A CELEBRATION OF BANFFSHIRE'S MARITIME HERITAGE

The Story So Far

The Banffshire Maritime Heritage Association was established because there was a significant interest locally in maritime heritage. The first exhibition was held in Banff in 2003 and ran for 10 days. In 2004 the exhibition was held in Macduff and ran for 6 weeks. In 2005 an exhibition was planned to be held in Banff but fell through. The 2006 and 2007 exhibitions will be open from July to October a total of 4 months the most ambitious so far.

All the exhibitions have been established and organised through a committee and a wonderful group of volunteers.

The ultimate goal of the association is to have a permanent exhibition in premises owned by the association. Fund-raising will continue to try to achieve this aim.
