinquents punished as yow shall find the nature of the offence to deserve.—Hampton Court, 27 Sept. 1632.

TO THE COMMISSIONERS FOR SURRENDERS.

Right, &c.—Wheras our right, &c. the E. of Roxbrugh is by our appoyntment to repair to our Court and stay thairat this winter, wher we are to setle these differences that are between him and Francis Steuart, and are to imploy him in other affaires concerneing our service, least in his absence he be prejudged in the valuation of the tythis of the kirk of Dumbar, wherin, as we are informed, we have a speciall interest, our pleasur is, that yow continew the valuation therof till the first day of Aprill nixt ensueing: And for your see doeing, &c.—Hampton Court, 3 Octor 1632.

TO THE ADVOCAT.

Trustic, &c.—Wheras the E. of Buchan is content to surrender vnto our Croun the Schirreffschip of Bamfi, wherof being pleased to accept, our pleasur is, that yow draw vp and sie perfected such a surrender as yow shall find necessarie for that purpois; and hearing that the last Schirreff Clerk of Clakmanan did without any respect to our service sell that office, Our pleasur lykwyse is, that yow informe yourselff if ther he any way by law how the same may be brought bak vnto our Croun; and if any be fund by yow, that yow insist for reduction of the offices of such Schirreff Clerks as ar onlie at the disposeing of the heretable Shireffis, that yow insist for reduction of them vnto our Croun, begining at the Shirref Clerkschip of Clakmanan: Which recommending vnto your care, &c.—Hampton Court, 3 Octor 1632.

TO THE THESAURER,

Our pleasur is, and we doe heirby will and requyre yow, that yow furthwith [pay] or caus to be payet vnto Nicolas Briot the sowme of Ten pund sterling for the making of a press and toolis thervnto belonging, for the vse of our great seall of our kingdome of Scotland, which press and toolis wer by him delyvered to our Chancellour ther, and these moneyis, with any thing that shalbe due for your levyeing theref heir, shalbe allowed vnto yow in the readiest of your accomptis of our rents and casualiteis of that our kingdome.—Hamptoun Court, 3 Octo[‡] 1632.

Wheras we intend this winter to determyne in these differences between the noblemen interested in the late Erle Bothwell's Estate and Francis Stewart, his sone, within which the landis of Robert Ellot (for the which he and the Lady Jeane Stewart have petitioned ws), the Lands of Markill by our late royall father for the vse of our Chapell royall in that our kingdome, the Landis of Groundestoun and some superioriteis belonging (as we ar informed) to Sir Patrik Heburne of Wauchtan, knyt, ar comprehended; wherin, sieing they pretend to have speciall interest, we have heirby thoght fitt to requyre yow to putt ws in mynd at the tyme of the division to be made by ws of that estate, That nane of these particular landis and superioriteis be mentionat in the said division, bot that they be left to be considered of apart by ws efter we have heard the particular interests and rights of our said Chappell, and of the saidis persones pretending right thervnto, to be therefter remitted or disposed of by we as we shall find just caus. This faill not to doe as yow will be answerable vnto ws.—Gevin at Hampton Court, 3 Octor 1632.

To William, Viscount of Stirling, our principall Secretarie for our kingdome of Scotland.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—Haveing at severall tymes writtin vnto yow that the abuses of forrayne Coyne current in that our kingdome might be rectified for the publict good and credit of that our antient kingdome, we have now to that purpois sent expresslie thither our servant Nicolas Briott, cheiff graver of our Mynt heir, of whois knowledge in matters of coyne we have experience: Therfoir our pleasur is, that yow hear and consider of aney proposition made by our said servant or by any other to that purpois, and that heirefter yow tak aney course that yow shall think most fitt for the tymelic rectificing of these abuses, which we will tak as verie good service done vnto ws.—Hampton Court, 3 Octor 1632.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—Wheras humble sute hath bene made vnto ws by Sir Patrik Hepburne of Wauchtan, knyt, that in respect of bussines speciallie concerneing the setling of his estate and other his necessarie and lawfull affaires, some such able and sufficient persone be made choyse of by yow as yow shall think fitt for supplieing of his charge of schirreff of the Constabularie of Hadingtoun for this yeir, becaus some of his bussines have bene imparted vnto ws, wherby we conceave his demand to be reasonable: Our pleasur is, that yow exoner him of that charge for this yeir for setling of some sufficient and able persone in his place; for which these presents shalbe your warrant.—Hampton Court, 3 Octor 1632.

TO THE SESSION.

Right, &c.—Wheras Sir Alexander Gordon of Cluny, kny^t and baronet, is now imployed in our service in this our kingdome, so that he can hardlie for some schort tyme repair thither, wherby, as we ar informed, if aney actions of Law concerneing him shalhappin to be pleaded befoir yow in his absence, he is lyklie to suffer in regard of a necessitie of his owin being ther for production of writts and witnesses requisit for clearing of his causes, we being willing that a schort tyme be allowed vnto him, ar heirby pleased to recomend vnto yow that no processes concerneing him be pleaded till the first of Aprill, vt supra.

TO THE BISCHOP OF ABERDENE.

Right, &c.—Humble sute being made vnto ws in behalff of Johne Leslie, some tyme of New Leslie, that he may have libertie to returne to that our kingdome to setle some of his necessar affaires, wherwith he, in humble obedience of our Lawis, by his sudden departure from thence could not have tyme to tak ordour, and without which, as we ar informed, being redacted to extreame povertie he cannot subsist: These considerations have moved we heirby to recommend him vnto yow, that if he doe nothing to hurt or derogat from the estate of the present professed religion, yow give way vnto him in so far as may concerne the dispatch of his lawfull affaires.—Hampton Court, 3 Octor 1632.

TO THE CHANCELLOUR, PRESIDENT, AND THESAURER.

Right, &c.—Being fullie resolved to repair thither, God willing, the nixt sommer, wher we ar desyreous that all things at our comeing and ahead may be at such readines and ordour as may answer our expectatioun and care of the credit of that our ancient kingdome wherin conceaveing that is requisite that befoir our comeing things be so forsene and provydit in due tyme, as they wer at the tyme of our late reyall father his being ther: Our pleasur is, that yow call to mynd or informe yourselffis of the wayes and meanes prescryved and takin for his receaveing and intertenement, and so forsie for things that nothing necessarie and fitt be wanting at our being ther, and that yow consider of such offices as ar necessarie requisit to be establisched dureing our residence without drawing upon ws aney superfluous or unnecessar place or Charge; And to that effect that yow mak a roll of them that ar neidfull, and a list of such persones names as yow shall think most fitt to discharge the same, that we may mak choyse of such of them as we shall think fitt to be done and provydit, you all which, haveing deliberatlie treated what is fitt to be done and provydit, let ws be certifeid therof with all diligence by yow, our Thesaurer and President of our Privie Counsall, whem we will fullie intrusted to give ws satisfaction heirin; bot if yow shall find a necessitie that a commission be gevin by ws to this purpois, we require yow to caus our advocat draw such one as yow shall think requisit, and send the same to ws with a blank for the names, which we will caus fill vp and returne with diligence,-llampten Court, 3 Octor 1632.

TO THE CHANCELLOUR.

Trustie, &c.—We ar petitioned by Sir Johne Leslie of Wardess and his Lady for the reparation of eminent losses latelie susteaned by them through our default, bot we being vncertaine ather of the treuth or value of the clayme otherwyse than from ther owin relation, have thoght fitt to will and requyre yow to call togidder with yourselff in our name our beloved counsellours, our Advocat, Balmanno, Chesters, Senatours of our Colledge of Justice, and that yow joyntlie consider of this ther inclosed petition, and furth report vnto we your opinions anent both the treuth and value of their clame; That therefter we may out of princelie justice and consideration dismiss them with such satisfaction as ther case requyres; wherin not doubting of your care and diligence, we bid, &c.—Gevin at our Court of Newmerket, 11 Octo 1632.

TO THE EXCHEQUER.

Right, &c.—We have bene pleased to bestow the gift of the ward, nonentrie, and mariage of one Anne Nasmyth, which (as we ar informed) ar at our gift and disposition, vpoun the Viscount of Stirling: These ar therefore to will and requyre yow to expeid vnto him vnder our privie seall a gift theref, which we have sent vnto yow heirwith, or aney other that shalbe presented vnto yow in his behalff of what is heirby at our gift, he paying alwayes such composition as yow shall think fitt, or as is accustomed in the lyk caces; for which these shalbe, &c.—Newmerket, 12 Octor 1632.

TO THE CLERK REGISTER.

Trustie, &c.—We ar desyreous vpon some late considerations to look particularlie into the revenewis of that our kingdome, and to compare the same and the Issues of our Exchequer with the estate thairof as it was left by our dearest father at our entrie to our Croun: These ar therfoir to will and requyre yow furthwith to returne vnder your hand to our Master of Requests, to be presented vnto ws, Our particular lists or Inventareis of the revenue of that our Croun, and of the feyis, pensiones, precepts, and others allowances furth of them, with the sindrie natures of ther gifts, ather by simple donations, locall assignations, or bearing interests, the one as they wer left by our dearest father of happie memorie, and the other as they are now at this present; that we being therin trewlie and particularlie informed, may therefter setle such constant ordour for the payments as we in our princelie judgment shall think fitt; wherin not doubting of your care and diligence, we bid, &c.—Newmerkit, 17 Octor 1632.

TO THE CLERK REGISTER.

Trustie, &c.—As we have of late prosecute seriouslie for the generall benefite of this Yland the association of our subjects for fischings in our northerne seas, and haveing now broght the same to ane finall and reall conclusion, we are lykwyse desyreous that the justice of our proceidings therin, as it is well-knowen to ourselff, may also be takin notice of abroad by our nyghbours thrugh some publict wryting to that purpois, we conceaveing that in the recordis of that our kingdome sindric authentik evidences may be fund, wherby our Right may clearlie and vncontrablic appear, have thoght fitt to will and requyre yow, with all convenient care and diligence, to search the saidis recordis, and to returne vnder your hand to our master of requeists, to be presented to ws, such evidents, treateis, and agricments with forme princes, and others writts as yow in your judment shall think best conduceing to our intent; wherin not doubting of your care and diligence, we bid, &c.—Newmerket, 17 Octor 1632.

TO THE COUNSELL,

Right, &c.—Ther was latelie presented to ws by Mr George Nicoll a breif veue, as he called, of the particulars of our estate of that kingdome, with intimation of certane prejudices sustenit therin, and overtures for preventing the lyk in tyme cuming, and improveing the benefite arysing by the casualiteis of that Croun, we wer pleased to pervse the generall Mappe, and fund no just caus of distrust: Bot for the particulars, both of prejudice and improvements, we have suspended our beleiff till such tyme as by compareing them with the publict recordis, and present occonomic of our rents, they be by yow ather approved of or refuted, and that so much the rather becaus some of the allegations and prooffis sene seame hardlie to reflect, both ypon the generall and some particulars of that our kingdome: We being therfor vncertane of the prooff of his prepositions, otherwyse than from his owin relation, and not willing to give trust in matters of so great consequence to any ane subjects bare relation, nor on the other part to discouraig aney from making trew and legall overturis for our benefite, have thoght fitt to putt the said Mr George Nicoll to a fair tryell befor yow, willing and requyreing yow carefullie to examyne both the generall and everic particular of his allegations heirwith sent under the hand of our Master of requeists, and what yow find trew therin and convenient for our benefite to certific ws theranent, that we may accordinglie mak vse thairof, and reward the proposer; bot what ather vntrew or derogatorie to the generall or any particular, to censure and punish according to the custome and the consequence of the calumnie, that as by the one no man may be discouraged, so by the other everie one may hencefurth be deterred from obloquy and detraction to the present governament of that state, wherin as we expect your care and diligence, so we requeist yow to returne to our said Master of requeistis to be presented vnto ws the particular accompts, and of your opinions therin; and not doubting of ather, we bid yow farewell .-Newmerkit, 17 Octor 1632.

TO THE CHANCELLOUR.

Right, &c.—The Commission of Livetennendrie granted vnto our right, &c. the Erle of Murray being expyred, and the cause whervpon it was first granted being taken away, we wer thervpon pleased (efter we had at severall tymes continewed the same efter it deruned) that in end the executioun of justice within the bondis of the Commission should be left to the ordinarie way accustumed in that our kingdome, to which purpois we bid writ to himselff for surrending therof, which (as we ar informed) doeth still continew in force till we signifie our pleasur to the contrarie: Therfor we requyre yow to acquant him with our intention to have it determined, and therefter that yow tak a course, ather by his surrender, by act of Counsell, or any other way that yow think maist fair and requisit to the effect above specifeit, that no proceiding be at any tyme heirefter of that Commission or our subjects therby further questioned, for which these presents shalbe your warrant; and in all things tuitching the fynes and escheits of such persones who for crymes wer convicted befor we suffered the executionn of the Commission to expyre, and tuitching such of the Erle's actions of Law as shall cum befor the session, or any other our Iudicatoreis, tuitching that purpois, yow grant him your speedie furtherance according to our former pleasur latelie signified to our Exchequer and session, which we will tak as good service done vnto ws.—Newmerket, 18 Octo 1632.

TO THE ERLE OF MORTON, THESAURER.

Right, &c.—Wheras our right, &c. the Viscont of Aboyne is at this tyme imployed by our brother the French King for levyeing the Gendarmes in that our kingdome (as was accustomed) to be transported into France, for the good and tymelic manageing of which bussines that kingdome is interessed, and he in particular bund for the performance, which, seing it will requyre a present and great charge, he hath bene ane humble suter vnto ws that we might be pleased to give ordour that the more speedic payment be made of his precept, for which we have alreadic gevin ordour, and ar still willing to doe, though these other inducements wer not offered, the precept haveing bene granted vpon such valuable considerations as ar not vnknowen to our Counsall ther: Therfoir our pleasur is, that yow mak payment vnto him or his assigneyis, with as much diligence as convenientlic yow can, bot if at this tyme our coffers cannot possiblic permitt the same in respect of our journey, God willing, the nixt somer, that yow tak such a course as yow shall think most fift for satisficing of him (or such of his creditoris as he shall appoynt) for such moneyis as ar due vnto him.—Newmerket, 18 Octor 1632.

TO THE EXCHEQUER.

Right, &c.—Wheras Sir James Pringle of Gallowscheills, knyt, hath bene ane humble sutter vnto ws for causeing exped vnder our sealls a gift of the nonentrie of the estate of Borthuik, which we had long since granted vnto him for recoverie of such moneyis as wer dew vnto him by the late Lord Bortuik, and of such as he had payed as suretie for suretie for him, wherin he doeth onlie desyre such benefite as is granted to others our subjects in the lyk caces: Therfor our pleasur is, that, vpoun his giveing of sufficient surtie as is accustomed, yow exped the said gift vnto him with all diligence, and that yow suffer no other to be exped befor it to his prejudice, or that yow certific bak vnto ws the reasone why it should not be passed: And for, &c.—Newmerkit, 22 Octor 1632.

TO THE COMMISSIONERS OF SURRENDERS.

Right, &c.—Wheras it hath bene represented vnto we that some actuall ministers serving at ther particular Cures have suffered, and ar lyklie to suffer, by the valuations a great diminution of the Tythes allowed for ther mantenance, wheref they wer in possession, for helping whairof according to our decree they may appeale vnto ws or our Parliament: It being far from our intention any wayes to harme them in that kynd, bot rather to help ther provisions, Our pleasur is, that yow have a speciall care to prevent any such course, and to repair, as far as yow can lawfullie doe, aney thing they have suffered in that kynd, that they be not putt in any worse estate then they wer befoir; and if it cannot be determined in a fair way by advyse of the Clergic, with mutuall consent of the pairteis, sieing we ar schortlie to repair to that our kingdome, lett aney such valuations compleyned vpon be delayed till our cuming thither; And in all other things concerneing the said Commission that yow proceid with such diligence as may the better facilitate the effectuating of that great work at our comeing ther, God willing, the nixt sommer: All which we speciall recommend vnto your care.—Newmercat, 22 Octor 1632.

Our Soverane Lord vnderstanding how much it importesh the good of his Ma^{teis} antient kingdome of Scotland that forts and blokhousses be built in the most necessarie places for defending the roads, harbours, and coasts thairof, And, namelie, that the Lords of Secreit Counsall, be ane act dated the 17 Septer 1827 yeires, thoght that it was fitting ane port should be builded at Inchgarvie, his Ma^{tie}, being acquanted with ther opinion theranent, signed a signature in favours of the Erle of Linlythgow and his aires, that for the building and keiping of that fort everie schip transporting coall or salt out of the firth should pay tue shillings of everie tun of coall or salt to the said Erle for the space of 19 yeires ensueing the date heirof.—Newmeket, 23 Octor 1632.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—Haveing writtin to our Advocat to persew George Nicoll hefoir yow or your deputeis for such false and malitious calumneis which yow did hear in our presens, Our pleasur is, that yow cause his punischment be speedelie sentensed as best shall accord with justice and the foulness of his offence, which we will tak as good service done vnto ws.—Whythall, 21 Der 1632.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—Some papers being presented to ws by one George Nicoll, who did therby pretend the incress of our revenue and good of our service, offering with all to qualifie some great neglect and abuses committed by some of our cheiff officers to our prejudice, we wer pleased to call him before ws and hear him at lenth at severall tymes; bot finding that in the one he had most boldlie suggested vnto ws vnjust and malitious calumneis aganst our officers, and in the other had whollie succumbed in what he had vndertakin to mak good for our benefite, wherewith we being justlie offended, ar heirby pleased to acquent yow with the same, becaus of the foolisch and scandalous rumors that hath bene spred by this meanes, and to remitt him thither to be punisched, that all others not warranted with verie just and evident grounds may by his example be terrifeid from attempting the lyk heirefter: To which purpois we have appoynted our Advocat to persew him befoir our Justice-Generall or his deputts till a finall sentence be gevin aganst him according to justice, and till that tyme we ar willing that he remane as a delinquent in safe and close custodie within the tolbuith of our burgh of Edinburgh.—Whythall, 21 Der 1632.

TO THE ARCHBISCHOP OF ST ANDROIS.

Right, &c.—Wheras humble sute hath bene made vnto ws on behalff of M^r John Ramsay, Professor of Philosophie in S^t Androis, that in regard of the good prooff he hath gevin in his studie of Theologie, we might be pleased to present him to the kirk of Lathrisk, vacant at our gift by dimissioun or deceis of M^r William Cranstoun, late Minister ther, we have thoght good that yow try his qualification, and if yow find him able and qualified for that Charge, that yow send ws a presentation vnder your hand for admitting him thervnto, he being alwyse subject to acknowledge our authoritie, and give due obedience to his Ordinarie, as is provydit in the lyk caces.—Whythall, 21 De^r 1632.

TO THE COMMISSIONERS OF OUR FRIE BURGHES OF SCOTLAND.

Trustie, &c.—We have vnderstude your forwardnes to our service in the bussines of the fisching intended by ws for the publict good of all our dominions, in haveing at this tyme vndertakin to have in readines against the nixt seasone of the busch fisching Thrie scoir busches or fisching barks wherin we doe verie much approve your vndertaking, and do heirby spetiallie recommend vnto yow to have them in readines vpon due adverteisment from ws to be made vnto yow by our trustie and weilbeloved Sir Johne Hay, knyt, at his nixt returne to our Court, to whome we have at this tyme signified our further pleasur to be imparted vnto yow tuitching that purpois, and who will schew vnto yow the proceiding is of our Commissioners heir for both kingdomes tuitching the advanceing of that bussines by these who have alreadic vndertakin in this our kingdome.—Whythall, 21 Der 1632.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—Haveing considered how schort a tyme was appoynted to them of Hambrugh for doeing justice in that cause concerneing late Captane Robertsone and his partiners, and the willingnes of that state to doe the same with diligence, as we have understude by a Commissioner sent by them expresslie for that purpois, we have thoght it reasonable to allow them a longer tyme for doing thairof, and it is our pleasur that yow cause send some understanding persone thither with a procuratoric to persew the pairteis thair: And in the meane tyme that yow cause delyver the schips and goodis that wer takin from them for that caus: And wheras the said Commissioner hath gevin ws sufficient suretic and satisfaction for the payment of such sowmes as shalbe fund due whensoever the sentence shalbe pronounced: It is our further pleasur that the letters of reprysall granted for this effect be discharged and suspended untill we shall find caus for renewing of them, which we meane to doe heirefter if Justice be delayed or refused be them, for as we desyre to deall justlie with our nighbour states, so we will not have our subjects to suffer vnjustlie by them: So recommending this to be done with diligence, We bid, &c.—Whythall, 21 Der 1632.

TO THE ADVOCAT.

Trustie, &c.—Wheras we ar verie schortlie, God willing, to repair to that our ancient kingdome to receave our Croun and hold a parliament in persone as we have signified to our Counsell ther: These ar therfoir to will and requyre yow to prepare all such hills and informatiouns as yow shall think fitt to be past and performed for our service, and for that effect that yow propone to the Lordis of our Privie Counsell all such overtures as may concerne our service, and the prosecution of that great work of the Tythis and Surrenders, wherin we and our Commissioners have takin so much panes for the good of our subjects ther.—Whythall, 24 Der 1632.

TO THE ADVOCAT.

Trustie, &c.—Haveing imposed a charge at this tyme vpon our Thesaurer principall and deputic for vseing all lawfull and posssible meanes to levie moneyis for such things as ar necessarlie requisit for our reparatioun and intertenement in that our kingdome dureing our aboad ther, to which purpois they wilbe forced to mak the best vse they can of any rents, customes, or dewteis whatsoever now or schortlie heirefter payable to our Excheker by any our vnder officers, and particularlie by our customers: Our pleasur is, that yow requyre them in our name to accept of our saidis officer's precepts, which if they onnawayes refuis to doe, we further requyre yow to consider of ther taks, and if therby yow shall find that they ar anywayes bund to answer our saids officers, that yow insist against them by Law befoir our Exchequer for doeing therof, otherwyse that by advyse of our saids officers yow vse your best endeavours to reduce the saids taks by due course of Law, for which these shalbe your warrand.—Whythall, 28 Der 1632.

To SIR HENRIE WARDLAW.

Trustie, &c.—Haveing fullie resolved to repair, God willing, the nixt sommer to that our antient kingdome, wherby our Thesaurer principall and deputie most necessarile vndergoe a great care and burden for provydeing all things necessarie for our reparation and Intertenement dureing our abode ther, wherin they will stand in neid of the assistance of such of our good and able officers and subjects as has bene known best affected to the good of our service, and haveing heard of your forwardnes at other tymes to levy and to becum suretie for moneyis the better to advance our late father's service and ours, we will expect the lyk affection in yow at this tyme, and therefore doe speciallie recommend to yow for assisting our saids officers or any of them in being cautioner with or for them for such moneyis as necessarlie must be levyed for our jurney, taking your part of such releiff as they shall provyd for themselffis, wherin we will expect your performance as yow will respect our favour and the continuance of the good opinion we have long conceaved of yow: So we bid yow farewell.—[Not dated.]

TO THE THESAURER AND DEPUTIE THESAURER.

Right, &c .- As we have hitherto sufficientlie expressed to our Counsall our absolute resolution for repairing, God willing, the next somer to that our antient kingdome for receaveing our Croun and holding a parliament ther; So, in regard that in a peculiar maner it concerneth your charge to forsic and mak readie all such provisions and things necessarie as ar requisit and decent for our reception and intertenement dureing our aboad ther: Our spetiall pleasur is, that yow carefullie consider what is fitt and requisit to be provydit for that purpois, and that accordinglie yow tak a tymelie course that the same be in readines; and that particularlie yow forsie that such of our housses wher we ar to be, be putt in good ordour; and to that effect that yow give spetiall ordour to our masters of work that nothing be deficient vpon ther part; and that yow carefullie surveigh the estate of our wardrop, by causing amend, change, and provyde of new (if neid be) all such wardrop stuff as is requisit, ather for our standing housses or removes: Commanding to this purpois Sir Johne Auchmowite, Mr of our Wardrop, to whome we have writtin concerneing the same, to give yow a particular accompt of the estate therof, and whom we requyre from tyme to tyme to be directed by yow for performeing our service in this kynd, so that nothing therin be deficient or indecent: And generallie we will expect at your hands such a care and readines to sie everie thing for our journey so provyded as may best give we content and he to the honour of that our antient kingdome, we bid yow farewell.-Whythall, 28 Der 1632.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—We have sufficientlie expressed our resolution to yow for repairing, God willing, the nixt sommer to that our antient kingdome for receaveing our Croun and holding a parliament ther, haveing writtin to yow that a spetiall and tymelie care might be had for giveing ordour to provyde in generall for all things necessarie and decent for our reception and Intertenement during our abode ther, but becaus ther be diverse things in particular concerneing our Intertenement, whairof in a particular maner a speciall care should be had by our Thesaurer principall and deputie, upon whome we have now imposed a charge therof; and that the tymelie forsieing and provydeing for the same will requyre more then ane ordinarie care and burden, Our pleasur is, that from tyme to tyme, as our saids officers, or any of them, shall have occasion to vse your advyse and requyre your ayde, furth with assist and concure with them in the speedie executioun of what we have particularlie imposed youn them, or any other thing yow shall find requisit for our service in that kynd.—Whythall, 28 Der 1632.

TO SIR JAMES BAILLIE.

Trustie, &c.—Wheras we ar fullie resolved to repair (God willing) the nixt sommer to that our antient kingdome, haveing to that effect requyred our thesaurer and deputie Thesaurer so to provyde for all things necessarie for our reception and intertenement dureing our abode ther, that nothing necessarie and fit the wanting, wherby our saids officers will have occasion to mak vse of more money than the estate of our coffers can at this tyme convenientlie affoord, and that therin they will vndergoe some burding in levyeing thairs, we are heirby pleased spetiallie to recommend to yow to concurre with them for advanceing of such money is as a rnecessarlie requisit to be levyed for our service at this tyme by becomeing suirtie with or for them to that purpois; and we doe heirby assure yow that yow shall incure no loss by that meanes, and ar pleased further to declair that wherin our saids officers and yow can agrie for your furder suirtie out of any of our rents and casualities, we shall mak the same good in what maner they and yow can reasonablic condescend vpon; besydes we will tak it as a speciall service done vnto ws, whereof we will not be vnmyndfull when occasion shall convenientlie offer.—Whythall, 28 Der 1632.

Letters of the lyk nature to Williame Dick, and ane vther to Williame Gray.

To SIR JOHNE AUCHMONTIE.

Trustie, &c.—Since the wryting of our last letter vnto yow tuitching the estate of our Wardrop, we have bene pleased to impose a spetiall charge vpon our Thesaurer and deputie for sieing and haveing all things in readines for our reception and Intertenement dureing our abode in that our antient kingdome, amongst which we have requyred them to surveigh the estate therof, and that from tyme to tyme, as occasion shall requyre, yow tak ther or ather of ther directions concerneing all the wardrop stuff being in your custodie or belonging to your charge by causeing provyde of new, change, or mend, if neid be, what they shall find to be wanting or indecent; wherin, not doubting of your conformitie to this our pleasur, we bid, &c.—Whythall, 28 Def 1632.

TO THE ADVOCAT.

Trustic, &c.—Haveing imposed a charge at this tyme vpon our Thesaurers for vseing all lawfull and possible meanes to levy moneyis for such things as ar necessarie requisite for our reception and intertenement in that our antient kingdome dureing our abod ther: To which purpois they will be forced to mak the best vse they can of any rents, customes, annuiteis, and dewteis whatsoever, payable to ws: Our pleasur is, that by advyse of our saids officers, or aney of them, yow think vpon the readiest wayes and meanes, and therin vse your best endeavours (in so far as is compitent to your charge): That all our annuiteis of Tythis, alsweill valued as vnvalued, due to ws for all yeres and termes preceiding be brought in to our vse with the greatest expedition and conveniencie that may be, for which these presents shalbe your warrand, and wherin yow shall doe good service.—Whythall, 28 Der 1632.

TO THE ADVOCAT.

Trustie, &c.—Wheras we have writtin formerlie to yow that yow should have a speciall care to proved such things for our parliament as ar fit to be done by yow concerning your charge, if yow shall find aney particulars wherin yow cannot fullie determine without conferring first with ws, in that cace we require yow to repair hither to our Court as soone as your health and occasion can convenientlie permitt: Soe, ather expecting yourselff or to hear from yow, we bid, &c.—Whythall, 29 Der 1632.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—Haveing heard of a caus that was debated befoir yow concerning the Schirreff Courts of the shirrefdome of Lanerk, whither they should be holden at the toun of Hamilton or the toun of Lanerk, the decision wheref yow did delay till our right trustie, &c. The Marqueis of Hamilton, who was then absent, might be heard for his interest at his returne; And we being moved therin vpon the same consideration, and haveing heard that it is prejudiciall to the inhabitants of the nather ward of that schyre, Our pleasur is, that yow proceid no further in the said caus, nor that any innovation be made therin, bot continew as hitherto it hath bene till our comeing ther, or till we shall signific our further pleasur therin, that thairefter, all pairteis being heard for their interest, the best course may be takin heirin, which is most agricable with the Lawis and practique of that kingdome and best ease of our subjects: And so we, &c.—Whythall, 8 Jar 1633.

TO THE ADVOCAT.

Trustie, &c.—We ar informed that the Lard of Drum intendeth to sie executioun vpon ane land of moneyis extorted by his father from Robert Coutts of Auchtertoull, and William, his sone, in his minoritie, not for aney just and onerous cause, bot as a ty to mak them followers of the house of Drum, and to the end he may wrest them from the superioritie of ther Lauds holden of ws, therby forceing them to becum his vassalls wher they ar immediatlie now, which course, if trew (as is pretendit), being contrarie to diverse Lawis made aganst bandis of manrent, and to the late course sett afoot by ws for frieing our vassalls from any oppression or subjection of other subjects, bot in so far as is agricable to Justice and our Lawis, Our pleasur is, and we doe heirby will and requyre, that yow informe yourselff of the trew estate heirof, and if yow find what is heirby alledged to be trew, that yow concurre and assist in our name and for our interest in reduceing the said band in a legall maner; ffor which these shalbe your warrand.—Whythall, 8 Jar 1633.

TO THE SESSION.

Right, &c.—We ar informed that the action in Law for reduceing the erection of William Forbes of Cragievar is now verie schortlie to be heard and disputed befoir yow, wherin seing we have bene pleased to tak speciall notice for our interest, haveing at severall tymes both writtin to yow and our Advocat for sieing that action prosecuted with diligence and putt to a poynt according to justice, we ar now pleased seriouslie to recommend the same vnto yow, that yow will carefullie and speedelie sie it putt to some speedie and good conclusion, according to equitie and the lawis of that our kingdome; which we will tak as verie acceptable service done vnto ws: So we, &c.—Whythall, 8 Ja* 1633.

TO THE BISCHOP OF ST ANDROIS.

Right reverend, &c.—Wheras we intend, God willing, this nixt somer to repair to that our antient kingdome, being verie desyreous that all things necessarie for Intertenement there he prepared and in good ordour befor our Comeing: And knowing that many things are to be considered of aganst that tyme by yow, we have thoght good to wryt vnto yow concerneing the same, especiallie that yow will have a care of that which is to be done at our Coronatioun, in so far as is to be discharged by yow or aney ecclesiasticall persone, And that yow prepare yourselff to preach at the day of our entrie into Edinburgh, and at the tyme of our Coronatioun, and that some of the most sufficient preachers of that our kingdome be adverteised to be in readines whenseever they shalbe requyred to preach dureing the tyme of our being ther; and as we ar confident of your best endeavours heirin, so we accordinglie acknowledge the same, and so bid, &c.—Whythall, 8 Jar 1633.

To the Session.

Right, &c.—Wheras we ar informed that ther is ane action in Law depending befoir yow at the instance of Johne Fullerton of Dreghorne aganst our right trustie, &c. the Lord Bruce and the Lady Kinloss, his mother, tuitching the Estate of vmquhill Sir James Fullerton, our late servand, whois meanes being acquyred and left in this our kingdome, that caus is most propper to be heard and decydit befoir the compitent Judges heir: Whairfor finding it verie fitt and expedient that none of our judicatories of these our severall kingdomes doe trench vpon ane other, Our pleasur is, that all action and process depending or which shallhappin to cum befor yow tuitching this purpois doe cease, remitting the pairteis interested to have recourse for justice to the lawis of this our kingdome.—Whythall, 12 Jar 1633.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—Haveing resolved to give such ane answer as we in our princelie judgment shall think fitt to ane humble sute made to we in behalf of the Lady Luss, that schoe might have a sufficient mantenance allowed for the Intertenement of hirselff and childrene, becaus as sche affirmeth sche hath none for the present tyme: Our pleasur is, that yow informs yourselff best to such persones to whome the Lard of Luss hath intrusted the management of his esteat, or otherwayes as yow shall think fitt how the said Lady is provydit, and certifie we thairof, and of the Estate of that house as now it is, with the wholl debtis whairwith it is burdened, and what will fall to we by his estate, whairin we will expect to hear from yow with such conveniencie as may be; we bid yow farewell.—Whythall, 12 Jar 1633.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—Being informed by Johne Aitkinsone, keiper of the prisone in the Poultrey in London, That ane Robert Tough of Dysert, being of late prisoner in the said prisone for certane sowmes of money due by him, did, vnder pretence to vse his meanes to pay his creditours, intreat the said Aitkinsone, his keiper, to goe abroad with him for that effect, as is ordinarlie accustomed heir, bot haveing escaped and ran away from him to that our kingdome to shelter himselff ther from the due course of Justice, wherby he is lyk to vndoe his keiper in being made lyable by his escape to pay the debt, and defraud his creditours heir, of what is justlie due vnto him: This being contrarie to the due course of Justice, which mutuallie ought to be keiped amongst all our loveing subjects, and ane act in him worthie of censure and punischment, Our pleasur is, that with all possible diligence yow give ordour [for] arreisting of his schip and all other goodis known to belong vnto him, that they be made furthcuming for the payment to his Creditours of what is due vnto them, and of all other charges occasioned by his escape; otherwayes, that yow caus apprehend him, if he can be fund ther, and keip him in close prisone till he satisfie his saidis pairteis according to Justice, and to that purpois that yow give ordour in what yow shall think fitt: Which recommending vnto your speciall care, we bid yow farewell.—From our Court at Whythall, 18 Jar 1633.

TO THE SESSION.

Right, &c.—Whairas, vpoun signification of our pleasur to our Counsell of that our kingdome, they have granted vnto our servand Sir Alex[†] Home, and Sir George Home, his father, libertie to cum in publict for the lawfull setling of ther affaires till the last of March nixt: Our pleasur is lykwayes, that in aney action ather of them shall have befoir yow, ather as persewer or defender, yow grant them power to stand in judgment, notwithstanding of any process of horning civilie led aganst them; for which, &c.—Whythall, 18 Ja[†] 1633.

TO THE EXCHEQUER.

Right, &c.—A Petition hath bene exhibited to ws in behalff of Mr Alexr Scatone, and of the Senatours of our Colledge of Justice, against some proceedings of the Erle of Mar, so much to the Petitioner's disadvantage and loss that we could not bot in justice so far to give ear therto as to remitt both pairteis to be heard befoir yow, and if thingis alledged by the Petitioner be fund trew, that he might receave satisfaction according to his demand in the inclosed petition, which we have sent to be examined and considered by yow: Our pleasur is, that haveing called both pairteis befoir yow, and haveing fullie considered of the petition, and of what further can be propounded or objectit by them, yow so setle and compose the differences betweene them as they shall find to be just and reasonable, and as yow can most convenientlie doe, wherin (if neid be) we will further approve of such proceiding is in such maner yow shall think fitt to preservye; bot if yow cannot compose them, so that the petitioner cannot receave such satisfaction as yow shall find reasonable without acquanting of ws for giveing such further order therin as we by your advyse shall think fitt, that yow report the esteat therof vnto ws with all diligence, togidder with your opinion what in Justice and equitie is fitt to be done heirin by we and for his satisfaction for inbringing of the Concealments of the taxations, we will yow to consider his paynes and charges therin, and therefter to report to we what yow shall find heirin, that we may give a precept or other warrand requisit for satisfieing out of the rediest of these concealed moneyis: All which we recommend vnto your care, &c .- Whythall, 18 Jar 1633.

TO THE COUNSELL

Right, &c.—A motion haveing bene made to we in behalff of our right, &c. the Erle of Mulgrave for being authorized by we to caus search and discover mynes of mettalls in that our kingdome, we have to that purpois signed a Lease to him and his partiners for 19 yeires, to be exped vnder our great seall, wherin, thogh we ar informed that there be diverse beneficiall clausses conceaved for the publict good, yit, leist there be aneything therin that cannot hold good in Law, or prove prejudiciall to the state there, we have sent it heirwith to be considered of yow: And it is our pleasur that yow pervice and consider of the same, taking the spetiall advyse of our Advocat in any legall poynt yow shall think fitt to be takin; And if yow find what is in the Lease to be fair and lawfull, that yow furthwith caus expeid it vnder our great seall; but if there aneything therin to the contrairie, that yow caus reforme it with diligence, and expeid it vnder our cachet and sealls without returneing it bak to we, or without farder trouble to the nobleman whois affection to our service heirin we tak in verie great part, and will not be wanting in aneything wherin we can lawfullie farther him, spetiallie in this purpois, which possiblie may produce some good and great effects for the weill of that our ancient kingdome.—Whythall, 21 Jar 1633.

TO THE ADVOCAT.

Trustie, &c.—Wheras we ar informed that diverse of the Lordis of the Erection, notwithstanding of ther surranders made to we of the superiorities of ther erections, doe call and persew the vassalls for improbatioun and reduction of ther Infeftments, wherby we may be prejudged in our right of superioritie, and to be persewit by the saidis Lordis of erections against the saids Vassalls; and that yow compeir for we in our particular interest dew to we by the generall surrander and submission, and plead for defence of our right and for manteneing of the saids Vassalls of Erections, notwithstanding your name be vised as our Advocat for our comeing entress in the saidis actions and persuts, and that yow intimat this our command and royall pleasur to the Lords of Session; for doeing quherof, &c.—Whythall, 28 Febr 1633.

TO THE MASTER OF WORK.

Trustie, &c.—We have heard of your great care in forsieing and provydeing for all such thingis necessarie as belong to your charge tuitching the repairing of our house in that our kingdome, for which we give yow heartie thanks; and now at our comeing thither, God willing, verie schortlie, we will expect at your hands that nothing be wanting or deficient that is fitting to be added of new for the further good of our service, for which we will yow to repair to our thesaurer principall and deputie, to whom we have gevin spetiall commission to sie all things fitt and necessarie at our being ther tymelie and weill provydit, to acquant them with your opinion theranent, to the effect yow may be supplied with such moneyis as may be requisit for that purpois: And as for what moneyis as are formerlie due vnto yow we will have a care that yow be satisfeid according to such appoyntments and ordours as we have formerlie gevin tuitching the same; And we doe further requyre yow in all other things concerning the good of our service, wherin yow or aney of your predicessours in that charge hath bene imployed at the tyme of the Coronatioun of aney of our royall progenitours, yow will lykwyse tymelie consider therof, and performe the lyk service at the tyme of our being ther.—Whythall, 2 Febr 1633.

To the Archbischop of St Androis.

Right, &c.—Wheras formerlie we have expressed our pleasur that the B. of Ross be translated to the See of Glasgow and Mr John Maxwell to that of Ross: These ar to requyre yow with all possible diligence to tak such ordour therin that they may be both furthwith established in these severall Sees according to our former pleasur signified to that purpois for the more speedie enabling of them for our service in each of thair charges; wherin expecting your care and diligence, we bid, &c.—Whythall, 2 Febr 1633.

TO THE ADVOCAT.

Right, &c.—Trustie, &c., as we did requyre yow of late that yow should ather give we notice or writt of such thingis belonging vnto your charge as yow for the good of our service thought necessarie to be propounded and past in the ensueing Parliament, which we intend to hold, God willing, in persone in Junij nixt, or otherwayis to repair vnto we yourselff sufficientlle instructed to that purpois; so now becaus the tyme of our comeing will schortlie approach, and that we ar desyreous to know these things befoir our comeing thither, Our pleasur is, that yow ather repair with all diligence to our Court to give we satisfaction heirin, otherwyse that with the lyk diligence yow send them hither to our Secretarie that they may be considered by we at our fittest occasion, and that we may signifie bak vnto yow our further direction tuitching the same: And wheras the Parliament was to begin vpon the 18 of Junij nixt, which is continewed till the 20 therefter, we requyre yow to certifie we if ancy further warrand be neidfull, and the maner therof, for prorogating these two dayes,—Whythall, 2 Feb 1633.

Our Soverane Lord, of his speciall grace, mercie, and favour, Ordeanes a Letter of Respett to be made and exped vnder the Privie scall of Scotland in dew forme to George Pott of Corrabeg, and George Ker, his sone-in-law, makand mention that wheras in the moneth of , the yeir of God j^m vi^o yeres, they, the saids George Pott and George Ker, and one vmqhill William Ritchertsone, in Pringlestead, being in companie with other thrie persones, did fall out suddenlie, without any premeditate malice or foirthoght felonic, wherof some stryks being interchangeablic gevin, the said George Pott receaved the first and greatest wound in the arme, and therefter was strok dead to the earth by the vmquhill William Ritehartsone; bot befor the said George Pott could recover, his said sone-in-law, think[ing] he had bene dead, did stryk the said Ritchartsone, bot so that no danger of his lyff did therby appear, haveing no deadlie wound, and haveing lived for the space of a moneth therefter: To the effect the said George Pott and George Ker, for the slaughter of W^m Ritchartsone, or for aney action or cause that may be imputt vnto them or aney of them therthrow, or that may follow thervyoun in aney wher, aney of ther persones, landis, goods or gear, dischergeing his Ma^{teis} Justice-generall, and his deputts and judges, spirituall and temporall, ther deputeis and clerks, his Ma^{teis} schirreffs, bailleis, provests, and bailleis of burghis, ther servandis and officers, and all and whatsumever his Ma^{teis} officers whom it doeth or may concerne, from calling, persewing, accuseing, arresting, imprissoneing, or aneywayes medling or proceiding with or aganst the said George Pott and George Ker, or aney of them, for the said slaughter committed by them or aney of them; and that the said respett indure for the space of ane whole yeir nixt and immediatile passing the said respett vnder the privie scall, without any revocation: Lykwyse that the said respett be furder extendit in the best and most ample forms with all clausses neidfull.—Signed by our said Soverane Lord at Whythall, the 4 Feb 1633.

To the Bischop of Aberdene.

Right, &c.—Wheras humble sutte hath beue made vnto ws in behalff of John Gordoun of Craig, that for dispatch of some of his lawfull [aff]aires, he might have licence to repair to that our kingdome, from whence he was banisched for matters of religion, wherby, in obedieuce to our lawis, he could not have tyme to setle them befor his departure; So that now, as we ar informed, iff he have not some small tyme allowed vnto him for that purpois, he wilbe vtterlie vndone: These ar to recommend vnto yow that efter the recept heirof he be not troubled for matters of religion to doe nothing to hurt or derogat from the estate of the present professed religion.—Whythall, 4 Feb* 1633.

TO THE ADVOCAT.

Trustie, &c.—Wheras we wryt formerlie vnto yow that yow should caus Mr Andro Aytoun, Mr Thomas Nicolsone, and Mr Lues Stewart, Advocats, convene with yow, to the effect yow might consult togilder what course was fittest to be taken for annulling of the late service of our right, &c. the Erle of Monteith to the Erledome of Stratherne, we did expect befoir this tyme to have sene that which yow should have agried vpoun, certifeid to ws vnder your hands: And it is our pleasur that, if yow have not alreadie done accordinglie, yow certifie ws with all diligence what course yow have condescended vpoun for that effect, and that, joyntlie or otherwyse severallie, if yow be of different opinions, as yow and everie of yow will be answerable to ws.—Whythall, 4 Feb 1633.

TO MR TH. NICOLSONE, MR AND. AYTOUN, MR LUES STEWART.

Trustie, &c.—As we wryt formerlie to our Advocat that he should convene yow togidder, to the effect yow might consult what course was fittest to be taken for annulling the late service of our right, &c. the Erle of Monteith to the Erldome of Stratherne: So now it is our pleasur that if yow have not done accordinglie, yow meitt and consult, togidder with our Advocat, with all diligence when yow shalbe required by him to that purpois, otherwayes that yow certifie ws with the lyk diligence your opinion, as yow think may stand best with the Lawis of that our kingdome tuitching the annulling of the said service, and, ather joyntlie or severallie, as yow shall best condescend vpoun: Whiche faill not to doe as yow and everie of yow wilbe answerable to ws.—Whythall, 4 Febr 1633.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—Wheras we ar informed that diverse questions in Law ar lyklie to aryse concerning the succession of the late Erle of Home to his Landis and estate, and being willing that all our good subjects have Justice equallie administred, according to our Lawis; and in the meane tyme, to prevent any disordourlie course, and that no person be defrauded of that which heirefter may be adjudged justile to belong vnto him, It is our pleasur that yow give ordour with all diligence that no innovation or change be made in ancy of the Landis, or other things belonging to the said Erle, without consent of pairteis or course of Law, bot that they may continew in the esteat quherin thay ar now: And in the meane tyme, if ancy persone have taken vpon them to tak possession of any Landis, housses, or other things belonging to the said Erle, that the same be putt in the estate wherin it was at the tyme of his death: And our further pleasur is, that yow tak such a course that as yow in your judgment shall think fit, according to the Lawis of our kingdome, that the writts and evidents concerneing his honour and inheritance may be furthenmand to the vse of such persones, as by the Lawis of that kingdome shalbe fund to have just right thervnto: Which recommending, &c.—Whythall, 15 Febr 1633.

TO THE LORD LORNE.

Right, &c.—Being informed that your father and predicessours have these many yeres vsed the office of cheif M^r houshold to our royall progenitours of that our kingdome: Our pleasur is, in regard of your father's absence from thence, that yow at our comeing ther, God willing, the nixt somer, supplie his place in ancy thing that may concerne that office, as he hath formerlie done; wherin not doubting bot yow will weill and carefullie discherge yourselff, we bid yow farewell.—Whythall, 15 Febr 1633.

TO THE EXCHEQUER.

Right, &c.—Being informed by our right, &c. the Erle of Abercorne, that some of his vassalls of his erection (whois rights ar defective and who have summonded him to receave a composition) intend to expeid new gifts theref in Exchequer, to prejudge both we and him in our lawfull rights: Our pleasur is, that no such gift or grant be exped whairof yow shall receave information in behalff of the said Erle, till we shalbe better informed of the estate therof, and give further direction therin now at our comeins thither, God willing, and if yow find it neidfull, that yow signific our pleasur heirin to our Commissioners for Surrenders and others whom it may concerne; for which these presents shalbe vnto yow are warrant.—Whythall, 18 Febr 1633.

TO THE ARCH BISCHOP OF GLASGOW.

Right, &c.—We have bene humblic moved vpon some differences betweene the petitioner and some other of the parochin of Howstoun and ther minister, and that the hearing thairof might be remitted to yow to the end they may be composed in a fair maner, otherwyse, if yow shall think fitt, that yow provyde him to some other churche, and them of ane other preacher, sieing (as the petitioner affirmeth) they have done him no wrong, but if aney mistaking or neglect wer vpon ther part, they would have bene contented to have submitted themselffis to him in aney fitt and reasonable maner if he could have accepted theref: We ar heirby pleased to remitt the consideration of the petition vnto yow, willing yow to call both pairties befor yow, and vse your best endeavour and anthoritie to reconceill them, otherwyse that yow tak such ane other course as yow shall think fit and reasonable to be done in equitie and for the service of God; which recommending to your care, &c.—Whythall, 18 Febr 1633.

To the Session.

Right, &c.—Wheras we did formerlie wryt vnto our Counsell to give ordour that nather of the pairteis pretending clame to the title of the late Lord Oliphant should vsurp the said title vntill it wer decydit by law which of them it did justlie belong, now understanding that the cause is presentlie depending befor yow, we doe heirby requyre yow lykwayes to continew it to the saids pairteis, that they doe not presume to tak upon them that place or title till the contraversic be decydit, and that in the meane tyme yow proceid to administer justice with all possible diligence therin untill it be brought to ane end, to the effect we may know the sooner to which of the pairteis the said title doe justlie belong; which recommending unto yow.—Whythall, 22 Febr 1633.

To SIR JA. BALFOUR, LYON HERAULD.

Trustie, &c.—Wheras we ar now verie schortlie to repair, God willing, to that our ancient kingdome, we will expect at the hands of all our Officers whom it doeth concerne that all things in ther severall charges concerneing ws and the honour of that kingdome be in readines and in good ordour: hearing that ther be some thingis concerneing our service peculiarlie belonging to your charge at the tyme of our Coronatioun, we are heirby pleased to requyre that yow carefullie performe at that tyme what shalhe condescended ypon by ws, and signified vnto yow concerneing that purpois; wherin not doubting of your diligence and affection to our service.—Whythall, 22 Febr 1633.

TO THE JUSTICE GENERALL.

Right, &c.—Though we ar pleased, vpoun some false and malicious calumneis suggested vnto ws by one George Nicoll against some of our cheiff officers, to give ordour to yow as our Justice generall to caus his punischment be speedelie sentenced, as should best accord with Justice, with diligence, and the foulnes of his offence, yit vpon some considerations now moveing ws we have requyred our Counsall to tak the ordouring of that caus befor them: Thairfor our pleasur is, that yow cause your deputts ceise from all proceeding tuitching that purpois, leaveing our Counsall to tak such ordour therin as they shall think fitt; for which these presents shalbe vnto yow and your said deputts a sufficient warrand and discharge.—Whythall, 23 Febr 1633.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—Though we wer pleased vpon some false and malitious, &c. vt supra, We ar heirby pleased that yow withdraw that cause from the judicatorie of the Justice-Generall, and haveing called the said Nicoll befoir yow, that ye cause censure and punische him in such maner as yow shall think fitt, that by his exemple others may be terrificid from attempting the lyk heirefter; for which these presents shalbe a sufficient warrand.—Whythall, 23 Febr 1633.

TO THE SESSION.

TO THE COMMISSIONERS OF PARLIAMENT.

Right, &c.—Wheras our Parliament is appoint to be fenced upon the 18 of Junij nixt ensueing, at which we intend, God willing, to be present in persone, but becaus it may possible fall furth in our Journey thither that by the occasion of the weather we may be hindered one or tuo dayes otherwayes then we intend, therfoir we think it fitt that in caice we be not ther present in persone, that our Parliament be fensed vpon the said 18 day of Junij by yow as our Commissioners, and continewed to the 20 day of Junij therefter, and that ather by adjourneing of the same to the said 20 of Junij, or by fenseing of the Parliament daylie efter the said 18 of Junij, or by declaring of the Parliament to be current and to run till we be present in persone, and that as yow shall think most fitt by advyse of the Lordis of our Secreit Counsall, to whome we have writtin to that effect, which we recommend to your special care; and for docing therof these presents shalbe vnto yow a sufficient warrand,—Whythall, 4 March 1633.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—Wheras we have writtin our princelie direction vnto our Commissioners of Parliament that vpon the 18 of Junij nixt ensueing it be fenced, at which we intend to be present, God willing, in persone, bot becaus it may possible fall furth in our journey thither that by occasion of the weather we may be hindred ane or tuo dayes otherwayes then we intend, we have thairfor requyred our saidis Commissioners, in caice we be not ther in persone, that our Parliament be fensed vpoun the said eightene day of Junij by them, and continewed to the 20 day of Junij therefter, and that by taking your advyse, to whom we have writtin for that effect, ather by adjourneing of the same to the said 20 of Junij, or by fenceing the Parliament daylie efter the said 18 day of Junij, or by declareing of the Parliament and requyre yow heirby have a speciall care to warne tymelie all prelats, noblemen, commissioners for barrones and brughs, and all others haveing place vnto or owing attendance in the said Court, to wait and attend vpon the same the forsaidis dayes, and to performe all and sindrie such other things as to ther places and offices doe appertene.—Whythall, 4 March 1633.

TO THE COMMISSIONERS OF SURRENDERS.

Right, &c.—Wheras we, by our former letter direct to our Advocat of the date 28 August 1628, and exhibite by him befoir yow, and allowed by yow to be registrat in your books, ther to remane as a warrant of his proceeding, according to the direction therof, we gave express command to our said Advocat to vse the best meanes by all lawfull wayes to get trew knowledge of the names of such persones who have refuised to submitt, or who have alreadic submitted, bot with further limitations and restrictions than ar mentioned in the generall submission; and also being crediblic informed that, notwithstanding of the surrender made to ws by the titularis of erection, yit ther ar diverse of ther vassalls who apprehended ane certane fear that the erectours intent to quarrell thair propertie, and to evict the same to themselffis, therby defrauding ws of the interest we might have thairto: Therfoir we willed and commanded our said Advocat to sie all doubts cleared heirin, in so far as he might lawfullie and convenientlie, and that whosoever wer vassalls to aney of the erectours at the tyme of ther submission, or since our revocatioun, may becum so vnto ws, without ather bettering or imparcing ther rights, and that all title which these erectours had over them may be devolved in our persone, as our letters direct to our said Advocat in the selff mair fullie proports, since the dait whairof yow have, at the instance of our said Advocat, sett diverse acts for tryeing such as wer not submitters, of whois names we desyre to have notice from yow with the first occasion: And becaus now of late some of the titulars of erections have raised summondis of improbation and reduction aganst diverse persones who wer vassalls to them the tyme of ther submission, which we conceave to be contrair to the trew meaning of the said generall surrander: Therfor, leist any doubt or scruple should arvse concerning these who ar and should be thought vassalls to ws by the said generall surrander, we have thought good to declair, Lykas by these presents we declair, that all these must be accompted our vassals by the said generall surrander, who and ther predicessours bruikit the landis the tyme of the said generall submission and of befor, be vertew of Infeftments, Chartours, and seasines granted vnto them and ther predicessours and authours by whatsumever Abbot, pryour, or other beneficed persone whatsumever, befoir the generall act of annexatioun of kirklandis to our Croun, or therefter, by vertew of the rights made to them ther predicessours and Authours forsaidis, flowing from ws or our vmquhill dearest father, by vertew of the said act of Annexatioun, or from the saidis Lordis of Erection since the dait of ther erections, or who bruik the same by retouris, to be haldin of the saidis benificed persones or of our said ymquhill dearest father, by vertew of the Act of Annexatioun, or of aney of the saidis Lordis of erection as Lordis of Erection; And declaires that it shall not be lawfull to the saidis Lordis and titularis of Erections to call, convene, and persew aney of the persones forsaidis for reduction or improbation of ther rights to the saidis kirk landis so bruiked by them, as said is, vnder pretext of whatsumever defect therof, ather in the originall rights and progres thairof, or for not confirmation in dew tyme, sieing the whole benefite that may arvse by defect of the saidis rights doe accresce to ws by the said generall surrander; and none can quarrell the samyne bot we, who ar becum immediat superiours to all such persones by the said generall surrander: And it is our speciall pleasur that upon this our declaration, and conforme thereto, yow mak are act of your table, and insert the samyne in your books.-Whythall, 4 March 1633.

TO THE SESSION.

Right, &c.—Wheras diverse of the Lordis of Erections (as we ar certanelie informed) have raised summondis of reduction and improbation aganst some of the Vassalls who was vassalls to them the tyme of the generall submission, and ar new becum our vassalls by the generall surrander conteyned in the said generall submission, and therby intendis to draw the saidis vassalls in question of their propertie, vpon pretext of some defectis ather in the originall rights or in the progress thairof, or for laik of confirmation befor the act of Annexatioun, which we conceave to be direct Contrarie to the trew meaneing of the said generall surrander: Lykas we, by our spetiall warrant directed to the Commissioners of Surranders, have for removeing of all scruple which may aryse heiranent made our declarationne to our saidis Commissioners, who are to be accompted vassalls surrendered to we by the said generall surrender, and thairfor it is our speciall pleasur, that whenseever aney such action of reduction and improbationn shall cum to be disputed befoir yow, yow follow and adhere to that declaration made by we to the saids commissioners and registrat in ther books; and that yow have a speciall care that we be nowayes prejudged by aney of the saidis actions of the benefite of the said generall surrander.—Whythall, 4 March 1633.

TO THE EXCHEQUER.

Right, &c.—Wheras diverse of the Lordis of Erectioun (as we ar informed) has dealt or intendis to deall with the vassalls of erections surrandered in our hands by the generall surrander, to move and caus them mak resignation of the tenendreis in our hands in favours of the saidis Lordis of Erections or others to ther behave, wherby they intend to ingross in ther persones the superioriteis of the saidis vassalls surrendered to ws, as said is, which we accompt ane great prejudice to our right, and contrarie to the trew meaning and intention of the said generall surrender: Therfoir it is our pleasur that yow pas no signature of any of the saidis landis and tenendries perteneing to whatsumever vassall of erection, vpoun resignation or surrander therof made or to be made in favours of the saidis Lordis of Erection, or any other to ther behave, and that yow tak speciale care to sie our right of surranders manteyned, and that no prejudice he done therto, direct or indirect, vnder any colour or pretext heirefter.—Whythall, 4 March 1633.

To the Session.

Right, &c.—Wheras we ar informed that with your approbatioun breives ar raised out of our Chancerie of that our kingdome for serveing of James Home air-male to the late Erle of Home, in proceiding of which service diverse of the said Erle's evidents wilbe requisit to be sene; Our pleasur is, that yow give all lawfull ordour to caus furthwith search and produce all wrytings concerneing his honour and esteat, alsweill to give light in the said service as to be secured for the vse of such as shalbe fund to have right thairto, and that in all actions that shall cum befoir yow tuitching that succession Justice without delay or respect of persones may be equallie administred.—[Not dated.]

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—Wheras we ar informed that Sir W^m Seaton, kny^t, hath receaved some opposition in the exerciseing of his charge as master of the posts and Journey horsses within that our kingdome, according to the power granted to him by patents from our late dear father and our selff, for the good of our service and the ease of our subjects: These ar therfor to requyre yow to call the said Sir W^m befor yow, and such other pairteis as yow shall find necessarie for clearing of these thingis that ar questioned concerneing that his charge, to the effect that efter hearing of the pairteis yow may tak such course as the said Sir W^m may enjoy the benefite of this patent in such sort as may encourage him to doe the service, and strenthen him the more for it; which recommending to your care, &c.—Whythall, 8 March 1633.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—We have sent the enclosed Petition to be considered by yow, and if yow find the errour therin mentionat to have fallin out (as is probablic affirmed) by a casuall oversight in the workmen, and not by designe in the Petitioner, Our pleasur is, that without consequence of aney tolleration in tyme to cum yow tak for the present such course as without prejudice to our good subjects of that our kingdome may best tend to the petitioner's demand: And for your see deeing, &c.—Whythall, 6 Aprill 1633.

Wheras we are pleased to mak choyse of yow for the fabricatioun of our Meduills appointed by ws for our Coronatioun in Scotland: Our pleasur is, that with all diligence yow mak readic toollis and presses, with all other provisions necessarie for that work, to be in tyme by yow transported vnto our toun of Edinburgh in our said kingdome; and these presents shalbe to yow and all others, whom it deeth concerne, a sufficient warrant.—Gevin at Whythall 6 Aprill 1633.

To Nicelas Bryet, our cheiff graver of our mynt of England.

TO THE ARCHBISCHOP OF ST ANDROIS.

Right reverend father in God, &c.—Haveing sene a certificat of the Dcane [and] Chapter of the See of Glasgow of the admission and election of the reverend father in God Patrik, hischop of Ross, to the Archibischoprik of Glasgow, according to our warrant for that purpois: Our pleasur is, that with all convenient diligence yow give ordour for his translation to the said Archibischoprik and for his enstalment therin in such readic and fitt maner as in the lyk caces is accustomed; for which these presents, &c.—Whythall, 15 Aprill 1633.

TO THE ARCHBISCHOP OF GLASGOW.

Right reverend, &c.—Haveing vnderstude with what great charges and panes yow have augmented the rents of the bischoprik of Ress, from which yow ar to be translated now to the great hurt of your privat esteat, We think that yow ar, or aney other bischop doeth deserve for some tyme all the benefite that doeth accress by ther endeavours thus, that others may be encouraged to tak the lyk course: And though we will not begin that preparative vpon one whom we have alreadic recommended to be elected for your successour, yit be confident of this, that as we have takin particular notice of your singular cariage in this kynd, so we will tak vnto our particular consideration, being of a long tyme assured of your good affection to our service, and that yow will continew the same: We bid, &c.—Whythall, 15 Aprill 1633.

Our pleasur is, that yow call to Sir John Scott, directour of our Chancerie, and others who have in ther custodie aney Chartours, writts, or other evidents concerneing ws, or the copeis therof, commanding and requyreing him in our name to delyver the same vnto yow, to whois charge the keiping therof doeth properlie belong, to be furthcuming at all tymes for our vse and service, wherof we will them they would not faill as they will answer the contrarie at ther perrells.—Whythall, 23 Aprill 1633.

To Sir John Hay of Landis, knyt, our Clerk Register.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—Wheras the recordis of Parliament, all publict registeris, evidents, and writts concerning ws, ought to be keipt by our Clerk of Register, to whome the Charge therof doeth onlie properlie belong:

Our pleasur is, that yow call befor yow all such persones as shalbe known to have such registers or records in ther custodie, or doe know wher they are to be fund, and thairefter caus delyverie be made thereof to our Clerk of Register, that they may be furth comeing for our vse and service: Which recommending vnto your care.—Whythall, 23 Aprill 1633.

To ME THOMAS NICOLSONE, ME ANDRO AYTOUN, AND ME LUES STEWART.

Trustie, &c.—We have both sene and heard of your diligence and affection to our service by concurring with our Advocat in geving your opinions tuitching the bussines recommended by ws of late vnto our Advocat and yow, approveing of your proceiding therin, And give yow hartie thanks for the same, assureing yow that we will not be vnmyndfull of your service therin when occasion shall convenientlie offer, wherby we may express our respect vnto yow: We bid, &c.—Whythall, 23 Aprill 1633.

TO THE COUNSELL

Right, &c.—Wheras we vnderstand that it hath bene the accustomed forme that all petitions to be presented in Parliament wer delyvered to the Clerk of Register for the tyme tuentic dayes befor the holding therof, and that proclamations wer accordinglic made to that effect, we being willing to continew any such receaved and approved custome, have heirby thoght fitt to requyre yow to caus the lyk proclamations be made in due tyme befor the ensweing parliament, wherby our good subjects may tak notice of what is fitt to be done in the lyk caces.—Whythall, 23 Aprill 1633.

TO THE CHANCELLOUR, THESAURER, PRIVIESEILL, SECRETARIE, CLERK REGISTER.

Right, &c.—Wheras it is thoght fitt for our further securitie that these services of Stratherne and others writts reduced by decreit of session vpon the 26 March last, togidder with the warrants therof and registers wherin the same ar inserted, be cancelled and deleit, to which purpois we have writtin to our Advocat, sieing the warrants of these rights ar in your hands or in the handis of your deputeis, and that the registers thairof ar for the most part in the keiping of our Clerks or of such others to whom the keiping therof doeth Appertene: Therfor it is our speciall pleasur that yow exhibite the warrants which ar in your handis or in the hands of your deputes to be cancelled, and that yow caus all havers of the registers wherin the same ar inserted to exhibite the same, and that yow sie them deleit, for which these presents shalbe to yow a sufficient warrant: Willing that these presents be insert in the books of our privic Counsell to have the force of ane Act thairof, Or in the books of Sederunt in Session, or other of them as yow shall think most fitt for our Securitie,—Whythall, 23 Aprill 1633.

TO THE AGENT AT BRUSSELLS.

Trustie, &c.—Wheras we ar informed that the schip called the Good Fortune of Dundie, in our kingdome of Scotland, being loadned with salt from France for the vse of the societie of the fisching of great Britaine and Irland, and latelie in hir returne from thence to Scotland, and vpon our owin coasts of this our kingdome, vnjustlie taken by tuo Dunkirkers, to the great hurt of our subjects interested, who by loss of both tyme and meanes in seiking repetition ar vnable to vndergoe what further is incident to strangers and sufferers in the lyk caices: In regard as we ar lykwyse informed that the schip's course both from Scotland to France, and from thence bak to Scotland is warranted by sufficient and accustomed testimoneis, and that nothing can reallie appear to the contrarie, we have heirby thoght fitt, in regard of the distressed esteat of our said subjects, and a consideration by apparent presumptions of the contempt and wrong therby done to ws, speciallie to requyre yow to informe your selff of the trew esteat of the premisses, and that therefter yow requyre in our name that the delinquents may be punisched, causeing speedic restauration and satisfaction be made to the bearer, James Fletcher, in behalff of himselff and of the persones interested in the said schip and goodis, and for ther charges and losses susteaned by this meanes; And that yow be carefull to vse your best endeavours for causeing restrayne heirefter such insolencies and wrongs as too frequentlie ar committed (as we are redibilie informed) by the Dunkerkers vpon our Coasts and against our subjects in ther lawfull trades, that no further occasion be gevin to interrupt that good correspondence and freindschip which reciprocallie ought to be cheresched and keiped amongst these of our freinds ther and our subjects, to whom if they give not dew satisfaction, otherwayes we must grant the ordinarie remedie that Justice doeth allow, wherby they may repair ther losses: Which speciallie recommending vnto your care. &c.—Whythall, 23 Aprill 1633.

TO THE ADVOCAT.

Trustic, &c.—Wheras we ar informed that vpon the 26 of March last, a decreit was pronunced in our favours, reduceing the service of Stratherne, togidder with the renunciation of the Infeftment of Vrquhart, and patent of the title of Stratherne; and that it was thoght fitt by yow and the thrie advocatts whome yow called vnto yow by our command that these writts so reduced, and warrands therof, should be cancelled: Therfor our pleasur is, ye prosecute the cancelling of these writts, and warrandis therof, by such ordour as yow shall find most fitt for our service, and that yow sie the same to be deleit and rased out of the registers wherin they ar insert: And at the begining of the said bussines of Stratherne yow did proceid as a faythfull and vigilant servand in giveing ws notice of the apparent danger which might aryse to ws in our annexed propertie, for removeing whairof the said renunciatioun was drawin vp by our speciall warrand, which yow caused register in all the registers necessarie for that effect, and produced the same at the tyme of the services, protesting that the same should be in corroboratioun of the renunciatioun, which we esteame and declair to be good and faythfull service done to ws in your part: So we give yow the lyk approbatioun in the accelerating and expedding of the said reduction according to our warrant, willing yow to goe on to the cancelling of these writts reduced, and warrants and registers thairof, in maner forsaid; for doeing whairof, &c.—Whythall, the 23 Aprill 1633.

This I most have punctuallie performed. Hoc propria manu regis.

Wheras yow have in your keiping the paper conteyning the opinion and advyse of Sir Th. Hope, our Advocat, Mr Andro Ayton, and Mr Th. Nicolsone, and Mr Lues Stewart, Advocats, concerneing and cancelling of the services and retours of Wm, Erle of Monteith, which paper is signed with ther handis: It is our pleasur that yow caus cancell the same, and delyver to our said Advocat, and to the other thrie Advocats, ther owin subscriptions, and from them the copeis gevin to them under your hand, which yow shall also cancell; for doeing whairof, &c.—24 Aprill 1633.

TO THE EXCHEQUER.

Right, &c.—Wheras we ar crediblie informed of the abilitie and affection to our service of our trustie, &c. Mr Alexr Colvill, our Justice depute, being willing to encourage and enable him to that purpois, we have heirby thoght fitt to promove him to be ane of the Commissioners of our Exchequer of our kingdome of Scotland: Therfoir our pleasur is, and we doe heirby will and require yow to admitt him vpon that Commission to be ane of your number, and that yow administer vnto him the oath accustomed in the lyk caice; for which these presents, &c.—Whythall, the 24 Aprill 1633.

Humblie schawing that hir husband, being bot latelie deceissed, hath left with hir tuo daughters, being as yit verie young children, and of a verie weak and tender constitution: And wheras the Lo/Carnagie and Sir John Carnagie, his brother, ther administratours and onlie aires (failling issue of ther owin bodies), goe about to tak them from hir vnto ther custodie; and in regard that in conscience and reasone none can be preferred to hir in the care of hir children, health and education, they being seiklie and weak, especiallie sche being ther naturall mother, a widow, and they hir onlie Children; hir humble sute is that your Matie would be graciouslie pleased to requyre the Counsell to tak the premisses to ther consideration, that sche may have the custodie of hir children, in regard of ther tender aige, sex, and indisposition of bodie, and if the yeirlie esteat left them be of better value than wilbe necessarie, that the Counsell will appoynt such a proportion therof as they shall think fitt to serve for that purpois, and that they give ordour that the superplus may be made furth cuming for the childrens vse.—

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—We have bene pleased to tak speciall notice of the enclosed petition, and conceaveing the demand therin to be verie fair and reasonable, we ar heirby pleased to will and requyre yow to tak the same into your consideratioun, being willing that yow schaw vnto the petitioner what lawfull or convenient favour yow can in ordouring and setling of these so reasonablie demanded by hir: Which speciallie recommending, &c.—Whythall, last Aprill 1633.

TO THE CHANCELLOUR, THESAURER, PRESIDENT, PRIVIE SEALL, THESAURER DEPUTIE,

Right, &c.—Wheras it hath bene alwyse accustomed that such writts and articles as wer fitt to be exhibited or motioned in Parliament wer some time befor the sitting therof delyvered to the Clerk Register for the tyme, and vnderstanding that besydis the custome it will conduce the good of our service that the lyk course be continewed now at our ensewing Parliament: Our pleasur is, that yow caus delyver all such papers and articles vnto our Clerk Register that now is as may concerne our service at this tyme, communicating vnto him what further yow shall know to be unnecessarie to be imparted for the good of our service, or what shalbe proponed vnto yow or any of yow to be considered of at that tyme, and that he enjoy the said office as frielie in all respects as aney of his predicessours Clerks of Register have done at any tyme preceiding: Which recommending vnto your care, we bid yow farewell.—Whythall, last Aprill 1633.

TO THE ARCHIMSCHOP OF ST ANDROIS.

Right, &c.—Haveing sene a certificat of the deane and Chaptour of the See of Rosse, of the admission and election of our trustic and weilbeloved Mr Johne Maxwell to the bischoprik of Ross, according to warrant for that purpois, Our pleasur is, that with all convenient diligence yow give ordour for his translation to the said bischoprik, and for his instalement therin in such readic and fitt maner as in the lyk caces as is accustomed, for which these presents shalbe vnto yow a sufficient warrand.—Whythall, last Aprill 1633.

TO THE CHANCELLOUR.

Right, &c.—We have sent yow heirwith a Commission for tryell of that which is allcdged aganst our right, &c. the Erle of Airth, President of our Privie Counsell, with the names of some persones sealled up to be delyvered to yow, and it is our pleasur that haveing convened with yow the Archbischop of St Androis and Glasgow, the Erles of Morton, Hadinton, and Lawderdaill, the Viscont of Air, the Lord Traquair, and Sir John Hay, Clerk Register, or oney six with yow, yow or any ane of the tuo of the Archbischops being one, and they and yow being appoynted by we Commissioners for the tryell of this bussines, yow open the Commission befor them, and so proceid for examing of such witnesses as shalbe produced unto yow according unto the Commission; and if any of the saids Commissioners shalbe used by the pairtie informer as witnesses, though ther doe not remane so many as we have sett doun for the quorum, It is our pleasur nevertheles that the rest shall proceid, and if any of the saids Commissioners shalbe used as witnesses, we appount that his deposition upon oath be presentlie takin, and incaice he doe not depone that he heard the said Erle speik that which is alledgit in the tuo Articles gevin aganst him, That he be immediatlie reponed in the place of his Commission, as if he had not bene used as a witnes: And it is our pleasur lykwyse that the said Erle be allowed to mak use of Advocats with whome he may consult and defend his cause, as far as he hath bene or can be lawfullie granted in the lyk caice.—First of May 1633.

TO THE THESAURER.

Right, &c.—Wheras we did command Sir George Fletcher, Knyt, to bargane for a peall of Bellis to be hung vpon our Church at Halyrudhons, which, as we ar informed by Mr James Hannay, minister ther, wilbe in readiness befor the 20 day of this moneth of May, to the effect it may be vsefull speciallie at our first comeing, and being ther at this tyme, Our pleasur is, that yow caus furthwith answer, and pay vnto the founder heir at our Citie of London the pryce condescended vpoun, that they may be transported thither with all possible diligence: Wherof expecting the performance at your handis, we bid yow farewell.—Whythall, 10 May 1633.

TO THE ERLE OF KELLIE.

Right, &c.—Wheras for diverse important considerations we have thoght fitt to summond a Court of Parliament to be holdin at Edinburgh, in Scotland, the day of Junij nixt, and vpon that occasion have caused writts of summondis to be addressed to that purpois, vnderstanding that, in regard of your indisposition of bodie and necessarie affaires within this our kingdome of England, yow ar vnable to attend that service in your owin persone, we ar heirby pleased to give yow licence to forbear your comeing to our said Parliament; So as nevertheles yow cause your proxy to be sent in convenient tyme vnto some of your owin qualitie and rank, who may for yow and in your name give his vote and consent vnto such matters as ar to be treated and concluded in the said Parliament, and these our letters shalbe your sufficient warrant and discharge.—Whythall, 10 May 1633.

* Licences directed to Noblemen selffs.

at this tyme at Edinburgh, so being they cause send ther proxis in dew tyme: The draught of ther licences, conforme to this of the E. Kelleis that followis heirefter, nothing is altered saveing that the clause of the Indisposition of ther bodie is left out in theris.

TO THE SESSION.

Right, &c.—Wheras we have often by severall letters recommended vnto your care that Justice might be dewlie and spedelie administrat according to Law in ane Action of reduction prosecuted at our instance and by our expres command to our Advocat for recoverie of certane Lands, tythis, superioriteis, and other thingis which did appertene to the Abbacie of Lundoris, being procured without our knowledge by Mr Wm Forbes of Cragievar, deceissed, to our great prejudice and grevance of many of our loveing subjects, antient fewers inhabiteing these Lands, the prosecutioun whairof hath now of late bene stayed by a reference ypon a petition of Sir W^m Forbes, now of Craigievar: We at this tyme taking spetiall notice of the prejudice done vnto ws by the procureing of the said grant, and of the former obstinacie of the said Sir William in refuising to submitt and resigne vnto ws in such maner as was fitt, and of the great trouble and charges these fewers and taksmen of tythis have sustened by his meanes, ar resolved, by these and others considerations knowen vnto ws, to have the benefite of our lawis by causeing assist in the said reduction in a legall [manner], and therfor have thoght fitt herby to recommend vnto yow of new (that not with standing of the said reference) speedie Justice be administred in the said action, with [out] respect of persones or furder delay, according to our pleasur so often signified to that purpois: And that heirefter yow accept of no submission from the said Sir William, without ane absolute resignation, alsweill of his action aganst the Vassalls as of the superioriteis cum omni causa; wheref expecting the performance, we bid, &c .- Whythall, 10 May 1633.

To the Commissioners for tryeing of the Erle of Airth, Chancellour, Archeischops, Thesaurer, and Deputie Carnagie, Sir John Hay, V. Air.

Right, &c.—Wheras we have bene informed by our trustie and weilbeloved Sir James Skene, knyt, President of our Colledge of Justice, that he would vndertak to prove that it was said to him that our right, &c. the Erle of Airth, president of our Privie Counsell, affirmed that he should have bene King of Scotland, and that it was said to him that he affirmed to have better or as good right to the Croun as we our selffs: That it may be truchie tryed whether these treasonable speiches wherwith the said Erle is accused, if they be trew, or if they be bot columners, It is our pleasur that yow to whom these presents ar directed, or any six of yow, the Chancellour, or any of the tuo Archbischops being one, doe convene and call befoir yow the said Sir James, and caus him condescend vpon the names of his reporters; and incaice they should deny, then yow examyne such witnesses as the said Sir James shall produce aganst his said reporters, and to bring them befor yow; and if his authors have it by report of others, that yow proceid till yow have sene who did affirme to have heard it immediatlic from himselff, and that yow examyne all such witnesses as shalbe produced vnto yow, they being noblemen or men of good qualitie and reputation, or such as aganst whom ther can be no legall exception vpon the said report, tyme, place, and other circumstances requisit; and therefter when yow have done with the tryell, that yow send to we the severall depositions of the saidis witnesses, everic ane of them haveing signed that which is his owen. [No date.]

To NICOLAS BRIOT.

It is our will and pleasur that with all possible diligence yow Coyne a certane number of Angells for these whome we are to toutch who have the King's evill, with the lyk Impression and fyness as they are which we use for that purpois in our kingdome of England, and for that effect yow prepare all such yrones, engynes, tooles as ar necessarie.—Halyrudhous, 10 May 1633.

TO THE LADY DOWGLAS.

Cousen, &c.—Haveing for many causes reasone to carie a particular respect to yow and that familie from which yow ar descendit, we thoght fitt to certific yow that since the Courteseis of England gives the daughter of a Duik place before all Countesses, we hope that this our antient kingdome wilbe no less courteous then they: And though we desyre not to command anything contrair to the customes of this kingdome of which we ar not as yet weill informed, yit we thoght fitt to intimat this by way of opinion, assurcing yow that we for our part shall carie yow the said respect and have yow in the same estimation heir as in any other kingdome whatsumever.—Halyrudhous, 24 Junij 1633.

TO THE SESSION.

Right, &c.—Wheras our servand Sir Robert Gordoun is to attend vpon ws in his charge as gentlman of our Privie Chalmer in Ordinarie, hearing that he hath ane action in Law depending befor yow aganst ane John Gordon of Innermarkie, we thought fitt in regard he cannot be long present ther, speciallie to recommend him vnto yow that he may have Justice administred therin with all expedition, that the Lawis and custome of the kingdome in the lyk caices can affoord, and that the said Johne Gordon get no advantage by delay in so far as lawfullie can be avoyded, wherin not doubting of your care, &c.—Seaton, the 3 July 1633.

Wheras yow as great Chalmerlane of our kingdome of Scotland and of our houshold heire should have a care of our Wardrop heir: Our will and pleasur is, that yow visite or caus visite our Wardrop heir and mak the Master thair give ane accompt and Inventarie of such thing is as ar within the same to yow, that yow may acquant we heirwith.—Halyrudhouse, 10 July 1633.

To the Duik of Lennox, Lord high Admirall and Chalmerlane of Scotland.

TO THE ADVOCAT.

Trustic and weilbeloved—Being willing that all such our Officers of this our kingdome who necessarlie ar to attend our service now at our Coronation may dewlie performe what belongeth vnto ther charge, and speciallie that our right, &c. the Duik of Lennox, our Chalmerlane of Scotland, and of our houshold therof, may have what is due vnto his place, ather by the custome of our dominions or of other forman kingdomes: Our pleasur is, that haveing informed yourselff in the readiest and best maner yow can of what is due vnto his charge, yow draw vp ane authentik ordour thairof vnder your hand, and seall and delvyer vnto him the extract therof, with all possible expedition efter yow have caused enroll the same (if what belongs vnto that charge be not sufficientlie enrolled alreadie) in your books, that it may remane the more cleirlie to the posteritie, for which these presents shalbe your warrand.—Halyrudhous, 10 July 1633.

TO THE CLERK REGISTER.

Trustie, &c.—Wheras we ar informed that Robert Adair of Kinhilt hath past in the Parliament at this tyme a ratificatioun of the patronage of the kirk of Kirkcadzow, in Galloway, and tythis therof, wherby both we and the kirk of Portpatrik to which thes kirks ar annexed, contrair to the generall course of laik patronages and other things mentionat in our decrie, vpon the submission of surrenders and contrarie to a ratificatioun made lykwayes at this tyme in our owin favours confirmeing we patron of the kirk of Kirkcadzow: Our pleasur is, that yow stay the said ratificatioun made in favours of the said Robert till our further pleasur be knowen heirin.—Berwick, the 16 July 1633.

TO THE ADVOCAT.

Trustie, &c.—Wheras by the act anent our Advocation made in our late Parliament diverse gifts of pensions formerlie granted by ws ar made voyd, some whairof notwithstanding out of our gratious favour we ar willing to renew, we have thoght good to send yow heirwith the names of a few whom we intend to favour in that kynd, and to the effect that we may be assured that the gifts which shalbe presented to be renewed and ratifeid by ws in ther behalflis, ar conforme to the first gifts without any new addition: Our pleasur is, that haveing called for ther first grants yow conferre the new with them, and finding them answerable one to the other, that then yow docatt them that they may be readic for our hand.—Whythall, 2 August 1633.

TO THE MARQUEIS OF HAMILTON.

Right, &c.—Wheras we have constituted yow Collectour of the taxations granted vnto ws at our last Parliament dureing the space of six yeres, as lykwyse of the tuo out of everie hundreth merkis of annuellis, payable termelie, granted at the same tyme: Though we have gevin vnto yow power to transact, compone, and remitt and agree for the said tuo of the hundredth by yourselff or your deputies, yit considering that yourselff will ather be altogidder or for the most part absent so that others must be entrusted by yow with that charge: It is our pleasur that yow or your deputies by whome the said composition for tuo of the hundreth out of the anuells shalbe made, doe acquant our Thesaurer or Thesaurer deputie therwith from tyme to tyme as they ar made, what is receaved or compounded for, that the same may be certified vntows; ffor doeing whairof, &c.—Grenwitch, 2 August 1633.

TO THE CLERK REGISTER SIR WM HAY.

Trustic, &c.—Haveing pervsed the Letter which yow sent vnto ws, and considering how necessar it is that we should confer with yourselff: It is our pleasur that so soone as convenientlie yow can yow repair vnto ws, and that yow bring with yow all the writts concerneing that bussines, which yow gave ws accompt of in your said letter: And lykwyse yow bring prepared with yow what is further requisit to be done therin: Expecting your comeing, we, &c.—Denmarkhouse, 3 August 1633.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—Wheras we have bene humblic petitioned by one Thomas Gordoun that he may have libertic to returne to his native cuntric for setling of his estate and provydeing for his wyff and children, we have sene the Act of Counsell wherby he hath bene hithertills sequestrat from his cuntric, and doe approve the course takin therin as being conforme to the custome and ordour establisched in the lyk caices: Bot yit being informed of the great prejudice the petitioner is lyklic to suffer if he shall not have libertic to returne home, and withall sieing (as we ar lykwayes informed) he hath ever bene frie from any particular and publict offence other than he is not conforme to the professed religion ther, we are the rather gratiouslic pleased to signific our pleasur vnto yow that he may be permitted to stay at home for setling of his said affaires so long as yow shall think fitt, or dureing such tyme as formerlic hath bene granted to others in that kynd, he alwayes behaveing himselff soberlic and civilic without geving any publict scandell to hurt or derogate from the estate of the present professed religion for the which yow shall tak him bund: And for your so doeing.—Oatlandis, 9 August 1633.

TO THE ERLE OF TRAOUAIR.

Right, &c.—Being informed that the Countess of Airth intendeth at this tyme to repair to our Court, and we being vnwilling that sche tak any such journey without our speciall direction: Our pleasur is, that yow in our name desyre [her] to forbear to repair hither, vnless our further pleasur be signified to that purpois; for doeing whairof, &c.—Oatlands, 15 August 1633.

TO THE BISCHOP OF WINCHESTER,

Reverend father in God.—Wheras our trustie and weilbeloved Sir Thomas Dischingtoun, knyt, gentlman of our Privie Chalmer, had a Lease granted vnto his Authours of the great Park of Ferwham, and we vpoun consideratioun of his good service done to our late dear father and ws, haveing since the expyreing of that Lease and of the Vacancie of that See, whair of yow have now the charge, caused continue his possession of that Park at that tyme of his being abroad in our service in Germanie, we ar heirby pleased speciallie to recommend vnto yow to renew a lease to him of that Park according as we have intended, and to caus allow yeirlie a sufficient quantitie of hay for keiping of the deere therin: The doeing whair of we will tak weall at your handis: We bid, &c.—Oatlands, 19 August 1633.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—Vpon humble sute made vnto ws in behalff of W^m Bannatyne of Corhous, that we might be gratiouslie pleased to grant vnto him a protection for a yeir, therby the better to enable him (as he affirmeth) to tak the more safe and speedie way to give his creditours satisfaction we did thervpon signe the enclosed protection, bot withall thought fitt to refer it to your consideration, willing yow to tak such course therin as may best tend to the securcing of the Creditours, and the better enabling of the pairtie for it, which is onlie our royall intention in this, and hath bene in all bussines of the lyk nature.—Denmarkhouse, 30 August 1633.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—Wheras we wer humblic petitioned at our being ther by a number of the Nobilitie and gentric of that our kingdome that some course might be taken for repressing the insolence and thifts of certane disorderlie persones in diverse parts theref, we intended then to have had the matter debaited befor we in Counsell ther, that by your advyses some good course concerning it might have bene established; yit in regard of the schortnes of our stay and the multiplicitie of affaires, it took not then effect, bot considering how much in justice it doeth concerne we to represse all oppression, and in honour to manteane the peace and rights of our good subjects, and with all that the specdimes of the remedic may prevent the effects, which by delay may prove otherwayes more prejudiciall to the petitioners and disgracefull to the governement ther, we have thoght good to send yow heirwith the enclosed Petition, and it is our spetiall pleasur that, haveing considered thairof and called for such of the petitioners as yow shall think expedient for receaveing the more ample information in the particulars, yow tak such present ordour as they may be fred from all just fearis in tyme cuming, the offenders be severelie punisched for what is past by all possible meanes, and the peace of the cuntric establisched: Wherin expecting and exact accompt of your spedie endeavours, as yow wilbe answerable vnto ws.—Whythall, 4 Septr 1633.

TO THE ERLE OF LAWDERDAILL.

Right, &c.—Wheras we are informed yow have a sone lattle borne vnto yow, we being willing to putt a mark of favour vpon yow, are willing to give him our name, and to that effect have made choyse of our right, &c. the Erle of Winton, which we thought good to signific vnto yow by these presents: And so we bid, &c.—Bagshot, 4 Sept. 1633.

TO THE ERLE OF WINTON.

Vestra Serenitatis, C. R.

Charles, be the grace of God king, &c., defender of the fayth, To all Mayors, Schirreffis, Justices of Peace, Vice-Admiralls, Bailleis, Constables, Customers, Serchers, and all others our officers whom it may concerne, and to everie ane of them, greting.—Wheras our trustic and weilbeloved Sir George Fletcher, kny⁴, our servand, is to travell into France vpon some necessarie occasions him nearlic concerneing: These ar to will and command yow, and everie of yow, to suffer him to imbark himselff, with his tuo servants, at any of our ports which shalbe most convenient for his passage; ffor which these, &c.—Whythall, Octo* 1633.

To the Archbischop of St Androis.

Right reverend, &c.—We have occasion, vpon our late being in Scotland, observed some things which we think fitt to putt in better ordour, which we shall doe as we find caus; bot noe one thing appears to we more necesserlie then the weill setling of our Vniversitie of S^t Androis, both for the service of God and good education of youth ther; now, as we wer then gevin to vnderstand, the whole companie of that Vniversitie, alsweill the doctours, as governours of Colledges, as the younger men, vse to goe to the ordinarie paroche churche to service and sermons, and ther sitt promiseuouslie with the rest of the auditours, which loses much of the honour and dignitic of the Vniversitie, and is quyt contrarie to the course hellin in other weill governed places of lyk nature, and is in diverse other respects verie inconvenient: Our expres will and pleasur therfor is, that all the students in that our Vniversitie, alsweill the governours of Colledges as they that live vnder them, shall at all tymes, alsweill terms as vacation, everie Sonday and everie holiday (that the church observes), repair at the hours both of morning and evening prayer to the Chappell of the Old Colledge in S^t Androis, commonlie called S^t Salvator's Colledge, and shall ther religiouslie continew all the tyme of divyne service and sermon; nather will we have any scoller, of what rank and degrie whatsoever, at the tymes aforsaid, goe to common paroche churches, nor any of the Inhabitants of the toun leave the paroche churche and mix themselflis with the Vniversitie; The service ther red shalbe the English

liturgie, ynto such tyme as another be made and publisched by authoritie in that church, and they shall have a communion efter that forme, and kneling, upon the first Sonday of everie moneth: And as for the sermons everie Sonday, bothe morneing and efternoone, and everie holie day in the morning, Our pleasur is, that they shalbe performed (aut per se aut per alium), by all and everie of the divynes liveing in that Vniversitie, beginning with the Junior that is [in] holy ordours and ascending to the senior, and in course, provided that the governours of Colledges, being divines, doe lykwayes preach by turnes, begining also at the junior of them, youn the first Sonday morning in everie terms, and by reasons of ther government shall not be putt to any other turne, vnless they pleas voluntarily to tak it: And further, in regard that this Colledge Chapell is thus to be made as a publict Vniversitie church, we think fitt that it be decentlie repaired, both within and without, so far as convenientlie it may, and that everie scoller in the Vniversitie doe contribut according to ther meanes and devotion: And last of all, we doe expreshe heirby command and require yow, as chancellour of that our Vniversitie, that yow doe reallie and strictlie putt these our commands in executioun, and sie them kept, and that the scollers repair to the chappell or church aforsaid in decent gownes, according to ther severall degrees in schoolis respective; and we will that these sermones begin at the church ypon the first Sonday of Januar nixt efter the date heirof, and so continew, and that yow give ws ane accompt by letter when this conrse is begun, and efterwards once a yeir at leist how it continewis vt supra.

Traquair.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—Forasmukle as George Lawder of Bass, and Issobell Hepburne, Lady Bass, his mother, as we ar certanelie informed, ar denunced rebells and putt to the horne at the instance of diverse of our subjects, and speciallie at the instance of James Levingstoun, our servitour, for not payment of great sowmes of money, and for not delyverie to the said James Levingstoun of the evidents of the Lands and baronie of Beill, sauld to him by them, and for not fulfilling vnto him the remanent heads of the Contract past betuixt them theranent, and that they remane most obstinatelie vnder the said proces of horning as our rebells, to the great contempt of our authoritie, and for manteneing them in the said rebellion have retired themselffis to the Yle of the Bass, wherin they have remaned thir many yeres bygane, and intends still to duell securelie therin, not permitting access of any persone to them from whom they fear any execution of Law: And sieing this tend s to the fostering of rebellion, and is ane evill and bad preparative, speciallie in parts so neir the place of Justice; Therfoir it is our will and pleasur that yow direct letters at the instance of the Creditours forsaidis, and spetiallie at the instance of the said James Levingstoun, chargeing them to compeir befoir yow to delyver the keyis of the said Yle of Bass to our Shirreff of Hadinton and his deputeis, and to devoyd and red themselffs therof, with certificatioun to them, if they failzie, our others Letters shalbe direct to charge them to doe the same, vnder pane of Treasone, and tak all other legall course which by Law may force them to satisfie ther said creditours, and speciallie the said James Levingstoun, our servand,—Whythall, 4 Octor 1633.

TO THE SESSION.

Vnderstanding that ane extraordinarie place of Session, befor discharged by the E. of Airth, doeth now vaik in our handis by removeing him from that charge, we have thoght fitt to present thervnto the reverend the bischop of Ross, requyreing yow to admitt and receave him therin according to the maner accustumed to be discharged and possest by him, with all honours, priviledges, immuniteis, and prerogatives therto belonging, and alse frielie in all respects as any extraordinarie Senatour in the said Colledge hath discharged and possessed thair place therin at any tyme preceiding; ffor which, &c.—Whythall, 4 Octo[†] 1633.

TO THE VNIVERSITIE OF ST ANDROIS.

Trustie and weilbeloved, &c.—We ar informed at our late being in Scotland, that our Vniversitie of St Androis did not keip and observe, ather in the habits or otherwayes, such decent ordour as befitts men that lives in such a societie, whois good exemple should not onlie be a direction to the younger sort that live amongst them, bot the whole bodie of that kingdome: And becaus our princelic care cannot extend itselff better to any ane work then to the reformeing of this, we have directed our letters to our right, &c. the Archbischop of St Androis, Chancellour of that our Vniversitie, for the setling of some good ordours ther, both tuitching the service of God and otherwyse; and we expect that all and everie of yow of what Colledge, degrie, or place soever yow be, shall reddelie and willinglie yeild your conformitie and obedience to them, as we doubt not bot yow will, both to give we the better satisfaction, and to contribute your endeavours to the weill ordoring, and so to the honor of that Vniversitie, for we purpois to cum ourselff in persone at our nixt comeing to that our kingdome to visite that place, and it will be a great dale of joy to find it, as we hope we shall, full of ordour and conformitie to rules of government; we are verie confident that yow wilbe so readie to yeild obedience to we in these things, which so much tend to your owin good, that as vpon the hearing of them yow will outrun our commandements according as our royall progenitours and ourselff have ever fund yow vpon all other occasions.—Whythall, 6 Octor 1633.

TO THE ARCHBISCHOPS AND BISCHOPS.

Right, reverend, &c .- We observed many things at our late being in Scotland, whairof we conceave wer not so full in ordour and decencie for the service of God in that Church as we hartelie wish and desyre: And we doe conceave that our loveing and loyall people ther, being weill and verie religiouslie affected, would easelie be brought to embrace all good ordour if yow would goe befor them in a good exemple, and yow cannot goe better nor more befitting your calling then in the way of prayer: Our express will and pleasur therfoir is, that everie of yow, the archbischopis and bischops, carie your selffis with the gravitie and devotion that beseames your place and calling; and particularlie that yow have in your severall duelling houses prayers twyse everic day for your famileis, and be present your selffis, valess it be at such tymes as indisposition of bodie, or necessarie bussines cans your absence; and we think it verie requisite vntill such tyme as yow will consider of and agrie vpon a fitt and full liturgie and forme of divine service for that church, that everie of yow respectivelie doe vse in your severall oratours the liturgy of the Church of England, by vse of which, as yow shall performe due service to God, so shall yow also come to be better acquanted with the formes of that Church, which will in tyme produce good effects for our service in both kingdomes: One thing more, we think fitt to requyre that whensoever yow shall appear at Edinburgh, vpon any occasion to mak stay, that yow vse your gownes and Typpetts, and appear with that gravitie which beseames yow in that and the lyk publict places, and particularlie in your places of residence and abroad: Bot especiallie we doe expresslie command all and everie of yow that ar of our privie Counsell of that kingdome, that yow cum not to the counsell table in cloaks bot in gownes and Tippetts, as beseemes yow to doe, in which, if any tak libertie to breck this our command, the persone so offending shall not onlie receave check by ordour of Counsall, but shall further fall into our displeasur, which we presume yow wilbe verie carfull not to doe; for other particulars, we doubt not bot yow will of your owin accord mak them answerable to these which will give ws a great daill of contentment, in a schort tyme bring much honour to that church and your selffis, which we hartlie desyre. - Dat. vt supra.

ARTICLES.

- Our expres will and pleasur is, that the deane of our Chappell royall that now is, and his successours salbe assistant to the right reverend father in God the Archbischop of S^t Androis at the Coronation so oft as it shalhappin.
- That the book of the forme of our Coronatioun latelie vsed be putt in a litle box, and layed into a standard, and committed to the care of the deane of the Chappell successivelie.
- That ther be prayers tuyse a day with the quyre alswell in our absence as other wayes according to the English Liturgie, till some course be takin for making ane that may fitt the constitutions and customes of that church.
- That the deane of the Chappell look carefullie that all that receave the blessed sacrament ther receave it kneeling, and that ther be a communion held in that our Chappell the first day of everie moneth,
- 5. That the deane of our Chappell that now is, and so successivelie, come corductie thither to prayers vpon Sondayes and such holy dayes as that Church observe, in his whyts, and preach so when ever he preacheth, and that he be not absente from thence, but vpon necessarie occasion of his dyocie or otherwyse, according to the course of his preferment.
- 6. That these ordours shalbe at our warrant to the deane of our Chappell, That the Lordis of the Privie Counsall, the Lordis of the Session, the Advocat's Clerks, Writters to the Signet, and members of our Colledge of Justice, be commanded to receave the holy communion once everie yeir at leist in that our Chapell royall, kneling for exempls saik to the kingdome, and we lykwyse command the deane aforsaid to mak report yeirlie to we how we ar obeyed heirin, and by whom, as also if any man shall refuis in what maner he doeth so.
- 7. That the coupis which ar confiscated to our vse be delyvered to the deane to be keipit by inventarie by him, and in a standard provyded for that purpois, to be vsed at the celebration of the sacrament in our Chapell royall.

To these orders we shall heirefter add others if we find any more necessarie for the regulating of the service of God ther.

TO THE BISCHOP OF DUMBLANE.

Reverend, &c.—We have thoght good for the better ordoring of divyne service to be performed in our Chapell royall ther, to sett down some Articles vnder our owin hand to be observed heirin, which we send yow heir enclosed, and it is our special pleasur that yow carefullie sie everie thing performed according as we have directed by these our enclosed Articles, and lykwayes that yow certific to the Lordis of our Privie Counsall if any of these appoynted by our former letters to them to communicat in our Chapell royall shall not accordinglic performe the same to the effect such ordour may be takin by our Counsall therin, as by our saidis former letters to them we did appoynt; wherin expecting your diligence and care, we bid, &c.

TO THE CHANCELLOUR.

Right, &c.—Wheras vpon the Commission by tryell of some treasonable speeches spokin by the Erle of Airth, we fund sufficient prooff to beleive the same, and in regard lykwayes he by his owin acknowledgment confessed in effect as much, togider with the great fault he committed in his service to the Erldome of Stratherne, and is conteyned vnder his hand in his late submission, we therfor find that he is not worthie to enjoy the charges which he hath formerlie borne in the State by our gift and appoyntment, nor the pension allowed to be payed vnto him out of our Exchequer, wherfor we have thoght good heirby to signifie the same vnto yow: And it is our pleasur that yow requyre the said Erle in our name to surrender vp to our handis these his charges of Presidentschip of the Counsell, Justice Generall, and place in Session, to be disposed of as we shalbe pleased to appoynt, as lykwyes the gift of his said pension, and that in the meane tyme yow confyne him to his owin houses and boundis belonging thervnto, which ar not neir to Halyrudhous, wher the publict meitting of our State ar keiped.—Dat. vt supra.

To the Tuo Archbischops of St Androis, Glasgow.

Right reverend, &c.—Wheras we intended in so far as may stand with the Lawis in that our kingdome to have the right of patronage of all Churches of erection, and of other Churches not apperteneing to bischoprikis, whereof the patronage did belong to our late dear father, of worthie memorie, to be established in our persone, it is our pleasur that yow or ather of yow conven your suffragan bischops, and efter good advyse and deliberation had with them, that yow sett down some solide course wherby a List may be made of all patronages of Churches within everie presbyteric of the kingdome which apperteyned to our said late dear father, and which ar enjoyed or acclamed by any of our subjects, and that with all convenient diligence yow delyver the said list under your suffragant bischops handis to our thesaurers principall and deputie or ather of them, to the effect that they may give ordour to our Advocat to quhom we have writtin tuitching that purpois to intend summondis of reduction aganst these who pretend right therto; which recommending to your care, we bid, &c.—Dat. vt supra.

To the Thesaurers, Principalls, and Deputie.

Right, &c.—Wheras we intend to have the rents and other things which belong to our Chappell royall restored to the full integritie, and to have all such patronages and Churches established in our persone, which by the Lawis of that our kingdome appertened to our late dear father and now appertene vnto ws by our late revocation and the general Lawis of that our kingdome, to which purpois we have gevin ordour of the tuo Archbischopis to give a list vnto yow vnder ther and ther suffragan bischops hands of the saidis patronages, Our pleasur is, that yow call and convene befor yow all persones pretending right to the Landis, Churches, or tythis apperteneing to our said Chapell royall as the same shalbe gevin in list vnto yow by the reverend father in God, Adam, bischop of Dumblane, deane of the said Chapell, as lykwyse that yow call for the list of the saidis patronages vnder the saidis Archbischops and bischops handis, and that in both these particulars yow give ordour to our Advocat for intenting and following furth summondis of reduction and improbatioun therof, in so far as can be done by the Lawis of that our kingdome.—Dat. vt supra.

TO THE ADVOCAT.

Trustie, &c.—Wheras we intend to have all such patronages of Kirkis established in our persone, which by the Lawis of that our kingdome appertened to our late dear father, and now appertene by our late revocatioun, and the generall lawis of that our kingdome, to which purpois we have gevin ordour to the tuo Archbischops to give to our Thesaurer and Deputie Thesaurer a list vnder ther and ther suffragan bischops handis of the saidis patronages: And wheras we have gevin ordour to our Thesaurer and deputie to call and convene befor them all persones perteneing right to the landis, churches, or tythis apperteneing to our Chappell royall as the same shalbe gevin in List to them by the Right, &c., the bischop of Dumblane, deane of the said Chapell, to the effect the rents and other thingis belonging therto may be restored to the full integritie: Our pleasur is, that in both these particulars yow proceid according to the advyse and direction of our said Thesaurer and deputic Thesaurer, and that accordinglie yow intend summonds of reduction and improbatioun against all such persones as pretend right to the said patronages, and to the landis, tythis, rents or other thingis belonging to our said Chapell royall.—Dat. vt supra.

TO THE ADVOCAT.

Trustie, &c.—Wheras humble sute hath bene made vnto ws in behalff of the reverend, &c., John, bischop of Ross, that in all actions of Law that shall cum befor our Colledge of Justice for recoverie of the prtronages and rents belonging to the bischoprick of Ross, he can have all the lawfull favour can be affoorded vnto him, Our pleasur is, that ather in our name or in name of the said bischop, or in both, as it sall seame most expedient vnto yow, yow compeir and give your best assistance in all actions of Law intended or to be intended by him before our said Colledge for the effect forsaid, wherin as yow shall doe we acceptable service, so we will tak particular notice therof.—Whythall, 6 Octor 1633.

TO THE CHANCELLOUR.

Right, &c.—Wheras we have bene informed concerneing the abuse of forrane coyne current ther, and great scarcitie of our owin, we ar exceidinglie desyreous that a speedie remedie may be fund for the same: Therfoir it is our pleasur that togidder with our right trustic cousens and counsellours the Erles of Morton and Traquair, our principall and deputie Thesaurers, yow call vnto yow such others of our privic Counsell as yow shall think fittin to the effect that haveing carefullie informed yourselfits of the forsaids abuses in the matter of Coyne, yow may with all consider by what meanes the same may best and most speedelie be reformed, and that with all diligence yow certific ws of your opinions theranent, that thairefter we may give such further ordour as in our princelie judgment shall be fund most expedient for the weill of that our ancient kingdome; which recommending earnestlie to your care, we bid, &c.—Whythall, 6 Octor 1633.

TO THE SESSION.

Right, &c.—Wheras we ar informed that it will conduce to the good of our service that in all matters that heirefter shall cum befor yow, wherin we have a speciall interest as persewer or defender, or wherin yow shall find ws to have a special and particular interest by any other maner of way that our Thesaurer and deputie Thesaurer be present, Our pleasur is, that befoir yow proceed in any such action, yow hear our saidis officers for our interest; ffor which, &c.—Whythall, 6 Octor 1633.

To the Commissioners of Surranders.

Right, &c.—Wheras we intend to have the few maills of the superiorite of erections bought to our vse from such persones as did subscryve the generall surrander, conforme to the tenour of our generall determination, and becaus ther hath bene some scrupall moved heirtofoir (as we ar informed) anent what salbe accompted superioritie, which in our judgment is cleir and evident, That all most be compted superioritie to which the titularis of erections had not lawfull right of propertie befor ther erections, or whairof they have not acquyred rights of propertie, and by vertew of these rights have bene in possession thair of befor the generall surrander: Therfoir it is our pleasur that yow proceid in the course for buying vnto ws of the few maills of the saids erections, notwithstanding any doubt or scruple that may be made by the occasion forsaid.—Dat. vt supra.

TO THE EXCHEQUER.

Right, &c.—Forasmuch as the superioritie of all erections perteneing to ws by the late act of parliament made in our favours, reserveing to such titularis of erection who subscryved the generall surrander ther few maillis till they be satisfeit therfoir, Conform to our generall determinatioun; and for as much as diverse of the vassalls of erections (as we ar informed) ar willing to advance the money for buying the few maillis for such yeres efter ther advanceing of the moneyis as in reasone and equitie may compense the money to be advanced by them; and sieing we approve this course, and ar willing that these who advance have retention of ther few maillis for such space of veres as yow shall think reasonable: Therfoir it is our pleasur, that yow caus mak publict intimatioun heirof to all our leidges, who have interest, be oppin proclamation at the mercat croce of Edinburgh, to the effect such of the vassalls of the Erections as ar or shalbe willing, may cum in befoir yow, and agrie with our Thesaurer and deputie-thesaurer for advanceing of these moneyis, and receave warrant and securitie by act of Exchequer for reduction of the saidis few maillis and few fermes for the space to be agried vpon; and becaus ther hath bene heirtofoir some scruple made what shalbe compted superioritie, wheranent we signifed our royall pleasur by tuo severall letters registrat in the bookes of Commission: Therfor we have thought good to acquant yow heirwith, and with the equitie of our proceiding is therin, which is, that in justice all is to be accompted superioritie to which the titulars of erection had not lawfull right of propertie befor ther erections, or wherof they have not acquyred rights of propertie, and by vertew of these rights, have bene in possession therof befor the generall surrander; and we will yow to proceid according to this rule: And in the meane tyme it is our speciall pleasur, that yow pass no signature of any kirk land perteneing to erection in favour of the saidis Lordis of erection, or in favours of any other, vpon ther resignation, bot of that which was ther propertie, in maner forsaid, to be holdin lykwyse of ws in few ferme, according to our late act of parliament made thereanent; and becaus we ar informed that some Titulars of erection intend to ingresse agane to them ther superioriteis, in whole or in part, by procureing resignatiouns from the vassalls in ther favours, wherepon they intend to pass new infeftments, and than to give subalterne rights and few to these who have resigned: It is our will that no such signaturs be exped of the saidis superioriteis in our prejudice; to which recommending to your care, we bid. &c.-Whythall, 6 Octor 1633.

TO THE BISCHOP OF ST ANDROIS.

Wheras we, vpon your remonstrance, have disvnited from the bischoprik of S⁵ Androis the landis and kirkis lyeing vpon the south syd of the watter of Forth, haveing erected the same in a severall bischoprik, as by the patent of erection may appear: Our pleasur is, that with all diligence yow assemble the Archbischop of Glasgow, and all the bischops of that our kingdome, representing to them the just reasones moveing yow to petition, and ws to condescend vnto the same, with the great charges and expenses we had vndergone, to provyd a compitent meanes for the honorabill mantenance of that Seat, all which we have done for the good peace and quyetnes of the Church of that kingdome, whairof we did and ever have bene verie cairefull: And that yow caus mak a generall act, with ther vniforme consent, allowing the said disvnion and erection of the said bischoprik vnder ther handis and sealls, which yow shall caus delyver to our Clerk of Register, to be keipit amongst the recordis of that kingdome, to which purpois we have written to them, wherof the letter we have sent yow heirwith, for causeing reid the same in your assemblie: which recommending vnto your care and diligent performance, we bid, &c.

TO THE TOUN OF EDINBURGH.

Wheras, of our princelie motive and zeall for the advancement and governement of the Church of that our kingdome, we have, by the advyse of the cheifest of our Clergy thairof, erected at our charges a bischoprik of new, to be called the Bischoprik of Edinburgh, wherby none of your priviledges nor liberteis ar anywayes to be infringed, bot rather preserved and increaseed; and wheras to that purpois it is verie expedient that S^t Geills churche, designed by ws to be the Cathedrall church of that bischoprik, be ordored as is decent and fitt for a church of that eminencie, and according to the first intention of the Erectors and founders thairof, which was to be keiped conforme to the Largnes and conspicuitie of the foundationu and fabrik, and not to be indecentlie parcelled and disjoyned by walls and partitions, as now it is, without any warrand from any of our Royall predicessours: Our pleasur is, that with all diligence yow caus raise to the ground the east wall in the said church, and that lykwayes yow cause raise the west wall therin, between this Lambes ensueing, at or befor which tyme we require yow to caus finish the new tolbuith, to the effect it may be for the vse of our Excheker, and other Judicatoreis and Commissions, as the tyme and occasion shall require.—Dat. vt supra.

TO THE COMMISSIONERS OF TYTHIS.

As we have heirtofoir writtin vnto yow at diverse tymes to proceid with all diligence in the valuatioun of tythis, as a purpois much conduceing to the good of our service, and speciallie the publict good of that our kingdome: So we ar heirby pleased at this tyme to schaw yow which way it is our pleasur yow proceid in the same, and therfor we command that yow proceid in the valuation of tythes of all the kirkis of erections befor any vther valuation whatsumever, and that, for the quicker expeiding of the said valuation, and other particulars committed to your charge mentionat in your commission, yow appoint another day of the weik for sitting then Wednsdays and Frydays: All which we speciallie recommend vnto your care.—Whythall, dat. supra.

TO THE EARLES OF MORTOUN AND TRAQUAIR, CLERK REGISTER AND ADVOCAT.

Wheras it is expedient for the good of our service that a speciall care be had for the preservation of these submissions made vnto ws by the erectours and others persones mentionat in our decrie, tuitching Tythis and surranders, to which purpois we have heirby thought fitt to requyre yow to consider if by a legall and convenient course the same can be registrat, and if it may be that yow give warrant to our Advocat to delyver them to our Clerk of Register to that effect; and if by a dew and legall forme they cannot be registrat, that yow caus lykwayes delyver them to our said Clerk of Register to be saiflie keipit amongst the recordis of that kingdome: and for your soe doeing, &c.—Dat. vt supra.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Wheras ther was a petition prefered by the toun of Edinburgh to the late Parliament holdin by ws in that our kingdome tuitching the Ministers' stipends in setling therof, wherby it was desyred that the imposing of the same might be layed rateablic vpon the Inhabitants, as they wer fund able, the consideration and determyneing of which petition was remitted vnto yow, sieing the establisching and provydeing of the Church of that toun is a purpois whereof we doe verie much approve: Our pleasur is, that yow consider of the said Petition, and if yow find that the course propounded by them cannot convenientlic tak effect, that the said imposition may be rateablic layed and takin vp according to the proportion of the maill of the said burgh, appoynting therby to everie minister a compitent stipend and a commodious duclling-hous, according to ther degree,—Dat, vt supra,

TO THE ADVOCAT.

Haveing now fullie concluded what we intended at our late being ther for erection of a bischoprik, to be called the bischoprik of Edinburgh, the furtherance of which designe we did then recommend to your care, we have thought good, out of our acknowledgment of your carefull endeavour thairin, whairof we have fund the effects, to give yow harty thanks; and as hitherto we have alwyse fund the lyk care in anything might concerne our service, so we doubt not bot yow will still continew, being the more encouraged by this our particular taking notice of your bypast diligence and affection, which we shalbe readic further to acknowledge when any good occasion shall offer to that purpois: So speciallie recommending vnto your care to ayd and assist from tyme to tyme the bischop of Edinburgh, appoynted by ws, in all things that may concerne the setling and advancement of the bischoprik, we bid, &c.—Dat, yt supra.

TO THE COMMISSIONERS OF SURRENDERS.

Wheras we have directed a bischoprik of new, to be called the bischoprik of Edinburgh, haveing for mantenance thair appoynted thervnto certane kirks, tythis, and others benefices, as by the patent of erection may appear, to the end the Tythis, personage and viccarage, of the said bischoprik (which is our owin royall wark) may be in the same case and as frie as the tythis of any other bischoprik whatsumever within that our kingdome: Our pleasur is, that yow proceid no otherwayes therin then in the saidis tythis, personage and viccarage, of other bischopriks, and that yow remitt the provisions of the patrimoniall Churches of the said bischoprik to the modification of the bischop and his successours, and that yow certific the vnjust valuations of any tythis belonging thervnto whensoever the bischop shall intend proces to that effect.—Dat. vt supra.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Wheras it is expedient that the blanks in the Commission of the Lawis tuitching the number of persones to mak a session, the Quorum the tyme of endurance, and prorogation be filled vp: It is our will that sevin mak a session: That our Chancellour, the Erles of Mortoun and Traquair, President of the session for the tyme, be of the quorum, and that they, all or any of them, be alwayes present: The tyme of endurance of the said Commissioun to be betuixt this and Witsondey 1635 yeires, and to be prorogat dureing our pleasur; to which purpois we requyre yow to give warrand to our Clerk Register by ane Act of our Privie Counsall for filling vp of the said Commission accordinglie; ffor which, &c.—Dat. vt supra.

TO THE TOUN OF EDINBURGH.

Wheras for the good of that toun we have established our Colledge of Justice, and have now ordened our Counsall and Exchecker still to sitt within the same, and wheras it is verie expedient that the recordis and publict registers of that kingdome be keiped and made vse of for our service and good of our subjects neir vnto our saidis Judicatoreis, and the rather becaus the Chartour-hous in our Castell of Edinburgh is not of sufficient capacitie to receave and conteyne all the recordis tuitehing our Croun and others concerneing the publict esteat: Our pleasur is, that yow cause provyde a fair and large hous, with tuo-thrie rowmes, for keiping of the said register and recordis within that toun, which shalbe most vsefull for our service and commodious for our leidges: This faill not to doe with all expedition, as ye tender the good of our service and the good of our toun: We bid, &c.—Dat, vt supra.

TO THE ERLE OF TRAQUAIR.

Wheras our service is much hindred in the Commission of Tythis, in regard of not admission of ane clerk to the same: It is our will and pleasur, lykas we heirhy give vnto yow full power and commission, to call befor yow Mr Wm Hay, Clerk to the said Commission, and admitt him thervnto, receave his oath de fideli administratione, that he may give furth summond ather at our Advocat or leidges instance, for which these shalbe vnto yow and him a sufficient warrant.—8 Octor 1633.

TO THE LORD NAPER.

Right, &c.—Wheras by reasone of the present wants in our Exchequer, and of some of our particular commandements laid at this tyme vpon our Thesaurers, principall and deputie, for imploying moneyis for our present and speciall service, it may fall out that these sowmes of money for which they are bund vnto yow cannot be so convenientlie payed vnto yow as they intended and yow expect, in which caice we have heirby thoght good to desyre yow not to vrge our saidis officers or ther cautioners with extremitic of Law for payment of your moneyis, vntill the necessitic of our present vrgent affaires may convenientlie permitt them to give yow satisfaction, which we will not tak weill at your handis, and if yow shall find it neidfull therefter, we will not be wanting in what we can lawfullie and convenientlie doe, for your more speedic satisfaction of these moneyis dew vnto yow: We bid, &c.—Whythall, 8 Octor 1633.

The lyk of this precedent letter was writtin to the Lard of Thornetoun, knyt.—Whythall, 8 Octo[†] 1633.

TO THE CHANCELLOUR.

Right, &c.—Wheras ther hath bene ane course taken for reduction of the Erle of Airth his service to the Erldome of Stratherne: It is our pleasur that, haveing conferred with our right, &c. the Erle of Traquair, togidder with him yow call vnto yow our Advecat, and such other advecats as yow shall think fitting, and that by ther advyse yow informe yourselff carefullie in all thingis concerneing the said reduction, to the effect yow may certifie ws of your opinion, not onlie how to annihilat the said service if ther be yitt anything wanting thervnto, bot also if ther be anything extant that may in any kynd give occasion to the lyk errour heirefter, bot such a course be taken as may abolish the memorie of the errour past in this service, and hinder such mistakings in tyme to cum; ffor doeing whairof in what kynd soever yow shall find most expedient for the good of our service, we doe authorize yow by these presents.—Whythall, 8 Octor 1633.

To the Counsell.

Right, &c.—Wheras our late Royall father by severall Acts of Parliament ordeaned that thrugh all the schirrefdomes of that number a selected number of Justices of Peace should be choysen in each schyre for the more quyet and peacable governament thairof, setting down ther Instructions in the Parliament holdin in anno 1617; and wheras the same was ratifeid in our late Parliament holdin in Junij last, and commission gevin to yow for granting vnto them such further instructions as the necessitie of the service sall requyre: It is our pleasur that yow furth mak choyse out of each shirrefdome of a compitent number of the best and ablest gentlmen inhabiteing the same; and that Commissions be issued furth of the Chancerie be the directour thairof to whome the same apperteneth, to be exped vnder the great seall, granting vnto yow and the saidis Justices of Peace in each shirrefdome such power and authoritie for keiping our peace as by the Lawis of that kingdome is due, and what further yow shall think fitt for the quyet and good governement thairof, and that yow cause them be receaved and admitted conforme to the ordon accustomed, and so that they keip the bench at the ordinarie tymes and all other occasions as the necessitie of the charge doeth requyre, appoynting the quorum and Custos Rotulorum: Which recommending to your care, &c.—Whythall, 8 Octor 1633.

TO THE COUNSELL,

Right, &c.—Wheras we vnderstand that the Clerk of Register himselff and his deputies ar and ought to be the sole clerks to the Parliament and all commissiones issueing from the same, the decreits to be gevin by the Judges by vertew of these commissions haveing the force of Acts of Parliament, which non can subscryve, nor can be valide without they be subscryved be the Clerk of Register and his deputts: Therfor it is our pleasur that yow receave nor admitt non to be clerk is to the saidis commissions bot such as shalbe presented by our present Clerk of Register: And wheras the kciping of all the publict registers of that kingdome ought and doeth appertene to our said Clerk of Register, and to such as he shall depute to that purpois, It is our will and pleasur that yow caus the havears and keipers of these registers delyver the same to the said Clerk of register, that he may saiflie conserve the same for the vse of ws and our leidges.—Whythall, 8 Octor 1633.

To the Commissioners of Surranders.

Right, &c.—Wheras we understand that the Clerk of Register by himselff and his depute ar and onght to be sole clerks to Parliaments and to all commissions issweing from the same, and all decreits gevin by vertew of these commissions have the force of acts of Parliament, and therfor cannot be subscryved but be him and them: And wheras our trustic and weilbelovit Counsellour Sir Johne Hay of Baro, knyt, our present Clerk of Register, hath by his gift presented Mr Wm Hay, his sone, to be Clerk to the Commission of Tythis, which present occasione we have of late ratifeid: It is our pleasur and will that yow receave and admitt the said Mr Wm Hay to the said office of Clerk to the Commission of Tythes and surrenders, taking his oath de fideli administratione; and that from tyme to tyme yow receave to be Clerks thervnto such persones and non others as shalbe presented by our said Clerk Register, in caice the said office of Clerkschip to the said Commission shall happin at any tyme to be voyd.—Whythall, 8 Octor 1633.

To Sir William Seaton, Master and Comptroller generall of his Mateis Posts in Scotland.

It is our pleasur that by vertew of your office yow have of ws as master and Comptroller generall of our posts in Scotland, yow authorize and require for the good of our service all the posts in the road from Edinburgh to Berwick to answer and send to and from our Court all such pacquetts and letters which they shall receave under the subscription of our trustic and weilbelovit Counsellour Sir John Hay.—Whythall, 8 Octor 1633.

TO THE EXCHEQUER.

Right, &c.—Wheras we understand from our right, &c. the E. of Mar that he and his sone, the Lord Erskene, had, for releiff of ther debts lying upon the house of Mar, agried to sell to some of ther tennents in few-ferme some Landis of theris which hold ward of ws, and had gevin satisfaction for the same from some of them, but ar stopped in proceiding in the lyk course with the rest by reasone of ane act of our late Parliament prohibiteing any wardlands holdin of ws to be fewed by our vassalls without our consent: In regard of the good services done to our late royall father and ws by the said erle, and to the effect his hous by meanes arysing vpoun his owin revenues may subsist, Our pleasur is, that yow allow them to proceid in that course which they have alreadie begun for fewing of the Landis following, viz.—Ther Landis of the brae of Mar, Strathdee, Kildrumie, and Migvie in Cromar, and that yow give way to ane warrant necessarie to that effect.—Whythall, 11 Octor 1633.

L/ Buchan,

A Letter was direct to the Counsell for admitting the bischop of Ross to be Privie Counsellour, as lykwayes to the bischop of Murray.—11 Octor 1633.

TO THE ARCHBISCHOP OF GLASGOW.

Right, &c.—Haveing bene petitioned by the Lo/ Semple humblie schawing ws that the late Archbischop of Glasgow, your predicessour, intendit to proceid aganst him with the censures of the Church, and being loath to losse ane of his qualitie so long as ther remaneth hope to reclame him by fair meanes: Our pleasur is, that yow grant him yit some further delay vntill we may be particularlie informed by yow of his cariage and the reasones of the proceidings vsed aganst him, And that in the meane tyme yow suspend all further censure till our pleasur shalbe knowen efter your report to ws heirvpon.—Whythall, 12 Octo* 1633.

TO THE VICE PRESIDENT OF YORK.

Trustie, &c. and weilbeloved.—Wheras we ar informed that ane Andro Ainstey, our subject in Scotland, is a sutter to yow to have justice administred according to the Lawis of this our kingdome vpon a band of moneyis payed by him to one Somervell ther, as suretic for ane Robsone, duelling in Northumberland, and that it is questioned (in regard the band is made according to the Scotts forme) if yow can be competent judge in that sute: Vnderstanding that our subjects heir have the benefite of the lawis of Scotland, and the executious vpon bandis made according to the forme of this kingdome, and being willing that a reciprocall course of justice be observed heir vpon bandis made according to the forme of that kingdome, we ar heirby pleased effectuallie to recommend vnto yow to proceid according to equitic in causeing dew and tymelie execution of justice be vsed vpon the said band, as if it wer made according to the forme of this our kingdome, and that heirefter the lyk course be observed when any such occasion shall occure befor yow; wherin not doubting of your conformitie to this our pleasur, we bid yow farewell.—Whythall, 15 Octor 1633.

TO THE ADVOCAT.

Trustie, &c.—Being willing that the reverend father in God the bischop of Dumblane, deane of our Chappell, and his successours, deanes thairof, be freed from hence furth of all taxationes and impositions whatsoever in so far as may concerne ther owin personall esteats and goodis, and as for the rents payable to them belonging to the said Chappell, we ar lykwayes willing that they have what favour may be convenientlie affurded vnto them without prejudice of the course established for the levyeing of our Taxations: Our pleasur is, that haveing to this purpois conferred with our right, &c. the Erles of Morton and Traquair, our Thesaurers principall and deputie, our Clerk of Register, and the said bischop, yow draw vp such a warrand to be signed by ws, and to pass our sealls as shalbe sufficient for frieing of him and them of the premisses, or what further they and yow in your opinions think we may convenientlie doe; and that yow send the same docat by yow for our hand to be returned and exped accordinglie.—Whythall, 15 Octor 1633.

TO THE DEANE AND CHAPTOUR OF THE YLES.

Trustie, &c.—Wheras the Bischoprik of the Yles is voyd by transportation of the reverend father in God Johne, late Bischop thairof, we latt yow wit that calling to mynd the vertew, learneing, and other good qualiteis of our trustie Mr Neill Campbell, Minister at Kilmichaell in Glasrie, sone lawfull of vmquhill Mr Neill Campbell, late bishope of Argyll, We have thoght good by these our letters to name and recommend him vnto yow, to be electit and choysen to the said bischoprik of the Yles, whervuto the Abacie of Icolmekill and pryorie of Ardchattan ar annexed: Therfoir we pray and requyre yow vpon recept heirof to proceid to your election, and according to the Lawis of that realme, and our Conge d'eslire sent heirwith, and the same election to be so made to certifie ws therof vnder your common seall.—Gevin 17th Octor 1633.

Carolus Dei gratia, &c. Dilectis nobis in Christo Decano et capitulo ecclesiæ Cathedralis Edinburgi Salutem: Quum novum Episcopatum ereximus Episcopatum Edinburgi nnncupandum, nobisque ex parte vestra humiliter sit supplicatum, vt cum Ecclesia predicta pastoris solatio sit destituta, Episcopum vobis eligendi et pastorem licentiam nostram concedere dignaremur: Nos animum ad supplicationem istam favorabiliter inclinantes, Episcopum vobis concedendum duximus, Rogantes ac in fide et dilectione quibus nobis tenemini precipientes, quod talem vobis eligatis Episcopum et pastorem qui Deo devotus nobisque et regno vtilis fidelis existat: In cujus rei testimonium has nostras literas fidei facimus patentes.—Teste meipso Apud Whythall, 17 Octo[†] 1633.

TO THE DEANE AND CHAPTOUR OF EDINBURGH.

Trustie, &c.—Wheras we have erected a bischoprik of new, to be called the bischoprik of Edinburgh, we latt yow wit that calling to our remembrance the vertew, learning, and other good qualities of our trustie and weilbeloved Doctor W^m Forbes, preacher at Aberdene, we have thought good by these our letters to name and recommend him to yow to be electit and choysen to the said bischoprik of Edinburgh:

Therfor we pray and require yow that vpon the recept heirof yow proceid to your election according to the Lawis of that our realme and our Conge d'eslire sent vnto yow heirwith, and the same election so made to certifie we thairof vnder your common seall.—Gevin, &c.

To the Archbischop of ST Androis.

Right, &c.—Wheras we have bene pleased to have erected a new bishoprik, to be called the bishoprik of Edinburgh, and have named and recommended our trustic Docter William Forbes, preacher at Aberdene, vnto the deane and chaptour thairof, to be elected and choysen by them to the said bishoprik, according to the Lawis of that our kingdome and conge d'eslire sent to them for that effect: These ar to requyre yow that with all possible diligence yow caus call and convene the said deane and chaptour for his admission, that furthwith he may be fullie establisched in that See, for the more speedie enabling of him for our service in that charge.—Whythall, 17 Octor 1633.

COMMISSION.

Wheras our right, &c. the Erle of Seafort hath submitted himselff to be disposed of by ws tuitching our right to the Lewis, and what we shall think fitt to determyne tuitching his clame and interest therin: To the effect that we may be the better informed concerneing the premisses and the particulars efter mentionat, Our pleasur is, and we doe heirby give full power and commission to yow, whois names are particularlie under expressed, to meitt and convene at such tymes and places as yow shall find meit and necessarie, and ther to advyse and consider of our said right to the said Iland, and of the said Erle his clayme and interest therin, the rentall therof, the arreiris of the few-dewteis of the same payable vnto ws, what portion of Land therin yow think fitt that we reserve for our owin particular vse, to be disposed of as we shall think fitt, the commoditeis and lyeing thair of most necessarie for our good and service, and what part thair of is equitable for ws to give and confirme vnto him; the tenour, maner, and conditions to be mentioned in the disposition most necessarie for our service; and to report the same, sealled vnto ws vnder your handis, betuixt this and the fyft day of Aprill ensueing, that, efter dew consideration had therin by ws, we may give such further ordour tuitching the same as we shall find caus.—Gevin at Whythall, the 17 Octor 1633.

To . . . the Erles of Kynnoull, Morton, and Traquair, Sir John Hay of Baro, and M^r Th. Hope.

To the Session.

Right, &c.—It being our cheiff care that Justice may be dewlie administred, and vnderstanding that the President's place amongst yow is voyd by the death of Sir James Skene, out of the desyre we have that a man fitt for the same be provydit thervnto, as our late dear father and ourselffis wer wont to doe in the lyk cases, we have thoght meith heirby to recommend vnto yow Sir Robert Spottiswood as a persone for his sufficiencie and experience able to bear that charge: So not doubting bot his owin abiliteis, weill knowen to yow all, being accompanied with our owin recommendation, will previall, and requyreing yow all to have a spetiall care to discharge yourselffis faythfullie in that charge wherwith yow ar entrusted by ws: Which, &c.—[No date.]

TO THE ARCHBISHOP OF ST ANDROIS.

Right, &c.—Wheras we ar informed that vmquhil M^r John Rutherfurd, preacher, did, by ordour of our late dear father, manteyne be publict disputts the question of our authoritie in church affaires, proveing the same by the judgment of the Doctours of the Church, primitive and moderne, and that our royall father intendit for that caus to have recompensed him: To which purpois M^r John Rutherfurd, his sone, hath bene ane humble sutter that we would so far tak notice of his father's good service therin as to present him to the first vacand church at our gift, and the rather becaus his abilitie for such a charge is proved by testimoneis of the presbiters of S^t Androis and Dundie, and by one vnder your owin hand: These considerations being inducements to we to hearken to his demand, we are heirby pleased effectuallie to recommend him vnto yow that he be preferred to the first vacand church within your dyocie on the north syd of the Forth which is at our gift; And to that effect that yow send a presentation vnder your hand when any church shall vaik: Which recommending to your care, &c.—Whythall, 17 Octo 1632.

TO SIR JOHNE HAY.

Trustie, &c.—We haveing allowed and approven the signature of erection of the bischoprik of Edinburgh, and mortification of the particulars and all the liberteis and clausses therin mentioned, Our pleasur is, that with all diligence yow exped throw the Exchequer and Sealls the signature of Mortification, and that yow lay vp one thairof in the Chartour-house in our Castell of Edinburgh, and delyver ane where to the bischop of Edinburgh, who shalbe made choyse for that bischoprik: For doeing, &c.—Whythall, 17th Octor 1633.

Our pleasur is, and we doe heirby will and requyre yow to call for and receave from our Advocat the submissions made vnto ws by the erectours and other persones mentioned in our decrie concerneing tythis and surrenders, and that yow putt the same in our Charter-house in the Castell of Edinburgh, to be saiflie keiped amongst the recordis of that our kingdome, and that registrat or vnregistrat as it shalbe condescended on by these to whome we have given warrand tuitching that purpois.—Whythall, 17 Octor 1633.

To Sir Johne Hay.

Our pleasur is, and we doe heirby will and requyre yow, that yow convene the vassalls of the Abbaceis of Halyrudhous and New Abay, and by ther consent, conforme to the Act of Parliament, yow caus mak ane extant roll for payment of his Ma^{teis} extents and releiff of the bischoprik of Edinburgh.—Whythall, 17 Octo[†] 1633.

To Sir Wm Hay.

Our pleasur is, and we do heirby will and requyre yow to intromett with and receave the few maills, dewteis, and other rents of the Abbaceis of Halyrudhous and Newabey from the Vassalls and others adebtit in payment therof till ther be a bischop of Edinburgh established by ws to whome we will yow to mak accompt, reckonyng, and payment thairof; ffor doeing whairof these presents shalbe vnto yow for receaving of the saidis dewteis, and to the saidis Vassalls and others for delyverie of the same to yow are sufficient warrand and discharge.—Whythall, 17 Octo[†] 1633.

TO THE EXCHEQUER.

Right, &c.—Wheras diverse good and profitable acts and statuts wer made in our favours in our late Parliament holdin in the moneth of Junij last, and speciallic anent the superioriteis of erectiones, regaliteis of erectiones, changeing of holdingis from ward in blensch or Taxt wards, annulling of Infeftments of our annexed propertie disponed by ane wher holding nor in few ferme, prohibition to our vassalls to dispone ward Lands without our consent; And ane act that all the kirk lands perteneing in propertie to Lordis of erection shall hold of ws in few ferme for payment of the old few ferme dewteis: Therfoir it is our speciall pleasur that no signature be past nor exped in Exchequer which may derogate to the saidis acts and statutis made in our favours except we be speciallic consulted theranent, and that yow have our particular warrant to that effect: And wheras it hath bene enacted in Exchequer that no allowance should be gevin efter the date of the said Act to any Compter of no sowme or sowmes payed to whatsumever persones, bot onlie of the sowmes reallic payed in Exchequer to the Lo/ Thesaurer, and receavers of our rents, till it should be otherwayes ordeaned by yow, We doe approve the said act, and it is our pleasur that it continew so till our further pleasur be signified, or yow shall find speciall reasone to the contrarie.—Whythall, 17 Octor 1633.

These conteyne ane Infeftment granted to Sir Archibald Achiesone of the salt panes, the girnelhous, and salthous, with the ludgeing and yard thairto belonging, lyand in Prestonpanes, and of the Lands of Broomehills and Lecterclough, lyand within the baronie of Prestongrange, All which was apprysed be him from vmquhill Mark Achiesone of Broomhills in his owin lyftyme, to be now holdin by the said Sir Ard Achiesone and his aires in few ferme.—Whythall, 18 Octor 1633.

TO THE SESSION.

Right, &c.—We vaderstand that the toun of Edinburgh haveing intended ane action befor yow tuitching the office of high Constabularie of that our kingdome, for tryeing wheref we wer pleased not long agoe to grant a commission, sieing it is a purpois which in honour doeth verie much concerne the estate of that our antient kingdome, we ar resolved, if ther be any just matter of complaynt aganst the proceidings alreadie vsit therein by our Counsall, to tak the same to our serious consideration, and therefter to give such further ordour therein as we shall find caus: Therfoir our pleasur is, and we doe heirby will and requyre yow not to proceed nor medle in that action whless yow shalbe particuliarlie warranted by ws; We bid, &c.—Whythall, 18 Octor 1633.

It is our pleasur that yow examyne what part of the moneys due by ws vnto our right, &c. the Erle of Stirling hath bene payed vnto him, and the accompt of the copper coyn being dewlie made, that yow certifie what is lyklie entend vnto for his vse, that ane vther course may be takin for his payment, wher it may not by that meanes be dew; and if he cannot be convenientlie payed at this time, nor particular assignement be made vnto him for the same, lest his creditours at this time, mistrusting our intention to pay him, may persew him or your freindis, whom we understand to be bund as sureteis for him: It is our pleasur, to the effect he may not suffer for so much as is due by ws, yow certifie ws what course ye think best for the tyme, ather for payment of the principall to his creditours, or of some part therof; and that yow tak such course as yow shall think best to satisfie them for ther forbearing the same, that they may not charge him till we appoynt his payment some other way, which we warrand yow heirby to allow out of the benefite arrysing out of the copper coyne, that he may reap the benefite we intend for him, according to our warrand; for doeing whairof, &c.—Whythall, 18 Octor 1633.

TO SIR JOHN HAY.

Trustic, &c.—Wheras it was declared by ane act of our late parliament that what ordour soever we should be pleased to appoint for the appeared of churchmen, and should send it in writt to our Clerk Register, should be a sufficient warrand for inserting the same in the books of parliament, to have the strenth of ane act therof; we have now determined the same according to the warrand heirin enclosed, signed both above and vinderneath with our owin hand: And it is our pleasur, that accordinglic yow insert this our enclosed ordour concerneing ther habits in the bookis of parliament to have the strenth of ane act therof in all tyme comeing: For doeing quherof, &c.—Whythall, 18th Octor 1833.

The Ordour appointed by his Ma^{tie} for the Apperrell of Churchmen of Scotland, to be insert in the Books of Parliament, conforme to the Act of the Late Parliament made theranent.

It is our pleasur that all the Lordis, Archbishops, and Bischops within that our kingdome of Scotland shall in all publict places wear goones with standing cappis (such as they vsed at our late being ther) and cassoks, and the inferiour Clergy, especiallie efter they have takin the degrie of doctours and batchellours in divinitie, or be preachers in any toun, shall wear the same for a fascheon, bot for worthic, according to ther meanes, and no typpetts, valess they be doctours: And farder, our pleasur is, that the Archbischops and bischops shall, in all churches wher they shall cum in tyme of divyne service or sermones, be in whytts, that is, in a rockel or sleives, as they did wear it at the tyme of our Coronatioun, and especiallie whenseever they administer the holy communioun or preach, and they shall lykwyse provyde themselffis a Chimer (that is a sattin or taffetie gowne without lyneing or sleives) to be worne over ther whytts, and the tyme of ther consecration; And we will that all Archbischops and bischops aforsaid, that ar of our privie counsell or of our session, shall cum and sitt ther in ther whytts, and manteane the gravitic of ther places: And for all inferiour clergiemen, we will they preach in ther blak gownes, hot when the reid divyne service, christen, burie, or administer the sacraments of the Lordis supper, they shall wear ther surplis, and if they be doctours, ther tippettis over them; and as weill Archbischops and bischops as other ministers when they administer the holic communion in our chappell royall, or any cathedrall church within that our kingdome, shall wear copes; and not onlie they bot all inferiour priests shall, at tymes and places befoir mentioned, vsc ther square coppes, especiallie in all our Vniversiteis.—Whythall, 18 Octor 1633.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—Wheras we ar informed that ane John Meldrum, being convict as guiltie of the burneing of the tour of Frendraught, hath suffered death for the same, in regard it is thought verie vnliklie that such ane odious and barbarous fact could be committed by one persone without complices therin, which the said Meldrum would not confess (as we ar informed), we think it verie expedient, according as we have bene pleased to signific at diverse tymes heirtofoir, that all further care and diligence be vsed for tryeing of that bussines; to which purpois our pleasur is that, ather by yourselffis or by such a number as yow shall think fitt to select amongst yow, yow try and examyne all such persones as shalbe gevin vp to yow by our right, &c. the Marqueis of Huntlie or any other in this behalff aganst whom yow shall find that ther be presumptions or guiltines of the said fact: For which, &c.—Whythall, 28 Octor 1633.

TO THE ADVOCAT.

Trustie, &c.—Wheras humble sute hath bene made vnto ws in behalff of the right reverend, &c. Archbischop of Glasgow for ratieficing of tuo severall pensions granted vnto him, which we ar willing to doe if that which is desyred be conforme to the originall: Our pleasur is, that yow consider therof, and finding the same to be agricable to what was formerlie granted, yow draw vp such ratifications therof to pas vnder our royall signature as may secure the said Archbischop of the premisses, and send the same vnto ws docat by yow; for which these presents, &c.—Whythall, 28 October 1633.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—At our being of late in that our kingdome we wer pleased to grant to Mr Wm Wischart. minister at Leith, a gift of Preceptorie of St Antones for the benefite of the hospitall of Leith and ther kirk session, for the vse quherof some rents of that Preceptorie (as we ar informed) ar still accustomed to be payed, and that the remanent of that benefice hath bene of a long tyme suppressed, being disposed of to some persone by our late royall father hearing that the said Mr Williame hath passed the gift in his owin name, wherby not onlie that part of the said benefice dedicated to the hospitall and kirk session may by tyme be wrested to a particular from the intended publict vse, bot that lykwyse our right, &c, the Erle of Dumfermeling wilbe prejudged in his right and possessioun of certane landis now holdin of ws, which ancientlie belonged to that Preceptorie, and wer acquired (as we ar informed) by his late father vpon valuable consideration: Our pleasur is, that haveing called the pairties interested befor yow, yow deall with them to submitt the differences heirin vnto yourselffis or such of your owin number as yow shall appoint for taking a fair course to setle the same, so that no prejudice may ensue by the said gift to the said hospitall, kirk session, or to the said Erle; bot if the said Mr Wm will not condescend thervnto, adverters we theref, and with your opinions concerning the same, and in the meane tyme that yow give ordour to stop any proceedings tuitching the same in any of our Judicatoreis, till our further pleasur be signifeid therin.-Whythall, 28 Octor 1633.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—Wheras we understand that our late royall father did wryt to his Privie Counsall significing that though he gave warrant for ane Act to pass in Parliament in favouris of Phisitianes, for restrayneing the practeis of ignorant and vnskilfull persones, yit it was not his meaneing that they should prejudge the Chyrurgianes in ther ancient and lawfull priviledges, To which purpois a complaynt hath bene made to we in behalff of the Chyrurgians, that they may not be wronged as is intended by the Phisitianes; we being willing to tak the lyk course that our late father did, and that none of them doe trench vpon others by making vse of the mistereis and skill peculiar to ther severall arts, Our pleasur is, that yow call the cheiff of both within Edinburgh and the Cannogait befoir yow, and so compose and ordour the differences amongst them as they may not wrong ane another, vpon pane of such penelteis as yow shall think fitt to prescryve; and wheras the Chyrurgianes have petitioned that we would be pleased to recommend to yow to caus setle and ratific some overturis amongst themselffis and ther apprentice for the better dischargeing of ther trade and good of our subjects, according to the enclosed note of ther demandis, Our pleasur is, that yow consider theref, recommending vnto yow to caus such of them be setled and ordered as yow vpon hearing them shall condescend vpon; which recommending, &c.—Whythall, 28 Octo* 1633.

TO THE ADVOCAT.

Trustie, &c.—Wheras we vnderstand by our right, &c. the Erle of Roxbrugh that he hath conferred with yow concerneing the Abbacie of Kelso, which he was allowed by ws to doe, It is our plesur that yow consider of the propositions made by him, and therefter certific ws what in your opinion is fitt for ws to doe therin for our good, wher it may be done without our prejudice; so expecting, &c.—Whythall, 28 Octo* 1633.

TO THE ERLE OF TRAQUAIR AND SIR JOHN HAY.

Right, &c.—As we wer formerlie pleased to requyre yow to deall with the Provest, Bailleis, and Counsell of Edinburgh for taking from ws that bargane concerning the baronie of Broughton, so now it is our pleasur that yow finallie conclude with them tuitching their resolution in that purpois, receaveing ther answer vnder ther handis, to the end that if they doe refuis to accept of the same, we may tak such notice thereof by disposing of it otherwayes as may be most expedient for our relieff and the good of our service.—Whythall, 28 Octor 1633.

To the Archbishop of Glasgow.

Right reverend, &c.—Being informed by our right, &c. the Erle of Roxburght that Francis Stewart is adverteised that ane Mr Thomas Abernethic, preacher, hath maliciouslie and vntruelie reported words of the said Erle for moveing of words of forder differences between them, which we have been pleased to reconceil with so much panes: It is our pleasur that, haveing considered the information of these words to be gevin yow by the said Erle, yow call the said Mr Thomas befoir yow, and efter due examination, if yow find him guiltie of that which is alledged aganst him, that yow give ordour for punisching of him, in so far as the lawis or ordours of the Churche will allow, and as is compitent for yow to due; And if any further warrand be requyred or requisit from ws heirin, it shalbe granted vpon your adverteisment that is necessarie to terrifie all sedetiouslie disposed persones that would brew discord amongst others: Which recommending to your care, we bid, &c.—Whythall, 28 Octor 1633.

TO THE ARCHBISHOP OF ST ANDROIS.

Right reverend, &c.—Haveing sene the copie of a Petition which was sent by yow to our trustie and weilbelovit servant Patrik Maull, one of our bedchalmer, that it might be shawin by him vnto ws, we sie therby how seditionslie such persones ar disposed that dar presume to have any such thing com into our sight: As we thank yow verie hartelie for the care yow have had to acquant ws therwith, so it is our pleasur that yow informe yourselff as far as yow can further to learne what doeth concerne the same in tryeing who hath bene the authour therof, or who ar accessorie thervnto, that vpon due tryell ther may be a course accordinglie taken with them.—[No date.]

TO THE SESSION.

Right, &c.—Being informed that the action intendit hefor yow in our name for reduction of the Infeftments of the heretable Isheric of our Exchequer, procured to tak away our right of placeing of ane immediate officer of ours in that charge, hath for a long tyme depended befor yow, and as yit doth remane vndecydit, to the prejudice of our right and of the persone whom of late we have appoynted to discharge that office: Therfor we have thought good by these presents to recommend the said action to your speciall care that Justice may be administred therein, with all lawfull and convenient disposition, that no advantage be gottin by delay, in so far as lawfullie can be avoyded, that our right may be re-establisched in setling our servant in that charge.—Whythall, 12 Nor 1633.

TO THE THESAURER AND DEPUTIE.

Right, &c.—Wheras Sir W^m Seaton of Kylsmure, kny^t, hath bene a faythfull and antient servand of our late deir father, did in his tyme tak speciall notice of the services done vnto him by the said Sir William, haveing bestowed vpon him and his tuo sones, W^m and John Setones, some pensions which we have bene pleased at this time to ratifie: Our pleasur is, that yow examyne what arrearis of these pensions are due vnto them, and that yow pay the same with as much diligence as may be, togidder with the saids pensions yeirlie therefter, according to our said father's gifts or ouris; ffor which these presents shalbe vnto yow or ather of yow a sufficient warrand and discherge.—Whythall, 12 Nor 1633.

To the Session.

Right, &c.—The enclosed petition sent by ws to be considered vpon by yow, requyreing nothing but a speedie decision according to Justice, and therfor semeing vnto ws equitable, we ar heirby pleased to recommend vnto yow that caus in a serious maner, that cutting off all unnecessarie delays, Justice, without respect of persones, may be administred with expedition: Which recommending, &c.—Whythall.

TO THE THESAURER.

Right, &c.—Wheras we ar informed that it pleased our late royall father to grant to vmquhill Mr James Duncansone, a precept of 2500lib. Scotts for good service done by him as ane of his ordinarie preichers, and that we, vpon sight of that precept, comiserating the estate of the petitioner, did requyre to be certified of the most convenient way for hir satisfaction, schoe haveing now represented vnto ws by petition, which we have sent yow to consider, that schoe, being a poore widow, haveing the charge of ten children, cannot longer subsist without some course be taken for . . .

TO THE ADVOCAT.

Trustie, &c.—Being willing to secure Sir George Fletcher, knyt, receaver of our rents in that our kingdome, of the pension latelie granted by ws, our pleasur is, that yow draw vp a Ratification thairof, agricing in substance with our gift, and send the same, docated by yow, to be signed by ws, and if at any tyme heirefter any of our subjects shall desyre yow to docat any ratifications of ther pension, Our further pleasur is, that befoir yow doe the same yow acquant our secretarie therwith, to be imparted vnto ws at our best conveniencie, whereyon, if we shall find caus to approve therof, our pleasur therfor therein significid by him vnto yow shalbe sufficient warrand for your docateing and returning the same thither to be exped by ws.—Whythall, 12 Nor 1633.

Your Ma^{tic} doeth heirby dispone to Patrik Blak, your Chalmerlane of Fyff, his aires and assigneyis, the office thairof, with the accustomed fee of 200^{lib} Scotts, and four chalders wheat and bear, redimable to your Ma^{teis} vse vpon payment to him or them of 9000 merks Scotts.

These in place of a locall pension granted by your Ma^{teis} royall father to Archibald Hay, assigneing him to certane moneys, victuall, and other commoditeis of your Ma^{teis} propper rents, viz.—1000^{lib.} Scotts, 2 Chalders oats, and eight scoir pair coneyis; change the same in a pension of 1200^{lib.} Scotts money, equivalent in value to the saids moneyis, victuall and other commoditeis, to be vplifted yeirlie out of your Ma^{teis} Excheker to the ordiner and approved forme.—Whythall, 14 Nor 1633.

TO THE SESSION.

Right, &c.—Wheras in the late parliament holdin by ws in our citie of Edinburgh in Junij last it was ordeaned by a speciall act of the same that out of Ten payed yeirlie for ilk hundreth of annuell Tuo should be payed by the burrowis to ws for the space therin contenit, without defalcation, and by and attour what was formerlie granted to ws, notwithstanding whairof, being sufficientlie informed that some persones, against the dewtie of good subjects and to mak the grant of our estates voyd, intend to sue defalcation of what is due by allowance of the sownes adebted by them, contrarie to the trew meaneing of the said act: Our pleasur therfor is, that yow grant no suspension of any charges directed by vertew of the said act to any persone without consignatioun of tuo of ten for ilk hundreth of the whole sownes dewlie adebtit by the borroweris in the handis of the Clerk of our Esteats, to be gevin vp by him to our Collectour-generall of the same extent, without any defalcatioun; and that yow caus the said act to be keiped in all poynts conforme to the tenour therof: Which recommending to your care, &c.—Whythall, 20 Nor 1633.

TO THE THEASURER AND THEASURER DEPUTIE.

Right, &c.—Wheras we ar informed that some of our subjects, to mak voyd the grants of the Estats of Parliament of that our kingdome, offered to we in our late Parliament of two of Ten of the Anuell of ilk hundreth payable by the borroweris, intend to mak purches of the wodset of Landis, and vplift the rents of the same in retribution of ther anuells; which being done onlic to frustrat we of the said gratuitie offered to we by our saidis Estatis, and they otherwayes to reap the benefite of the late acts, It is our pleasur that when any such signature is or shalbe presented vnto yow to be exped, that befor the same pass your handis in Exchequer, yow, besydis the Ordinarie Compositions accustomed in the lyk caices, add to the same what sowmes might accress to we, and might be payed by the borroweris by the late Act of Parliament in caice these moneyis had bene lent for ten of the hundreth, and that for the whole space of thrie yeires, and cause them pay the same togidder befor the passing of the said signatures, for it is no reasone that ther fraud shall prejudge ws, or we contribute our favour to so ill deserving subjects: Which recommending, &c.—Whythall, 20 Nor 1633.

His Ma^{tie} was pleased to grant a protection to Johne Geddes, and his cautioners interested and that stude suretie for him in levyeing moneyis for bringing 400 scheip from Scotland to England, according to his Ma^{teis} direction, for his Ma^{teis} vse, wherof he was and is as yit vnpayed; and the same protection to endure for ane yeir for them.

TO THE THESAURER AND DEPUTIE.

Right, &c.—Haveing vnderstude that our late right trustie, &c. the Erle of Balcleuch is now departed this lyff, It is our pleasur that yow grant or rather caus expeid the ward of his sone's mariage, and his nixt air to him, and ther nonentrie, and what else doeth vaik in our handis by reasone of his death, To our right, &c. the Erle of Stirling, he paying the ordinarie composition vsuall in that kynd; and that yow signific this our pleasur, if neid be, to the remanent Lordis of our Exchequer ther: So we bid, &c.—Whythall, 22 Nor 1633.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—Wheras in our late Parliament holdin within that our kingdome the office of Muster Master-Generall was ratifeid as a purpois verie necessarie for the good and honour therof: The consideratioun of the fie for dischargeing that service, and the meanes for levyeing thairof, being by ane act of that court remitted vnto yow, and recommended by ws in a speciall maner, Our pleasur is, that yow proceid according to the said act, haveing alwayes a speciall care that both the said charge be putt in execution in the most convenient way for the good of that kingdome; and lykwyse that the nobleman to whois care the oversieing of it is entrusted by ws may be encouraged to it by for a good and compitent allowance, to be levyed in such kynd as yow shall think most fitting.—Whythall, 22 Nor 1633.

TO THE ERLES OF MORTON & TRAQUAIR.

Wheras, by warrant vnder our royall signature and cachet at Beaulie, 17 August 1633, we gave ordour to Johne Geddes, our servant, to bring from Scotland about Michelmes ensueing the lyk number of muttons for our vse as was accustomed to be bought for the vse of our late royall father, or for our owin, requyreing him to continew that service yeirlie till we should be pleased to discharge it: And wheras we vnderstand that the said Johne did bring hither at that tyme four hundreth scheip, for which he hath received no payment for his disbursments in buying therof, nor any allowance for bringing them hither, Our pleasur is, and we doe heirby will and requyre yow, that furthwith yow pay or caus to be payed vnto him such fie and allowance of the 400 sheip as gevin in the tyme of our said late father, and that out of the readiest rents, casualiteis, annuiteis, or deweis whatsumever, payable vnto ws in that our kingdome, or which heirefter shalhappin to accress vnto ws within the same by whatsumever maner of way: And our pleasur is, that heirefter this service shalbe discontinewed vnles yow shalbe particularlie warranted by ws to continew the same, which, if we doe, we ar willing that the said Sir John, for his former good service, be preferred to any other; for which these presents shalbe vnto yow a sufficient warrant.—Whythall, 22 Nor 1633.

Right, &c.—Wheras it hath bene humblic represented vnto ws on behalff of Sir Alex^r Gordon of Cluny, kny^t baronet, that by his absence from thence in our service heir at this tyme he is lyklic to suffer in ane action in Law depending befor yow tuitching the estate of Sir Johne Leslic of Wardess, to whois creditours (as we ar informed) hath of a long tyme stood bund as cautioner, wherby he is lyklic to be much prejudged, as yow will perceave by the enclosed petition, which we remitt to your consideration, that if yow find the demandis therin to be agricable to Justice and equitic, yow proceid accordinglic in administration of Justice, and setling the differences in so far as convenientlic can be done.—Whythall, last No^r 1633.

TO THE ADVOCAT.

Trustie, &c .- Wheras the decay of Trade doeth much impoverish the estate of that kingdome, wher the incress and advancement of the same would much import the good therof and increase of our customes by exporting native commodities, which otherwayes for a great part of them prove vnproffitable, or at leist not much vsefull to our subjects, and by importing commoditeis both necessar and of great value, and wheras to the lyk end diverse associatiouns and compane of this our kingdome, and of some flourisching kingdomes and stats abroad, for sieing what might lead to the advancement of ther publict good, have found that the tradeing in some remote parts (from whence ther be grounds of greatest benefite), and the setling of steplis and coloneis, ther ar inseperable waves not onlie for matter of great benefite bot for incress of schipping and breeding of marineris: To which purpois our right trustie the Erle of Stirling, our Secretarie for Scotland, Sir Johne Hay, our Clerk Register, Patrik Maull and James Maxwell, of our bedchalmer, and . . . being to adventure and drawin societeis diverse of our good subjects, we have thoght fitt for ther better encouragement that a warrant be granted vnto them vnder our great seall of that kingdome, wherby they, ther aires, partiners, and associats, shall have a sole power dureing the space of . . . to joyne into Assotiatiouns and companeis all such our subjects that will vndertake any new traffique in America, Asia, Africa, and Muscovia not formerlie vsed in that kingdome: Therfor our pleasur is, that yow receave and consider thir overturis tuitching such priviledges and liberteis as ar fitt and lawfull to be granted for encourageing our subjects to assotiat and adventure to trade in these parts, and haveing conceaved some such warrant or severall warrants as may best and most lawfullie conduce to that purpois, yow draw the same vp docated by yow for our royall signature, for which these presents, &c .-Whythall, last of Nor 1633.

TO THE VICE DEPUTIE OF YORK.

Trustie, &c.—Wheras we wer pleased of late to wryt vnto yow that one Ainstie, merchand, ane of our subjects of our kingdome of Scotland, might have justice for recoverie of certane moneyis dew to him by one Robiesone, dwelling in Northumberland, bot being since informed that notwithstanding the said Robesone did pay the moneyis to a factour of the said Ainstie, which he offeris himselff to prove, which maks the caus considerable in equitie: Iff yow find this trew which is alledgit, our pleasur is, that if at the sight of indifferent persones the matter cannot be composed betuixt themselffis yow suspend any proceiding vpon our former Letter, and remitt it to the ordinarie course of Justice into Courts wherento caices of the lyk nature doe properlie belong: And for, &c.—Whythall, last Nor 1633.

TO SIR FRANCIS WINDLEBANKS.

Trustie, &c.—Haveing formerlie gevin ordour for considerations knowen to we to our right, &c. the Erle of Argyll, by a warrant vnder our hand, to caus transport ane Anna Campbell, calling hirselff his naturall daughter, to our kingdome of Scotland, to be furnisched for hir mantenance ther, which ordours of ouris sche hath not obeyed, and being informed that sche is entring ane endytment befoir the Justices of Peace, wherby to putt him to trouble and vnnecessarie charges: It is our pleasur that ye in our name caus discharge any proceiding therin till we shalbe acquanted with the esteat therof, and give such further ordour as we shall think fitt; for doeing, &c.—Theobald's, 4 Decr 1633.

To the Session.

Right, &c.—Wheras we wer formerlie pleased to requyre our Counsell to give ordour, by publict proclamatioun or otherwayes, as they should think fitting, that all the Lords of our Counsell, Colledge of Justice, and Members thereof may communicat once everie yeir in our Chapell of Halyrudhous; bot now being willing for good considerations that the communion should be offner celebrat ther, and to nominat such tymes as we thought good for that purpois, It is our pleasur that everie Sonday nixt ensueing your down sitting in the winter and Sommer sessions, yow prepair and address yourselfits, with your Advocats, Clerkis, writters, and all others members of that Judicatorie, to whome yow shall caus intimat this our pleasur, to our said Chapell to the participatioun of the holic sacrament, that others by your good example may learne to observe the ordour in that cace prescryved: Which recommending, &c.—Whythall, 4 De 1633.

Vpon this day ther past a Protectione for the Erle of Lythgow and his Cautioners vnder his Ma^{teis} hand, dureing the space of ane whole yeir efter the passing thairof vnder the great seall of Scotland.—Theobald's, 5 of De^r 1633.

These doe conteyne a Ratification of the Letter of Pension granted by your Ma^{tie} to Sir Archibald Achiesone dureing his lyftyme of a yeirlie pension of 200th sterling money, with a new gift of the said pension for his better encouragement to continew in his Ma^{teis} service.—Theobald's, 5 De^r 1633.

TO THE CURATOURS OF THE ERLE OF BALCLEUCH.

Right, &c.—Wheras we have bene petitioned at diverse tymes by the Lady Jeane Stewart and hir husband tuitching the recoverie of certane Lands which wer in the possession of the late Erle of Balcleuche, who not long befor his death intended to have takin a course for ther speedie satisfaction at our sights which we requyre may be done with all expedition in regard of ther long sufferings by want of the benefite of these Landis: Our pleasur is, and we doe heirby will and requyre yow, that haveing seriouslie considered of the estat of that bussiness, yow tak a course for ther satisfaction, otherwyse that yow certifie ws of what expedient yow shall think fitt to that purpois, to the effect we may give such furtherance therin as we shall find just cause.

TO THE THESAURER AND DEPUTIE.

Right, &c.—Wheras our trustie and weilbelovit servant Sir James Leslie, knyt, hath a pension of ws dureing his lyftyme of the few mails and dewteis payed out of the Abbay of Lundoris, becaus we ar not willing to grant a locall assignement, nor yit that the said Sir James should want the benefite that was intendit for him, bot that he be payed out of the Exchequer in the ordinarie way as other persones ar: It is our pleasur that, haveing considered of his former gift, yow condescend vpon a reasonable rate for the victuallis yeirlie payed vnto him, and joyneing that in ane sowme with the silver rent he had, that yow give ordour vnto our Advocat for drawing vp a new gift for this effect docated by him for our hand.— Whythall, 5 Der 1633.

TO THE COMMISSIONERS FOR VALUATIONIS OF TYTHIS OF ERECTIONS.

Right, &c.—Wheras in your answer to that Letter which we did wryt vnto yow for discussing the valuation of tythis of Erections befor all other sort of tythis whatsumever, yow alledge that that being observed your commission will ly ydle, We sie no reasone bot that yow haveing power to warne all these that have tythis of Erections to cum in, yow may without loss of tyme proceide to the expeiding of them befor any other, according to our former letter; and as for appropriating ane other day in everie weik, Though it is said that ther is no other day to be made vse of saife onlie Monday, which by our late royall father was allowed to be frie from bussines; yit we think that for a bussines of this nature, tending to the generall good of all the kingdome, yow may mak vse of the same and of any such committeis as yow shall think expedient, which for the perfecting of this work wilbe verie acceptable vnto ws; and therfor not doubting of your best diligence, we bid, &c.—Whythall, 10 Der 1633.

TO THE SESSION.

Right, &c.—We wer pleased some monethis since, in consideration of our Cousen the Erle of Murray his being heir to requyre yow to stay the proceiding of that process intended aganst him by the reverend father the bischop of Murray; bot now that caus eeissing, and perceaveing that the saids bischop is much prejudged by the said delay, we have thoght fitt therfor to will and requyre yow agane to proceid therin, and give that caus are end according to Justice with expedition; wherin not doubting of your care, we bid, &c.—Westminster, the 11 De^r 1633.

In regard of diverse good and acceptable services done vnto ws by our trustie and weilbelovet Counsellour the bischop of Dumblane, deane of our Chappell royall ther, speciallie at the tyme of our Coronatioun, and lykwayes in regard of the feyis dew vnto him for his attendance ther, We have frielie remitted and gevin frie to him the whole four yeires' taxatiouns of his bischoprik of Dumblane, Abaceis of Crocraguall and Dundranan, and Pryorie of Monymusk annexed thereto, which was granted to ws by the convention of our estats in anno 1630: These ar therfor to will and command yow not to charge nor suite him for these four yeires' taxations forsaidis, wheranent these presents shalbe your sufficient warrant, and heirby ordeaues the Auditours of your compts to defais and allow the same vnto yow, these being once schawin vnto them by yow for ther warrand.—Whythall, 11 Der 1633.

To the Erle of Kynnoull, our Chancellour Collectour-generall of the Taxations granted anno 1630.

To the Lord Gordoun.

Right, &c.—Haveing heard of a proposition of yours by one directed from yow, we give yow hartie thanks for your care and affection to our service, both in that particular concerning your companie and otherwayes, whairof we will consider at more lenth and lett yow know our pleasur therin at our best conveniencie, willing yow to goe on as yow have begun in that charge yow have ther abroad, according as we have bene pleased to signific vnto your servant, and be confident we wilbe myndfull to give ordour at some fitt occasion for satisficing yow for such moneyis as ar dew vnto yow from ws, and in the meanetyme will not be wanting in any thing wherin we can convenientlie expres our further pleasure vnto yow: We bid yow, &c.—From Whythall, 12 Der 1633.

TO THE EXCHEQUER.

Right, &c.—Hearing that of late yow did grant presentations to churches at our gift, which befor being ordinarlie accustomed to be subscryved by the bischop of the dyocie wher the church did vaik, as a testimonie of the persones sufficiencie to whom they wer granted, wer thervpon signed by ws or our royall predicessours, which course, as we ar informed, hath bene long and vpon good considerations observed, spetiallie in the tyme of our late royall father; and therfor being willing that no Innovation be made therin, Our pleasur is, that from hencefurth yow grant no such presentations in Exchequer, bot that yow remitt the suitters for the same to the former accustomed way; for which these presents shalbe your warrand.—Whythall, 12 De[‡] 1633.

TO THE THESAURER AND DEPUTIE.

Right, &c.—Being informed that ther ar diverse persones who, pretending right to the Landis of Salton, doe intend to tak new infeftments thairof, and that to the great prejudice of the new Lord Salton, we, out of our princelie favour and commiseration of the distressed estate of that antient familie, and being willing to schaw all the lawfull favour we can tending to the good therof, ar herby pleased to requyre yow not to permitt any infeftment or signature of these Lands or any part therof pass in our Exchequer to any person whatsumever, till we shalbe pleased to signific vnto yow our further pleasur tuitching the same.—Whythall, 12 Der 1633.

TO THE SESSION.

Right, &c.—Wheras a petition hath bene exhibited vnto ws be the Lo/ Saltoun, wherby remonstrance being made of his distressed estate and absence from thence, we are gratious in pleased to recommend vnto yow what may lawfullie concerne him, being incident to that Judicatorie, and rather becaus our late royall father had a respect to the standing of that ancient house, which had of a long tyme deserved weill of him and other our royall progenitours: Our pleasur is, that haveing seriouslie considered of the said Petition, yow administer Justice vnto him in actiones intented or to be intended by him tuitching the Landis of Salton, and wherin we have any interest we ar willing to schaw him all the lawfull favour we can for his advantage, which recommending vnto your speciall care, we bid, &c.—Whythall, 12 De^{*} 1633.

TO THE ADVOCAT.

Trustie, &c.—Haveing vnderstude that the gift of our right, &c. the Erle of Balcleuch his ward, which we signed in favours of our right, &c. the Erle of Stirling, was past and deposited in the handis of our right, &c. the Erle of Morton, our principall Thesaurer ther, till our further pleasur should be knowen; and that in regard it was pretendit by the pairtie that the ward was taxed, we ar desyreous befor we proceid further to know the trew esteat of it, and how far legallie we may have title to it: Therfoir it is our pleasur, that haveing conferred with our trustie and weilbeloved counsellour Sir John Hay of Baro, kny^t, our Clerk Register, yow carefullie informe yourselff of the holdings of the said Erles landis, and lykwayes certific ws with diligence what right we have vnto the said Ward, or may have by the Lawis of that kingdome, or by the benefite of our revocatioun or Interruptions, or the ratifications therepon; wherin expecting your care, as yow wilbe answerable vnto ws in your charge, we bid, &c.—Whythall, 12 De* 1633.

TO THE THESAURER PRINCIPALL.

Right, &c.—Haveing vnderstude that the gift of our right, &c. the Erle of Buccleuch his ward, which was signed in favouris of our right, &c. the Erle of Stirling, was past in Exchequer and deposited in your handis till our further pleasur should be knowen; and that in regard it is pretendit by the pairtie that the ward is taxed, we approve of the course that is taken; and befoir we proceed farther we have determined to know how far legallie we have interest to the said ward by the Lawis of the said kingdome, and have for that purpois writtin to our Counsellours Sir John Hay and Sir Thomas Hope, knyt baronet, our Advocat ther for serching of the registers, and giveing we advyse concerning it, which we thought good heir to acquant yow with: So we bid, &c.—Whythall, 12 Der 1633.

TO THE ERLE OF BALCLEUGH.

Right, &c.—Wheras we have bene petitioned diverse tymes by Lady Jeane Stewart and hir husband tuitching ther recoverie of certane Landis which wer in the possession of the Erle of Buccleuch, who not long agoe befor his death intended to have taken a course for ther speedie satisfaction at our sight, which we requyre may be done with all expedition, in regard of the long sufferings by want of the benefite of these landis; our pleasur is, and we heirby will and requyre yow, that haveing seriouslie considered of the esteate of that bussines, yow tak a course for ther satisfaction; vtherways that yow certifie ws of what expedient yow shall think fitt for that purpois, to the effect we may give such further ordour therein as yow shall find just cause.—Whythall, 12 De^r 1633.

We have, vpon good considerations and reasones knawen to ws, bestowed vpoun our trustic and weilbeloved counsellour Sir James Galloway, our Master of requests, the sowme of 2000^{lib} sterline, to be vplifted out of the first and readiest of all fynes and forfaults arysing be the transgression or breach of all or any of the acts of Parliament or counsall made aganst vnlawfull vsurie, transporting of gold and silver furth of the kingdome, and whisting or selling of it within the kingdome at higher rates than ar by Law allowed: Our pleasur therfor is, and we doe heirby authorise, will, and declair yow, that from tyme to tyme as the saidis forfeytis and fynes sall fall due vnto ws, caus the same be delyvered to our M^r of requeists, or his assigneyis, ay and whill the said sowme of 2000^{lib} st. be completitle made vp and payed vnto him; and for his better securitie thereanent, that these presents, togidder with your ordour or act therepon, be registrat in the books of Excheker; for doing whairof, &c.—Whythall, 12 De^r 1633.

TO THE MASTERS OF WORK.

Trustie, &c.—Sieing the Abbay Church of Halyrudhous that had bene so dark befoir was by the course takin by yow becum so lightsome that it gave ws a great deall of contentment at our being ther: To the effect that it may continew so still, it is our pleasur that yow have a speciall care that no seatts nor lofts be built therin vnless it be such places as may nather impair the beawtie nor light of the said church, and this yow shall signifie to any whom this may concerne from ws; and if any doe presume to doe the contrar heirof, that yow certific the same to ws, that we may caus tak ordour with them; for doeing quhairof, &c.—Whythall, 12 Det 1633.

TO THE EXCHEQUER.

Right, &c.—In regard of the good service done vnto ws by our M^{rs} of Works within that our kingdome, especiallie befoir our last comeing thither, that they may be encouraged to continew in the lyk course, and be carefull in manteaneing of our housses as yow have agried with them, It is our pleasur that, haveing informed your selffis what reward was bestowed by our late dear father at the tyme of his being ther vpon the Master of wark, or was efterwardis allowed vnto him for his service ther, performed in any maner of way, besydis his ordinarie feyis and allowances, that yow give the lyk vnto the saidis
M^{rs} of works at this tyme, out of the readiest of our rents and casualiteis within our said kingdome; for the which, and inserting heirof in the books of our Exchequer for ther further securitie, these presents shalbe vnto yow a sufficient warrant.—Whythall, 12 Der 1633.

TO THE SESSION.

Right, &c.—Wheras, by the interruption made, as we ar informed, in bringing away of that tymber condescended vpon by contract betwene the Lard of Grant and Captan Maissone, our service, tuitching the repairing of some of our schips and other works belonging to ws, for which caus that bargane was cheiflic made, is lyk to be much hindred, and our subjects heir interested therin to be verie much damnifeid in ther particulars: Our pleasur is, that, haveing considered the wrong done vnto them, yow administer speedie justice in any action depending or which shall come befor yow at the instance of the said Captane Masson and his partiners tuitching this purpois, and that yow provyde heirefter, in so far lawfullic can be done, that they be not further wronged in that bargane, nor in any vther tymber for which they have barganes; which we will tak as verie acceptable service done vnto ws.—Whythall, 16 Der 1633.

Our Soverane Lord ordeanes a protection to be made vnder his highnes' great seall of the kingdome of Scotland To his highnes lovit Sir James Stewart, brother-german to the late Erle of Orknay, and Robert Stewart, his eldest sone, makand mention that wheras his Matie is crediblic informed that the said Sir James Stewart and his said sone standis indebtit to ther creditours in diverse soumes of money, which they ar most willing and able to pay vnto them if some compitent tyme war allowed them, by making vse to that purpois of ther goodis, geir, and possessionis, and speciallie of such pensions and debts as ar due vnto them by his Matie, wher if the saids Creditours should tak a violent and rigorous course aganst them or oney of them it would both vadoe him, and consequentlie misable them to pay the saids debts, to the great hurt both of them and ther creditours, wherin his Matie, respecting the well of both, of his authoritie royall, kingly power, grace, mercie, and clemencie, hath accepted, and by the tenour heirof acceptis, the said Sir James Stewart and Robert Stewart, his said sone, vnder his highnes' protection, safeguard, mantenance, and defence from being in anywayes troubled, molested, or persewed by ther saids creditours or any of them for any debt due vnto them by the said Sir James and his said sone, or any of them, as principalls or cautioners: And gives and grants to the said Sir James and his said sone during the space of ane yeir, beginning from the passing of thir presents under the said great seall, licence, power, and libertie to peaceablie and safelie dwell, stay, and remayne within any part of the said kingdome without molestatioun, trouble, challenge, persute, or danger of apprehending or warding of ther or any of ther persones for any contracted by them, as principalls or cautioners; dischargeing expreshie by thir presents all his Maties Shirreffis, Stewarts, Provests, bailleis, Constables, Justices of Peace, all Justices, Judges, officeris, and ministers of his highnes' lawis, both in burgh and land, ther deputeis, servandis, and all others whome it efferes within the said kingdome, that they nor nane of them presume, attempt, tak in hand, directlie or indirectlie, by day or night, to seik, tak, or apprehend the said Sir James and his said sone, or any of them, for any debt aforsaid, or mak any disturbance, interruption, or violation of his Mateis protection, vnder pane of incurring his highnes' utter wraith and high displeasur, notwithstanding of any letters of horning, captions, warrants, commissions, charges, or commandis alreadie gevin or to be gevin by his Matie himselff, the Lords of Session, or any of his Mateis Judges, officers, or others persones whatsoever within the said kingdome in favours of the saids creditours, or any of them, for apprehending and warding of the said Sir James and his said sone, or any of them, for any debt whatsumever, wheranent his Matie of his highnes' royall and princelie power by thir present dispenses in that part during the said space of ane yeir: And to the effect the said Sir James and his said sone may be the more able to satisfie and pay to ther creditours the debt owing by them, and in the meanetyme recover payment of the moneyis due to them by ther debtours, his Matie, of his authoritie royall, princelie power, and prerogative, doeth heirby speciallie authorize the said Sir James and his said sone to stand in judgment, or persew or defend all actions intented or to be intented, as well at ther owin instance aganst ther debtours as at ther creditours' instance aganst them, notwithstanding of whatsumever proces of horning vsed or to be vsed aganst them, wheranent his Matie hath dispensed and be thir presents dispenses dureing the said space, Ordeaneing publication heirof to be made and intimat to the schyre wher they duell; Commanding heirby the Lords of Sessioun to grant and direct Letters of publicationn heirypoun for that effect; and ordeaneing lykwyse thir presents to be a sufficient warrand to the writter to the great seall and keiper thairof for wryting of thir presents thairto, and appending the said great seall to the same without passing any other sealls or registers, wheranent thir presents shalbe vnto them a sufficient warrand.—Whythall, 18 Der 1633.

TO THE SESSION.

Right, &c.—Vnderstanding that the extraordinarie place of Session discherged by our trustic and weilbeloved Counsellour Sir John Hay of Baro, knyt, our Clerk Register, by his remove to ane ordinarie place therin, doeth vaik at our gift and disposition, and knowing the abiliteis and affection to our service of the right the Lord Lorne, we have thought fitt by these presents to recommend him vnto yow as a persone able for that charge, requyreing yow to receave and admitt him thervnto, according to the custome in the lyk caices.—Whythall, 23 De^r 1633.

TO THE SESSION.

Right, &c.—Wheras for distinguishing the tuo Judicatoreis of our Counsall and Session, we have gevin ordour that no nobleman being a pryme Counsellour should be admitted to be a judge in the Session, which course we will have still to continew, bot concerneing that the placeing vpon that Judicatorie some of our officers of estate who ar no noblemen is not derogation to and distinguishing of the tuo Judicatoreis, but will be steidable to our service, who to that purpois have made choyse of our trustic Sir John Hay, knyt, our Clerk Register, to supplie the rowme of Sir Robert Spottiswood, vacant be his admission to be President: And therfor our pleasur is, that yow receave and admitt the said Sir Johne to the said Ordinarie place in Session, with all honours, priviledges, and benefites belonging thervnto, lett him have vote amongst yow, and mak him participant of your contributiouns, and tak his oath as vse is, as yow will that justice proceid, and will doe ws acceptable pleasur.—Whythall, 23 Der 1633.

TO THE SESSION.

Right, &c.—Wheras Interruption is made, as we ar informed, in bringing away that tymber condescended vpon by contract betuixt the Lard of Grant and Captan Masson, our servitour, tuitching the repairing of some of our ships and other works of ours, for which caus that bargane was cheiflie made, is much hindered, and our subjects heir interested therin verie much damnifeid, which course (if no sufficient reasone can be gevin to the contrarie) we hold not fitt to be suffered within the kingdome, or to goe any longer vnpunisched: And therfor our pleasur is, that, vpon evidence to be gevin befor yow by the said Captan of the guiltines of the offenders, yow tak a speedie course for punisching of them, that others may be terrifeid for attempting heirefter the lyk insolence and irregular way of proceiding: And in the meane tyme, that our servand be no farder neglected, our pleasur is that yow call the Lard of Grant befor yow, and caus him find sufficient securitie vnder sic penaltie as shalbe fund necessarie for secureing our saidis subjects heir, that no further hurt or interruption be made to him, his name, freindis, vassalls, or tennents, in taking away and in barking the said tymber, which we will tak as acceptable service done vnto ws.—Whythall, 23 Der 1633.

TO THE CHANCELLOUR.

Right, &c.—We haveing taken great panes and bene at great charges in setling of the bischoprik of Edinburgh, as yow may perceave by the course taken by ws therin; and knowing that (as ordinarlie in all such new beginnings) ther may fall out occasions to hinder or delay the course of these our pious proceidings in the full and absolute setling of the persone made choyce of to be bischop therof, We have heirby thoght fitt to recomend vnto yow in a special maner, that not onlie in all thingis concerning the absolute establishing of the said bischoprik, bot lykwyse in the particular encourageing and countenanceing of the persone made choyse of, yow will vse your best endevours, and sie our pleasur therin to tak the intendit effect, which we will compt as acceptable service done vnto ws, wherof we will not be unmyndfull.—Whythall, 24 Der 1633.

To the Archbischop of St Androis.

Right, &c.—Haveing sene the testimoniall of the Election of M^r W^m Forbes to the bischoprik of Edinburgh, vnder the handis of the deane and chaptour therof; and being willing that he be fullie settled therin according to our former directions tuitching the same, Our pleasur is, that to that purpois yow proceid with all possible diligence to the absolute setling and consecration of the said bischop according to the ordours of that Church accustomed in the lyk caices, for which these presents shalbe your warrand.—Whythall, 24 Der 1633.

To the Archbischop of St Androis and Bischop of Edinburgh.

Being informed of the Learning and good conversation of Mr Johne Home, bacheler in divinitie, who is desyreous to setle himselff in that our kingdome, which desyre of his we ar willing to cherise, conceaveing it to be verie convenient for the vse of the church that such men, who both by the qualification, conformitie to the canons and ordours of the Church, and by ther laudable cariage may schaw good exemple to others, should be placed in our said kingdome: Our pleasur is, that whensoever any church shall vaik at our gift fitt for ane of his abilitie, or such as he shalbe willing to intrate, yow tak care that he may have it, and to that effect that yow send vnto ws a presentation vnder your hand to be signed by ws; and for your so doeing, &c.—Whythall, last Der 1633.

TO THE ADVOCAT.

Trustie, &c.—Haveing writtin to yow of late in the behalff of the right reverend father in God, our trustie and weilbeloved Counsellour, the bischop of Ross, that in all actions of Law that sall cum befoir our Colledge of Justice for recoverie of the rents and patronages belonging to his bischoprik yow compeir and give your best assistance to him befoir our said Colledge: And being credibile informed that the Abacie of Ferne is annexed to the said bischoprik, and that the rent therof is detened from him by ane other, where f we ar desyreous he should reap the benefite as being due vnto him: Therfoir it is our pleasur that, haveing carefullic informed yourselff of the estate of the Abacie, and how it is annexed vnto that bischoprik, therefter, ather in our name or in name of the said bischope, or in both, as it shall seme most expedient vnto him, yow compeir befoir our said Colledge, and be aydand vnto him, that he may enjoy the benefite therof, as in all actions intended or to be intended by him for the effect forsaid; ffor which these presents, &c.—Whythall, last Der 1633.

TO THE THESAURER AND DEPUTIE.

Right, &c.—Being humblic petitioned by the reverend father in God the Bischop of Brechin that, in regard he hath not receaved payment of his pension, formerlic granted to him vpon good considerations, these diverse yeires bypast, contrarie to our royall intention, we would be pleased to grant him an assignment to what is due to we out of his bischoprik by vertew of our taxatiouns; and we not being willing that any such course should be takin, if otherwayes yow would have a care to sie him satisfeit of what now is fund dew vnto him, and therefter according to his gift of pension, Our pleasur is, that efter dew tryell of how much he is behind of his said pension, that with all convenient and speedie diligence yow caus pay to him or his assigneyis the arrefris therof with the samyn yeirlie and termelic, conforme to his gift granted thervpoun; otherwayes, if he have recourse vnto we agane, we most give ordour of new for the same: Which recommending, &c.—Whythall, last Det 1633.

To the Archbischop of St Androis.

Right, &c.—Considering how by the priviledge we have in this our kingdome in preferring a successour to the vacant place of any who hath bene removed from the same by ws to be a bischop, we have the better opportunitie of the supplicing of ther places agane with one of approved sufficiencie, and that, notwithstanding of the title of any other thervnto, by being patron or otherwayes for that tyme when the present incumbent is preferred in such a maner by ws; Though it doe seme verie necessarie vnto ws that the lyk course should be keiped within that our kingdome, yit we will not proceid further therin till we should be first informed by yow by what right and in what maner it may best be done; And therfor these ar speciallie to requyre yow that, haveing informed yourselff of the same, yow certific your opinion therof vnto ws; And in the meanetyme, becaus the place in Aberdene vacand by preferring Doctour W^m Forbes to be bischop of Edinburgh, being a considerable place, would be supplyed by some man of good sufficiencie, we desyre yow lykwayes to have a speciall care how the same may be done, whether the donation therof be in ws, in yow, or any other; which speciallie recommending vnto your care, We biil, &c.—Wbythall, 2 Jar 1634.

To the Commissioners of Surrenders.

Right, &c.—Being willing vpoun some good considerations knowen vnto ws to tak into your further consideration the esteat of the tythis of the Pryorie of S^t Androis befor yow proceid in the valuation theref, Our pleasur is, that yow doe not insist therin till yow hear our further direction to that purpois, bot that yow goe on the valuation of other tythis according to our former warrants and your commission; and for your so doeing, &c.—Whythall, 2 Ja^r 1634.

TO THE ADVOCAT.

Trustie, &c.—Being willing to renew to our right, &c. the Erle of Kynneull the patent of Glasswork within that kingdome, conditionall that a work be sett vp to that purpois within the same, and kept goeing for the publict good, Our pleasur is, that yow draw vp a patent for our royall signature to him, his aires and assigneyis of these Glassworks, according to the former patent, to continew efter the expiration of the former the lyk number of yeres, with speciall provision for setting vp and manteneing the said work dureing the continuance of the said patent; for doeing whair of these presents shalbe your warrand.—Whythall, 8 Jar 1634.

These conteyne a Ratification of the former gifts granted by your Ma^{ties} father of royall memorie, and by your Ma^{teis} selff in favours of your Ma^{teis} servitour Sir James Murray and Anthony Alexander, of generall surveyors and Masters of Works within your Ma^{teis} kingdom of Scotland, granting them yeirlie for dischergeing the said office a yeirlie fie of 1200^{lib} Scotts, with power allamerlie to them for presenting, excreeing, outputting, and imputting of all sort of workmen, as carpenters, maissones, &c., at ther pleasur, that shalbe or ar imployed at the repairing of whatsumever his Ma^{teis} housses or castells.—Whythall, 9 Jar 1634.

To the Archbischop of St Androis.

Right reverend father in God, our trustie and weilbeloved Counsellour—Vnderstanding by your letter that Mr Peter Hay of Naughton, from whom yow had that petition whairof yow sent a copie to ws, hath said vnto yow that he will discover the persone from whom he had it, if he be required to doe the same by ws: Thervpoun we have writtin a letter to him to that effect, which we send yow heirwith, and it is our pleasur yow send for him, and haveing gottin the name of the persone from him, that yow acquant ws presentlie therwith, not imparting to any other till yow shall hear further from ws.—Whythall, 16 Jar 1634.

To Peter Hay of Naughton.

Trustie, &c.—We have vnderstude that the copie of a petition sent vnto ws by the richt reverend father in God the Archbischop of S^t Androis was gottin from yow: It is our pleasur, and we doe heirby requyre yow, to acquant the said reverend father with the name of the persone from whom yow had the said petition, which faill not to doe as yow wilbe answerable vnto ws.—Whythall, 10 Ja^r 1634.

TO THE ERLE OF TRAQUAIR,

Right, &c.—Haveing occasion at this tyme to confer with yow tuitching some thingis concerning our service, we requyre yow, with all convenient diligence, to repair to our Court, wher our further pleasur shall be made knowen vnto yow.—Whythall, 10 Jar 1634.

To the Archbischop of Glasgow.

Right reverend, &c.—Haveing sene a certificat of the deane and Chaptour of the See of Gla. Hes of the admission and election of our trustie and weilbelovit Mr Neill Campbell to the bischoprik of the Yles, according to our warrant for that purpois, Our pleasur is, that with all convenient diligence yow give ordour for his translation to the said bischoprik, and for his enstalment therin in such readic and fitt maner as in the lyk caices is accustomed; ffor which, &c.—Whythall, 14 Jar 1634.

TO THE TOUN OF EDINBURGH.

Trustie and weilbeloved, &c.—Hearing of the death of Mr Wm Struthers, and being desyreous that Mr Thomas Sydserff, deane of the Chaptour of Edinburgh, be preferred to the first minister's place therin, as being fitt for his charge, bot speciallie in regard of his abilities and sufficiencie, where f we are rediblie informed; we doe therfoir speciallie recommend vnto yow that, haveing conferred with your bischop heranent, yow would mak choyce of the said Mr Thomas to supplie the said place, wherin yow shall doe we verie acceptable service.—Whythall, 18 Jar 1634.

Similar Letter to the Bishop of Edinburgh.

TO THE BISCHOP OF EDINBURGH.

Reverend father in God, &c.—Wheras the parochiners of the North syd of Leith hath recommended vnto ws a qualifeid persone (as we ar informed by them), that we might be pleased to present him to ther church, which is vnprovydit of a minister, whervnto if we shall condescend they offer to setle a compitent and constant stipend for the mantenance of him and the ministrie ther in tyme cuming, and to leave the right of the patronage thairof vnto ws heirefter, which offers, if the said persone be sufficientlie qualified and conforme to the ordours and discipline of the Church, would seme verie fair; yit being loath to signifie our pleasur heirin vnto them till yow had first considered of the same, Our pleasur is, that, haveing conferred to this purpois with the right reverend father the Archbischop of S^t Androis, yow send vp vnto was a presentation vnder your hand to be signed by ws for the said persone, if he shalbe fund fitt for such a charge; otherwayes certific ws with all diligence of your opinions what course is left to be takin in this case.—Whythall, 18 Jar 1634.

TO THE THESAURER AND DEPUTIE.

Right, &c.—Wheras humble sute hath bene made vnto ws in behalff of the musitians of our Chappell Royall, that the arreiris of the yeirlie allowance for ther mantenance may be payed, and a setled course taken heirefter, that by want thairof our service in that kynd be not neglected, haveing to this purpois writtin at severall tymes: And it being our spetiall pleasur that a course may be speedilie taken for ther satisfaction accordinglie, as we have formerlie signified, we doe heirby requyre that yow examyne what hath bene done heirin, and that, efter what yow find them to be behind of ther arreiris, it be furthwith payed without further trouble vnto ws; and, till ane other course be takin for ther mantenance, that they be dewlie payed of the said allowance at ther tymes mentioned in the gifts; which recommending, &c.—Whytall, 18 Jar 1634.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—Being informed of the sufficiencie of our trustie and weilbeloved William, Bischop of Edinburgh, and of his affection to our service, we ar moved in regard therof, and for his better encouragement and enabling for our said service, to advance and promove him to be one of our Privic Counsell of that our kingdome: Therfor our pleasur is, and we doe heirby requyre yow, that, haveing alministred vnto him the oath accustomed in the lyk caices, yow admitt him to be one of your number: And for, &c.—Whythall, 18 Ja^{*} 1634.

Margaret Stewart, his Ma^{teis} Nurse, pension was ratified for hir and and hir sone's, Francis Russall's, lyftyme, and the langest leiver of them. The pension is 200^{lib} sterling, to be payed yeirlie to them or ther assigneyis according to ther gift.—Whythall, 20 Jar 1634.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—Wheras, out of our princelie commiseration of the distressed estate of the petitioner and hir children, we wer pleased, at our last being in that our kingdome, to referr vnto yow a petition delyvered vnto we then by hir, wherof shoe hath had no answer: Therfoir, the lyk consideration moveing we to compassion at this tyme, we have heirby thoght fitt to recommend hir caus vnto yow, by considering of the inclosed petition and calling the creditours befor yow, and deall with them effectuallie, to grant vnto hir what ease they can convenientlie affoord hir, both tuitching hir owin and her husband's releif, that we be not more troubled therwith, wherin we will accompt your panes as good service done vnto ws: We bid, &c.—Whythall, 24 Jar 1634.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—Wheras humble sute hath bene made vnto ws in behalff of Alex^r Levingstoun of Greneyards, that we might be gratiouslie pleased to grant vnto him a Protection for ane yeir, thereby the better to enable him (as he affirmeth) to tak the more saife and speedie course to give his creditours satisfaction; if yow find that his grounds heirin may tend to the secureing of the saidis creditours of what shalbe fund dew vnto them, and enabling him for doeing therof, Our pleasur is, that yow grant him a Protection for a yeir to this purpois, or for some such compitent tyme as yow shall think fitt; and for your soe doeing, &c. Whythall, 24 Ja^r 1634.

TO THE SESSION.

Right, &c.—Wheras we ar informed that by reasone of the great aige, seiknes, and inhabilitie of Alex^r Keith of Bonham, he cannot give that attendance for following some actions in Law concerneing him, depending or to cum befoir yow, as the estate thair of doeth necessarlie requyre, wherin, his caus deserveing our princelic commiscratioun, we heirby thoght fitt to recommend vnto yow that speedie justice be administred vnto him in these actions as by the Lawis and custome of that cuntric can be affoorded vnto him: Which recommending vnto your care, we bid, &c.—Whythall, 24 Jar 1634.

TO THE THESAURER AND DEPUTIE THESAURER.

Right, &c .- Wheras vpon consideration of the dangerous abuses tending to the great hurt and dishonour of that our kingdome by breach of the Acts of Parliament and Counsall made anent exhorbitant ysurie, transporting of gold and silver furth of the kingdome, and changeing and selling theref at heyer rates then by Law ar allowed, we ar pleased that the delinquents be furthwith censured and punisched, to restrayne the practeises and pernitious consequences thairof heirefter; And becaus, without exacting the rigour of our Lawis, we may justlie and doe expect no small benefite by ther forfeytis, we have thoght fitt, and we will and requyre yow, to treat with our Advocat and others of our Counsall and Exchequer of the most convenient meanes to that purpois, ather by carving of generall compositions and discharges therypoun, and so resolveing ypoun a certane proportion to be takin of everie sowme lent, changed, or transported contrarie to the Law, or any other course that yow shall find better, and thervpoun give ordour to our Advocat to prosecute the delinquents in our name, according to the course of Law, and the way that shalbe condescended vpon amongst yow, for our best and readiest benefite, requyreing and authorizing yow, our Thesaurer principall and deputie, that from tyme to tyme, as the fynes thoght fitt to be exacted shall happin to cum in, yow cause pay the same to our trustic and weilbeloved Counsellour Sir James Galloway, knyt, our Mr of requests, or his assigneyis, till the sowme of 2000lib stg. be complettle payed vnto him, conforme to our precept thervpoun, causeing ane Act of Exchequer to be made vpoun this; ffor which, &c.-Whythall, 24 Jar 1634.

TO THE ARCHBISCHOP OF ST ANDROIS.

Right, &c.—We have heard of some complaynts maide in behalff of our right, &c. the Marqueis of Huntlie and his Lady, that they have bene hardlie vsed tuitching ther religion beyond the boundis of discretion, they haveing gevin no caus of publict scandell to the religion professed, ther qualitie and great aige pleading for more than ordinarie convenience, according to the course that our late dear father did (as we ar informed) observe in ther behalff; we have therby thought fitt that yow tak the proceiding vsit aganst them into your consideratioun, and so mitigat and ordour the bussienes heirefter that nather any publict scandell be gevin to the Churche, nor they have any further occasion of complaint of such hard proceidingis aganst them as they affirme to have bene: For performeing whairof we trust to your long experience and approved judgment.—Whythall, 24 Jar 1634.

TO THE THESAURER AND DEPUTIE.

Right, &c.—Wheras humble sute hath bene made vnto ws in behalff of Margaret Stewart, who nursed ws, that in regard schoe is far behind in hir pension, and therby reduced to great wants, the arreiris thairof, being the onlie meanes schoe hath, might be the more speedelie payed vnto hir for hir releiff, and that therefter schoe might have no such occasion to importune ws; we, respecting hir former good service, and with all commiserating hir distressed estate now in her aige, have bene pleased to ratifie hir pensioun, which we will yow to caus expeid with diligence; And haveing examined how much schoe is behind theref, yow mak hir speedie payment of hir arreiris, that schoe may have no further occasion of complaynt; and for your soe doeing, &c.—Whythall, 24 Jar 1634.

TO THE SESSION.

Right, &c.—Vnderstanding from our right, &c. the Marqueis of Hamilton the great care yow have had in the speedie administratioun of Justice with integritie in that service of ouris, tuitching tuo of ten for each hundreth of anualrent money, we give yow hartie thanks for the same, and doe recommend vnto yow in speciall maner that when any motion shall cum in befoir yow in that kynd, yow administer speedie justice therin according to our Lawis as yow have formerlie done: And be confident, as we have heard from our said Cousen, of such persones amongst yow as both justilie and affectionatile hath bene a meanes at this tyme to advance our said service, so we will both distinguishe our respect to them from others who hath not bene so forward therin, and tak such particular notice of ther service as we will not be vnmyndfull thair of when any occasion shall offer for ther advantage and further preferment.—Whythall, 26 Jar 1634.

TO THE SESSION.

Right, &c.—Wheras we ar informed, in behalff of our burgh of Dumbarton, that notwithstanding ther priviledges have both bene antienthe and of late yeres granted vnto them vpon verie considerable causses, yit they ar questioned now of late by particular persones, and spetiallie for privat respects drawing them to vnnecessarie charges in Law, who cannot without hazarding of ther poore privat meanes (ther common good not being of any important value) vndergoe any long proces in Law: Though we inclyne much to the conservation of the priviledges of our ancient burghes, yit being ever willing that Justice be administered indifferenthie according to our Lawis to all our subjects without respect of persones, we ar pleased so far to tak notice of ther cause, as speciallie to recommend vnto yow that Justice be speedelie administred in any action in Law which may concerne them, which we will tak as verie acceptable service done vnto ws.—Whythall, first Feb^{*} 1634.

To the Exchequer.

Right, &c.—Wheras we ar informed that a signature for erecting the village of Greenok in a burgh of baronie is ather alreadie past or to be exped vnder our sealls, wherby our burghes of Glasgow and Dumbarton wilbe prejudged in ther antient priviledges, granted be our royall progenitours vpoun verie considerable causes, the passing wherof (as they affirme) being contrarie to our lawis made in favours of our royall frie burghes; and ther humble sute being so moderat as to be heard befoir what is intended by the said signature he put to executioun to ther prejudice, we ar heirby pleased to requyre yow not to expeid the said signature (if it be not past alreadie) till ther reasones for staying therof be heard; bot if it be alreadie exped, that yow tak such course for ther satisfaction as may be most agricable to equitie and the lawis of that our kingdome.—Whythall, first Febr 1634.

TO THE ADVOCAT.

Trustie, &c.—Haveing heard that it hath bene objected aganst yow that yow could not plead in savours of our right, &c. James, Lord Doun, in the action depending befoir our Colledge of Justice, betuixt him and James Home of Coldinknowis, concerneing the Erldome of Home: In regard it is alledgit that the said James Home, if he prevaill, will prove our ward, and consequentlie yow, being our Advocat, cannot be aganst him, yit till the treuth of that doeth appear, whether he is to be our ward or not, we allow yow to plead for him as yow doe for your other ordinarie clyents, till we be fullic informed of the estate of that bussines, signific vnto yow our further pleasure heirin; and for your soe doing, &c.—Whythall, first Febr 1634.

TO THE SESSION.

Right, &c.—Wheras we ar informed that notwithstanding our right trustic and weilbeloved the Lord Ogilvic did punctuallic fulfill vnto his late mother and James Ogilvic, his brother, a decreit gevin by yow tuitching the setling of some differences amongst them, yit the said James, by instigatioun of some persones, intendeth to trouble the said Lord, his brother, by a further sute in Law; we, being desyreous to be certified of the trew estate of your proceiding is in this bussines, ar heirby pleased to refer vnto yow the consideratioun of the inclosed petition, and with all to requyre yow to send vnto ws with all convenient expedition the trew estate thereof, that we may therepoun determine to give such farder ordour therin as we in our judgment shall find caus; we bid, &c.—Whythall, 1 Febr 1634.

TO THE CHANCELLOUR.

Right, &c.—Wheras we have bene moved in behalff of our right weilbeloved the Lord Kirkendbryght that we would cause our Colledge of Justice ther dismisse ane action in Law depending befoir them at the instance of our right, &c. the Erle of Annandale aganst him, tuitching a title to some Landis in Irland, becaus we could hardlie give trust bot that everie of our Judicatoreis should know the dew motions properlie belonging vnto them, we thoght fit onlie to wryt to yow for informeing your selff if any such suitt have bene moved and insisted in befor them, which we cannot beleive; and if ther be any such mistak, lett the sute be furthwith dismissed, that the pairteis may have recourse vnto Irland, wher it is onlie proper to be determined; whereof not doubting of the speedie performance,—Whythall, 2 Febr 1634.

TO THE ADVOCAT.

Trustie, &c.—The proposition heirin enclosed haveing bene made vnto ws of late vpon a precedent of the lyk course taken by our late dear father and our selff in this our kingdome, which we think lykwayes convenient to be established in that kingdome for reformation of abuses and incress of our revenewis, Our pleasur is, that yow tak it into your serious consideration, and that with all convenient diligence yow certifie ws of your opinion of the fittest legall way for the setling thair of: Which recommending to your care, &c.

TO THE CHANCELLOUR.

Right, &c.—The enclosed petition haveing been exhibite vnto ws in behalff of ane Humphray Norton, a tradesman, and native within this our kingdome, wherby he humblic represents that out of his love and too much trust in ane Adam Gordon, sone of John Gordon of Ardlogie, he is lyklie to lose a great part of his meane estate, besyde the hazarding of the remanent, by being forced to repair thither to seik Justice, for recoverie of what the said Adam did borrow of him, we ar pleased so far to tak notice of his case, and to comiserat the same, as seriouslie to recommend vnto yow the consideration of the petition, willing yow to sie justice administred vnto him with all possible and convenient expedition: We bid, &c.—Whythall, 17 Febr 1634.

TO THE ARCHBISCHOP OF GLASGOW.

Right, &c.—Wheras, vpon hearing of the abiliteis and affection to our service of our trustie and weil-beloved Johne Boyll, Commissar of Glasgow, we wer pleased to mak choyse of him to be vpon our Commission for Tythes and surrenders, which, as we ar informed, he hath carefullie attended to his charge and paines; and wheras in equitie he oght not suffer vthers to be discouraged in the following of our service of such consequence, we most ather releese him from attending the same (to which we ar vnwilling), or that yow dispense with his not residence at Glasgow: And becaus (as we ar lykwyse informed) his place is supplied by one sufficient man deputed for that purpois, we have thoght fitt to desyre yow that he be not troubled or anywayes questioned for his not residing to discharge his place dureing the continuance of the Commission.—Whythall, 7 Febr 1634.

TO THE EXCHEQUER.

Right, &c.—Wheras our right, &c. the Erle of Ancrum is to pass a signature, wherby in tuo deidis he hath made over his landis, particularlie mentioned therin, to his eldest sone, the Erle of Lothian, reserveing his owin lyf, and that in caise he hath no aires-male the Landis to returne to his other sone's aires whatsumever, this being no new gift nor incress of rent to our servant, but a privat deid of his, to be confirmed by ws; therfoir, and in regaird of the neirnes and qualitie of his service ahout ws, Our pleasur is, that yow pas and caus expeid these gifts at a verie small composition, and with as much diligence as can be vsed, for which these shalbe your sufficient warrand.—Whythall, 7 Febr 1634.

COMMISSION FOR HEARING THE THESAURER'S ACCOMPTS.

Or aney 15, 11, or 9 of them conjunctlie, auditours of his Mateis Exchequer named in the former Commission, of which number ther being alwayes 6, or at the least 4 of the Commissioners of Excheker present named in the said former commission: Giveand and grantand vnto them, or any 15, 11, or 9 of them conjunctlie, as said is, his highnes' full power and commission, at whatsumever tyme and place convenient, to hear, examyne, consider, admitt, subscryve, and end the compts and recepts of his Mateis Quite theasurer in the saids offices, of the whole rents of his highnes' patrimonie, casualiteis, and dewteis pertencing to the said offices, or any of them, as the same accompts shalbe made and produced, and to admitt and subscryve the same so red, heard, and examined as said is; And generallie all and sindrie others things to doe and excree which in the premisses or theranent shalbe anywayes necessarie or requisit, firme and stable, holding and for to hold all and whatsoever the saids Auditours of his Mateis Exchequer, or any 15, 11, or 9 of them conjunctlie, as said is, &c.—Whythall, 9 Febr 1634.

This conteyne ane Ratification of ane gift of pension granted by your Ma^{ties} father, of eternall memorie, to Patrik, then Bischop of Ross, now Archbischop of Glasgow, dureing his lyftyme, of eight chalders bear and fourtie four pundis money out of the few ferme maill of your Ma^{teis} landis of Pettindreich, with ane new gift of the samyne dureing his lyftyme.—Whythall, 7 Febrij 1634.

TO THE SESSION.

Right, &c.—Being informed by the enclosed Petition that ther is ane action in Law depending befoir yow betuixt some pairteis mentioned in the said petition anent some landis in Irland, whervpon bandis past amongst them with conditiones respective indorsat thervpon; and being lykwyse informed that the Landis which ar the subject of the contraversic betuixt them he in Irland, and the bandis mentioned in the said petition wer made and to be performed ther, which yow doe find to be trew, as by the petition is affirmed: Our pleasur is, that furthwith yow dismisse that sute, that the pairteis may have recourse vnto Irland, wher it is onlie propper to be determined; whereof not doubting of your speedic performance, &c.—Whythall, 11 Feb* 1634.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—Haveing bene pleased to tak great panes vpon ws for setling the differences betuixt the E. Roxhrugh and Buccleuch and Francis Stewart, sone to the late Erle Bothwell, And being most willing efter so long a tyme that all possible meanes be vsed to putt them to a finall determinatioun, we doe heirby requyre yow to call befoir yow the tutours and curators to whome the late Erle of Buccleuchis children and ther estate ar entrusted, requyreing them in our name to draw vp a procuratorie or factorie in ther names, geving power to such of ther owin number as they shall think fitt who may stay heir, and who ar best acquanted with the estate of that bussines, to setle and finallie compose in our presens the saids differences between the Erle of Buccleuchis children and the said Francis, that the same being legallie and perfectlie done, be delyvered to the Erle of Roxbrugh, that at his cuming hither these matters may be fullie concludit: Which speciallie recommending vnto your care, we bid, &c.—Whythall, 11 Febr 1634.

These appoint Johne Dowglas, sone to James Dowglas, ordiner Maiser of the privie Counsall, excheker and Commissioners, and serjant at Armes, to supplie and discharge these services in his father's absence, and vpon occasion of seiknes, aige, or other inavoydable impediments, and efter his death to succeid to these charges and vplift the feyis and casualiteis thereinto belonging dureing his lyftyme.—Whythall, 16 Febrij 1634.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—In regard of the great prejudice lyklie to ensew by diminution of rent raised to ws ypon Coall transported from this our kingdome, if ther be not some reasonable imposition laid vpon Coall transported from in lyk maner, that ther be no such disparitie of pryces betwixt them when they ar sold in forraine parts as they are for the present, everie chalder that goeth from thence paying to we tuelff schilling 4d st., which notwithstanding is no impediment to the transporting of them, but by tyme breeding a great scarcitie at home may mak manie to suffer wher now onlie a few ar benefited by venting of them abroad, yit we ar willing that ther be a difference of the imposition ther from what is takin heir in respect of considerations that necessarlie concerne the esteat of the severall kingdomes: Therfor, being content that the one-halff onlie of that impositioun be takin ther, Our pleasur is, that six schillings sterline money be imposed to our vse vpon everie such quantitie of all coall which soever transported from thence vnto any part beyond the seas, not being of our dominions, as wilbe answerable in proportion to the watter measur of the chalder of sea coall vsed at New Castle vpon Tyne; and that yow give ordour to our Advocat to draw vp for our signature such warraut and ordour for layeing and levyeing of that imposition to the vse of ws and our successours at all tymes heirefter as yow to that purpois shall think most fitt, and therefter lett it be furthwith sent to ws docated by our Advocat, for which these shalbe vnto yow and him a sufficient warrant.—Whythall, 7 Febr 1634.

Right, &c.—Wheras we ar willing vpon verie good considerations that the halff of the Imposition vpon Coalls transported out of this our kingdome to forrayne parts be laid vpon Coall transported from thence, as by our letter to our Counsell yow will perceave, in regard of the trust and charge yow have from ws, we have heirby thoght fitt particularlie to recommend that bussines to your charge, willing yow to give ws ane accompt theref ather at your comeing to our Court (if yow repair hither schortlie), or that ye send the same vnto [ws] with convenient diligence: We bid yow, &c.—Whythall, 17 Febr 1634.

Manu Regis.

I assure yow that is not for any courteous benefite, bot merelie for balanceing of trade and augmentation of my revenew.

Subr, C. R.

These conteyne ane gift of the Abacie of Inchefray, whole teyndis and spiritualitie thairof, to Patrik Murray, sone to vmquhill Mr Patrik Murray, last Commendatour of the said Abbacie, indureing his lyftyme, with ane factoric of the few maills and temporalitie of the said Abbacie, and that according to the provision in ane patent made by your Ma^{tie} to the said vmquhill Mr Patrik, whereby your Ma^{tie} promises to provyde efter his deceis, his aires or others to be nominat by him to the said Abbacie, ay and whill they wer payed, of tuelff hundreth pundis sterling, with expenses; Provision, That the said Patrik being satisfeit of the said sowme of tuelff hundreth pundis sterling, he shall renunce all right he may pretend to the said abacie, spiritualitie, and temporalitie thairof in your Ma^{teis} favours, according to the tenour of the said patent made to his said vmquhill father.—Whythall, 18 Feb^{*}.

TO THE SESSION.

Right, &c.—Haveing receaved diverse letters from our Advocat representing the estate of the cause of Home depending befoir yow, with the difficulteis whervnto he was brought in respect of our interest, as was alledgit by the persewer James Home, and his duetie to his clyent, we wer gratiouslie pleased to permitt him to plead for the Lord Downe till the treuth of that our interest should more planelie appear, and to that effect signified our pleasur by a letter direct to himselff, bearing date the first of Febr, since which tyme we have receaved the whole proceedings in that bussines vnder the Clerk Register's hand, by which it doeth appear to we that the offeris made by the procuratours of the Lord Doun, confirmed efterward by himselff and the Lord Maitland, doeth mak them lyable to the equivalent worth of the ward and mariage and other casualiteis due to ws by the said James if he should prevaill; And therfoir we, in our royall justice, will not permitt our name to be vsed to the prejudice of any wher we have no interest, so that if any haveing our name made we seme to be partiall in either syd, we vtterly disclame the same, our officers haveing no warrant from ws to medle in it, bot so far as our particular interest was thought to be: Nevertheles, without partialitie to ather partie, this we have thouth fitt to expres, not out of any misdoubt, bot that our officers have done ws as become them, bot merlie to showe love to justice, and to hinder ydle rumors: Therfoir we declair vnto yow the sinceritie of our intention to justice by the permitting of our Advocat to plead for his clyent since we have no interest in particular: So remitting the caus to your decision, and willing yow nather to regard any of the pairteis befoir the other, nor anything else, bot that justice be equallie administred by yow according to the Lawis and customes of that kingdome, &c .- Whythall, 20 Febr 1634.

To the Thesaurer and Deputie Thesaurer.

Right, &c.—Wheras we ar informed that it is ordored by the generall decree vpon the Surrenders that no satisfaction be gevin by ws for the blensch dewteis conteynit in the infeftments of the erectiouns made to any of them or ther authours, bot that they shall frielic accress to ws and our successours in all tyme cuming; And that it is lykwayes ordored by the said decree that we should have a proportion of the pryce or yeirlie dewtie payable for tythis of erections at the sight of the Commissioners of Surranders for the tyme, we being willing to schaw all favour to all such our deserveing subjects as ar intrested that way, ar heirby gratiouslie pleased to dispense with any part or portion of these tythes of erection reserved to ws to all such persones as shalbe willing to secure ws and our successours of the payment of the said blensch dewteis content in ther said Infeftments or erection, or shalbe allowit vnto ws proportionallie of the few dewteis of the vassalls, without any composition or satisfaction for the same.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—Wheras we are informed that the quantitie of Copper money last ordeaned to be coyned there is now fullie vented, and that notwithstanding the necessite of the cuntric is not therby as yit sufficientlie supplied. It is therfor our pleasur that yow give present ordour for the coynage of the lyk quantitie as by our former warrants was last ordeaned, for which these presents shall your warrand.

TO THE CHANCELLOUR, THESAURER PRINCIPALL AND DEPUTIE, CLERK REGISTER, ADVOCAT.

Right, &c.—Though we are rediblie informed of our vndoubted right to the Yle of the Lewes, and that ther wilbe a great many of the few dewteis bygane payable vnto ws for the same resting vnpayed, wherby we have great advantage in Law and otherwayes aganst our right trustic and weilbelovit the Erle of Seafort, who for the present hath the possession therof, yit being willing to schaw him favour heirin, we are gratiouslie pleased to content our selffis with such a proportion of the said Iland and others places fitting therin as shalbe by yow [thought] necessarie and convenient for the association of the fischings of Great Britane and Irland, provyded alwayes that the said Erle tak a new gift right of ws of the rest of that Yle for payment of the old few dewtie, to which purpois we ar heirby pleased that yow so proceid for ordoreing and setling of that bussines as may best conduce to the vse of our service, for which these shalbe your warrand.

TO THE COMMISSIONERS FOR THE CHANCELLOUR'S ACCOMPTS.

Right, &c.—Wheras we have gevin Commission to yow for examining and fitting of the accompts of the taxations whairof our right, &c. the Erle of Kynnoull, our Chancellour, hath bene our Collectour generall: And wheras it appeareth by the Commission that the clearing of the said Erle of Kynnoull his intromission with the taxations granted in anno 1625 doeth necessarile depend and hath relation vnto the former accompts of these who had the collection of the rest of that taxatioun, We doe therfor requyr yow that yow seriouslie consider of the accompts which hath bene made of the said Taxatioun, and if yow find any difficultie or matter considerable therin fitt to be imparted to ws, that yow acquant ws therwith immediatile; which recommending vnto your speciall care, we bid, &c.—Whythall, 26 Febr 1634.

TO THE ADVOCAT.

Trustie, &c.—Haveing at lenth imparted our mynd vnto our right, &c. the Erle of Traquair tnitching diverse thingis importing the good and advancement of our service wherin we will have occasion to vse your assistance, Our pleasur is, vpon his significing vnto yow our intention therin, yow give him your best advyse for furthering what may tend to the good of our service, and accordinglie vse your best endeavours to sie the same performed; and vpon his report to ws of your care therin, wo will acknowledge the same as verie good service done vnto ws: So we bid, &c.—Whythall, 26 Feb* 1634.

Another to the Clerk Register, verbatim.

To THE SESSION.

Right, &c.—Wheras by our former warrant we recommended to your care that no action be pleaded befoir yow wherin our Theasurer principall, deputic Thesaurer, and our Advocat ar pairteis, ather for our propper or generall interest, till our saidis Officers wer heard for ws: and wheras yow wer willing to give obedience to our said direction in all matters wherin we have propper interest, bot made some scruple in some actionis wherin our officers and advocat wer perseweris or defenders for our generall interest, as in escheits, nonentresse, improbationis, and such of that nature, Though in all such actionis it is the custome and practeis of that hous, as we ar informed, that our advocat is and most be persewer for our interest, and sieing, as we ar lykwyse informed, the proces most goe on ther at our advocat's instance for our generall interest, we sie no reasone why he should not also plead the same, and we think it nowayes agrieble to good ordour that privat advocats should tak vpon them to dispute such causses without assistance of our said Advocat: Therfor our pleasur is, that yow give ordour that all causses concerneing ws, ather in our propper or generall interest, wherin ther shalbe any dispute and ressoneing, be pleaded and disputed by our Advocat, and that no privat Advocats tak vpon them to dispute the sampne without his judicial assistance and concurse, and that yow caus thir presents be insert in your books of Sederunt, causeing intimate the same publictlie to the advocats, and sie the same observed in all tyme cuming: And for your so doeing, &c.—Whythall, 26 Febr 1634.

TO THE ARCHBISCHOP OF ST ANDROIS.

Right Reverend father, &c.—Being willing for considerable causses to know the estate and worth of the rent of the pryorie of S^t Androis, and what doeth properlie belong thervnto, we ar heirby pleased to requyre that with all convenient diligence yow consider of the rentall thairof, as it shalbe exhibited vnto yow by our right, &c. the Erle of Traquair, and therefter that by him yow certifie ws what yow find concerning the value thairof, togidder with your opinion tuitching the same: Which recommending vnto your speciall care, we bid yow farewell.—Whythall, 26 Feb[†] 1634.

Your Matie by a late Act of parliament being to tak in consideration how to dispose of the annuitie of Tythis, doeth heirby, for releiveing these your subjects by whome it is payable of ane heretable burden, give Commission vnto your Thesaurers principall and deputie to deall with such of them as shall, within tyme limited, desyre to enjoy the annuitie of ther Landis of all yeres bygane and to cum, tuitching the pryces to be gevin for the same, with power to the Commissioners, with advyse and consent of the persones abovenamed, or any of them, to resigne and sell the said annuitie of all the saids yeres to the persones disposed to buy it; with power to them in maner forsaid to frie by renunciation where securitie requisite the buyers of all obleidgments for payment of the annuitie, which being under the handis of the saids commissioners, and conteyning a clause to be registrat in the said register, with ane Act of Exchequer to past herypon, shalbe as valide a right to the receavers as if it passed under the sealls and registers whereanent your Matie dispenses: The Commission to indure till it be prorogat at your Maties pleasur.—
Whythall, 28 Febr 1634.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—Wheras, for the better government and preservation of our peace within all the parts of that our antient kingdome according to our Lawis, or wes to the effect our poore subjects may not vnnecessarlie be put to charges by haveing recourse for justice to our counsell in everie severall greevance that may be incident, Justices of peace wer establisched in severall parts of that kingdome wher it was thought necessarie, we have further thought fift to that purpois to requyre yow, according to the laudable custome of government vsed in this our kingdome, to caus establisch in such maner as is requisit in that kingdome everie Bischop to be a Justice of peace within his own dyocie, and with all that yow requyre them to give vnto yow a list of the most able and sufficient ministers within ther dyoceis, wher it is most necessarie that a Justice of peace be established, and that accordinglie yow caus setle such of them as yow shall think fitting to that purpois: Which recommending to your speciall care, we bid, &c.—Newmerket, 2 March 1634.

TO THE ADVOCAT.

Trustie, &c.—These ar to signifie our pleasur vnto yow that in all maner of writts that shall pas your hand, wherin yow may have occasion to vse the word presbiterie, that designation heirefter shall not be vsed, bot in place thair of yow shall vse ministers or preachers as a maner of expression which we conceave to be fitter: For your doeing wherof thir present is shall be your warrand.—Newmerket, 2 March 1634.

TO THE THESAURER AND THESAURER DEPUT.

Wheras we wer pleased by our gift vnder the privie seall of the date the 4 Junij 1630 to bestow vpon our trustie Sir Thomas Hope of Craighall, knyt, our Advocat, 2000^{lib}, sterling money, to have bene payed at Witsondey 1631, furth of the first and readiest of our rents, propertie, and casualiteis therof, and furth of our ryneing taxatiouns for the tyme, togidder with the interest so long as the same should remane vnpayed efter the said terme of Witsondey; and becaus our said servant hath not receaved payment of the said sowme of 2000^{lib}, therfor it is our pleasur yow mak payment vnto him, his aires and assigneyis, of the sowme of 2000^{lib} ster at Witsondey nixt, and that of the first and readiest of these moneyis of our taxatiouns last granted vnto, we in that our kingdome, with the interest therof so long as the same remanes vnpayed, and that yow accept of this our warrant, testificing to the said Sir Thomas vnder your hand your acceptatioun thairof, and that therefter yow sie ws discharged of that debt so owing by we vnto him: And for your soe doeing these presents shalbe your warrand and discharge.—Newmerket, 2 March 1634.

To the Archbischop of S_T Androis and Bischop of Edinburgh.

Right reverend and reverend fathers in God, our trustie and weilbeloved Counsellours, Right trustie and weilbeloved cousenes and counsellours, and trustie and weilbeloved, &c.—Haveing sene the copie of a petition which hath bene in the hands of Mr Peter Hay of Naughton, and he being requyred by we to declair from whome he had the said petition, hath done the same by nameing one Dunmure, a notter duelling in Dundie: It is our pleasur that yow call them befor yow, and haveing receaved the said Mr Peter Hay his information, and examined the said Dynmure concerneing the authour of that petition, and who may be any wayes accessorie to it, yow informe yourselff so far as yow can in all things concerneing it, and certifie we what yow find theranent, that we may caus tak such farder ordour, with these that shalbe fund to have had hand therein, as we shall think fitting: And for your soe doeing these presents shalbe your warrant.—Newmerket, 3 March 1634.

TO THE SESSION.

Right, &c.—Haveing vnderstude that in the action concerneing the Erldome of Home depending befor yow it was alledged that in regard of ane argument vsed concerneing our prerogative, any further proceeding in the cause ought to have been delayed till we had been acquanted therwith, and that notwithstanding ther was no delay granted, we conceave that ther most neidis have been some great reasone for your denying of it, sieing wher our prerogative is named, vpon what ground is soever, we doubt not bot that yow will alwyse advert to it with such tender care that is requisit: It is therfor our pleasur that yow certifie we with all convenient diligence what was the reasones of your proceiding befor we wer made acquanted with what was alledged in such a case, requyreing yow in the meane tyme to delay any further proceiding in that cause till we signifie our further pleasur, efter we have receaved your answer: The speedic returneing therof will prevent any delay that may be prejudiciall to the pairteis, for in this we have respect to nather pairtie, bot onlie to that which was alledgit to concerne our prerogative; wherin expecting your care, we bid, &c.—Neumerkit, 4 March 1634.

May it pleas your most Excellent Matie-

These give vnto Thomas Cadwell a gift of the escheit and lyfrent of Doctour Beaton for being denunced rebell, and lyeing vnder protest of horning vnrelaxed.—Newmerket, 7 March 1634.

TO THE LORD LORNE.

Right, &c.—Being informed that within some bound wherin yow have interest ther ar some mangrell haulks, whereof we so much affect the kynd, and ar desyreous to mak tryell of some of them for our sport, These ar to recommend to yow that a falcon and tersell thereof be sent vnto we with as much convenient diligence may be, and that ye be ernest with such persones as ar otherwayes interested in these bound is, to sie that the aires of these haulks be carefullie preserved; wherin yow will doe we acceptable service.—Newmerkit, 18 March 1634.

TO SIR LAUCHLANE N°CLEANE.

Trustie, &c. and weilbeloved, we greet yow weill, &c.—We ar informed that ther ar some mangrell haulks within the bounds belonging to yow, wheref, sieing we doe verie much affect the kynd, we have bene pleased to wryt to our trustie, &c. the Lord of Lorne tuitching the preservation thairof, and particularlie to recommend to yow that the agrie within your bounds be carefullie keepit, in caice that heirefter we shall think good to mak vse of some of them for our sport; And in the meane tyme that a falcon and tersell of that kynd be sent vnto ws by the bearer so soone as they can be fund of grouth and strenth to be transported hither; which we will tak as good service done to ws: We bid, &c.—Newmerket, 18 March 1634.

PRECEPT TO THE THESAURER AND DEPUTIE.

It is our pleasur that with all diligence yow caus pay vnto the bearer, James Quarriour, one of our falconers, the accustomed yeirlie allowance for bringing of some haulks vnto ws from the northerne parts of that our kingdome, and that yow give vnto him your best furtherance for that effect; for doeing whairof these presents shalbe your warrand and discharge.—Newmerket, 18 March 1634.

To SIR FILIBERT WARNAT.

Trustie, &c.—Wheras we ar informed by our right trustie the Erle of Stirling, our Principall Secretarie for Scotland, that yow ar goeing in a course with him towards the advancement of the work of the plantation of New Scotland, the good whairof we exceedinglie tender, we cannot bot approve of your affection in this as in your other former publict vndertakings for the good of our service; and as we ar willing to naturalise yow in that our kingdome of Scotland, and to conferre vpon yow the lyk honors and priviledges as other knyght baronettis vndertakeris in the forsaid plantation doe enjoy, so we shalbe ever readie to encourage yow and all others that shall tak the lyk courses with further testimonie of our gratious favour as occasion shall offer.—Newmerket, 18 March 1634.

To the Chancellour, Thesaurer, Privie seill, Thesaurer deput, Clerk Register.

Right, &c.—Wheras we understand that ther wer some differences betweene our right, &c. the Erle of Abercorne and the late Lord Rosse concerneing the right of the Landis of Inglistoun, the Lord Rosse alledgeing that he hold is the same in few, and the said Erle denying that he hath any few at all of any of them, who for the clearing of it did intend summond is of Improbatioun aganst the said Lord Rosse befoir our Colledge of Justice, The which course hath hithertills bene stayed in regard of the interest we wer conceaved to have in it: Therfor we, being desyreous to be informed of the trew estate of it without putting the pairties to a publict and unnecessarie trouble of a sute in Law, have thoght fitt to signifie our pleasur unto yow that yow call the said Erle of Abercorne befoir yow and the Lo/ Rosse that now is, or such as ar intrusted with his estate dureing his minoritie, And that yow call for such of ther writts and evidents on both sydis as may concerne this particular, that efter yow have informed yourselff sufficientlie theranent, yow may certifie ws what yow find, to the effect we may give such further ordour as we shall think expedient concerneing it: And in the meane tyme that a care be had that nothing pass in Exchequer that may be prejudiciall to ather pairtie; which recommending, &c.—Newmerket, 18 March 1634.

To the Session.

Right, &c.—Not willing to stay this our President of Session any longer, we cannot at this tyme give a full answer to your letter, onlie we think fitt to tell yow that since we sie that our prerogative was not so fullie clamed by our Advocat as we thoght it had bene, we doe not blame yow for not viseing the delay by him required, the rather sieing yow had our former commandis to eschew delayes in this pley as much as might be, so permitting proces to proceed till yow know our further pleasur, we bid, &c.—Newmerket, 19 March 1634.

Our Soverane Lord Ordeanes a protection to be made and exped vnder the great seall of the kingdome of Scotland to his highnes' lovit Patrik Dunbar, sone to Patrik Dunbar of Westertoun, Serjand-Major to his highnes' vncle the King of Deumark, making mention that the said Patrik hath bene a long tyme abroad from his Ma^{teis} kingdome of Scotland, dureing which tyme he hath done to his Ma^{teis} diverse good and faythfull services, in testimonie whairof his Ma^{teis} said vncle the King of Denmark did not onlie tak speciall notice of the said Patrik his good and faythfull service, bot was lykwyse pleased by his letters effectuallie to recommend him vnto his highnes: And his Ma^{tie} being in lyk maner crediblie informed that the said Patrik Dunbar intendeth now efter so long a tyme of his service abroad to setle himselff in that his Ma^{teis} ancient kingdome: And therfor his Ma^{tie}, of his princelie dispositioun for cherisching the good services of all such his Ma^{teis} deserveing subjects, being carefull that he be not unseasonablie troubled by any persone to whome he becam bund ather as principall or cautioner, And the rather becaus his Ma^{tie} doeth conceave that his alledgments in that kynd wer done in his young yeres, And with all his Ma^{tie} vnderstanding that the said Patrik doeth not intend any course to defaud his Creditours, bot rather, be setling himselff and his fortouns ther, to give vnto them a further assurance to be satisfeit of what he is justlie owing to them: Therfoir his Ma^{tie}, respecting the weill both of the said Creditours and debtours, of his authoritie royall, kinglie power, grace, mercie, and elemencie, hath accepted, and by the tenour heirof accepts, the said Patrik Dumbar vnder his highnes' protectioun, safeguard, mantenance, and defence, from being anywayes troubled, molested, and persewed by his saidis Creditours, or any of them, for any debt or debts due vnto them by the said Patrik, as Principall and cautioner, and gives and grants vnto the said Patrik dureing the space of one yeir, begining, &c. Cetera stylo ordinario.—Whythall, 28 March 1634.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—Wheras, for the better establisching of good ordour in the Middleschyres, and to the end the Commissioners for the same may the more readilic execute our Commissionis in each severall kingdome as they shalke warranted therby, we have gevin ordour that a Commission be exped vnder the great seall of this our kingdome, bearing the names of such persones of both kingdomes (thought most fitt and [abbe] to doe we service ther) as ar particularie sett doun in the enclosed list; we, being willing that a reciprocall course be taken ther, are pleased that yow give ordour to our Advocat to draw a Commission for the midleschyris, conteneing all the names for both nationes as they ar particularlie sett doun in the said list, geving such power as hath bene granted to any former Commission of that kynd, and what further yow shall think fitt (efter dew advyse) to do for the better stranthning of them in executeing that service for the good and quyet of these our kingdomes, and particularlie of these boundis, and therefter caus the said Commission to be furthwith exped vnder the great seall of that our kingdome in such maner as is requisit; for which these shalbe sufficient warrant to yow and others our officers in particular whome it doeth concere: We bid, &c.—Whythall, 3 Aprill 1634.

TO THE ADVOCAT.

Trustie, &c. - Wheras Sir Alexr Gordoun, knyt and baronet, gentleman of our Privie Chalmer, hath caused represent to ws the great abuses daylie committed in that our kingdome by diverse persones in killing of reid and fallow deir, rae, and all sorts of wyld foull and haynes, by such vnlawfull wayes as ar expresilie prohibited by many laudable lawis made by our royall predicessours, and particularlie by our late dear father, of worthie memorie: To which purpois our said servant being ane humble suitter to ws to have a Commission for putting these lawis in executioun, and we being verie willing that our service heirin he followed in a warrantable and legall maner, have hereby thought fitt to require you to peruse the inclosed informatioun, and therepon draw up to our said servand, his deputeis and officers, such a commission for the same of sevin yeires as may be warrantable in Law for the absolute authorizing of them to putt these lawes in executioun throughout the said kingdome, and for the levyeing of the fynes of the said delinquents, wherof the one-halff to be payed by them for our vse vnto our Exchequer, and the other halff to be deteyned by them for the panes and charges to be vidergone and expended in the prosecutioun of that service; and for avoydeing of trouble and charge to our said servant, we ar heirby pleased to requyre that the said Commission be immediatlie exped vnder our cachet and great seall ther with all expedition; for doeing therof these presents shalbe to our Chancellour, and our other officers quhom it may concerne, and vnto yourselff, a sufficient warrant: We bid, &c.-Whythall, 3 Aprill 1634.

TO THE CHANCELLOUR,

Right, &c.—Being informed that the Bischop of Brechin, being to be cited in your name befor our Colledge of Justice for omitting in his Inventoris of some part of the extraordinarie taxatiouus vnpayed by him, is verie vnwilling that his name and respect due to his charge should be publictlic tuitched in such a purpois, or that he should be forced to tak his oath therein; we have therfor thoght fitt to recommend to yow to tak the hearing of that caus to yourselff onlie, that it may be caryed in a privat maner, becaus we respect his charge, and have taken notice of the revenues belonging therto, which ar none of the greatest, and that otherwyse yow schaw him all the lawfull favour yow can; and if yow find any omission of his in this kynd concerning these taxatiouns, wherof yow have or had the charge, that yow accept and tak from him what can be justlie proved by any evidence other then his oath to be vnpayed by him of the said taxatioun, and that yow give him a discharge therof of all penelteis and forfeyts he hath incurred therby, for which these shalbe your warrand and discharge.—Whythall, 3 Aprill 1634.

To NICOLAS BRIOT.

Wheras we have gevin ordour for coyneing the lyk quantitie of copper coyne and in the same kynds as was last coyned by yow vpon our former warrand, and being pleased to mak choyse of yow at this tyme lykwayes for the said work, these ar therfor to requyre and authorize yow with all convenient diligence to prepare yourselff for the performance of it, and that yow provyd yourselff sufficientlie of copper, plated and prepared in such sort as yow shall think most fitting for the expedition of the work, that it may be transported into Scotland, to be printed ther according to the ordour to be establisched theranent; and that yow hasten your owin repair thither to putt a begining to it, haveing prepared all thingis necessar thervnto; ffor doeing whairof, &c.—Whythall, 3 Aprill 1634.

TO THE THESAURER AND DEPUTIE, OR ANY OF THEM.

Right, &c.—Wheras humble sute bath bene made to ws in behalff of Nieolas Bryot, our servant, that by reasones of the charges and paynes susteined by himselff at first in establishing the work and fabrik of the coynage of that proportion of copper appoynted by ws and our Counsell to be coyned in that our kingdome, he might be preferred at this tyme to any other persone in the coynage of this proportion appoynted to be coyned of late, for the reasones mentionat in the inclosed petition, we, conceaveing his demand to be reasonable, ar pleased to grant the same vnto him, requyreing yow to sie him proceid in the said service as formerlie, and at the lyk former rates and conditions, wherin yow shall doe ws good service.—Wythall, 3 Aprill 1634.

Our Soverane Lord ordeanes a Letter to be made vnder the great seall of Scotlaud, makand mentioun that wheras the extraordinarie transportatioun of Coall to forrayne parts hath bene by diverse acts of Parliament prohibited, notwithstanding vpon some good consideratiouns the transportation of Coall is tolerated for payment to his Ma^{tie} of a certane custome: And his Ma^{tie} being sufficientlie informed that, for diverse consideratiouns importing the good of his Ma^{tie} is service, it is requisit that ther be a further imposition of custome, and that it may be takin without prejudice of the trade or of the owners of the Coall potts, to whome his Ma^{tie} will give no just reasone of encouragment: Therfoir his Ma^{tie}, with advyse and consent of his Ma^{teis} Privie Counsell of Scotland, hath ordeaned, and by the tenour heirof ordeanes, that the Custome formerlie raised vpon Coall be doubled, by addition of just so much thervnto as hath bene formerlie payed, and that this new addition, with the said former custome, be imposed and levyed vpon and of the chalder of Scotts measur of Coall transported or to be transported from Scotland to any part beyond the seas, and being of his Ma^{teis} dominions, and that for and towards satisfaction to his Ma^{tie} and successours of all customes and impositions whatsoever to be levyed and takin of the said Coall so to be transported; and his Ma^{tie} ordeanes and commandis his Ma^{teis} officers to whois charge it apperteneth to have a speciall charge and regard that this impost and custome so raised vpoun the Coall be trewlie vplifted and payed to his Ma^{teis} vse in the samyne maner as the former impost was levyed befoir, and that the Lordis of his Ma^{teis} Excheker grant letters heirvpoun for payment of the new addition of custome with that which was formerlie paid, in forme as effeirs: And his Ma^{tie}, with advyse and consent forsaid, ordeanes publication to be made heirof be oppin proclamation at the mercat croces of the head burghes of the said kingdome, and others places neidfull, that none may pretend ignorance of the same; and that thir presents be a sufficient warrand to the Directour of the Chancerie for wryting of the samyne to the great seall, and to the Lord Chancellour for appending the great seall thervnto, without any farder precepts to be direct heirvpon.—Gevin at Whythall, 28 March 1634.

These bear that the custome formerlie raised vpon Coall be doubled, by addition of just so much therto to be raised for your Ma^{teis} vse vpoun the chalder of Scotts measur therof transported from Scotland beyond seas, not being of your Ma^{teis} dominions.

Our Soverane Lord ordeanes ane Letter to be made vnder his highnes' privie seall in due forme. ratificand, approveand, and for his Mtie and his highnes' successours confirmeand, lykas his Matie by thir presents ratifeis, approves, and for his Matie and his highnes' successours confirmes the Letter and gift of pension made by his Mateis ymquhill deirrest father, King James the Sext, of eternall memorie, to his highnes' servitour Mungo Murray, one of his Ma^{teis} Cupbearers, dureing all the dayes of his lyftyme, of ane veirlie pension of the sowme of Tuo hundreth markis sterling money, to be vplifted and paid to him yeirlie at tua termes in the yeir, Witsondey and Mertimes in winter, be equall portiones, furth of the first and readiest of his Mateis customes of his highnes' kingdome of Scotland, by his Mateis theasurer principall and comptroller of the said kingdome, thesaurer and comptroller deputeis thairof, and by his Mateis receavers of his highnes' rents and customes within the said kingdome then present and to cum, and in the said letter and gift of pension, gevin vnder the privic seall of the dait at Whythall, the 28 of Der 1621 yeres, at more lenth is conteynit in the haill heads, clausses, articles, and circumstances thairof whatsumever: And his Matie wills and grants, and for him, his highnes and successours, decernes and ordeanes that this present confirmation is and shalbe of alse great avail, force, strenth, and effect to the said Mungo Murray as if the said Letter and gift of pension wer word be word insert heirin: Anent the which, and with all inconvenients that may follow thairvpoun, and alse with all other objections and imperfections, if any be, which may be opponit or alledgit aganst the validitie of the samyne, or of this present confirmatioun thairof, Our said Soverane Lord, for his highnes and successours, hath dispensed, and be thir presents dispenses: Attour his Matie, for the good, true, and thankfull service and due attendance done to his Matie and highnes' said vmquhill father by the said Mungo Murray in tymes bypast, Therfor his Matie, of certane knowledge and propper motive, now, efter all his highnes' revocatiouns, hath of new gevin, granted, and disponed, and by these presents of new gives grants, and dispones, to the said Mungo Murray, dureing all the dayes of his lyftyme, All and haill the forsaid yeirlie pension of Tuo hundreth merkis sterling money forsaid, to be vplifted and payed to him at the termes above speciefeit, furth of the readiest of his Mateis said customes of Scotland, by his Mateis said Thesaurer principall and comptroller of the said kingdome, thesaurer and comptroller depute thesaurer thairof, and by his Mateis receavers of his highnes' rents and customes thairof, now present and to cum; with power to the said Mungo Murray, his factours and servands in his name, to crave, receave, intromet with, and vptak the forsaid yeirlie pension restand awand of all yeres and termes bygane since the date forsaid of his gift thairof above written, and sicklyk yeirlie in tyme and maner and at the termes abone specified dureing his lyftyme as said is, and to vie and dispone therepoun at his pleasur acquittances and discharges thairof, in whole or in part, to mak, give, subservie, and delyver, which shalbe sufficient to the receavers of his Ma^{teis} rents and customes of the said kingdome, present and to cum; and that the said Letter be extendit in the best forme with all clausses neidfull; with command therin to the said Thesaurer and comptroller deputeis, receavers of his Ma^{teis} rents, customes, casualiteis, now present and to cum, to readelie answer, intend, obey, and mak thankfull payment to the said Mungo Murray, his factours and servitours in his name, of the yeirlie pension above writtin yeirlie of the termes above specifit, dureing all the dayes of his lyftyme, yeirlie and termlie, in tyme cuming, which shalbe thankfullie allowed to them in ther accompts be the Lords Auditours of his highnes' Exchecker, whome his Ma^{tto} commands and ordeanes to allow the same, this letter heirypon to be raisit being once schawin and produced vpon compt, and registrat as efferes.—Whythall, 10 Aprill 1634.

Pleas your Matie__

These ratifie and give of new to Mungo Murray, dureing his lyftyme, a pension of 200 Merks sterling, granted by your Ma^{teis} royall father. It is payable out of the customes of Scotland by your Ma^{teis} Thesaurer, and others officers whom it concerneth.

Our Soverane Lord ordanes a protection to be made vnder his highnes' great scall of the kingdome of Scotland to his highnes' trustie and weilbeloved Colonell Robert Monro of Contalick, making mention that his Matie perfectlie vnderstanding how that the said Colonell Robert Monro haveing for the space of four yeres togidder done verie good and acceptable service to his highnes' vncle the King of Denmark in his late Warrs aganst the Emperour, has since for the lyk tyme (out of his generous and vertuous disposition) not onlie acquyrit great reputation and credit abroad in the late Swedish warrs of Germanie vnder the King of Sueden, of late and famous memorie, by verie notable services and exployts therin, wherby he hath gevin sufficient prooff and testimonie of his curage and readie judgment, and whairof his Matie hath both formerlie and now of late takin particular notice; Bot also the said Colonell (who intendeth to continew that course in these warrs for the advanceing of the common cause in so far as in him lyeth) is lyklie by his vertew and industrie otherwayes to mak vp a fortune and estate within the said kingdome, if his Creditonrs doe not at his returne hither vnseasonablie trouble him, and therby divert him from that purpois: And his Matte considering how that by his taking of that course to setle ane estate ther, his creditours, to whom he standis engadged onlie as cautioner, and that in his younger yeres, will rather be secured of ther principall sowmes and annual rents then endangered to lose the same: Therfor his Matie, of his princelie care, for setling within his said kingdome of [so] worthie and deserveing a persone, and for the good lykwyse of the saidis Creditours, hath of his authoritie royall, kinglie power, grace, mercie, and clemencie, accepted, and by the tenour heirof accepts, the said Colonell Robert Monro as cautioner, vnder his highnes' protection, safeguard, mantenance, and defence, from being anywayes troubled, molested, or persewed by the saids Creditours, or any of them, for any debt dew to them by the said Colonell Robert Monro as cautioner aforsaid, and gives and grants vnto him dureing the space of ane yeir, beginning, &c.— Cetera stylo ordinario.

Our Soveraigne Lord Ordeanes a Protection to be made vnder his highnes' great seall of the kingdome of Scotland to his highnes' trustic and weilbeloved Hectour Monro of Foulls, makand mention that wher his Ma^{tie} is crediblic informed that his vmquhill brother Robert Monro of Foulls (who, haveing the charge both of a horse and foot regiment, was killed in his charge in the feildis in the late Swedish warres of Germanie), did diverse yeres befor his death contract such great debts as have almost turned the estate of that antient familie; And that his Ma^{tie} lykwyse is crediblic informed that the said Colonell Hectour Monro, now of Foulls, forsicing the danger of the ruyn of that house, did follow these warres, and is now verie lyklie by acquyreing charge and reputation therin to recover that estate, if so be his Creditours now at his returne will permit him, without being vuscasonablic troubled, to setle and ordour his affaires ther; and his Ma^{tie} considering that by his recoverie of that Estate it will rather secure than anywayes endanger his Creditours of ther principall sowmes or annuel rents: Thairfoir his Ma^{tie}, of his princelic and tender respect to the good of both the saids creditours and dehour, doeth of his authoritic royall, kinglie power, grace, mercie, and elemencie, accept, and by the tenour heirof accepts, the said Colonell Hectour Monro vnder his protection, safeguard, mantenance, and defence from being anywyse troubled, molested, or persewed by the saids Creditours, or any of them, for any debt due vnto them by the said Colonell Hectour Monro, as principall or cautioner, and gives and grants to the said Colonell dureing the space of ane yeir, begining, &c.—Cetero stylo Ordinario.—Whythall, 10 Aprill 1634.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—Wheras we intended to have imposed six schilling sterline vpon everie chalder Scotts coall, Newcastell measur, transported from Scotland to forrane partis: That vpon humble remonstrance made to ws by our trustie, &c. M^r Ro^t Bruce, in behalff of the Coal Masters of that kingdome, of the estate of the coall trade ther, we have bene pleased to signe a signature onlie for doubling of the former impost raised vpon coall, which we requyre may be exped vnder our great seall, with diligence; for which, &c.—Whythall, 10 Aprill 1634.

TO THE SESSION.

Right, &c.—Wheras we ar informed that ther is ane action in Law depending or to be intended befoir yow betuixt our trustie and weilbelovit Generall Ruthren and Sir James Lundie, his brother-in-Law, becaus of the said Generall his importante and necessarie imployments abroad in the service of our freindis and confederats, he cannot convenientlie attend to sollicite the issue of that caus as is requisit in the lyk caices, and becaus of the notice that otherwayes we have takin of his worth and cariage, these ar effectuallie to recommend him vnto yow, to the end that not onlie in that particular action between him and his said brother, bot in all other causes that may concerne him comeing befor yow, he may have speedie justice according to our Lawis administred therin, which we will tak as acceptable service done vnto ws.—Whythall, 10 Aprill 1634.

TO THE LORDIS CHANCELLOUR AND PRIVIE SEALL.

Right, &c.—We ar informed from the Mr of Forbes that, besydis his many misfortunes abroad, some of his freindis at home, to whome he entrusted the manageing of his estate for releiff of his creditours, hath, out of a fals surmeis of his death or continuall detention in prisone, converted his trust into ther owin propper vse, and frustrat his creditours of their releiff, to his great loss and prejudice, in so much that he, being now both willing and able to satisfie a great part of his debts, cannot, without great hazard of his libertie and in this vacatioun of Justice, without assistance of our authoritie, goe about or performe that his intention: we therfore have thoght fitt to grant vnto him our royall protection, and that it may be the more vsefull to him, farder to will and requyre yow to give him your assistance against the vnjust deteners of his esteat and the vnseasoneablenes of his creditours, so far as yow in equitie and justice shall think fitt; wherin not doubting of your care, &c.—Whythall, 15 Aprill 1634.

To the Commissioners of Surranders.

Right, &c.—Wheras we ar informed in behalff of M^r James Blair, minister at Portpatrik, that he is vnprovydit of a necessarie and compitent meanes for serveing the cure at the said kirk, humblic craveing that we would be gratiouslie pleased to recommend to yow the consideration of his charge and meanes of his provision, being far schort, as he informeth ws, of what is ordinarlie allowed to any other in such a charge: Our pleasur is, that according to any other former course takin by yow in the lyk kynd, in sua far as yow ar warranted by our commission, yow setle such a compitent meanes as is requisite for such a charge and eminent place, being the ordinarie port of that our kingdome to and from whence our subjects of all our dominions haveing the occasion doe ordinarie repair to and from Irland; for which these shalbe your warrant: We bid, &c.—Whythall, 10 Aprill 1634.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—Haveing bene pleased to tak peculiar notice of the enclosed petition exhibited to ws by our faythfull servand Patrik Young in behalff of his Nephew Charles Young, In regard he is minor and now absent in France, and the estate left to him by his father, Sir James Young, our late servand, is lyklie (if tymelie remeid be not vsed) to be vndone, and in regard of the long and faythfull service done to our ymquhill dear father by Sir Peter Young, both at home and abroad, in diverse embassages, and of diverse of his sones to our selff, our pleasnr is, that haveing considered of the petition, yow appoynt some auditors of your number, with power to call befoir them Sir Johne Carnagie of Athie, knyt, who hath comprysed the Landis of the minor, willing them to examyne particularlie according to the heads of the petition what is justlie owing to the said Sir John or to any other creditour ypon his disbursments, and what the trew yeirlie value of these Landis and estate is, or might have bene since the death of the said Sir James, and therefter to compose the differences according to the desyre in the petition; otherwayes to certifie ws of the trew estate tharof, that we may give such farther ordour therin as we shall find just caus, till such tyme we will yow to recommend to the session that there be no proceiding is befor them for further troubling the estate of the minor.—Whythall, 19 Aprill 1634.

TO THE THESAURER AND DEPUTIE.

Wheras by our former precept to our Exchequer 17 March, and by our letter to them of the 8 of De^{*} following, we did requyre them to pay to Sir Hew Wallace of Craigie Wallace 20,000^{Hb}. Scotts, which precept and letter ar registrat in Exchequer books; In regard that the granting of these moneyis was for selling to ws and our Croun of the heretable offices of the bailliarie of Kyle and regalitie of Newtoun, and that besydis we wer pleased to tak notice of the good service long since done by William Wallace, whois discent was from the said Sir Hew his house, and whois memorie is left as a worthic record to the posteritie; And withall, haveing a tender comiseration of the estate of that antient familie, the standing wherof doeth at this tyme (as we ar crediblic informed) depend vpon the readic payment vnto him of these moneyis: Our pleasur is, that yow readelic pay the said Sir Hew, his aires and assigneyis, the said sowme of 20,000^{lb}b scotts money, at the terme of Witsondey nixt ensueing the date heirof, and that out of the first and readiest of these taxations last granted to ws, with the interest therof from the terme of Witsondey last bypast, 1633, till the nixt ensueing terme of Witsondey 1634, with interest yeirlie and termelie therefter, so long as the said principall sowme, or any part thairof proportionallie, shall rest vnpaid to the said Sir Hew or his forsaids, and that yow accept of this our warrant, testific vnto him vnder your handis your acceptatioun heirof, and that therefter yow sie ws discharged of that debt so owing be we vnto him; And for your see doing these presents shalbe your warrant.—Grenewitch, 2 May 1634.

TO THE ADVOCAT.

Trustic, &c.—Haveing for some respects moveing ws, mentionat in our letter at this tyme to our Colledge of Justice, significated our pleasur vnto them for prorogating the reversion of the estate of the Erle of Airth, as by the enclosed copie therof yow will perceave, we ar heirby pleased to will and command yow to sie that prorogation legallie and surelie done as may secure that estate from being evicted or troubled by his cautioners, or any haveing power from them dureing the tyme that shalbe condescended vpon, and that yow assist and concurre with his procuratours for all legall helps which may be affoorded vnto him for preserving him from the rigour of his cautioners, and in all other things that may concerne his esteat theranent.

TO THE SESSION.

Right, &c.—Wheras we ar informed that the reversion of the whole estate of the Erle of Airth is to determyne at the nixt terme of Mertimes, wherby it will fall to his cautioners without hope of recoverie, notwithstanding that it far exceideth the just sowmes of money dew to his creditours; yit sieing some course is to be taken for his releiff, which is to be done by the greatest conveniencie that may be; and in regard the cautioners ar sufficientlie secured of the moneyis dew vnto them, and that ordour wilbe taken for payment of ther annuell dureing the not redemptioun: Our pleasur is, that yow deall with them for prorogating the reversion for so many yeives, as by mutuall consent of the said Erle and his cautioners and procuratours shalbe agreed vpon; and in caice of the cautioners' refuisall and obstinacie in pressing for the extremitie of Law against the said Erle, it is our further pleasur that yow grant vnto him all lawfull means which may be affoorded for avoydeing the forfeyt of his esteat, sieing out of our grace and favour we intend with all conveniencie to caus minister some meanes for releiff of his burdenis.—Grenwitch, 2 May 1634.

TO THE CHANCELLOUR.

Right, &c.—Wheras at the tyme of our goeing to that our kingdome we wer pleased to signe some writts of honour, intending therby to sett a mark of our favour vpon some deserveing, calling now to mynd that some of these signaturis wer then vpon good considerations restrayned by we from being exped vnder our sealls, as particularlic these of the Lordis Lyndsay and Lowdoun from being Earles: It is our pleasur that yow call to the saidis Lordis commanding them to render these signaturis bak vnto yow, and that yow tak the lyk course with any other who had any signature of honour at that tyme which was not therefter exped vnder our great seall, to be disposed of as we shall think fitt; bot if they or any of them vpoun your demand refuis to give vp these signatures, adverteise ws with diligence of the same, and in the meanetyme give ordour by advyse of our Advocat by ane act or declaratioun that any signature refuised to be delyvered vp vnto yow be declaret ineffectuall.—Vt supra data.

TO THE ADVOCAT.

Trustie, &c.—Wheras the copie of ane outragious Lybell which was fund in the handis of ane Dinmure, wherof we have gevin a coppie to our right, &c. the Erle of Traquair, doeth so much express ill disposition in some of our subjects as we have resolved to have the same exactlic tryed, and the authours thair of censured according as they shalbe fund to deserve, To which purpois we have signed a commission to some whom we spetiallic trust, whair of yow ar one: Therfoir it is our pleasur that yow carefullic attend the said commission and vse your best endeavours for discovering and examyneing of any persones thought guiltic or accessorie thervnto as yow yourselff shalhappin to cum to the knowledge thair of, or as yow shalbe informed by any other of the Commissioner or otherwayes howsoever; Which we will tak as acceptable service done vnto ws.—Dat, vt supra.

Wheras of late ther is a seditious bill, first fund in the handis of one Dynmure, dispersed throughout that our kingdome vader the name of a supplicatioun, tending to the disturbance of our peace, and impairing of our royall honour and authoritie, the copie whairof we have delyvered vato our right, &c. the Erle of Traquair: These ar to authorize and give yow full power and commission vato yow, in maner vader writtin, to convene at Edr the first of Junij nixt, and at other convenient dayes therefter; and haveing called befor yow the authors and others whom yow hear or find to be accessorie into the same, that yow examyne them tuitching that purpois vpon oath or production of witnesses, putting ther depositions in writt vader ther and your handis; and therefter, if yow find them guiltie or anywayes accessorie to so high ane offence, to committ them to close prissone, and to acquant ws from tyme to tyme with your proceiding is heirin, till the whole authours and others haveing hand in the same be cleirlie knowen: So willing and requyreing yow expressie, as yow will answer vato ws vpon your perrell, to omitt no diligence in discherg of your dewteis heirin, and approveing your selffis our faythfull subjects and connsellours; fior which these shalbe vato [yow] are sufficient warrant.—Grenwitch, 5 May 1634.

Right, &c.—Wheras Colonell Rot Munro hath caused represent to ws That diverse of our poore subjects who hath done good service in the warres abroad doe ordinarlie ather becum old or lame, wherby they ar ynproffitable for further service, and consequentlie burdenable to strangers, and no credit to our other subjects ther; ffor remedie and help of such persones, he hath proposed that diverse of these whom it hath pleased God to blisse with preferment and meanes in these warres ar willing to give a voluntarie contribution for creeting of ane hospitall within that our kingdome for ther vse, and dedicating some yeirlie allowance thervnto, besydis what will accress vnto them by the bountie of the prince in whois service they wer imployed or by ther paction with him otherwayes, according as may more fullie appear by the inclosed information: To which purpois the said Colonell, being willing to vndergoe great panes for settling of that bussines, vpon conditions expressed in the Information (which seame to be fair and reasonable) hath bene a sutter vnto ws (for his more warrantable proceiding therin) to be authorized by our letters patents vnder our great seall, wherin, his intention being verie commendable and the purpois worthie of due respect and consideratioun, we have heirby thoght fitt to recommend to yow seriouslie to consider of the information, and of the most convenient way for authorizing him by letters patents, or what commission or warrant yow think fitt or necessarie, or as may agrie with his demandis in the Informatioun; and for that effect that yow give ordour to our Advocat for drawing vp therof, which we require may be furthwith exped vider our cachett and great seall ther, that the gentlemen, of whois good cariage and service abroad we have been pleased to tak particular notice, be not putt to further trouble or charge tuitching the passing thairof; ffor which these presents shalbe vnto yow, and our officers whom it doeth particularlic concerne, a sufficient warrand.—Grenewitch, 5 May 1634.

To the Session.

Right, &c.—Wheras humble remonstrance hath bene made vnto ws that diverse noblemen and others our subjects of east Lothian have most injustlie intruded themselffis vpon our communitie at Dumbar, to our great prejudice, wherin we have takin notice of ther bold proceiding is in what doeth so particularlie concerne ws in our right; fior remedie whairof, and preventing the lyk heirefter, we doe speciallie will and requyre that vpon summond is and proces to be intendit and prosecute at our instance by our Advocat, to whom we have writtin tuitching this purpois, yow try and cognosce of ther rights and infeftments therof, and if yow find them insufficient, that yow administer Justice with all expedition for reduction therof, according to our Law for establishing our right.

TO THE ADVOCAT.

Trustie, &c.—Haveing writtin to our Colledge of Justice for considering the validitie of the Infeftments of such persones as have intruded vpoun our Commontie at Dumbar, to our great prejudice, as by the copie of the enclosed letter vnto them yow will perceave: Our pleasur is, and we command yow, that yow consider of ther rights, and in our name and for our interest insist aganst such persones as have injustlie intruded thervoon, by intenting and prosecuteing summond and proces in our name for reduction of these Infeftments, in so far as yow shall find agricable to justice and the lawis of that our kingdome; for which, &c.—Grenwitch, 5 May 1634.

TO THE EXCHEQUER.

Right, &c.—We being willing to vse all lawfull and fit meanes to disburdone our Exchequer of the debts wherwith at this tyme it is charged, and to mak the best vse we can of the rents and casualite of our Croun of that kingdome at all tymes heirefter: Our pleasur is, and we doe heirby will and requyre yow, to exped no signature in Exchequer of any landis whatsoever, or to any persone of what qualitie or condition whatsoever, without first a dew consideration be had of the worth and yeirlie rent of these landis, and that accordinglie yow putt Compositions of the same to be furthwith levyed for our vse; for doeing wheref, &c.

TO THE ERLS OF SOUTHESK AND TRAQUAIR, AND SIR JOHN HAY.

Right, &c.—Wheras yow wer appoynted to revise the accompts of the extents in anno 1625, befor they be presented vnto the whole Commissioners nominated for hearing theref, and that the saidis accompts have relation to Sir James Baillie his accompts of ane part of the saidis extents, and that therfor it is necessarie that the same be also revised: These are to will and command yow to review the saidis accompts, and if yow find any thing worthie our knowledge or to be considered by ws, it is our pleasur that yow adverteis ws with all diligence, that yow may know our further pleasur theranent befor the tyme appoynted for the fitting of the others accompts; wheranent these presents shallbe your warrant.

TO THE SESSION.

Right, &c.—Wheras we ar informed that our right dearlie beloved cousen the Countess dowager of Westmerland hath ane action of Law depending befor yow at hir instance, as executrix to hir daughter the Countess of Home, deceissed, for so much of the late Erle Home's personall esteat in that our kingdome as by the Lawis therof did fall dew to hir daughter, wherin hir sute appeareth to be more equitable, becaus of the great portion that was gevin with hir said daughter: In regard therof, and that our said cousen is altogidder vnacquanted with the forme and lawis of that our kingdome, wherby a long and tedious sute wilbe verie inconvenient to hir being resident heir, we ar heirby pleased effectuallie to recommend to yow that speedic justice, without respect of persones, be administred in that action, cutting off all vnnecessarie delayes that shalbe sought by hir adversaries for protracting of tyme to hinder the due and speedic course thairof; whairof not doubting of your care, &c.—Grenewitch, 5 May 1634.

TO THE EXCHEQUER.

Right, &c.—Wheras we ar informed that ther was a signatur presented vnto yow by our late Parliament, holdin in that our kingdome by our trustic and weilbeloved William Gray, merchand of Ed[‡], for ratificing vnto him ane infeftment of the baronic of Saltoun, holdin by him few of his superiour, who holdeth the same of ws by ward and releiff, which signature was then continewed (as we ar informed) becaus at the tyme of our first incomeing to that kingdome the Commissioners of Exchequer, who war to attend vpon our service vtherwayes, could not meitt agane befor the Parliament to dispatch any bussines of Exchequer; We being vuwilling that he should suffer prejudice by the first continewing therof, ar heirby pleased to will and require yow to expede the said ratification and signature made thervpon, with this provision alwayse, that if in caice the said W^m shall procure and discharge of the reversion granted to his said superiour, that then he shalbe obleidged to tak that baronie holdin of ws in the same maner as his superiour, who holdis the same of ws now, &c.

TO THE EXCHEQUER.

Right, &c.—Wheras vpon consideration that Patrik Blak, our servant, had in the tyme of our late royall father payed nyne thowsand merkis scotts for the heretable Chalmerlanrie of Fyff, we wer so far furth pleased vpon his humble sute for secureing of him therin to signe of late a gift therof vnto him, redinable alwyes vpon payment of the moneyis so debursit be him, and therefter to returne to our croun, wherin sieing the redemption (which is at all tymes in our power) doeth distinguisch that our gift from the nature of heretable offices, and in the meane tyme being willing that he be secured of what he hath payed of that office, which according to our princelie justice and equitie, our pleasur is, that yow forthwith expeid our said gift vnder our sealls according to the tenour thairof, and that he peaceablie discharge and enjoy that office till he be payed of these moneyis.—Dat. vt supra.

TO THE EXCHEQUER.

Right, &c.—We have bene pleased, vpon considerations knowen to ws, to signe a Licence to one Johne Pilmure for making of Soap within that our kingdome, and to that purpois to mak therin or bring into the same all ingredients necessarie, paying custome as by the signature will appear: Our pleasur is, that with all diligence yow expend the same vnder our great seall; flor which these salbe vnto yow and them sufficient warrand, &c.

Your Matie by ane late Act of Parliament being to tak in consideration how to dispose of the Annuitie of the Tythes, does heirby, for releiving these your subjects by whome it is payable of our heretable burden, Give Commission to your Thesaurers principall and deputie, or any of them, to deall with such of them as shall within tyme limited desyre to enjoy the annuitie of ther landis of all yeres bygane and to cum, tuitching the pryces to be gevin for the same, with power to them or any of them, with advyse and consent of the persones above named, or any thrie of them, to renunce and sell the said annuitie of all the saids yeres to the persones disposed to buy it, with power to them in maner forsaid to frie by renunciation or other securitie requisite the buyers of all obleidgments for payment of the annuitie, which being under the hands of the saids Commissioners, and conteyneing a clause to be registrat in the books of Exchequer, with ane Act of Exchequer to pass therypon, shalbe as valide a right to the receavers as if it had passed under the sealls and registers wheranent your Matie dispenses. This Commission to indure till the first of August 1635, and to be further prorogat at your Mateis pleasur.—Grenewiteh, 6 May 1634.

TO THE ADVOCAT.

Trustie, &c.—We have bene pleased at this tyme to give some direction to our right, &c. the Erle of Traquair, our Thesaurer deputic, and to our trustie Counsellour Sir John Hay, our Clerk Register, tuitching the Pryorie of S^t Androis: It is our pleasur that with all expedition yow draw vp such writts tuitching the Pryorie, whairof the groundis shalbe by them signified vnto yow; ffor which, &c.—Grenwitch, 6 May 1634.

TO THE EXCHEQUER.

Right, &c.—Vnderstanding sufficientlie the habilite is and affection to our service of Johne, bischop of Ross, and the better to enable him thervnto heirefter, being willing to promove him to be ane of the Commissioners of our Exchequer, Our pleasur is, and we doe heirby will and requyre yow, to receave him vpon that Commission as ane of your number, and that yow caus administer vnto him the oath accustomed in the lyk caices; ffor which, &c.—Grenwitch, 6 May 1634.

TO THE EXCHEQUER.

Right, &c.—Wheras are offer hath bene made vnto ws by our right, &c. the Erle of Abereorne that he will frielie quyt all the superiorite and few dewte of the great vassalls of his Abbacie of Paisley, who are knowen to be worth of yeirlie rent above 500 merks Scotts money, and that without any composition at all to be gevin by ws for the same, where by our decree it is appointed that payment be made by ws in all cases of the lyk nature, proyded that he may be suffered to retene his small vassalls in the former estate who is rents doe not exceid the yeirlie value offering; lykwayes to resigne vnto ws all the interest he lath in a verie antient regalitie of the said Abbacie, in so far as doeth concerne these vassalls of the better sort, Reserveing his right of that regalitie over the saids small vassalls: The lyk proposition not being as yit made by any other then himselff, doeth seme so fair vnto ws that we intend to accept therof, bot doeth refer to give ordour for dispatch of the same till we have sene some further progres made concerneing erections: Bot in the meane tyme, leist the passing of any new signature of these small vassalls whom he demands to reserve might whollie dissapoynt this our purpois, Our pleasur is, that no signature of this nature of any of the said Erle his small vassalls be exped in Exchequer.—Grenewich, 6 May 1634.

To the Session.

Right, &c.—Efter receipt of your letter from the President of the Session, haveing had conference with him about that poynt of our prerogative which was conceaved to have been clamed befor yow, we did by our letters directed with him signifie how we wer not displeased with your proceidings therin; and now we have thoght it fitt to signifie vnto yow that as we ar confident that if at any tyme our prerogative royall shalbe alledged befor [yow] by any of our officeris of state, that yow will consult we befoir yow proceid any further in that caus, so be assured we shall tak care that none shall presume to prostitute it in a caus that shall not necessarlie requyre the same: The diligent aduerting heirvnto we recommend vnto yow, and we will that thir presentis be registrat in your books of sederunt.—Grenwitch, 8 May 1634.

TO THE CHANCELLOUR, MORTOUN, TRAQUAIR, SIR JOHN HAY, SIR TH. HOPE.

Right, &c.—Though we be crediblic informed of our vndoubtit right to the Yle of the Lewes, and that ther wilbe a great many of the few dewteis bygane payable vnto ws for the same resting vnpayed, wherby we have great advantage in Law and otherwayes aganst our right, &c. the Erle of Seafort, who for the present hath the possession thair of; yit being willing to schaw him favour heirin, we ar heirby graciouslie pleased to content our selffis with such a proportion of the said Yle and other places fitting therin, as by yow shalbe fund necessarie and convenient for the association of the fisching of Great Britane and Irland, provyded alwayes that the said Erle tak a new right of ws of the rest of that yle for payment of the old few dewtie: To which purpois we ar heirby pleased that yow so proceid for ordoreing and setling of that bussines as may best conduce to the good of our service, ffor which these presents shalbe your sufficient warrant.—Grenwitch, 8 May 1634.

TO THE ADVOCAT.

Trustic, &c.—We have imparted our pleasur to the Erle Traquair, our Thesaurer deput, and Sir Johne Hay, our Clerk Register, tuitching ane offer made to ws by the E. Roxbrugh concerning the Abacic of Kelso, whervpoun a bargane being condescended vpon betwixt ws and him, Our pleasur is, that yow particularlie informe your selff from them of the conditions mutuallie to be performed by ws and him, and that accordinglie yow draw vp such writts at the sight of his advocat as shall secure both ws and him of what by the said bargane is intended to be past and signed by ws both respectivelie: And for your see doeing, &c.—Grenewitch, 8 May 1634.

WARRANT.

Wheras by ane Act made in the 22 parliament of our late royall father, holdin in Junij 1617, a publict register is ordeaned wherin all reversions, seasines, and others writts therin specifeit should be registrat within 60 dayes efter the dait of these writts, vnder the restrictions mentionat in the said Act, and that these registers should belong to the Clerk of Register and his deputts for the tyme, to be annexat and incorporat to and with his office as a propper part and pendicle thairof, with power to appoint such deputeis for ther lyffis or otherwayes as he should think expedient to be resident at the places, and to the effect specific in that act, they being alwayes of good fame, literature, conversation, appointing the Registeris to be marked by him or his saids deputeis, with a note of the particular number of ther leiflis as in that act at more lenth is mentionat; Bot we being informed that some of the keipers of these registeris have be negligence or otherwayes omitted to caus the Clerk of Register for the tyme or his deputts mark these registers according to the said act, whairvoon great prejudice may aryse to our subjects, Our pleasur is, and we doe heirby will and command yow, to call befor yow the whole keipers of these registeris, and to tak spetiall notice of ther dewteis in dischargeing of ther saidis offices, and to sie abuses therin rectifeid for the ease and securitie of our subjects; And if any of them have omitted to mark the saidis registeris which you trewlie find to be trewlie writtin and filled, knowing the keiperis thairof to be reputed honest men, that yow mark, or caus your deputeis appoynted to that effect to mark them: And therafter we doe heirby ordeane the same to be as sufficient to all our subjects interested as if the same had been marked befor the wryting and filling, wheranent these presents shalbe a sufficient warrant.—Grenewitch, 8 May 1634.

To Sir Jon Hay of Baro, knt, Clerk Register.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—Wheras by our warrant we have requyred our Clerk Register to call befor him the whole keipers of these Registers in which by act of Parliament of our late royall father, all reversions, seasings, and others mentionat in that act ar appointed to be registrat, and to tak notice of ther dewteis in discharge of ther saidis offices, and particularlie to mark such of ther registeris as have by ther neglect or ignorance bene omitted to be marked befor the wryting and filling thairof, to the intent our subjects interested may not suffer by the putting of that act in tyme by executioun: Our pleasur is, and we doe heirby requyre yow, to ratific and approve our said warrant by Act of Counsell, and to enact that the marking of the saids buiks (if any be vnmarked) by the said Clerk Register present, or his deputts, shalbe as sufficient to all our subjects interested as if the same had bene marked befor the filling and wryting thairof; for which these presents shalbe to yow sufficient warrant.—Grenewitch, 8 May 1634.

These ratifie to the Erle of Roxburgh his aires a chartour of the baronic of Brughtoun, comprehending the landis, burgh of Regalitie, tounes, mylnes, offices, priviledge of Regalitie, superioriteis, and others in the signatur at lenth specifeit, reserveing to your Matie and successours the accustomed rights and securiteis: Ordeaneing this confirmation to be as sufficient as if the infeftment vpon the chartour wer insert heirin, and speciallie reserved in the 14 act of the late parliament, and that the exception of that baronic mentionat in the 13 act of the said Parliament shalbe as valide dureing the not redemption as if the said exception had bene resumed in the 14 act.—Grenewitch, the 7 of May 1634.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—Wheras the inclosed informatioun hath bene exhibited to ws by some persones from Zetland in the names and behalff of sindrie the Inhabitants of these Yles, wherby ar represented diverse grevancis and abuses, both in the church and government in these parts, for remedie quherof they have bene humble sutters to ws, that some judicious and discreit persone might be directed thither for tryeing the estate therof, that vpon exact search and knowledge had therin the same might be rectified for the good of our service and of our subjects ther in such maner as shall be thoght fitt for ther releiff, and agricable to our lawis: Our pleasur is, that haveing carefullie perused and considered the informatioun, and if yow shall find that hiertofoir it hath bene fund necessarie, or that now, vpon the considerations therin, or any of them, yow shall find it expedient to send to this purpose a commissioner at this tyme, yow sufficientlie authorise in our name, by commission or otherwayes as yow shall think fitt, our trustie and weilbelovit servand Sir Robert Gordoun, knyt, baronet, vice-chalmerlane of Scotland, whom we have made choyse of to that purpois, and for such tyme as yow shall think fitt, with such instruction as yow shall find necessarie, requisit for tryeing and executeing such things as the informatioun thought fitt by yow to be tryed and performed, and with what other instructions yow shall think expedient for further rectifieing of these abuses and enabling of him to that service; and to that purpois that yow particularlie authorize him to call befor him whatsoever persones, committers of these abuses, or accessorie thervnto, to example them upon oath or witnesses, to censure, imprisone, and punisch them in such maner as yow shall think fitt to prescryve; and wher yow sall find the caus fitt to be decydit befor your selffis, or to impart to we that yow authorize him to try and mak report accordinglie, and to proceed in all other things that may tend to the publict good and increase of our revenews, and that yow tak ane accompt of him of his proceedings at his returne: All which we speciallie doe recommend vnto your care, &c.: We bid, &c.-Grenwich, 7 May 1634.

TO THE ADVOCAT.

Trustic, &c.—Wheras we find the estate of the church is much damnifeid by the dilapidation of the patronages of the churches antientlic appertencing to the Archbischoppis and bischoppis of that our kingdome, and our intention is to restore them to all that formerlie did belong vnto them; these ar therfor to will and requyre yow that, as yow shalbe particularlie informed by them, yow intend process against the deteyners of these patronages, and insist therin with all diligence till the finall decision, omitting nothing which may bring our princelie purpois to the desyred ends, and the church what did formerlie pertene vnto it, as yow will tender our service, and answer to the contrarie,—Grenwitch, 13 May 1634.

TO THE COMMISSIONERS FOR TYTHIS.

Right, &c.—Wheras by our Commission to yow we have reserved power in ourselffis to change such persones vpon that Commission as we should think fitt; being now crediblic informed that the reverend father in God the bischop of Dunkeld is not able, in respect of his infirmitic and aige, to attend further vpon our service in that commission, It is therfor our pleasur, and we doe heirby will and requyer yow, to admitt in his place, in such maner as is requisit, the right reverend, &c. Thomas, bischop of Brechin, of whois abilitic and affection to our service we ar confident; for which these presents shalbe your warrant.—Grenwitch, 13 May 1634.

TO THE COMMISSIONERS FOR TYTHIS.

Right, &c.—Wheras ther was presented vnto ws in Parliament be the Lord Torphechin, and by ws remitted to your consideration: These ar to will and require to tak tryell thair of without delay, and that yow report vnto ws your opinions therin befoir yow give any decrie vpon the same; which recommending, &c.—Grenwitch, 13 May 1634.

TO THE ADVOCAT.

Trustie, &c.—Wheras we have formerlie signified our pleasur vnto yow for delyverie vnto our trustie Sir John Hay, our Clerk Register, of all submissions of the Lordis of Erectioun and others our subjects concerning Tythis which ar in your custodie, that the same may be putt vp in the chartour-hous in our Castell of Edinburgh, to remane amongst the recordis thairof: These ar therfor to will and requyre yow that vpon sight heirof ye doe not faill to delyver all these submissions to our said officer, to the effect forsaid; ffor the which, &c.—Grenwitch, 13 May 1634.

TO THE ADVOCAT.

Trustic, &c.—Wheras we have at lenth imparted our pleasur vnto our right, &c. the Erle of Traquair, our Thesaurer deput, and Sir Johne Hay, our Clerk Register, tuitching the excambing of the Erle of his house at Halyrudhous, for the vse of the bischop of Edr, with the hous belonging to the said bischop which is ther, and which we have appoynted for the vse of the deane of our Chapell royall and his successours; provyded that in caice the said bischop shall at any tyme heirefter be provyded to the deanne of our Chapell royall, then the said hous to be for any bischop to whome we shall think fitt to lend the same dureing that tyme, and no further; and we have lykwyse condescended with our said Thesaurer deputic for his hous neir that abbay, with yards and parcell of land adjoyneing therto, for the vse of the principall Minister of the Abay Church of Halyrudhous, and his successours: To which purpois it is our pleasur that yow receave intention heirin from our said officers, and accordinglic draw vp such writts and securities as to that purpois yow shall find to be necessarie and legall; ffor which these presents, &c.—Whythall, 13 May 1634.

TO THE COMMISSIONERS FOR TYTHIS.

Right, &c.—Wheras by your letter to we yow ar desyreous to have our pleasur signified if (wher tythis ar alreadic valued) the common benefite granted by we to our subjects in buying ther owin tythis from taksmen of bischops or beneficed persones; we ar heirby pleased to declair that the saidis heretours shall have the benefite of buying ther saidis tythis, commoun with others our subjects, without prejudice to the bischop or beneficed persone to enjoy the saids tythes as they have bene accustomed, and according to our pleasur declaired by our acts of Parliament; and that if the said bischop or beneficed persone (to whome we will have granted the first prerogative in this place) will buy the same to the vse of the church, that he be preferred to any other; bot in caice he doe refuis the same, that then the heretours shall have the said commoun benefite, as aforsaid, without any reservation; which course will be observed in all tythis, alsweill valued as to be valued, of taksmen of all tythis of beneficed persones; as also, anent heretours and taksmen of the tythis of laik patronages, it is our pleasur and will that the heretours may buy the taks, and that yow proceid accordinglic in the valuation theref to that effect and conforme to your commission, without prejudice to the laik patronages or Church efter the expyreing of these takis to enjoy the benefite of our Acts of Parliament made theranent; wherin, approveing of your care to our service, and willing yow to proceid therin with as much diligence as may be, We, &c.—Grenwitch, 13 May 1634.

TO THE SESSION.

Right, &c.—Wheras we wer pleased to bestow vpon Mr Wm Drummond of Hauthornden the few of the Newtoun of Rires, falling at our gift by diminution of the rentall with the mariage of William Scott, eldest lawfull sone of vmquhill Sir William Scott of Elie, to whome these landis did formerlie belong, tuitching which the said Mr Wm hath long since (as we ar informed) intended action of Law befor yow: In respect our granting thereof was both vpon considerations of his good service and that it doeth neirlie concerne ws to prevent that we be not defrauded of what our vassalls ar bound to pay vnto ws by the infettments, leist both in this particular and by the consequent it will prejudge ws and our Croun herefter, we ar pleased seriouslie to recommend vnto yow to administer speedie justice in that action, without unnecessarie protracting of tyme, which, as we ar informed, is occasioned by the Advocatts of the partie who standeth out aganst our right, wherin yow shall doe ws acceptable service.—Grenwitch, 13 May 1634.

To the Archbischop of ST Androis.

Right reverend father in God, &c.—Wheras we have recommended the Election of the reverend fathers the bischop of Ed^r and Brechin, as by our letters to that purpois ye will perceave, Our pleasur is, that furthwith vpon the electioun yow proceid to ther consecratioun in setling of them in ther severall bischopriks efter the eustome and solemnitie requisit in such caces, and as yow shall think further necessarie to this purpois, which we will tak as acceptable service done vnto ws.—Grenwitch, 13 May 1634.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—Wheras we wer pleased not long since that yow should repair to our chappell at Halyrudhous for receaveing the holic communion ther, vpon everice Sonday immediatlice ensueing the down sitting of the session in the winter and sommer sessions yeirlie, bot haveing now, vpon good considerations knowen vnto ws, resolved to alter the same, we ar heirby pleased to declair that it is our speciall will and pleasur that yow receave the same yeirlie vpoun the first Sondayes of July and December, which we will have to be inviolablic keiped, and to that purpois that yow not onlie proceid to encourage all others by your good and hartie exemple, bot wher occasion shall offer, and so far as yow can lawfullie and convenientlie doe, that yow proceid with authoritie for sieing this our royall and pious intention dewlie performed, which we will tak as good and faythfull service done vnto ws; so willing yow to caus insert these letters in your books of Counsell, &c.—Grenwitch, 13 May 1634.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—Wheras it hath bene humblic represented vnto ws in behalff of the Clergie of that our kingdome the great hurt arysing to the estate and patrimonic of the church by wanting of publict registeris, wherin all evidents and writts disponed by beneficed persones ought to be registrat, and consequentlic made knowen to such as affect the standing therof, To which purpois we have thoght necessarie to establisch such publict registers, and incorporat them with the office of our Clerk of Register, and with persones fittest and readiest to tak ane accompt of that charge, whervpon we have granted a signature to our present Clerk of Register; And therfor it is our pleasur that yow mak ane act of Counsall thervpon, causeing it to be exped under our great seall, with all diligence, and that yow cause publication to be made heirof to all our leidges as it effeires; ffor doeing, &c.—Grenvitch, 13 May 1634.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—Wheras we did wryt formerlie vnto yow for establisching of Justiees of Peace throughout the whole schyres of that kingdome, conforme to the lawdable custome of these our other realmes, bot speciallie conforme to diverse acts of Parliament made theranent, which as we ar informed is not yit fullie done: These ar therfor to will and requyr yow to proceed therin with all expedition, according to our former warrants to that purpois; which recommending, &c.—Grenwitch, the 13 of May 1634.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—Wheras the estaits of our late Parliament gave commission for surveigheing the acts theref, and other constitutions of that our kingdome fitt to have the force of Law, to certane selected persones of each esteat who did accept theref vpon them; These are therefor to will and requyre yow to eaus them convene and prosecute the said commission according to the tenour theref, as they wilbe answerable vnto ws.—Grenwitch, 13 May 1634.

TO THE THESAURER AND DEPUTIE THESAURER.

Right, &c.—Wheras we have pleased to tak into our princelie consideration the esteat of our royall frie burghs at this tyme, and speciallie of our citie of Edinburgh, who for many good respects to our service and otherwayes haveing vndergone a great charge and trouble of late; these ar therfor to will and requyre yow to forbear to putt in executioun aganst them the acts made tuitching the transporting of moneyis till our further pleasur be signified, ffor the which these presents, &c.—Grenvitch, 13 May 1634.

TO THE SESSION.

Right, &c.—Wheras we wer formerlie pleased to requyre the Lordis of our privic Counsell to give ordour by publict proclamation, or vther ways as they shall think fitt, that they and yow of our Colledge of Justice, and members therof, should communicat twyse everie yeir in our Chappell of Halyrudhous, bot now, being willing for good considerations that the communion be oftener celebrated ther, and to nominat such tymes as we have thoght good for that purpois, It is our pleasur that everie first Sonday of the monethis of July and December yeirlie yow prepare and adress your selffis, with our Advocatts, clerkis, writters, and all where members of that Judicatorie, to whom yow shall caus intimat this our pleasur, to our said chappell, to participat of that holie sacrament, that others by your exemple may learne to observe the laudable ordour in that caice prescryved; whairin faill not, as yow tender our princelic respect and pleasur, and as yow will answer to the contrarie, for we will not suffer yow, who should preceid others by your good exemple to be leaders of other subjects, to contemne and dissobey the ordours of the Church: So requyreing yow to cause these our letters to be registrat in your books of Sederunt.—Grenwitch, 13 May 1634.

TO THE CHANCELLOUR.

Right, &c.—Wheras we wer informed that ther was a Lybell exhibited befor our Colledge of Justice by M^r Robert Craig, Advocat, against our trustie, &c. Sir Thomas Hope, our Advocat, which was taken vp by yow, and whairof yow have refuised to give our said servand the copie or sight therof; These are to will and requyre yow to delyver vnto him ane authentik copie of the same, that, being therwith advysed, and accordinglie as he shall find himselff therby wronged, he may have recourse to Justice against the said M^r Robert, for vindicating himselff from any injust imputation or scandell; for which, &c.—Grenwitch, 13 May 1634.

To the New Colledge of ST Androis.

Trustie, &c.—Wheras we have sene some acts and statuts made by yow tuitching these students, who ar to be promoved vnto degrees, and ar informed that yow have concluded to keip act and commencement yeirlie for supplie of the want of graduats, wherin we doe verie much approve of your proceiding is, and ar graciouslie pleased that yow continew as yow have begun; with reservation also of power vnto ws to add to these acts and reforme them in such maner and at what time we in our princelie judgment shall think fitt, requyreing yow to send vnto ws yeirlie ane note or list of the names of all the graduats that shallappin to be made heirefter in your Vniversiteis, that we may tak such notice of them as we in our princelie judgment shall think fitt: All which we recommend vnto your special care, as purposes which we doe verie much respect.—Dat. vt supra.

TO THE BISCHOP OF ABERDENE.

Reverend, &c.—We have vpon occasion of our late being in Scotland observed some thingis which we think to putt in better ordour, which we shall doe as we find caus, bot as we have writtin to the right reverend, &c. the archbischop of S^t Androis, no one thing appeareth vnto ws more necessarie then the weill setling of our vniversiteis, both for the service of God, and good education of youth ther: Now, as we were then gevin to vnderstand, the whole companie of Vniversiteis, both in the old and new tounes, alsweill the Doctours and Governours of colleges as the younger men, vse to goe to the paroche churches to service and sermons, and ther sitt promiscuouslie with the rest of the auditorie, which losseth much of the honour and dignitic of the Vniversiteis, being quyt contrarie to the course held in other weill governed places of the lyk nature, and is in diverse respects verie inconvenient: And wheras to this purpois, by our letters to provest and bailleis of both tounes, we have willed and requyred them to provyde fitt and convenient places within the queyeris of the severall churches of these tounes as ar most eminent, and whither the saids doctours and others doe ordinarlie repair for hearing of divyne service: Our speciall pleasur is, that alsweill these students of these vniversiteis as the governours, doctours, and others who live therin shall at all times, everie Sondey and holieday (that that church observes), repair thither at the hours both of morning and evening prayer and sermones, and that togidder and in decent maner, with ther gounes, according to ther severall degrees in schooles respectivelie, and that they doe use the said habite of gownes according to ther degrees in schooles, universite is, and streits, and that yow give we are accompt by letter when this course is begun, and efterward once a yeir at leist how it doeth continew: Which recommending, &c.—Grenwitch, 13 May 1634.

TO THE BISCHOP OF MURRAY.

Reverend father in God, &c.—Wheras we wer pleased, out of a respect of the age and qualitie of the Marqueis of Huntlie his Lady, to recommend to yow to have a tender hand over them for matters of ther religion, being then confident that they would otherwayes cause the familie, and such as doe depend vpon them, keip and observe the ordours of the Church, and conforme themselflis to the religion and good ordour presentlie professed, and as is agricable to our Lawes ther, without geving any offence or scandell thervnto: Bot being informed that our princelie elemencie and tender care over the said Marqueis and his Lady ar made a pretext by ther servants, followers, and such as schelter themselflis vnder them, to contemme these ordours, we ar heirby pleased to declair, and our speciall pleasur is, that yow proceid aganst ther saidis servandis and dependers according to our Lawes for reduceing them to conformitic, wherin we will yow to vse all convenient diligence that may be; and haveing writtin to the said Marqueis that, by your speciall advyse, a pedagogue be choysen for breeding such of the Lord Gordoun his children as ar with him in letters and grounds of the professed religion, we are pleased that yow sie the same accordinglie done: All which recommending vnto your care, &c.—Grenwitch, 13 May 1634.

TO THE BISCHOP OF EDINBURGH.

Reverend father in God, &c.—Haveing requyred our Citic of Edinburgh to consent to the removeing of Mr Alex Thomesone, second minister at St Geill's, to be the Principall at the Colledge Church of that our citic, we are heirby pleased to requyre yow to sie the said transplantatioun speedelie and ordourlie done, according to the custome in the lyk caices, and as yow shall think requisite to that purpois, which we will tak as acceptable service done ruto ws.—Grenewich, 13 May 1634.

TO THE EXCHEQUER.

Right, &c.—Wheras the Resignatiouns made by the Inheritours of ward Lands in favours of the children being Minors, and passing signatours therefore, ar verie prejudiciall vnto ws, by defranding of ws of these casualiteis due to our Croun: These ar therfor to will and requyre yow to accept of no such resignatiouns in tyme comeing, nor pass any signatures of the same, without our speciall warrant vnder our hand.—Grenwitch, 13 May 1634.

TO THE ARCHBISCHOP OF ST ANDROIS.

Right, &c.—Wheras we have gevin speciall directioun to our trustie Sir John Hay of Baro, kny^t, our Clerk Register, to impart diverse particulars vnto yow tuitching the advancement of our service: To which purpois it being requisite that the bischops of that our kingdome be present, to whome we have writtin tuitching the same, It is our pleasur, efter yow have conferred with our said Officer and perused the copie of ther letter, that yow warne them to meitt vpon the 3 of July, at S^t Androis or Edinburgh, as yow by his advyse shall think fitt, and efter the delyverice of ther letter, and peruseing thairof, yow impart vnto them our further pleasur as shalbe communicated vnto yow by our said Officer; which recommending, &c.—Grenwitch, 13 May 1633.

TO THE BISCHOP OF GALLOWAY.

Reverend, &c.—Wheras by your aige and infirmitie, wherwith it hath pleased God to visite yow, our service doeth much suffer in your dyocie, and ministers ther left to ther owin libertie, wherin we have signified our pleasur to the right reverend, &c. the Archbischop of Glasgow: Sieing that we have therby intended is, with respect to yow and in such caices, usuall in the church, we expect that yow will humbly submitt yourselff to our directioun, and conforme yourselff to the said Archbischop his ordour, and assist him of whome he shall mak choyse to be your coadjutor with your best advyse in all things tending to the good of the churche, whairof faill not.—Grenwitch, 13 May 1634.

TO THE ARCHBISCHOP OF GLASGOW.

Right, &c.—We, taking into our princelie consideration the estate of the dyocic of Galloway, and how these many yeres bypast, by the seiknes, aige, blindnes, and weaknes of the father in God Andro, bischop thairof, it hath bene destitute of that comfort and help which is necessarie for good ordour within the same; and therfor, being willing to prevent disordours which may creip therin, we think fitt that a coadjutor be joyned to him for the better governeing of the affaires of that dyocic in the spirituall and temporall estate thairof: To which purpois, we being sufficientlic informed of the qualification of Mr Henrie Pollok, minister of the Colledge kirk of Edinburgh, and of his abilitie to serve in the churche, whereof we ar willing to mak tryell, and of his forwardnes therin, doe therfor recommend him vnto yow to be choysen coadjutor to the said bischop; willing yow to call the deane and chaptour of that bischoprik togidder, and with ther consent to elect and choyse the said Mr Henrie Pollok to be the coadjutour to the said bischop within the said dyocie, geving him power to exercise all spirituall jurisdiction in the absence of the said bischop, enjoyncing him to doe nothing in temporall things without the consent of the said Mr Henrie; ffor which these presents, &c —Grenwitch, 13 May 1634.

TO THE ARCHBISCHOP OF GLASGOW.

Right, &c.-We have, vpon occasion of our late being in Scotland, observed some thingis which we think fitt to putt in better ordour, which we shall doe as we find eaus; bot as we have have writtin to the right, &c. the Archbischop of St Androis no one thing appeareth to we more necessaric then the weill setling of our Vniversiteis, both for the service of God and good education of youth ther, now, as we wer then gevin to vinderstand, the whole companies of that viniversitie, alsweill the doctours and governours of the Colledge as the younger men, vse to goe to the church to service and sermon, and ther sitt promiseuouslie with the rest of the auditorie, which losses much of the honour and dignitie of the Vniversitie, being quyt contrarie to the course held in other weill governed places of the lyk nature, and is in others diverse respects verie [in]convenient, and wheras to this purpois, by our letter to the provest and bailleis of that citie, we have willed and required them to provide fitt and convenient places within the Cathedrall church of that eitie for hearing of divyne service: Our speciall pleasur is, that alswell the students of that vniversitie, as the governours, doctours, and others who live therin, shall at all tymes, everie Sonday and holiday that that church observes, repair thither at the hours both of morning and eveneing prayer and sermones, and that togidder and in decent maner with ther gownes, according to ther severall degreis in schooles respective, and that they doe vse the said habite of gounes according to ther degreis in the scooles, vniversiteis, and streits, and that yow give we are accompt by letter when this course is begun, and efterwards once a yeir at least how it doeth continew: Which recommending to your speciall care, we bid, &c.—Grenewitche, the 13 May 1634.

TO THE EXCHEQUER.

Right, &c .- Wheras we have thoght fitt for the good of our service that the rolls of all former extents, alsweill of the spiritualitie as temporalitie, granted to ws and our predicessours befor this our last Parliament, in whois handis soever they be delyvered to our Clerk of Register, to be keipit amongst other our recordis: Our pleasur is, that furthwith yow call befor yow the Clerk of our last Extent, and all others have are of the rolls of all former extents, and caus delyver the same to our said Clerk of Register, to be keipit by him and his successours in that charge amongst our recordis; and becaus the first terme of the ordinarie extent, granted to ws in our late Parliament, begineth at Mertimes nixt, and that it is fitt the rolls be renewed, and if any other errour or defect be in the samyne it be amended, It is therfor our will and pleasur that yow tak the same to your consideratioun, and caus review the whole rolls of the pound Land of the severall schirrefdomes, stewartreis, and bailliareis, and all others spirituall landis of that our kingdome, and mak ane perfyte inventar of the same, subscryved with your hand, which yow sall delyver to our said officer to be keipit amongst our recordis, whairof he shall delyver ane authentik extract vnder his hand and subscription to the Clerk of Extents, whilk shalbe a sufficient warrant to him for directing the charges theranent; and it is our further pleasur in all tyme cuming the Clerk of Extents shall delyver to our Clerk of Register the authentik coppie of the rolls of spiritualitie, and that therepon yow mak ane act; Which recommending to your care as yow tender our service, we bid, &c.—Daitit Grenwich, 13 May 1634.

To the bischop of Ross.

Right, &c.—Wheras we ar informed that yow have entred in agriement with the Lord of Innesse tuitching the patronages of nyntene churches within your bischoprik which ar in his possessioun, and that by the advyse of the right reverend in God, &c. Archbischop of S^t Androis and hischop of Murray, yow have agreit with him for restoreing sextene theref to your bischoprik, he being secured of the remanent which ly in his owin Landis, wherin we doe verie much approve of your care and panes in advanceing the estate of that bischoprik, willing yow to continew as yow have begun, as from tyme to tyme yow shall find the occasion, and be confident that we will not be wanting or vnmyndfull of your good service heirin, bot will from tyme to tyme contribute to that purpois in what we can convenientlie and lawfullie doe: So we bid, &c.—Grenwitch, 13 May 1634.

TO THE MARQUEIS OF HUNTLIE.

Right, &c.—Wheras we have alwayes out of a tender respect to yow and your Lady bene cairfull that yow might not be troubled for your religion, in so far as might concerne yourselffis, by which our princelic elemencic cheiffic extended toward yow, we expected that yow would have bene the more carefull that none of your familie or under your command would have gevin any offence or contempt to the ordours of the church and religion professed therin, which, as we ar informed, hath bene committed of late by some of your houshold or followers, to which purpois we have writtin to the reverend father the B. of Murray to tak such a course aganst them being fund guiltie heirin as shalbe agricable to our said Lawis, and we [ar] heirby pleased to requyre yow to concurre with him to that purpois aganst such of your servandis or dependers as have offended in this kynd, that no occasioun heirefter be gevin vnto ws to suspect that our princelic elemencic and tender respect towards yow be a meanes to schelter others aganst our lawes: And in the meane tyme our further pleasur is, that by the advyse of the said bischope such of the children of our right, &c. the Lord Gordon your sone, as ar with yow, be carefullie bred in the professed religion, and to that purpois that by the speciall advyse of the said bischop a pedagogue be choysen for attending and breeding of them in letters and ground is in the said religion: Which speciallie recommending to your care, we bid, &c.—Grenewitch, 13 May 1634.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—Vnderstanding perfytelie the sufficiencie and abilitie of the reverend father in God, the bischop of Edinburgh, and his affection to our service, we ar heirby pleased, for his further encouragment and enabling thereto, to promove him to be ane of our privie counsell of that kingdome: Therfoir it is our pleasur, and we doe heirby will and requyre yow, to receave him as ane of your number vpon our said counsell, and that yow tak his oath as is accustomed in the lyk caices; for which these presents shalbe your sufficient warrand.—Grenwitch, 13 May 1634.

TO THE TOUN OF EDINBURGH.

Trustie, &c.—Wheras we have writtin to the reverend father, the bischop of Edinburgh, that it is our pleasur that alsweill the doctours and governours of the Colledge of that citie as the younger men and students therof, shall repair to the cathedrall church of the same to hear divyne service, without sitting promiscuouslie with the rest of auditorie, to which purpois it being necessarie that a place wher they may sitt togidder in a decent maner be provydit, we ar heirby pleased to requyre yow to setle such a fitt and commodious place within the said cathedrall church as yow to that effect, and by the bischopes advyse, shall find to be most decent and commodious, wherin our royall intention being for establishing of good and decent ordours amongst them, it cannot bot redound to the good and credite of the citie, wherof we will alwayes have a speciall care, when occasion shall offer, to doe yow good: We bid, &c.—Grenwitch, 13 May 1634.

TO THE TOUN OF EDINBURGH.

Trustie, &c.—Wheras the deanrie of Edinburgh is a place of dignitie within the Church, to which a speciall care belongeth of all things tending to the good government of your churches within that citie, and thairfoir ought to have a compitent mantenance, conforme to the eminencie and charge thairof, and with a ludging accordinglie: These ar therfor to will and requyre yow to have a speciall care both of the ane and the vther, as yow will doe acceptable service.—Grenwitch, 13 May 1634.

TO THE TOUN OF EDINBURGH.

Trustie, &c.—Wheras vpon verie good considerations of the habilitie and sufficiencie of our trusty and weilbelovit Mr James Hannay, minister at Halyrudhous, we have recommended to be deane of that our citie of Edinburgh, wherin our zeall and princelie care being for the service of God and for provydeing of yow with qualifeid ministeris, we have heirby thoght fitt to recommend to yow in spetiall manner that yow present him to the reverend father in God the bischop of Edinburgh, to be elected to the place of principall minister at S^t Geillis, vaiking by the removeing and promotion of Mr Thomas Sydserff to the bischoprik of Brechin; which we will tak as acceptable service done vnto ws.—Grenvitch, 13 May 1634.

TO THE TOUN OF EDINBURGH.

Trustie, &c.—Wheras we have often recommended vnto yow the setling of your ministers with compitent stipends able to manteane them according to ther charge, haveing contribute to yow to effectuat your desyres to this purpois; and now, haveing appounted Commissioners to meitt with yow to this end, These ar to will and requyre yow with all convenient diligence to meitt with our saidis commissioners, and be ane vniforme consent sett down the same and secure them and ther successours of what shalbe mutuallie agried vpoun, as yow tender our service and will expect our favour in what yow will have we to contribute to your good; wherin expecting your conformitie, we bid, &c.—Grenvitch, the 13 of May 1634.

TO THE BISCHOP OF DUMBLANE.

Reverend, &c.—Wheras by our letter to yow we signified our pleasur that yow should prepare for administratioun of the communioun in our chappell at Halyrudhous to our Counsell, Colledge of Justice, and others therin expressed, everic Sonday immediatlic ensueing the doun-sitting of the session in the winter and sommer seasones, but now finding that these dayes ar not so fitt, in respect that it may fall out that many of that number be absent, and thairfor have thoght fitt to alter the same, and ar heirby pleased more particularlic to express vnto yow that it is our pleasur that yow prepare and administer the communion yeirlic vpon the first Sonday of the monethis of July and December, which we will have inviolablic to be keiped; and to that purpois that yow give them dewlic and tymelic adverteisment, if yow shall find it neidfull, and that by all other meanes to advance our pious and princelic intention heirin, in so far as yow can possiblic doe: We bid, &c.—Grenwitch, 13 May 1634.

COMMISSION.

Wheras, out of our princelic zeall, we have alwayes had a speciall care that the churches of that our kingdome, and speciallie that of our cheiff citie of Edinburgh, be provydit with able and sufficient ministers, so being lykwayes carefull that they be provydit with compitent meanes fitt for ther charge in so eminent a place of that our kingdome, we have thoght fitt, and doe heirby authorize the persones, and in maner vnderscryved, with power to convene at such dayes and places as they shall think necessarie, and ther, by advyse and consent of the provest and bailleis of that citie, to consider of ther present stipends and mantinence, and therefter to modifie unto them what further meanes they shall find to be fitt and necessarie, whervpon if they do not mutuallie condescend, let we be certified with all diligence of the differences vnder ther handis for which these our letters shalls sufficient warrant, &c.—Grenwitch, 13 May 1634.

Names of the Commissioners.

Johne, Archbischop St Androis.

E. Traquair.

B. Edinburgh.

B. Rosse.

Sir Johne Hay; or to aney thrie of them.

TO THE COLLEDGE OF ST ANBROIS.

Trustie and weilbelovit—Wheras we ar informed that, by the procurement and information of ane Doctour Seaton, yow have sent the degree of Doctorat to one Mr Bostock, resideing in this our kingdome of England, who was not present; which maner of promotion, as it is ill by the exemple and disgracefull, especiallie to that part from whence it was conferred, so it tendeth to our disparagement to all these who have or shall receave heirefter any such degree ther, without a remedie fit to purge such a fault be speedelie vsed: Our pleasur therfor is, that yow proceid both aganst the said Bostock and the said Doctour Scaton, by degraduating of them in such maner as hath bene accustomed in the lyk caices, or as yow shall find necessarie to that purpois, making such intimation therof as yow shall find to be fitt and convenient, causeing ane act to be made that no such maner of promotion be made heirefter, as yow will tender our royall pleasur: We bid, &c.—Grenwitch, 13 May 1634.

TO THE BISCHOP OF EDINBURGH.

Reverend, &c.—Wheras we have gevin ordour to our Citie of Edinburgh for huilding of two churches ther, and decoreing S^t Geill's, by dimolisching of the wester wall and the walls of the yles therof, the goldsmyth chopes and song schooll, with the walls of the vesteric, wher it is disjoyned from the church, and restoreing the vesterie thervnto, and otherwayes repairing and decoreing therof as is fift for such a church: These ar to will and and command yow to tak notice heirof and sie them diligentile proceid in that work, wherin we have willed our trustic and weilbelovit counsellour Sir John Hay of Baro, knyt, our Clerk Register, to assist yow; which recommending vnto your care, we bid, &c.—Grenwitch, 13 May 1634.

Wheras we have at sindrie tymes signified our royall intention and pleasur that a dew consideratioun might be had of such lands and rents to have bene antientlie doted to the vsc of our Chapell Royall, and for establishing theref vpon the same: To which purpois we have thoght it necessarie, for the more speedie furthering of this our royall purpois, to select such persones, and in maner vnder scryved, to convene at such dayes and places as they shall think fitt to that purpois, with power to tak exact tryell of all these rents which by any maner of way have belonged and doe belong to the said Chapell, how they have bene taken away or keiped bak from the intendit vse, by whom they ar deteyned, and vpon what grounds and how they may be recovered or reduced to the first foundation, and therefter to certific ws with all diligence of their proceidings beirin, and with ther opinions joyntlie tuitching the same; ffor doeing whairof, &c.—Grenwitch, 13 May 1634.

To the right reverend father in God The Archbischop of S^t Androis, Primat and metropolitane of all Scotland, The Erles of Morton and Traquair, our Thesaurers, Principall and deputie, The Bischops of Edinburgh, Rosse, and Dumblane, Sir Johne Hay, Sir Thomas Hope, or any fyve of them.

TO THE CITIE OF ST ANDROIS.

Trustic, &c.—Wheras we intend to have the paroch church of that citie, being the metropolitane of that our kingdome, ordered in such decent and conspicuous maner as we have alreadic caused begin at St Geill's Church, in our citie of Edinburgh, to the end the fabrik may, according to the first lawdable intention of the founder, appear in the trew forme and proportion thairof, without being any wayes parcelled or pestred within in the beautic of the walls or lights obscured without: To which purpois our speciall pleasur is, and we doe heirby command, that with all diligence yow caus dimolisch that little house builded within the eist end, and that yow be carefull to doe and performe all things else that may tend to the further decoreing of that church, by the advyse of the right reverend the Archbischop of S^t Androis; which we do the rather requyre in regard that Citie is not onlie the seat of the cheiff Metropolitan Archbischop of that our kingdome, bot lykwayes of the cheiff vniversiteis therof; so willing yow to proceid accordinglie, as yow will respect our princelie will and pleasur.—Grenewitch, 13 May 1634.

COMMISSION.

Wheras we have bene pleased, out of our zeall and princelie care of what may tend to the service of God in planting of the Church in that our kingdome with able and qualifeid persones, To mak choyse of our trustic and weilbeloved Mr Henrie Pollok to be coadjutor to the reverend, &c. the bischop of Galloway in the government of that bischoprik peculiar to that charge, in regard of the said bischop his infirmitie, blindnes, and aige; we ar heirby pleased to authorize yow, the persones and in maner vnder subscryved, to meitt and consider of a proportionable rent out of that bischoprik for the mantenance of the said Mr Henrie dureing the lyftyme of the present bischope, and that yow prescryve a sure way, and fullie establisch the same, for secureing and setting of him therin, which, if neid be, we will approve after what maner yow shall find necessarie.—Grenwitch, 13 May 1634.

To the Archbischop of Glasgow, Bischops of Argyll and Iles.

TO THE BISCHOPE OF EDINBURGH.

Reverend, &c.—We have vpoun occasion of late being in Scotland observed some things which we think fitt to putt in better ordour, which we shall doe as we find caus, bot, as we have writtin to the right reverend the Archbischop of St Androis, no one thing appeareth to ws more necessarie then the weill setling of our Vniversiteis both for the service of God and good education of youth ther now, as we wer then gevin to understand the whole compane s of that universitie of that citie, alsweill the doctours as governours of the Colledge, as the younger men, vse to goe to the paroch churches to service and sermon, and ther sitt promiscuouslie with the rest of the auditorie, which losses much of the honour and dignitie of the Vniversitie, being quyt contrarie to the course held in other weill governed places of the lyk nature, and is in diverse other respects verie inconvenient; and wheras to this purpois, by our letters to the provest and bailleis of that citie, we have willed and required them to provide a fitt and convenient place within the cathedrall church of that citic for hearing of divyne service: Our pleasur is, that alsweill the students of that vniversitie as the governours, doctours, and others who live therin shall at all tymes, everie Sonday and holyday, that that church observes, repair thither at the hours both of morning and eveneing prayer and sermones, and that togidder and in decent maner with ther gownes, according to ther severall degreis in schoolis respectivelie, and that they doe vse the said habite of gounes according to ther degrees in the schoolis, vniversiteis, and streits, and that yow give ws ane accompt by letter when this course is begun, and afterwards once a yeir at least how it doeth continew; which recommending, &c .- Grenwitch, 13 May 1634.

TO THE WHOLE BISCHOPS.

Right reverend, &c.—We tendring the good and peace of that Church by haveing good and decent ordours and discipline observed therin, wherby religion and God's worschipe may encrease, and considering that ther is nothing more defective in that church then the want of a book of common prayer and vniforme service, to be keipit in all the churches therof, and the want of canonis for the vniformitie of the same: We ar heirby pleased to authorize yow, as the representative bodie of that church, and doe heirby will and requyre yow, to condescend vpon a forme of church service to be vsed therin, and to sett down canonis for the vniformitie of the discipline therof, to be kept alsweill in the colledges, vniversities, and ther awin privat famile as in the whole churches throughout that kingdome; wherin expecting your great care and diligence as yow will tender the good of that church and our service.—Grenwitch, 13 May 1634.

TO THE THESAURER AND DEPUTIE.

Right, &c.—Wheras the granting of the ward and mariage of all noblemen's children requyreth our owin consideration, and doeth much concerne we to be tender thairof, as importing both our honour and service: It is our pleasur that yow pass none of them till we be first adverteised both of the particular and esteat therof, and give our further warrand therin as yow tender the good of our service.

TO THE THESAURER AND DEPUTIE.

Right, &c.—Wheras we doe find many patronages of churches vajustlie takin and deteyned from we and from the Church, and that it is fitt that befor any new few be granted of abbay, manses, or precincts thairof, or bailliareis of erection, that we should be acquanted therwith, and that the reutalls wer cleared: These ar to will and requyre yow that yow pass no signature of the same till we be first acquanted therwith, and that the same pas under our owin hand as yow tender our service; and for which these presents shalbe, &c.—Grenwitch, 13 May 1634.

To MR HENRIE POLLOK.

Trustie, &c.—We ar pleased, vpoun information of your sufficiencie in the calling of the ministrie, and of your affection to our service, to conjoyne yow with the reverend father in God the bischop of Galloway in the charge of that bischoprik, becaus of his infirmitie, blindnes, and aige; and being confident that yow will not be wanting in what is propper for so eminent a charge, nor in that which heirefter we shalbe pleased to recommend vnto yow tending to God's service in the decent and lawdable government of the church, or which yow yourselff shall from tyme to tyme think may best conduce to that purpois and our royall pleasur, so often signified tuitching the same, and accordinglie as we find yow painefull and fordward, we will tak your further preferment into our princelie care, and not otherwayes,—Grenwitch, 13 May 1634.

TO THE CITIE OF EDINBURGH.

Trustie, &c.—Wheras yow by your Commissioners have presented vnto we the necessite pressing yow to build the Churches for the vse of your Inhabitants, we ar weill pleased with your pious resolution therin, and if our vrgent affaires at this tyme would permitt, we would presentlie satisfie your desires tuitching the same: bot sieing we cannot convenientlie at this present tyme, these ar onlie to will and requyre yow that with all convenient diligence yow build one of these Churches for ease of that parochin which is now destitute of a clurch, and for the other we ar resolved to think vpon some meanes wherby this good work may be effected. In the meane tyme, being satisfeit with your service in that kynd, we bid, &c.—Grenewitch, 14 May 1634.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—We pitieing the distressed estate of James Arnot, elder, who, efter due tryell takin by our Colledge of Justice, was fund to have bestowed all the meanes he had (which then as we ar informed was of good worth) for payment of his cautionreis, and that otherwayes he was deceived in the trust he reposed on others, haveing never wronged his creditours, so that he left no thing to himselff, bot is manteaned vpon the Charitie of his freindis, vpon which reasones ther was a protection granted vnto him from the violence and the extremitie of his creditours, which protection is now expyred: We finding still the same reasones to protect him from that rigour, doe heirby requyre yow to grant him a protection dureing the space of sevin yeres efter the dait heirof, [which] we will yow to caus immediathe exped vnto him vnder our great Seall without any further warrant from ws.—Grenwitch, 14 May 1634.

TO THE COUNSELL.

To the Counsell.

Right, &c.—Wheras ther ar divers particulars presented to ws and our estats at our late parliament ther by our royall frie burghes requyreing due consideratioun speciallic tuitching the fraud vsed by sellers of playding in presenting therof to the mercat in hard rolls, wherby vnder trust they deceave the buyeris, Our pleasur is, that yow tak these particulars into your serious consideratioun, spetiallic that tuitching the playding, causeing ane ordour, speedelic takin and punctuallic keiped, that the saids commodite be sold at all tymes heirefter in oppin folds, exposeing to the full view of the buyer; so expecting all possible expedition heirin for dispatch of these Commissioners of our burrowis that shall attend the same.—Grenewitch, 14 May 1634.

TO THE CITIE OF EDINBURGH.

Trustie, &c.—Wheras we have bene petitioned by your Commissioners to signe a patent for distributing your Inhabitants in severall companeis, and haveing takin the same into our royall consideration, we have thoght fitt, befoir we proceid farther tuitching that purpois, to requyre yow to erect within your citie such severall companeis as yow intend, and so to fitt the way therof that it may appear that our intentions ar reall, and certiefie ws thairof vnder your handis, and by ane act of your Counsell vnder the subscription of your clerk and seall of your citie, whervpon be confident that yow shall find ws readie to advance your just and lawfull designes by endoweing these companeis with such liberteis and privileges as shalbe thoght fitt for your good, and so shall protect them by our authoritie, and otherwayes that it shall appear that nothing shalbe wanting in ws which may tend to the advancement thairof, wherin expecting your diligence, we bid, &c.—Grenwitch, 14 May 1634.

TO THE BISCHOP OF THE YLES.

Reverend, &c.—Haveing taken the association of the fisching of Great Fritane and Irland into our protection in a peculiar maner, and intending to caus setle a solid course tuitching all impositions and dewteis whatsoever to be raised vpon these fischings: Our pleasur is, that yow doe not trouble them by exacting tythis or tythe dewteis from them till yow know our further pleasur, wherin if yow shall suffer we shall tak it to our consideration, and tak such a course as yow shalbe no loosser.—Grenwitch, 14 May 1634.

TO THE EXCHEQUER.

Right, &c.—We have formerlie writtin to yow for passing a signature in favours of our citie of Edinburgh, tuitching the liberteis and priviledges, and being informed by ther Commissioners that by reason of your and ther owin vrgent affaires it is not exped; These ar therfor to will yow to consider the said signatur, and if yow find the same agricable to the infertment lawfullie granted to them by our royall predicessours, that yow expedit he same with diligence, otherwayes to acquant we with your reasones to the contrarie, wherin expecting your performance, we bid, &c.—Grenwitch, 14 May 1634.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—Haveing considered of your letter of the differences betwixt our right, &c. the Erle of Erroll, our high Constable of that our kingdome, and the citie of Edinburgh, and of the suspension raised by them of the two decreits obtenit by the said Erle befoir yow, and finding that the question now doeth aryse which should be the convenient judicatoric befoir whom the cause should be decydit, whither befoir yow or befoir our Session, in regard of the nature of ther right they pretend to have, we have thoght fith heirby to requyre yow that if yow shall find your selffis compitent judges in this difference according to the Lawes and customes of our said antient kingdome yow proceid therin, bot if yow shall find that it properlie belongeth to our Session, remitt it vnto them bot withal that no dilatore or tedious formes of Law be vsed, and that, befoir which of yow this shal happin to be heard, we command that yow defer sentence vntill ye acquant we with the particulars of the proces.—Grenwitch, 14 May 1634.

[Similar Letter to the Session.]

TO THE EXCHEQUER.

Right, &c.—Wheras diverse complaintis have bene made vnto ws by our frie royall burghes of that our kingdome aganst ane patent granted to the Lord Erskene tuitching taneing of Leather and impositions vpon the same, to the prejudice of our subjects, and that the said patent is neir expyred: These ar to requyre yow to pass no grant of the same of new efter the expyreing of the former, bot that all tanneris of Leather within the same be frie as they wer befor the granting of that patent: Which recommending, &c.—Grenewitch, 14 May 1634.

TO THE COUNSELL

Right, &c.—Wheras diverse complants have been made vnto ws by sindrie of our subjects, spetiallie by our royall frie burghes, of the great prejudice they susteane by the too frequent granting of protections, passing over the acts of Parliament tuitching that purpois, we have thoght fitt to recommend vnto yow that none pass heirefter bot vpon verie just and considerable causses, with speciall provision that the annualrents be payed to the creditours, and that yow caus the acts made tuitching the same be keipit, that no occasion of grevance \vec{b} e gevin to our good subjects by breach therof; which recommending, &c.—Grenewitch, 14 May 1634.

TO THE FRIE BURGHES.

Trustie, &c.—Wheras we have bene petitioned by your Commissioners for granting freedome to erect within your burghes severall Companeis of all sort of tradeing, ather within or without the kingdome, and to endow each companie with severall liberteis and priviledges which shalbe onlie dew and peculiar to the generall associations respectivelie; we being pleased with your demand heirin, as conceaveing it to be a readie way to encrease trade amongst yow, and for avoyding of that confusion which the lake of vnitic and governement in such trades doe ordinarlie begett, have heirby thought fitt to encourage yow to proceid in the destribution of your Inhabitants in companeis and associations, To which purpois we are pleased that yow represent vnto ws or our Counsell ther what shall be fund fitt in each citic and brugh according to the proportions thairof, and draw the same vp in generall patents, assureing yow that we shalbe readie both by our authoritie to protect and endow them with all liberteis and priviledges fitt for such Incorporations, and with what may increase ther trade: So willing yow to be alse fordward in advanceing of so worthie a purpois, tending cheiflie to your owin good, as yow shall find ws at all tymes readie to protect and second your endeavours thairin.—Grenwitch, 14 May 1634.

TO THE SESSION.

Right, &c.—Wheras we ar informed that ther is ane action in Law depending befor yow at the instance of certane persones aganst some of our royall frie citeis and brughes for tythes of fisches taken in our Yles, sieing that vpon verie important considerations we have established ane assotiation for the fischingis of Great Britane and Irland, whairof we have in peculiar maner taken vpon ws the protection, and wherby diverse conditions and restrictions are provyded for advancing that great work tending to the generall good of all our dominions, and espetiallie of that our ancient kingdome: These ar therfoir to will and requyre yow not to proceid any further theranent, and tuitching all impositions which for the generall good of our subjects shalbe fund necessarie to be payed by the members of that Association.—Grenwitch, 14 May 1634.

TO THE COMMISSIONERS FOR THE BURROWIS.

Trustie, &c.—Wheras the improveing of the native commodite of that our kingdome by erecting manufactore is a work much tending to the advancement of trade, and setting many ydle people to work, besydes many other benefits that may redound therby to your good and benefite, we have therfor thought fitt to recommend the same to your serious consideration, assureing yow that we will grant to the vudertakers who shall erect any Manufactorie for improveing of any native commoditie whatsumever, all such liberteis, priviledges, and immuniteis as in such caces ar accustomed and necessarie, and shall omitt nothing that may testifie our favourable acceptance of ther endeavours: So being confident that yow will give ws a tryell of your willingnes heirin, and of all other things redounding to the publict good and your owin privat benefite, least we be forced to mak vse of strangeris to that purpois, which we will be loath to doe.—Grenewitch, 14 May 1634.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—Wheras we have formerlie signified our pleasur vnto yow that the taking of Pearle within that our kingdome in the rivers therof, should not be reserved for any one's privat persone, but communicated to all our subjects, speciallie to the merchands of our frie royall brughs, to whom we did formerlie bestow the gift of that trade: It is our pleasur that yow pass ane act of Counsell dischargeing all former patents or acts made for the ingrossing therof in the persone of ony ane of our subjects, granting libertie to our leidges, speciallie our frie brughes, to fisch pearle in all the rivers of that kingdome without let, and that yow cause mak publication heirof, that none pretend ignorance of our royall intention and pleasur heirin.—Grenewitch, 14 May 1634.

TO THE ARCHBISCHOP AND BISCHOPES.

Right reverend and Reverend fathers in God, &c.—Wheras the translatioun of the Psalmes of David done by our late royall father is now fullie renewed, approved, and fitted for the Presse, as we wer formerlie pleased to writt vnto yow tuitching that purpois, being desyreous that his intentioun, besydis the goodnes of the work, may remane a monument of his pious disposition, which is of all others best knowen vnto yow: Our pleasur is, that yow condescend vpon a way how it may be receaved and sung vniversallie in the churches of that our kingdome, to the effect ordour be gevin for such number of books as shalbe fund fitt and necessarie, To which purpois we will yow to confer with our Clerk of Register, who will impart to yow our further pleasur heirin; which recommending to your speciall care, we, &c.—Grenwitch, 15 May 1634.

To the Counsell

Right, &c.—We ar informed from Johne Lundie of that ilk that his vncle Sir James haveing these many yeres bene in possession of that estate, bot vnder trust, and to the behalff of his nephewis, hath notwithstanding, by taking advantage of the weaknes and incapacitie of the eldest and the absence of the secund furth of the cuntrie, converted the whole or most part of the benefite therof to his owin vse, and still intendeth by indirect pretexts to keip the petitioner, his third nephew, from enjoying the possession of his just and lawfull heretage, contrair to all justice and equitie, as may appear more at large by the enclosed information; we therfor have thought fitt to will and requyre yow to tak the premisses into your serious tryell and consideration, and according as yow find caus to tak such ordour thairin as nather the fraud, if it be such as is informed, scape vupunisched, nor the petitioner be longer keipit from his right, bot that he receave such present redress as yow in reasone and equitie shall think fitt; wherin not doubting of your care, we bid, &c.—Grenwitch, 16 May 1634.

TO THE EXCHEQUER.

Right, &c.—Being gratiouslie pleased that no advantage be takin aganst Margaret Stewart, daughter of umquhill Hercules Stewart, brother of the late Erle Bothwell, by the forfaltour of the late Erle of Bothwell, Our pleasur is, that with all diligence yow expeid vnder our great seall a signature of rehabilitation granted in favours of hir aires and successours, for which these presents shalbe sufficient warrant, otherwayes, if yow have any reasone to the contrarie, that yow adverteis ws therof.—Grenwitch, 18 May 1634.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—Being informed by some of our Officers that our trustie and weilbelovit W^m Dick, merchand burges of Ed^r, hath advanced great sowmes of money for our speciall service, whairof we have takin particular notice, Our pleasur is, that no protection be granted heirefter, or exped vnder our sealls, ather heir or by yow, to his prejudice in favours of any persone whatsumever, by which he can mak it appear befoir yow that he in his owin particular interest will suffer, and to that effect that yow caus give him dew warning of any protection that shall happin to be granted; and for, &c.—Grenewitch, the 18 May 1634.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c. - Wheras by our direction Sir Johne and Sir William Scotts, tuo of the Erle of Buccleuch's tutors, have repaired to our Court to know our pleasur tuitching the particulars of our decreit-Arbitrall and exposition therof, with whom we have conferred therin; and sieing formerlie we gave ordour to our Advocat to draw vp a mynut for a contract betuint the Erle Buccleuch and Francis Stewart for setling of them conforme to our decreit, which mynut was not then subscryved be the pairteis, Therfor it is now our pleasur that the said mynut be extendit in forme by advyse of ther mutuall Advocatts, if they be present, and by advyse of our Advocat, whom we doe heirby will yow appoint to sie the same formallie done according to the intent of the inclosed mynut in all poynts; and our pleasur is, that the said Francis be entred to the vplifting of the fermes and dewters of the landis dew to him since the dait of our decreit, and in tyme cuming, and being secured in these landis formerlie possessed by the late Erle and his father, and whairof they or oney of them wer in vse to vplift the maills and dewteis, that he renunce all title to the rest of the saidis Landis, tithes, and superioriteis in favours of Francis, now Erle of Buccleuch, except such landis and tythes as wer not valued by the said late Erle, and also cam not vnder our decree, nor wer by him, the said Erle, recomend in your presens, at leist any right thair of which he had thervnto by the forfeyt of the late Erle of Bothwell, whervnto we formerlie did and now doe declair that we will enable the said Francis pro tanto that he may plead ather for the vnvalued or renunced lands and tythis as said is, to the end he may recover the same to the lawes of the kingdome if he hath right thervnto, and that ordour may be gevin to draw a signature or gift of forfaultour therof to the said Francis, conforme to the intention of our decreit-arbitrall and acts of counsall made theranent of befoir; And the contract being so exped, it is our pleasur that both the saids pairteis subscryve the same in your presens or some of your number appoynted by yow, and which, if ather of the pairteis refuis, we will that our Advocatt concurre with the other pairtie and vrge the fulfilling of the said decreit-arbitrall and our exposition theref by ordour of Law, wheranent this shalbe his warrant; All which seriouslie recommending to your care, we bid, &c.—Grenwitch, May 1634.

TO THE CHANCELLOUR, ARCHBISCHOP OF ST ANDROIS, THESAURER, PRIVIE SEILL, MARQUEIS OF TRAQUAIR, CLERK REGISTER, ADVOCAT.

Right, &c.—Haveing at lenth conferred with our right, &c. the Erle of Roxbrught in a proposition made by him to ws testieficing his willingnes to put in our hands his right of all such churches and tythis as doe helong to the Abacie of Kelso, and that ar vndisponed by him, others then these churches and tythis which lyes within Teviotdaill and the Forrest, and doe concerne his owin landis and some of his particular freindis, with whome he hath alreadie agried for the right of ther tythis, according to the ordinance that we did sett down that everie man should have his owin tythis: And considering that this overture made by our said right, &c. to we may much contribute to these lawfull and just endis, and to the good of our service, we have thoght it expedient to remit the further consideration of the particulars to your conference with our said right, &c., earnestlie desyreing yow that the most convenient course may be taken for establishing of his right of these churches and tythis in our persone, satisfaction being gevin him as we acknowledge reasone and equitie doeth allow; and sicing the bussines will requyre tyme and leasure befoir it can be weill digested, and we adverteised of that course which shalbe fund fittest and best to be taken, Our will and pleasur is, that yow tak such course as that there he no further proceiding concerneing these churches and tythis, but that all may be contened and stand in the same caice they now ar in, till our farther pleasur be signified theranent; which recommending, &c., we bid, &c.—Greinwitch, 21 May 1634.

To MR JAMES HOME.

Trustic, &c.—Haveing bene moved by the Erles of Murray and Lawderdale to admitt of ane appeall to we in this process depending concerneing the Erldome of Home; but considering the troubles and inconveniences which may ensue if we should but hearken to the said Appeall, we have thoght rather fitt that both of yow condescend upon a submission upon equall termes to two or thrie weill affected on ather part for setting all bussines amicablie between yow, and one to be oversman, cutt schort and end all differences that may fall out (ourselff not being unwilling to undergoe the said trouble of oversman, both pairties requesting we therunto); concerneing which motion of ours, haveing the willing consent and approbation of the Erles of Murray and Lauderdale, in name of ther sones and daughters in Law, we doe heirby demand and expect of yow the lyk; whereof being verie confident, we bid, &c.—Grenewitch, 24 May 1634.

To the Session.

Right, &c.—Wheras we have signified our royall pleasur to our right, &c. the Erles of Murray and Lawlerdaill, in name of ther sone and daughters in Law, and to our, &c. James Home of Coldinknowis, for submitting of all questions amongst them anent the succession to the estate and liveing of Home to the amicable decision of freinds: It is our will that yow not onlie forbear any further proceiding in any processe depending theranent befor yow, bot lykwayes that yow stay all process intended or to be intended, ather at the instance of any of the saidis tuo pairteis aganst others, or at the instance of any other aganst them or any of them, as aires or successours to vinquill James, Erle of Home, till yow shall vinderstand our further pleasur.—[No date.]

TO THE ADVOCAT.

Trustie, &c.—Haveing fund it more expedient that all questions anent the succession and right to the estate and liveing of Home be decydit amicablic [rather] than be Law, we have acquanted the Erles of Murray and Lawderdale with our will heiranent; and finding them, in the names of ther sones and daughters in Law, willing to obey, we have by this other letter (which yow shall delyver) demanded the lyk of the other pairtie, James Home of Coldinknowis: It is therfor our pleasur that yow draw vp a full submission, conceaved vpon equall termes, wharby all matters questionable amongst them may be absolutelic referred to freinds; and least in the meane tyme ather pairtie receave prejudice, we have gevin warrant to the Senatours of our Colledge of Justice to stay all proces by this letter direct to them, which yow shall delyver at the first sitting: Which recommending, &c.—Dat, vt supra.

TO THE SESSION.

Right, &c.—Wheras the distressed esteat of Sir W^m Keith of Ludwharne hath bene humblic represented vnto ws, as being vnable any longer to attend the issue of ane action of Law depending befor yow betweene him and Johne Gordon of Haddo; in which cace we, taking into our princelic consideration the hard estate of such persones, ar heirby gratiouslic pleased to recommend vnto yow that speedic justice he administred in the said action, admitting of no dilatours that convenientlic can be avoyded to putt him in further charge or delay.—Dat. vt supra.

TO THE SESSION.

Right, &c.—Wheras we ar informed of ane action in Law depending befor yow betuixt the now bischop of the Yles and the bischop of Rapho, late of Yles, tuitching a yere's fruit of that bischoprik; becaus the one's ordinarie residence is in Irland and the other in remote parts of that our kingdome, from that our seat of Justice, and that his charge requyreth more then ordinarie panes and vigilancie in persones of the lyk function, we ar heirby pleased seriouslie to recommend vnto yow that speedic Justice be administrat, not onlie in that action, bot in all others that shall cum in befor yow concerneing the said bischop of Yles, which we shall tak as acceptable service done vnto ws.—Grenwitch, 24 May 1634.

MYNUTE.

Francis Stewart is to have all the Lands in Lothian which belonged formerlie to his father, paying bak to the Aires of Buccleuch for the superplus which shalbe fund above eight thowsand fyve hundreth merks of yeirlie rent, being ane thowsand punds for everie hundreth merks, which was estimated befoir his Ma^{tie} to extend to thretie-tua thowsand pundis Scotts money or therabout, and that in full satisfaction of the whole thrid part of all the estate which the Erle of Buccleuch did value and mak subject to his Ma^{teis} decree as belonging vnto him by vertew of the Erle Bothwell's forfeyture.

And whatsoever landis or rents the said Erle did renunce, or wer not valued and made subject to his Ma^{teis} decree, as lykwayes whatsoever tythes or patronages of churches out of which the said Erle had any rent, they being renunced or not valued and made subject to his Ma^{teis} decree, the said Francis is to be enabled pro tanto to plead for them by Law, and to recover them to his owin vse, they taking them to ther other rights and quyting Bothwell's forfaltour in that.

Everie of them is to delyver to the other all the evidents that they have of the proportions of Lands that is disposed to the other, renunceing all right they can pretend thervnto, and giveing warrandice fra ther owin deidis. Non of them is to hold any stok, tythis, or superioriteis of ane other whatsumever, but immediatlie of his Ma^{tie} if they wer holdin so formerlie, or otherwayes as they wer holdin of old.

As for the patronages that shalhappin to be questioned betweene them, it is his Ma^{teis} pleasur that his Advocat consider of his right therunto. If any question shall aryse vpon new grounds betweene the pairteis further than is explayned, his Ma^{tie} is to be acquanted therwith that he may declair his further pleasur theranent.—Grenwitch, 26 May 1634.

Wheras by our former precept we appoynted 3000^{lib} sterling to have bene payed to Sir Alex* Strauchan of Thorntoun, knyt baronet, vpon consideration he had frielic dimitted our commission to him tuitching omissions and conceilments, wherby for the panes and charges he was at it was fitt he should have receaved recompence; To the end that both we who ar so engadged by our precept, and yow who ar particularlie bund for paying these moneyis vnto him may be tymelic disengadged, and he by that meanes releived of debts contracted by him for his charge in that our service, Our pleasur is, that yow pay vnto him, his aires and assigneyis, the said sowme of 3000^{lib} sterling with all convenient diligence, and that out of the first and readiest of these taxatiouns last granted to ws, with interest for such tyme heirefter as the said sowme shalhappin to be vnpayed to him or his forsaids, and that ye accept of this our warrant, testificing vnto him vnder your hands your acceptatioun heirof, and therefter that yow sie ws discharged of that debt and yourselffis releived; for which, &c.—Grenewitch, 26 May 1634.

To the Erles of Morton and Traquair, Thesaurers principall and depute.

TO THE EXCHEQUER.

Right, &c.—Wheras our royall father, of happie memorie, wyselie considering how much it did import the good of that our kingdome, that the administration of criminall justice should not be communicat to ilk subject, bot that the same should be committed to such judges as should be able and qualifeid persones for exerceing the same, and befor whome pairteis may plead for themselffis, and have these ordinar helpes which ar allowed by the lawis of that kingdome, to the which ther wer no greater lett then the liberteis and priviledges granted by our predicessours by infeftments to ther weill deserveing subjects, which as we doe nowayes intend to abrogat nor infringe, so we doe not see it agricable to reasone that they may mak saill of these Liberteis, nor transact the same to whome they pleas, nor that ther new erections of barroneis should be granted in that kynd: Our pleasur is, that yow grant no new infeftments to any subject of Lands, with power to hang, bead, imprisson, put to death, scourge, or anywayes priviledge in that kynd, nor that yow accept resignations of the same priviledges, bot onlie of the Lands and such other priviledges as ar inherent to them, without any new grant of these royall priviledges inherent to the croun, which we cannot think transmissable nor fitt to be exposed to seall; wherin expecting yow will be cairefull, we bid, &c.—Grenwitch, 26 May 1634.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—Wheras it is not vnknowen vnto yow with what care we have intendit the good of the Assotiation of the fischings within these our kingdomes for the vse of our subjects, and that we wilbe provident to protect them from the exactions of the heretours in the Yles, who, as we are informed, without a warrant exact sindrie dewteis from them, to ther great prejudice, bringing in strangeris and loading ther vessells with fisches and other native commoditeis, contrair to our lawis: Our pleasur is, that yow call befor yow the Landislordis of these Yles wher the fisching is, and take accompt of them by knowing vpon what warrant they tak these dewteis, and that yow discherge what yow think not dew in that kynd vpon verie good grounds, sending vnto ws a note of all that is exacted; and that yow tak ordour with strangeris who resort and trade ther, contrarie to our Lawis and the course intendit by the patent of Assotiation: So, expecting that no such demeanour be committed in tyme cunning, &c.—Grenwitch, 26 May 1634.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—Wheras, in our late parliament holdin within that our kingdom, ther was complaynt made of diverse insolence and oppressions made in the hielands of that our kingdome, the caus of which complant is not as yit removed, we being willing to represse the same, and to establisch such solide ordour wherby our peace may be manteaned, and these rebellious and dissohedient subjects reduced to the obedience of our lawes, or punisched accordinglie: It is our pleasur that yow caus putt in executioun the acts of Parliament made the 7 parliament holdin by our dearest father, of happie memorie, cap. 93, 94, 95, 96, 97, aganst the induellars in the hielands and borders, or vther places wher these rebells resort or duell, as lykwyse the act of our late parliament made anent the Clangregour; And that yow tak such further course for quyeting in these and where parts in that our kingdome, as in your judgments shalbe thoght fittest for interteneing of our peace and protecting our good subjects from all violence and oppressions, and that from tyme to tyme yow mak we accompt of your diligence heirin; but where yow find any lett or stay we will, vpoun your signieficing thair of vnto ws, and our opinions tuitching the same by our further authoritie to remove the same: Which recommending, &c.—Grenewitch, 26 May 1634.

These conteyne a grant to John Tinynghame, and his aires or assigneyes of the coall win and to be win in the lands of the burrow mure of Craill, the acres of land lyand betuixt the baronic of Barnes and the said Mure, and within halff myle eistward and northeistward from that baronic, with power to brek ground, they satisficing the heretours or persones interested: They are to pay to your Matic and successours at ther making use of this gift, 20 merks. Scotts yeirlie in name of few-dewtie, doubling the same at the entrie of the air.—Grenwitch, 29 May 1634.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—Wheras for reformation and prevention of the abuses and inconveniences heirtofoir occasioned throw the ungoverned sale and immoderat use of Tobacco, we have resolved for to ordour the sale of that commoditie throughout our dominions, that non bot such as vpon examination shalbe fund to be fitt may be permitted to sell or use the same by small or retaill, and these to be licenced by authoritie from ws, putting in at the receaveing of the licence sufficient band alseweill for selling wholsome and uncorrupt tobacco as for keiping good ordour and rule in ther severall housses and shops: The prosecution and ordereing of which service within that our kingdome we have been pleased to committ (dureing the space of sevin yeires) to our trustie Sir James Leslie, kuy^t, and Thomas Dalmahoy, as by our gift, daited at Whythall the 19 Aprill 1634 yeres, may appear: Our pleasur is, that, according to this our royall intention, yow tak ordour that efter the 15 of Sept. nixt ensueing, no persone whatsoever presume to sell or utter tobacco in small or by retaill within that our kingdome bot such and so many as shalbe therunch licenced by our saids commissioners, under pane of our high displeasur and such a penaltie as yow shall think fitt to impose, on such as shalhappin to transgres, the one halff to belong to the informer and the other halff to the saids Commissioners; and that yow mak this our pleasur knowen to all our loveing subjects by letters of publication therofe direct by yow in dew forme; flor doeing wherof, as also to yow of Exchequer for expeiding the said grants, these presents shalbe a sufficient warrand.—Grenewitch, 29 May 1634.

TO THE EXCHEQUES.

Right, &c.—Wheras we had formerlie writtin unto yow concerning ane petition exhibited unto ws by our trustic Sir Alex^r Sctone, kny^e, one of the Senatours of our Colledge of Justice, for some moneyis dew unto him for imbringing to our use of the concealment of our taxations, which he alledged to be payable unto him by the Erle of Mar as being then Collectour of Taxations, and now finding by your letter that according as we had requyred yow yow have convened both pairteis, and that efter dew tryell yow have fund the said Erle to be frie of the same, and the sowme of 6077 merks of that our kingdome resting justlie dew unto the said Sir Alex^r, and besyds being certified by yow of the extraordinarie panes and charges he hath bene at in the said service, Our pleasur is, that out of any of the saids concealments ungevin out, or which he shalhappin discover himselff heirefter yow pay unto him his aires and assigneyis the said sowme of 6077 lib., or otherwayes that yow tak oney such trew course for his speedie satisfaction as yow shall think fitter, ffor the which, &c.—Grenwitch, 29 May 1634.

TO THE SESSION.

Right, &c.—Wheras we understand that W^m Scott of Ardross, whois mariage we bestowed upon our trustie and weilbeloved M^r William Drummond of Hathornden, is verie schortlie to marie ather without consent of him who is the donatour, or of his owin curatours, contrarie both to Law and his dewtie, and wherby he intendeth to defraud ws and the donatour of the double availl of the mariage, Our pleasur therfor is, that if the donatour efter the solemnization of the said intendit mariage shalhappin to intend action in Law befoir yow for the double availl thairof, that without delay ye administer unto him speedie justice according to our Lawis, without unnecessarie protraction of tyme, which we doe the rather requyre to be the more speedelie put to a poynt, in respect it wilbe a preparative important for ws in diverse causes of the lyk nature, wherin we find our selfis prejudged; we bid, &c.—Grenewitch, 29 May 1634.

TO THE COMMISSIONERS FOR TYTHES.

Right, &c.—Wheras by ane Act of our late parliament holdin in that kingdome dischargeing all leading of Tythes, ther is a provision conceaved in favours of Churchmen possessing thairof, haveing relation to ther submission and the meaneing of our decree gevin thairvpon, not intending to extend the benefite thairof to any laiek persones who by themselffis or authours have procured taks of the tythis of other men's Lands from any bischop or beneficed persone: Our pleasur is, that so long as these tythes doeth remane in the persones of laymen, yow tak such present order for the heretors leading and intrometting thairwith vpour sufficient suretie to pay according to the valuation as yow doe in the tythis of erections, and wheras we intend so to measur our favour to all our subjects as we may enjoy the same without hurt and detriment of ane other: To which purpois being informed of the prejudice sustenit by these who doeth not receave payment for ther tythis till the finisching of ther valuations which by our former letters ar delayed till all the tythes of erections be first valued, we ar heirby pleased to remitt to your consideration some propositions for remedie of this prejudice seameing fair to ws, which yow may hear from our servand and Sir James Lockhart: So recommending to your care the approveing thairof, or finding some better expedient to that purpois.—Grenewitch, 29 May 1634.

TO THE COUNSELL OF SCOTLAND.

Right, &c.—Haveing understude by a letter from our President of York that one Ralff Fetherston-halgh being sentenced in a caus befor them to frustrat the effect of Justice in contempt of our Authoritie hath fled to that our kingdome, and being nowayes willing that any of our kingdomes should be a saiff refuge to shelter them that retire thervnto, being censured as malefactours in ane other bok, that our Justice should reach them wherever they ar in any of our dominions: It is our pleasur that if the said Ralff be within that our kingdome, yow caus apprehend him with diligence, and send him with a saiff convoy to our toun of Berwick to be delivered to the Mayor therof, to the end he may send him to be convoyed from Shirreff to Shirreff to our Citie of York to be answerable to Justice: For doeing quherof, &c.—Grenewitch, 29 May 1634.

To SIR JAMES BALFOUR.

Trustic, &c.—Wherin at our late being within that our kingdome, we wer pleased to conferre vpon our right Robert, Viscount of Belheaven, that title as a degree of honour which we have estemed due vato his merite, to the end ther be nothing wanting (vsuall in this kynd), wherby this our favour and the remembrance of his good and faythfull service dew vato ws may be preserved, we requyre yow according to the dewtie of your place to insert and register in your books his coat of armses sent heirwith vato yow according to the custome, and as is fitt, provyded it wrong no other; for doeing whairof, &c.—Grenwitch, penult May 1634.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—Wheras we ar informed that about the begining of our Reigne the petitioner Alex* Blair was, by act of Counsell, made to abandon that kingdome, which we ar confident yow caused doe vpoun verie good consideratiouns, bot being now humblie petitioned by him that in regard of the death of his brother to whom he doeth succeed in his right to certane Lands in that kingdome, he may repair thither for recoverie thairof, Our pleasur is, that yow grant him such a tyme for that purpois as yow shall think necessarie, that he may seik for his right according to Justice and the Lawis of that our kingdome; for doeing, &c.—Grenewitch, penult May 1634.

Our Soveraigne Lord ordeanes a commission to be made vnder his Ma^{teis} great seall of the kingdom of Scotland, making mention that his highnes, being crediblic informed that a great part of his Ma^{teis}

To the Exchequer.

Right, &c.—We have bene humblie petitioned in behalff of our frie burgh of Dundie for ratificing ther priviledges granted by our predicessours, wherin ther demand semeing to ws to be reasonable, by granting of what is fit to encourage them to our service, and to farther trade and commerce, it being without prejudice or [hurt] of the liberteis of other subjects: Our pleasur therfor is, that yow consider the signature of ther liberteis and priviledges, and if yow find the same agricable to ther infeftments lawfullic grantel to them by our royall predicessours, and not derogatorie to any act of Counsall tuitching them, that yow exped the same with diligence, otherwayes acquant ws with your reasones to the contrarie; wherin expecting your performance of this our pleasur, &c.—Grenwitch, 5 Junij 1634.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—Wheras we have bene humblic petitioned in behalff of the brugh of Dundie for granting to them the office of schirrefschip within the same, and liberteis thairof as other burghes have, wherin ther demand being for the preservatioun of our peace therin: Our pleasur is, that with convenient diligence yow caus expeid vnder our great seall what chartour or surtice shalbe necessar for establishing heirefter that office of schirefschip vpon them within ther brugh and liberteis, in such absolute and beneficial manes other our frie brughis doeth enjoy: Provyded alwayes that the said office be by we and our successours recallable at what tyme and maner we or they shall think fitt, to be disposed of at our or ther pleasurs: Which recommending, &c.—Grenvitch, 5 Junij 1634.

TO MR JOHN FORBES.

Trustie and weilbelovit, &c.—Haveing at your late being befor ws willed yow to repair vnto Scotland vpon some considerations which we thought fit to impart vnto yow, bot vnderstanding that yow ar not as yit gone from hence, Our pleasur is, that vpon sight heirof yow repair with all diligence to our said kingdome, and we will have a care of your preferment ther; not doubting of your deserveing heirof, we bid, &c.—Grenvitch, 5 Junij 1634.

TO THE CLERK REGISTER.

Trustie, &c.—Becaus we ar desyreous that a course should be takin with our right trustie counsellour the Lord Napar for his satisfaction of these moneyis which ar due vnto him as soon as it can be convenientlie done for that effect, it is our pleasur that yow deall with the said Lord and with them that ar bund vnto him for the saidis moneyis dew, that yow may bring them to condeseend vpon some certane course wherby he may be payed, or otherwayes, that yow certifie ws in whois default it is that they doe not agrie, wherof not doubting bot yow will have a certane care to give ws ane accompt.—Grenwitch, 9 Junij 1634.

To the Justice Deputeis.

Trustie, &c.—Wheras, for the better tryell of the burneing of the house of Frendraught, we did formerlie writt vnto yow that ane Toscheoch, who hath alreadie bene tuyse tortured, should be putt to the tryell of ane assyse, which semeth vpon considerations to have bene hitherto delayed; and being desyreous that that bussines should be putt to ane poynt, Our pleasur is, that whensoever the pairtie shall persew nin, yow proceid according to our said former letter, and that these who ar to goe on his assyse be fairlie and lawfullie choysen, as is vsed in the lyk caices, that ther may be no just cause of complaynt; and that in aney exception which shalbe proponed by the said Toscheoch in his defence yow tak the advyse of our privic counsell as in all things which may tend to the clearing of that bussines.—Grenwich, 10 of Junij 1634.

TO THE ADVOCAT.

Trustie, &c.—Wheras, for the better tryell of the burneing of the house of Frendraught, we have gevin ordour to our Justice deputeis to putt ane Toscheoch (who hath bene alreadic tuyse tortured) to the tryell of ane assyse, as we had formerlie writtin vnto them: Our pleasur is, that having informed your selff of these proceedings, yow persew him befoir our said Justice deputeis, and till the bussines be fullie cleared, according to Justice and the Lawes of that our kingdome; and for your so doeing, &c.—Grenewitch, 10 of Junii 1634.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—Wheras, for the better tryell of the burneing of the house of Frendraught, we have writtin to our Justice depute to put ane Toscheoch (who hath alreadie bene tuyse tortured) to the tryell of ane assyse, according to our former pleasur signified vnto them for that effect: Our pleasur is, that wherin our saidis depute is shall have neid of your advyse or concurrance, yow assist them with the same, in so far as shalbe requisit: Which recommending to your care.—Grenewitch, 10 Junij 1634.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—Wheras we have at diverse tymes signified our pleasur vnto yow for restraynt of frequent granting protections, especiallie by tuo letters of late, the one in favours of our frie royall brughes, the other in favours of W^m Dick, merchand, wheref we ar not vnmyndfull, yit we, having formerlie, vpon most just considerations, granted vnto our trustie and weilbeloved servand Sir Alex^T Home, kny^t, a protection, for some tyme now expyred, which for the same reasones, and in regard that his caice in a singular maner deserveth our consideration, especiallie he being our owin domestick servand, we have now thoght fitt to renew and prorogat to him for the space of ane yeir: Our pleasur is, that immediathe yow caus exped the same vnder our great seall, notwithstanding any of these letters befoir mentionat, or oney vther direction to the contrarie; for which these presents salbe your warrand.—Grenwitch, 10 Junij 1634.

Archbischop S^{*} Androis, Erlis Morton, Stirling, Roxerugh, Traquair, Bischops of Ross and Edinburgh, Sir John Hay, Sir Thomas Hope, or any seven of them, the Archbischop being ane, or, in his absence, the saids Bischops or any of them.

Right, &c.—Wheras we wer pleased to give a commission vnto yow for tryeing the authours and such as could be fund anywayes accessorie to the seditious lybell fund in the handis of ane Dynmure, wherin it may fall out that the qualitie of ther persones and nature of ther faults and evidents tuitching the same, as being less or more suspect or guiltie, will requyre a distinction in the places of ther committement (our eastells of that kingdome and tolbuith of Ed^{*} being the accustomed parts for that purpois), we ar heirby pleased to express our further pleasur that, as in the said poynts yow shall find the case to differ, yow accordinglie have a speciall regard of ther confyneing and imprissonement, as to be commanded to ther ludgeing is to the custodie of bischops to the Clerk of our Counsell, and to such our castells and prisones as yow shall find caus: So, being confident that yow will omitt no diligence for examining that bussines, according to our commission, and to proceid according to our pleasur heirby signified, We bid, &c.—Grenwitch, 14 Junij 1634.

Chancellour, Archbischop S[†] Androis, Morton, Hadington, Marqueis Hamilton, Stirling, Roxerugh, Traquair, B. Ross, Sir Johne Hay, M^r Thos. Hope.

Right, &c.—Wheras we thoght fitt to authorize yow of late by our commission to represent to we the trew estate of some abuses in the vanocessarie burdens of our Exchequer, with the errors and disorders creipt therin, wherin, for your better enabling to proceid with the greater expedition, we have heirby thoght fitt farder to authorize yow, vpon remonstrance made befor to yow of these abuses by our Thesaurer principall and deputie, and our Clerk of Register, as persones best acquanted with the estate of our Exchequer, To call for such records, registers, and others books of our Exchequer, as may best conduce to that purpois, And generallie to doe in everie thing tending to the advancement of that service, ather as yow are formerlie warranted by our commission, or vtherways as yow shall find to be requisit to this end; ffor which these presents shalbe vnto yow, and all others quhom it may concerne, a sufficient warrant.—Dated vt supra.

TO THE ADVOCAT.

Trustic, &c.—Wheras, vpon verie considerable causes, our Right, &c. the Marqueis of Hamilton is to be secured by ws of moneyis raised and to be expended by him for our service, and by our speciall command, as was signified to our Thesaurers principall and deputie, wherin we will not that he in any wayes should suffer for his affection in his vndertakingis therin; Our pleasur therfor is, and we doe heirby will and requyre yow, that vpon his relation of his burdings vndergone and to be vndertakin, to which we remitt the particulars, yow draw vp such legall and sufficient warrants for these moneyis, and in such maner as he shall find needfull for his securitie; and for your so doeing.—Grenwitch, 14 Junij 1634.

TO SIR JOHNE HEPBURNE, KNYT AND COLONELL.

Trustie, &c.—Vnderstanding that our right trustie the Lord Leveingstoun hath the charge vnder yow of a foot companie, and that he hath bene detened from that employment beyond his desire and expectation by his father's occasions, in attending some erection tuitching our service, we have heirby thoght fitt to recommend vnto yow that he receave no prejudice by his absence in that charge, bot that at his repairing vnto yow schortlie, if any neglect or inconvenient hath bene occasioned by his absence, yow will the rather for this one recommendation pass over anything that may reflect vpon that cause; which we will tak kyndlie at your handis.—Grenewitch, 14 Junij 1634.

TO THE EXCHEQUER.

Right, &c.—We ar informed that ane Monteith, late preicher at Dudingstonn, whois foull fact of adulteric is a scandell to the church in the highest degrie, and therfoir deserveth exemplaric punischment, is about to procure a pardon for his cryme: Our pleasur is, that none be granted vnto him vpon any condition whatsoever, without a speciall warrant from ws.—Grenwitch, 14 Junij 1634.

TO THE COMMISSIONERS.

Right, &c.—We have writtin to yow a litle befoir the recept of your letter vnto ws tuitching the scandalous and seditious lybell, to proceid with all diligence, according to your commission, in the tryell of the authours, and others fund anywayes accessorie thereto; and now haveing thereby perceaved your diligence and care therein, we give yow hartie thanks for the same, willing yow, in regard the exact tryell therby doeth so highlic concerne ws in our honour, to insist by all possible diligence to find out, not onlie the authours, bot lykwayes all such who, in any maner of way whatsumever, have had any hand at being accessorie or conceavers therof; and in the meane tyme we wilbe carefull that all possible and sccreit diligence be vsed for apprehending of William Hay, and returneing of him for his tryell befor yow, which we doubt not, if he shall chance to be apprehendit, yow will verie carefullie and exactlic performe, becaus much may depend thervpoun for cleiring the trenth of that bussines, and becaus that possible he may escape by retireing into that our kingdome or midlschyres, we will yow to have a watchfull ey over these parts in such close maner as may best conduce for his quick apprehending; and if yow sall find it necessarie that our further authoritie be vsed in that particular, that yow acquant we therwith, that accordinglie we may give such further ordour as we shall think fitt: All which recommending to yow, &c.—Grenwitch, 22 Junij 1634.

TO THE ERLE OF TRAQUAIR.

Right, &c.—We receaved your letter, wherby we perceave your cair in these particularis concerneing our service entrusted to yow of late as the tryeing of the authours of that scandulous and seditious lybell, for which we give yow hartie thanks; we have heirwith writtin at lenth vnto our Commissioners, as by our letter (which we will yow to delyver with all diligence) yow will perceave; and thairfoir we have heirfoir thought fit to recommend vnto yow in a particular maner to proceid accordinglie with the greatest care and diligence that can be vsed by yow, which we will tak weill at your handis, as also the expediting of all the accompts; which recommending, &c.—Grenewitch, 22 Junij 1634.

To the Erlis of Morton and Traquair.

Wheras by a certificat vnder your hand tuitching the accompts of Nicolas Briot, cheiff graver of our mynt heir, yow have declared that vpon the sight of our warrand for his payment yow will give present ordour: It is our pleasur that according to that which shallbe fund dew vnto him vpon his said accompts yow pay the same to him with diligence out of the first and readiest of whatsumever benefite shall accress or belong to ws by silver or gold in our cunzie hous; ffor your so, &c.—Grenwitch, 22 Junij 1634.

TO THE BISCHOP OF CAITHNES.

Reverend father in God, &c.—Being informed of a good and lawdable act made by yow in the synodall assemblie in your dyocie, wherby the first fruits of all entring ministers ar assigned heirefter to the repairing and vpholding of the Cathedrall Church thairof: Our pleasur is, that by the advyse of the right reverend, &c. Bischop of S^t Androis, yow strenthen and putt that act in execution by all the lawfull meanes yow can, being willing that all succeiding bischopis ratific that act at ther entrie to that bischoprick; and haveing now recommended to the most eminent persones within the dyocie the helping to raise such a contribution for building the bodie of that church as shalbe fund necessarie [and] requisit, as by a copie of our letter vnto them yow will perceave, we will expect at your handis your best encourageing of them and others of that dyocie with your best assistance, otherwayes and in such maner as may best conduce to the effecting of that our work so requyreing to be adverteised from yow, of the bountie of such persones as shall stand best affected to the bussines, and desyreing that thir presents be insert in your synodall books of Caithnes for testimonie of our consent to the said act; we will, &c.—Grenwitch, 22 Junij 1634.

with all diligence; and if it be fund that Nathaniell Edward, who hath a former grant of these works, hath not forfaulted the same in that caice, we will that his lease be continewed; but otherwayes, if it shalbe fund to be voyd, we require that it be furthwith discharged, and the other pairties authorized and enjoy the benefite of our grant to them.—Theobald's, 14 July 1634.

TO THE ADVOCAT.

Trustie, &c.—Being informed that yow have at this tyme vsed your best endeavours by concurring with the Erle of Airth for prorogating the reversion of his esteat, we give yow hartie thanks for the same, and doe heirby recommend vnto yow that from tyme to tyme as he shall have occasion tuitching that purpois yow will continew as yow have begun; which we will tak as good service done vnto ws.—Dat. vt supra.

To the Session.

Right, &c.—Wheras we wer pleased by our former letter vnto yow that the reversion of the Erle of Airthis esteat might be prorogat, which we did vpon consideration that his creditours wer sufficientlie secured of his Landis for his moneyis dew vnto them, and that we had bestowed vpon him the sowme of sex scoir tuelff thowsand merks Scotts for giveing them satisfaction, with a consideration for the forbearance of so much of the sowme as should not then be payed: The lyk considerations moveing ws at this tyme, and that we have heirwith writtin to our thesaurers for making speedie payment vnto him of these moneyis, it is our pleasur that yow stay all further proces at the instance of his creditours, or any of them, aganst him, and the execution of any decreit; which we will tak as acceptable service done vnto ws.—
Dat. yt supra.

TO THE THESAURERS.

Right, &c.—Haveing by our former precepts requyred that sex scoir tuelff thowsand merks Scotts might be payed to the Erle of Airth towards the releiff of his debts, togidder with fyve hundreth pundis sterling yeirlie dureing the not payment of that sowme, or most part thairof, Our pleasur is, that yow pay vnto him the saidis moneyis according to the said precept; but if the estate of our Coffers be such that the said sowme cannot be convenientlie payed vnto him at this tyme, we requyre yow to caus present payment be made vnto him of the consideration for the forbearance: And wheras we ar informed that he hath alreadie resigned in our favours his hous neir Halyrudhous, and that the surrender of his Ladeis pension of 500^{lib.} st. is made, and redie to be delvyered for our vse, wherin he hath performed his part of the said bargane, which we will yow to accept vpon his offer thairof, It is our further pleasur that vpon recept of these surrenders yow pay vnto him the sowmes condescended vpon, conforme to the former precept, viz.—for his hous 18,000 merks Scotts, and for his pension 30,000 merks Scotts lyk money: Of all which we will expect the performance at your handis, that the noblemanes estate be not longer endangered or we further troubled heirin; ffor which these presents shalbe your warrant and discherge.—Theobald's, 14 July 1634.

TO THE LORD GORDOUN.

Right, &c.—We have receaved your letter, and, as we have assured your Lady accordinglie, we shalbe carefull that the payment of these moneyis dew vnto yow, alsweill for the schirrefschippes as for the pension, be not long delayed, that your esteat may not any wayes suffer by want of the same; which we will be the more cairefull to performe in regard of the care yow have had in the religious breiding of your sones thair, whairof we have takin speciall notice, and desyre that yow may continew, assureing yow that when any occasion shall offer we will not be vnmyndfull of, &c.—Abthorp, 20 July 1634.

TO THE ADVOCAT.

Trustie and weilbeloved, &c.—Being pleased, according to our former intention to this purpois, that our servant Michaell Elphingstoun prosecute that our service for inbringing the benefite aryseing by such conceald ward's mariages and nonentresse whatsoever as shalbe reveiled by his meanes and informatioun, according to the Commission gevin by our Thesaurer; It is our pleasur that yow, in our name and for our interest, intent proces aganst all such our vassalls of the royaltie and principalitie to be reveiled by him as held ward or few of ws, who have not had lawfull gifts under our sealls, or have not accompted for the same in Exchanger before the tyme mentioned in the said Commission, and that from tyme to tyme yow effectuallie assist and concurre with him for performeing of that service according to the Commission; ffor which, &c .- Beaver Castell, 24 July 1634.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c .- Wheras by our former letter tuitching the ordoring of the sale of Tobacco was signified our royall pleasur vnto yow for establishing ane effectuall ordour that none within our kingdome should presume to sell or vtter the same by small and retaill bot such as shalbe thervnto licenced by our Commissioners appoynted for that purpois, under payne of our high displeasur, and such penaltie as yow shall think fitt to impose vpon the transgressours: To the effect that all matter of cavill may be takin away, and that the delinquents may know what danger they are to incurre by their contempt, Our pleasur is, that in the letters of publication heirof yow caus express alswell what is menit by small and retaill—to witt, the vnce, pund, or other proportion vnder the stone weght—as the liquidat sume that he shall think oght condignelie to be inflicted totics quoties by [way] of penaltic vpon the contemners of our royall will and pleasur heirin, the one halff therof to belong to the informer, the other halff to our Commissioners; wherin expecting your care, we bid, &c .- Beaver Castell, 24 July 1634.

TO THE ADVOCAT.

Trustie, &c.—Being desyreous to be informed in what way the honour and title of Earle was by our late dear father granted to the late Erle of Dumbar in that Erldome, Our pleasur is, that yow tak inspection ather of the said Erle his principall patent, or of the copie therof in the register of our great seall, and certifie ws whether the same be conceaved with particular restrictioun to the aires-maill of his bodie, or generallie to his aires-maills, or to his aires whatsoever, and who it is that to whom that title of honour (if it be not extingnisched) ought now legallie to belong; so we bid, &c.—Beaver Castell, 24 July 1634.

TO THE COMMISSIONERS APPOYNTED FOR TRYELL OF THE SCANDALOUS LYBELL.

Right, &c.—Haveing considered your last letter, with the depositiouns which yow sent ws, and conceaveing it not to be necessarie at this tyme that yow call any of the rest of the Lords befor yow, sieing the clearing of that bissines dependeth much vpon the apprehending of Haig, who is as yet fugitive, 11

we ar pleised heirby to signifie the same vnto yow: And sieing yow have bene alreadie so long vpon this bussines without performeing any thing, we ar desyreous that the Lord Balmeriuo come to his tryell, that so everie ane may sie the great reasone we have to prosecute this bussines: Therfor it is our pleasur that yow proceid to putt him to a tryell, but that yow superseid the executeing of any sentence aganst him vntill such tyme as yow shall know our further pleasur, which we are to keip verie secreit till sentence be gevin: So we bid, &c.—Beavor Castell, 24 July 1634.

TO THE ADVOCAT.

Right, &c.—Considering that our Croun of that kingdome doe suffer by many wardes of cheiff housses, which being now taxt can never vaik in our hands, and if not all, at leist many of them may be dew course be reduced to the esteat wherin they wer: It is our pleasur that from tyme to tyme yow vse your best endeavours for reduceing of taxt wards wher yow find any just ground in Law to that purpois: And now haveing bestowed the ward of the Erle of Buccleuch vpon our right, &c. the Erle of Stirling, which, as we ar informed, is taxt for the present, we have expressile commanded him to enter in action for reduction thairof, and therfor faill not to give him your best concurrance and help for effectuating of the same, wherin yow shall doe ws verie acceptable service; and for which these presents shalbe your sufficient warrant.

TO THE THESAURER AND DEPUTIE.

Right, &c.—Being informed befor the death of Sir George Elphingstoun, kny^t, late Justice Clerk of that our kingdome, ther wer some arreires of his pensioun due vnto him, and vnderstanding since of the distressed esteat of George Elphingstoun, his sone, by reasone of the great burdens contracted by his father, which he wilbe vnable to discharge, except we shalbe pleased to extend our favour vnto him in the payment of these moneyis, and being vnwilling (in regard of the good services done vnto ws by the said Sir George) that his sone should anywayes suffer in his esteat by want of these moneyis: It is our pleasur that what arreires yow shall find to be dew justlie resting of the said pension yow cans pay the same (the said George being as yit minor) vnto James Elphingstoun, his vncle, that by that meanes he may doe his best for the satisfaction of the creditours and saftie of his esteat: And for your soe doeing, &c.—Bagschot, 4 Sept. 1634.

TO THE PROVEST AND BAILLEIS OF EDINBURGH.

Trustie and weilbelovit, &c.—Wheras our late dear father and other our royal predicessours wer accustomed vpon occasioun of ther services to give ordour for electing such persones to be magistrats of that our citie as they in ther judgments thought most fitt and able for the publict good: We lykwayes, for the good of our service, tending to the benefite and advancement of that citie, being willing that able and discreit persones be made choyse of to bear publict charge heirin, have heirby thought fitt to requyre that at your nixt ensueing election yow present vpon the lyte of your provest, David Aikinhead, and vpon the lytes of your bailleis, Alex* Speir, And. Tod, Edward Edzer, and Alex* Dennestoun, Vpon the lyts of deane of gild Johne Sinclair, and vpon the lyts of your thesaurer, David McCall, and that accordingle yow mak election of the said David Aikinheid to be your provest, the said Alex* Speir, And. Tod, Edward Edzer, Alex* Dennestoun to be bailleis, Johne Sinclair to be deane of gild, and David MCall, thesaurer for this yeir, as yow tender the good of our service, which notwithstanding we declair shalbe without prejudice of your liberteis and priviledges: We bid, &c.—Dat. vt supra.

TO THE LORD PRIVIE SEALL.

Right, &c.—Yow will perceave by the copie of our enclosed letter to the provest and bailleis of our citie of Edinburgh our purpois for making of choyse of able and sufficient persones for bearing publict charge within that citie: To which end we will yow delyver our letter with all diligence to the magistrats and Counsell thairof, recommending to them a readie obedience to our desyre heirin, and that presentlic efter the election, incaice the persones elected refuis to accept your cause, direct letters of homing for chargeing them to accept, and that yow adverteis we with all diligence of the obedience heirvnto: Which recommending, &c.—Theobaldis, 16 Sept* 1634.

TO THE THESAURER AND DEPUTIE THESAURER.

Right, &c.—Wheras, in consideration of a precept of 6000 Lib. st. granted be our late dear father to our right trustie and weilbeloved Cousen and Counsellour the Erle of Stirling, our principall Secretarie for Scotland, for good and faythfull service done by him, and of a warrant of ten thowsand punds granted by ws vnto him vpon verie good considerations, as may appear by the same, we wer pleased to grant vnto him the benefite arysing by the coynage of the copper money within that our kingdome for the space of nyne yeres, and furder, till he should be compleitlie payed of all sownes whatsumever due by ws vnto him: now, to the effect our said servant may have the more assurance to mak bargane with others anent the said benefite for his releiff, and that ther may be a certane tyme appoynted for his payment and for our haveing the benefite of the said covne to returne vnto ws, we doe heirby ratific vnto him his grant of the whole benefite arysing dew vnto ws of that copper coynage during the tyme yit to rin of that his patent; And it is our spetiall pleasur that yow grant a warrant such as shalbe requisite of Coynadge of sex thowsand stane weight of copper, without intromission, immediatlie efter the ending of the coynadge of 1500 stane weight presentlie in hand, and for continewing of the coynadge efter the full perfyteing of the said 6000 stone from yeir to yeir for the accustomed quantitie as we coyned these tuo yeres past, and that dureing the whole tyme yit to rin of his patent, if ther sall any of it remane efter the full perfyteing of the coynadge of the 6000 stane, and that yow give ordour to our Advocat for drawing vp a sufficient discharge of the saids tuo precepts to be signed by our said servant, with a discharge to him from ws of his intromission, with any benefite arysing with the coynadge during the tyme past or to cum of his patent (of the which we doe lykwayes heirby discharge him), and that without any accompt to be made vnto ws or any in our name for the same in regard of his discharge of his saids tuo precepts, and caus registrat this our letter, and mak such order in counsell and exchequer as may be most expedient for the farder securitie and satisfaction of our said servant of such as he shall have occasion to treat or bargane with for making the best advantage of this our gratious intention towards him; for doeing whairof thir presents shalbe vnto yow ane sufficient warrant.—Theobald's, 18 Sepr 1634.

AU ROY TRES CHRETIEN.

TO THE KING'S AGENTS AT PARIS.

We have bene pleased to wrytt to our good brother the French king on the behalff of our subjects and merchandis of Scotland for restoreing the ancient priviledges they injoyed in France, which of late (as we ar informed) have bene infringed to ther prejudice, as by the enclosed coppie of our letter and the present bearer his further instructions yow will understand: Our pleasur is, efter yow have fullie informed yourselff of the estait of the bussines, and knowen how far and wherin they ar prejudged and hindred, contrair to the said former liberteis, yow doe delyver our saids letters, and efterward carefullie sollicite the cause with our said brother, and others his ministers and officers whom it doeth concerne, that a speedie course may be taken for giveing our saids subjects satisfaction, and for preventing the lyk abuses heirefter by causing the infringers and delinquents to be punisched according to the Lawes and enstome of that kingdome: Heirin not doubting of your readines and endeavours, we will expect ane accompt from yow, and tak it as acceptable service at your hands.—Theobald's, 19 Sep* 1634.

TO THE ARCHBISCHOP OF ST ANDROIS, AND DURIE SESSIONER.

Right, &c.—Being informed that ane M^r Johne Pape, Advocat, is desyreous to have a book writtin by him (intitulat De Jure regum apud Scotos) fullie revewed by such as we should appoynt, we have thought fitt to mak choyse of yow to that purpois, that, haveing carefullie pervised that book, yow certifie ws of your opinions tuitching the same, that therefter we may give such farder ordour for publisching or suppressing thairof as we shall find just caus: Which seriouslie recommending to your care, we bid, &c.—Theobald's, 19 Sept* 1634.

TO THE EXCHEQUER.

Right, &c.—Wheras we wer pleased to give licence vnto ane Young, a native in this our kingdome, for printing in our citie of Edinburgh, which was done in consideration of the publict good of that kingdome by hindring of moneyis from being transported in bringing in of books, bot hearing that now efter his charge in transporting thither and setting vp his works ther, with the buying of yrnes and others provisions necessar for such a work, he is questioned befor yow by some persones who would infringe his priviledges: Our pleasur is that he enjoy the benefite of that our licence or grant, conforme to the tenour thairof in all poynts, and to that effect that yow doe not suffer him to be any further questioned or troubled from executeing his charge in that service for the publict good; for which these presents shalbe your warrand.—Theobald's, 19 Sept. 1634.

TO THE SESSION.

Right, &c.—We have sent vnto yow the enclosed petition and information of the Lady Jeane Stewart and Robert Elliot, hir husband, tuitching the differences betweene the Erle of Buccleugh and them, wherin we ourselffes wer formerlie pleased to tak panes, and had composed that bussines, as we have done the differences betweene him and Francis Stewart, hir brother, if the death of the late Erle, his father, had not hitherto prevented our royall intention: And now, sieing the said Lady and hir husband ar to tak them to the ordinarie course of Justice, we have thoght fitt that yow seriouslie consider of the said informatioun and petition, and of ther distressed esteat and long sufferings, recommending vnto yow that speedie justice be administred in any action of thers comeing befor yow, and that they may have what hencefite in being reponed to pleid for ther right that lawfullie can be granted, or hath bene accustomed in the lyk caice and of the lyk nature: Which speciallie recommending, &c.—Theobald's, 19 Septr 1634.

TO THE EXCHEQUER.

Right, &c.—Haveing hene pleased vpon good considerations to signe vnto our servant Patrik Maule tuo signatours, the ane of the baronie of Brechin, the other of Balmakellie, which we have sent yow heirwith, Our pleasur is, that yow pas the saids signaturis without a composition, and thairefter caus expeid them vnder our great seall according to the tenour thairof, and that with as much diligence as can be vsed; ffor which these presents, &c.—Theobald's, 19 Sept. 1634.

TO THE THESAURER, CLERK REGISTER, ADVOCAT.

Right, &c.—Wheras David Prestoun of Whythill, being suretie for his vncle the late Erle of Desmond for great sowmes of money, had recourse to ws, efter his vncle's death, to be relieved by some parts of the benefite arysing by the ward of his daughter, wherepour we appointed some of our Counsell to tak notice of the burdenes, who found them to be as he affirmed, and that he had no assurance for his releiff bot ane assignement fra his vncle to a small pension for 19 yeres of some silver dewteis and mailles of the lordschip of Dingwall; Bot no furder course being takin at that tyme for his releiff then the clearing of his burdens, he hath now offered to surrender vnto ws the whole right of that Lordschip which he was forced since to compryse for that debt: In regard of the premisses, and that his offer is onlie to have, in lieu of his right to that Lot, the moneyis for which he comprysed the same, with the continewing of his pension (though schort of the annual rent of his principall sowmes) till he be payed thair of, And in regard he affirmeth the worth of that Lordschip doeth far exceed the value of his moneyis, and that the benefite thairof will daylie improve, it being setled upon the Croun, becaus it consisteth much in superioriteis and few-dewteis, and that the estats of many of these vassalls ly in nonentrie; Our pleasur is, that yow seriouslie consider of his offer, and, finding it fitt to be accepted by ws, that yow agrie with him for the same, and that yow give him good assurance of enjoying his pension till the moneyis condescended upon can convenientlie be payed vnto him, and to that effect that yow give ordour to our Advocat to sic the same legallie done, and to expeid his infeftment of that Lordschip, and to tak his surrender; ffor all these shalbe vnto yow and him a sufficient warrant.—Theobald's, 19 Sept. 1634.

TO THE THESAURERS AND DEPUTIE.

Right, &c.—Wheras Sir James Stewart, brother-german to the late Erle of Orknay, hath bene an humble sutter vnto ws at severall tymes that a consideration might be had of his distressed estate, and the rather becaus that he alledgeth the absolute right of that Erldome was devolved vpon him by his said brother long befor his forfeyture: Our pleasur is, that yow not onlie consider of his clame, bot lykwayes of what in your opinion can lawfullie be pretendit by any of the other brothers who hath bene humble sutters vnto ws tuitching that purpois, and therefter certifie ws of your opinions tuitching the same, that we may give such farder ordour theranent as we shall think fitt.—Theobald's, 19 Sept[‡] 1634.

TO THE CHANCELLOUR.

Right, &c.—Being crediblic informed that some yeres agoe our right, &c. the Erle of Galloway haveing by ordour of Law apprehendit ane James Kennedic for a debt of 22,000 merks Scotts, which the said Erle had payed as suretic for him, the Erle of Cassillis did in a violent maner, without warrant, bring the said Kennedic out of the Erle of Gallowaye's ladging in Edinburgh, and that therefter, vpon ther reconceilment and the said Erle of Galloway not insisting against the other for that ryot and wrong done to him, it was mutuallic condescendit that the said Erle of Galloway should be releived of the said cautionric, which notwithstanding is not done: Our pleasur is, that yow call the said Erle of Cassillis befor yow, and requyre him to performe what was so conditioned by taking a present course to releive the said Erle of Galloway of that debt, and in caice of the others being refractoric thairunto, by refuising or delay, that yow certific ws thairof with diligence, that we in our princelic judgment may sie some course taken for Gallowayes releiff, that by exemple thairof the lyk ryotts may be repressed heirefter: Which recommending, &c.—Hampton Court, 29 Sept. 1634.

TO THE COMMISSIONERS FOR SURRENDERS.

Right, &c.—We being certanelie informed that the Pryorie of Whithorne is annexed to the bischoprik of Galloway, and that our right, &c. the Erle of Galloway is taksman of sindrie tythes belonging to that pryorie, and haveing taken the estate of that bischoprik to your consideration, Our pleasur is, that yow medle noe farder with the tythes belonging to our said cousen till our further pleasur be farder heard theranent; for which these shalbe to yow sufficient warrant, Provyded alwayes that no prejudice doe heirby ensue in the vplifting of the annuitie dew to ws.—Hampton Court, 29 Sept 1634.

To MR MAULL.

Haveing occasion at this tyme to mak vse of your service in your charge about ws till we shall think fitt to spare yow some other tyme for dispatch of our affaires ther, Our pleasur is, that with diligence yow repair to our Court.—Hampton Court, Last Sept[†] 1634.

TO HIS MATEIS LEGAT IN HOLLAND.

Trustie, &c.—As we wer pleased heirtofoir to signifie our pleasur vnto yow for solliciting the estats generall for payment of such arreirs of pensions and vthers rests dew by them vnto the late Erle of Buccleugh, so the lyk consideratioun moveing ws at this tyme in behalff of our right trustie and weilbeloved Cousen the Erle of Buccleugh his sone, who is minor, and whois estate (as we ar informed) will be much impaired by his father's engadgments in raising of money for the service if a speedie course be not takin for his releiff, Our pleasur is, that yow tak particular informatioun from his kinsman, the bearer, of such moneyis as ar dew vnto him, and of such evidences as he can produce for clearing the debt, and that accordinglie yow carefullie sollicite the Estates and Prince of Orange (to whome we have writtin tuitching this purpois) for speedie recoverie of these moneyis, which we will tak as acceptable service done vnto ws.—Hamptoun Court, 30 Sept. 1634.

Wheras we are rediblic informed that diverse ordours, priviledges of jurisdiction, immuniteis, and exemptions wer institut and granted to the Vniversitie of Aberdene by our royall progenatour, James the Fourt, founder thairof, and since ratified and enlarged by diverse others our royall predicessours, which are now infringed to the great hurt of that vniversitie and members thairof, in the exerceis of ther studeis and severall faculteis, and to the great disparagement of our Vniversitie: To the end these priviledges and others aforsaid be re-establisched according to the laudable intention of the founder, and that such further ordours, priviledges, and immuniteis may be added of new thervnto as ar enjoyed by others famous vniversities, whervnto ther antient records have relation, and as may best conduce to the good of that vniversitie, and stand with the estate of that kingdome, Our pleasur is, and we doe heirby require and authorize yow, our Commissioners, or only to of yow, to pervse the antient writts and records of that vniversitie, and to call befoir yow our Advocat, that haveing by his advyse in poynt of Law dewlie considered thairof, and of what other testimonic can be fund to give further light tuitching these ordours and priviledges, that with all convenient diligence yow certific ws what yow find therin, with your opinions vnder your handis what is fitt to be done by ws tuitching the same, that a Chartour and new gift may be thervpon exped vnto them vnder our great seall, and in the meane tyme, that by advyse and concurrence of the reverend father in God the bischop of Aberdene, Chancellour of that Vniversitie, yow visite the same, and represse such abuses and setle such good ordour thairin as yow can lawfullie and convenientlie doe; ffor all which these presents shalbe to yow and others, quhom it may concerne, sufficient warrant.—Dat, vt supra.

To the Archbischops of S⁵ Androis and Glasgow, The Bischops of Aberdene, Murray, and Rosse.

To the Session.

Right, &c.—Wheras humble remonstrance hath bene made vnto ws, in behalff of the Vniversitie of Old Aberdene, that diverse landis, housses, tythis, annuiteis, and others things dedicated thervnto ar ather vnjustlie withholdin from them or they defraudit in not receaveing the dew and tymelie benefite thairof, wherby they doe not onlie suffer by want of what is justlie dew vnto them, bot that (if tymelie remeid be not provydit) the said Vniversitie will wholie decay: For the recoverie of which things in a legall maner they ar to intent action of Law befoir yow, to the end they be not distracted from ther stude and exerces of ther severall functions by attending vpon your Judicatorie, which is far distant from them, and that our royall intention may tak effect in sieing that and all other seminareis of learneing within that our kingdome to floorisch, we ar heirby pleased to recommend vnto yow in a serious and effectuall maner that from tyme to tyme, as any such action of there shall cum befor yow, Justice be administered thairin with as much diligence and convenience vnto them as can be affoorded by the Lawis of that our kingdome which as we will tak good and acceptable service done vnto ws: We bid, &c.— Hampton Court, last Sept* 1634.

TO THE ADVOCAT.

Trustic, &c.—We haveing vpon verie good considerations writtin to our Session that speedie justice be administred in any action that sall cum in befoir them tuitching the reduceing of such lands, rents, tythis, housses, and annuiteis as ar vnjustlie withholdin from the Universitie of Old Aberdene, or of such rents and dewteis as ar not dewlie and tymelie payed vnto them, as by the enclosed coppie of our letter yow will perceave: Our pleasur is, and we doe heirby will and requyre yow to compeir and concurre with them in all such actions of theris as may tend to the advancement and flourisching of that Universitie, and to that effect that yow vse your best endeavours that all ther laufull causes may be caryed for the best advantage and with the least delay, trouble, or charge that may be, that no occasion be gevin of distracting them from ther studeis and exerceise of ther severall functions which we will tak as verie acceptable service done vnto ws, for which these presents, &c.—From our honour of Hampton Court, last Sept* 1634.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—Wheras by this enclosed petition as yow will perceave there ar some things desyred by the petitioners for advancement of our service committed to ther trust: Our pleasur is, that yow give them your best assistance according to our desyres so far as justice may permitt, and that no tolleration be granted to the sellers of Tobacco derogatoric to the proclamations alreadic past; so not doubting, &c .-Vt supra.

Vinderstanding the sufficient qualification and good affection to our service of Doctour Wm Guild. doctour of Divinitie and minister of our brugh of Aberdene, within our kingdome of Scotland, we of our speciall royall favour and grace have accepted, and doe heirby accept and admitt, the said Doctour William to be one of our ordinar chaplanes, and to attend our service therin as we shall think expedient, ordeancing his oath of fidelitie to be taken to ws as our speciall servand and chaplane, to be taken theranent by our right reverend father in God, and right trustie and weilbeloved Counsellour the Archbischop of St Androis, -Gevin at Hampton Court, 7 Octor 1634.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—Being credible informed that the lyk abuse of counterfyteing of copper money is lyk to creip in that our kingdome as it was of late in this, wherby great disorders and hurt did ensue to our subjects heir, for tymelie preventing quhairof in the begining, befoir it cum to a further hight of prejudice to the publict, it is our pleasur that by proclamatioun at all places requisite yow strictlie prohibite all such vnlawfull coyneing of copper money, vnder such panes of censure and punischment as is fitt to be inflicted vpon delinquents in the lyk cases, intimating that it is our further pleasur that the halff of the benefite aryseing by fynes by transgressours shalbe allowed to the discoverers for ther panes, and the other halff to the persones who by our warrant ar at the charges of coyneing such a proportion of that coyne as is designed for the publict good, and that towards the loss to be sustened by them, and that yow vse what farther lawfull meanes yow shall think fitt for the tymelic repressing of that abuse.—Hampton Court. 7 Octor 1634.

TO THE THESAURERS PRINCIPALL AND DEPUTIE.

Right, &c.—Wheras we have bene pleased to signe tuo patents for our subjects of Scotland to trade in Affrick and Eist Indies, though yow forbear to sett your handis heir to any bussines propper to be dispatched at our Exchequer table of that kingdome which we approve, yit sieing yow ar both heir, and that the seasone (as is affirmed) docth neir approach for the adventurers putting out to these parts, ther being a necessitie that ther patents be first exped vnder our great seall of Scotland, whither they ar to returne with diligence for that purpois: Our pleasur is that yow signe them heir, that such a compitent number of others our Commissioners of Excheker as is requisite may the more warrantablie doe the lyk; for which these shalbe to yow and them sufficient warrant.—Gevin at our Honour of Hampton Court, 13 Octor 1634.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c .- Being informed that ther ar some who have presumed of late to vent within that kingdome not onlie the farthings of this kingdome formerlie (as we ar certanelie informed) discharged by 3 A

act of Counsell ther and proclamatiouns following thairvpon to have vent in that cuntrey, yea and as is probable such farthings as for ther insufficiencie ar not permitted to have course heir, but also false and counterfyted turnours, to the high contempt of our authoritie royall: Therfor, for preventing of the incress of this abuse and the punischment of such as ar or shalbe fund guiltie for the same, Our pleasur is, that wherever any of the coyneris of the saids counterfitted turnours or of the English farthings shalbe fund, or any of the inbringers or first venters or disperseris of them amongst the people, they be strictlie and exemplarlie punisched according to the nature of ther fault, and that the one-halff of the benefite to aryse ather by thir confiscations or fynes shalbe for the vse of the discoverer, and the other for our owin, as we shalbe pleased to dispose of it; inserting lykwayes in the saids proclamations such clausses and strict commandis as may cause the vse of these valawfull and publict abuses instantlie to ceise amongst the people, with certification of such punischment or fynes vpon the contraveners as yow shall think expedient for the strict observation of what yow shall think fitting to ordeane for the reformation of the said abuse. All which recommending to your best and speedie care, we bid, &c.—Date vt supra.

TO THE EXCHEQUER.

Right, &c.—Wheras we gave a commission to a select number of our Exchequer to consider of the esteat thairof, and to represent to we such remedeis as they thought most fitt and agricable to the Lawis of that our kingdome for releiving the burdens thairof and incress of our rents, who haveing bumblic represented vnto we ther advyse in severall articles subscryved by them, which we have approved and taken as acceptable service done vnto ws: It is our pleasur that by ane act of Exchequer yow ordeane the said Commission, togidder with the said advyse of the Commissioners, and our approbation of the same, to be registrat in the bookis of Exchequer, making such particular Acts of Exchequer heirvpon as from tyme to tyme shalbe fund necessar, and that yow give your best advyse, assistance, and concurrance for the good of our said service so often as yow shalbe requyred therto; wheref not doubting of your readic performance, we bid yow farewell.—Hampton Court, 13 Octor 1634.

TO THE THESAURERS.

Right, &c.—Wheras it is fund that ther is no necessitie both of Ishearis and Maissers in Exchequer, nor of Chalmerlanes, for ingathring of our rents of Rosse, Dumfermeling, and others places of that our kingdome; bot in respect that some have standing rights and patents therof, our pleasur is that yow tak the speediest course yow can ather for annulling or making them surrender the same.—Dat. vt supra.

TO THE THESAURERS.

Right, &c.—Wheras we have bene pleased to signe tuo Patents for our subjects of Scotland to trade to Africk and Eist Indeis, though yow forbear to sett your hands heir to any bussines propper to be despatched at our Excheker table of that our kingdome.—Dat. vt supra.

TO THE EXCHEQUER.

Right, &c.—Wheras vpon verie important considerations we established and association for the fisching of Great Britane and Irland, wheref we have in particular maner taken vpon we the protection, and wherby diverse conditions and restrictions are provided for advancing that great work, tending to the generall good of all our dominions, and spetiallie to that our antient kingdome; we being vnwilling that any of our subjects be discouraged in ther lawfull prosecution of the fisching trade, by being troubled for the excyse of any herrings taken by them in the places designed for the vse of the said Assotiation till our Counsell thairof setle a constant course both tuitching the tythis and excyse, Our pleasur is, that in the meane tyme no action nor proces be granted aganst our burrowis, or any of them, for the forsaid Excyse of herring till the said course be takin; for doeing whairof these shalbe your warrant.—Dat. vt supra-

TO THE COUNSELL,

Right, &c.—Vnderstanding the abilities and affection to our service of our trustic and weilbeloved Sir James Carmichaell of that ilk, knyt, our Justice Clerk of that our kingdome, and one of our Sueris, and being willing, for his better enabling and encouragement to our said service, to promove and advance him to be one of our privice counsell thairof, Our pleasur is, that, haveing administred vnto him the oath accustomed in the lyk caices, yow admitt him vnto our said Privice Counsell; For which, &c.—Hampton Court, 13 Octor 1634.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—Wheras it hath bene humblic compleyned vnto ws in behalff of our trustic and weil-beloved William Gray, merchant in Ed^r, that efter he hath, to his great charge and loss of tyme, brought the soapworks to that perfection wherby forrayne soap is made vnvsefull, and the cuntrey servit with better soap and at easier rates then heirtofoir, he is lyk to be depryved of the benefite of his travells by M^r Nathaniell Vdward, contrair to all equitie, as by the enclosed petition which we have sent yow heir with will at more length appear: Our pleasur is, haveing called both pairteis befoir yow, and haveing considered of the said information and petition, and of what farther can be alledged by any of the pairteis, that by yourselffis, or by a Committie to be appointed by yow of your own number, yow so order the differences between them as yow sall find to be most agricable to equitie, and as may best encourage all such introducers of vertew, by whom our subjects ar bettered and supplied with all or the lyk necessarie commoditeis. Dat. vt supra.

TO THE COMMISSIONERS OF TYTHES.

Right, &c.—We being willing, for good causses and considerations tending to the good of our service, that yow doe not value the personage of Dundie, or any tythis whatsoever belonging thervnto, Our pleasur is, that yow proceid not in any maner of way in the valuation therof till our further pleasur shalbe signified to that purpois; For which, &c.—Hampton Court, 13 Octo* 1634.

TO THE ERLE OF SEAFORT.

Right, &c.—Wheras yow did heirtofoir signific that yow wer willing to submitt to we your right to the yle of the Lewes, and to acquiesce with our royall determination in what maner we thought most fitt for the good of our service: To which purpois we, being willing to deall favourablie with yow, have appoynted Commissioners to tak tryell of your right, and accordinglie to transact with yow which hitherto hath bene neglected, and therfor have appoynted some Commissioners of new for taking ordour theranent: Our pleasur is, that vpon ther adverteisment yow come instructed for tryell of your rights, that vpon report of our Commissioners we may tak such course tuitching that purpois as we shall find to be most fit for our service, and just and equitable.—Hampton Court, 13 October 1634.

TO THE TOUN OF EDINBURGH.

Trustie, &c.—Haveing bene petitioned in your behalff for such moneyis as ar fund dew to vmquhill George Heriot, and wer doted by him to the vse of his Hospitall, for payment whairof we have alreadie gevin ordour to our Thesaurer heir, and wilbe carefull to sie the samyne done according to the authour his pious intention so soone as with conveniencie may be: It is our pleasur that yow proceid in that work for finisching the buildings intended by yow with all diligence, and not to neglect what may conduce to that purpois; which we will tak weill at your hands.—Hampton Court, 13 Octo* 1634.

TO THE EXCHEQUER.

Right, &c.—Haveing for the good of our service erected ane association for the fischings of Great Britan and Irland, whairof we have taken vpon ws the protection, and intending (for ther incouragments) to frie them from all vajust and value full exactions and impositions wherewith (as it is compleaned to ws) the heretours of the Yles doe trouble them: Our pleasur is, that yow call befor yow all these heretours where the saids fischings are or may be, and caus them produce their rentalls of such impositions, with their warrants or rights whereby they exact the same, dischargeing them from any such further exactions heirefter further than yow shall find tham lawfullie warranted, and that yow tak a special note of all customes or assysse levyed, ather to our vse or to the vse of any of our subjects within that kingdome, of the fischings; and that yow adverteis ws therof, that we may setle such a course theranent as may both encourage the said association and may best conduce to the good of our service.—Hampton Court, 13 Octo* 1634.

Wheras our right, &c. the Erle of Seafort hath submitted himselff to be disposed of by ws tuitching our right to the Lewes, and what we shall think fitt to determyne tuitching his clame and interest therin, to the effect we may be the better informed concerneing the premisses and the particulars efter mentionat: Our pleasur is, and we doe heirby give full power and commission vnto yow, whois names ar particularlie vnder expressed, to meitt and convene at such tymes and places as yow shall think meitt and necessarie, and ther to advyse and consider of our said right to the said yland, and to the said Erle his clame and interest therin, the rentall therof, the arreiris of the few dewteis of the same payable vnto ws, what portion of land therin yow think fitt that we reserve for our owin particular vse, to be disposed of as we shall think fitt, the commodities and lyeing therof most necessarie for our good and service, and what part therof is equitable for ws to give and confirme to him, the tenour, maner, and conditions to be mentioned in the disposition most necessarie for our service, and to report the same sealled vnto ws vnder your hand betuixt this and the first day of May nixt, that efter dew consideration had therin by ws, we may give such further ordour tuitching the same as we shall find caus, and discharges all former Commissiones heiranent, &c.—Vt supra.

To Erles of Morton, Sterling, Traquair, Sir Johne Hay, Sir Thomas Hope or oney thrie of them.

Our Soveraigne Lord Ordeanes a protection to be made vnder his hignes' great seall of the kingdome of Scotland to his hignes' lovit William Gordoun of Kirkconnell, John Fullerton of Carleton, Johne Gordoun of Cardones, Hew Gordon of Grange, Alex' Gordon of Erlstoun, and Ninian Herron of Culquha, making mention that wheras the saids persones being cautioners for the late Viscount of Kenmure for diverse sowmes of money, wilbe all uterlie vndone if at this tyme they should be vnseasonablic pressed by their creditours, befoir they can possiblic dispose of ther owin estats to mak vp sowmes of money for ther releiff, which is verie difficult to be so quicklie done as is requisit: And that for diverse considerations or to gett releiff out of the meanes and esteat of the said Viscout, he being bot so latelie deid, leaveing no aires-male of his bodie to succeid to his estate, his lady, who is with chyld, being neir the tyme of hir delyverie, his Matic, considering the intricat estate of these affaires, occasioned by the verie late and vn-expected death of the said nobleman, but withall cheiflie considering that the estats of the saids principall and cautionners are of far greater worth then the moneyes so owing by them, and that they are both willing and able to give satisfaction to the saids creditours, if any compitent tyme wer allowed vnto them for that purpois, wher if they wer vnseasonablic troubled it would be a meanes both to disable them and to disapport the creditours: Reliqua stilo ordinario.—Hampton Court, 14 Octor 1634.

Our Soveraigne Lord having sufficient prooff and tryell of the good, thankfull, and faythfull service done vnto his Matie by his highnes' trustie and weilbelovit Sir James Carmichaell of that ilk, knyt, gentleman suer to his Matie in ordinarie: And understanding his abilites, literature, and qualification for vseing and executeing of the place and office of his Mateis Justice Clerk of the kingdome of Scotland, and of the place and office of the Mr of the Ceremoneis of the said kingdome, both which places and offices doe now vaik in his Mateis handis, and ar at his highnes' gift and disposition by the death of umquhill Sir George Elphingstoun of Blythiswood, knyt, late Justice Clerk and Mr of the Ceremoneis: Therfoir his Matie ordeanes a Letter to be made vnder his hignes' great seall of the said kingdom, making, constituteing, and ordeaneing the said Sir James Carmichaell, knyt, Lykas by the tenour heirof maks, constitutes, and ordeanes the said Sir James Carmichaell his Mateis Justice Clerk and Mr of the Ceremoneis of the said kingdome, with full and absolute power vnto him, the said Sir James, to choose and appoint deputeis, ane or more, in the saids offices, as oft as he shall think fitt, and from tyme to tyme to vse, bruik, posses, and enjoy all and whatsumever fevis, rents, proffeits, preheminences, priviledges, immuniteis, casualiteis, digniteis, and emoluments, apperteneing and belonging to the saids severall offices of Justice Clerk and Mr of Ceremoneis, and ather of them, by whatsumever maner of way, with power to him, for his more absolute obteneing and enjoying thairof, to call, persew, and recover them by due course of Law, and everie way and in all respects whatsoever, as frielic to exerce, vse, bruik, and enjoy the saidis offices, and everie of them, with all the benefites, priviledges, and dignite sthair of, as the said vmquhill Sir George Elphingstoun, or any other his predicessours in the saids offices, or any of them, have bruiked and enjoyed the same at any tyme preceiding: Ordaneing the said Letter to be writtin to the said great seall, and exped under the same, without passing any other sealls or registeris, and that no further nor greater fevis or moneyis whatsoever be taken or exacted for wryting and expeiding heirof vnder the said seall than if aney ane of the abovenamed severall offices wer heirin onlie expressed or comprehendit, and to be exped at the ordinarie rate accustomed in the lyk caices; ffor which these presents shalbe your sufficient warrand, both to the keiper of the said great seall and writter thairof .- Gevin at, &c.

To the Thesaurers,

Right, &c.—Haveing bene pleased, in consideration of the long service done to our late royall father, he, James Dowglas, the late Secretareis depute, and as we ar informed of his necessiteis, aige, and great infirmiteis to ratifie his pension of 200^{hb} st. payable out of our Exchequer: Our pleasur is, that yow not onlie expeid the ratificatioun with diligence under our sealls, bot lykwayes that yew mak good and readie payment vnto him of the said pension yeirlie and termelie heirefter, and that yow tak a present accompt of the arreiris dew vnto him, and furthwith mak payment thairof in respect of his saids necessite and debts; ffor which, &c.—Hampton Court, 14 Octor 1634.

TO THE ERLE OF TRAOUAIR AND CLERK REGISTER.

Right, &c.—Wheras it is represented vnto we that it is necessarie that a constant charge be made of our rents, wherby our Thesaurers may be charged in tyme cuming, it is our pleasur that with all diligence yow mak a perfyte charge of all our rents, alswell propertie as principalitie, and of all casualiteis and particulars wherwith they may or oght to be charged, and that yow sett down a forme to be observed heirefter for making the charge of the accompts, and heirefter that yow present the same to the remanent Commissioners of Exchequer to be pervsed and allowed by them.—Hampton Court, 14 Octor 1634.

TO THE CITIE OF EDINBURGH.

Trustic, &c.—Wheras we did formerlie wryt vnto yow to modifie and provyde your Ministers with sufficient stipends fitt for ther places and qualitie, haveing accordinglie gevin commission to certane of our Counsell to treat with yow and sie the same done, which (as we ar informed) yow have continewed till Nor nixt: Our pleasur is, that yow appoynt Commissioners to meit with these whom we have so authorized, and setle that bussines by mutuall consent without further pley, that by your forwardnes in obeying our princelie and so just desyres, we may be the rather induced to extend our gratious favour vnto yow, when yow shall have recourse to ws for that purpois: We bid, &c.—Hampton Court, 14 Octo* 1634.

TO THE CITIE OF EDINBURGH.

Trustie, &c.—Haveing fund your readic obedience to our desyre concerning the election of the Magistrats at this tyme, we thank yow hartelie for the same, and as our predicessours did not tak the lyk course bot vpon a verie speciall consideration, both in regard of what is past and we intend heirefter, it is our pleasur that yow readelie obey and assist them who have authoritic amongst yow in all things that may tend to the good government of that citic and advancement of our service, that they may cheirfullie proceid to execute ther charges, assureing yow that we will not onlie protect yow, bot will contribute what is further necessarie to that effect for confirmeing of your present liberteis, and increaseing of them heirefter as reasone shall requyre; so being confident of your best endeavours for geving we satisfaction heirin, we remitt all particulars to be imparted vnto yow from we by our trustie and weilbeloved Counsellour Sir John Hay of Baro, knyt, our Clerk Register.—Dat. vt supra.

TO THE BISCHOP OF EDINBURGH.

Right reverend, &c.—We haveing the ght it fitt for the good of our Church of that citie that in each parcet ther be a principall and secund minister, sieing paritie in such cases doeth vsuallie breed confusion and disordour; and being sufficientlie informed of the qualification of Mr David Fletcher, minister, These ar to will yow to confer with him, and efter yow have informed your selff of his abilities and conformitie, that yow tak such a course as is most fitt for his admission to the vaikand place to the south-eist parcet of that citie, willing to tak to your consideration the abilities and conformitie of Mr James Reid, Minister at St Cuthbert's, and according as yow shall find him fitt to prefer him to the first vacant place in your dyocie: Which recommending to your care, &c.—Hampton Court, 14 Octor 1634.

TO THE ADVOCAT.

Trustic, &c.—Wheras we have often signified our pleasur vnto yow to delyver vnto our trustic and weilbeloved Counsellour Sir Johne Hay of Baro, knyt, our Clerk of Register, all submissions of the Lords of Erections and others our subjects concerning tythes which ar in your custodie, that the samyne may be putt vp in the Chartour hous of the Castell of Edinburgh, to remane amongst the rolls thair of: These ar therfor to will and requyre yow that vpon sight heirof yow doe not faill to delyver them to our said Officer; for which, &c.—Dat. vt supra.

To the Archbischop of St Androis and remanent Commissioners for the Rents of the Chapell Royall.

Right, &c.—We being gratiouslie pleased, according to our pleasur heirtofoir expressed, signified to this purpois, that the rents properlie helonging vnto our Chapell to be visited and ordered for the good theref, conforme to the Commission granted be ws to that effect: Our pleasur is, that haveing taken dew consideration of the Contents of our said Commission, yow proceid accordinglie with all diligence, and that yow gave ws ane accompt of your proceiding stuitching the same.—Hampton Court, 14 Octor 1634.

TO THE COMMISSIONERS FOR TYTHES.

Right, &c.—Wheras we are rediblic informed that by the valuation of the tythes of parcells of parcelines, without adverting that the whole Tythes of each parceline may be valued, we are prejudged in our annuitie, the ministers' stipends not weill payed, and wherby some others pious vsses cannot be so convenientlie done as is requisit: Our pleasur therfor is, that yow have a special care that the valuation of all the tythis of each parcelin be wholie exped, and that yow may so proceid as yow may witnes to we your care and diligence in the trust committed by we to yow by the dew and exact execution of your Commission for performeing of good and pious works, planting of the Church, and provydeing ministers with compitent stipends, and for the good of our service entrusted to yow: All which recommending to your care, we bid, &c.—Hampton Court, 15 Octor 1634.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—Wheras we vnderstand, according to our pleasur signified to yow of late, yow have establisched Justices of peace throughout the kingdome, which we doe approve, and therfor ar willing, for the better preservation of our peace therin, that yow requyre them to put our Lawis in execution with all care and diligence in so far as they ar warranted, that nather any complant be made vnto ws, nor that table of our Counsall so often pestered (as we ar informed it is) with ryotts vnfitt for the gravitie of such a place, and that yow authorize the saids Justices if neid beis, with what further power and authoritie yow shall find necessarie and speciallie in such parts of the kingdome wher yow shall find the greatest necessitie to requyre the same, taking such ordour for the peace and quyeting of the hielands as we by our former letter to yow for this purpois did prescryve, and that with all convenient diligence as yow shall find the necessities and present disordours of these parts: And as tuitching the Ylanders, that yow caus keip the ordour anent ther yeirlie compeirance befoir yow, to the effect that if any disordour should aryse from thence, the same may be the more easelie repressed, and our peace keipit with greater assurance: We bid, &c.—Hampton Court, 15 Octor 1634.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—Wheras we ar sufficientlie informed of the prejudice ensueing to our subjects be not registration of processes and decreits of apprysing is led and deducit at the instance of creditours against ther debtours, for remedie whairof we have thoght fitt and necessarie to establish ane public register for registration thairof, and to incorporat the same with the office of our Clerk Register, as persones to whom the same belongeth, and fittest to tak charge thairof, we have granted a signature to our present Clerk of Register: And therfor it is our pleasur that yow mak are act of Counsall thervpon, and caus exped the said signature vnder our great seall, with all diligence, causeing publication to be made thairof to all our subjects, that non pretend ignorance of the same; For which these presents, &c.—Vt supra.

TO THE COMMISSIONERS FOR TYTHES,

Right, &c.—Wheras we doe conceave that a proportionable part of the pryce of all tythes of Erections or payable rent of the same, valued or sold, doeth belong vnto ws, notwithstanding sindrie persones have valued and approved befoir yow ther valuations of tythes of Erections without considering our interest or medificing to we any proportionable part of the pryce or valued bolls of the same: Our pleasur is, that yow call befor yow all such persones as have alreadic exped ther valuations of the saids tythes, and haveing heard and considered of our interest that yow modific vnto ws such a proportionable part thair of as yow shall find to belong vnto ws, and heirefter that no valuations of tythes of erection be approven by yow vntill such tyme as our Thesaurer and Thesaurer deput he heard for our interest, and that a proportionable part thair of be modified vnto we according to the tenour of our decreit: We bid, &c.—Hampton Court, 15 Octor 1634.

To the Commissioners, Thesaurer, Archeischop of S⁷ Androis and Glasgow, Secretar, Thesaurer Deput, Bischop of Edinburgh, Bischop of Ross, President of Session, Clerk Register, Advocat, or oney five of them, the saidis Thesaurer Principall and Deput, and ane of the saidis Archbischops making alwayes tho.

Right, &c.—Wheras we have bene pleased to command our Thesaurers principall and deputie to vse all possible diligence in bringing in of the bygane annuitie of tythes, alsweill vnvalued as valued; and being gratiouslie pleased to give all ease and favour to our weill deserveing subjects, we by these presents doe will and allow yow to sell the heretable right of the said annuitie, and give a discherge of all byganes dew vnto ws for the same, for fyftene yere's purches, to all such persones as shall pay the said sowme for the saidis byganes, and heretable right of the same, within such compitent tyme, as shalbe theght fitt by yow: And becaus we conceave that these who postpone and delay to buy the same deserve not the lyk favour, our pleasur is, that yow proceid aganst them with all diligence for payment of the byganes, and if at any tyme heirefter they be desyreous to buy, yow mak them to pay for the same at the ordinar rates or custome in buying and selling of inheritance.—Dat. vt supra.

To the Session.

Right, &c.—Wheras we wer formerlie pleased to wryt vnto yow that, in regard of the submission intended betuix the pairties clameing interest to the erldome of Home, that no action concerning the same should be insisted in befor yow for a time till the said submission war by a decree determined, or some other course taken for setling therof: And now, haveing heard that ther is ane action begun or to begin concerning the Landis of Coldineknowis, which formerlie belonged to James Home; and least our meaneing in our former letter should be misconceaved as comprehending the saids lands within the said esteat of Home, we have thoght good to explane our selffes heirby, that it is our pleasur that whensoever any action or aney right or title whatsumever of the saids landis of Coldinknowis, which we understand doe not belong to our right, &c. the Erle of Hadinton, Lord Privis Seill, shall cum to be persewed befoir yow, that yow administer Justice therin with diligence, according to the course of our Lawes, and in all other things that yow schaw him as much favour as lawfullie yow can: Which specially recommending to your care, we bid, &c.—Hampton Court, 15 Octo* 1634.

TO THE ADVOCAT.

Trustie, &c.—Wheras we have agried with our Cousen the Duik of Lennox for his right to the pryorie of S^t Androis, vpon the Articles which ar to be schawin vnto yow by our right, &c. the Erle of Traquair: Our pleasur is, that haveing sene and considered of these Articles, yow draw vp with all convenient diligence the rights and securities of the said Pryorie, and a mortificatioun thairof, with all other writts which by these Articles yow shall find requisite, both tuitching our right and our said cousene's; and having prepared the same, that yow delyver them vnto the said Erle, to the effect that such persones as our said Cousen doeth trust in that kynd, haveing sene and approved such of them as concerne him, yow may therefter send them to we docated vnder your hand.—Hampton Court, 15 Octo* 1634.

TO THE DEANE AND CHAPTER OF EDINBURGH.

Trustie, &c.—Wheras we ar informed that the widow of the late bischop of Edinhurgh hath bene at great charge during the tyme of hir stay at Halyrudhous, she and hir children haveing had litle benefite of the rents of that bischoprik, occasioned by the small tyme of hir late husband's enjoying thairof, wherby sche is disabled to pay vnto yow, the members of that bischoprik, these moneyis dew vnto yow for the cropt 1633: Therfor we doe recommend vnto yow to quyt these moneyis vnto hir, extending, as we ar informed, to 100^{11b} sterling, and so gratifie hir with the lyk favour for the cropt 1634; which, as it will be ane meanes to help hir and hir children to returne to the part of ther former residence, so we will tak it as ane acceptable service done vnto ws.—Hampton Court, 15 Octo 1634.

Haveing signified our pleasur in sindrie particularis concerning our service to our Thesaurer and deputic Thesaurer, wherin as we ar verie confident of your best concurrence and assistance whensoever any of the particulars shall cum befoir yow wherin we have any interest, ather as persewer or defender, that yow will acquant them therwith befor yow proceid therin; which we will tak as acceptable service done vnto ws.—Hampton Court, 16 Octor 1634.

To the Erle of Kynmouth, Chancellour, Sir Rob⁵ Spottiswood, President, and remanent Lords and Senatours of the Colledge of Justice in that our kingdome of Scotland.

TO THE ADVOCAT.

Trustie, &c.—Wheras the place of Justice Generall of that our kingdeme doeth now vaik in our hands, and that the necessitie of our present service for the tryell of the Lord Balmerino, alledged authour of that scandalous lybell fund in the hands of John Dynmure, or accessorie thervnto, requyreth that some persone of qualitie and sufficiencie be putt in that charge: Our pleasur is, that yow draw vp a Commission with all clausses neidfull to W^m, Erle of Arroll, high Constable of Scotland, for being Cheif Justice for the tryell of the said Lord till the finall decision of that proces, and that with all possible diligence yow send it hither vnto ws docated by yow, that it may pas our owin royall hand and be returned with the lyk diligence; for which, &c.—Dat. vt supra.

TO THE COMMISSIONERS OF LYBELL,

Right, &c.—We have vnderstude by your letter of your proceidings tuitching the tryell of that bussines of the scandelous lybell fund in the handis of Johne Dinmure, and of the care and panes takin by yow thairin, where f we doe approve, so we give yow hartie thanks for the same, being now resolved that the Lord Balmerino be putt to the tryell of ane assyse, and with all desyreing that all possible meanes be first vsed that the trew estate and treuth of that caus be brought to light for our Advocat's better information how to insist therin, it is our pleasur that yow carefullie and punctuallie examine the said Lord, and that yow vse all other lawfull wayes and meanes yow shall think fitt and necessar to bring that bussines to the vitermost tryell, in so far as any evidences or presumptions can mak way thervnto; which we will tak as acceptable done vnto ws.—Hampton Court, 15 Octor 1634.

TO THE EXCHEQUER.

Right, &c.—Haveing resolved vpon good and important causes to tak into our owin princelic consideration the estate of the particulars efter specifeit, whairof offer of resignation shalhappin to be propounded befor yow for passing of new gifts thairvpon: Our pleasur is, that yow doe not exped in Exchequer any signature bearing infeftments of Abbayes, and pryors' housses, monasteris, nunreis, preceptoreis, collegiat churches, precincts of the same, nor lands thervato belonging, not formerlie fewed, nor accept of any resignation of heretable offices in Excheker, valess the gifts thereof be signed vader our owin hand or without a speciall warrant from ws to that purpois; for which these presents shalbe your warrant: So willing yow to mak ane act of ane Excheker heirvpon, we bid yow farewell.—Hampton Court, 15 Octor 1634.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—Wheras we wer pleased not long since to expres our royall pleasur tuitching the new imposition putt vpon Coall transported from that kingdome, and haveing at this tyme, amongst other things that may improve our rents thairof, gevin speciall charge to our officers to advert to our customes that we be not prejudged therin: And withall being informed how that by the great disproportion of Coal meassuris (some being bigger, some lesser in severall parts of the kingdome, no one certane syse or measur being kept) we ar prejudged in our customes, and our subjects troubled and hurt in ther lawfull trade, It is our pleasur that yow call befor yow the Coalmasters and others chefflie interested in the said trade of Coall, and that yow sie them condescend vpon a certane syse and coall measur to be onlie vsed throughout the whole kingdome for venting ther Coalls abroad, and therefter that yow prescryve such penalties to be inflicted vpon the delinquents as yow shall think fitt; wherin yow shall doe ws acceptable service, and for which these presents shalbe a sufficient warrant.—Hampton Court, 15 Octor 1634.

TO THE EXCHEQUER.

Right, &c.—Haveing by our letter required our right, &c. the Erle of Mar to mak accompt to yow of his intromission with the concealments of the taxatioun 1621, Our pleasur is, that yow hear of his accompts thairof to the end such moneyis as shalbe fund to be restand awand to ws, ather of these concealments or otherwayes, may furthwith be receaved by our Thesaurers Principall and deputie for our vse; for doeing quherof, &c.—Hampton Court, 15 Octo⁷ 1634.

TO THE EXCHEQUER.

Right, &c.—Wheras, for the increase of Manufactours in that our kingdome, and speciallie for provision of schipping, we gave a Patent to David Jonkine and Patrik Wood, merchants of Edinburgh, for bringing workmen fra forrayne parts for making of Cable and Taklen within that our kingdome; and in regard that work is both necessarie and will conduce verie much to our service and the publict good of our subjects ther, by furnisching convenientlie at all occassions the schipping of that our kingdome with sufficient provision, which now they ar forced to bring from forrayne parts, wher they ar often destroyed in the exportation therof, to the great domage of our schipping: Sieing this work (as we ar certanelie informed) cannot be vndertakin without and paynes to the patentes and ther associatts, It is our pleasur that furthwith yow expeid the said Patent vnder your hands, and, for ther better encouragement to prosecute the said work, yow grant vnto them such immunitie of custome for the materialls imported by them for that work, and for what Cables and Taklene made by them shalbe exported to forrayne parts, and that for so maney yeires as yow in your judgment shall think fitt, wherby they may be the more willing and readie to vndergoe the said work; For doeing quherof, &c.—Hampton Court, 19 Octor 1634.

TO THE BISCHOP OF EDINBURGH.

Being willing that our trustie and weilbeloved Mr James Hannay, Deane of Edr, reside at Halyrudhous till he hath performed some service ther to ws, which we are the rather confident he will the more readelie doe in regard of the good and long prooff he hath alreadie gevin by his great care and affection to our service, Our pleasur therfor is, that he be not removed from thence till our further direction be gevin to that purpois, willing yow to continew the election of the principall Minister of St Geills' kirk of Edr till we give ordour theranent; and in the meane tyme that yow deall earnestlie with the Magistrats of the citie for provydeing of ther ministers with sufficient stipends, according to ther severall charges, to which purpois we have signified our pleasur to our Clerk of Register, to be imparted vnto yow: And wheras we have provyded a sufficient Mansion for yow and your successours in our charge from ws, our further pleasur is that yow give him possession of the house that was the old mansion of the Lord Halyrudhous, with such a compitent proportion of the yard belonging thervnto as the Archbischop of St Androis, the Erle of Traquair, the Bischop of Rosse, and Clerk of Register, or any thrie of them, shall think fitt; For doeing, &c.—Dat. vt supra.

TO THE TOUN OF EDINBURGH.

Wheras we did formerlie wryt vnto yow that in modificing the stipends of your ministers yow would have a speciall care of the Principall Minister of St Geills', as of ane appoynted for the most eminent charge of the church of that citie, wherin by your letter yow promised to give we satisfaction, and to provyde compitent stipends for the rest of your ministers: It is pleasur that yow have a care to performe the same accordinglie, as yow will respect our service; wherin, haveing more particularlie imparted our will to our Clerk of Register, to whom we remitt the same to be signified vnto yow, we remitt the same to be signified vnto yow, we bid yow farewell.—Hampton Court, 19 Octo* 1634.

TO THE ADVOCAT.

Trustie, &c.—Wheras the reverend father in God, our right trustie and weilbeloved Counsellour, Johne, bischop of Rosse, hath reported vnto ws your great care and diligence in concurring with him in his action of reduction of the Abbacie of Ferne, and of your opinion and encouragement to him that it may be lawfullie reduced, for which we give yow hartie thanks; in regard it is for the good of our service, and for the said bischop and his successours' better enabling in that charge to propogat and mantene religione in these remote parts, we doe heirby effectuallie will and requyre yow to continew as yow have begun in reduction of that Abbacie, till it be brought to a finall end; and in other things that may concerne the said bischop his affaires, wherin he shall requyre your advyce and help, that yow give vnto him your readiest concurrence, which we will tak as speciall good service done vnto ws, whairof we will not be vnmyndfull.—Hampton Court, 19 Octo* 1634.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—Wheras we have resolved to putt the Lord Balmerino to the tryell of ane assyse, to which purpois we have made choyse of W^m, Erle of Erroll, high Constable of Scotland, to be Cheiff Justice for that tryell, whome we will yow to assist in all such things wherin he shall requyre your help and furtherance in the dew execution of his charge: And it is our pleasur, for the more exact and better proceeding in that tryell, that therof the senatours of our Colledge of Justice, whom the bodie of that Judicatorie shall think most able to mak choyse of to that purpois, be appointed for assisting of the said Justice at all tymes and occasiones vsed for that tryell; wherin both yow and they shall doe we acceptable service, and for which these presents shalbe vnto yow and them a sufficient warrant.—Hampton Court, 20 Octor 1634.

TO THE ERLE OF ERROLL.

Right, &c.—Wheras ther is a scandelous lybell fund in the handis of ane Johne Dynmure, wheref the Lord Balmerino is alledged to be the author or accessorie thervnto, in regard of the speedie and exact tryell heirof doe speciallic concerne ws in honour and the estate of that our antient kingdome, and that the office of Justice Generall thairof is now vakand at our gift, and that it is necessarie that one be established to this purpois, we ar pleased by our Commission vnto yow, for which we have gevin ordour, to mak joyse of yow, of whois abilities and affection to our service we ar confident, willing yow to accept thairof, and accordinglie to proceid as the case in Justice salbe fund to requyre.—Dat. vt supra.

TO THE ADVOCAT.

Trustie, &c.—Efter dew consideration haveing resolved to caus the Lo/ Balmerino be putt to the tryell of ane assyse, and to this purpois it being necessarie that yow informe yourselff of such particulars as concerne your charge in the legall prosecution of that bussines, it is our pleasur that with all convenient diligence yow insist thairin by produceing ane Indytment fitt for that purpois, and that yow carefullie goe on in everie other thing tuitching the prosecution thairof, as yow will answer to we vpon your trust, and that by the advyse of the Cheiff Justice yow prefix a day for the same.

TO THE ERLE OF MAR.

Right, &c.—Haveing resolved, for our better informatioun and knowledge of the Estate of our Exchequer, that all Comptis and intromissiones with our rents, casualiteis, or taxations, or any part thairof, be cleared, compted for, and payed to our Exchequer, and being certanlie informed that at the fitting of the accompt of your intromission 1621, ther is allowed vnto yow 12,000hbs for which yow at to be comptable in the subsequent accompt of the contentments of the said taxatiouns, and that as yit yow have not made accompt of your intromission with these concealments: Our pleasur is, that yow mak an accompt heirof to the Commissioners of our Exchequer, whom we have appoynted to receave the same, to the end that what shalbe fund restand awand by yow, yow furthwith mak payment thairof to our Thesaurers principall and deputie, the readic performance whairof we expect from yow, &c.—Hampton Court, 20 Octo* 1634.

TO THE CHANCELLOUR.

Right, &c.—Haveing sene and considered of what was done by the Commissioners appoynted for hearing of your accompts and intromissions with our Taxationis, we ar pleased therwith, and doe allow of the same, and our pleasur is that these moneyis that ar fund resting in your hands, or for which yow ar obledged to give in hornings or payment, that yow delyver and pay the same to our thesaurers principall or deputie, or otherwayes give in the horning lawfullie and dewlie execute aganst such as have not made payment of what is dew by them, and that at this nixt terme of Mertimes 1634, and as for that which is not accompted thairof, that yow mak course and payment of the same to our officers betuixt this and Candlemes nixt ensueing; The readie performance quhairof we will expect at your hands: So we bid, &c.—Hampton Court, 20 Octor 1634.

To the Commissioners for the Lawes.

Right, &c.—We haveing vpon good and important considerations gevin Commission to yow to surveigh our Lawis which wer ratifeit in our late parliament, it is our pleasur that, haveing condescended vpon certane dayes of meitting, yow goe on according to your Commission, and that with as much care and diligence as convenientlie can be vsed, and that yow certifie ws from tyme to tyme of your proceedings therin, by which yow will doe vnto ws acceptable service.—Hampton Court, 20 Octof 1634.

TO THE COMMISSIONERS CHAPPELL ROYALL RENTS.

Right, &c.—We being graciouslie pleased, according to our pleasur heirtofoir signified to this purpois, that the rents properlie belonging to our Chapell Royall be visited and ordered for the good thairof, conforme to the Commission granted by ws to that effect: Our pleasur is, that haveing taken dew consideration of the contentes of our said Commission, yow proceid accordinglie with all diligence, and that yow give ws ane accompt of your proceidings tuitching the same.—Hampton Court, 20 Octo* 1634.

To the B^p of S^t Androis and remanent Commissioners for visiting the rents of the Chappell royall.

TO THE ARCH BISCHOP OF GLASGOW.

Right, &c.—Wheras these diverse yeres past we suffered the bischop of Caithnes to reside at Jedburgh, it being now fitt that he returne to his dyocie for supplieing his charge, and in the meane tyme being willing that the Church of Jedburgh may be supplied with ane able and qualified persone, we have to that purpois thoght fitt to nominat and present vnto yow M. James Burnett, persone of Lawder, of whois sufficiencie and abilities in the function of the ministerie we ar sufficientlie informed, and therfoir do heirby will and require yow to authorize him in the said charge of Ministrie at Jedburgh, geving vnto him letters of collation and admission as in the lyk cases is requisit.—Dat. vt supra.

TO THE ADVOCAT.

Trustie, &c.—Being informed that the take of our customes ar sett for mae yeires then is visuall, and at lower rates and pryces than otherwayes we can have for the same: It is our pleasur that yow tak the estate heirof into your consideration, and that yow vie your best endeavours to reduce the saids take by Law, otherwayes to move the takers to surrender the same, wherin we will yow to proceid from tyme to tyme as yow shall receave forther directions from our Thesaurers, or oney of them, for the furthring of our service heirin: So not doubting of your care and diligence in what may tend to the advancement of our service, we bid, &c.—Hampton Court, 20 Octor 1634.

To SIR JOHN AUCHMOUTIE.

Trustie, &c.—Haveing vpon good considerations gevin Commission for surveighing of all our wardrop stuff, plate, and furnisching belonging to ws, as by the Commission yow may perceave, it is our pleasur, and we doe heirby will and requyre yow, to produce and delyver vnto them the said plaitt stuff, hanging is, and furnisching where f yow have or hes had the charge at any tyme preceiding, that the same may be disposed of by the Commissioners as they are warranted by our said Commission.—Dat. vt supra.

TO THE THESAURERS.

Right, &c.—Haveing considered of the humble advyse and opinion of these our Counsall and Exchequer to whome we pleased to give Commission for considering the Estate of our Exchequer, and the wayes how to releive the burdenes thairof, and to remedie the abuses latelic crept therin, We ar weill pleised therwith; and therfoir our pleasur is that yow prosecute everic particular thairof in so far as concernes your office, and as for such particulars as we have entrusted to be performed by Commission, that yow in lyk maner have a speciall care to sie the same prosecuted accordinglic with all convenient diligence, suffering nothing to be done contrarie to the trew meaning heirof; ffor which these presents shalbe your warrant.—Dat. vt supra.

TO THE EXCHEQUER.

Right, &c.—Wheras by advyse of some of our Commissioners of Excheker, vnto whom we have intrusted the consideratioun of the burdenis therof and remedeis of the same, we ar to mak the best vse of our rents and casualiteis within that our kingdome: Our pleasur is, heirefter yow pass no gifts of any nonentresse, wardis, escheits, or of any other casualiteis, bot with a dew consideration of the benefite arysing therby, and speciallie of these that ar denuncit our rebells for not payment of any part of our rents or taxations, for which these presents shalbe your warrant.—Hampton Court, 20 Octor 1634.

To the Commission.

Wheras by our letter to the Commissioners of Tythes we have willed them to modifie to ws a proportionable part of the pryce and rents of all tythes of erection, ather valued or vnvalued, conforme to the tenour of our decreit, notwithstanding, being willing to tak such ane fair course with our subjects as may give them ease with the least prejudice to our service that may be, We have heirby gevin and granted, lykas be the tenour heirof we give and grant, full power and commission to yow, the persones in maner vndermentionat, to treat and agrie with the Lords of Erections and others persones whatsoever haveing any part of the saids erections or tythis belonging thairto, for making retribution vnto ws for our said part of the saids tythes, ather by surrander of the whole, or of a proportionable part of the few maills of erections or otherwayes, as yow shall think most convenient for our service, and the rights and securities to be made by yow to them, being registrat in our Thesaurer's books and books of Excheker, shalbe vnto them sufficient warrant.—Hampton Court, 20 Octo* 1634.

TO THE EXCHEQUER.

Right, &c.—Haveing made choyse of yow to be Commissioners of our Exchequer for judgeing of all such cases shall occure befor the said judicatorie, and for assisting of our thesaurers principall and deputie in the manageing and ruleing of our rents and casualiteis of that our kingdome, it is our pleasur that yow furthwith accept heirof, and carefullie and diligentile carie your selffis in the discharge of that trust we have bene pleased to putt vpon yow: and becaus we intend to have the same kept as a solemne and formall judicatorie in all tyme cuming, Our further pleasur is, that at your first meitting yow tak such a course that no persones except your clerks and necessarie members of Exchequer be admitted to stay amongst yow, and that yow mak and establisch such other acts and statutes for regulating the ordour and forme to be keipit in that Judicatorie as yow efter dew deliberatioun shall think fitt.—Hampton Court, 20 Octo^{*} 1634.

TO THE COMMISSIONERIS OF SURRENDERS.

Right, &c.—Wheras we ar informed that vpon our letter to yow in May last, significing our pleasur that if any bischop or beneficed persone had a desyre to buy for the vse of the church any tythes which did formerlie belong thervnto, they should be preferred to any other persone, yow have assigned the first of Januarie nixt to the right, &c. of S^t Androis for buying in of some tythes of that pryorie for the vse aforsaid, bot in regard of the schortnes of that tyme, he cannot convenientlie tak that speedie course for buying these tythes that is requisite, and which we desyre may be takin for the good of the Church: It is therfor our pleasur that yow assigne vnto him a longer tyme, and that we may be made acquanted with it befor it doe expyre, that we may give such furder ordour theranent as we shall find just caus.—Dat. vt supra.

To the Exchequer.

Right, &c.—We receaved your letter and doe approve your opinion concerning the same, being willing that Mr Nathaniell Edward enjoy the full benefite of his pătent till the expiration of the yeres therof, efter which tyme he cannot in reasone expect farther: haveing now resolved for the good of our service and furthering of the work of the soap bussines intended for the publict good by the continewing thairof in the persone of some one, speciallie of so antient and well deserveing a servant to our late dear father and ws, we have to that purpois signed a grant vnto him, as yow will perceave by the same; and thairfoir it is our pleasur that yow caus exped the said grant vnder our great seall with all possible diligence, that the patentee and his partiners may enjoy the benefite thairof efter the expiration of the said former grant.—Hampton Conrt, 20 Octor 1634.

To the Archbischop of St Androis.

Right, &c.—Wheras we have condescended with our Cousen the Duik of Lennox for surrendering the Pryorie of S^t Androis, as by the Articles sent by our right trustic, &c. the Erle of Traquair; to which purpois, haveing requyred our Advocat to draw vp the said surrander and a mortification of that priorie for the intended vse, It is our pleasur that with all possible diligence yow repair vnto our citie of Edinburgh and sie the saids writts legallie drawin vp, which we will accompt as verie acceptable service for ws: And for which these, &c.—Hampton Court, 20 Octor 1634.

To the Archbishop of Glasgow.

Right reverend, &c.—Wheras our royall predicessours have bene carefull for advancement of learning to endow the Colledge of Glasgow with the tythes of some churches for the better intertenement of some professours and schollers ther, being now informed that some ar about to tak advantage of them by some small defects in the maner and forme of their rights, to the prejudice and vindeeing of that so antient and famous a seminarie of the church and commonwell: It is our express pleasur and will that, if any persone shall purches from we a presentatioun to any church or benefice belonging to the said Colledge, yow nowayes give collation to any such persone or persones presented by we till he give sufficient suretie to yow and the said Colledge that he nor they shall not disturb, by Law or otherwayes, the right or profession of the said Colledge; wherin as we ar confident yow will give to the masters and others of that Colledge your best assistance, so yow may be confident that we will accompt it good and acceptable service done vnto ws.—Hampton Court, 20 Octor 1634.

TO THE ARCHBISCHOP OF ST ANDROIS.

Right Reverend, &c.—We ar weill pleased and accompt it acceptable service that yow ar so carefull according to our command to have a book of common prayer and a book of Canons established in the church of that our ancient and native kingdome, the one being a necessarie meanes to advance God's worschip, the other ane soverane help to avoyd confusion, As we give yow hartie thanks for this care, so we ar heirby pleased to encourage yow to the continuance and perfyteing of both; and for the book of common prayer, It is our expres will and pleasur that yow caus fram it with all convenient diligence, and that as neir as can be to this of England, and till yow have framed your owin, that, as befoir we commanded, yow doe tuyse a day service in your owin privat familie according to this of England; And that yow caus the same be done in your Cathedrall Churches in all holydayes, and in all publict assemblies, and that in our name yow command all our bischops and colleges within your provinces to doe the same; and if they dissobey, that yow certiefie ws, as ye wilbe answerable for the same, in all which we expect your loyall obedience for advancement of God's glorie, the good of our service, and honour of that church, as yow may be confident of our princelie care to advance all your pious and good designes.—Hampton Court, 20 Octor 1634.

Similar letter to the Archbishop of Glasgow, of same date.

TO THE COMMISSIONERS FOR TYTHIS.

Right, &c.—Wheras we have heirtofoir signifeid our pleasure vnto yow that in the valuation of tythis that yow proceid first with the churches of erectioun, and till these valuations be exped, that yow goe with no other, haveing lykwayes ordeaned that in other churches which ar not of erections heretours may convene befor yow the taksmen of ther tythis, to the end they may denude them selffis of their rights in favours of the heretours, and withail have expressed our pleasur that churchmen shalbe preferred to buy ther taks and leaces first: Therfor we will that if any churchmen pleas to tak the benefite of that our Commission by buying of the rights of taksmen, according to the course taken by yow in favours of the heretours, though the heretours themselffis doe not change, the churchmen may conven the taksmen for denudeing themselffis in favours of the church: And it is our further pleasur to have a caire to provyde the Ministrie with good and compitent meanes, proportionable to the valuations, and not to mak 800 merks of 8 chalders of victuall the highest proportion of competencie, nor wher the ministrie ar alreadie in possession of ther viccarages, yow value these viccarages that so yow may mak the less preportion of ther augmentatioun, bot that the proportion of augmentatioun be conforme to the valuation of the tythis of the parochin.—Hampton Court, 20 Octor 1634.

To the Provest and Bailleis of Edinburgh.

Trustie, &c.—We ar informed that though yow find a great inconvenient by our seat within the paroch kirk of that citie, built for the vse of our late royall father, in regard it doeth stop the eisterne light and window of that churche, yit yow have heirtofoir foirborne to medle therwith without direction, which we tak weill at your handis: And being now trewlie informed that it is verie necessarie to be helped, it is our pleasur that with all diligence yow cause remove the said seat, and place it in some more convenient part; for which these presents shalbe your warrant.—Hampton Court, 20 October 1634.

To the Session.

Right, &c.—Vnderstanding that the reverend father in God the Bischop of Rosse hath intented action of Reduction and Improbation befor yow of the Abacie of Ferne, wherin, sieing his endeavours ar for the right and good of the church, and for the better enabling of him and his successors in such a charge, and in so remote a place, for the propagating and manteneing of religion in these parts, we ar heirby pleased to recommend vnto yow in a most effectuall maner that speedie justice be administred in the said action: And that in all things else comeing befor yow concerneing him yow schow him all the lawfull favour and justice yow can; which we will tak as done vnto our selffis, and wherof we will not be vnmyndfull.—Hampton Court, 20 Octo[†] 1634.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—Haveing gevin ordour to our Archbischops and bischops of that our kingdome that the high Commission shall sitt constantlie in Ed^r dureing the tyme of the Session everie Thursday betweene ten and tuelff hours in the foirnoone, without stop or hinderance alwayes that it may sitt anywher else and at any vther tyme, vpon ane vrgent and necessar occasion: It is our will and pleasur that yow cause proclamation to be made at all places neidfull, that our subjects may have dew notice heirof.—Hampton Court, 20 Octr 1634.

TO THE COMMISSIONERS OF TYTHES.

Right, &c.—Wheras we ar informed that by the delay in approveing the valuatioun of the Tythes of Crawfurd Lyndsay, made by the sub-commissioners of Lanerk at the instance of John, Lord Halyrudhous, the reverend father in God the bischop of Edinburgh, and the relict and children of his predicessour, the late bischop therof, ar verie much prejudged, in regard these tythes ar a part of the Patrimonie of that bischoprik, for setling wherof we have had so great a care, and that our royall intention is rather to add thervnto some furder meanes of new than that any part of that patrimonie should ather be astricted or made vnusefull; We ar heirby pleased that yow seriouslic consider of ther severall rights and claymes or made vnusefull for the reufferings by want therof, in regard of the one's charge and troubling in setling himselff ther of late, and of the otheris poore estate, being a widow, and left with a charge of children; and therefter it is our further pleasur that with all expedition yow proceid to the allowing of the said valuatioun, that vpon speedic execution, according to your decreit thervpon, they may receave and enjoy these tythis, great and small, according to ther severall rights and claymes, and as shalbe fund agricable to the tyme, intent, and meaneing of our generall determination vpon the submission of the Clergie: Wherof remitting to the said bischop the further informatioun, we bid, &c.—Hampton Court, 20 Octor 1634.

Wheras we ar pleased, by our gift vnder the privie seall in that our kingdome of Scotland, to bestow vpoun the right reverend father in God the Archbischop of Glasgow the sowme of 5000^{lib}, sterling money, to have bene payed vnto him at the termes mentionat in the said gift; and becaus the said Archbischop hes not as yet receaved payment of the same, Therfoir it is our pleasur that yow furthwith mak payment vnto him, his aires and assigneyis, of the said sowme of 5000^{lib}, st., and that out of the first and readiest of our rents, propertie, and casualiteis therof, or out of the first and readiest of our taxatiouns last granted vnto ws of that our kingdome, with the interest therof, if any shalbe fund dew, so long as the samyne remanes vnpayed, and that yow accept of this our warrant, testificing vnder your hand to the said Archbischop your acceptatioun therof, and that therefter yow sie ws discharged of that debt so owing be we ynto him: And for your soe doeing.—Hampton Court, 20 Octo[‡] 1634.

To our Thesaurers, the Erles of Mortoun and Traquair
Principall and deputie,

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—We have bene informed of a great abuse that hath prevailed within these late yeires in that our kingdome by the disordourlie behavour of some dissobedient people, who, leaveing ther owin paroche churches, ran to seik the Communion at the handis of such ministers as they know to be disconforme to good ordour, which is the meanes of ther dissobedience to our lawes, and to manteyne a schisme in the churche, the repressing whairof being onlie in our power: It is our expres pleasur that by oppin proclamatious yow discharge all such wandrings of our people from ther owin teachers, under the pane of our high displeasur; with certificatioun that whosever sall not communicat in ther owin paroche churches once at leist ane yeir, shalbe called and punisched as none communicants, according to the act of Parliament made theranent: Wherin expecting your diligence, and for which these presents shalbe your warrand, we bid, &c.—Hampton Court, 20 Octor 1634.

TO THE COMMISSIONERS OF TYTHES.

Right, &c.—Wheras we ar informed that the tythscheaves of the Lands of Pilrig, and sindrie others tythes within S^t Cuthbert's paroche, apperteneing to the patrimonic of the bischop of Edinburgh, wer valued befor that Commission far ynder the trew worth, and that the valuatioun was valawfull and informallie deduced, without any probatioun: Our pleasur is, that yow tak such a course for revalueing of these tythes by rateing thairof to the trew worth, that the reverend, &c. bischop of Edr suffer no prejudice, or have just occasion of complaynt heirefter, bot may enjoy, as other our subjects doe in the lyk caces, the trew value of these tythes; wherin yow shall do we acceptable service, and for which these presents shalbe your warrant.—Hampton Court, 20 Octor 1634.

TO THE LORD LORNE.

Right, &c.—We ar informed that ther is a question moved by yow to the reverend father the bischop of Argyll vpon some right of yours pretendit to the Commissariot of that dyocic, which being an ecclesiasticall jurisdiction cannot convenientlie be exercised by any other then a spirituall persone, the power whairof being to flow from the ordinarie of the boundis: Therfor we have thoght fitt to recommend vnto yow to forbear the moveing of any such contraversic, suffering the said bischop and his successours in that charge to enjoy that commissariot and priviledges thairof as ther predicessours have vsed in former tymes, which we expect of yow as of one that is weill disposed in all things concerneing a readic obedience to our princelic and just desyres, assureing yow that when occasion shall offer we shall not be vnmyndfull heirof.—Hampton Court, 20 Octor 1634.

TO THE ADVOCAT.

Trustie, &c.—Haveing writtin to our Commissioners for Surrenders to rectifie the valuatioun of the Tythes of Pilrig, belonging to the Bischop of Edinburgh, alledged to have bene valued far vnder the worth theref, and for allowing of the valuatioun of the tythis of the parish of Crawfurd Lyndsay, made by the sub-commissioners of Lanerk, as yow will perceave by the copeis of our letters writtin to them; Our pleasur is, that yow concurre and assist the reverend father the bischop of Ed^r for revalueing of these tythes of Pilrig, and for the obteneing of their approbatioun of the saids tythes of Crawfurd Lyndsay, and that yow vse your best endeavours to mak these tythes to be payed to the said bischop, and to the widow of his predicessour, the late bischop of Ed^r, according to ther severall claymes and rights, and for the cropts 1633 and 1634, and yerlic therefter, and that in all other things that may tend to the advancement of the said bischop his just and lawfull desyres, yow give your best and readiest ayde and concurrence, in so far as concernes your charge, which we will tak as verie acceptable service done vnto ws, and for which these presents shalbe your warrant.—Hampton Court, 20 Octor 1634.

TO THE SESSION.

Wheras by a former letter we willed yow not to proceid in any action in Law at the instance of any persone aganst our frie burghs tuitching the tythes of the Yles fischings, for the reasones therin contenit: And wheras we ar now informed that ane M^r Alex^r Guthrie of Gegay did purches a lease of these Tythes from one who (as it is pretended) had a lawfull right theref from the late bischop Knox, sometyme bischop of the Yles: To which purpois, being humblie moved in behalff of the said M^r Alex^r Guthrie that a dew consideration might be had that he procured that Lease vpon valuable conditions, both his owin and his authour's right being sufficient and just, and that therfor he might have the benefite of our Lawes, We have thoght fitt to recommend vnto yow the consideration heirof, that if yow find considerable grounds for his right, he may have justice administred vnto him in his cause, without interruptione: So we bid yow farewell.—Dat. vt supra.

To the Bischop of Edinburgh.

Wheras we have gevin ordour to the Archbischops and bischops of that our kingdome that they use the common Book of Prayer, used in this our kingdome, not onlie in ther owin privat famileis twyse a day, bet also in the Cathedralls; and considering how much the exemple of Ed^r may ather advance or hinder this work, and being confident of your abilities and good affection to our service and to so pious a work, doe heirby will and requyre yow that with discretion and forwardnes yow endeavour to obey our just and pious commandments heirin, and that yow have a speciall care that none enter the service of the Ministrie of Ed^r bot such persones as ar most able and conforme, and of a peaceable and quyet cariage, or such as we shall recommend vnto yow, sicing vpon the peace and good government of that churche depends the quyet of the whole churche of that our kingdome: As we ar confident of your care and obedience heirin, so we will compt it as acceptable service done to ws, and be confident we will strenthen yow with our royall countenance and protection, and shall give yow our best encouragements for these and all other good services of the church of that kingdome; so we bid yow farewell.—Dat, vt supra.

Commission.

Wheras vpon good consideration [we have] gevin yow ordour for examing the Lord Balmerino, and considering by the Commission granted vnto yow the 5 of May last ther must be at the least 7 of yow necessarlie present, we conceave that so great a number may perhaps hardlie at all occasions be fund readie to meitt, many of the Commissioners being otherwayes severallie and particularlie imployed in matter concerneing our service: Therfor, least by the want of that full number ther may be delayes aryse in the tryell of that bussienes which we desyre may with all possible diligence be cleired, it is our pleasur and we doe heirby authorize yow, or ony fyve or four of yow, geving yow full power and commission to meitt and examyne the said Lord Balmerino, and to performe all other things wherento yow war warranted by our said former Commission or letter, which we declaire heirby shalbe as sufficient as if the full number had mett: And if yow shall think fitt it is our pleasur lykwayes that yow require our Cheiff Justice to assist yow at the said re-examination wheranent thir presents shalbe a sufficient warrand.—Hampton Court, 20 Octo[†] 1634.

The Names of the Commissioners which wer in the last Commission of the 5 May 1634 ar to be heir insert, 4 or 5 being the quorum, and the rest as it is in that other Commission.

TO THE EXCHEQUER.

Right, &c.—Wheras for the increase of our manufactore within that our kingdome, and speciallie for provision of schipping, we gave ane patent to Davide Jonkene and Patrik Wood, merchandis of Edr, for bringing in of workmen from forane parts, for making of Cabell and Takell within our said kingdome; And in regard that work is both necessarie, and will conduce much to our service and the publict good of our subjects, therby furnisching convenientlie at all occasions the schipping of that our kingdome with sufficient provision, which now they ar forced to bring from forane parts, from whence they ar often restrayned in the exportation therof, to the great damage of our schipping, sieing this work as we ar certanlie informed cannot be vudertakin without great charges and panes to the patenteis and ther associats: It is our pleasur that furthwith yow exped the said patent vuder your handis, and for the better encouragement to prosecute the said work, yow grant vuto them such immunitie of custome for the materialls imported to them for that work, and for what cables and takline made by them shalbe exported to forane parts, and that for so many yeires as yow in your judgment shall think fitt, wherby they may be the more readic and willing to vudergoe the said work.—Dat. vt supra.

TO THE DEPUTIE OF IRLAND.

We wer pleased tuo yeires since to requyre our Vice Thesaurer of that our kingdome to pay vnto W^m Hay, esquyre, the sowme of 500 Lib. stg., furth of the fynes and doubled rents of our province of VIster, wherof accordinglie the payment being commenced, ther followed a generall restraynt of all moneyis till such tyme as that kingdome wer able to bear ther owin charge; whereyon the said William, searching efter some extraordinarie casualitie, hopeing out of it to be payed, and haveing fund, as he affirmes, at his owin charge and industrie certane concealed moneyis dew vnto ws, he now requeists that out of the first that hath or salbe receaved therof, he may retene 250 Lib. for being a moyitie and residue vnpayed of his first warrand: We therfor, calling to mynd the spetiall occasion of our service wherupon that money was by Sir Alex^r Hayes and him disbursed, and withall allowing the equitie of his requeist, have therfor thoght fit to recommend vnto your care his speedic payment furth ather of these conceilled moneyis by him brought in, or any other casualitie which yow in your judgment and convenience of our affaires ther shall think fitt: Wherin not doubting of your conformitie to this our pleasur, we bid, &c.—Hampton Court, 20 Octor 1634.

Writtin be Sir James Galloway at his Mateis command.

TO THE SESSION.

Right, &c.—Wheras the deanrie of the Cathedrall Church of S^t Geills in that our citie of Edinburgh not being confirmed in Parliament, and as (for the better establishing of the samyne in the priviledge and benefite therto belonging) we intend at the nixt ensueing Parliament in that our kingdome: These ar seriouslie to recommend vnto yow that if any action or caus in Law shalhappin to cum befor yow in behalff of our trustic Mr James Hannay, present deane, or any of the prebenders, befor the confirmatioun, that yow grant vnto him or them all lawfull and speedie favour yow can in recoverie of what shalbe fund dew vnto that deanrie and prebends or in defence of ther lawfull rights; and in the meane tyme, for ther better securitie, Our pleasur is, that yow mak ane act in your books of sederunt heirvpon, in the most sure and favorable termes yow can conceive, for secureing the right of the said deanrie and prebends in ther rents and benefice belonging vnto them, which we will tak as acceptable service done vnto ws.—Hampton Court, 20 Octor 1634.

TO THE THESAURERS.

Wheras we ar crediblic informed that our trustic M^r James Hannay, deane of Ed^r, hath, as we requyred him, interteyned at his owin charge the service of the organe since our returns from that our kingdome; and being vnwilling that he be a loser for so good service, or that that service should desert in tyme cuming by want of mantenance, Our pleasur is, that yow repay vnto him what vpon just accompt he hath debursed therin, and that the persones neidfull for that service be heirefter honesthic provydit according as we spok vnto yow; and being informed that the said Deane hath not as yit receaved full payment of the moneyis disbursed be him at our spetiall direction for repairing the Church of Halyrudhous, it is our further pleasur that yow repay the same vnto him, with the Interest thairof, at mertimes ensueing.—Hampton Court, 20 Octor 1634.

To the Session.

Right, &c.—Wheras ane ordinarie place in the Session doeth vaik at our gift and dispositioun by the death of Sir Andro Hamiltoun of Reidhous, vnderstanding the qualificatioun of W^m Elphingstoun, we have made choyse of him to succeid in that place: Therfor it is our pleasur that yow receave and admitt him in the ordinarie place of Session, and tak his oath as is accustomed, and to be pertaker of all your contributions.—Hamptoun Court, 20 Octor 1634.

TO THE ARCHBISCHOP OF ST ANDROIS AND EDINBURGH.

Right, &c.—Wheras vpon approved information of the learning, good conversation, and conformitie of Mr John Home, batchler in divinitie, who is desyreous to setle himselff in that kingdome, we did, by our letter in the tyme of the late bischop of Edinburgh, signifie our pleasur that vpon the first vacancie of any church at our gift within ather of your dyoccis, fitt for ane of his abilities, or such as he should be willing to embrace, a signed presentatioun thairof might be sent vnto ws to be granted to him, the doeing whairof hath hitherto been deferred: Now, to the end he be not longer frustrat of our gratious intention towards him, we ar heirby pleased again effectuallie to recommend vnto yow that whenever vacancie of any church at our gift within ather of your dyoccis, yow tak eare to give him notice of the first, that he shalbe willing to accept, that yow signe and send to we with diligence a presentatioun to be returned for his vse: Whairof not doubting, &c.—Hampton Court, 28 Octor 1634.

To the Session.

Right, &c.—Being informed that our late dear father, of worthie memorie, did grant vnto ane Andro Sinclair a gift of some part of the church revenues, to the end it might be recovered for the vse of our chapell royall, and that the said gift is lyklie to be made vnvsefull by our late gift therof procured by the burgh of Elgin, wherby our said father's pious intentioun therin is lyk to prove ineffectuall for remedie, whairfor we ar heirby pleased to recommend to yow that vpon dew consideration had of any processe and action intented or to be intented befor yow by the said Sinclair, or any other in behalff of that chapell, for reduceing the said last gift, yow not onlie proceid in your administrating speedie justice therin, bot in all other causses that shalhappin to com befor yow concerneing that chapell, which we will tak as acceptable service done vnto ws.—Hampton Court, 29 Octor 1634.

TO THE EXCHEQUER.

Right, &c.—Being informed that the burgh of Elgin is about to exped a new gift vnder our sealls of some church revenues formerlie granted by our late royall father to ane Andro Sinclair for the vse of our Chapell royall, It is our pleasur that, if the said new gift be not alreadie exped, yow stop the passing thairof, and that yow vse your best endeavours for settling of these revenues according to our royall father his gift granted thervpoun, wherin yow will doe ws acceptable service; for which these presents shalbe your warrant.—Dat. vt supra.

To the Archbischop of Glasgow.

Right, &c.—Wheras we ar informed that our right, &c. the E. of Annandale is not as yet setled with the ministers of such churches as ar within the bound belonging to him, and lykwayes that the said Erle is readic to performe all that in reasone can be expected from him vnto them, We have thought good, out of our particular respect of the said Erle, and in regard of the willingnes he expresseth to submitt himselff to your arbitriment in any thing that salbe requisit for him to performe heirin, to recommend him and the setling of the matters between him and the saids ministeris vnto your care and favour, which we expect with such conveniencie as may be: We bid, &c.—Whythall, 3 Nor 1634.

To the Session.

Right, &c .- We wer formerlie pleased by our letter the 2 of May last to recommend to your care the mediating with the Erle of Airth his creditours and cautioners for a prorogatioun of the reversioun of his estate, and that in regard that, as we ar informed, the pairteis wer sufficientlie secured of his estate and the annualrents dewlie satisfeit, and efterwards hearing that the said pairteis wer proceeding in rigour aganst him for the strict advantage of the Law, we gave ordonr for present payment to him of a sowme of money out of our Exchequer, by which we intended the better to enable him for ther satisfaction, and withall leist in the meanetyme he might have suffered irrevocablie if the preceis poynt of the Law had decyded against him befor the present help we intended for him had taken effect, alsweill for ther satisfaction as for his releiff, we wer plesed to desyre by our letter 14 July a stay of the processe; bot being now informed that the saids cautioners and his creditours, haveing convened befor yow, war and yit ar content to give obedience to the desyre of our said first letter, and to prorogat the reversion, the ground and conditions thairof being performed to them by the said Erle, it is our pleasur that yow proceid, without any further delay, to administer justice vnto them in any action or caus whatsoever depending or to be intended at ther instance aganst the said Erle, to the end they may recover payment of ther just debts and releiff of ther distresses, according to ther rights and the lawes of that our kingdome; Yit in regard we have presentlie renewed our warrandis for the said Erle his speedie payment of what we have bene pleased to allow for his help, and that we desyre the standing of that house and estate in so far as it may consist without the prejudice and losse of these to whom it stands presentlie engadged, we cannot bot earnestlie recommend vnto your care that the reversion of the said Erle his estate may be prorogated, according to the desyre and conditions of our said first letter, for such tyme as yow shall think reasonable efter tryell taken by yow of the rentall and worth of his Landis: We bid, &c.—Whythall, 5 Nor 1634.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—Vnderstanding the abiliteis and affection to our service of our right trustic, &c. William, Lord Alexander, and being willing, for his better encouragement and enabling for our service heirefter, to promove him to be ane of our privie counsell of that our kingdome: It is our pleasur that, haveing administred to him the oath accustomed in the lyk caices yow admitt him vpon our said Connsell as one of your number; ffor which, &c.—Hampton Court, 5 Nor 1634.

Our Soveraigne Lord, with speciall advyse, &c., Ordeanes a Letter to be made vnder the privice seall of the said kingdome of Scotland to Robert Walker, serjant to his Mateis Buckhounds, ratificing and approveing, and for his highnes' and successours perpetuallie confirmeing, lykas his Matie, with advyse and consent forsaid, and now, efter his highnes' revocatioun made in the late parliament holdin be his Matie in persone within the said kingdome in the moneth of Junij 1633, does heirby ratifie and approve, and for his highnes and successours, with advyse and consent forsaid, confirme a gift of a locall assignement granted to the said Robert by his Mateis late dear father, of worthie memorie, to certane victuall and other things, viz.— Fourtic bolls of Oatts to be vplifted of the best and readiest dueties payed to his Matie for the Ketle, in Fyff, Thrie darg of hav, thrie darg of peitts, a buck in the seasone, and a doe in winter out of the Park of Falkland, with the pasturage and gressing of tuo horses in the said Park, as the said gift, being of the dait at Hampton Court the 26 of Sept^r 1614 yeres, is particularlie expressed: And now his Ma^{tie}, for the said Robert his better securitie and readie payment of the said yeirlie rent and others aforsaid, without distracting of him in performeing his Mateis service in his charge, and in regard of his long and faythfull service done to his Mateis said late father long befoir his first vpcomeing to the Croun of this his Mateis kingdome of England, and of his long and faythfull service done ever since both to his Mateis said royall father and to himselff, and for his better encouragement and enabling to continew in the lyk good service heirefter: Therfoir his Matie, with speciall advyse and consent forsaid, Gives, grants, and dispones of new to the said Robert Walker, all the dayes of his lyftyme, the saids Fourtie bolls of Oatts, to be vplifted and receaved by him yeirlie out of the best and readiest of his Mateis rents, dewteis, and fermes of the Kettell, in Fyff, thrie darg of hay, thrie dairg of peitts, a buck in the seasone, and a doe in winter out of the Park of Falkland, with licence to the said Robert to have tuo horses pastured and gressed therin, the saids oatts, hay, peitts, and venisone to be vplifted and the saids horses grassed as said is yeirlie and each yeir, wherof the first to be and begin . . . and so furth yeirlie dureing all the dayes of his lyftyme : Commanding heirby his said Maties Thesaurer, and others officers for the tyme being whom it doeth concerne, to caus thankfullie payment to be made to the said Robert dureing his said lyftyme of the saids dewteis and others aforsaid, which shalbe thankfullie allowed in ther compts, commanding lykwyse the Lords of counsall and session to grant his Mateis other letters in forme as efferes, to charge whatsoever persone or persones whom it concernes for payment of the saids dewteis, and his enjoying of the others particulars above expressed, And that the said Letter be extendit with all clausses neidfull,—Gevin at his Mateia Court at Whythall, the 7 Nor 1634.

TO THE THESAURER DEPUTIE.

Right, &c.—Vpon petition from the tennents of late Mr Wm Kellie concerning Eistbarnes, parcell of our Lordship of Dunbar, now in ther possession, we have, with advyse of our Thesaurer and Chalmerlane of that Lordship, condescended to give vnto any of them that will tak presentlie the benefite of our offer, for ilk chalder of bear or wheat promiseuouslie, so it be mercatt mett, 2000 merks, and that ather in readie money or sufficient securitic befor they ather surrander ther right or relinquish the possession: These ar therfor to requyre and authorize yow to transact accordinglie with all of them that ar willing, but furthwith John Ramsay and Cornelaus Inglis, who for ther owin shares have agreid heir to this proportion, and for so doeing these shalbe your sufficient warrant; so not doubting of your care and diligence.—Whythall, 10 Not 1634.

Presentation for M^r George Johnston to the church of Linton.

To JAMES HOME.

Trustie, &c.—Wheras we wer formerlie pleased to signifie to yow, that considering the trouble and inconveniences that might ensue if we should hearken to ane appeal (as we have bene desyred to doe by the Erles of Murray and Lawderdale in that proces depending concerning the Erldome of Home), we had rather thoght fitt that both pairteis should condescend vpon a submission to tuo or thrie weill affected on ather syd, and ane to be oversman (our selff not being unwilling to undergoe the said trouble of oversman, both pairteis requeisting ws to it), whervato we had the willing consent and approbation of the saidis Erles, in name of ther sones and daughters, demanding and expecting the lyk of yow, we ar still of the same mynd, and out of our earnest desyre to have that bussines fairlie composed, finding still that amicable course to be the best, we have thoght good to send unto yow this submission, which we have sene and approve the conditions therof, that yow may subscryve the same, and therby taking away the ground of demanding ane appeall unto ws, assureing yow that we shalbe verie carefull that the bussines be so fairelie caryed that nather pairtie may have just occasion to repent themselffis of following so freindlie a course: And expecting your performance heirof, we bid, &c.—Whythall, ij. Nov 1634.

TO THE SESSION.

Right, &c.—Humble remonstrance haveing bene made to ws by our trustic and weilbelovit Archibald Hay, gentlman vsher to our dear Consort the Quene, that he is vnjustlie sued befor yow by one W^m Tailzeour, who (as we ar informed) taketh the advantage of his absence pressing a spedie determination in his action to cutt off that tyme which necessarlie our said servant should vse for haveing of witnesses and produceing of good evidences for clearing the treuth of that clause, as by the enclosed petition yow will perceave: We are heirby pleased to recommend vnto yow the consideratioun therof, granting to our said servand for the saids respects till the tyme of the nixt sommer session for his compeirance; and in the meane tyme that yow examyne the said W^m and such witnesses as shalbe produced befor yow, receaveing ther depositions and answeris vpon oath to such severall interrogatore as shalbe demanded of them, to the end that aganst that tyme the cause may be made the more clear, and prepared for a full hearing and determinatioun, According as it shalbe fund in equitie to requyre.—Whythall, 11 Nor 1634.

TO THE THESAURER.

Right, &c.—Wheras we have gevin ordour to our trustic and weilbeloved Counsellour Sir Thomas Hope, our Advocat, to draw vp a surrender of the erected pryoric of S^t Androis to be made by our right, &c. James, Duik of Lennox, inheritour of the said erected pryoric in our favours; and wheras our said Advocat (as we ar informed) did acquyre from Lodovick, late Duik of Lennox, the right of the Lands and Tythes of the baronic of Kynmonth and tythes of Ardrydic in 1619, whervpon (as we ar lykwayes informed) our said Advocat was infeft in these lands and tythes by our vnqubill dear father, which is ratified in our late parliament holdin by ws within that our kingdome: Therfoir it is our speciall pleasur that the saids lands and tythes pertencing to our said Advocat be omitted furth of the said surrender or exceptit from it in such maner as shalbe fund requisit.—Vt supra.

TO THE ARCHRISCHOP OF ST ANDROIS.

Right reverend father, &c.—Wheras we have gevin ordour to our trustic and weilbeloved counsellour Sir Thomas Hope, our Advocat, to draw vp a surrender of the erected pryorie of S^t Androis to be made by our right, &c. James, Duik of Lennox, inheretour of the said erected pryorie in our favours: And wheras our said Advocat (as we ar informed) did acquyre from Lodovick, late Duik of Lennox, the right of the Landis and tythes of the baronie of Kynmonth and tythes of Ardryde in anno 1619, wherepon (as we ar lykwayes informed) our said Advocat was infeft in these landis and tythes by our vmquhill dear father, which is ratifeid in our late parliament holdin by ws in that kingdome; and intending our said Advocat should have alse much favour as ancy have had in that kynd, and not be prejudged of ancy thing which is due vnto him, we have sent yow heirwith ane enclosed warrant, direct to our, &c. the Erle of Traquair, that in caice yow find the premisses to be trew, as we ar informed, yow sie these Lands and tythes perteneing to our said Advocat accordinglie omitted or excepted from the said surrender: Which recommending, &c.—Whythall, ij. No' 1634.

TO THE SESSION.

Right, &c.—Though we have often and diverse yeires agoe signified vnto yow to putt a finall determinatioun, acording to Justice, to that action of reduction of Cragievar's infeftment, alledged to have bene surrepititionslie procured from we in the begining of our Regne: In regard we wer therby much prejudged in diverse particulars which wer principall subjects of our royall intention in our late revocatioun, as the case of the vassalls, reduceing of laik patronages to our Croun, and the lyk, notwithstanding the same is not as yit determined nor account made to we of the caus of the delay, we have therfor thoght fitt heirby to requyre yow of new that with all diligence the said action be putt to a finall determinatioun, according to justice and our Lawes, or to report to we a reasone of the stay thair of: To which purpois, haveing Commanded our Advocat to insist for our entress, we will expect in yow readic obedience to our princelic desyre heir in: We bid yow farewell.—Whythall, the 11 Nor 1634.

TO THE ADVOCAT.

Trustie, &c.—Wheras we have writtin of new to James Home of Coldinknowis, haveing sent the submission drawn vp by yow enclosed in our letter vnto him to be subscryved by him, for the better setling of the things questioned tuitching the estat of the Erldome of Home, least the bussines should miscarie or be delayed; We, out of the trust we repois vpou your diligence and affection to our service, ar heirby pleased to entrust to your care the speedie delyverie of the said letter conteneing the said submission vnto the said James Home, willing yow to returne with diligence his answer vnto we tuitching his resolution and the course he shalhappin tak heirin: For which these presents, &c.—Theobald's, 13 Nor 1634.

TO THE ADVOCAT.

Trustie, &c.—Wheras we ar informed that great misdemeanours and offences ar of late committed in the midlschyres of these our kingdomes, the malefactours of the ane scheltring them selfis in the other, so that ther hopes of impunitie begett in them a boldnes of offending, for punisching whairof and better preventing the lyk heirefter we have, according to the lyk lawdable custome of our late royall father, gevin commission to certane of our trustie and weildisposed subjects of both kingdomes, as yow will perceave by the enclosed list of ther names, for sicing our peace preserved and justice executed in these parts: To which purpois it is our pleasur that yow draw vp a Commission of the Midleschyres, inserting these names within it, and that according to any precedent in the lyk kynd, or as yow by advyse of our Privic Counsall shall find necessarie for repressing these present disordours, and preventing the lyk in tyme cuming, and therefter that yow ather immediatlic exped it vnder our cachet and great seall, for which these shalbe vnto yow and all others whom it doeth concerne a sufficient warrant; otherwayes, if yow find a necessitie, that yow send it to ws with all diligence, that we may signe and returne it bak for passing our said seall: And to the end yow may the better perceav our royall intention tuitching the taking of the lyk course heir, we have directed that a just coppic of the Commission to be exped heir to be sent vnto yow: All which we recommend to your care, and bid yow farewell.—Whythall, 17 Nor 1634.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—Wheras we ar informed that Alex^r Hamilton, younger of Lawfeild, being deiplie engadged in debt for his father, of whois estate he had never any benefite, and being forced for dangers of arreists to keip himself privat, is therby disabled from taking aney course ather for his owin releiff or satisfaction of the Creditours, wherby they ar lyk to suffer prejudice, and his estate lyklie altogidder to perisch: We, pitieing the distressed estate of the gentlman, ar heirby pleased to recommend him vuto yow that he may have libertie for one yeir to cum in publict for setling his affaires, provydeing he pay the annuells of all such debts as ar particularlie his owin, and not originallie contracted by his father: We bid, &c.—Whythall, 20 No^c.

To the Counsell.

Right, &c.—Wheras by the inclosed petition, as yow will perceave, we ar informed of diverse sinistrous practeises tending to the hinderance and secludeing of our Ordinances tuitching the sale of tabacco in that our kingdome: Our pleasur is, that not onlie in the poynts of that petition, bot generallie in all thingis which our Commissioners shall from tyme to tyme reasonablie desyre, yow give them your readic assistance for advancement of that our service, and punischment of all such as directlie or indirectlie shalbe fund to transgresse, that we may nather be disappoynted of the benefite to aryse therby vnto ws nor our loveing subjects of the good of the intended reformation; wherin expecting your serious care, as yow will doe ws acceptable service, &c.—Whythall, 20 No* 1634.

TO THE ARCHBISCHOP OF ST ANDROIS.

Right, &c.—Haveing bene humblic petitioned by Sir George Gordoun of Gicht, knyt, that in regard his not being capable to persew or defend any of his lawfull actions in that our kingdome, by reasone of the censure he lyeth vnder, as he sayeth, for his not conformitie in religion, we would be pleased to extend our royall favour towards him by enabling him for that effect; To which purpois (as we ar informed) our late dear father did wryt ather to yourselff or to the bischop of the dyocie wher he lived, wherby dureing the lyff of our said dear father he was out of that danger vnder which he is now; and being lykwyse informed that he giveth no publict scandell, nor practizeth to prevent any others, we ar the more willing to desyre your advyse which way we may best grant him the favour he desyreth in the estate he now standeth, and that without making it a preparative to others: Expecting your answer heirin, we bid yow farewell.—Whythall, 20 Nor 1634.

Mr Maull procured this letter.

It is our pleasur that, by vertew of your office yow have of ws as M^r and Comptroller generall of our posts of England, yow authorize and require for the good of our service all the posts in the roade from London to Berwick to answer and send to our Court all such packetts and letters as they shall receave vnder the subscription of James Prymrois, Clerk of our Counsell of Scotland: For which, &c.—Whythall, 20 No^r 1634.

To Charles, Lord Stanehop, Master and Comptroller generall of all our Posts of England.

TO THE ERLE OF ERROLL.

Right, &c.—We perceave by your letter vnto ws your affection to our service in your readic embraceing the charge we have bene pleased to committ vnto yow in the tryell of the Lord Balmerino, in the prosecution where as we doubt not bot yow will carie your selff fairlie and justlie according to the lawis of that our kingdome, so we ar confident yow will advert carefullie to any thing that may tend to the clearing of that bussines which doeth so neirlie concerne ws: Which recommending vnto your care, &c.—Whythall, 20 Nor 1634.

TO THE ADVOCAT.

Trustie, &c.—We have sene the effects of your judicious care in the dittay yow have formed concerneing the late seditious lybell, for the which we give yow hartie thanks: And sieing now the tryell of the Lord Balmerino is immediatlie to goe on, we have thoght good heirby seriouslie to recommend vnto your care the continuance of the prosecution of that bussines that doeth so neirlie concerne ws in that kynd as may best tend till the full clearing of it, which we will tak as acceptable service done vnto ws: We bid, &c.—Whythall, 20 Nor 1634.

TO SIR JOHNE HAY.

Trustie, &c.—Haveing signed latelie a Commission to the Erle of Erroll for judgeing in the case of the Lo/ Balmerino, and the tyme appointed for it being now so neir at hand, we have thought good heirby to recommend vnto yow the continuance of your accustomed diligence in adverting to everie occasion may occure in a thing so neirlie concerneing ws, which we will tak as acceptable service done vnto ws: We bid, &c.—Whythall, 20 Nor 1634.

TO THE ERLE OF TRAQUAIR.

Right, &c.—According to your last desyre, we did presentlie signe the Commission sent vnto ws, and we give yow hartie thanks for the continewance of your diligent care, which we have approved from the beginning, in that particular which so neir concernes ws, the serious prosecution where we doe still earnestlie recommend vnto your care, in all yow can conceave may conduce to the cleiring of it, expecting a speedie account of your accustomed diligence heirin; we bid, &c.—Whythall, 20 Nor 1634.

TO THE TOUN OF EDINBURGH.

Trustie, &c.—Hearing of a great inconveniencie to the lights of your Church of S^t Geills by meanes of our seat therin, it being interposed betwixt the window and the pulpitt, it is our pleasur that yow furthwith caus remove the same, that it be no more impediment in that kynd, for which these shalbe your warrand.—Whythall, 20 Nor 1634.

TO THE SHIRREFF OF ABERDENE.

Trustie, &c.—Wheras we have directed the enclosed letter (wheref yow shall heirwith receave a copie) to our bailleis and Counsall of Aberdene, These ar to will yow to mak speedie delyverie theref, and accordinglie that yow report vnto ws or to our Clerk of Register the performance of the same, that we may accordinglie tak such course as is most fitt for our service: Which recommending, &c.—Whythall, 20 Nor 1634.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—Wheras at the tyme of our late parliament holdin in that kingdome we wer pleased to remitt to yow a petition then exhibited tuitching some insolence bursting out of the hielands, and some of the northerne parts thairof, to which purpois we have since writtin vnto yow at severall tymes, and now being crediblic informed that such insolence and troubles ar cum to a greater hight, to the great hurt of our good and peaciable subjects, and to the great contempt of our authoritie and lawis, we ar heirby pleased agane to seriouslic recommend vnto your care to sie our acts of parliament tuitching the repressing of such disorders putt in dew and tymelie executioun, and to omitt nothing that may curb the same, ather by meanes of the executioun of these acts, or as yow shall think most fitt to conduce to that purpois, wherby our peace may be preserved and all our good subjects fred of greater troubles and farder feares in that kynd, assureing that from tyme to tyme vpon your adverteisment we wilbe ayding and assisting vnto yow in what may concerne that purpois.—Whythall, 20 Nor 1634.

TO THE THESAURERS.

Wheras we have at sindrie tymes signified our pleasur that Sir Hugh Wallace of Cragie, knyt, be payed of these moneyis condescended vpon for the heretable offices which some yeires agoe he did surrender vnto our Croun: To which purpois haveing by our letter vnto yow in May last signifeid our pleasur at lenth, and whervpon yow and others of our Exchequer did returne a Letter vnto ws of the necessitie and equitie that he should be satisfeit without furder delay, it is our pleasur that, according to the said letter in May last, yow pay all these moneyis so dew vnto him, that we be not farder troubled in that purpois, and for, &c.—Whythall, 20 Nor 1634.

These ratifie to the Lady Ragamore a pension of 400 merks Scotts, to indure your Mateis pleasur.—Whythall, 23 No⁷ 1634.

TO THE ARCHBISCHOPS OF ST ANDROIS AND GLASGOW.

Right reverend, &c.—Wheras we did formerlie wryt vnto our right, &c. the Lord Lorne to forbear the moveing of any contraversie in Law aganst the reverend, &c. bischop of Argyll to the Commissariot thairof, in regard it was ane ecclesiasticall jurisdiction, and could not convenientlie be exercised be aney other then a spirituall persone, or such as had his power: Whervpon the said Lord haveing at this tyme humblic remitted vnto our consideration to tak what course therin we should think fitt, it is our pleasur that yow call both parteis befor yow, and examyne what right is pretendit by them to the said Commissariot, and therefore to certific we therof, togidder with your opinions tuitching the same, that we may give such further ordour therin as we shall find just caus.—Whythall, 2 Der 1634.

TO THE ADVOCAT.

Trustie, &c.—Wheras we wer informed that the office of the keiper of the table of Actions intended befoir the Colledge of Justice of that our kingdome is now vacand in our handis by the death of ane Bannatyne, who had the same by the gift of our late dear father, and we now intend to bestow it vpon a servant of ours, and his deputeis, Our pleasur is, that yow accordinglie draw vp and send vp with all diligence vnto our secretarie a blank signature thairof in dew forme, with all rights, priviledges, and casualiteis that hath bene at any tyme heirtofoir enjoyed ather by the said Bannatyne or aney of his predicessours in that office; and for your see doeing, &c.—Whythall, 2 Dec^r 1634.

To the Exchequer.

Right, &c.—Wheras it hath bene latelie complayned of vnto ws by the Erle of Mar that the Castell of Stirling is lyklie to prove ruinous for lake of reparatioun, haveing heard the lyk also of our other houses ther, and in regard (as we ar informed) the keipers of our Castells and palaces ther ar bund for the performance of some things towards the mantenance of them, which would exoner ws of some measur of that charge which we are at yeirlie by Covenant with the M^{rs} of our Works ther, who (as we ar lykwayes informed) ar dissabled from the performance of ther dewtie by wanting a long tyme the 'meanes allowed by ws vnto them for that effect: Therfor, and for preventing the ruyn of our saids housess, Our pleasur is, that haveing called for the rights of the keipers of our houses for ther keiping of them, yow give such ordour vnto them as yow shall find expedient for the performance of what they ar bund vnto, and accordinglie abate such a proportionable share out of the yeilie allowance which the Masters of our Works ar to have as shalbe fund dew to be performed by the saids keipers of our houses, or that yow alter or annulle the said bargane with our M^{rs} of Works in tyme cuming, as yow shall find just occasion, geving them first satisfaction for what is alredie dew vnto them, bot above all ye have a speciall care that these our houses be preserved in that maner as is fitting for the state of that our ancient kingdome; which speciallie recommending vnto your care, and expecting a speedie and exact account heirof from yow, we bid yow farewell.—Whythall, 2 De^r 1634.

TO THE EARLES OF MURRAY AND LAWDERDALE.

Right, &c.—Wheras for diverse wechtie considerations we have thoght fitt to have the differences tuitching the succession of Home submitted to the decision of tuo or thrie freindis to be choysen of ather syde, and in caice of ther variance, to be determinat by ane indifferent oversman that shalbe agred vpon by both pairteis: To which purpois we have sent to James Home, and willed him to subscryve, a forme of submission drawin vp by our Advocat, and sene and approvin by ws: Now, becaus (if it sould so fall out that the Arbiteris cannot setle it without ane oversman, which we forsie may be layed vpon ws, haveing gevin way thervnto in caice of necessitie) we hold it fitt that the bussines be alse fullie debated and prepared as may be by the Arbiters befor it cum into the hands of aney oversman, We have thoght good therfor heirby to give yow notice of our pleasur that all pairteis subscryve that submission drawin vp by our Advocat, leaveing blank for the oversman, to schaw that we desyre (if it be possible) that it might be endit without him, bot at leist that things be drawin to such a neirnes between yow, that the oversman's part may be the easier: Which trouble of oversman we our selff will not be vnwilling then to vndergoe, according as in former letters we have declared, assureing yow that our care shalbe to sie things so farelie and impartiallie caryed for the good of both parteis as nather shall have just caus to repent ther obedience to this our desyre.—Whythall, 2 Der 1634.

To the President of the Session.

Trustie, &c.—Wheras we, vpoun informatioun latelie made to ws by the Creditours of the Eile of Airth, wer pleased to give ordour to our Colledge of Justice for proceiding in the processes and actions intented or to be intended aganst the said Erle at the instance of the saids Creditours, in respect that, as we ar informed, they ar willing to give obedience to our first letters writtin theranent, anent the prorogating of the reversioun, the grounds of our said letter being fulfilled vnto them by the said Erle; and sieing we remember weill that the meaning of our first letter was that if the Creditours wer fullie secured in the lands and estate perteneing to the said Erle, and receaved payment of ther annual-rents, that the estate of the said Erle should be fred of the rigour intended by the Creditours to setle and distribute the samyne amongst themselffis, heretablie and irredimablie; and seing the said Erle hath affirmed vnto ws, upon his honour and credit, that his creditours standis fullic infeft and seased in his estate, and that he is willing and readie to lay down to them ther annual-rents; Lykas we have gevin ordour to our Thesaurer to pay to the said Erle for the vse of his creditours the sowme of Ten thousand punds sterling, togidder with fyve hundreth punds sterling yeirlie dureing the non-payment theref; we conceave that these things being performed upon the part of the said Erle, that all actions which ar rigorouslie vrged by the saids creditours aganst the said Erle, which ar ather for selling or division of his Lands without redemption, or for dispossessing of him therfor, as long as he payeth the annual-rents, should surceise for some reasonable time: And therfor we have thoght good heirby to clear the trew meaning of these our former letters, to the effect that if any doubt shall aryse theranent, that yow may have a care according to the intention of our former letters, if it be fund that the creditours standis lawfullie infeft in the whole lands and the estate perteneing to the said Erle; and if the said Erle performe his offer in making payment to his creditours of the annual-rents of the sowmes justlie awand vnto them, efter tryell to be takin by yow and the remanent Lordis of our Session of the just sowmes owing by him to them, that then ther be a stay and surcease made of the proces at the instance of the saids creditours aganst the said Erle, or his tennents, for selling or division of landis, or dispossessing him of the same for some reasonable tyme.—Dat. vt supra.

To the Bischop of Edinburgh.

Reverend, &c.—Haveing receaved a letter from the Archbischop of S^t Androis, your selff, and some others of the Clergie and our officers, tuitching the right of the patronage to the Church of Dumbar, and finding therby that our right, &c. the Erle of Roxbrugh standeth cled with a better right then is ordinarie in such caces, and being vnwilling to disposses him or to hinder his possessioun till by dew course of Law his right be evicted: It is our pleasur that therefter yow admitt of his presentatioun to that church, and (in regard the charge thair of doeth now vaik) if yow find the persone to be presented by him able and qualified for such a place, that yow give him collatioun vpon the said Erle's presentatioun: Which speciallie recommending vnto your care, &c.—Whythall, 10 Der 1634.

TO THE TOUN OF ABERDENE.

Trustie, &c.—Wheras we ar informed of some seditions Convocatiouns practeised amongst yow, comeing, as we hear, especiallie from the election yow have latelie made of ane Patrik Leslie for your Provest, whom we wer informed to have wronged your trust in his cariage at our late parliament, and therfor to have deserved no such charge: And in regard we have alwayes formerlie found yow forward for our service, and accordinglie have dispensed our favours to yow in what might concerne your liberteis and privedges, now, being carefull of that which may concerne our service and the peace and weall of that our citie, in redressing of the abuses past, and preventing the lyk inconvenientis, it is our pleasur for that effect that yow remove the said Patrik Leslie from being your provest, and in his place we wish yow to mak choyse of Sir Paull Menzeis, who was formerlie in that charge: So not doubting of the performance of this our pleasur, we bid, &c.—Whythall, 10 Der 1634.

TO THE EXCHEQUER.

Right, &c.—Wheras we ar informed that ther is some question to aryse between the Erle of Annandale and the Lord Napeir tuitching halff a yeires dewtie of the 7000 merks scotts which at first wer deteyned from we by the said Erle's meanes added to our revenues of Orknay, whervpon we bestowed the same vpon him for some tyme; And wheras the said Erle affirmeth that the said dewtie doeth by our grant justile belong vnto him, and that some yeres agoe he was desyred by the said Lord to accept thairof, which he than refuised by direction of some of our officers for the tyme, for cleiring of which question and preventing aney trouble to the said Erle tuitching that purpois yow (as we ar informed) ar the fittest persones and best vnderstanding the estate of our rents: Therfoir it is our pleasnr, that yow examyne the premisses with the first tyme of our grant to the said Erle, and if ye find the dewtie so questioned to be comprehended within that tyme, and consequentlie to belong vnto him, that in our name yow recommend to the Session not to admitt of aney proces or sute in Law aganst him, or oney others in that behalff, or to dismisse the same if it be alreadie begun; and as for aney preceiding dewteis of this kynd as yit vnpayed to we by the said Lord, wherwith the lyk course ought to be taken for our satisfaction for the tymes preceiding as since our said grant, we will yow to examyne what is due vnto we, that therefter we may give such farder ordour theranent as we shall think fitt.—Whythall, 10 Der 1634.

TO THE COUNSELL

Right, &c.—Wheras we ar credible informed that at the tyme ane Ritchart Fullerton, Collectour of our late taxations of the shirrefdome of Aberdene, was imployed in that our service, he was violentlic assaulted, and to the hazard of his lyff beaten to the ground and wounded by ane Nicolsone, baillie of Aberdene for the tyme, and his complices: Though such a barbarous act had not bene directlic committed aganst ane particularlie authorized in our service, it had justlic moved ws to tak notice thair of by causeing inflict dew punischment vpon the offenders: Therfor it is our speciall pleasur that yow tak particular information of the process or complaynt of the said Fullerton tuitching this purpois, and efter dew and speedic tryell, which we speciallic recommend vnto yow, if yow find the offence to be such as is affirmed, that yow so punish the offenders that others may be terrifeid from attempting the lyk heirefter: We bid, &c.—Whythall, the 10 of De* 1634.

To James Prymrois.

Trustic, &c.—Haveing at the humble requeist made vnto ws by our right, &c. the Erle of Stirling, our Secretarie, authorized yow with power to direct letters and packetts vnto our court for the more readie dispatch of the affaires of our Privic Counsell of that our kingdome, it is our pleasur, and we doe heirby will and requyre yow, that weiklie from hence furth, at each session of our said Counsell, yow give vnto our said Secretarie dew notice of all affaires treated of and dispatched therin, to the effect that at our conveniencie he may give we trew accompt therof: We bid, &c.—Whythall, 10 Der 1634.

TO THE BISCHOP OF RAPHO.

Reverend, &c.—Wheras humble remonstrance hath bene made vnto ws in behalff of diverse persones in your leases in that bischoprik, that yow ar about to mak voyd ther leases, schawing withall that in regard they did expoise ther lyffis and meanes to hazard in being the first British planters who setled them selffis in these remote and then barbarous parts, being thervnto encouraged by letters patents of our late dear father for letting these lands vpon easic conditions, ther case should be more considerable then wher then thath not bene the lyk hazard and trouble; we ar so far furth pleased to tak notice of ther desyres as heirby to recommend vnto yow to be kynd vnto them, and heirin to vse such a moderat course as yow sall think fitt in a case of such consideratioun, which we will tak weill at your handis.—Whythall, 12 Der 1634.

TO THE EXCHEQUER.

Right, &c.—Haveing receaved from such as wer appointed Commissioners by ws for surveighing the estate of our Exchequer in August last and accompt of all the debtis dew by ws in that our kingdome; And intending to satisfie what is justifie owing as soone as the estate of our affaires will convenientlie permitt, as we have alreadie viderstude our burdens, so we desyre lykwayes to know what will rest dew vnto ws, wherby we may defray the same, or at leist so much thair of as may convenientlie be payed: And therfor it is our pleasur that yow informe your selffis, with all diligence, what yow find or is lyklic to be fund resting, to be payed vnto ws, not assigned or disposed of alreadie, ather by taxatiouns, annuities ont of tythes, yeirlie rent, or any other way; and haveing condescended thervpoun, that yow presentlie therefter send ws vp ane accompt thair of, that haveing conferred that which is cum in vnto ws with that which we are to give out as due by ws vnto others, we may give such ordour therefter as we shall think most fitt for our service.—Dat. vt supra.

The lynes following ar writtin with his Ma^{teis} owin hand in the principall letter, and vnder subscryved by his Ma^{tie}:—

I must have ane exact accompt, that I may know both how well I have bene served in the well managers of these last taxatiouns, and sie trewlie in whate state my revenew ther is, or is lyklie to be in heirefter.

C. Rex.

TO THE EXCHEQUER.

Right, &c.—Though we have refuised to confirme the right of anic heretable keepers of our housses within that our kingdome, yit it is noway our purpois to mak them leave ther charge theref till it be done in a legall way, nor that any meanes be abstracted from them which was by our noble progenitours or our selffes allowed for that purpois; it is our pleasur that they still enjoy the rents, which ar allowed to them for keiping of our housses whairof they have the charge, as they formerlie did, so long as it is not evicted from them by course of Law, they alwayes performeing that which they are bund to doe ather for keiping or for mantening of the saidis housses, for we have a speciall care that all our housses be keiped in good ordour and not suffered to decay.—Whythall, 12 Det 1634.

TO THE EXCHEQUER.

Wheras we ar informed of a bargane betweene our right trustic and weilbelovit cousen the Erle of Antrim and the Lord Kintyre tuitching the said Erle his purches of the lands of Kintyre; and being humblic sued vnto in behalff of the said Erle and the Lord Danluce, his sone, that a clause in the said Lord of Kintyre his securite of these lands, wherby it is provydit that they be not sold to aney of the Clandonald, may be noe hinderance to them to goe on in that bargane, We ar heirby pleased to declare that we doe dispense with that clause, provyded we be not heirby putt in worse caice tuitching aney thing concerneing these Landis then we wer befor the said bargane was made; and this signification of our pleasur shalbe a sufficient warrant tuitching this purpois to all whom it may concerne: We bid, &c.—Whythall, 13 Der 1634

Charles, by the grace of God King of England, Scotland, France, and Irland, defender of the fayth, &c., To all Mayors, Shirreffis, Justices of Peace, Vice-Admirallis, Searcheris, and all others our officeris whom it may concerne, and everie of them, Greeting—Wheras Mr Lodovick Alexander, sone of our right, &c. the Erle of Stirling, our Secretarie of Scotland, is to repair vnto France: These ar to will and command yow, and everie of yow, to suffer him to embark himselff, with his tuo servandis and other necessarie provisions, at aney of our ports which shalbe convenient for his passage and journey, and no further; for which these presents, &c.—Whythall, 15 Der 1634.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—Haveing bene latelie informed of the great disordours and ryotts committed in the northern parts, which insolent beginnings we would have to be repressed in tyme, and the offenders to be seveirlie punisched, as the course of Justise requyreth in the lyk caices; for which purpois we hear yow have alreadie charged the Landlords and cheiff of Clanes, and, amongst others, the Marqueis of Huntlie, for the name of Gordoun, of whome some, as we ar informed, have bene cheiff actours of these outrages, to compeir befoir yow, that ordour may be taken concerneing the same; and though we believe that, as the said Marqueis professeth, he is not accessorie to the violence committed by diverse of his name, yit in regard it is presumed by some that if he is not guiltie of acting of it, at leist he might ather have prevented it at first or have taken a course for redressing of it in some meassure efterwards: Our pleasur is, that yow putt our Lawes in executioun aganst the saidis Landlords, cheiff of Clanes, and Marqueis of Huntlie, and all others whom yow have for that purpois cited, or shall think fitt to cite heirefter, according to the generall Law, or to aney ordour that our Lawes doe allow for that effect, whairof we will yow to be carefull, as yow wilbe answerable vnto ws for your diligence in a thing so neitlie concerneing ws in honour and justice and the generall good of that our kingdome.—Whythall, 16 Der 1634.

To the Session.

Right, &c.—It being fitt and necessarie for the good of our service that the extraordinarie place in our Session appoynted for our right, &c. the Erle of Stirling, our Secretarie for that our kingdome (who necessarlie must attend our service about our persone), be supplied in his absence, and understanding the abilities and affection to our service of our right trustie and weilbeloved counsellour the Lord Alexander, whom we hold fitt to supplie that place and charge; It is our pleasur that, haveing administred vnto him the oath accustomed in the lyk caices, yow admitt him to the said extraordinarie place in session, and that he enjoy all the priviledges and liberteis belonging thervnto; for which these presents shalbe your warrant.—Hampton Court, 20 Der 1634.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—Wheras, by severall warrants to the Clergie of these our kingdomes, ther hath bene a carefull survey had of that Translatioun of the Psalmes whairof our late dear father, of happie memorie, was authour; We now, being fullie resolved of the exactnes thairof, have determined no longer to delay the publict vse of them for the benefite of the Churche; and to the end the first begining may be made in that our ancient kingdome, wher our said dear father, the Authour, was borne, according to our pleasur signified to that purpois to some of our Clergie ther, It is our pleasur (sieing we have alreadie gevin ordour for ane Impression of that Translatioun) that yow give present ordour in such maner as is requisit, that no other Psalmes of aney edition whatsoever be ather printed heirefter within that our kingdome or imported thither, ather bund by themselffs or otherwayes, from aney forrayne port; And that yow vse your best endeavours by all possible and lawfull meanes from tyme to tyme to assist our Clergie, and to sie these Psalmes receaved and sung in all the Churches of that kingdome.—[No date.]

TO THE ARCHBISCHOP OF ST ANDROIS.

Right reverend, &c.—Wheras, by our severall warrants to the Clergie of both kingdomes, ther hath bene a carefull surveigh had of that Translatioun of the Psalmes whairof our late deare father, of happie memorie, was Authour; And being now fullie certified of the exactnes of the same, we have determined no longer to delay the publict vse of them for the benefite of the church; And to the end the first begining may be made in that our ancient kingdome, wher our said dear father, the Authour, was borne, It is our pleasur that, by the advyse of the remanent Clergie ther, or such as yow can convenientlie mak choyse of for the tyme, yow tak such course as the said new Translatioun may be practized in the Churches of that kingdome with such diligence as possible, and that in the meane tyme yow signifie our pleasur to all Printers, or others within that kingdome whome it may concerne, that no Psalmes books in meeter of the old translatioun be printed or brought in to be sold heirefter within the same, vnder pane of confiscatioun of ther books and punischment of ther persones; and if it neid be, that yow requyre such further warrant from ws or our Privie Counsall to that purpois as yow shall find expedient, &c.—Whythall, &c.—[No date.]

Sir James Carmichaell was appointed to be admitted vioun the Commission for Surrenders stylo ordinario.—Whythall, 23 De^r 1634.

TO THE ARCHBISCHOP OF ST ANDROIS.

Right, &c.—Wheras humble sute hath bene made vnto ws in behalff of our right, &c. the Erle of Morton, that none be admitted to be preacher at the Church of Aberdour (which is now at our gift by the death of Mr Wm Paton, late minister ther) but such a persone whois sufficiencie by your approbation may merite the said Erle his consent; sieing we ar crediblic informed that the said Erle's intention heirin is onlie to have ane able and sufficient preacher ther, it is our pleasur that by the advyse of the said Erle yow mak choyse of such a persone as yow and he shall best condescend vpon, he being by yow fund qualifeit for the same, and conforme to the Canons and ordours of the Church: And for your soe doing, &c.—Whythall, 22 De^r 1634.

TO THE COUNSELL,

Right, &c.—Vnderstanding of the sufficiencie, long experience, and long affection to our service of the right reverend father in God our right trustic and weilbeloved Counsellour the Archbischop of St Androis, it is our pleasur that he succeid in the place of the late Erle of Kynnoull to be our high Chancellour; And that yow caus delyver vnto him the great seall of that our kingdome, to be keipit by him as our Chancellour, with all the benefites, priviledges, and immunities that hath belonged to that place heirtofoir, whervpon we will our Advocat to draw vp a gift of the same to be sent vnto ws.—Whythall, 23 Der 1632.

Our Soveraigne Lord, vpoun good consideratiouns of the sufficiencie and abilities of his Mateis trustie and weilbeloved Sir Patrik Abercrombie, knyt, ane of his Mateis gentlmen pensioners, to exercise and discharge the office of tabulating all summondis raised and to be raised in actions to be persewed befor the Lordis of Counsall and session, now vacand in his highnes' hands, by and throw the deceis of Mr Nicoll Bannatyne of Standandflatt, last tabuler and exercer and vser of the said office, haveing for the good of his service and his owin frie princelie knowledge and propper motive made choyse of him to supplie and discharge the same, ordanes a Letter to be made and exped vnder the privic seall of Scotland, making, constituteing, and ordeaneing, lykas his Matie by thir presents make, constitute, and ordeanes the said Sir Patrik Abercrombie, dureing all the dayes of his naturall lyff, Tabuler of all summondis raised and to be raised in actions to be persewed befor the Lordis of Counsall and session, and grants vnto him the office thairof, with all feyis, casualiteis, dewteis, and priviledges belonging therto, with full and absolute power to him to mak, constitute, and creat deputts and substituts under him in the said office at his pleasur, for whome he shalbe holdin to answer, and to vse and exerce the said office be himselff, his deputts, and substituts, with all feyis, dewteis, casualiteis, immuniteis, and priviledges perteneing thairto, sieklyk and als frielie in all respects as the said ymquhill Mr Nicoll Bannatyne or any of his predicessours in that office bruiked, joysed, vsed, or possesst the same at any tyme preceiding, and with all such feyis, dewteis, priviledges, and casualiteis whatsoever which hath bene anywayes knowen heirtofoir, or heirefter shalbe fund justlie to belong thervnto, and with all and sindrie others commoditeis, friedomes, frielie, quyetlie, weill, and in peace, but any revocation, or agane calling whatsoever; dischergeing and annulling, lykas his Ma^{tie} by these presents discherges and annulls, all former gifts of the said office, or any power or libertie (if any be) granted to any persone whatsoever for vseing and exerceing the said office; Ordeaneing the saids Letters by these presents to be exped vnder the privie seall, without passing of any other sealls whatsumever, and with all clausses neidfull: Gevin, &c. vt supra, &c.—Quhythall, 24 De[‡] 1634.

TO THE COMMISSIONERS FOR TYTHES.

Right, &c.—Wheras we have bene petitioned by M^c Thomas Forrester, Minister at Melros, that we would be pleased to recommend vnto yow that he might have the benefite of ane act made befor yow concerning his entrie to the augmentatioun of his stipend of that parochin, which augmentatioun is allowed vnto him (as he affirmeth) by a decreit arbitrall of the right reverend the Archbischope of Glasgow and our trustic the Erle of Hadinton, to whom the Modification of the Augmentation was submitted by mutuall consent of him and his parochiners: Our pleasur is, that yow consider of the inclosed petition, recommending vnto yow to grant vnto him the benefite of the said act according to the custome in the lyk caices.—Whythall, 30 Der 1634.

TO THE EXCHEQUER.

Right, &c.—Wheras we ar pleased to grant a gift of the Abbacie of Incheffray, tythes and superiorteis thairof, to vmquhill Charles Murray, sone of vmquhill Mr Patrik Murray, late Commendatour of that abbacie, and to his aires and assigneyis, redimable alwayes vpoun the sowme of tuelff hundreth punds sterling, the respects of the father's long and faythfull service done vnto ws, and the present estaite of Patrik Murray, the brother and heyr of the said Charles (who hath no other meanes wherby to subsist, bot that grant from ws), moveing we out of our accustomed princelic comiseration not to alter what we have formerlic granted in that behalff, speciallic since the redemption therof to our Croun is at all tymes in our power: It is our pleasur that yow caus expeid vnder our cachet sealls to the said Patrik the lyk grant to his said brother, and accordinglic that he enjoy the benefite intended therby without oney innovation to be made tuitching the same from the said former gift; For which these presents salbe vnto yow, and others our officers whom it may concerne, a sufficient warrant.—Whythall, 30 Der 1634.

Our Soveraigne Lord ordeanes a protection to be made vnder his highnes' great seall of the kingdome of Scotland to his highnes' lovit Johne Kennedie, some tyme of Balquban, making mention that wheras his Ma^{tie} is crediblie informed that the said Johne Kennedie standeth engadged to diverse persones, his creditours, in diverse sowmes of money, which he would be able to pay vnto them with ther annual-rents, if so be that by ther leaveing of to prosecute him by Law and casting of him in prissone, if he wer permitted for some small tyme to follow his owin affaires, wherby to obtene the moneyis due vnto him, for the better enabling to give them speedie satisfaction, wherin his Ma^{tie}, respecting the weill both of the creditours and debtours, of his authoritie royall, &c., stilo ordinario.—Whythall, last De^r 1634.

TO THE EXCHEQUER.

Right, &c.—Haveing vpon good consideratiouns determined not to have our Chancellour vpon the Exchequer, least it might be a hinderance to him to attend that charge, which may import our service in a greater measur, and haveing now made choyse of the right reverend father in God the Archbischop of S^t Androis for the said charge, and being fullie resolved to continew our resolution heirin, we ar heirby pleased that the place which he had in Exchequer shall heirefter ceise, till such tyme as we shall be pleased to appoint such a one for the same as we shall think most fitt.—Whythall, last Dec^r 1634.

To the Archbischop of St Androis.

Right, &c.—Haveing determined, as is knowen to yow, not to have our Chancellour vpon ane Exchequer, to the end it may be no hinderance to him to attend that charge which doeth so much import our service, and haveing now made choyse of yow for the same, we are heirby pleased to have your place in Exchequer to ceise, that yow may have no occasion to withdraw yow from attending the said charge, and that yow may the more narrowlie look to such things as from tyme to tyme shall cum to be passed vnder our great seall, to the effect we may be acquanted with aney thing which yow shall find necessarlie worthie of our consideratioun.—Whythall, last Der 1634.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—Wheras we did formerlie wrytt vnto yow that yow should tak into your consideratioun the fraud vsed by the sellers of playding in presenting thairof to the mercat in hard rolls, wherby vnder trust they deceave the buyers; and now vnderstanding that vpon good considerations yow have delayed our Commissioners of our frie brughs who did prosecute the rectificing of the same befor yow vntill Jarnixt, it is our pleasur that at the said tyme, efter a trew tryell of the said abuse, yow caus such ane ordour be speedelie taken and punctuallie keipit that the said commoditie be sold at all tymes heirefter in oppin foldis, exposeing it to the full view of the buyer; so expecting all possible expedition heirin for the speedic dispatch of these Commissioners of our burrowis who shall attend the same, we bid, &c.—Whythall, last Der 1634.

TO SIR FERDINANDO GEORGE, KNYT.

Trustie, &c.—Haveing fund it of late necessarie that some good course be established for right prosecution of the work of the Plantation of New Scotland in such kynd as may be most for the advancement thairof and the encouragement of such as vndertak therin, And haveing (in regard of your affection and long endevours therin) bene pleased to mak choyse of yow for vndertaking the cheiff charge in manageing of such things as shalbe for the good of that cuntrie, and the government to be established therin, where thought good at this tyme to requyre yow, so soone as yow can convenientlie, to repair to our Court, that we may have your opinion, and yow receave our direction in such things we shalbe pleased to requyre and appoint tuitching this bussines.—Whythall, 5 Jar 1635, stylo Anglicano.

TO THE ADVOCAT.

Trustic, &c.—Humble sute hath bene made vnto ws in behalff of our Officers of the Coyne-house of that our kingdome, that we would be pleased to signe a ratification of ther priviledges and immuniteis granted vnto them by our royall progenitours; wherin, being willing to grant ther demand if nothing be added by we of new bot what hath bene formerlie granted and confirmed vnto them, It is our pleasur that yow examyne the signatur sent vnto we and ther former rights, and if yow find no materiall difference betweene them, that yow docat and returne it with all convenient diligence to be signed by ws; otherwayes (if yow find it may be convenientlie done), that yow cans expeid it immediatlie vnder our cachat and sealls; ffor which these presents salbe to yow, and our other officers whom it may concerne, sufficient warrant.— Dat. vt supra.

TO THE COMMISSIONERS FOR TYTHES.

Right, &c.—Being informed by our right, &c. the Erle of Stirling, our secretarie for that kingdome, that he is desyreous to have the parische of Tullibodie disunited from the parische of Alloway (as formerlie it was), to the effect ther may be a new minister agane establisched ther, wher it hath bene a long tyme silenced; desyreing lykwyse that, for the convenience of a greater mantenance for that purpois, the Landis of Menstrie and Gogar may be vnited to the paroch of Tulliebodie, being all adjacent with it, and belonging to himselff, we cannot bot approve of his intention, and, for the encouragement of others to the lyk, grant him our favourable assistance for effectuating of it: And therfor we doe heirby speciallie recommend to your care that, haveing considered of his demands, yow grant all possible speedie furtherance for so good a work in the vniteing of these severall Lands for the re-establisching of that ministrie of Tullibodie, and that out of ther severall tythes yow allow such convenient mantenance as yow shall think fitting; wherin expecting your diligent care, we bid yow fareweill.—Whythall, 5 Jar 1635.

A protection was granted to John Erskene, indueller in Monross, for the space of ane yeir, he paying alwayes to his creditours ther annual-rents.—Whythall, 7 Jar 1635.

A protection was granted to the Erle of Lythgow for the space of ane yeir efter the maner accustomed.—Whythall, 7 Jar 1635.

Our Soveraigne Lord, with speciall advyse and consent of his right trustie and right, &c. the Erle of Morton, and of John, Lord Traquair, his Mateis Thesaurer principall and deputie of Scotland, and of the remanent Lordis and others of his Mateis privice Counsall and Excheker of the said kingdome, Ordeanes a Letter to be made vnder the great seall, making mention that wheras his Matie is crediblic informed of the sufficiencie, great skill, and industrie of his Mateis trustie and weilbelovit James Colquboun, citizen of Glasgow, in working, casting, moulding, and frameing of all sorts of works of Lead, fitt not onlie for theiking, covering, strenthning, and decoreing of all sorts of house work and structure thervnto belonging, as weill for vse or ornament and decencie, as alse of all conduit pypis for conducting and raising of watters raised for many necessarie vses, wherin his Matie is lykwyse informed that these many yeres the said James Colquboun hath gevin such sufficient and approved testimonie of his skill within the said kingdome as few artificers in that kynd have done more exquisite and curious peices of work in any part of Europ: And wheras his Matie is lykwyse crediblic informed that the said James Colquboun, by his long experience in searching out the secrets of that trad, hath fund out a peculiar way, never heirtofoir practized within the said kingdome, wherby he will mak a scheit of lead weying tuelff stane weight to be more vsefull, of longer continuance, and to abyd greater extremiteis of wind and weather, nor aney scheit of lead vsed wevand heirtofoir wevand sextene stane weicht, in regard of his artifice of making thairof more solide, less porie, and consequentlie more voyd of all craks, holls, or popill, and speciallie in the exact squaring and proportioneing of the evennesse to the thiknes of the saidis scheits: Thairfoir, and that everie ane of his Mateis subjects may be encuraged to invent and putt in practeis what is good for the comonweall not formerlie vsed or practized for the benefite theref, according to the laudable course observed by his Mateis dear father, which was that everie ane of his Mateis guid subjects might have the benefite of his owin inventioun, his Matie, with advyse forsaid, has gevin and granted, and by the tenour heirof, for him, his aires, and successours, gives and grants to the said James, his aires and assigneyis, and ther and ather of ther pertiners and depute whatsumever, full and absolute licence and power, dureing the space of 21 yeres nixt and immediatlie following the date of the passing of thir presents vnder the said seall, To cast, frame, and caus to be made framed and wrought all such scheits of Lead whairof ane weying tuelff stane weeht more vsefull and of longer continuance then a scheit weying sixtene weight, and so proportionable, and that for the vses aforsaid, with full and absolute power to the said James Colouboun and his forsaids to work, frame, cast, and putt in practeis the works of his said Inventioun of the scheits of Lead so to be vsed by him, and to apply the benefite aryseing theref to ther owin propper vses as they shall think fit, without trouble, lett, or molestation whatsoever, and the kingdome being all served with that commoditie at such reasonable rates as they can afford, To sell, exchange, and vent the same in all forrayne parts being in league and freindschip with his Matie: And his highnes perfectlie vnderstanding how hurtfull it might prove to the said James and his foirsaids, if efter so long tyme, travells, charges, and panes vndergone by him in searching out of the said way in making of the said commoditie more good and vsefull for the common good then heirtofoir it hath bene, aney other persone or persones than he or his forsaids should intent or cast, frame, mak vse of, dispose, or sell the commoditie, his Matie doeth therfoir expreshie prohibite and discherge all and whatsumever persones within the said kingdome, dureing the said space of 21 yeires, to cast, frame, work, or practe is the said Inventioun, or aneywayes to dispose, sell, exchange, or vent any work made theref by them, without the said James or his forsaids speciall warrand, licence, and power first had and obtenit therto; with power to the said James and his deputeis, partiners, servands, and others in ther names, to search, find out, apprehend, and sease vpoun the said Inventiouns, ther toolis, structuris, and modells made for that yee, and to tak the same from the saidis persone or persones not authorized as aforsaid, or from aney others in whois custodie they ar knowen to be, to be vsed and disponed vpon at the pleasur of the said James and his forsaids; and with expres command to the Lordis of his Mateis privice Counsall and Excheker now for the tyme to cause punish and censure the saidis transgressours by imprissonement, fyneing, and otherwayes as they shall think fitt, wherby the said James and his forsaids may enjoy the full benefite of his Inventioun dureing the space foirsaid according to his Mateis gratious intentioun heirby expressed; And his Matie doeth heirby also will and requyre the saids Lords of privice Counsall and Excheker, and the Lordis of Session, to direct letters of horning to charge all schirreffis, provests, bailleis of burghs, and others his Mateis officers whatsumever, to ayde and assist the said James and his forsaids in searching, seasing upon, and confiscating of the saids works, inventiouns, toolls, instruments, modells made for the same, the one-halff of the benefite aryseing by the vse or sale thairof to be applyed to his Mateis yse, and the other halff to the vse of the said Sir James and his forsaids: And with special command to the saids officers, and everie of them, to search and apprehend and punish the saids transgressours as the saids Lords of Comisell shalbe pleased to appoint, as the saids officers and everie of them will answer the contrarie at ther highest perrells: And it is heirby speciallie provydit, that if within the space of thrie yeires nixt and immediatlie following the date heirof the said James nor his forsaids, nor nane of them, shall not putt in practe is the said inventioun for the publict good, then thir presents to be voyd and of non-effect: Ordancing the said Letter to be writtin to the great seall, and exped vnder the same without passing any other seall or register, for which these presents shalbe a sufficient warrand to the keeper thairof and writen therto.—Gevin at his Mateis Court at Whythall, the 7 Jar 1635.

May it pleas your most Excellent Matie-

These licence James Colquhune, his partiners, &c., for 21 yeires to mak vse for the publict good of a New Inventioun of his, wherby scheits of Lead and conduit pypes, heirtofoir mould and cast for publict and privat vsses, may be reduced to a lesser proportion of weight and made more vsefull and of longer continuance: Others ar discharged, vnder pane of confiscation of ther works and tools, where the one halff of the forfalture is to cum to your Matie, the other to them: The transgressours to be censured as the Counsall shall think fitt: The cuntrie being served with that commoditie at reasonable rates, the patentees may sell it abroad: If the Invention be not practized for the public good within thrie yeres efter this date these presents to be voyd.—Sterline.

The Conjunct Commission of the borders of Scotland and England drawin vp by your Ma^{teis} warrand, to endur ay and whill your Ma^{tie} declare your pleasur vnder the privie seall or great seall of Scotland in the contrair, and signed by your Ma^{tie}.—Whythall, 7 Jar 1635.

—Whythall, 9 Jar 1635.

TO THE ADVOCAT.

Trustie, &c.—Haveing bene informed of the great panes and care yow have taken in the tryell of the Lord Balmerino, for the which we give yow hartie thanks, and whairof assure yow we shall not be vnmyndfull when occasion shall offer: And sieing ane end is not as yet putt to the samyne, we have thought good heirby agane seriouslie to recommend vnto your care the continuance of the prosecution of that bussines which doeth so neirlie concerne ws, till it be fullie finisched, according to the information yow shall receave from our right, &c. the Erle of Traquair, to whome we have gevin directions tuitching this purpois.—Whythall, 9 Jar 1635.

TO THE CLERK REGISTER.

Trustie, &c.—Haveing taken special notice of your great panes and care in our service wherin we doe employ yow of late, we give yow hartie thanks for the same, and doe seriouslie recommend vnto yow the continuance of your accustomed diligence in that bussines which doeth so neirlie concerne ws till it be fullie finisched, and lykwayes to consider of the informations which our right, &c. the Erle of Traquair hath receaved from ws at this tyme, wherwith he will acquant yow, that yow may concurre with him for the good of our said service.—Whythall, 9 Jar 1635.

TO THE COMMISSIONERS FOR THE GARDEROBE.

Right, &c.—Wheras we wer pleased to give a commission vnto yow for surveyghing all the garderobe stuff, plaite, hanging is, and furnischings belonging thairto, to we within that our kingdome, and for disponeing and changeing so much thair of as in the reservations conteynit in the said commission shalbe by yow thought necessarie, to which purpois we think it expedient that, haveing called for our trustic and weilbeloved Sir John Auchmowtie, Mr of our Garderobe, yow mak the said surveigh befor him, and dewlic consider thair of with him, and therefter, with all convenient diligence, yow with him acquant ws with your opinions thair in; and being informed that the said Sir John is comptable to ws for his intromission thairwith, according to a book subscryved by a number of our Counsell and him, one where is keipt in our Register and the other by himselff, and that at our being ther, by command of our counsell, diverse of the goods entrusted to his charge and for which he is answerable wer gevin out to sindric persones, where as yet he hath not receaved a full accompt, it is our pleasur that yow caus the havears of the saids goods redelyver them vnto him, that the said book may be renewed and subscryved as formerlie it hath bene [one copy], whair of to be delyvered to our Clerk Register to be kept amongst our rolls, and the other to himselff his warrant.—Whythall, 9 Ja* 1635.

TO THE SESSION.

Right, &c.—Wheras we ar informed of the great hurt that our trustic and weilbeloved Sir Alex* Home may sustene in his absence by the issue of some differences now in agitation befor yow for obteneing declaratour vpon severall gifts of his father's escheits and lyfrent, which, sieing the rights therof ar deryved from ws, we ar vnwilling should tend to our servand's prejudice: Our pleasur is therfor, in the meane whyle, till we vpon farther information shall mak knowen our pleasur vnto yow, that yow mak stay of all proceidings in any action tuitching his said father's escheit and lyfrent intended or to be intended befor yow, and suspend the giveing out and executioun of decreits, if any be, thervpon; wherin not doubting of your performance.—Whythall, 15 Ja* 1635.

TO THE SESSION.

Right, &c.—Wheras we ar informed that in the action intended at the instance of Mr Wm Drummond aganst William Scott of Ardross (latelie recommended by ws vnto yow) for reduccing his fewes of Newton Rires, and for the double availl of his mariage, nothing as yit is done, wherby we ar prejudged in our right, and the said Mr William, to whom vpon good considerations we have granted the gift thairof, is putt to vnnecessar charges and delayes in following that our service: In regard that we ar lykwyse credible informed that the said casualitie of our Croun, these lands being holdin few, with the mariage, hath bene obscured and detened from ws and our predicessours these hundredth yeires bypast, and that it doe neitle concerne ws in the estate of our revenues to reduce what is unjustlie abstracted from ws, speciallie where we and our predicessours have bene so long and frandfullie keipit bak from our right, It is our pleasur that yow carefullie advert to that action, and putt it to a finall end, that our donatour be not putt to any furder trouble or vnnecessar delayes tuitching the determining of that caus, wherin, sieing it doeth so particularlie concerne ws, we will expect from yow a readic care to performe our just and princelie desyre heirin: We bid, &c.—Whythall, the 15 Jar 1635.

TO THE BISCHOP OF BRECHIN.

Reverend father in God—Being informed that Robert Maull, our servant, is the cheiff man of the parochin of Monekie, and being confident that he will present a sufficient and qualifeit persone for dischargeing the function of the Ministrie at that Church whensoever it shallappin to vaik, it is our pleasur, quhomsoever he sall name vnto yow at that tyme, yow admitt him to the said churche, as yow will doe we acceptable service.—Whythall, 13 Jar 1635.

To the Session.

Right, &c.—Being willing to prevent any question or trouble that may enseu heirefter tuitching the vplifting and disposing of the rents of the estate of the late erldome of Home till by arbitrall decision of frendis all questiones between the pairteis be anicablic composed and setted, Our pleasur is, that till the tyme of that decision the rents of that estate be not intrometted with by any of the pairteis, bot that yow tak such course therin as the rents thairof may be sequestred or sufficientlie secured in the hands of such as may be responsible for the same, to be made furthcomand to the vse of the pairteis who shalbe fund to have best right thervnto.—Whythall, 16 Jar 1635.

TO THE EXCHEQUER.

Right, &c.—Wheras we understand how that according to our pleasur, signified of late for improveing our customes, yow had legallie evicted the former cess therof, haveing in a fair and publict way made offer of the fermeing of the same to such as would give most for them, wherin we approve of the course taken by yow, and though that thervpon yow had condescendit with W^m Dick and sent to we a Lease of these customes, wherby our fermes ar approved respecting what was formerly payed for the same, and which we (till we hear further from yow) conceave to be the saifest and most constant way in respect of the Leases, sufficiencie, and assurance offered vnto ws, yit one Robert Bar, semeing by the enclosed proposition to mak a further offer for improveing our rent of these customes: Our pleasur is, that haveing called befor yow the said Robert, yow consider of his proposition, and report to ws your opinions tuitching the same, that we may give such further ordour therin as we shall think fitt, and in the meanetyme we recommend vnto yow that a speciall care be had for the tyme and exact vplifting of these customes as they shalbe fund to grow dew vnto ws.—Whythall, 16 Jar 1635.

ROBERT BAR HIS PROPOSITIONS TUITCHING THE CUSTOMES OF SCOTLAND.

Robert Bar and his partiners took a Lease of your Ma^{teis} Customes in Scotland for 15 yeires, and gave ellevin hundreth pundis sterling a yeir more then formerlie was made of them.

Ther Lease is now takin from them by my Lord Traquair, and granted to some other man, without any improvement to your Ma^{tic}, bot onlie ellevin hundreth pund fyne.

Robert Bar now humblic offers to give your Ma^{tic} this ellevin hundreth pund fyne, togidder with ane Increase of 300^{lib.} a yeir rent, and to give verie good securitie for performance of the same.

Bot if from first to last your Ma^{tie} shall not think this good service, let my Lord Traquair mak a better offer for improvement of your hynes' revenue, and your petitioner shalbe weill content.

TO THE ERLE OF TRAQUAIR.

Right, &c.—Wheras we wer pleased of late to signifie our pleasur for dispenseing with a clause of the infeftment of the Lord Kintyre, quherby it is provydit that the Landis thairof be not sold to any of the Clandonald; bot haveing now receaved some information requyreing our further consideration tuitching that purpois, It is our pleasur that, haveing signified our intention heirin to the remanent of our Exchequer, yow stay the passing of any signature of these lands till we shalbe pleased to give further ordour heiranent; ffor which these presents, &c.—Whythall, 16 Jar 1635.

TO THE ADVOCAT.

Trustic, &c.—Wheras we ar informed that our late royall father, for the better intertenement of the professours and schollers of the Colledge of Glasgow, did endow the same with the Tythes of the Churches of Given, Kilbryd, and Renfrew, whereof the rights being (as we ar lykwayes informed) to be questioned in Law by some privat persones and for privat endis, we being desyreous that the said pious act of our father's may accordinglie tak effect in so far as may be agricable to justice and our lawes, they performed such conditions as wer condescendit vpon tuitching the mantenance of divyne service at these churches, and performeing the places of the Chaptour of Glasgow, ar heirby pleased to requyre that yow in our name compear and plead in defence of the rights and priviledges of these tythes befor whatsumever judge or Judicatorie within that our kingdome.—Whythall, 16 Jar 1635.

TO THE ERLES OF MURRAY AND LAWDERDAILL.

Right, &c.—Wheras we have taken to our consideration that the submission desyred be ws tuitching the Erldome and Estate of Home can hardlie tak effect vnless the Arbiters to be choysen of ather syd may have sicht of the writts and evidents concerning the same, wherby they may the better know the severall clames of the pairteis, and consequentile compose all differences tuitching that purpois, wherin haveing writtin at this tyme to the Colledge of Justice, we have therby thought good lykwayes to signific our pleasur vnto yow, that immediatlie efter James Home hath subscryved the said submission, all writts and evidents whatsumever concerning the said Erldome or estate may be delyvered vnto the saids arbiters at the sight of the senatours of our College of Justice; wherin not doubting of your care and readie endeavours, we bid, &c.—Whythall, 16 Jar 1635.

To the Session.

Right, &c.—Wheras, for the more speedic conclusion in the submission desyred by ws tuitching the Erldome and Estate of Home, we have signified our pleasur to the Earles of Murray and Lawderdale that all writts and evidents whatsoever concerneing the said Erldome or estate be delyvered to the arbiters, wherby they may the better know the severall claymes of the pairteis, and consequentic compose all differences concerneing that purpois: Our pleasur is, that immediatile efter the said James Home his subscryveing of the said submission yow call befor yow, vpon his information, all such persones as yow thervpon shall find requisit, or therby suppois to have in ther custodie, or to have abstracted or conceilled any of these writts and evidents, and that yow tak a summar course to have so many of them as by examinatioun vpon oath can be fund exhibited vpon inventar, and delyvered to the Arbiteris vpon both sydis, and to be returned bak when they have made vse of them.—Whythall, 17 Jar 1635.

TO THE BISCHOP OF DUNKELL.

Reverend, &c.—As we wer pleased of late to signe a presentatioun to Mr Walter Stewart for his admission to the kirk of Aberdour, to which purpois we have signified our pleasur at this tyme to the right reverend father the Archbischop of S^t Androis, our Chancellour; So it is still our pleasur, and we doe heirby will and requyre, that none be receaved in that charge bot the said Mr Walter, he being fund qualified and conforme to the canons and ordour of the Church, and to that effect we will yow to sie our pleasur heirin accordinglie performed, wherin yow shall doe we acceptable service.—Whythall, 22 Jar 1635.

Similar Letter to the Archbischop of St Androis.

TO THE SESSION.

Right, &c .- Wheras we have at sindric tymes signified our pleasur how desyreous we wer that the Erle of Airth should have a reasonable tyme to frie his estate, having at this tyme gevin expres ordour to our thesaurers for making tymelie payment of ten thowsand punds sterling for the releift of his burdenis; and wheras we ar now crediblic informed that he hath made severall reall and legall offers to the Lords Lowdoun and Foster in behalff of themselffis and rest of the creditours of ther whole bygane annual rents, wherof they refuised to accept, notwithstanding they have infeftment of his Lands confirmed by ws, which is sufficient suirtie; and being withall that therefter he offered to the rest of the creditours a part (who ar lykwayes secured of his Estate for what is dew to them) ther annual rents, whairof they would willinglie have accepted, bot that the Lord Lowdoun had them bund not to admitt of any such offer, we could doe no less (out of our princelie compassion of that noblemanis sufferings heirin) than so far as to tak notice of such rigorous proceidings as heirby speciallic to recommend the considerationn theref to yow, and to requyre yow to tak any course that possiblie may stand with our Lawis, wherby everie ane of his creditours from whom at first he did borrow moneyis or wer engadged as sureteis for him may onlie have recourse to himselff for debts dew to them according to ther first severall suirteis, or (if he and they shall find it requisite) according to such new suirtie as they shall mutuallie consider vpon, for we conceave it to be more hard and prejudiciall to him to pay all his debts (which ar now amassed to one or tuo sowmes) at one tyme than in many severall parcells as he did at first receave them, wher some ease (both in respect of tyme and otherwayes) may be gevin him by these with whom he did bargane at first: And in the meane tyme that our further pleasur is, till we be further acquanted heirin, that no proces goe on for dispossesseing him or his tennents of any lands or housses belonging to him: Which speciallic recommending to yow, we bid, &c.-Whythall, 23 Jar 1635.

TO THE ERLE OF TRAQUAIR,

Right, &c.—Wheras we have writtin at this tyme to our Colledge of Justice concerning the action depending befor them betweene the Erle of Airth and his Creditours, wherby yow will perceave our royall intention tuitching that purpois, and wherin we will yow to give your best furtherance and assistance yow can, to the end his estate (which is now endangred) may be the more quicklie relieved, and we fred of further trouble heirin, which consists in the speedie payment of these moneyis which we have designed for him: Our pleasur is, that yow tak a present course for payment of such moneys as yow and he hath condescended at this tyme, and as for the remainder, that yow certific ws of any expedient way yow shall find the same may be best done (becaus we doe veric much tender the preservation of his hous), and we will give ordour accordinglie: For all which these presents salbe vnto yow a sufficient warrant.—Whythall, 23 Jar 1635.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right reverend, &c.—We receaved your letter, wherby we perceave yow have gevin ordour to stop all proceedings in the bargane concerning the sale of Kintyre to the Erle of Antrim or the Lord Dunluce, his sone, for which we give yow harty thanks, acknowledgeing the same to be good service done vnto ws, tuitching which purpois we had of late by our letter signified our pleasur to the Erle of Traquair, to be imparted to our Exchequer, which apparentlie can not to his hands at the wryting your letter to ws; we ar heirby pleased, for the considerations mentioned therin, whairof we have been pleased to tak particular notice, speciallie to recommend vnto yow that if the Lord Kintyre hath alreadie done any thing contrair to our royall intention heirin, that yow vse your best endevours to mak it ineffectuall, and that yow lykwyse prevent any interest or possession the said Erle, his sone, or any of that name, may have in these landis, by whatsumever maner of way, and to that effect that yow give such ordour as yow to that purpois shall think fitt to preseryve, and in the meane tyme that yow signific our pleasur heirin to our Exchequer, that they give way to nothing contrair to this our intention, vnless we shalbe pleased to give further ordour theranent; for which, &c.—Whythall, 28 Jar 1635.

TO THE THESAURERS AND ADVOCAT.

Right, &c.—Being crediblic informed that notwithstanding of our pleasur signified for stopping all proceidings concerning the sale of Kintyre to the Erle of Antrim or the Lord Dunluce, his sone, the Lord Kintyre hath insisted in that bargane, in giveing infeftment to the said Erle of these Lands, we, in consideratioun of our owin particular interest therin, haveing resolved that no such bargane shalbe concluded at this tyme; and withall taking into our princelie consideratioun how far the disposeing of that estate may concerne we and the estate of that our kingdome, which hath bene represented to we by our Counsell, we ar heirby pleased that in our name yow intent proces and action of reduction of these lands to our Croun, and that yow insist therin by all the legall wayes that can be vsed; ffor which, &c.—Whythall, 28 Jar 1635.

TO THE EXCHEQUER.

Right, &c.—Wheras we have expressed our pleasur at severall tymes that in regard Patrik Elak, our servand, had in the tyme of our royall father payed 9000 merks Scotts for the heretable Chalmerlanrie of Fyff, he should be secured of that office by haveing a gift thairof, redemable alwayes vpon payment of these moneyis, and therefter to returne to our Croun, wherin (as we did formerlie wryt) sieing the redemption which at all tymes is in our power doeth distinguish that our gift from the nature of heretable offices, and that it is nowayes our royall intentioun to tak that office from him without satisfaction, it is our pleasur that vpon his surrander thairof to our Croun, or if the surrander be alreadie legallie made, that yow exped vnder our sealls the signature sent by ws vnto yow concerning that purpois, or that yow exped vnder our Cachet or sealls any other which will secure him for bruiking that office till he be payed of the saidis moneyis debursed by him, that therefter it may returne to our Croun; ffor which, &c.—Whythall, 28 Ja^r 1635.

TO THE EXCHEQUER.

Right, &c.—Humble complaint haveing bene made vnto ws by Doctour David Beaton, our phisitian in ordinarie, that now of late our gift of pension vnto him and his wyff (ratifeid in our late parliament ther), and acquired by them vpon valuable considerations, is questioned, to ther great hurt: Our pleasur is, that they and the tenments be not further troubled nor questioned dureing the tyme of ther grant, but at the expiratioun thairof we will have that pension to returne to our Croun without any further locall assignment to be made thairof, wherin this our pleasur significid at this tyme shalbe sufficient to stop any such grant heirofter: We bid, &c.—Whythall, 28 Jar 1635.

TO THE ARCHBISCHOPS.

Right, &c.—Wheras our late royall father and our selffes have bene alwayes accustomed to caus frie from payment of our taxations such of the ministrie as wer knowen vnable to pay any part thairof: Though we do beleive that ther is no such great caus at this tyme for exempting them in this kynd, we haveing bene so carefull to sie them more compitentlie provydit than they wer heirtofoir, yet, least any should suffer who ar poore, and have not as yit had the benefite of our pious intention for augmenting ther stipendis, it is our pleasur that yow consider the estate of such as ar within your provinces, causeing the lyk course be taken by the remanent bischops throughout ther severall dyoccis, and vpon list to be gevin vp to yow of ther names, and exact tryell of ther estate, yow delyver the same under your hands to our collectour-generall of our taxations, or to his deputeis and collectours, that they be not troubled for any ordinarie taxations dew by them, and no otherwyse: For doeing wheref, &c.—Whythall, 28 Jar 1635.

TO THE ADVOCAT.

Trustie, &c.—Wheras some yeires ago we did condescend with the Erle of Airth for his hous at Halyrudhous, for the vse of the bischops of Edinburgh, to which purpois it being requisite that the present bischop be secured by ws, to the end he may setle himselff therat; it is our pleasur that yow draw vp securiteis fitt and necessarie to be exped by ws, as yow shall find to be requisite for his and his successours in that charge ther right thervnto at all tymes heirefter; And that yow insert a speciall provision therin that the said bischop and his aires, and each of his successours in that charge, and ther aires successivelie, shalbe bund, vnder such a penaltie as our treasurer and yow shall condiscend vpon, to leave that house in no worse esteat then it is at this tyme; ffor which, &c.—Whythall, 28 Jar 1635.

To the Session.

Right, &c.—Being informed that the action in Law tuitching the reduction of the infeftments of the heretable Isherie of our Excheker ther, which hath so maynie yeires depended befoir yow, to the prejudice of our right, and of the persone whom we appoynted to discharge that office, doeth remane as yit vndeeyded, notwithstanding of diverse of our letters to yow and our Advocat, for insisting and putting it to a finall end: And in regard, as we ar lykwyse crediblic informed by some of our cheiff officers, that we have now ane vndoubtit right to the said office: It is our pleasur that with all diligence, as yow tender the good of our service, yow give out your decrie in the said action, that (if it be as our saids officers have informed ws) our right from which we and our predicessours hath bene so long keiped bak may without further delay be restablisched, and our servand whom we appoynted to discharge that office setled therin; wherin, sieing it doeth so particularlic concerne ws, we will expect from yow a readic care to performe our just and princelie desyre herein: We bid yow farewell.—Whythall, 28 Jar 1635.

TO SIR JAMES BALFOUR.

Trustie, &c.—Wheras we did formerlie signifie our pleasur vnto yow that our right trustie, &c. the Erle of Stirling, our secretarie for Scotland, should have the Armes of New Scotland in ane Inscutcheon with his owin paternall coat, and that other coat (which we lykwayes allow him to bear for reasones signified at that tyme vnto yow, as by our letter may particularlie appear); now, considering that he hath in particular and singular maner deserved the said augmentatioun of the Armes of New Scotland, and to the effect he may bear it in a way propper vnto him selff, and different to all others who are authorized for bearing of it, we ar pleased to allow it vnto him, to be quartered in the first quarter with his other coats; and thairfor it is our pleasur that yow draw such further warrant for this purpois as shalbe expedient; and withall that yow register this our letter in your books of office, to remane therin, according to the custome in the lyk kynd, to the effect no other may tak vpon them to bear the said augmentation in this maner, to the prejudice of the gracious favour which we doe heirin intend to him alone: ffor the which these presents, &c.—Whythall, 28 Jar 1635.

TO THE DEPUTIE OF IRLAND.

Right, &c.—Wheras, by our letters bearing date at Beaulieu the 15 of August, in the 8 yeir of our Reigne, directed to the then Lords Justices of Irland, we required them to cause proclamation to be made in that our kingdome that none of our subjects of any of our dominions should pay ather more or other customes or dewteis than such as the natives of the place wher the custome is taken ought to pay; which proclamation we then sent, togidder with our saids letters, in such maner as the same had bene befoir publisched in our realmes of England and Scotland: And for as much as we ar informed by our frie burrowis of our kingdome of Scotland that the said Proclamatioun hath not bene yit publisched in that our realme of Irlend, be reason whairof our subjects hath not receaved the benefite of our gracious intentions towards them, we doe therfor heirwith send yow the Proclamatioun, requiring yow furthwith to caus the same to be publisched in that our kingdome in such sort that all our subjects may tak notice of our pleasur heirin, and to tak care that the same be dewlie observed accordinglie; And this shalbe your sufficient warrant and discharge in this behalff.—Gevin vnder our signet at Whythall, the 5 of Febr 1635.

To Thomas, Viscount Wentworth, our Deputie of our realme of Irland and President of our Counsell establishhed in the Northerne parts of England.

Sub^r, Fran. Windibank.

Our Soveraigne Lord now, efter his Mateis full and perfyt aige of tuentie-fyve yeires compleit, and efter his highnes' revocations, generall and speciall, made in parliament or outwith, haveing remembred the good tyme and thankfull services done to his Matie, and his highnes' vmquhill father, of happie memorie, by his highnes' trustie and weilbeloved James Fenton, keeper deputie of his highnes' palace of Halyrudhous, and garden within the same, was gratiouslie pleased, by his highnes' letters of gift vnder the Privie Seall of Scotland of the date at Whythall the 5 of May 1626, not onlie to ratific and approve the said James his former gift thairof, bot also to constitute him of new Ordiner keeper deputie of the said Palace, and gardene within the same, Granting him the office therof for all the dayes of his lyftyme, with all fevis, casualiteis, priviledges, immuniteis, proffeits, and dewteis therof perteneing and belonging therto; And in speciall to have assigned to the said James Fenton, in name of fie, Tuentie schillings Scotts money, to be vplifted furth of the readiest of the maills, fermes, and dewteis of his highnes' rents and propertie, to be payed to the said James daylie ilk day for all the dayes of his lyftyme, Togidder with a Chalder of Bear yeirlie, to be payed out of the readiest fermes and dewteis of the Landis of Ballincreiff, at the termes vsed and wount, begining the first dayes payment of the said money at the day and date of the said gift, and the first yeires payment of the said Victuall to be made for the said cropt and yeir of God 1626, and so furth daylie and yeirlie therefter respective dureing the said space, as in the saids Letters at mair lenth proports: And his Matie being now most willing to corroborat and strenthen the said former gift granted vnto the said James, for his better encouragment to continew in the said service, doeth, with the speciall advyse and consent of his Mateis right, &c. William, Erle of Morton, his Mateis principall Thesaurer of the said kingdome, of Johne, Erle of Traquair, his Mateis deputie Thesaurer therof, and of the remanent Commissioners of Exchequer, Ordeanes a Letter of new to be made and exped vnder his Mateis privie seall in due forme, ratificing and approveing, and for his highnes and his successours perpetuallic confirmeing, lykas by the tenour heirof his Matie, with advyse and consent forsaid, ratifeis, approves, and for his highnes and successours perpetuallie confirmes the said Letter of gift, of the date at Whythall the 5 of May 1626, as aforsaid, in the haill heads, clausses, articles, and conditionis therin conteynit, and efter the forme and tenour therof in all poynts, save onlie wher the said James assigned by the said former gift immediatlie to receave the said Chalder of bear out of the lands of Ballincreiff yeirlie from the handis of persones adebtit to pay them, or from any others haveing power to receave the same, he is heirby appoynted to have the prives thairof yeirlie, as the Lords of the Excheker, or any of them appointed by the bodie of the Table, shall find the same to be conforme to the fiars of the pryces of the lyk victuall in these parts ilk yeir, and that out of his Mateis Excheker, rents and casualiteis whatsoever: And his Mate, with advyse and consent forsaid, hath made and constitute the said James Fenton of new deputie Keeper of the said palace, and garden within the same, granting to him the office thairof for his lyftyme, with all feyis, casualiteis, priviledges, immuniteis, proffeits, and dewteis perteneing and belonging thairto; And in spetiall hath gevin and granted, and by the tenour heirof gives, grants, and dispones of new to the said James Fentoun dureing his lyftyme, All and haill the said fiall of Tuentie schillings Scotts money daylie dureing all the dayes of his said lyftyme, Togidder with the said pryce of a chalder [of] bear yeirlie out of Ballincreiff, as they shall happin to be fund by the saids Lords of Exchequer to be answerable to the fiers of ilk yeir, to be receaved out of the Excheker yeirlie in maner forsaid, the first payment of the said tuentie schillings daylie to be and begin at the day and date of thir presents, and so furth daylie dureing all the dayes of his lyftyme, and the first payment of the pryces of the said bear to be and hegin at the terme of , and so furth yeirlie at the said terme dureing all the dayes of his lyftyme; with command in the said letter to the Commissioners to sie the same exped with all clausses neidfull.—Whythall, 6 Fehry 1635.

A signatur was past his Ma^{teis} hand in favours of Doctour Craig, one of his Ma^{teis} doctours in ordinarie, ratificing vnto him a pension of 100^{lib} sterling per annum dureing his lyftyme.—Whythall, 6 Feb^{ry} 1635.

To the Session.

Right, &c.—Wheras by our former letter we required yow to mak stay (till yow should know our further pleasur) of all proceidings in any action intented or to be intendit befor yow tuitching Sir George Home of Manderstoun his escheit and lyfrent, we now, haveing taken into our princelle consideratioun that non hath so just reasone to demand the same as Sir Alex^r Home his sone, as weill in regard of the great prejudice he hath sustened by engadgments for his father as that he is a neir servant to ws, from whom the right of that casualitie is to be deryved: In respect whairof, and the other gifts (declaratours not being past thervpon) have not yit taken effect, we have gevin ordour to expeid a new grant to our said servant of his father's escheit and lyfrent, which, that it may be effectuall vnto him by obteneing declaratours thervpon, it is our pleasur that yow grant him process for insisting therin, and that no other may tak advantage aganst him vpon pretence of prioritie of tyme; wherin not doubting of your care, we bid yow fareweill.—Whythall, 6 Feb[‡] 1635.

TO THE EXCHEQUER.

Right, &c.—Wheras we ar informed that yow have (according to the usuall practeis) for compositions payed for our vse passed diverse gifts of Sir George Home of Manderstoun his escheit and lyfrent to severall persones, which none hath so just reasone to demand as Sir Alex^r Home his sone, in regard of the great prejudice which (as we ar crediblic informed) he hath susteyned by engadgments for his father: In respect whairof, and that he is a neir servant to ws, from whom the right of that casualitie is to be deryved, and that the other gifts (declaratours not being obteynit thervpoun) have not yit taken effect, Our pleasur is, that for the lyk compositions that any of the others have payed, yow pass a gift also vnto him of his said father's escheit and lyfrent, and if our said servant his owin escheit and lyfrent be fallin into our handis (which in that caice will includ the other), let it be frielie past to his owin vse to Mr Alex^r Home of S^t Leonard's; ffor which these presents, &c.—Whythall, 6 Febr 1635.

TO THE EXCHEQUER.

Right, &c.—Humble sute hath bene made to ws in behalf of Mr Robert Murray, Commissar of Stirling, for continewing the pension he had of our late royall father, in regard it was granted to him for his dimitting diverse churches within his commissariot for augmenting the patrimonie of the bischoprik of Glasgow: Though the grounds of his demand be considerable, yit we ar altogidder vnwilling to ratific aney pension which hath bene locallic assigned, as we ar informed this is: Therfor it is our pleasur that, haveing considered the nature and value thairof, yow condescend with him for being payed heirefter out of our Exchequer, according to the approved maner, and to that effect that yow ather cause draw vp a signature to pass immediatlic vnder our cachet and privie seall ther, or that yow send ane vnto ws for our signet, to be returned for his vse, for ather of which these presents shalbe sufficient warrant; and in the meanetyme that yow from hencefurth caus that locall pension be made vse of for our best advantage, and payed in yeirlie to our Exchequer: We bid, &c.—Whythall, 6 Febr 1635.

TO THE CHANCELLOUR.

Right, &c.—Wheras we wer formerlie pleased that these patentes of honour intended for the Lords Lyndsay and Lowdon at our late entrie to that our kingdome, which wer not exped our great seall, should be recalled, to which purpois we gave ordour to the late Chancellour, and wherof we had takin accompt of him at his late being at our Court, if his death had not prevented the same: It is our pleasur that yow call for these signaturs, and returne them saiflie to ws, wherin expecting that all possible diligence be vsed, and ane exact account thairof made vnto ws, &c.—Whythall, 6 Febr 1635.

TO THE SESSION.

Right, &c.—Being informed that ther is ane action in Law alreadie intended or to cum befor yow at the instance of Sir Alex^r Falconer of Halkerton, kny^t, which, in respect of his aige, he is vnable to follow with that diligence and care that is requisite, we ar heirby graciouslie pleased to recommend the said action vnto yow, that justice may be administred therin with as much expedition as can be possible affoorded by the lawis and custome of that our kingdome, wherin yow shall doe ws good and acceptable service.—Whythall, 8 Feb^r 1635.

His Ma^{teis} warrant was directed to the Lo/ Stanehop to authorize and requyre the posts on the road from London to Berwick to send to court all packetts receaved by them vnder the subscription of the Archbischop of S^t Androis, Chancellour of Scotland.

TO THE ADVOCAT.

Trustie, &c.—Haveing taken notice of the good affection to our service of our burgh of Aberden, speciallie at this tyme by the readic obedience to our pleasur for receaveing of Sir Paull Meinzeis to be ther provest, we have been now pleased by our letters to them to acknowledge ther good service heirin, and to give them thankis for the same: And wheras humble sute hath been made to ws in ther behalff to ratifie ther priviledges and liberteis, as our royall progenitours wer accustomed to doe, to which purpois they have sent vnto ws a confirmation to pass our signature heir: We ar heirby pleased to will and requyre yow to confer the same with the ratification of our late royall father last granted to them; and if yow find nothing materiallie disconforme therin, or if that any things be added of new wherby we nor none of our good subjects ar prejudged, that yow furthwith signific vnto our Exchequer that it is our pleasur that it be exped vnder our cachet and scalls ther, or send it docated by yow vnto ws that it may be returned vnder our royall signature for passing our saidis scalls; ffor which these presents shalbe vnto all our officers whom it may concerne sufficient warrant.—Whythall, 12 Febr 1635.

TO THE CITIE OF ABERDENE.

Trustie, &c.—Vnderstanding of your willing and readie obedience to our letter in removeing your late Provost and accepting Sir Paull Meinzeis, knyt, in that charge, we doe therin acknowledge your good affection to our service, and gave yow hartie thanks for the same, assureing yow that heirefter we wilbe spareing to give any such further ordour vnless there be some speciall occasion moveing we therento: As for your signature sent vnto we for ratificing your liberteis, we have at this tyme returned the same to our Advocat to be conferred with the last ratification of our late royall father, and if nothing be materiallie disconforme, or if anythings be added by yow of new wherby we nor none of our good subjects ar prejudged, that he furth caus expeid the same vnder our cachet and sealls, otherwayes returned docated by him vnto we that it may pass our signature heir, and be returned bak for that purpois: We bid, &c.—Whythall, 12 Febr 1635.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—Wheras it hath bene humblic represented to ws in behalff of John Leslie, younger of Pitcaple, that in regard of the great scarsitie of moneyis in the northerne parts of that our kingdome, or by vnwillingnes of such as have them to lend the same, he cannot possiblic raise moneyis at this tyme for his creditours' satisfaction, bot is most willing to secure them sufficientlie, both of ther principall sowmes and annual-rents, by giveing them surtie of his Landis, and otherwayes to dispose vnto them heretablic such part thereof as shalbe proportionable in worth to his debts, wher if they should insist with rigour by troubling his persone, it would both prejudge them and whollie dissable him to tak any course for ther satisfaction; whereyon, though we have bene pleased to signe the inclosed protection, yit we have thoght withall fit that yow call befor yow his creditours for accepting such reasonable offers, bot if they shall obstinatlie; Our pleasur is, that yow caus expeid the protection vnder our great seall, that therby he may have some tyme to mak the best vse he can of his estate for payment of his debts.—Whythall, 18 Feb. 1635.

TO THE SESSION.

Right, &c.—We ar informed that one Johne Robertsone, heretable proprietar of the halff mylne of Innernesse, which is of our propertie, hath raised summondis befor yow aganst ane James Cuthbert of Drakeis, from whom he bought his right to that mylne, for abstracting the multuris of the Cornes of his Landis alwyse thirled thervnto, wherin, as we ar lykwayes informed, sieing we ar prejudged in our right, and our tennent fraudulentlie abused in his purches, by the others selling vnto him at ane dear rate what he intended to mak vnprofitable, we have heirby thought fit to recommend the consideration of the cause vnto yow that speedic justice be administred therin, in so far as yow shall find agricable to equitie and our Lawes: We bid yow farewell from our Court at Whythall, the 18 Febr 1635.

TO THE ADVOCAT.

Trustie, &c.—Haveing bene pleased to recommend to our Colledge of Justice that speedie justice be administred in ane action of ane Johne Robertsone, heretable proprietar of the halff mylne of Innernesse, aganst ane James Cuthbert of Drakeis, in regard the mylne is of our propertie, and that the wrong alledged to be done to Robertsone doeth lykwayes prejudge ws, we ar heirby pleased to will and require yow to informe your selff of the trew estate of the caus, and particularlie of our Interest; and therefore that yow concure with the said Robertsone for sieing our right preserved, in so far as the equitie therof and our lawis will permitt, and for putting it to a speedie end, according to justice; wherin not doubting of your care and diligence, we bid, &c.—Whythall, 18 Feb' 1635.

Our Soveraigne Lord ordeanes a protection to be made vnder the great seall of Scotland to his highnes' lovitts, Johne Leslie, elder of Pitcaple, Johne Leslie, younger of Pitcaple, his sone, and James Leslie, his brother, making mention that wheras his Ma^{tie} is crediblie informed that now in regard of the great scarcitie of moneyis within the northerne parts of the said kingdome (wher ther esteats doe ly), or otherwyse of the small trust which ordinarlie at this tyme any gentlman haveing estate of landis can have of such persones as have moneyis, in regard of ther ends and respects for making benefite thairof otherwayes, the said Johne Lesleis, elder and younger, and the said James Leslie, cannot possiblie raise sowmes of money for ther Creditours' present satisfaction, vnless they would tak such proportions of land belonging vnto them as might be equivalent in value to the moneyis due to the saidis creditours: And wheras his Ma^{tie} is lykwyse credible informed that if the saids Creditours should tak any rigorous course at this tyme aganst the persones of ther saids debtours (who ar both most willing and able to give them satisfaction if some compitent tyme wer allowed for that purpois), it would be a meanes to disable them to tak way which is necessarie and convenient for all ther good; wherin his Ma^{tie}, respecting the weill of both the creditours and debtours, &c. Cetera style ordinario.—Whythall, 21 Feb[†] 1635.

Att his Ma^{teis} Court of Whythall, the 23 of Feb⁷⁷ 1635, stilo Scotico, the King his most Excellent Ma^{tie}, taking to his princelic consideration the great panes and travells takin by his Ma^{teis} servand the present Conservitour of the Low Cuntreys in ministring of Justice to his subjects ther, keeping them in decent ordour amongst themselffis and strangers, protecting them from all wrongs, and sueing for reparation of all injure done to aney of them in the sevintene provinces; And that it is fift for the credit of the kingdome of Scotland that he live in good and honorabill fashon befitting his place, which he cannot possible doe vpon the feyis of the said office in regard of ther smalnes: And vnderstanding that the factours, his Ma^{teis} subjects, resideing at the staple port, altho they receave no less benefite by the said Conservatour his labours than the merchands doe, yit they contribute nothing to his mantenance in the said place: Therfor his Ma^{tie} gives and grants to the present Conservatour, dureing his lyftyme, as much of everie seck of goodis, to be payed by the factour who receaves the same, as the saids factours doe now pay of everie seek, ather by vertew of any acts of burrowis, or by ther voluntar grant, for making vp of the minister's stipend; Commanding and ordaneing all the saids factours which at the said staple, present and to cum, to mak thankfull and readie payment of to the said Conservatour and his Collectours in his name dureing his lyftyme of the lyk quantitie of dues of everie seck of goodis wherto they ar imployed factours, which they now pay for the vse of the minister and payment of his stipend by any maner of way whatsoever, With power to the said Conservatour or his Creditours of the forsaids dues to depryve them of the office of factorie and all liberteis of that kingdome; And his Matie vnderstanding that Fleymings and other strangers doe for ther benefite repair to the said kingdome, and sayll from thence with coalls and other merchandice, as thogh they wer his subjects, who nevertheles refuis to mak payment to the said Conservatour of the dewis of ther coalls and other merchandice and wares, pretending immunitie becaus they are strangers, althogh they not onlie enjoy all the same liberteis which his Matens naturall subjects doe, bot lykwyse doe hinder his Mateis owin subjects much in ther trade: Therfor his Mateie ordeanes the saids Flemings resideing in Scotland or tradeing to the Low Cuntreyis, and his Mateis subjects, and particularlie Cais Mais, sumetyme of Roterdame, and now of Burrowstouness, to mak good and thankfull payment to the present Conservatour or his Collectours of all such dues as ar payed or oght to be payed vnto him by his Mateis natives of the said kingdome, or oney of them, in all and everie respect whatsoever, and that for all tymes bypast and to cum, as these dewteis shall happin to accress at any tyme heirefter throughout the whole bounds of the saids sevintene provinces, and all parts theref, and that of all coalls and other sort of goods and waris whatsoever transported to the said bounds, or any part thairof, out of the said kingdome; With power to him to arreist and poynd and distraine for not payment of the saids dues, for all tymes bypast and to cum, when and wherseever he can apprehend the persones or good of the infringers of this present act within any of his Mateis dominions: And in caice the said Cais Mais refuis to mak thankfull payment to the said Conservatour or his Collectours of all bygane dues, and for the tyme to cum, we doe heirby declair the said Cais Mais nor no stranger whatsoever to have no benefite or libertie within the said kingdome of Scotland, or without the same within the saidis 17 provinces, or oney of them, by reasone of any warrant, certificat, power, exemption, or writt whatsoever from his Mateis Admirall of the said kingdome, or any vnder or from him, or from any other officeris or persones whatsoever, ordaneing the said Admirall to draw bak from the said Cais Mais any such warrand, certificat, or writt whatsoever which is alreadie gevin, and that he give nane such to any stranger in tyme cuming, vnless they obleidge themselffis by good sufficient bandis that they shall pay to the Conservatour and his Collectours readelie and trulie the fall dues of all coalls and others goods which they shall transport at any tyme out of the said kingdome, or any toun or haven within any of the saids 17 provinces of the Low Cuntrevis, And shall vindergoe such burdens and fulfill these dewteis which the natives of the said kingdome doe: Which Acts and Ordinances above specifiet his Matie ordeanes to be acted and registrat in the books of the privie Counsall of the said kingdome ad futuram rei memoriam, and the samyne being registrat, his Matie lykwyse ordenes his highnes' great signet to be appendit thervnto; for which these presents shalbe sufficient warrand to all whom it may concerne.

TO THE BURROWES.

Trustie, &c.—Wheras we ar informed that notwithstanding of your Acts, wherby the inhabitants of these brughes tradeing in the Low Countreyis ar ordeaned to pay to our trustie and weilbeloved servand the present conservatour the dewteis for his charge and intertenement, yit some of them have defrauded him thairof, to his great prejudice and dissabling of him in that charge, as we have appoynted him to procure the good and benefite of all our subjects of that kingdome tradeing in any of the sevintene provinces; so we hold it to be just and necessarie that, according to your acts, these dewes (which ar the meanes allotted him for his maintenance) be generallie and indifferentile vplifted by him of all goodis belonging to any of our saidis subjects arryveing within these 17 provinces, or any pairt thairof, the consideratioun whairof, and of the good and panefull services hitherto performed by him in that charge, where (as we ar informed) he did of late give an extraordinarie prooff by procuring a speedie redresse of a wrong done to some of your nighbours, hath justlie moved ws to recommend vnto yow in a speciall maner to sic a speedie course taken for paying such dewteis as ar resting vnpayed to him, and that they be punctuallie payed heirefter to him, as they shal happin to grow dew: And wheras he hath informed ws how willing yow ar to augment his dewes, in regard of the hie rates and pryces of all necessareis in these tymes, respecting what formerlie they wer, we give yow hartie thanks for the same, and doe heirby speciallie recommend vnto yow, to sie him so weill and complettle provydit, as both may best befit his his charge and your credit, and may be a meanes to him, and by his readie endeavours heirefter to testifie his further care and affection for advanceing your trade in these parts.—Whythall, 23 Febr 1635.

TO THE SESSION.

Right, &c.—Wheras it hath bene humblie schawin vnto ws that our trustic and weilbeloved David Murchead, merchand, of London, haveing about thrie yeires since lent some moneyis to the late Erle of Home, he cannot be repayed thairof becaus of a letter from ws prohibiteing the vplifting of any dewteis of that estate till the differences betweene the pairteis interested in the title of succession thervnto wer determined, wherin our intention was onlie to seclude ather of these pairteis from medling with these rents, but did not therby meane to dissapoynt the trew creditours to seik what is justlie dew vnto them, least by want of ther moneyis beyond the time condescended vpoun they be prejudged, and possiblie, by the inhabilitie of the tennents or others interested for the tyme, they be put to vnnecessar trouble and charge to recover the same by Law, which is nowayes our royall meaning: Therfoir we have heirby thought fitt to recommend vnto yow that, in so far as can be agricable to equitie, yow prescryve a way wherby the said David may be speedelie repayed of the rents of the Lands resting in the tennents' handis, or which shall accress heirefter, till he be satisfied of what shalbe justlie dew vnto him, that (being payed) the bandis may be withdrawin, and by yow reserved as discherges of that debt to the pairtie interested, to whom this course cannot be prejudiciall, bot rather in vantage, by being exonered from payment of vnnecessarie interest heirefter, and consequentlie fred of so just a debt.—Whythall, 23 Febr 1635.

TO THE SESSION.

Right, &c.—Wheras we ar informed that in ane action depending befor yow between William Seaton of Meldrum and George Chalmers of Balbithan, tuitching a trust reposed in the said William by the other of his lands of Balbithan in the tyme of his absence, yow had gevin out your decrie in favours of the said George tuitching the inheritance, and that the poynt now left disputable doeth onlie concerne the said William's accompts or disbursments for the other, and the rents of his Lands receaved, or which he might have receaved; wherin, sieing his cariage may prove such as in the preceiding case of trust which he did disclame, in hope to gane the propertie of these landis to himselff, and that he now endeavoureth, as lykwayes we ar informed, to protract tyme by delayes, becaus of the others aige and occasion of some necessarie bussines in this our kingdome: We ar pleased, in consideratioun thairof, and of the interest that our trustie servant Doctour Chalmers, his brother-german, hath at this tyme acquyred in that estate, who cannot convenientlie follow that action himselff, according to the vsuall course in the lyk caces, becaus of his attendance in our service heir, to recommend to yow that speedie justice be administred tuitching the clearing of these accompts and debursments, according to the course of our Lawes; And in all other causes which may concerne our said servant his interest in the said Estate, and hurt done thervnto in absence of his said brother, in so far as is competent to your Judicatoric, that he be not diverted from attending his charge heir.—Whythall, 23 Febr 1635.

TO THE BISCHOP OF EDINDURGH.

Reverend father in God, Vnderstanding the good abilite of Mr Johne McMath, minister at Symprene, hath to serve we and the Church, and that hitherto he hath lived conformable and conscionable in his charge: It is our pleasur that, sieing he may elsewher doe we and the Church better service than when he presentlie serves, that when seever any good occasion shall offer wherby he may be preferred within your dyocie, to aney charge wherof we or yow ar patron, that he may be preferred and presented, not onlie for his better encouragement, but that others, sieing our and your care of such, they may be encouraged to keip ane constant course in our church service; wherin expecting your obedience.—Whythall, vt supra.

TO THE SESSION.

Vpon the 18 Aprill 1635 ther passed a letter his Ma^{teis} hand directed to the Session in favours of M^r Samwell Johnstoun, for recoverie of some money is lent by him to the Erle of Home about 3 yeires befor the daite heirof, verbatim lyk vnto the other writtin in favours of David Murcheid.—Vide in precedentibus foliis apud Whythall, 23 Feb^r 1635.

To the Archbischop of ST Androis.

Right, &c.—Wheras out of our princelic respect of the good education to our Nobilitie of that our kingdome as ar of younger yeires, speciallie of these who ar our wardis, we have bene pleased at this tyme to have a care of the good and religious breiding of our right trustie and weilbeloved cousen the Erle of Buccleuch in letters and what else is fitt and necessarie for ane in his place and qualitie: To which purpois we have heirby thoght fitt to recommend vnto yow that by the advyse of our right trustie and our right weilbeloved Cousen and Counsellour the Erle of Stirling (to whome we have granted the gift of his ward and mariage), and of aney tuo of such of his most speciall freinds and kinsmen as yow shall think fitt to mak choyse of, yow sie a course taken with him and setled accordinglie, which we will tak as acceptable service done vnto ws.—Whythall, 27 Febr 1635.

TO THE EXCHEQUER.

Right, &c.—Haveing heard that yow have stopped the passing of that gift which we wer latelie pleased to grant vnto our right trustie and weilbeloved Sir Anthonie Alexander, kny^t, M^r of our Works, of our kingdome of Scotland, by reasone of some objections made by Sir W^m Sinclar of Roslin, kny^t, pretending ane heretable Charge over the maissones of our said kingdome: Though we have never gevin warrant for strenthning of aney heretable right, yitt we intend not to wrong aney man who is sufficientlie secured therin, bot to recover it by dew course of Law: Therfoir it is our pleasur that yow caus the said Sir W^m Sinclar mak it appear vnto yow and to our Advocat what right and title he hath wherby the passing of the said signature should be stayed, and if yow find that ther be just caus in his part why the said signature should be stayed, and that it conteyne any new clause more to his prejudice than other Masteris of Works formerlie had, we desyre that our Advocat may certific ws of the trew estate therof, and if ther be no just caus of stay, sieing we will that the present Mr of Work have as much priviledge as ancy of his predicessours in that place have ever had, it is our pleasur that immediatlic yow cause pass the same throw our sealls, and we will lykwayes for the better clearing of the said bussines that yow examyne the massones of that our kingdome, and that not by paperis whervnto ather of the pairteis may have procured ther handis in a privat way, but that yow give ordour to the magistrats of everic toun, and to the scherreffis of everic schyre, or to aney other officers whom yow shall think fitt, that so they, haveing called befor them and heard the saids massones, may report vnto yow what they shall find in the same.—Whythall, 27 Febr 1635.

TO THE CHANCELLOUR.

Right reverend, &c.—We expected befor this tyme the Lord Balmerino should have submitted himselff to our mercie in a satisfactorie maner by some publict expression, or that otherwayes with all diligence he should have bene present to his tryell, as we had signified our pleasur to the Erle of Traquair, who we doubt not did communicat the same with yow and such others as we wryt vnto, that yow might have joyned your endeavours for the advancement of that service, and though it had some stay by prorogating the day in regard of the absence of the Cheiff Justice, who could hardlie repair thither becaus of the stormie weather, it is our pleasur, that advyseing with the said Erle of Traquair, to whome we formerlie imparted our pleasur therin, and such others as ar entrusted from ws by Commission from that bussines, that in caice he did not submitt yow proceid with all diligence to his tryell according to the course of Justice, and that yow certific ws bak as soone as possiblie yow can what is done or resolved to be done heirin.—Whythall, 2 March 1635.

TO THE EXCHEQUER.

Right, &c.—Haveing hene pleased vpon good considerations to signe a gift of the escheit and lyfrent of George Buchanan of that ilk to Robert Drummond of Medhope, Our pleasur is, that with diligence yow pas it, suffering no former gift therof (if aney be alreadie granted by yow) to tak place, and if aney declaratour be gevin thervpon, we requyre that the said Robert be secured in such legall maner as he can devyse of the benefite of the bakband gevin to our Thesaurer, becaus that as heirby we intend not to defraud ancy creditour of what he hath disbursed, or of what at first he was engadged for the said George, without amassing of other men's money is adebtit to them, and to the which they have taken assignations, so that our royall meaneing is that his estate should not be takin from him without verie just and equitable consideratiouns flowing from the Creditours ther owin simple disbursments: To which purpois it is our further pleasur that (if neid be) yow signifie our will heirin to the Lords of Session for preventing what may be done to the contrarie, and to proceid in justice for granting a declaratour vpon that our request, stopping all others of this kynd; for which these presents shalbe vnto yow and them a sufficient warrant.

TO THE LORD KINTYRE.

Wheras we ar fullie resolved vpon speciall considerations knowen vnto ws that the bargane tuitching the Lord of Dunluce his purches from yow of the Lands of Kintyre shall ceise, haveing to that purpois gevin ordour to the Erle of Stirling, our Secretaric, to sie a renunciatioun signed by him for relinquisching his interest therin, Least such bandis or moneyis as hath bene gevin to yow by his father the Erle of Antrim or himselff be a hinderance to this purpois, it is our pleasur, and we doe heirby will and requyre yow furthwith, to pay and delyver bak vnto the said Lord Dunluce all such moneyis and bandis as yow have receaved tuitching that bargane.—Whythall, 3 March 1635.

The gift of the escheit and lyfrent of George Buchanan of that ilk was granted by his Ma^{tie} to Ro^t Drummond of Medhope, which did fall and was at his Ma^{teis} dispositioun by vertew of the said George his being putt to the horne and declared rebell at the instance of Agnes Barelay, relict of vmquhill M^r James Haig: Stilo ordinario.—Whythall, 4 March 1635.

To the Erle of Arrell, Cheiff Justice.

Right, &c.—Being adverteised of the delay of the tyme appoynted for Balmeriuois tryell in Februar last by reasone of the extraordinarie tempest of weather, and that the same is prorogat to the ellevint of March instant, we have thoght fitt heirby to requyre yow to caus the said tyme be kept, and to remitt the bussines to the tryell of ane assyse, for as we desyre nothing bot right to be done, so we will not have tyme lost by the discourse and disput of Advocatts: Therfor, as at the first yow did well to give them tyme aneuch for oppugneing the relevancie of the lybell, yow will advert now when the interlocutour is pronunced to have no more dayes spent into that in that sort, bot that yow cause the Jurie to be sworne and to give out ther verdict, which, whatsoever it be, yow shall immediatlie adverteise ws of, and haveing pronunced the sentence in caice he be convicted, yow shall continew the execution therof till our pleasur be knowen; and otherwyse, if he be absolved, yow shall remit him bak to his prissone till yow have signified the same vnto ws and hear from ws bak agane: In all this we expect your carefulnes according to the trust we have in yow.—Whythall, 5 March 1635.

Wheras we did latelie signifie to the right, &c. the Archbischop of S⁵ Androis, Chancellour of that our kingdome, that albeit befor we did appoynt him President of our Exchequer, yit haveing promoved him to the dignitie and place of Chancellour, we thought it not fitt and propper for him to bruik the said place of President in Exchequer, and sieing our thesaurers principall and deputie ar our cheiff officers in the Excheker, it is most fitt for our service that our said Thesaurer principall, and in his absence the Thesaurer depute, should preside: Therfor it is our speciall pleasur that this ordour be keped in Exchequer in all tyme cuming, and that thir presents be registrat in our books of Exchequer to be a sufficient warrant for that effect.—Whythall, 5 March 1635.

To the Erles of Morton and Traquair, and remanent of the Exchequer.

TO THE CHANCELLOUR.

Right, &c.—Haveing bene pleased of late to signific our pleasur vnto our right, &c. the Erle of Erroll, our Justice Generall deputed by ws for the tyme, that the Lord Balmerino should be putt to the tryell of ane assyse, according as it is mentionat in our letter to that purpois, and haveing fullic resolved, in caice of the absence of our said Justice Generall by seiknesse, indisposition of bodie, or otherwayes, that the tryell of that bussines shall not be further delayed, we ar heirby pleased to requyre yow to caus our Justice deputeis and the assessours appoynted by ws to goe on in that tryell with all diligence, and to that effect that yow signific vnto them that such is our pleasur, and for which these presents shalbe to them a sufficient warrant.—Whythall, 10 March 1635.

TO THE LORD DEPUTIE OF IRLAND.

Right, &c .- Wheras we ar informed that the late primate of Ardmach had the fynes of recusants of that realme by letters patents of our late dear father, which wer broght bak for our vse, wherin the bearer Johne Butler, Esquyre, had takin great panes by improveing that casualtie, and wheras our late father had (for the better prosecution of that bussines) givin ordour for granting commissions to him to collect these fynes for our vse, with power to nominat a receaver and auditour, according to articles condescended vpon between our said royall father and him latelie befor his death: To which purpois the said Johne Butler hath now made humble sute vnto ws to have our letters patentes for 31 yeires of the moytic or halff part of these fynes that shall accrew over and above the 20,000 lib alredie payed to ws, with all commissions and writts requisit for collecting therof, though his panes therin by improveing our revenews doe appear by these articles and other circumstances; yit being loath to proceed in such a purpois without dew advyse, we have heirby thought fitt to remitt the consideratioun of the bussines vnto yow, that if yow find it to be beneficiall to ws, and that the prosecution therof will tend to the good of our service mentionat in these articles, or to other writts tuitching that purpois, yow grant vnto him letters patents for 31 yeires of the movie or halff part of all these fynes which shall accrue over and above the 20,000lib, with all commissions and warrants necessarie to him and his assigneyis, togidder [with] the nameing of a receaver and auditour; for which these presents shalbe vnto yow a sufficient warrant.-Whythall, 10 March 1635.

TO THE EXCHEQUER.

Right, &c.—Haveing bene pleased to signe vnto yow a commission for hearing of the accompts of the taxations, ordinarie and extraordinarie, the accompt whair of hath not bene as yit gevin vp vnto ws by our late Chancellour, Collectour of the same, and of our Treasurie, Collectorie, and treasurie of our new augmentations befor the entrie of our new treasureris, as by the said Commission yow will perceave, it is our pleasur that yow accept of the said Commission, and proceid carefullie therin according to the trust we have committed vuto yow; and efter yow have finisched the said accompts, yow adverteise ws what yow have done therin.—Whythall, 12 March 1635.

TO SIR LAUCHLANE MCCLEANE.

Trustic, &c.—Wheras we wer informed that of late yow and your vmquhill brother Hectour McCleane did without ordour or any right violentlie intrude yourselff in the possession of the Yle of Icolmekill, which belongeth to the Bischop of the Yles for the tyme, whairof they have bene in peaciable possession these many yeres bypast, and that yow still doe deteyne the same from the present bischop therof; We holding such a violent and indirect a course as a contempt done vnto the Church, and consequentlie vnto ws, and withall taking to our princelic consideration the detriment therby arrysing to the patrimonic of that bishoprik, wherof we doe rather desyre the incress than anywayes to sie it impaired, It is our pleasur, and we doe will and command, that furthwith yow restore vnto the said bischope the absolute possession of the said Yland without further hearing or delay.—Whythall, 14 March 1635.

TO THE SESSION.

Right reverend father in God, and trustie and weilbeloved—Wheras we ar crediblic informed that, vpon letter in favours of the late Bischop of Yles, now of Rapho, the taksmen of the tyth-ficshes of the Yles did dimitt ther taks in his favouris, the right and possession whairof he suffered to be assigned to a laick persone, who now enjoyis the same, it being the cheifest benefice of that bischoprik; whervnto, sieing it was, and still is, our royall intention that these tythes should be inseperablic conjoyned, we doe seriouslie recommend to yow that, haveing takin into your consideration the loss the present bischop of the Yles hath suffered by the want thairof, and the other's benefite hy his bypast possession, yow sie the said reverend father in God receave the lyk benefit and favour his saidis predicessours had in the lyk kynd, and that yow administer speedic justice in all other causses concerneing him, whensoever they shall cum befor yow; Which we are rather pleased the more carefullie to recommend to yow becaus of the remotnes of his See off that our seat of Justice, the meannesse of his benefice, and greatnes of his charge, To which purpois it did pleas our royall father and ourselff so often to wryt vnto yow and others Judicatoreis in that our kingdome.—Whythall, 14 March 1635.

TO THE BISCHOP OF RAPHO.

Reverend father in God—We ar informed that Andro, late bischop of Rapho, at his transportatioun from the bischoprik of Yles, did, without just caus or aney warrant from our late royall father or ws, carie with him tuo of the principall bells that wer in Icolmekill, and place them in some of the Churches of Rapho, To which purpois we doe remember that at the tyme, your being bischop of Yles, yow wer a sutter to ws for effectuating that thing at your predicessour the bischop of Raphoes hands which we now requyre of yow: Therfor, and in regard we have gevin ordour to the present bischop of Yles for repairing the Cathedrall Church of that bischoprik, and that it is fitt that such things as doe properlie belong thervnto be restored, it is our pleasur that yow caus delyver vnto the said bischop these two bells for the vse of the said Cathedrall Church with such tymlic conveniencie as may be, which we will acknowledge as acceptable service done vnto ws.—Whythall, 14 March 1635.

TO THE ERLE OF TRAQUAIR.

Right, &c.—Haveing by our warrant required Nicolas Briott, our servand, to buy and prepair within this our kingdome a certane proportion of copper plate for the fabrication of copper money within that our kingdome, condescended vpon as necessarie to be coyned ther, for which impost, custome, and all other dewteis wer payed heir, and that, being transplanted thither, it is stopt, as we ar informed, for further custome and impost, which is contrarie to reasone, it being for our and the cuntreis service, and not merchinable commoditie: Therfoir it is our pleasur that yow furthwith command our Customeris, and others interested, that they mak no further stop of that commoditie, to be disposed of for the vse forsaid, nor tak aney impost or custome for the same, or for aney other necessarie provision for the said fabrication, ather inward or outward, not exceiding the quantitie ordeaned by ws for the said coyne, causeing them mak restitution to our said servant of all such moneyis taken by them for custome of the said plaite since November last; ffor which, &c.—Whythall, 14 March 1635.

To the Counsell.

Reverend father in God, and trustie and weilbeloved, &c.—Wheras we ar informed that Patrik Maull, indueller in St Androis, being of late mutilat and dangerouslie wounded to the great hazard of his lyff by Patrik Lyndsay of Wolmerstoun, his too sones and sone-in-law, that cautioun and assurance is not taken as yit of them for being lyable to Justice that is requisit in such caces, we have taken speciall notice of the foulnes of the fact; and being willing that the doers be exemplarlie punisched in so far as lawfullie can be done, it is our pleasur that yow tak sufficient cautioun and assurance of them, as justice be nather prevented or delayed for aney respect whatsoever, in so far as can be agricable to our lawes.—Whythall, 16 March 1635.

TO THE EXCHEQUER.

Right, &c.—Wheras the reverend father in God the bischope of Yles is by our direction to repair the Cathedrall Church of Icolmkill, the doeing whairof in such maner as is requisite will requyre (as we ar crediblic informed) great panes and charges, which he cannot possiblic vndergoe without our assistance and help: Therfoir, and in regard it is a work which we affect, we have thoght fitt to allow vnto him and his assigneyis the sowme of four hundreth pundis sterling, ffor the more readic payment whairof we doe heirby requyre and authorize yow to assigne him and them to all the few-dewteis payable vnto ws by Sir Lauchlane McCleane, till the said sowme be compleitlic payed, the first termes payment whairof to be at Mertimes nixt 1635; and, in the meane tyme, that yow be carefull he goe on with the said reparation, authorizeing him with full power to requyre service of all such persones in these parts as doe ow the same vnto ws, and that for carycing and transporting of commoditeis vnto that work; ffor doeing of all which these presents shalbe vnto yow and everie ane of yow a sufficient warrant.—Whythall, 24 March 1635.

TO THE LORD LORNE.

Right, &c.—These ar to recommend vnto yow to send vnto ws by the bearer ane of the Mangrell haulkes that ar in some of the bound wherin yow have interest, tuitching which purpois we did formerlie wryt vnto [yow], and that with as much convenient diligence as may be; and that yow be carefull according to our former pleasur to sie the ayreis of these haulks carefullie preserved, wherin yow shall doe ws acceptable pleasur.

There past a gift of pension to Sir James Leslie, kny^t, dureing his lyftyme of ane yeirlie duetic of 1000^{lib}. Scotts, to be payed furth of whatsoever your Ma^{teis} rents and casualiteis, which is docated by speciall direction of the Erle of Morton, your Ma^{teis} principall Thesaurer, as haveing your Ma^{ties} warrant for that effect.—Whythall, 25th March 1635.

Subr, Sir TH. HOPE.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—Haveing vpon your adverteisment vnderstude the inconvenients lyklie to aryse by the sale of Kintyre to the Lord Dunluce, we wer thervpon pleased furthwith to caus stay the bargane, wherin we doe acknowledge your care and give yow hartie thanks for the same: We being now willing that the said bargane be made so ineffectuall (notwithstanding of any proceidings whatsumever betweene the pairteis) as the said Lord, his aires or successours, cannot therby at any tyme heirefter pretend any interest or clayme to these Landis: It is our pleasur that yow tak such a course as yow shall find best conduce to this purpois; and that besydis yow give ordour to our Advocat for drawing a renunciation in a sure and legall maner, which we will to be sent with all diligence vnto our Secretarie for that kingdome, for sieing the same subscryved be the Lord Dnnluce, that it may be returned registrat and keipit amongst the records thairof; for doeing whairof these presents shalbe sufficient warrant: We bid yow farewell.—Whythall, 25 March 1635.

It is our pleasur that with all diligence yow caus pay vnto the bearer George Haliburton, ane of our fa coners, the accustomed yeirlie allowance for bringing some haulks vnto ws from the northern parts of that our kingdome, and that yow give vnto him your best furtherance for that effect; ffor doeing whairof these presents, &c.—Whythall, 25 March 1635.

To the Erles of Morton and Traquair, Thesaurers principall and deputie of Scotland.

TO THE THESAURERS AND ADVOCAT.

Right, &c.—Wheras we ar informed that at our granting of the lyfrent escheit of ane Gawin Blair of Heby to Johne Boyll of Kelburne, yow receaved (according to your custome) his bakband, restrayneing his making further vse of that gift than the payment of the just debts owing to him at that tyme, declareing the benefite of the said gift to accress therefter to such persones as shalbe warranted by yow to receave the same: And being informed that since the begining of that bakband the said Johne hath, for the others vse in helping of his right to the comontie of the Larggs, advanced further sownes of money, Our pleasur is, that he enjoy the benefite of the said lyfrent escheit till he be payed of that and all such moneyis as at this tyme shall appear vpon just accompt to be dew vnto him; and withall, being informed that our servant Sir James Lockhart hath comprysed the said Gawin his Landis for moneyis dew to him, and being willing to prevent the prejudice he may suffer if that lyfrent right should be disposed otherwayes, it is our further pleasur that yow declare the benefite of the said bakband in favours of our said servant, that what benefite may flow from ws in this particular may whollie accress to him, till he be compleitlie payed of what is dew to him: ffor which these presents shalbe your warrant.—Whythall, 25 March 1635.

TO THE CHANCELLOUR.

Right, &c.—Haveing vnderstude from yow that the Marqueis of Huntlie hath vndertaken the suppressing of the rebells in the North, and that he hath gevin caution for the same, and vnderstanding lykwyse that for performeing therof he desyreth libertie to returne thither, that he may be the more able (being ther himselff in persone) to look vnto the quyeting of the cuntrie and preserveing of the peace in these pairts heirefter, we conceave, since he was cited ther by warrant from our Counsell for geving vnto them ane accompt of such things, as they wer to charge him with, that the prosecution of the whole bussines deeth lykwyse belong vnto them, trusting unto ther judgments that they will doe therin as they will find most advantageous for our service in the establisching of peace and restrayneing of such rebellions heirefter; and if they shall licence him to returne, which we remitt wholic vnto yow and them, that they will doe it vpon such conditions as yow shalbe answerable vnto ws to be sufficient, which we will yow to signific vnto them from ws, expecting lykwayes that yow will have a speciall care of the same, according to the trust we repose in yow: We bid yow farewell.—From our Court at Whythall, 2 Aprill 1635.

TO THE EXCHEQUER.

Right, &c.—Haveing bene informed of the long and faythfull service done vnto our late dear father for many yeres togidder by his and our old servand Mr William Broun, in his charge of presenting the signatures and making the Counsell dispatches, we wer pleased in regard theref, and of the abiliteis and sufficiencie of Mr Patrik Broun, his sone, for dischergeing that office, to confer the same vpon him; whairof, being willing that he enjoy such priviledges as doe properlie belong thervnto, our pleasur is that yow suffer none to encroach vpon the same, or to trouble him in anything concerning the dischargeing of that service, vnless by his owin misbehaviour and insufficiencie, to be examined and tryed befor yow, and to be reported vnto ws, yow find him vnworthie of that charge.—Whythall, 2 Aprill 1635.

Ther past a Protection for one James Chambers, sometyme Maisser to the Lords of Session, who did both long and faythfullie serve his Matie and his Mateis late royall father, of blissed memorie, and the subjects in that kingdome in that charge, Making mention that wheras his Matie is informed that the said James Chambers doeth stand indebted to some Creditours in some sowmes of money, which he is most willing to pay if some compitent tyme wer granted vnto him to vse his best endevours to that purpois: Cetera stilo ordinario.—Whythall, 10 Aprill 1635.

Our Soveraigne Lord now, efter his speciall and generall revocatiouns made in Parliament holdin at Edinburgh Junii 1633, and outwith, doeth, withs peciall consideration of the good and faythfull service done vnto his Mateis late dear father, of worthie memorie, by vmquhill Johne Mylward, doctour in divinitie, who was speciallie employed by his Mateis said father to preach the gospell within Scotland, and whom it pleased God to call out of this mortall lyff befor his returne to England, wher he was borne, and with speciall advyse and consent of his Mateis right, &c., the Earles of Morton and Traquair, his Mateis Thesaurer Principall and deputie of the said kingdome of Scotland, and of the remanent noblmen and others, his Mateis Commissioners of Exchequer ther, Ordeanes a letter to be made and exped vnder the privice seall in due forme, ratifieing, approveing, and confirmeing, lykas his Matie by the tenour heirof, and with speciall advyse and consent forsaid, ratifeis, approves, and confirmes a gift of pension of ane thowsand tuo hundreth pundis lawfull money of Scotland, granted by his Mateis father under the great seall thairof unto Ann Mylward, the widow of the said Doctour Mylward, and to James Mylward, ther sone, and to the longest leiver of them two, which is of the date at Whythall the 9 of Nor 1609, Togidder with a former ratification of the said pension made by his Matie himselff under his privie seall, of the daite at Theobald's the 17 of July 1627, in the whole heads, clausses, articles, and conditions therof; Declareing this present ratification to be as valide, effectuall, and sufficient to the said Ann Mylward, now called by the name of Agnes Bell, the wyff of Johne Bell of Pertenhall, in the countie of Bedford, dureing all the dayes of hir lyftyme, as if the said original letter of gift and ratification following therepon war word be word ingrest and exprest heirin, wheranent, and with all objections whatsoever which anywaves can be proposed against the validitie thairof, or of this present confirmation, his Matie hath dispensed, and by thir presents dispenses for ever: Mairover, our said Soveraigne Lord, for good and considerable causes abovesaid, doe, of new give, grant, and dispone, lykas by these presents his Matie, with advyse and consent forsaid, gives, grants, and dispones of new vnto the said Agnes Bell dureing hir lyftyme the whole aforsaid yeirlie pension of 1200 pundis Scottis money, to be yeirlie vplifted by the said Agnes, hir assigneyis, factours, or others haveing hir power to receave the same, furth of the first and readiest of his Mateis rents and casualteis whatsoever of the said kingdome, from his Mateis Thesaurer Principall and deputie, or any of them, or any other his Mateis officers who shall happin to have charge of his Mateis rents or easualiteis, or ather of them for the time; Commanding the said Erls of Morton and Traquair, and ather of them, and all others his Mateis Thesaurers, receavers, and officers for the tyme, to mak good, thankfull, and readie payment of the said pension of 1200 lib. Scotts to the said Agnes Bell or hir forsaids, or any of them, veirlie, at the terms prescrived in the said gift and ratification following theron, during all the dayes of hir lyftyme. and that of the readiest moneyis in his Mateis Excheker, and of his Mateis rents and casualiteis whatsoever; And with speciall command and direction vnto the said Erlis of Morton and Traquair, and ather of them, to mak readic and present payment vnto the said Agnes or hir forsaidis of the whole arrears of the said pension, according to a trew and just accompt of what sche is behind, ffor which these presents shalbe to them sufficient warrand; Commanding lykwyse the Auditours of the said Officers' accompts, and each of them, to defease and allow the said yeirlie pension and arreires in ther first accompts, thir presents being registrat as effeires.—Gevin at Whythall, 10 Aprill 1635.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—Being humblie sued vnto in behalff of the Lady of our right trustie, &c. the Lord Almond, that we wilbe pleased to give ordour that sche might not lose that place which sche had as the wyff of hir late husband, the Erle of Dumfermeling, sum tyme our Chancellour of that our kingdome; We, for some good respects moveing ws, ar heirby pleased that sche have place as Countesse of Dumfermeling, and to that effect that yow give such ordour as yow shall think fitt to prescryve.—Whythall, 10 Aprill 1635.

TO THE THESAURERS, PRINCIPALL AND DEPUTIE.

Right, &c.—Haveing taken special notice of the grounds whervpoun the pension of the widow of vmquhill Johne Milward, Doctour of Divinitie, was granted by our late dear father, and of his care in causeing hir be dewlie payed dureing his lyftyme; We have bene pleased to ratifie his gift therof of new, which we will yow to caus expeid under our sealls with diligence, and to mak such readie payment of the pension heirefter as sehe may have no occasion to importun ws for the same, or putt hir selff to further unnecessarie Charges and trouble in seiking thairof: And whairas we ar informed of her sufferings by want of the same these diverse yeires bypast, wherby sche hath engadged hir selff in debt, we doe heirby lykwyse requyre yow to mak speedie payment unto hir and hir assigneyis of the whole arreires of the said pension, wherby the intention of our dear father towards hir may be dewlie performed; for such is our royall pleasur.—Whythall, 10 Aprill 1635.

TO THE ADVOCAT.

Trustie, &c.—Haveing bene pleased to wryt agane vnto our Colledge of Justice for putting to a speedie end according to Justice that action in Law depending befor them tuitching our Commontie of Dunbar, as yow will perceave by the enclosed copic of our letter vnto them: It is our pleasur that yow goe on accordinglie with all diligence, that our right, &c. the Viscount of Belheaven, who for causeing that our service be the more speedelie followed is to repair thither, be not hindred to returne with all pessible diligence; and if yow shall mak it appear befoir them that it is necessarie for the good of our service that perambulation be made for the better distinguisebing of that our Commontie from other Lands, we will yow lykwayes carefullie to insist by your best endeavours and panes to sie it rightlie and speedelie done; for doeing whairof, &c.—Whythall, 18 Aprill 1635.

TO THE SESSION.

Right, &c.—Wheras we wer pleased by our letters in May 1634 to requyre that vpon summondis and proces to be intended by our Advocat at our instance for tryeing the right of such persones as have intruded vpon our commontie of Dumbar, speedie justice might be administred therin according to our Lawes, in regard that action (now depending befor yow) doeth so neirlie concerne we in the right of our propertie, and therin our right, &c. the Viscount of Belheaven hath speciall interest as our Chalmerlane of the Lordschup of Dumbar, who is to repair vnto that kingdome for causeing it be putt to a speedie poynt according to our lawis, and whom we will to returne hither with possible diligence: We are heirby pleased agane seriouslie to requyre yow to administer such speedie justice therin as possible and lawfullie can be vsed, and in the mean tyme if our Advocat (to whome we have lykwyse writtin tuitching this purpois) mak it appear befor yow, and if your selffis shall find it expedient that a perambulation be made to distinguisch that our Commontie from others Landis, It is our further pleasur that to that purpois yow give ordour to such persones for doeing thair of as yow shall think fitt, and that with the greatest expedition may be that it be no difference to the Clearing of that action: So not doubting of your speciall care heirin as a purpois so neirlie concerneing ws.—Wbythall, 18 Aprill 1635.

TO THE ADVOCAT.

Trustic, &c.—Wheras it hath bene humblic represented vnto ws in behalff of Mr Alexr Bisset, minister at Brechin, desyreing that in regard he hath obtened a Decrie befor the Colledge of Justice tuitching the priviledges of the Mairschip of the schirefdome of Aberdene, he might accordinglie discharge that office, and enjoy the priviledges and benefite belonging thervnto: Though we be vnacquanted with the nature of that office, yit being will that a dew consideration be had of a caus wherin ther hath bene so judiciall a proceiding: Our pleasur is, that haveing called the said Mr Alexr befor yow, and haveing examined the grounds of his right, yow acquant our Thesaurers principall and deputie, or ather of them, therwith, and with your Opinion in Law tuitching that purpois, that they may certific vnto ws what they think fift and necessarie to be done tuitching the same; whervpon we will declair our further pleasur.—Whythall, 18 April 1635.

TO THE SESSION.

Right, &c.—As we wer pleased by our letters in September last to recommend vnto yow that action of the Lady Jeane Stewart and Robert Ellot, hir husband, so now the consideration of ther distressed Estate, and of the panes alreadie taken both by we and yow to have ane end putt to that cause, hath moved we again at their humble sute seriouslie to recommend vnto yow that speedie justice be administred in any action concerning them, ather depending or which shall happin to cum befor yow, and the rather becaus their present estate doeth require our princelle Commiseration, and from yow what present benefite our Lawes can affurd vnto them.—Whythall, 18 Aprill.

TO THE CHANCELLOUR.

Right, &c.—The differences tuitching the schip called the . . . which was questioned by Thomas Lyndsay as lawfull pryse, being debaited by the pairties interested, who have condescended vpon the dismissing thairof, and gevin suretie each to other to be answerable to the Lawes tuitching these differences: It is our pleasur that yow furthwith give ordour for enlargeing the said Thomas Lyndsay from prissone; for which these presents salbe your warrand.—Whythall, 18 Aprill 1635.

TO THE EXCHEQUER.

Right, &c.—This signature of the baronie of Craighall conteneing nothing bot what vpon good considerations we wer pleased formerlie to grant vnto our trustie and weilbeloved Counsellour Sir Thomas Hope of Craighall, kyn^t and baronet, our Advocat, save onlie a gift in few of the mettalls and mineralls fund in his owin Landis: It is our pleasur that with diligence yow caus expend the said signature according to the tenour thairof, and without any composition; ffor which these presents, &c.—18 Aprill 1635.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—Wheras it hath bene humblic represented vnto ws that in the tryell befor yow tuitching the wounding of Patrik Maull, inducedre of St Androis, yow had for that fact caused imprissone John Lyndsay, sone to Mr Patrik Lyndsay of Wormestoun, referring to further tryell in Law the action tuitching the mutilation of the said Patrik Maull, In respect of the barbaritie and fonlines of the fact, and of the place wher it was committed, and the better to prevent any further inconvenient that may therby ensue for brecking our peace, it is our pleasur that the said Johne be not released from prissone till ather he be tryed according to our Lawes provydit in the lyk caces for the said mutilation, or otherwayes that he give such satisfaction to the pairtie wronged as he shalbe willing to accept.—Whythall, 20 Aprill 1635.

TO THE SESSION.

Right, &c.—Wheras we wer pleased, for reasones mentionat in our letter in May 1634, to signifie our pleasur vnto yow for staying all processes intented or to be intended at the instance of any of the persones clameing interest in the Estate of Home aganst others, at the instance of any other aganst them, as aires or successours to the late Erle of Home, till yow should receave our further directions theranent, and now humble sute hath bene made vnto ws in behalff of our right, &c. the Countess of Home, that sche might not therby be impedit to have recourse by Law for the rent of these Lands of Bergum, Lithin, and Kellie, for secureing of hir, in caice John Stewart of Coldinghame should, in default of aires-male of his bodie, recover fra hir the tythes of Fals Castell and Auld Cambesse, wherin her caus being much differed from the caice or others, and for diverse good consideratiouns requyreing more then ordinarie respect: It is our pleasur that sche have frie libertie to insist by Law and have speedie justice for acquyreing what shalbe fund justile dew vnto hir in that particular, which we will tak as acceptable service done vnto ws; and for which these presents shalbe vnto yow a warrant.—Whythall, 5 May 1635.

Our Soveraigne Lord ordeanes a Letter of naturalization to be made and exped vnder the great seall of the kingdome of Scotland, Making mention That wheras . . . lawfull sone of Lord Duderheffe, late ambassadour to his Ma^{tie} from the Quen of Sueden, hath bene ane humble sutter to his highnes for being made a naturalized persone of the said kingdome of Scotland, in respect that his descent in blood on the mother syd is from thence; And that he intendis ane action of Law for recoverie of certane Landis which (as is affirmed) did belong vnto his guidsyr vmquhill James Neave: Therfor, and for diverse other good consideratiouns moveing his Matie, his highnes hath declared, and for him and his successours does declair, the sad , . . . to be naturalized as a native subject borne within the said kingdome in all tyme cuming, and to be capable of whatsumever digniteis, offices, and benefites within the same, and to bave full libertie and power not onlie to insist by law for recoverie of what is justlie due vnto him, bot to purches and acquire within the said kingdome whatsoever landis, heretages, annualrents, and others goods and geir, moveable and immoveable, and the same to posses and enjoy by whatsumever title, as weill by way of successionn as by donation, acquisition, or otherwayes: And that the aires to the said . . . shall have right and power to succeid to whatsumever lands or heretages to be acquired to them within the said kingdome, and shall have libertie to dispose of by ther testaments and latter wills vpon whatsoever goodis and geir which shalhappin to appertene vnto them within the said kingdome, and to nominat executours in ther testaments, and to leave and dispone therepon by legacie to whatsumever persone or persones, and alse to nominat tutours, and or mae, to ther children, male and female, procreated or to be procreated of ther bodeis, and to bruik, posses, and enjoy all other priviledges, immuniteis, faculteis, and liberteis whatsoever which ar compitent or may be compitent to any native borne subject within the said kingdome: And his Matie wills and commands that thir presents shalbe ane sufficient warrand to the writter to the great seall and keeper thairof for writting heirof to the said seall, and appending the great seall thervnto without passing any other seall or register.—Grenwich, the 9th of May 1635.

TO THE SESSION.

Right, &c.—We have Vnderstude by a letter from our allie and dear freind the Quen of Sweden, how that it pleased our late father, of worthie memorie, to writt vnto Johne the 3 King of Sweden that libertie might have bene granted to vmquhile James Neave, a native of that our kingdome (then employed in his warres), to returne for taking possession of some Landis affirmed to belong to him within the same, and that his comeing was prevented by death; and wheras it hath bene represented vnto ws that by the act of prescription the Lord Duderheff, present ambassadour vnto ws from our said allie the Quen of Sweden, who maried the daughter and air of the said James Neave, and ther children, ar lyk to be defrauded of these Lands; We being willing, for diverse good respects and considerable circumstances heirin, that all the possible furtherance of Justice be granted that the Lawes can affoord to the said Nobleman, ar heirby pleased seriouslie to recommend vnto yow to tak the reasones to be propounded in his behalff into your serious consideratioun, and thervpon to administer such speedic justice as possible and lawfullie can be granted in all actions of Law to be intended by him, or any baveing his power, or ony right deryved from him and his Lady or ather of them for recoverie of what doeth justlie belong vnto them.—
Grenwitch, 9 May 1635.

TO THE ERLE OF TRAQUAIR.

Right, &c.—Being willing to prevent any vnnecessarie charge that may aryse to the persones interested in the Copper moneyis which for the publict good ar appropried to be coyned in that our kingdome by building or hyreing of housses fitt for such a work, it is our pleasur that yow give speedic ordour to the generall and master of our mynt for accommodating them with all rownes and places within our Coynhous, fit for fabrication and keiping of that coyne, and for fixing and setting vp of such works, presses, and Instruments within the same as they shall find requisit; For which these presents shalbe, &c.—Grenwitch, 9 May 1635.

TO THE ADVOCAT.

Trustie, &c.—Haveing bene humblic petitioned to pass the ratificatioun of the priviledges of the Mynt in that our kingdome, we did forbear to doe the same, not questioning any act or lawfull thing that had bene done in ther favouris by any of our royall progenitours, bot to be assured that nothing wer added of new that might prejudge ws or oney of our good subjects: It is therfoir our pleasur that yow confer the ratificatioun sent heirwith, with ther originall chartour, or any other ther authentik evidents, and if yow find nothing materiallie disagricing between them, or added of new to prejudge ws or our said subjects, that yow furthwith sie that ratificatioun, or ony other they shall draw vp to this purpois, exped immediatlie vnder our Cachet and scalls ther, without further trouble to ws or them; ffor which these presents shalbe vnto yow, and all others our officers whom it doeth or may concerne, sufficient warrand.— Whythall, 9 May 1635.

TO THE ADVOCAT.

Trustie, &c.—Wheras it hath bene humblic represented vnto ws by the enclosed petition that diverse oppressions have bene made and ar daylic vsed aganst the petitioneris by the Lard of Innes, vnder cullour of ane heretable office called the Mairdome of Rosse: Though we have resolved to vse our owin royall discretion and tyme tuitching the reduction of such heretable offices as ar not as yit brought bak vnto our croun, yit this being one aganst which the complent of oppression hath come to our cares befoir the nature or necessitie of the office hath bene made knowen vnto ws, it is our pleasur that, haveing carefullic considered of the petition and examined the nature of the office, yow insist with all diligence, in our name and for our interest, to reduce the same in a legall maner, and in the meane tyme that yow vse your best endeavours to stop all proceidings that may further trouble these our poore subjects tuitching this purpois, that they, being fred of such oppressions, it may be in our power to suppress or continew the said office, as we shall find caus.—Whythall, 9 May 1635.

Right, &c.—Hearing that some question in Law is lyklie to aryse betwixt the reverend father in God the bischop of Brechin and our servant Patrik Maull, of our bedchalmer, tuitching the power of election of one of the tuo bailleis of Brechin, which for diverse good respects we desyre be composed in a freindlie maner, without vnnecessarie charge or trouble to any of them, and to that purpois haveing made choyse of yow to examyne and setle these differences by mutuall consent of them, both according as yow shall find it most just and lawfull; it is our pleasur that with diligence yow or any six of yow proceid heirin accordinglie, bot if they doe not mutuallie condescend to this course, we will yow to certific we thairof, with your opinion in Law to which of them yow think the said priviledge doeth justlie belong.—Whythall, 9 May 1635.

TO THE SESSION.

Right, &c.—Hearing that ther be some differences in Law between the reverend father in God the bischop of Yles and Sir Lauchlane McCleane of Dowert, concerning the possession and right to the propertie of certane Lands of the Yle of Icolmekill, tuitching which if any action shalhappin to cum befor yow at the said bischop instance for removeing of the said Sir Lauchlane from the possession therof, we doe heirby recommend vnto yow to administer such speedie justice therin as possiblic can be vsed by the lawis of that our kingdome, which we will tak as acceptable service done vnto ws.—Whythall, 15 May 1635.

TO THE COMMISSIONERS OF TYTHES.

Right, &c.—Being informed that John McNaucht, citizen and merchand of Edinburgh, is so infirme of bodie and heavilie diseased that he is altogidder vnable to attend the Commission of Tythes, it is therfor our pleasur that he be fred therof, and that Williame Gray, merchand ther, be Commissioner in his place, and that yow receave his oath according to the custome in the lyk caices; for the which these presents, &c.—Whythall, 15 May 1635.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—Wheras it hath bene humblic represented vnto ws in behalff of Gordoun of Rothemay and . . . Vrquhart of Leatheris, that being Minors, and ther Landis left vnto them with great burdens, they nor ther cautioners cannot possible at this tyme pay the principall sownes dew to ther creditiours, bot ar willing to secure them of the same and thankfullie, and dewlie to pay the annualrents; wherin, the minors' cace deserveing our princelic consideratioun, we have heirby thoght good to recommend vnto yow to call the creditiours befor yow, and to tak some fair course with them, not to trouble the saidis minors nor ther sureteis for ther principall sownes, the saids Creditiours being alwayes secured thairof, and dewlie payed of ther annualrents till the minors be of perfect aige, which we will tak as good service done vnto ws. We bid, &c.—Grenwich, 15 May 1635.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—Wheras the Lard of Raith, vpon a testamentarie declaration made by the late Lord Melvill, hath assumed vnto him, as we ar informed, the title of a Lord and barron of Parliament, without acquanting ws of the reasones thairof, the lyk whairof hath not bene practised heirtofoir: It is our pleasur that yow call the said Lard of Raith befor yow, and discherge him from vsurping any such title of a Lord heirefter, till he be further warranted by ws; for which these presents shalbe your warrand.—Grenwich, 15 May 1635.

TO THE CITIE OF EDINBURGH.

Trustie, &c.—Haveing vinderstude how that in obedience of our pious and princelle desyre yow have of late modified a provision in favours of the ministrie of that our Citie, which we tak as acceptable service done vnto ws, and for which we give yow hartie thanks, we ar heirby pleased to ordeane your said modification to stand as a constant stipend at all tymes heirefter to them and ther successours in their charge.—Grenwich, 15 May 1635.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—Haveing vnderstude of your proceidings in so far as hitherto yow have gone on in quyeting the disordours of the hickands, and speciallie of your proceidings with the Marqueis of Huntlie, we doe approve of your good service therin, and give yow hartie thanks for the same, being willing that, conforme to the Acts of Parliament and lawdable custome observed in the tymes of our royall predicessours, yow proceid with all diligence in quyeting of all the rebellions and disordourlie people ather in the hielands or vther parts of that kingdome, and from tyme to tyme to give ws accompt of your care and panes therin, assureing yow that by our authoritie (if neid be) we will not be wanting in any thing to strenthen all your proceidings tuitching this purpois in such maner as yow shall think necessarie.—Grenwich, 15 May 1635.

TO THE COMMISSIONERS OF TYTHES.

Right, &c.—Being informed that the Church of North Berwick is a principall Church, the parochin populous, and that out of the tythes thairof a liberall provision may be made for the vse of the ministers serveing the cure therat, which provision is at this tyme deficient in that maner, that it is scarselie compitent for such a Church in such a place, it is our pleasur that yow sie the said Church endowed with good and sufficient provision for the ministerie therat, according to the quantitie of the Tythes of the parochin, that they may live in the way befitting such a charge; wherin yow shall doe ws acceptable service.—Grenwich, the 15 May 1635.

TO THE CLERGIE.

Right, &c.—Vnderstanding that the course which of late hath bene in custome amongst yow that succeiding bischopes doe pay to the executours of the deceissed ane Annat, with some vther satisfaction for ther charges in repairing or building of bischops' housses, is verie hurtfull vnto them, by dissabling of them through pouertie from our and the Churches service; and vnderstanding that neither the said custome is warranted by any municipall Law of that kingdome, nor is practised in any other part whatsoever, it is our expres will and pleasur that in all tyme cuming the vnwarranted custome be no more in vse, and that the executers have no more of that yeires rent and benefice wherin the late bischop does die than is dew in a just proportion to the tyme of his service therin: This we will have to be putt in practeis in the tuo bischopriks of Aberdene and Galloway, now voyd by the death of the late bischops thairof, and to be inviolablic kepit in all tyme cuming; for which these presents shalbe a sufficient warrant.—Grenwich, of May 1635.

TO THE ARCHRISCHOPS AND BISCHOPS.

Right, &c.-Wheras our Croun hath bene wronged much that the right of the patronages belonging thervnto hath bene vnjustlie conveyed away to other persones not haveing right to them; And we being carefull to have them agane restored to our Croun, knowing that none can contribute more to it then yow that ar archbischops and bischops of that our kingdome, not onlie by informeing your selffis of such as trewlie belong to our Croun, and representing theref vnto ws, bot also by not giveing way to strenthen any in ther right contrarie to ws: It is our expres will and pleasur that all and everie one of yow, when any benefice is voyd, the patronage wherof did belong to our Croun before the beginning of the Regne of our dear grandmother. Oucen Marie, yow obtene ane presentation to ane conformable man, and that yow give collatioun, and doe what is more requisite in that kynd for confirmeing of our right, and that yow nowayes admitt of any presentatioun from any other persone whatsoever; ffor doeing whairof thir presents shalbe your warrand; which service, if yow doe it carefullie and faythfullie, as we ar confident as we will accompt weill of it, so be assured that if any be negligent, or doe in the contrarie, we will not faill to tak notice and censure them according as they deserve; And to the effect this may be the better done, we doe recommend to the tuo archbischops, not onlie to be answerable for ther owin dyoceis, but vpon ther owin perrell not to faill to adverteis ws if any bischops within ther province to ther contrarie.—Grenwich, May 1635.

To the Session.

Right, &c.—Wheras we vnderstand that some tymes the Executors of deceissed bischops have intended action befoir yow, according to some custome not warranted by our Acts of Parliament, have gevin proces and sentence for Annatts and charges bestowed on building and repairing of houses, to the prejudice of intrants, we, for good and considerable reasones moveing ws, ar heirby pleased to discherge that there be no more proces granted in this kynd, bot that the executers of the deceissed have action onlie for [so] much of that yeires rent and benefite wherin the late bischope does die as in a just proportion is dew for the tyme of his service therin; ffor doeing whairof these presents shalbe your warrand: So, willing yow to caus the signification of our pleasur.heirin be insert in your sederunt book ad futuram rei memoriam, for warrand of your lyk proceiding in such caces in all tyme cuming.—Grenewich, May 1635.

Right, &c.—We ar informed that the Lo/ Naper haveing bene by our direction some yeres agoe charged to pay the Witsonday termes dewtie 1629 of the augmented dewtie of Orknay, he offered to mak payment thairof in Exchequer, which then at the desyre of our thesaurer was delayed, but not refuised to be accepted; And wheras the said termes dewtie being since payed (as we ar informed) be W^m Dick to our right trustie and weilbeloved, &c. the Erle of Annandale, to whom it did belong by our gift of that augmented dewtie, the said William is now questioned for the same, and thairvpon wilbe forced to have recourse to the said Erle for his releiff in regard of his band of warrandice gevin to the said William: In which case, it being equitable that both be fred of all trouble that may heirby ensue, and in regard of the said Lord his offer and payment made by the said William to the said Erle of that termes dewtie, it is our pleasur that for the considerations forsaid you in our name requyre the said Lord Nepar to discherge the said William Dick of that termes payment, and that yow cause the band of warrandice be furthwith rendered bak vnto the said Erle.—Grenewich, May 1635.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—We ar verie weill perswaded of the care yow have had to proceid with decencie and ordour in all things which cam befor yow, yit we have thought fitt to recommend particularlie vnto yow concerneing this purpois, first, that no pairtie cited befor yow cum in accompanyed with any, except yow allow to them, when yow find it necessarie, ane Advocat, and tuo of ther special freinds, that none be present bot such as ar of Privie Counsall, whom we will to sitt them in ther owin places, and not to ryse and stand disordourlie at any tyme, and clerks which ar sworne for our service ther when yow have disputed any caus to the full, and resolved to putt the question stated to votts, be asked in this ordour following for the present, and at all tyme cuming, begining at the Lo/ Archbischop of St Androis, nixt the Lo/ Chancellour, when any other salbe, then the Archbischop of Glasgow, our Theasurer principale, the Lord Privie Seall, Marqueisses, Erles, and Viscounts, according to ther ranks, and this ordour we will have to be inviolable keipit, not onlie at our Counsell table, bot in all Judicatoreis and other places of that our kingdome.— Grenwich, May 1635.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—It haveing bene humblic represented vnto ws by the inclosed petition, exhibited in behalff of Robert Fletcher of Benschaw, that he hath bene dangerouslic wounded and mutilat of one of his fingers by the Lord Spynic and his complices or followers, and that besydes he is lyklic to lose the vse of one of his hands; It is our express pleasur that yow informe yourselffis of the trew estate heirof, and if yow find what is affirmed by the petition to be trew, that yow censure and caus punisch the said fact as yow shall find the same to deserve; Bot if yow find the caus propper to be tryed befoir our Justice and his deputts, that yow give ordour vnto them to proceid therin, and that yow give vnto them, if neid be, your best assistance for sieing justice administred in so far as is agricable to our Lawes and custome of the kingdome; For which these presents, &c.—Grenwich, of May 1635.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—We ar informed in behalff of Sir Andro Fletcher, one of the Senatours of our Colledge of Justice, that at the tyme of his attending our service as one of that number the Lord Spyneis men and tennents cam in his name, armed with swords and others weapons, and haveing violentlie stopped the said Sir Andro his tennents from leading of ther peitts out of the ground whairof he and his authours war in peaciable possession of casting and wyneing of that fewell past memorie of man, the said Lord his men did lead them away for his owin vse: All which being done (as is affirmed) without any ordour of Law and justice, or without any just occasion gevin by the said Sir Andro, whois just right we ought in a particular maner tak into our princelie protection in respect of his said charge in our service, It is our express pleasur that yow tak ane exact tryell of the trew estate heirof, and if yow shall find that ther hath bene any such violent oppression contrarie to justice and our Lawes, that according therto yow punisch the delinquents and such as was any wayes accessorie thervnto, that others by ther exemple may be terrifeid from attempting the lyk heirefter, wherin ye shall doe vnto ws verie acceptable service, and for which thir presents, &c.—Grenwich, May 1635.

TO THE JUSTICE DEPUTEIS, OR ANY OF THEM.

Wheras we are redibilie informed that ther is a criminal action in Law intended at the instance of Sir Robert Innes of Balveny, knyt, aganst John, George, Patrik, and James Innesses, and ther complices, for invadeing the said Sir Robert and schooting at him with gunes and pistolls, to the great contempt of our authoritie and lawes, and to the great hazard of his lyff: We being willing that a legall tryell be takin with all the convenient diligence that may be, and that the offenders (if [they] be fund guiltie) be exemplarie punisched, according to the lawes provyded in the lyk caices, that all others may be terrifeid from attempting the lyk heirefter, it is our pleasur, and we doe heirby will and requyre yow, that with all diligence yow try the same in a legall maner, and according as yow find that yow proceid according to our Lawis and acts of Parliament provyded in these cases.—Grenwich,

May 1635.

TO THE ADVOCAT.

Trustie, &c.—Haveing bene crediblie informed of a barbarous ryott committed by John, George, Patrik, and James Innesses aganst Sir Robert Innes of Balveny, knyt, by assaulting to tak his lyff by gunes and pistollets, and being willing that the tryell thair of be exactlie prosecuted according to our Lawis, It is our pleasur, and [we] doe heirby will and command, that yow in our name carefullie insist in the said persute, according to the acts of Parliament provyded in the lyk caces, till it be brought to a full conclusion; for which these presents, &c.—Grenwich,

May 1635.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—We did heirtofoir seriouslie recommend vnto your care that our Chapell royall should be kept in all good ordour, conforme to the custome and ordour keipit heir, wherof we ar confident that yow ar carefull; and for the better advancement of that work, we have made choyce of Doctour James Wedderburne to be our Deane, one for that or any other ecclesiasticall imployment, that this good work may have the intended good effect; We ar pleased to recommend to your care that yow mak choyse of tuelff or more of the most able and conformable preachers of that our kingdome to be our Chaplanes in Ordinarie ther, who may by ther turnes and course about doe all services dew, of whois travells and good services in this kynd we will not be vnmyndfull.—Grenewich,

May 1635.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c .- Wheras we, from our princelie and pious affection to God, and His worschip, ar bund to advance by all meanes God's service in that our native and ancient kingdome, and certanelie vnderstanding that not in any thing more that Church is defective than in the want of a book of Common Prayer, a book of Canons Ecclesiasticall, a forme and maner of consecrating of bischops, presbyters, and deacones; and haveing recommended the help of these defects to the Archbischops and bischopes ther, We have now sene them amended, and whervnto we have gevin our royall assent and approbation, with a licence of printing of them, and with a command for the vse and practique theref: It is our expres will and pleasur, that what shalbe required by our Clergie ther from yow, wherby by the power yow have from ws yow may strenthen, authorize, and sett forward so good and pious a work, yow concurre with them by all possible meanes to that purpois, ffor which thir presents shalbe your warrand, and wherin yow will doe vnto ws acceptable service; And in regard the Psalmes done by our late dear father, of worthie memorie, ar approvin by the Clergie, to whome we have writtin for causeing them to be printed with the Liturgie, and receaved and vsed togidder in the Church of that our kingdome, it is our further pleasur that yow likewayes assist them to that purpois, both by the authoritie yow have from ws and by your owin good exemple, and in the meane tyme that yow discharge all other Psalmes in Meeter to be printed within the same; ffor doeing wherof these presents shall lykwayes be your sufficient warrant.—Grenwich, May 1635.

TO THE CLERGIE.

Right, &c.—We have sene and approved of the Liturgie sent by yow to ws, with the Book of Canons, the forme and maner of making and consecrating of bischops, presbiteris, and deacones, with these corrections and instructions which we have signed and sent vnto yow: Therfoir, being verie desyreous that they be all printed, and with all convenient diligence receaved and practised in the Church of that our ancient kingdome, for God's service and the good and beawtie of that Church, we recommend that all be furthwith printed, and by thir presents gives power vnto all whom it doeth or may concerne for docing of the same, whom we doe heirby authorise to that purpois; and our further will and command is, that immediatile efter they are printed yow mak them all to be vsed in the Church; ffor docing whairof these presents shalbe your warrand: Lykwayes sicing the Psalmes in meeter done by our dear father, of blessed memorie, ar now approvin by yow, it is our expres will and pleasur that yow caus lykwayes print them, and mak them to be generallie receaved and vsed, togidder with the said Liturgie, throughout the whole kingdome, and that in such volumes as yow shall think most fitt for the service of the Churche, for the better and more speedie effecting [of which] we have by our letters requyred our Privie Counsell to give vnto yow (if neid be) that strenth and authoritie yow shall find necessarie heirin.—Grenwich,

May 1635.

TO THE ADVOCAT.

Trustie, &c.—Wheras by the accompt yow made vnto ws vnder your owin hand of such particulars concerneing our service wherwith we had entrusted yow, and by the information we have had from some of our officeris of your cariage and care to bring the Lo/ Balmerino his criminall process to a good conclusion, we perceave your affection and diligence in our service, with which we ar well satisfeid, and for which we give yow hartie thanks; and as to these particulars wherin yow crave our resolution and direction, we have signified our pleasur fullie in everie particular to our Thesaurers principall and deputie, whom we have commanded to signifie the same vnto you, and, with yow, have commanded them to proceid in these particularis with that care and diligence the trust that we have putt vpon them and yow requyres, &c.—Grenwich, May 1635.

TO THE COMMISSIONERS OF TYTHES.

Right, &c.—Being informed that the Lands of Eister and Wester Weymes, perteneing to our right, &c. the Erle of Wemyes, ar valued vpon the 8 Sept^r and 15 No^r for the Sub-Commissioners with the schirref-dome of Fyff, and that he is delayed of the benefite of approbation of the same befor yow, wherby the same as yitt is ineffectuall [to] him: Our pleasur is that, notwithstanding of our command ordeneing yow to begin at the kirks of Erections, yow receave his valuatioun, and approve the same in a fair and legall way.—Grenewich, May 1635.

TO THE COMMISSIONERS OF SURRENDERS.

Right, &c.—We, being willing for some speciall considerations knowen to we that the Tythes of the Churches of Lincluden, which did belong to our Chapell royall of that our kingdome, be not valued at this tyme, It is our pleasur that whensoever any tythis belonging to these Churches shall cum befoir yow to be valued, yow doe not anywayes medle or proceid therin till our further pleasur be signified tuitching this purpois; For which, &c.—Grenwich, May 1635.

We have bene petitioned in name of the Inhabitants of Orknay and Zitland to tak vnto our princelic consideration ther distressed estate, occasioned by a great famyne throughout these whole Yles these tuo yeres bygane, have resolved, efter a dew and exact tryell taken thairof, and of the rediest and fairest wayes for supplie of the same, to tak such a course as, according to ther necessite and calamite is, they may find the effects of our princelic care and compassion of them and ther estatis: To which purpois we have ordeaned, lykas by these presents we ordeane, the persones vnderwrittin, viz.:—the reverend father in God the bischop of Orknay, &c., as aforsaid, commissioners, or any thrie of them, W^m Stewart heing alwayes ane, to tak a survigh of these Yles, and exactlie try what hath bene the sufferings of each inhabitant, fewer, rentaller, or indweller these tuo yeres bypast, and what they [are] lyklie to suffer this present yeir, and whether the calamitie be such as that without our princelie help they be not able any more to labour and posses the ground; and lykwyes to try what support cam to them by the voluntarie contributions latlie collected for ther vse, and what way the same wer disposed vpon; and to mak report of all these particulars to our Privie Counsell of Scotland, that accordinglie therefter we may give such further ordour therin as we in our princelie judgment shall think expedient.—22 May 1635.

To the reverend, &c. Bischop of Orknay, W^m Stewart of Maynes, Patrik Smyth of Braco, and Thomas Buchanane.

TO THE SESSION.

Right, &c.—Vnderstanding that it pleased our late dear father to rehabilitat John Stewart of Coldinghame by act of Parliament 1621, and that therefore he obtenit decreit aganst diverse persones who have possest parts and portions of the Estate of Coldinghame, and hath possession of diverse tythes and other things belonging therento, till now of late, since the Part 1633, diverse of them refuis to pay vnto him ther tythes, whereby he is put to a new trouble in Law, his estate being whollie vndone if a speedle course be not put to such actions as he hath or shall have tuitehing that purpois: The consideration whairof, and of the paynes taken by our late father and our selff to sie that estate setled vpoun him, conforme to the said act 1621, decreits, and interloquitours pronunced in his favours by vertew thairof, have moved we seriouslie to recommend vnto yow to administer speedie justice in the actions depending or which shalhappin to be brought in befor yow heirefter tuitching him and the vassalls of Coldinghame, or others interested in oney part of that estate, conforme to the said act 1621, and interloquitours alredie pronuncit in his favour be vertew thairof, that be long and tedious attendance vpon the issue therof he be not reduced to further extremiteis and trouble.—Grenewich, 22 of May 1635.

TO THE ARCHBISCHOP OF ST ANDROIS; ERLES MORTON, HADINTON, STIRLING, TRAQUAIR, SOUTHESK; BISCHOPS OF ROSSE AND EDINBURGH, SIR JOHNE HAY, SIR THOMAS HOPE.

Right, &c.—Being informed of the great abuses latelie creept in within that our ancient kingdome by the allowance gevin to the passage of forayne Coyne abone the trew worth, by which meanes our owin good money is exported, and our said kingdome filled with the baser sort of forayne Coyne, to the great prejudice of all our good subjects, and to the vtter vndoing of our Mynthous: And considering withall that some good may be done heirin without tuitching vpon or medling with the Coyne of our owin stampt (wherin both our kingdomes hath equall interest), our pleasur is, that furthwith yow meitt and consider vpon the readiest wayes that may be for remedie heirof efter, by crying down presentlie of the dollours to the trew value, or by crying them down by degrees at such tymes as yow shall think fitting, or by tyeing the Inhabitants not to accept for ther inbred commoditeis of no peice of forrane money bot such as will mak bullion, or if ther be any other maner of way yow conceave fitting for remedie of this abuse, that yow represent the same vnto ws with possible diligence, and whatever be your resolution heirin, our further pleasur is that yow immediatlie certifie ws therof vnder your or most part of your hands.—Grenwich, May 1635.

TO THE FRIE BURROWIS.

Trustie, &c.—Wheras vpon the consideration of the good and benefite of the merchand trade of that our antient kingdome, the office of Conservatour was established in the 17 vnited provinces, which was procured to be ratifeid by diverse of our royall progenitours: To which purpois we wer lykwayes pleased to give charge to our trustie and weilbeloved Mr Patrik Drummond (present Conservatour) to have a speciall care in the dew and tymelie executioun of that office for the generall good of that kingdome, as he would be answerable vnto ws: It is our pleasur that the lyk dewis, which at any tyme preceiding have bene payed to any of his predicessours in that office, be punctuallie payed vnto him for all goodis and merchandice whatsoever imported within the 17 said provinces, or any part thairof, and that yow lykwayes pay vnto him such arreiris as he can mak appear ar justlie dew vnto him by any of our subjects in that kingdome: And wheras he hath informed ws how yow ar to angment his dewes in regard of the high rates and pryces of all necessareis in these tymes respecting what formerlie they wer, we give yow hartie thanks for the same, and doe heirby speciallic recommend vnto yow to sie him so weill and complettlic provyded as both may best befitt his charge and your credit, and may be a meanes to him by his readie endeavours heirefter to testifie his further care and affection for advanceing your trade in these parts.—Grenwich, 22 May 1635.

TO THE BURROWIS.

Trustic, &c.—Wheras we ar informed that it is enacted by yow that everic thric yeires the ordinarie taxt roll for raising the ordinarie taxatioun payable by yow should be renewed for the better knoweing of the present estate of your Inhabitants, which (as we ar lykwayes informed) hath not bene these many yeires altered: Our pleasur is, and we doe heirby will and require, that at your nixt meitting in July ensueing yow proceid and tak a course for renewing the stent roll of all burghes conforme to our Acts of Parliament, vuless yow find some just reasones to the contrarie, whairof faill not to adverteis ws.—Grenwich, 22 May 1635.

TO THE SESSION.

Right, &c.—Wheras we now expect that the submission long desyred by ws tuitching the differences of the succession of Home shall now come to a speedie end, in hopes whairof we have heirtofoir requyred yow to mak stay of all processes tuitching the same: Our pleasur is, that notwithstanding of any particular warrant whatsoever granted or to be granted to any persone whatsoever for insisting by Law aganst any of the pairteis pretending elaime to that succession, yow stay all actions wherin any of the saids pairteis have interest to be defenders, as airis and successours to James, late Erle of Home, till such tyme as we shall think fift to licence processes on all sydis; and for doeing therof these presents shalbe your warrand.—Grenwich, 22 May 1635.

TO THE ADVOCAT.

Trustie, &c.—Being informed that we ar prejudged in our annuitie, the church in plantation, the titulars and taksmen in ther particular interests be the valuation of the rents of the Lands within the parochin of Kilconquhar: It is our pleasur, and we doe heirby will and requyre yow, to concurre with the saids titulars and Taksmen of the tythes of the said parochin for rectifieing of the said valuations; ffor which, &c.—Grenwich, 23 May 1635.

TO THE COMMISSIONERS OF TYTHES,

Right, &c.—We ar informed that sindrie valuations ar led befoir sub-commissioners and approved by yow with diminution of a thrid part of the just rent presentlie payed wher we ar prejudged in our annuitie, the Church in plantation, the titulars and taksmen in ther particular interests, wherinto being willing that yow carefullie advert and speedelie help the abuse; it is our pleasur, and we doe heirby will and requyre, that if yow shall find any such valuation deduced with the lyk diminution, howsoever it be proved by the parteis oathes and not by witnesses, and howsoever the givers of oathes be deid or alyve, yow rectifie the same by giveing way to our Advocat, the titulars, and others interested to deduce new and lawfull valuations.—Grenwich, 23 May 1635.

TO THE CHANCELLOUR.

Right, &c.—Haveing gevin satisfaction vnto our right, &c. the Marqueis of Hamilton for the Abacie of Aberbrothok, and being to be secured thairof by him in a legall way, we have writtin to our Advocat to draw vp the surrender by your advyse; and therfor we ar willing that yow sie it carefullie and weill done, and that yow contribute to that purpois your best advyse and furtherance.—Grenwich, 23 May 1635.

TO THE ADVOCAT.

Trustie, &c.—Haveing gevin satisfaction to our right, &c. the Marqueis of Hamiltoun for the Abacie of Aberbrothok, and yow, by advyse of his lawyer, being to draw vp a Contract of surrender, it is our pleasur, and we doe heirby will and requyre yow, to sie the surrander done in such legall way as may best secure ws of the said Abacie, wherin we will yow to vse the advyse and help of the right reverend father in God Johne, Archbischop of S^t Androis, our Chancellour, to whome we have lykwayes writtin tuitching this purpois.—Grenwich, 23 May 1635.

To the Chancellour, Thesaurer Depute, The Bischopes of Rosse and Edinburgh, and Clerk Register.

Right, &c.—Wheras we wer pleased to wryt vnto yow in May 1634 tuitching the expediencie of a proposition made vnto ws by, &c. the Erle of Roxbrugh, as by our letter may appear, wherin, as we ar informed, nothing hath bene hitherto done, tuitching which purpois a motion being made vnto ws of new, that in regard it doeth much conduce to our benefite, by advanceing of our just and lawfull ends in matters of that kynd, we would be pleased to give ordour for speedie effectuating thairof according to our former reall intentioun, Our will is, that yow tak our former pleasur heirin to your serious consideratioun, and haveing conferred with the said nobleman tuitching the same, yow proceid with diligence to value the rents of the Churches and tythes expressed in our said letter, that a convenient course may be taken for establisching of his right thervnto, vpon our satisfaction being gevin to him for the samyne, as we acknowledge equitie and reasone doe allow; and in the meane tyme (according to our former directioun) that all proceidings befoir our Commissioners tuitching these Churches and tythes be continewed till our further pleasur; for which these presents shalbe your warrant.—[No date.]

TO THE SESSION.

Right, &c.—Haveing vnderstood of that report of the Erle of Airth his Cautioners' and Creditours' fair and legall proceidings for recoverie of these moneyis which they have payed and vndertaken for him and releiff of his debts, we ar weill pleased therwith; and haveing taken to our princelie consideration his distresse and ther sufferings, We have gevin ordour to our Officers to pay to him with all possible diligence these moneyis which we wer formerlie pleased to grant vnto him towardis the releiff of his burdenis, that therby his estate may be recovered, and his cautioners and creditours fred of ther reall disbursments and vndertakinges for him; bot becaus we conceave that the convenience of our other just affaires will not allow all to be paved at one terme, Our pleasur is, that yow tak some fair course for secureing legallie his cautioners and creditours for ther principall sowmes, provydeing the same infer no present possession of his estate, or any part therof, for ther saidis sowmes, for the space of two yeires, or longer if yow shall think fitt, for payment thairof, and efter the expyreing of that tyme they have such ane irredimable suirtie as may infer reall and actuall possession of his estate for ther principall sownes, at leist for so much as shalhappin to be unpayed at the tyme; And that he be not further obleidged for exhibition and delyverie of his writts than to exhibite such as may mak appear to yow and them that he is infeft in the Estate; and that he and his appearand aires cannot dispone thairof to the cautioners' and creditours' prejudice; and that during the forbearance of ther principall sowmes they may not suffer be want of ther due interest, Our further pleasur is, that furthwith yow sie them fullie secured of ther termelie payment thairof; and if the said interest be not termelie payed, that he omitt the benefite of the said forbearance, the legall performance of all which we recommend to your care, and bid yow farewell.—From our Manour at Grenwich, the day of May 1635.

Commission.

Wheras we wer informed that the right of the Yle of Lewis did belong to ws, to which purpois we did intend to give ordour heirefter in such maner as we should think fitt for our service: Bot now our right trustie and weilbeloved Coussen the Erle of Seafort, haveing repaired thither to our Court, representing his vnwillingnes, ather in that purpois or in any other, to appear in Law aganst ws, being withall ane humble sutter that we would be gratiouslie pleased to caus informe our selfits of the trew estate thairof from such of our Officeris as we did cheiflie trust befor any legall proceiding should be made therin, to the effect we might the better give such ordour tuitching the same as we should find just caus, Our pleasur is, and we doe heirby authorize yow, or any four of yow, our Advocat being one, to informe your selfits of the best and spediest way yow can tuitching our right to that Yle, and therefter to declare to ws your opinion tuitching the same with all convenient diligence, that therefter we may tak such further course therin as we shall think fitt; for which these presents shalbe your warrand.—Grenwich, 26 May 1635.

Commissioners' Names.

Chancellour, 2 Thesaurers, Bischops of Rosse and Edinburgh, Clerk Register, Advocat, Balcomie, or any four of them, the Advocat being aue.

TO THE EXCHEQUER.

Right, &c.—We wer pleased not long since to refer the petition of Mr William Chalmers, our Thesaurer Clerk, clameing the presentation of signatures as belonging to his place, to the consideration of the Commissioners of our Exchequer for the tyme, requyreing them ather to setle that difference betwixt him and his competitour, or to certific ws of ther opinion theranent: Bot the change of our Exchequer interveneing, and therby the cognition being interrupted, we have thoght fitt of new to recommend to yow the tryell of that elaime according to our former reference, notwithstanding of any thing intervened, since that may prejudge ather of the pairteis, requyreing yow furthwith to proceid in the tryell, and ather to compose by way of submission from both pairteis the said difference, otherwayes to certific ws of your opinion which of the saidis pairteis hes the hest right, that accordinglie we may give such further ordorn therin, as we in justice shall think necessarie and expedient for our service; wherin not doubting of your care and diligence, we bid yow farewell.—Grenwich, 26 May 1635.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—Wheras we ar informed that notwithstanding of your great care which we tak as acceptable service to setle the course directed by we concerneing the sale of Tobacco within that our kingdome, our intention therin is still frustrat, partlie thrugh the perversues of some refractorie persones, sellers of Tobacco, partlie thrugh slaknes of Magistrats in discovering and punisching the offenders: To the end therfor that all service heirin may be no longer deluded, our pleasur is, that yow tak effectuall ordour that all magistrats to brugh or land whatsoever, and all heretours within that our kingdome, may sie our proclamations tuitching the selling of Tobacco strictle observed, and that they suffer no vnresponsall persones to remane within ther severall boundis and jurisdictions that shalbe fund to contravene the same; wherin and in what also may tend to the better assistance of our Commissioners for advancement of this our service, expecting the continuance of your care, we bid, &c.—Theobald's, 29 May 1635.

TO THE EXCHEQUER.

Right, &c.—We ar petitioned by David Simme, that for suppressing the continewed abuse of such as, in contempt of our Lawis and to the great prejudice of the Cuntrie, doe in buying of victuall, exact some quantitie over and above the establisched metts and measuris of the kingdome, we would be pleased to grant vnto him the halff of the foirfeytis who shal by him be discovered, which being so provyded in the statute, we have thoght fitt to will and requyre yow ather by Commission or otherwayes as yow in your judgments shall think most convenient, to authorize him for prosecuteing of the same: Wherin not doubting of your care, we bid, &c.—Grenewitch, the first Junij 1635.

TO THE EXCHEQUER.

Right, &c.—Humble sute hath bene made vnto ws in behalff of George Sinclair of Rapnes to signe enclosed signature of the sevin penney Land of Rapnes and sex penney land of Claister, the tuo vres land of Rackwick, and sex penney Land of Kerhister, in regaird that he and his progenitours have possessed these landis past memorie of man as kyndlie and native tennents thairof, we thought fitt to returne it vnto yow vnsigned, referring it to your consideration: Therfoir, if yow shall find this to be a purpois that doeth not prejudge ws, bot may encourage our tennents to be the more industrions when they shall have some assurance not to be removed, It is our pleasur that yow rentall and receave the said George and his aires as our kyndlie and vnremoveable tennents and rentallers of the aforsaidis parcells of Land, to be possest by them till the tyme that the whole Landis belongeing to ws within the erldome of Orkney be fewed, in which case we ar heirby pleased to declair that he shall have the Lands possest by him sett in few to him and his aires vpon such termes and conditions as other Lands, and to that effect that yow tak such course for secureing of him as yow shall think necessarie; ffor which these presents, &c.—Grenwich, 5 Junij 1635.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—The writts and securiteis made and granted by the Lord of Kintyre to the Lord of Dunluce of the Lands of Kintyre and others mentioned in these securiteis heing to be exhibited befoir yow, it is our pleasur that we doe heirby will and requyre yow to cancell the saids writts with the mynut of seasine which is in the keiping of James Prymrois, and that yow caus mak record of the cancelling thairof, ather in the Counsell books or exchequer rolls, as yow shall think most fit, that our royall intention tuitching such a purpois may remane with the posteritie; wheraneut thir presents shalbe vnto yow sufficient warrant.—Grenwich, 5 Junij 1635.

TO THE ADVOCAT.

Trustie, &c.—Being informed that the prosecution in Law of that which is propounded in the enclosed information will conduce to the good of our service, it is our pleasur that yow tak it vnto your consideration, and if yow find anything material therin tending to that purpois, that yow putt it to a legall tryell; wherin expecting your care and diligence, and for which these presents shalbe your warrant, &c.—Grenwich, 5 Junii 1635.

TO THE BISCHOP OF ARGYLL.

Reverend father in God, &c.—Wheras we have at that tyme gevin leave to the Erle of Argyll to repair to that our kingdome, though we ar confident that no important effect can flow from him by meanes of his religion to give any offence to that which is ther professed; yit being willing that the least circumstance that can be vsed in that kynd be prevented, And in the meane tyme that all possible and fair meanes be vsed for changeing his opinion tuitching the same, it is our pleasur that yow carefullie advert heirvnto within the boundis of your dyocie; and as for him that yow vse your best endeavours and panes to the purpois aforsaid, in so far as yow can convenientlie dee, wherin referring what further is fitt to be imparted vnto yow to our right trustic Counsellour the Lord of Lorne.—Grenwich, 5 Junij 1635.

To the Freinds of the House of Argyll.

Trustie, &c.—Wheras we have bene informed of late by our right trustic Counsellour the Lord Lorne of your affection and readic concurring with him in keiping peace and good ordour within the bounds concredited by ws vnto his charge: Though we expect no less both at his handis and yours, yit we ar heirby pleased to give yow hartie thanks for the same, and withall to requyre yow to continew the lyk dewtifull assisting of him in all such things as may concerne the advancement of your service and his good; which we will both expect and tak weill at your handis.—Grenwich, 5 Junij 1635.

To the Exchequer.

Right, &c.—Being informed that ther is a question depending befor yow betuixt the Lord of Lorne and some burghes ther, tuitching payment to be made to him of the Excyse dewtie of the fisching as our taksman thereof in the bounds preserved to him, it is our pleasur, since the bussines concerneth ws, and that he is onlie entrusted as our servand therin, that yow carefullie advert to our right in his persone, which we will tak as acceptable service done vnto ws.—Grenwich, 5 Junij 1635.

TO THE ADVOCAT.

Trustie, &c.—Wheras we ar informed that our servand Sir Patrik Abercrombie haveing obtenit from ws vpon certane knowledge a grant of the office of tabular of summondis befoir our Colledge of Justice, is forced to ane action of reduction of ane other pretendit gift of the said office granted to ane Bannatyne, and we conceave it to be more fitt (if it is in our power to give) that our owin servand should enjoye it then any other to whome we never did intend it: To the effect thairfoir it may appear to whois donation the said office doeth of right belong, our pleasur is, which we will yow to signific to all whom it may concerne that all such recordis and wrytings as may give light therin be produced befor them, and if yow find the right of donation to be ours, we will yow then to concure for our interest with our servant for mantenance of our said grant, and a legall reduction of the other; wherin not doubting of your care, we bid, &c.—Grenwich, the 5 of Junij 1635.

TO THE SESSION.

Right, &c.—Wheras we have bene informed, as yow will perceave by the inclosed petition, of the hard measur and extremitie vsed by Johne Home of Renton to Sir George Home and his sone Sir Alex* Home, our servand, and of ther willingnes to give him all satisfaction that he in equitie can demand; our pleasur is, that yow call the said Johne Home befoir yow and deall with him, that, according to the desyre of the petition, vpon payment to be made vnto him of such sowmes of money as yow, efter strict examination of the accompts, and deduction of his recepts, shall find remayneing justile dew vnto him, he may transfer for the petitioner's vse all these rights of his father's estate, which if he refuis, we then requyre yow to certific ws particularlie of the trew estate of the bussines, that we may tak such further ordour for our petitioner's releiff, as we in equitie shall think meitt, and in the meane tyme that yow give no way to the said Johne for acquyreing any further power over the estate, bot assist our petitioner in all such wayes as may tend to a legall recoverie thairof out of his hands; which we will tak as acceptable service, &c.—Grenewich, 5 Junij 1635.

Wheras we have bene petitioned by our servand Sir Patrik Abercrombie (on whom by our grant 24 Decr 1634 we conferred the office of tabulating of summondis in all actions intended befor our Colledge of Justice), that for the ease, benefite, and securitie of our loveing subjects, and for preventing diverse great inconveniences that many of them now suffer, we might be moved, not onlie to revive and restore the said office of the table for actions befor the Colledge of Justice, bot lykwayes to enlarge and extend it over that our kingdome to all other inferiour Judicatoreis (Toun-Counsells and baron Courts excepted); and we being willing to gratifie our servand in any fitt way, especiallie such as may withall tend to the good and conveniencie of our loveing subjects, we have therfor thought good to direct the petition to be considered of by yow, or any fyve or more of [you], whairof our Chancellour, our Thesaurers, principall or deputie, or the President of our Colledge of Justice, to be alwayes ane, to the effect that if yow shall find the course propounded to be a thing beneficiall to our good subjects, yow may then consider what fie or gratification in the severall Judicatore respective may be fitlie allowed to the officer for everie action so to be tabulat, toties quoties, in regard of his panes and of our subjects benefite therby to ensew, and that accordinglie, as yow or any such five or more of yow shall determine, a certificat may be returned to ws vnder your hands, togidder with a signature, docated by our Advocat for our royall hand, of a new grant to the petitioner or his assigneyis and thair deputeis of the said office so enlarged and extended; for which these presents shalbe your warraud.—Grenwich, 5 Junij 1635.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—Wheras some yeires agoe the dangers at the entrie of the firth of Forth, and the frequent losse of our subjects' lyffes and goods, and of strangers adventureing ther, speciallie in the night tyme, wer represented vnto ws: And now the lyk humble sute haveing bene made to ws for giveing ordour to prevent the lyk heirefter; and haveing sene a great many subscriptions of owners and masters of schipps and barks desyreing a course to be taken for ther saiftie, it is our pleasur that yow call befor yow such persones as yow shall find most interested therin and best affected to the publict good, and that yow consider of this bussines; and if therepon if yow shall find that it is necessarie for our subjects' good, that yow caus expeid a grant from ws immediatlie, vnder our cachet and sealls ther, in the most effectuall and sure maner that can be devysed, vnto Johne Cunynghame, younger of Barnes, and wherby they, dureing fourtene yeires, may have power to erect and keip ane Light vpon the most convenient place of the Yle of May (belonging to the said Johne Cunynghame), to be choysen by liable and experienced seamen, who best know the dangers ther; and that by our said grant the patent have such a reasonable and constant dewtie vpon the True and last of all merchandice transported that way, as yow shall find necessarie; ffor doeing of all which these presents shalbe vnto yow, and all others whom it may concerne, sufficient warrant.—Grenwich, 5 Junij 1635.

TO THE COUNSELL.

Right, &c.—Wheras vpon good considerations we have resolved to suffer no levyes of men to be raised in that our kingdome, or to be transported out of the same: These are to will and requyre yow that, without speciall warrant to that purpois, yow permitt to leavie no be made ther heirefter in any sort what-sumever, as yow will answer to the contrarie.—Grenwich, 9 Junij 1635.

TO THE THESAURERS.

Right, &c.—Wheras the place of M^r of our Coynehous is now vaiking by the death of the late master thairof, and knowing how necessarie it is for our service that the place be supplied with ane able man, and being vnwilling to dispose till the course to be taken for regulating of our Coyne ther be brought to some perfection, we have in the meane tyme made Choyse of our servant Nicolas Briot for performance of such things as belong to that charge, and have sent him thither for that purpois, and to the effect he may be present to give his advyse and assistance in such things as yow shall direct him for the weill ordoring of our Coyne ther: Therfoir it is our pleasur that yow give such ordour that he may be sufficientlie authorized for execrcising of things belonging to that charge of M^r . . . of our Conzie house, and that he enjoy all the priviledges and benefits of the place vntill our further pleasur be signified; ffor which these presents shalbe your warrand.—Grenwich, 9 Junij 1635.
